The essence of love is to forget about yourself. Therefore, many people who had wealth in ancient times and wanted to live free from the material world, sold it, distributed it to the poorest and went either to nature or to some religious institutions. This is a natural consequence of the desire to free ourselves from the power of money, because money has power over a person.

05:31 Parental Love.

Irina: Love is expressed in a person's ordinary life in such a way that those around him, including parents (especially parents), when raising a child, treat him with love and understanding in the sense that they accept him for who he is. They do not insist on their opinion if the child does not want it. One might say that they do not harshly suppress the individual.

#477 ALL ABOUT PURPOSE. Webinar with Irina Podzorova.

00:01 Introduction of participants.

Ilya: Hurray! The broadcast is now starting, we are on the air. Friends, good evening, we are live on the School of Mental Health. Today we have a joyful event. Our dear, beloved Irina Podzorova came to our school again for a webinar. Hello Irin!

Irina: Hello!

Ilya: Good evening! Write, friends, how you can hear, see us, me, Irina, write. In my joy I forgot to introduce myself. My name is Ilya Alexandrov, today together with Irina we will discuss the interesting topic of destiny. Purpose, everything about it. A year ago Maxim introduced us, we started our School with the topic of destiny, and have already analyzed it. They write that everything is fine, everything is heard, everything is visible. We are approaching smoothly, finishing this topic today with a webinar with our dear, beloved Irina Podzorova. They write, everything is visible, audible, excellent, super!

Our topic today, Irin, is about purpose. What can you tell me? Let's do it this way. What is purpose? Your understanding and the understanding of your curators, if there is someone nearby.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! With us today is our curator, the curator of our project and mine, MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations. He has already become the curator not only of me, but also of other contactees, and of our entire Cassiopeia project.

What does “became a curator” mean? This means that he, in the Interstellar Union, took responsibility for this project, for its promotion on Earth, for the ideas that it carries, which are important for raising the level of vibrations and the level of awareness of all earthlings.

Ilya: Thank you, Mid, you take responsibility for us. Brave.

Irina: For the project, for the information.

02:59 Purpose.

Irina: (MidgasCaus speaking) What is purpose?

The purpose of a person is those spiritual tasks and lessons that the Spirit intended for himself or planned for himself before incarnation. This is information that Spirit needs to learn in this life. These are the karmic knots that need to be untied. Various blocks that need to be dissolved that prevent the Spirit from realizing itself as the Divine Light.

Globally, the purpose is to increase the level, increase the spiritual level and make oneself like God, God the Creator. Full expression of creativity. The ability to love, create and rejoice, to be happy. This, one might say, is a global destination for all Spirits.

Why these particular destinations? Because it is in accordance with the will and purpose of our Heavenly Father, who is the Absolute Spiritual Mind. This is what he wants for his children, that is, for all of us. The Russian word “destination” even speaks about this, because the word “destination” comes from the verb “appoint.” To assign means to choose a task for yourself. But the preposition “pre” comes from the word “forward”. This means that destiny is choosing a task for yourself in advance, just before incarnation.

Ilya: Thank you, Mid, very detailed answer, interesting.

05:10 Criteria for assessing a person's fulfillment of his purpose.

Ilya: But how can an ordinary person, from your point of view, understand whether he is fulfilling these tasks? We don't remember anything. How do I know if I'm going right or not? What to do in everyday life, are there any criteria?

Irina: Fulfilling your destiny, completing a task will be accompanied by the construction of a series of events that helps to increase the level of happiness, the level of Love and, in general, all the light energies around a person.

In a simple way: dreams come true easily, bright, harmonious personalities are attracted to this person, obstacles are removed from his path, any (at first glance random) cataclysms, catastrophes that a person can get into. A person is given strength to fulfill his life's task. The more he does it, the more strength he is given. He further increases his spiritual level and feels that he is in the right place. This is an internal spiritual feeling of self-confidence that I am doing my own thing, but it is necessarily connected with Love. It's just that confidence without Love turns into pride, and confidence combined with Love is a sign of fulfilling one's destiny. If you are not sure that this is your purpose, then either you are not fulfilling it, or not fully fulfilling it, or you are not confident in yourself at all.

You already need to look to see if there are blocks. But the easiest way to find out if you are fulfilling your destiny is to ask your Higher Self, your inner Light. I just talked about the sensations when a person fulfills his destiny, but you can clarify this with the Higher Self.

Ilya: Thank you! Friends, by the way, you can also write questions about the destiny of Irina and Mid. Write in the comments, I will read them. Thank you, Mead, for your detailed answer.

07:55 Reaction of the disembodied Spirit to an unfulfilled destiny.

Ilya: I always had this question. In the Spiritual world, what does unfulfilled purpose look like? Is this a decrease in vibration levels?

How does the Spirit react? What happens in the Spiritual world when you come and understand that you haven't fulfilled it?

Irina: Disappointment in yourself may appear. This looks like a feeling of disappointment. A feeling may appear that on Earth is called pangs of conscience. Regret about his life, that when he was in human life, he went the wrong way. Envy may appear (but this depends on the level of the Spirit) towards those Spirits who have fulfilled their destiny.

If the level is higher, you may want to go and do the same lesson again, perhaps in the same environment. There may be an increase in perseverance and determination, that is, if I didn't do it, I strengthen my will to do it again exactly, without any self-flagellation. That is, he didn't fulfill it, realized his mistake and, without blaming himself, he simply directed more energy towards it.

Ilya: Thank you, this question has been bothering me all the time.

09:43 Spiritual development after 50 years.

Ilya: Oksana asks a very good question. If you are 50-60 years old, it seems that you have not lived your life in vain, is it even worth starting to look for your purpose?

Irina: Of course it's worth it. Spiritual tasks never imply the appearance or change of any material values. Spiritual tasks are raising the spiritual level. The spiritual level can be increased at any age, every day, simply by developing Love, the desire to help others and forgive, understand, develop mercy in oneself, naturally, depending on the level.

There is simply such a task - knowledge of the Universe, knowledge of the Universe for Love for it. You can begin to simultaneously develop your mind, taking in information from the environment about the Universe, about your body, about the stars, for example, about nature, about history, whatever interests you. And at the same time, thank the Creator of the worlds for creating all this. In the sphere of feelings, in the sphere of the spiritual heart, develop Love.

This is the most optimal way - to develop knowledge about the world around us in the sphere of reason, and to develop Love in the sphere of feelings. In the sphere of emotions, you need to work on your negative emotions, dissolve the blocks that have accumulated previously. Negative blocks are converted into Light. And, naturally, in the sphere of the spiritual heart, communicate with your Higher Self.

You can start doing this at any age, and it is never too late. There are known cases where a person significantly increased his spiritual level and awareness in just a few days.

Ilya: Thank you. It's never too late to start working on yourself. It is best to start with attunement with the Higher Self with any master. There are already many of them in the Cassiopeia project and in the School of Mental Health. We have already graduated guys who took six months of training courses on how to lead people to the Higher Self. You can safely contact any specialist.

12:39 Happiness. Suffering.

Ilya: Such a question. Is being happy everyone's destiny? Can the Spirit choose for itself the task of being unhappy or suffering?

Irina: What is happiness? Happiness is not just a feeling, a temporary emotion. Happiness is the same Divine Energy, which is found with God as Love, as truth, as life. This is basic Divine Energy.

When the Spirit was born in the Divine Light, it was born, among other things, from happiness, from the energy of happiness, from the energy of Love, from the energy of the Divine Mind. All energies took part in the birth of the Spirit. Happiness is not just some kind of emotional joy, it is a state of absolute harmony. What is called harmony and happiness are one and the same. This is a state of absolute harmony and peace with yourself, with people and with God.

The Spirit, when it is in the Spiritual world, it is on that spiritual level that is closer or further from the Kingdom of Heaven, as from the Source of Divine Light, from the world, as it is called in Esler, the world of the Divine presence, which is beyond the world of disembodied Spirits. The higher the level, the greater the level of happiness, namely causeless, as well as unconditional Love.

The spirit, when it is at high levels, desires an even greater level of happiness, because it strives to merge with the Father into one consciousness. And if the Spirit is at low levels, it suffers, firstly, from the fact that it has not completed its tasks, and secondly, from the fact that it is disconnected from the Divine Light. He feels it not as Light, but as fire. But the fire is not the one (like the earthly one) that is visible, but the fire that surrounds his spiritual body. And, naturally, he wants to get out of this state and, therefore, increase his level of happiness.

Of course, I know that there are people on Earth who strive for suffering. But they strive for suffering for a reason, but in order to punish themselves for something with their suffering (they have such blocks, for example, self-blame). Show yourself your defenselessness, show others your defenselessness, your pain, so that they give love, the energy of love. The ultimate goal of the desire for suffering is still to increase the level of happiness, even if only through the opposite energy.

Ilya: Interesting, thank you very much, Mid, there are always interesting ways of teaching us.

16:30 Purpose and lessons of the Soul. The spiritual meaning of education.

Ilya: Such a question. The purpose and lessons of the Soul, how are they different?

Irina: Lessons of the Soul - this is the purpose. Purpose is a general word, and lessons are specific, what lesson. A lesson is part of the purpose, the purpose is about all lessons. There can be many lessons. For example, a lesson to learn to love, learn to trust, or untie some kind of karmic knot.

Or there are even those who have incarnated in order to embody some other Spirit that matches the vibrations. And not only to embody it, but also, naturally, to educate it. Education (you remember) is the nourishment of the Soul for its ascent upward.

Ilya: Another definition for the collection, thank you, Mid!

Irina: Nurturing, he already said that. Yes, I remember that. By the way, part of the Science of Imagery is recognizing the true meaning of words through reflection. Why is this phenomenon called this word?

Education consists of two: “nutrition” and “recovery”. “Vos” comes from the word ascent. There is nourishment for the body, and there is nourishment for the Soul. And nourishing the body is taking care of the child’s body. Education has nothing to do with nourishing the body. This is precisely the nourishment of the Soul. Feeding her with certain bright images so that she can adapt to this world and learn to accept everything that happens with Love. At the same time, so that this does not prevent her from actively moving towards her goals and objectives, to seek harmony between activity and humility. This is education, that is, feeding the Soul with Light for its ascent upward (by vibration we mean).

18:45 Devastation of the Soul - anesthesia of the senses.

Ilya: Thank you. Once we went there, to this structure. We have such an expression as “emptiness of the Soul,” an internal state of devastation. Could this be due to the fact that the purpose is not being fulfilled?

Irina: Devastation of the Soul is the so-called anesthesia of the senses?

Ilya: Most likely, they wrote it.

Irina: Anesthesia of feelings is a state when a person cannot say what he feels, cannot experience any vivid emotions. He goes through life in an emotionless state, simply recording certain phenomena without feelings towards them, much like an automatic robot program. But this does not mean that this Soul becomes a robot, of course, now I just gave an example for the imagery of perception.

The so-called anesthesia of the senses is a common symptom and frequent accompaniment of depression. Depression is a feeling of despondency that has already affected the human brain, and joy hormones have ceased to be released there. In order not to experience constant negativity, a person's Higher Self blocks his ability to feel altogether, so that this negativity does not further reduce the vibrations. He may go to a low level.

In order to correct this problem, it is necessary to dissolve those blocks that cause constant negativity in a person's mind, in his consciousness. Then the Higher Self will unblock the feelings, and the person will again see the world in a new way. His Soul will not be empty; he will enjoy what surrounds him.

Ilya: Thank you, very detailed too. I love the way Mead responds, neither adding nor subtracting. Everything is clear, thank you very much, Mid!

21:24 Changing purpose throughout life.

Ilya: The question is also interesting. Can purpose change throughout life? If, for example, a person has undergone experience and grown spiritually?

Irina: Yes. Maybe. The purpose may change throughout life in connection with the events that happen to him and his experience, his performance of tasks and even his blocks.

Maybe he accumulates a block that was not there, then a purpose appears to remove it. I gave the simplest example. Or, for example, a person has an event such as a wedding. He has new relatives with whom he has certain relationships. He has a new lesson, a new purpose: to establish harmonious contact with them.

Ilya: Thank you, in general, based on life circumstances. Thanks a lot.

22:20 Creativity in everyday life.

Ilya: We often come across such a moment. A person knows that he likes creativity. Singing, dancing, for example. Life develops in such a way that he needs to earn money and work physically. There are no options (as it seems to a person). Could this be some kind of lesson for a person in life?

Irina: What exactly?

Ilya: For example, to reach your destination through this. Or (as I see it) the value of learning any action, work, humility or vice versa.

Irina: If he has no desire to act? What's the question?

Ilya: A person works physically hard, works hard, earns money, and cannot switch to creative activity. It seems to him that he has no choice. Because creative activity may not bring in money, or it’s too late to even learn something, as he thinks. Is this a lesson? Or is this an acquired, so to speak, delusion?

Irina: How does he earn money?

Ilya: Physical labor.

Irina: He can also bring elements of creativity into physical labor.

What is creativity? This is the inclusion of imagination to create new not only images, but also ideas. Creativity is using your imagination to create new images and ideas. Creativity is not only about drawing something on paper and not only about composing poetry or music. Creativity is the introduction of a new idea, for example, to perform a particular action.

For example, you can show your creativity in physical labor, figure out how to make it easier, how you can do something more easily and effectively. Ask yourself: what can I come up with here, in this physical labor, so that I get less tired, have more time for myself, and at the same time have a greater effect.

For example, a person (I'll just give an example now) suffers something difficult. He thinks: "What can I come up with? Transport it on wheels." This is where the creation of the wheel and transport began. This was the creative beginning of man. So it is here. And if I already have something that I translate, how can I improve it, what do I need to do for this? That is, some specific creative ideas. Listen to your intuition, the Higher Self tells you through intuition.

What if he doesn't have time? But again, you need to differentiate: he doesn't have time for creativity, or he has time, but he doesn't want to spend it on creativity. Then the question arises: what does he spend his free time on? How does he rest from physical labor? What is he doing? If he, for example, just watches TV or reads a book, he simply receives information. This means that he is at a stage in his life when he must accumulate information, perhaps. Everything is individual.

Ilya: She (this person), Elena, writes: "I came up with a lot to make my work easier and they fired me." So everything is fine.

Irina: This is also an experience.

Ilya: You see, Mead was counting from the field where to go.

27:02 The unfulfilled purpose of the current life.

Ilya: Such a question. If one of the tasks was to have children. She didn't give birth to children, and it's too late. What to do?

Irina: Who said that this was a task?

Ilya: Yes, we need to find out whether this was a task.

Irina: Was there such a task, yes. If there was, you need to ask yourself, your Higher Self, for what reason it was not fulfilled.

Find out from the Higher Self what task is relevant at the moment if the body is unsuitable for giving birth to children. There are still some other tasks. Don't lose heart, don't give up, but try to accomplish at least something, at least part of your tasks. If you failed to do what you said, it will still increase your level.

28:00 The child's hobbies and his purpose.

Ilya: It's an interesting question, if a child or teenager finds something to do and starts to get excited about it, as we call it. I love this section very much, I completely immerse myself in it. Can we say that he found his destiny based on these signs?

Irina: It can be different, you need to look at what his mind, his consciousness, part of his Spirit, his mind listens to. Based on what priorities does he make his choice? On the priority of contact with his Higher Self, which tells him through intuition? Or he looks at some people who are authoritative for him, then he will be led by the herd instinct.

For example, on the planet Esler, from childhood they are taught how to distinguish their instinctual needs from their spiritual needs. As far as I know, there is no such object on Earth.

Ilya: Well, I found something to ask you, Mid! I wanted everything, but how can I formulate it, thank you for formulating it for me, I'll ask you tomorrow. Meade and I have a conference tomorrow.

Irina: Yes, very interesting, by the way.

Ilya: We are preparing a very interesting project, very interesting together with Mid, so, friends, wait until I even announce it. Mead is a wealth of information, so I'm very happy.

Irina: It's easier for parents to ask their child or teenager if he is interested in something. Don't criticize, but simply ask: "How does this activity make you feel, and how do you plan to develop it further when you grow up, to further develop in this business?"

It will be clear from the answers. If he says, "I feel closer to my friends," "I want to be like them," or anything else related to others, this means that he is not fulfilling his spiritual destiny (at this moment). He was attracted by the authority of others; he strives, through the herd instinct, to be like them.

And if he says: "Yes, this brings me joy no matter how others look at it." For example, you can even ask him: "If your friends don't like the fact that you're doing this, how will you feel? Will you listen to them or will you continue to study?" This question can be asked. If he says: "No, I will still study, because it brings me happiness, joy, positivity inside," it will be clear that this comes from an internal, spiritual need. He listens to his heart.

Ilya: Great, thank you. There are even actions you can take.

Natalya asks several questions. She's having difficulties. Her black magician, sorcerer attacks: "I feel that I am moving correctly towards creativity, towards connection, merging spiritually with my loved one, like-minded person, but the black magician of high development puts up blocks. Am I going the right way?

Irina: Who told you about this?

Ilya: Yes, here you need an individual session in any case through the Higher Self.

Irina: You need to ask who said this, that it is the black magician or someone else who puts the blocks.

Ilya: How did you attract this black magician into your life?

Irina: Yes, I had such people. I asked: “Do you know this person, what is your relationship?” This is a very delicate issue that needs to be dealt with.

32:17 Determination of the level of the Spirit after incarnation.

Ilya: The man lived highly spiritually all his life, but by the end of his life, envy, hatred, and fear overwhelmed him. He left in such vibrations. Will its level go down?

Irina: If it is in such vibrations, yes, it will decrease. The level that will be valid will be the one at the end of the incarnation, at the time of leaving the incarnation.

Ilya: Thank you.

The question is, and they’re even asking for practice. If a person did not fulfill his destiny, but did useful things for people, but lower than his destiny, will his spiritual level also decrease?

Irina: Lower than intended?

Ilya: Well, this is the question they wrote.

Irina: If he has done at least something, at least partially, to fulfill his purpose and has not accumulated any negative blocks (as I already said), then his level will definitely not decrease. It may remain the same or increase, but not in the way the Spirit planned for this incarnation.

33:40 Recording with Irina Podzorova on “Higher Self”.

Ilya: Thank you. They write: “Irina, please take me to the Higher Self.”

Irina: Practice. Let's do some practice. I will lead anyone who wants to, in front of everyone, to the Higher Self.

Ilya: It’s generally easy to make an appointment with Irina at retreats.

Irina: About making an appointment with me.

There is already a difficult situation here, specifically related to retreats. Now I’m just saying that when I go on a retreat, almost everyone who wants comes to me for a personal reception. If I don’t have time to receive them in person during these days, then Maxim writes these people down, and I then receive them online when I return. Now I am planning to receive online those whom I did not have time to receive at the Kazakhstan retreat; people have already signed up. They participated in the retreat, and that’s why we went there, to help people. Those whom I did not have time to accept in person, I accept online. We have already had retreats and are planning more. While I don’t know exactly where else, as God will send, as they say.

There is another way. Come to study at the Contactee School. There is a School of Self-Healing for the Higher Self, taught by Ilya. There is a School of Contactees, which we also run together. It's called the School of Contactees. In order for those people who have not been to the retreat and have not been to the School of Self-Healing to come there, they need to pass exams and answer questions. I want to say that I definitely lead every person who comes to my School of Contactees in Voronezh to the Higher Self. This is part of my training program - take him to the Higher Self to get to know his curators, to help him dissolve blocks before training .

The School of Contactees is not just a School of Contactees, where we learn to control flying saucers and fly to the center of the Galaxy. We have a much more important task - to learn to open our spiritual channel, connect with our Higher Self and receive answers to any questions from it when we, the masters, are not around.

Ilya: It seems to me that many who come here would like to fly on saucers.

Tamara asks: “How to unpack your abilities?” In any case, through the Higher Self, in any case, your Spirit knows how, what your tasks are. This is the primary thing.

36:54 Spark of God.

Ilya: Are you ready for practice, friends? Ready?

Irina: Now I’m thinking about what kind of practice. Let's do some practice with you. Are they ready to practice?

Ilya: Write, are you ready for practice? Write if you need it? Or maybe we can ask questions?

Irina: Will we continue to answer questions or do something?

Ilya: Yes, they write that they are ready. Let's practice then. Let's go to practice, friends. All for practice, okay. Now I’ll find a picture and put it on the screen so that it can be our screensaver. Okay, that's it, the screensaver is on, it's beautiful. Let's go to practice, friends. That's it, Irin.

Irina: I was just thinking about what kind of practice to do on the topic of destiny. Mead suggested to me that I need to practice reconnecting with the inner Sun. In it, through a ray from the top of your head, you pull it out, the inner Sun, and feel like its ray. And at this moment you can ask the question about your purpose as a ray that goes from the Sun to the Earth. I’ll say right away that this practice is one of the options, one of the ways to connect with your Higher Self. We simply imagine it in the image of the Sun, the Spiritual Sun, which is the center of the spiritual heart.

Now I’ll tell you a little about what the Spirit looks like. The spirit has the shape of a ball. In the very center of this spiritual ball there is the so-called (on Earth it is called) the Spark of God. On Earth it is called the Spark of God, in some esoteric teachings it is called the atmic body.

The highest part, the highest in vibrations of the Higher Self itself. This is the same Spark of God that all Spirits have, regardless of their level, even demons, thanks to which they exist and have life in themselves. You know very well that life as existence is not just a form of existence of protein bodies, but it is divine energy that permeates the entire Universe. It makes it possible for all intelligent Spirits to realize themselves at any level. If the Spirit could lose this divine life energy, it would not be immortal. It is to this particle of the huge Spiritual Sun that we will now turn, imagining it as the Sun for ourselves.

Interesting meditation.

Ilya: Interesting, super, great!

Irina: Ilya, how do you like this meditation?

Ilya: Great, I'm looking forward to it, I've never connected this way before. Come on, I'm already prepared, to be honest.

Irina: I don't know her myself, now MidgasCaus will lead her through me.

Ilya: Great! Mid, thank you!

41:30 Meditation "Merging with the Spiritual Sun."

Irina: (MidgasKaus) So, dear friends, I am glad to welcome you to this wonderful world in which you live! What is meditation? This is the deliberate creation of high vibrations in oneself in order to change the level of awareness and connect with the higher vibrations of the Spirit.

Yes, I'm interested in it myself.

So, dear friends, for meditation it is very important that your physical body is located in a way that is convenient for you, in a comfortable position. You can lie down while meditating, you can sit, some even stand, whatever suits you. So, I ask you to turn off the sounds on your phones now so that nothing will disturb you from your meditation until it ends. Please dim the bright lights or go into a darkened room and please, as much as possible, create silence or put on headphones so that the sound of the outside world does not penetrate and remind you of yourself, of your existence, the entire time we are in the Spiritual World.

So, I ask you to close your eyes, relax as much as possible. Take a comfortable position, take a slow deep breath and as you exhale, imagine that all the stress of this day, all the stress of the last days of your life, all the stress of the last time leaves you with the air.

Now take a slow, deep breath and imagine that you are inhaling pure white Light, which occupies the space in the body that was previously occupied by tension. By doing this, you cleanse your energy system with the help of breathing from small negative thoughts, feelings and emotions that have not yet formed blocks, but are in your aura. Let's take a slow deep breath, imagine that we are inhaling the white Light that fills us. We imagine that we are an empty vessel into which a stream of Light pours like pure white milk. Imagine how milk is poured into a vessel. In the same way, white Light flows into us, into our body and into our aura. Now, when you exhale, as you exhale, imagine what is interfering with the Light; any dark points are removed with the exhalation.

Fine. You are already in a state of relaxation, which precedes the meditative state of immersion, immersion in your Spiritual world.

We concentrate, we just think about the top of our head. Let's concentrate on this thought. We remember that we have the top of our head and gather our attention there. What does it mean? This means you listen inside yourself to what is happening at the top of your head. Mentally imagine that at the very top of your head a Light lights up, appears, lights up. It looks like a candle or a small ball. Just imagine this image, a luminous ball appears at the very top of your head. It will be easy for you to imagine this if you concentrate all your attention on the top of your head. Where there is attention, there is energy. When you imagine a glowing ball, you collect your life energy, ether, in this place. The energy of the etheric field is now directed at you to activate or, in other words, open the seventh energy center, the seventh chakra, which is responsible for your contact with the Higher Self.

Mentally imagine that you are, you yourself are in nature. Concentrate especially on the clear, clear blue sky. The situation around you can be anything: forest, field, sea, mountains, it doesn’t matter what kind of environment you want to see around you, imagine that. Pay special attention to the sky, it should be clear, without a single cloud. If there are clouds, just mentally imagine that they are dissolving. Remember that you are the master of your images, the inner world that you create. If something appears there that you don’t want to see, that bothers you, that blocks the Light from you, you can change it at any moment, simply by thinking that it will dissolve. Any intelligent Spirit can do this, creating its own inner reality. Create in your inner reality a clear, clear blue sky, just like it is on a summer afternoon. To imagine it, you don’t need to strain, remember the most beautiful sky in your life. What did it look like? It was a pure bright blue color. Behind any color there is Light. Light is the creator of color.

Imagine where the Sun is. In 90% of cases it is directly above your head. If it is located elsewhere in the sky, mentally move it to the zenith, the highest point you can see. Now let's concentrate on the view of the Sun. Imagine its size, its color, its shape. The sun in the Spiritual world cannot burn your eyes. You don't have physical eyes there. If you feel discomfort from his Light, this is an indication that his spiritual Light is beginning to clear your blocks, which can be uncomfortable if you are used to them. It is always a little unpleasant and even painful to leave your comfort zone; you are already used to it, but have not yet adapted to new conditions. That's why there is a word called patience, which means feeling the need to adapt. We are simply looking at the Sun. If its Light is beautiful, your vibrations are quite high. If it hurts your spiritual eyes, this indicates that your vibrations are currently low, but this is not scary, because this meditation cleanses and increases vibrations.

Now we again concentrate on the top of the head, while continuing to look at the Sun. Now you see the Sun of your Spirit, the innermost part of the Higher Self, the spark of God - your inner Sun. It is this that gives you life, it is this that gives you the opportunity to feel like an independent, independent person, alive, feeling, desiring, thinking.

Say mentally: “Thank you, my Higher Self! Thank you, my Spiritual Sun, for life, for Light and for Love. Thank you, Heavenly Father, for this wonderful world, being in which I can continuously develop Love in myself.”

Look how much brighter the Sun has become. You feel like you're kind of drawn to him. This happens to everyone, because with these words your vibrations rise, and your Spiritual Sun begins to attract you into itself in order to merge with you, so that you feel like it. Great!

Now we mentally concentrate on the top of our head on our luminous ball and at the same time look at the Sun. The glowing ball on your head has the same color as the Sun, but it is much smaller, because you are part of your Higher Self, you are part of your Spirit. Now we will send them a mental impulse to reunite these two parts into a single inseparable whole.

To do this, imagine a beam rising from the top of your head. A ray of the color that you see from the Spiritual Sun. Mentally imagine how this beam expands and becomes denser and stronger with every breath you take. Take a slow, deep breath and imagine how the white Light entering with the air expands your beam as it exits the top of your head. This is called “intention to expand the spiritual channel.” Expansion is necessary for a more complete exchange of energies with the Higher Self, and will allow you to more fully merge with it.

Now imagine that your beam has become very wide, about as wide as your head. If necessary, take a few more inhalations and exhalations, expanding your spiritual ray with each inhalation. Some people will succeed with one breath, others will need several, you just keep this image firmly in your mind, don’t be distracted by anything else. Any thoughts, any thought forms, any emotions in this state receive their embodiment in the Spiritual world. Now your task is to merge with the Higher Self to know your purpose, so all thoughts should be directed towards the spiritual ray, which is the form of your spiritual channel, filled with Light.

Now mentally imagine that this beam, which has become the diameter of your head, rises upward. Watch him rise up. If you do everything right, you yourself will feel light, as if you are rising with him. This is absolutely normal, it means that you are losing control over the sensation of your body in the material world. Allow yourself to lose that control. It's absolutely safe. Your body is completely safe. Continue to follow the beam, mentally imagine how it moves closer and closer to the Sun. You see that the Sun is approaching you and sending its ray towards you. Inhale the energy that came to you with this ray, imagine that you are inhaling the warmth and Light of your Spiritual Sun. Fill yourself with it. Say: “Thank you, my Higher Self! Thank you and accept."

Now imagine how your ray and the ray of the Spiritual Sun unite. Connect them together, and you see in front of you a huge white channel or tunnel, at the end of which there is a bright light.

Say: “I am a free, immortal, intelligent Spirit. I am the Light of God. The Light of God is me. The light of God in my spiritual heart. The light of God is in me. I am in the Light of God. We are one with God."

Listen to your feelings. This state is the highest vibrational state possible for you at your stage of development.

Now mentally say, “I ask Heavenly Father to place a screen in front of me with my tasks written on it.” This is your inalienable right as his beloved child. You will see, everyone will see something different. Some will see a structure similar to a sheet of paper, others will see a huge screen. Say: “Thank you, Heavenly Father! I ask you to show me on this screen in words or images my purpose, with which I came into this incarnation to my parents, to my family.” Look carefully at the screen, at the space in front of you, some will see words, some will see images, and some will have thoughts. Everyone can receive information differently, depending on the type of perception. What will appear is the absolute truth, because you are now in contact with your highest structure, the Divine Light, with your Higher Self. You are now merging with it. If you have questions to clarify your purpose, you can ask them. You might ask, “What else is my purpose?” Or you can ask: “How can I open it correctly? How can I properly pass it through matter?” You can ask if you are fulfilling it or by what percentage. Let the question, any question, now be born in your very heart. And I will give you some time so that you can communicate with God within you, with His Light, and gain invaluable experience for yourself and bring it back to the material world, which awaits us renewed, radiant and beautiful.

So, dear friends, thank your Higher Self, say: “I thank my Higher Self, I thank myself, I thank my highest Divine Light for this practice. I thank Heavenly Father for merging with my spiritual heart. I thank everyone involved in this practice and the Guide Soul for their help. I send everyone rays of my Love and gratitude. Accept the Light of my Love!”

Now I will count from one to five. When I say “five”, you will return to your normal state of consciousness and fully connect with your bodies, fully retaining the memory of all the information that you received in the Spiritual World.

One two three four five. We open our eyes. Well?

1:06:45 Possible reactions to the meditation “Merging with the Spiritual Sun.”

Ilya: Thank you for the trip. An interesting journey.

Irina: What do you say?

Ilya: I flew somewhere deep and far.

Irina: Do you remember anything?

Ilya: I remember everything. I'll tell you now. At first I walked ahead, I saw the images. While you were saying them, it all came together for me. I don't have a ball, but a funnel here.

Irina: Fine.

Ilya: She is directly connected to this big Sun. I somehow saw it in a slightly different plane, I still didn’t understand which one, as if from the side. It fell through somewhere. And then many, many people in white robes came.

Irina: It was in the Spiritual world that Angels came to you.

Ilya: Yes. And one came up, Ellaya, that's her name somehow. She gave me three golden balls, I took them. I don't know what they mean.

Irina: Did you ask about the purpose?

Ilya: Yes. Now. Then I turn to the light: "What does this mean?" He tells me: "You need to remember who you are." And such downloads went straight into this funnel, the packages were loaded directly. I was already crushed by this energy in physics, the way information is downloaded.

I then say: "What is the purpose?" They say: "You know: heal, heal and help." Just three words.

Irina: Well, there you go.

Ilya: Heal, treat and help. Yes. Then they explained some more of what needs to be done.

Irina: How are you feeling now?

Ilya: Right in the flow. It was as if the Sun had enveloped me completely.

Irina: How did you like the meditation that Mead led?

Ilya: Super, super! I quickly flew away somewhere.

Irina: How are the people there?

Ilya: They write: “Thank you and accept!”

“Mead is a wizard!”

“They showed me the words: love, live and enjoy life.”

“Wow, amazing, thank you from the bottom of my heart!”

“They showed that you can draw pictures and practice healing, thank you!”

Here Natalya writes: “For some reason I made images ahead of your words.” Yes, just like me.

Irina: Because they already suggest it. This is meditation, it is quite famous, by the way, at least in Esler it is known.

Ilya: Some didn’t see anything. This means we need to train, remove blocks, maybe there is something.

Irina: So, there are some blocks that prevent you from rising. In any case, it is a cleansing. Even if you didn’t see anything (Mead says), you will still have a cleanse in the next 24 hours. Some kind of awareness, cleansing, perhaps some spasms or pain on the physical level. It's worth just relaxing.

Ilya: Reads in the chat: “Mid, I love you immensely! I cried from endless love."

Irina: Yes. Exactly.

Ilya: Midu has a lot of hearts. Mid, thank you very much, thank you very much. Someone felt the body: “I was delighted, I wanted to fly away, but the body tensed up, and I felt it all the time.” We are grounded all the time, yes.

Irina: How are you? Did you feel the body?

Ilya: Yes. I repeat. When the downloads of packages, as I call them, began, I physically felt them. It went straight into the body. I then got back up and flew into the stream, I can do it quickly.

Irina: You felt your body, maybe it wasn't so comfortable for you to sit or lie down, if you weren't completely relaxed, maybe that was the case. The body can remind you of itself, you are still connected to it, in any case, you can return, then leave again, that's what Ilya did, he got up again.

Ilya: There will be a recording, there will definitely be one.

Irina: They ask if there will be a recording?

Ilya: Yes. There will be a recording. This video will be recorded on the channel. You can, of course, do the practice and, I think, we'll cut off the meditation separately so that you can. The broadcast is great though. The questions are amazing and the answers even more amazing. One definition of education means a whole science, a whole library.

Yes, everyone thanks you and we, friends, thank you from the bottom of our hearts!

Irina: (MidgasKaus speaks) Do you know what education is? This is the science of creating images.

Ilya: Here. Super! Thank you, Mid, thank you very much! Friends, thank you!

Irina: Thank you, dear friends! Thank you for the practice. I felt you all, I also rose to the Higher Self, and we were in the Spiritual world. I felt the One Light. And Meade was with us too. He smiles now and says: "I feel the general energy of the space, in this energy of the space in which we were, the vibrations of many people increased." Mead is now asking if it is possible, if you want, that this practice could be done as a meditation on the meditation channel.

Ilya: I think yes, of course, it will also be useful to connect with the Light, with purpose.

Irina: It's called "Merge with the Spiritual Sun."

Ilya: "Do such broadcasts more often, Mid is the best!" Mid, you are an idol! When you arrive on Earth, we will greet you with a whole crowd.

Irina: Yes, he will fly to Earth, land somewhere, he says: "I already feel that they will greet me with flowers."

Ilya: Yes. Great, friends, super! Everyone writes that it would be cool if this were on the meditation channel.

Great! Super! The broadcast will be recorded and freely available on our channel. Share it, repeat the practice, revise it. I think there's still a lot to unpack. I'll re-watch it myself, because everything Mead says has an aftertaste. Then you always listen again and think: "Wow, how did I not hear this the first time!"

Thank you, friends!

Irina: Thank you for being with us! We thank all our masters for supporting our project, we send you the Light of our Love! We hope that we will carry out many more interesting theories and practices on our channel and in our project.

We wish you eternal happiness, eternal Love and constant contact with your Higher Self! See you again!

Ilya: Hurray, friends! Until we meet again, bye everyone!

00:03 Introduction of participants.

Ilya: Good evening, friends. Cassiopeia is with you. How surprising it must be for many that Maxim is not with you today. Today I will broadcast with Irina. My name is Ilya Alexandrov, I am the head of the “Mental Healing” project, the School of Mental Health. For everyone who doesn’t know me, I’ll repeat: Ilya Alexandrov. Today I will ask Irina questions about our wonderful broadcast topic “Life and life of the planet “Esler”.

I’m sitting in front of you now, I’m already a little excited by Mead’s energies. I hope the broadcast will be interesting.

I want to immediately prevent all rumors. Everything is fine with Maxim. Maxim left for super equipment. He didn't tell us anything. Intriguing even for us. I’m also really looking forward to it and want to see what kind of super equipment this is, which our scientists developed according to the drawings of Leonardo da Vinci. This is equipment for health improvement in our Voronezh center. I hope I find out, and Maxim will tell you everything on the next broadcast when he arrives. Have a good trip to him. If he's watching us, hello to him.

On to the news. Let's not break tradition.

We have great news, friends. The book I am holding in my hands has already gone on sale on all online platforms and in stores. You can order. A most interesting book, it contains drawings, graphs, and images. A book by our wonderful Irina Podzorova. You can purchase it and join Cassiopeia.

They write: “I already bought it.” Super! Congratulations.

Come visit us in Voronezh, or for outdoor events. The next one, by the way, will be in Moscow from November 5 to 11. Our entire Voronezh health center is moving to a new retreat center in Domodedovo. All our specialists will be there.

This is Nadezhda Viktorovna - our wonderful doctor - who will test your energy structures, material structures on Oberon, and will lay out your body down to the cell level.

Our massage therapists are wonderful and perform visceral massage and bioenergy massage. Alexey Morozov - our little Buddha, as we call him, will conduct attunement sessions with the Higher Self.

I will be with you, taking you to the Higher Self, testing your energy structures - on the Kronoscope, Aurabook - the etheric field, aura, and so on. We are waiting for you there from 5 to 11.

These days there will be a 4-day training program. Take the books, we can sign them from Irina and Maxim, get autographs. The program will be held in Moscow, near the metro, conveniently. All details are on the website via the link. We will be with you for four days.

One day you will be with me. The schedule is as follows: first day - registration before lunch, after lunch we will analyze the architecture of the matrix in which we live in order to understand where we are, why and how.

Then three days of immersion in the structures of spirituality with Irina Podzorova. She will show how to tune in with the Higher Self, tell you how to go to the Astral, in regression, about the structures of the Universe, the Spiritual world, dense and subtle material realities.

The icing on the cake is a big conference on the final day with the Spiritual Essence or with some of our friends from different planets. You will decide for yourself (as a whole retreat) with whom we will communicate, to whom you will ask questions.

Every day there will be practices from “Mental Healing” - my school, 2 hours before Irina’s classes. You and I will work through personal issues. Let's touch on topics such as purpose, money, blocks, and how to work through them. All this since the 5th.

Training will be on the 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, from 5th to 11th there will be an opportunity to come to a personal reception. We are waiting for you at the Moscow retreat. Take books, sign them from the authors.

Now I will ask Irina questions. I give her my place, I don’t take it anymore.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. Good evening.

Today we have an interesting broadcast. Theme: "Life and life of the planet Esler." How do they live? You can ask questions.

MidgasKaus is present with us - biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations, planet Esler.

He also greets you all. He wants to tell you that he is very glad to work with us - earthlings. This pleases him and helps him achieve his spiritual goals of incarnation, because this work raises his vibrations. Allows you not only to learn more about the Universe, but also to help your spiritual brothers and sisters who are on another planet see the Light in themselves.

Ilya: Great. Thank you Mead.

Irina: Help in this matter is a very good condition for spiritual development, for fulfilling the tasks of incarnation.

Fine. So, let's listen to the questions.

07:25 Esler chronology. Age of MidgasCaus.

Ilya: First question. He's in the chat. The question worried me.

Esler chronology. How do you keep time, how do you count it? How many of our earthly years or days are there in your year?

Irina: Our planet is located from our sun, from our star, approximately twice as far as the Earth from the Sun and rotates due to Esler's mass. Esler orbits the star more slowly. For this reason, our year, that is, a revolution around Esler's star, takes 8 Earth years. The planet is larger in diameter than the Earth, so a revolution around its Esler axis (a day on Esler) is equal to approximately three Earth days. More precisely, three earthly days minus 6 -7 hours (shows).

Ilya: And how old are you, according to Esler time?

Irina: According to the Esler chronology, approximately, if from 1932, now he will count.

Ilya: In Eslerian terms, I wonder how old he is in his company. I am 36 years old according to earthly calendar.

Irina: How's that for Esler?

Ilya: How old is he on Esler?

Irina: In Eslerian I'm a little over 11 (shows with fractions).

Ilya: Great. Thank you, Mead.

Eleven years. What is the life expectancy?

Irina: Is this your age?

Ilya: No, Esler’s.

Irina: If in Esler years, then approximately 70 years. That is, like you on Earth, only our year is 8 of your years.

Ilya: 8 of our years.

Irina: Yes.

Ilya: Thank you.

10:25 A new form of intelligent life in the Southern Cross Constellation.

Ilya: They correct us. I'm sorry. Mid, they're asking for intergalactic news.

Irina: Please tell me, Mid, what galactic news do we have?

(Mead speaking) Since I am a biologist, I am more interested in biological news, news in the field of biology. I am interested in new discoveries of any life forms in the Galaxy.

Quite recently, as seen from Earth, in the Southern Cross Constellation, on one of the planets, a new form of intelligent life was discovered. It was discovered approximately 250 Earth years ago. But now some features have emerged. The civilization, which was at a primitive social level - there were separate tribes - began to take part in contacts. Curators appeared, including Esler. I'm going there to study civilization more closely.

The news is that they discovered a civilization that wanted to contact the Interstellar Union, despite the fact that their level of development is approximately in the Stone Age.

He is now showing me their appearance. They are approximately like the Tashigans, only a little taller, the skin is dark green, shiny, two large eyes, like the Tashigans, the head is slightly elongated upward, like an oval. They are approximately 1.20 m tall. Their height is like that of the Tashigans, they are smaller than people (shows their appearance).

Ilya: Interesting. Thank you, Mead.

13:03 Incarnations of MidgasCaus.

Ilya: I have a question, it coincides with the question from the chat. Have you ever incarnated on Earth?

Irina: Yes, I had several incarnations on Earth, but I was not interested in the details. I just know that I was incarnated on Earth. I didn’t go to my Higher Self asking who I was incarnating as. I believe that all my incarnations concentrated and allowed me to develop the character that I have now.

He was not interested, he simply asked his Higher Self.

I asked my Higher Self, my inner Light, where I was incarnated, and the answer came to me that I was incarnated on Burkhad, on Earth and even on the reptilian planets. I was incarnated in many humanoid worlds, but I was not interested in the details.

Ilya: Was there an incarnation together with Irina or Maxim?

Irina: I asked about this, but they told me without details that yes, it happened. If you're interested, I can get those details. To do this, I need to receive information from the Spiritual world, that is, from the inner Light, in your opinion, regression. But this is not regression, when a regressologist helps, but self-regression. The spirit connects with its Higher Self by focusing on its past.

Moreover, you understand that the body in which I live has not undergone experiences from past lives. I need to take information from the memory of the Higher Self. As I said earlier, the Higher Self can give information about past lives if it is useful for the purposes of the spiritual development of the Spirit itself and will not distract it. This rule is true for all humanoids and plasmoids, for all embodied Spirits, regardless of the planet where they are embodied. It's not for nothing that memory is blocked.

Regression is carried out for some purpose: to find out something about your past, for example, what prevents you from living now, some karmic knots or something else (as Mead says).

Regression can also be evidence for doubters, for those people who doubt that they have lived somewhere else, that reincarnation exists. For them it is the experience of seeing past lives to convince them. This is also a benefit.

Ilya: Thank you very much. Very interesting, we are waiting for a continuation, a more detailed answer.

Irina: He was not interested in details.

Ilya: Thank you, Mid.

16:33 Races on the planet Esler and in its colonies.

Ilya: Let's move on to the planet. Question from chat.

Are there different races on your planet? Like we have Asian races.

Irina: Okay, I understand the question. There is no division, our race is one. We have several nationalities, but they are distinguished rather by different dialects and folk customs, but they are not divided into states, not divided by height and skin color.

We have colonies on other planets, where Eslerites who separated from us have long lived. Under the influence of local conditions, they may acquire taller height or a different skin color, lighter (shows an Eslerite with lighter skin, he has fewer wrinkles). They live in the constellation Pisces. This is Esler's colony.

On Esler there are nationalities that differ in folk customs and dialects.

Ilya: Thank you.

18:00 Social structure on the planet Esler.

Ilya: What is the social structure of your planet: power, people, is there a president?

Irina: We do not have a single ruler. There is a Planetary Council, which currently consists of sixty Eslerites. The Planet Council is elected by all inhabitants of the planet for 7 local years. Each of the 60 elected is responsible for a certain - I would not call it a city - region. The city and the settlements around it. Eslerites love to live in small villages (shows one-story buildings). We have few cities. They love to live among nature.

What laws were passed? Since the planet entered the Interstellar Union, IC internal policy standards were adopted. The planetary council has fully adopted the laws of the Interstellar Union for implementation on the planet. Local laws that are introduced on Esler cannot contradict the laws of the Interstellar Union on the same topic.

The planetary council has the following functions: to appoint administrative workers who implement laws. Often this function is performed or helped to perform by biorobots. On Esler, the contemplative inner life is more developed, when an Eslerite can engage in art, spiritual work, and raising children.

If it is necessary to change a law or introduce a new one, then, according to the laws of the Interstellar Union, it is sent internally - each Eslerite has his own minicomputer - a computer. The software is located in those chips that are injected into every Eslerite at birth, like documents in microchips. They have their own software.

A draft law comes into their space, which is rather located in the mental space of the brain. Each resident expresses agreement or disagreement. We don't need to push buttons. Everything happens with the help of thoughts (shows the screen, switches to images). The internal screen appears. A resident of Esler is thinking about which button to press: “yes” or “no.” The signal from the brain is converted into electromagnetic waves and appears in this computer.

Ilya: I see the picture too.

Irina: Shows it to you too?

Ilya: I see it too.

Irina: How do you show everyone?

Ilya: Great. What is the population today?

Irina: At the moment there are almost 18 billion, not counting the colonies, 17.8.

Ilya: Are there poor people, tramps, homeless people?

Irina: According to the laws of the Interstellar Union, the planetary government is obliged to allocate living space to each resident who writes and submits an appropriate application. If on earth, no later than two months. An Eslerite must receive residential premises without the right to resell, with the right to exchange and transfer by inheritance. But, if someone inherited this living space, he can no longer request a new one. No tramps.

Regarding poverty, we have mandatory social security for certain groups of the population. Those who, for various reasons, retire from certain activities (much like a pension) are paid special benefits.

We do not have money in circulation, like you have various coins and banknotes. For us, these are signals in the electromagnetic network of the planet that replace your Internet. We buy goods and acquire services by placing a hand with a specific, strictly individual, not a fingerprint, but a DNA signal. It cannot be faked.

We have professions that are provided by the state. There are private productions. Eslerites have the opportunity to work in any world of the Interstellar Union, in the Galactic Federation of Light, because there is a bilateral economic cooperation agreement between the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light.

Ilya: Thank you.

25:33 Duration of pregnancy on Esler. Origin and evolution of the Eslerites.

Ilya: An interesting question, it also resonated with me. How long does pregnancy last?

Irina: If we use earthly categories, about five earthly months.

Ilya: Great. A block of questions about the eyes. They are very similar to cats.

First: Does everyone have the same eye structure? What animals did you evolve from?

Irina: Yes, everyone has the same eye structure and everyone has the same color. It is genetically determined. I have already said: on other planets, where there are colonies, where many generations of Eslerites live, under the influence of the environment, a different sun, the composition of the soil, mutations can occur. The eyes may become (shows) not yellow, but gray, darker.

What animal did they come from? It was not a cat, it was not a predator. We evolved from a herbivore that ate leaves (shows an animal that resembles our cat, with large ears and eyes). It was nocturnal and climbed tall trees and jumped over. Rarely came down to earth. They, unlike your earthly cats, were herbivores.

They still live. Somewhat modified by mutation, but still similar to those from which our species originated (shows: I see light fur, like fluff, looks like a lemur, has a short tail, round).

Ilya: Thank you very much. How long did it take you to evolve to the Interstellar Union?

Irina: (She will name earthly years to make it clear). The first archaeological excavations and studies showed that the Esler civilization appeared about twenty-four to twenty-six million years ago, the most ancient. It took a long time to develop before joining the Interstellar Union.

The Interstellar Union discovered the planet Esler before the war, about 200 thousand Earth years ago. At first there was contact, and 8 thousand years (shows 8250) after the discovery, Esler became part of the Interstellar Union.

Ilya: Thank you.

30:25 Leisure on planet Esler.

Ilya: What kind of leisure time do you have? Are there cinemas or theaters?

Irina: There is something similar, but not a movie. We don't have such actors. There are literary works, their heroes can put on a performance. They are played by computer characters using created computer programs. They play roles (shows images on the screen, but these are not real Eslerites).

With us, no one wants to play the role of another, they are not interested in it. There is no such interest in our culture. Everyone lives their own life. I don’t know any Eslerites who would agree to spend the time of their incarnation on taking on some kind of role.

Ilya: Great. Thank you. How does MidgasCaus spend an evening at home? What is he doing?

Irina: I communicate with my children, my wife, and my friends. This is messaging over an internal computer. Not only on Esler (this is like your Internet), but throughout the entire Galaxy. Instant messaging. I can travel, even around Esler (they have developed transport, like an airship, it flies low on the ground and is controlled automatically). We can go anywhere on Esler, into nature, communicate with the Spirits of Nature, with plasmoids. I meditate, communicate with the Higher Self.

They have more internal leisure.

33:20 Teaching children on planet Esler.

Ilya: How do the children spend their time?

Irina: They are studying. They study before school. They have educational games, various simulators, according to you (shows a toy in the form of a screen to collect words). They learn to read, talk, count. They ask us about Esler. We tell them that they are immortal Spirits and teach them to remember this.

They play role-playing games with each other. As happens on all planets: children imitate adults. The child says, for example, I am an astronaut, or I am a sailor.

We have seas where there are ships. The ships were left not to sail, as in transport, but to spend time at sea (shows sailing on a ship to unite with nature). This is not a sport, but contemplation of oneself far from the shore. There is research into what's underwater. Children can play all this, imitating adults, distributing roles.

They also learn to communicate with each other. They learn how to handle the microchips they have, they have many functions. Children learn how to handle their bodies. We constantly teach them to present an image of a healthy, full of strength body and constantly communicate with it.

Then they go to first cycle school. Their classes are starting. They don't go to school and then go home, they can live in another city and come home for the holidays and tell us everything. There are schools of different cycles.

Ilya: Until what age do they study, in your opinion?

Irina: We have three cycles. Each cycle takes approximately four of your years or half of our year.

Ilya: One and a half years - according to your chronology.

Irina: Your four years are (approximately) one cycle. And there are three of them. At intervals of about three months. This is not between them, but in one cycle. In a cycle of four years there are equal intervals of (shows) 86 of your days. There are several of them, such vacations. And between cycles: one cycle has passed, then about 2.5 of your years pass, and a new cycle begins.

Ilya: Thank you. And at the end of the training, what does the child become?

Irina: Shows me a table where everything is written out.

Ilya: How does a child understand that he has become an adult? He went through three cycles and is considered an adult by you?

Irina: In the third cycle, he chooses where he will go next (this is school education). What specialty will you study for? He chooses with his Higher Self what he likes. About two and a half years after the end of the last cycle, he goes to study at the educational institution where he becomes a specialist in some field. It may or may not be related to space. This may not be an education based on Esler.

There are different options, but training to become a specialist lasts from 7 of your years to 20 or more, depending on the specialty, because there are different specialties. Often, training to become a specialist is combined with practical work, especially at the last stages, as you say, of training courses. They already have practice.

For example, if this is a medical professional, he works in a medical center. In our country, medicine is more related to prevention, so we have many specialists whom you call “doctors”, and we call “healers”. Not just spiritual healers, but healers who help keep the Spirit and body in a state of vigor, health and high energy levels. There are such specialists.

When they study for the last three and a half of your years, they continue to study directly in a medical preventive institution along with working doctors. They have practice there.

Ilya: Thank you, Mid.

40:58 Calculation on Esler.

Ilya: Our chronology starts from the Nativity of Christ. Why do you have it? Interesting question from the chat.

Irina: For you it comes not only from the Nativity of Christ. You have different chronology systems in different countries.

At present, our chronology starts from joining the Interstellar Union.

41:35 Religions on the planet Esler.

Ilya: Do you have a religion? They ask a question.

Irina: We don’t have churches, priests, rituals. We have an understanding that every humanoid, every Eslerite can communicate with God in his Soul, and for this he does not need intermediaries in the form of the clergy.

We had such forms of culture. We consider religion to be a form of culture. We understand culture as a general theory of the development of the Spirit. This includes culture and art.

We had similar forms of culture, but that was a long time ago, even before joining the Interstellar Union. By the time we joined the Interstellar Union, we had not had formalized religions for a long time. Not because we purposefully destroyed them, but because gradually the idea began to prevail in society that until a humanoid sees God in his heart, he cannot see Him anywhere else.

To put it simply: everyone sat at home and contemplated God within themselves. Everyone stopped going to organized services. These egregors disintegrated as unnecessary. All this happened peacefully, without any conflicts. Those humanoids who were in favor of preserving old traditions tried to prevent the destruction of the egregor, but they did this without violence. They called for the need for everyone to get together and continue to perform rites and rituals, because this educates the Soul. But they were told that our Higher Self, our Spiritual heart, tells us what action to perform in the material world.

Our every action is a ritual that educates our Soul, because we perform it with Love. We have an understanding of God without formalized religions. Any religion, as in the entire Interstellar Union, is not prohibited here. In accordance with the laws of the Interstellar Union, every humanoid is free to believe in any religion.

Ilya: Thank you. Thank you.

45:00 Pets on the planet Esler.

Ilya: Do you have pets, like cats and dogs?

Irina: Yes, there is (shows).

Small animal. His fur (as I perceive it) is slightly luminous, orange, yellow-orange. This animal is similar to our monkey, only it is small. With a flat muzzle of a dark red color, deep dark-colored eyes, small, a straight nose, like a monkey's, and a small round mouth.

Ilya: Thank you.

46:25 Food products on the planet Esler.

Ilya: What do they eat at Esler?

Irina: We have a lot of fruits, herbs, and various tree fruits. You would call this kind of plant “nuts,” only they are smaller than those on Earth. Cereals, nuts, juices of various fruits and herbs. We have dairy products from a dairy animal (I've seen one before) that resembles a yak, so overgrown with six. Like our cow, only covered with wool. We get milk from it on our farms and make various products from it.

We can also eat fruits from other planets that are beneficial for us. If we talk about earthly ones, there are different fruits and plants that have different effects on us. But what works best for us, and what we like the most, is pumpkin. We have a similar fruit (shows), only it grows on a tree. It has similar mass, taste, color and properties.

Ilya: Not with bread and salt when you fly to us, but with pumpkin we will stand “on the apron.” Great. Thanks a lot.

48:36 Activities of women on the planet Esler.

Ilya: How and what do your women do?

Irina: There are those who chose a scientific or medical career. There are those who fly into space, like my mother, a doctor and biologist. She was first a doctor, then became a biologist. She no longer studies humanoid life forms, not intelligent forms, but insects and microorganisms (microlife). There are scientists, for example, geologists, astronomers, astrographers, who study various planets. There are those whom you would call engineers. They are engaged in the manufacture of robots and programs for them. There are, in your opinion, decorators who do not make objects, but offer ideas on how to decorate a home and create their own individual style in clothing. Fashion designers, in your opinion.

49:55 Fashion and cosmetics on the planet Esler.

Ilya: Do you have fashion?

Irina: This is not fashion, in the sense that everyone follows it. Individual style that a humanoid will like. This is not fashion, in the sense that the same clothes are liked by everyone or even some limited contingent of humanoids.

Ilya: Do women use cosmetics?

Irina: If they want, then yes. But we do not have production of these items at Esler. If they want to take advantage of this, they will acquire it on other planets of the Interstellar Union. And since ancient times, we have not had a tradition of somehow changing ourselves. But since we have existed in the Interstellar Union for about two hundred thousand years, then, naturally, our women can bring cosmetics from other planets. This is not even cosmetics in the sense that it somehow changes the face, but useful creams (shows) for the skin, liquids with essential oils of herbs that help the skin recover, for example, after being in the sun.

Ilya: Great. Thank you. Thank you, Mead, for such a detailed answer.

51:42 Family on planet Esler.

Ilya: How many children is it customary for your families to have, is there a norm?

Irina: Maybe one, or maybe 12 or 15. Depends on the agreement between husband and wife. They are like Spirits through which other Spirits incarnate.

Before becoming husband and wife, they are in the bride and groom stage. Even then, they both ask their Higher Selves how many Spirits plan to incarnate through them. They communicate with these Spirits and ask what time is optimal for them to incarnate. The time depends on the characteristics of the Spirit when it should come to this or that world, including Esler. Therefore, the number of children each couple has depends on their life tasks and on the tasks of those Spirits who made an agreement with their Souls on incarnation. We are incarnated by agreement. Just as we incarnated with our parents according to an agreement, so our children incarnate according to an agreement.

Ilya: Great, thank you.

Are there conflicts between parents and children, between husband and wife?

Irina: No. We have no conflicts. I can speak for myself and for the families I know. During the entire time I have been living on Esler, I have not heard about any major conflicts among my familiar families, or any news on this topic.

This is not surprising, as I already said, the school is divided into three cycles. So, in the first cycle, an object is already introduced that is present throughout all three cycles. It's called "Family Psychology". In the first cycle, family psychology classes study questions of how a child should interact correctly with his parents, how to understand them, and how to avoid conflict. How to properly resolve a conflict in its infancy, before it has time to create a block. Explain to children.

Mid gave you a hint?

Ilya: They wrote in the chat. Thank you, friends, for your advice. I listen with rapt attention. Fell into the stream. Thank you very much for the advice about the water.

Irina: Dear friends, I see questions. I ask you to check out the video about Esler and the interview with MidgasCaus conducted by Vladimir Goldstein in 2020. It contains most of the questions you are currently writing. Also, please watch the video “The Art of Esler.”

Ilya: There are many questions about medicine. They are discussed in the video “Medicine in the Interstellar Union.” I don't read these questions.

Irina: Yes, there are all these questions. Please. Which star Esler revolves around is also known.

Ilya: Thank you, Mead, for telling in detail how children are trained.

Irina: Yes. In our family psychology lessons, at the first stage, they tell you how to find a common language with parents in the spirit of Love.

At the second stage, in family psychology lessons, they talk about what social roles exist in society, including the roles of husband and wife. What stages does family formation go through, how to choose the right partner for family life, not following the instincts of the body, but according to spiritual vibrations.

And the third stage of studying family psychology talks about how to correctly embody Spirits, how the process of conception occurs from an energetic and spiritual point of view, and how to properly conceive a child. How to behave correctly during pregnancy for the expectant mother and father, how to behave when the baby is born. How to correctly explain to him the basics of the structure of the world, when he will already perceive every word of his parents as his future axiom of life, which he will put deeply into his subconscious experience.

Ilya: Thank you. Thanks for the detailed answer.

Irina: Yes. This is what they teach.

Ilya: How do you choose a child's name?

Irina: Most often, almost always, as far as I know (they even teach this at school), the Spirit himself is asked what he would like to be called (even before conception). They ask in the Spiritual world. This may not necessarily be before conception, but also during pregnancy. When a woman is pregnant, she can get in touch, or the dad can get in touch, but most often they do it together, with the Spirit of the child and ask him: "What name do you want?" The name chosen by the future baby reflects his energy and life goals.

Ilya: Thank you. Thank you, Mead.

58:53 Spectrum of perception on the planet Esler.

Ilya: A question related to perception. Here we can perceive the spectrum, which we call a "rainbow". What spectrum do you perceive?

Irina: Our spectrum is almost the same as yours, but instead of, for example, seven colors of the rainbow, we can distinguish 19 different shades. For you, for example, the color red will be divided into three, more or less red. We also see the color purple a little differently. There is a color that is shifted to the ultraviolet region for you. You see it as dark, and we see it as light-light purple. Like violet, diluted with water (light, I would say, pale violet - this is how Mead conveys his mental images).

Ilya: Thank you, Mid. It's already 21:00.

They ask for an anecdote from MidgasCaus. I wonder if Meade has anything to say about this?

1:00:30 Love and passion on the planet Esler.

Ilya: I can ask a question. Eslerites meet through the Higher Self, their Spirits come to an agreement. They meet as partners, but passion, as a human concept, desire is present.

Irina: Do you mean hormone-induced arousal?

Ilya: You can probably say so.

Irina: Hormones, as biologically active substances that bring the body into a state ready for intercourse?

Ilya: Yes. Okay, so be it.

Irina: Yes, of course. It is there. Sexual attraction is activated in our body when we love with our Spiritual heart. Love turns on (shows) a switch in the brain. It acts on the neural network (a collection of brain cells) in such a way that they turn on the hormonal system, and we experience attraction only to the person who suits us spiritually, with whom we have agreed to live in a family. We cannot have attraction to another, because there is no response from the heart as to our partner. We love, of course, other people, but in a different way.

For example. Love on Earth. You, too, have been commanded to love everyone. But love is different. If you love your wife, this does not mean that you do not love other women, for example, your mother, daughter, your wife's friends, a female colleague at work. You love them too. God commanded you to love them too. But you love them differently. You have a different form of Love for them, not the same as for your wife.

This also applies to women. You love your husband, but that doesn't mean you don't love your male friends, your husband's male friends. You love them differently. Our forms of Love are also different. Only in Russian the word “Love” means many different feelings. We have different words for this feeling. We do not call different forms, different shades of Love in one word.

Ilya: Thank you, Mid.

1:03:40 Seasons, climate on the planet Esler.

Ilya: The final question with which we started. Do you have seasons?

Irina: (Mead speaking). Our entire year (eight earthly years) is divided into 27 months, approximately 46 of our days/days in each. From a distance it can be called a month, but on Esler we do not have a satellite like the Moon. We have asteroids (shows) that rotate close to the planet, but they do not give such light. Thus, the length of the month does not depend, as on Earth, where the month is determined by the length of the lunar month. We divided artificially. Moreover, there are months (we call them “annual periods”) in which there are unequal numbers of days. This is what we did to tie it to the stars, to the sun. We have different number of days in months. I called the average.

Ilya: Does the temperature change throughout your year: winter, autumn?

Irina: We don’t have winter or hot summer. There are slight fluctuations, like between your early spring and your cool summer. Previously there was snow and precipitation. Since we entered the Interstellar Union, the General Assembly of the entire planet decided to adjust our climate and the orbit of the planet. The Interstellar Union agreed with this. We made a small adjustment, which was gradually carried out, so that there would be no cataclysms due to a sharp change in the orbit, including the energy magnetic field characteristics. Now we have a mild climate.

Ilya: Interesting. I'm tired of this winter, let's move the planet.

Irina: Everyone wanted to live in a comfortable temperature.

Ilya: Thank you, Mid, for your answer. Thank you. Very interesting.

Irina: Thank you everyone.

1:07:08 MidgasCaus's wish to the inhabitants of the Earth.

Ilya: Can you give us some message?

Irina: Message?

Ilya: Yes, a wish, a message, a parting word for us.

Irina: Dear inhabitants of the Earth. I am very glad that Project Cassiopeia exists. I was delighted to see a book in the physical world, not only about Irina and her contact, but also about many representatives of the Interstellar Union. I know that many, many Souls and people, not only earthly ones, who are embodied on Earth, participated in the creation of this book. Each of you has put a piece of your Light into this book. The text is charged with the energies of the egregor “Cassiopeia”, which is a little more than three earth years old. It is actively developing and helps every person who comes to it to find answers to questions about their Higher Self.

The Cassiopeia project was created not only so that you can learn about distant worlds and various galaxies. Terrestrial astronomy tells about distant stars and galaxies. But, despite the abundance of sciences that earthlings study, wonderful mathematical theories, very beautiful scientific descriptions of your biosphere, you have a lot of popular science literature that describes the beautiful earthly world created by the Creator of the Universe for you, despite all this abundance of knowledge , people live on Earth who have not yet recognized the Light in themselves.

Therefore, the main task of “Cassiopeia” is to turn each of you towards yourself, to seek answers from your Higher Self, from your divine particle, from your spark of the Higher Absolute Consciousness.

I wish each of you that this contact occurs in the current incarnation and brings many fruits of Love, goodness and unconditional happiness.

My Spirit sends you the Light of its Love, I am always close to each of you spiritually.

Ilya: Great! Thank you very much, Mead, for this message. Thank you and accept.

Friends, we say goodbye.

Irina: Yes. Thank you.

Dear friends, I was very interested. Thank you for your questions. Thank you, Ilya, for hosting this broadcast.

Ilya: Great honor.

Irina: I also thank each of you for being with us, for the fact that together we carry this Light of Love. I say to you: “See you again.”

Ilya: Bye. Bye.

00:19 Welcome to the participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today with us is my curator - biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, constellation Boötes. Galina will ask him questions. Hello, Galina.

Galina: Hello, Irina. Hello MidgasCaus. My name is Galina Kozhevnikova. I am a doctor, pediatric neurologist, psychotherapist. I have several questions for MidgasCaus on child neurology and children's diseases.

Irina: Very interesting. Greetings.

01:10 The influence of the fifth chakra of parents on the formation of the child’s energy.

Galina: I am very glad that I was given this opportunity. Because over the last, perhaps, three decades, in Russia the number of children with neurological disorders has increased. Those disorders that cause such a terrible disease as cerebral palsy, a speech disorder, a disorder of mental perception, memory, thinking, and so on. Therefore, I have a question first about the etiology, the reason.

The physical reasons are more or less known to us. This is an environmental violation over the past two decades, a nutritional disorder in our country. Then, there may be violations of a more subtle level, such as moral and ethical standards of behavior.

But I would like to know more about how this increase in such a number, almost 90%, happened? Is it really just because of physical factors? Most likely there are some influences. There are a lot of medications that people receive, and everything else. But I would like to know some other factors.

Irina: Let’s be more specific about the causes of what conditions?

Galina: For example, torticollis in children. Children are born with a disorder at the cervical level of the spine, which is manifested by torticollis, high or low tone. These are the conditions that are called “perinatal”.

Irina: What you called an earthly word, there could be dozens of reasons for this. These are also polyetiological syndromes.

Galina: Yes, these are polyetiological, general symptoms. But there are a lot of them. There weren't that many of them.

Irina: The reasons may lie, as you say, on the psychological plane of the parents, in their spiritual vibrations. They may have blocks on the fifth chakra. A chakra is an energy center that is located both in the human aura and at the level of the physical body. But at the level of the physical body, it is not located in the cells of the body, but at a more subtle level. Because the volume of space that the physical body occupies is also occupied by its energy.

Galina: Why now, at this time?

Irina: This is the first reason. If we now start with the root cause. These may be blocks in parents precisely in the fifth chakra. The present era is characterized by a greater risk of accumulating blocks in the fifth chakra, because people have become more restrained. The last few generations have been brought up with a careless attitude towards their own feelings. In many families they are forbidden to express them from childhood. They also tell the child to be silent.

The fifth chakra is the place where words, emotions, feelings that the child was afraid to say get stuck. Then he grows into an adult and gets used to this state of affairs. The consciousness in his brain adapts to this. For this reason, the block has already been formed there. It influences the conceived child, the formation of his energy body. Muscle spasms or even improper formation of the bone structure occurs (it is not yet bone, but soft).

Galina: Why? In ancient times, wasn't this how they showed their feelings?

Irina: In ancient times, families had more open communication between parents and children. Again, it depends on what antiquity we take.

Galina: Two hundred or three hundred years ago, a hundred years ago, even 50 years ago.

Irina: This is only one reason - spiritual, purely spiritual. There is a combination of reasons. For example, exposure to any chemicals. For example, this is fetal hypoxia, which stimulates delayed improper formation of muscle, bone, and cartilaginous structures of the body. Fetal hypoxia can be triggered by nicotine, alcohol, sodium nitrate, which is increasingly being added to food.

Galina: I understand that. And the chemical drugs with which we are saturated. This is all clear. And besides these reasons (we were covered in exactly the same way 50 years ago)? However, it was in the 90s that the pilgrimage of such symptoms began.

Irina: You are a doctor, you work with such children, so you look at this through the prism of your professional position. Children come to you in exactly this condition. And children who do not have such problems will not come to you.

Galina: No, there are very few of them, compared to when I worked in a maternity hospital in the nineties.

Irina: He answered the question and will not add anything more. Will clarify what has already been said. I just know him.

Galina: Okay, thank you. Tell me, do spiritual reasons, such as blocks that we carry over from a past life, also affect the born child? How are some tasks?

Irina: In that minute he listed to me several children whom I know who do not have such problems, continuing to answer the question.

I already told Galina to move on to another question.

Galina: Okay, thank you.

08:56 Karmic knot.

Galina: Blocks that come from our past incarnations, do they also influence? If, for example, something negative was developed in a previous incarnation, is it possible for it to manifest itself now?

Irina: Perhaps, but this is not always the case. A block that was created in a past life and was not dissolved before leaving incarnation may, in the process of living in the Spiritual World, be transformed into a so-called karmic knot. There is no vital force contained there that will leave the Soul before its union with the Spirit.

But the karmic knot can only be understood at the level of images. These are some thoughts, feelings, emotions. They form a multifactorial knot (shows multi-colored threads that form an energy lump). It already consists of thoughts, feelings, emotions and this passes into the next incarnation. And, among other things, it influences the formation of a new etheric matrix of a new physical body.

Galina: Did I understand correctly that it is our sins, if according to religion, that we transfer to the next incarnation?

Irina: What do you mean by sin? They are just different.

Galina: By sin I mean, for example, claims, fears, anger, hatred.

Irina: Okay. Yes, indeed, such negative feelings and emotions that you listed can lead to the formation of karmic knots. But this is not at all necessary. Everything depends on the awareness of this Spirit and on its life tasks assigned by it for the next life, for the next incarnation. The karmic knot is not formed automatically. It is formed taking into account the passage of certain life lessons.

What do we call a life lesson? Some kind of situation that puts a person in the same life position that was in a past life, if it was a karmic knot. So that he can relive these feelings, emotions, realize them in himself and let go. For this reason, he takes them to his next life.

11:41 The influence of the ancestral egregor on the health of descendants.

Galina: Do ancestors influence the development of the disease in a child?

Irina: Not the ancestors themselves.

Galina: And their negatives?

Irina: The vibration of the ancestral egregor influences. But it does not directly influence, but indirectly influences through the endowment of the Spirit, which came to incarnate through a given generic egregor, with any tasks.

Each Spirit has its own personal tasks, as well as social tasks for the people's egregor, if it came to incarnate in some society (or as a public egregor). On Earth you call this a political egregor or an egregor of a country. His third task is the task of the generic egregor. If there is any negativity there, the egregor can assign the task of eliminating it.

How does negativity accumulate in the generic egregor? Negative feelings, thoughts, actions and emotions of ancestors. And not only to the seventh generation, but to all ancestors in general, it is formed over many centuries.

Galina: Thank you, I understand that we (ancestors) influence the future of our children.

Irina: Yes.

Galina: Thank you, that’s very good.

13:16 Baby's position in sleep.

Galina: Please tell me, MidgasKaus, I am interested in the recommendation of modern doctors for all children (with or without impairment at the cervical level) not to use a pillow (not even a high one, but a small one).

I think this is only acceptable until the age of two months, until cervical lordosis forms. Then you need a pillow. But there is an opinion that you need to lie directly on a flat surface for up to a year.

Irina: How will this eliminate hypertonicity of the neck muscles?

Galina: There is no hypertonicity there. Cervical lordosis is formed. It must be formed. When the child lies on a flat surface, lordosis will be more difficult to form. Do I get it right? Due to the influence of the Earth's gravitational forces, attraction.

Irina: All this does not have such a significant impact as the activity of the child, his physical body at the moment of wakefulness. He can regulate the tension and relaxation of different parts of his physical body during sleep, adapting to the surface on which he sleeps. But in order for him to correctly adapt to this physical world, he needs to move in a state of wakefulness.

I would also recommend still leaving him the opportunity for free movements in his sleep too. If he is uncomfortable, he can turn around, put his hand, and so on.

Galina: Okay, thank you.

Irina: He has an instinct of self-preservation and a hedonistic instinct, what you call the instinct of pleasure. They are together. Violation of these instincts causes fears and suffering, that is, inconvenience. Automatically, even without the Soul returning to the body, without the child waking up, his body is harmonized in space.

I won’t say that until 3 months, but until about 7 months, the child got used to sleeping in some position. If you try to change it abruptly, it will become uncomfortable for him.

Galina: That’s understandable, thank you very much.

16:27 Baby burping in his sleep. Bathing babies on Esler.

Galina: Doctors' recommendation is to raise the upper end of the crib higher. They are afraid that the child will choke. A child doesn’t choke because he vomits or regurgitates? Only if the soft palate is weak can he choke, do I understand correctly?

Irina: He has a reflex, he will cry. He will wake up and cough. This is already some kind of violation of the reflex arc, that he is suffocating in his sleep.

Galina: Great. Next question. Recently, we have widely used a rubber ring for swimming newborns.

Irina: Now I will introduce him. He just doesn't know.

Galina: This circle has a very good and gentle effect on stretching the spine, which is slightly compressed at birth. It works very well. However, there is an opinion that this circle has a negative effect on the cervical spine, and it is prohibited.

Irina: Depends on the weight of the child, where he swims, what depth there is.

Galina: The depth is such that it hangs.

Irina: Will he be able to get back on his feet or not?

Galina: He's hanging and can't get to his feet.

Irina: The water itself also supports the child. In order for him to relax, so that his spine takes the correct position, it would be optimal to position it a little lower. He shows me on his chest, while at the same time maintaining a free arm area. Some kind of float.

Galina: Yes, it floats like a float.

Irina: Then he doesn’t have the opportunity to lie on his chest. This may cause him discomfort.

Maybe I didn’t present it to him accurately. What do you mean give me a drawing? I don't have any drawing.

Galina: In general, logically, the child behaves very well in this circle. Just like in the hands of a physical therapy instructor. There is a capture and the child floats. And exactly the same in a circle. That's why it's important to me.

Irina: We need to see where it is located, how it is located. Because as I presented to him, I hadn’t seen them myself.

Galina: Okay, let's leave it at that. Thank you.

Irina: We don’t have those.

Galina: Yes, they probably don’t bathe children like that, but we do.

Irina: We don’t have that. We bathe the children. We have special pools (shows) inside the house. The robot puts on such a pool, and it can increase the density of water using special harmless substances such as foam. He can lie on it and not drown.

Galina: Everything is clear.

Irina: It can lie down. You can reduce the density of the water in order to stimulate it so that it can start moving. So that not just the water would support him, but so that he would learn to really swim.

Galina: Great, I'm very happy.

20:48 Children with decreased tone. Hyperactive children.

Galina: Next question. Very often there is high tone in children and low tone. If the tone is high, we put it in order with a quick massage, exercise therapy, sometimes doctors like to prescribe medications. And low tone is very difficult to restore. What's the matter? I believe that this level of damage is supranuclear and intracellular, intranuclear. Is it so?

Irina: Low tone?

Galina: Yes, children are sometimes born with high tone, and sometimes with low tone. And this low tone will continue for a very long time.

Irina: Yes, I understand. Shows the brain and conduction disturbances in the spinal cord. Signals do not travel well through the spinal cord. Either the muscles do not fulfill this signal or they do it poorly.

Movements are needed, and those that would be stimulated not by the parents, not by the mother, but by the nervous system of the child himself. He needs to be attracted to some objects so that he is drawn to them. Oriented himself in space.

This may simply be due to a lack of orientation in space. His Spirit, which has incarnated, does not yet fully receive through the senses (they have not yet formed) a complete picture of space. Therefore, it does not receive feedback from sensors located in the muscles about the position of the body.

In order for this to form faster, he needs to actively move. Then his signals will travel faster.

Galina: Exercise therapy, including massage.

Irina: Yes. And depending on the age of the child (shows how the child crawls).

Galina: Mostly this occurs before one year of age, but it manifests itself already at an older age. This is manifested by weakness of muscle tone. Sometimes a child goes to school and has difficulty holding a pen. So weak.

Irina: He can hold the pen weakly and because of hypertonicity. It depends on what he has.

Galina: Hypertonicity will cause a spasm, that’s another matter. And here they don’t give him any diagnoses at all. But this low tone can accompany him throughout his life.

Irina: This happens because the neuromuscular transmission is not coordinated. This is all completely harmonized by certain movements, breathing practices and, of course, the work of parents on eliminating spiritual causes, on general energetic cleansing through the Higher Self. Perhaps they also have these problems, but they manifest themselves on a different level.

Galina: Thank you. Please tell me, it has been noticed that children with low tone are also often hyperactive. They are very excitable, they are disinhibited. What is this connected with?

Irina: I diagnosed the children of those parents who came to me. I have met what you call a hyperactive child, both with hypertonicity, and with decreased tone, and with normal tone. Activity is only an evaluative concept based on the child’s behavior; it would seem that he is not purposefully moving somewhere. It begins to do something incomprehensible to people.

When I observed such children, I saw that this was not random movement at all, but certain games with plasmoid civilizations.

Shows how white balls surround the child, and he is trying to play with them. He sees them.

Galina: That is, the attitude towards him should be completely normal. Shouldn't we use tranquilizers or some kind of sedative on him?

Irina: If he does not cause any dangerous damage to himself. He doesn't need to leave anything dangerous. You need to be especially careful on high floors. It is better to protect it from the windows so that it does not reach the windowsill. Because he is attracted to the street.

Shows how plasmoids fly out the window, and he wants to go after

Not only can a child somehow open a window (you can secure it with a lock so that it doesn’t fall out), but he can also break the glass and cut himself.

Galina: Okay.

Irina: Because he has no experience that it hurts.

Galina: I see. But this worries parents more, it worries educators and teachers more. For a child, being hyperactive is mostly normal, he feels good.

Irina: Again, depending on your age. If this is already conscious, school age, it is necessary to have a conversation here. Show by example that staying in place to do something can be no less interesting than playing or moving. Because for young children who are just entering society, the benefit-pleasure ratio is still shifted towards pleasure due to the somewhat greater development of the instinctive sphere so far.

The sphere of socially significant interests and spiritual values develops somewhat later, in adolescence. So here we are not talking about the fact that you should benefit yourself or others in a certain way, because he has pleasure in moving around. And you show him that, being in a sitting position, he can receive interest, development, and play.

And be sure to alternate these exercises in a static position with movement. Because he has such a need.

Galina: Thank you. But this is more of a social factor. This is a mother's problem and a teacher's problem. The mother herself, as I understand it, must be calm in order to accept the child as he is and slowly guide him. Did I understand correctly?

Irina: If she doesn’t accept, then she still needs to work with herself, with her blocks.

Galina: Yes. This is mainly a mom problem.

28:43 Breastfeeding and water for the baby.

Galina: Thank you, thank you very much. I have one more question about children, and then a little about psychology.

There is an opinion that a breastfed baby does not need to be given water between feedings.

Irina: Why?

Galina: It is believed that water is released from milk, and there is enough of it. Milk needs energy to first release this water, am I understanding correctly?

Irina: Clean water contains more than just water. It helps the milk that is available to be absorbed. Because it contains mineral salts. In water passed through any filter, particles of mineral salts still remain, which are necessary for the proper exchange of microelements and vitamins in the body.

And it also contains energy. Water absorbs the energy of space very well. Milk is the mother’s energy, a subtle component that charges this substance. There are 9 known physical energies and more than 6000 subtle energies. And there are even more spiritual energies, tens of thousands. Any physical substance has some kind of energy: subtle, spiritual, if it is invested in it.

Mother's milk contains the subtle energy of the etheric field of the mother herself and the spiritual energy of her feelings for the child. We are not considering the chemical composition or immunological composition now. There is also an energy composition.

We at Esler have long been studying the energy compositions of various substances using special instruments. Here's the water. Now you take it in the store. But in ancient times, when it was taken from a source, it was not customary to give it to the child right away. She had to stay in the house for about a day. She stood in a wooden vessel, which facilitated energy exchange. For example, metal and plastic impair this exchange. Glass is about 50/50. Because it consists of natural elements.

Metal is also a natural element, but due to its special energy it slows down metabolism. And plastic consists of polymers that make it very difficult for the energy exchange of water with the environment. Therefore, water poured into a plastic container retains the energy of the place from which it was brought.

Galina: Very good, thank you very much. I find it very nice.

Irina: If the water stood in a wooden vessel (the brown one shows the cup), it absorbed the energy of the house, the energy of the people living in it, and therefore a piece of the spiritual energies of the ancestral egregor. And the energy of those plasmoids that live there, including the brownie. This helped the child, allowing him to adapt more easily, fit into the energy space of the house, and get used to it.

33:07 Speech delay in children and massage.

Galina: Great. MidgasCaus, that's the question.

In recent years, a very large number of children who do not speak for a long time, who speak poorly or who do not speak at all, has increased. Until almost 7 years of age, many children have “porridge” in their mouths, many have speech therapy disorders, or they do not speak at all. We no longer deal with autistic children. I am talking about ordinary children, the number of which has increased. And this, it has been noted, is simultaneously associated with neurological disorders.

Where does the connection take place? Or is it, as you said, the fifth center influencing, or somewhere in the centers of the brain? There is also the anterior central gyrus, where a person moves with this place. And there are also two speech centers on the sides - Broca's and Wernicke's. Where is the violation going?

Irina: There are also a lot of different reasons, ranging from the complete deprivation of the child from peers and from surrounding adults, except parents, which contributes to the fading of his speech reflex, and ending with the bombardment of the child with more and more new sensory sensations, which makes him so withdrawn into himself.

Galina: He doesn’t shut up. He doesn't start talking. We are talking about one-year-olds, one-and-a-half-year-olds, and two-year-olds.

Irina: The fact is that his speech is not always expressed in words. The baby also has speech. It is expressed in various sounds with which he communicates with his mother. Various gestures. Babies are very expressive. This is also a kind of speech. It becomes silent, which means it stops showing these signs. He's just in that state. This is the first reason.

The second reason. I also studied such children. They can be incarnated after plasmoid civilizations and be already in contact with plasmoids. But if they themselves are embodied after plasmoid civilizations (and they communicated there in a body of a different density, these are completely different sounds), it is very difficult for them to adapt to a dense material body and the perception of sounds through auditory receptors. These sounds begin to form an incomprehensible “mess” of words for them. They can't remember it. It’s hard for them, they need time.

We need to give them time and not force them, not force them out of these words. Just talk to them, explain and show surrounding objects, explain their purpose. Speak in a slow voice, in a calm tone, and smile at them. Parents need to do this. You can ask several times what it is called, or something else. But if he refuses to talk, you don’t need to ask several times. You just have to keep explaining.

Galina: That's understandable. What about physical influence in the form of massage? I am a massage therapist, I do massage. I work with the centers: with the head, with the muscles, with the neck. Does it somehow affect the child's speech development?

Irina: It affects relaxation. Firstly, physical movements (shows) affect muscle relaxation and proper functioning. And energy. You invest your energy and influence his energy. And massage is always an energy exchange. You send certain thought forms into his field. Imagine that he is healthy, cheerful, talking. These thought forms are laid in his mental field, and he begins to absorb them. He accepts them as a guide to action, because you do it with Light, you do it with good. The higher self of this child allows this to be done.

There is also a physical and energetic impact.

38:07 The concepts of "attention", "consciousness", "mind", "mind", "thinking".

Galina: Everything is clear, thank you. This is very important to me. I have a question about psychology. Please tell me that attention is human power. Does it refer to the mind or to the mind?

Irina: Many people believe that reason and intelligence are synonymous. In many cases this is true, but I differentiate these concepts a little. The mind is the part of the Spirit that is responsible for imagination, thinking and memory.

Galina: Yes.

Irina: And the mind is a part of the mind, which is located in the embodied part of the Spirit and manifests itself through the brain. It is located in the human brain as consciousness. This is the energy of the Spirit, which he needs to perceive the environment. It is consciousness that is associated with the mind.

Reason is a part of the entire Spirit, both the embodied and non-embodied part. And that which is embodied only can be called mind. And attention is the direction of consciousness by the mind towards one or another object. Directing energy is like we direct a flashlight beam.

Galina: Still, this is the prerogative of the mind?

Irina: Yes, direction is the prerogative of the mind. Attention itself is direction, concentration of consciousness, concentration of energy.

Imagine that we can control the intensity of a flashlight. We can make it either brighter or dimmer. If we point a flashlight at an object in a dark room, we will begin to increase the intensity of its glow. A flashlight is consciousness. The one who holds it in his hands is the Spirit. And the hand that holds is his mind.

Galina: When something happens to us, then the mind comes, so to speak, to the rescue in order to connect it all together.

Irina: Once again.

Galina: When this happens, how does your mind turn on?

Irina: What?

Galina: Into this process.

Irina: Process of perception?

Galina: Yes.

Irina: Consciousness, as soon as it perceived an object through a visual receptor, an auditory receptor, we will think that through the visual receptor, a ray of light entered the eyes, reflecting from objects. This left a certain image on the retina of the eye. This image, in the form of electrical signals, is sent to the part of the brain responsible for recognizing visual images.

Connected to the brain, as I have already said, is the mind. A person perceived, for example, a flower. He saw it with his eyes. The information is already in the form of electrical signals, but the flower itself did not go along the nerve, the information went. Information came to the brain. And the mind, comparing this received image with what is stored in memory, that is, we will talk specifically about thinking, names it something. He pulls this word out of his memory, that it is a flower, not a car. This is done specifically by thinking.

Galina: Then understanding and thinking occur. I understood.

Irina: Thinking is the ability of the mind and mind, as part of the mind. Thinking is the ability of the mind to process information received and make decisions. It is thinking that has such a category as freedom of choice, which animal Souls do not have.

43:03 Managing internal energy with attention.

Galina: Yes, now it’s clear.

MidgasCaus, that's the question. When we begin to look carefully and feel something negative in ourselves, for example, pain, we describe it. We understand something, what shape, color, size. And it, this pain, only begins to decrease from our attention. How does this happen?

Irina: Because attention directed to pain is not only directed to pain. It is aimed at the part of the body that is experiencing discomfort.

What is pain? This is the body’s reaction if we are talking about physical pain now. This is the body's response to micro- or macro-damage caused by a pathological process. Attention directed to this part of the body directs energy. Where there is attention, there is energy, vitality. When we begin to direct energy there, the life force of the etheric field, it acts on the cells in such a way that their sensitivity to pain decreases.

The percentage of transmission of signals about damage along the nerve fibers decreases, because the vital forces seem to calm down (shows how they are stroked).

Galina: Okay. And the second question is here. When we begin to observe a good state inside us, for example, joy or a calm state, we somehow designate it inside and accept it in the same way (especially with gratitude), then it tends to increase.

Irina: Because you create a thought form in the mental field, in your mind. The mental field is both the mind and the spiritual heart. This is some internal space where we create images.

You create an image, a thought form, send energy to it, it begins to grow, feeds on your energy and increases. Therefore, you feel an increase in this state.

Galina: Does it all depend on the quality of energy, when do we observe negativity, for example, irritation, and when do we observe positivity?

Irina: Yes, if you think about a person who irritates you with something, but do not remove this irritation with awareness.

Galina: Yes, I accept it.

Irina: If you just remember about an annoying person, and you think that he is very annoying to you, you begin to intensify, your irritation also begins to grow.

Galina: What if I accept?

Irina: And if you accept this feeling, if you accept this person, if you forgive him, forgive yourself, then this negative energy, the contradiction of Love, begins to fade, because the stronger, positive energy blurs it.

46:42 The meanings of the words “thank you” and “thank you”.

Galina: Okay, thank you. Last question on psychology.

The word "gratitude". When we say “thank you”, it means “I have good inside” and I give it to someone, I give it away. This enhances our good state, do I understand correctly?

Irina: Yes. Because when you give selflessly the good that you have, you thereby engage in energy exchange with the Absolute, which created the Universe. He himself selflessly created this world and gave birth to us all. He sends you additional strength and fills your Soul with even greater good.

If we parse the word “good” according to the proto-language of plasmoid earthly civilizations, we will get a decoding. The letter “b”, the syllable “la” and the syllable “go” are deciphered in this way: “strengthening harmony for ascending upward.”

Galina: How interesting.

Irina: Strengthens harmony for ascent.

Galina: Does the word “thank you” have the same power or not?

Irina: “Thank you,” I heard in Russia they say that this is just a shortened expression for “God save.” But it has a slightly different meaning. If we look at the syllables of the proto-language, then “s-pa-si-bo” will be deciphered as “connection with peace by a higher power.” Connecting with calmness or protection as the power of the Almighty.

Galina: Isn’t this identical to “thank you”? It's different?

Irina: “Thank you” is when you give your good, harmony in this particular case, aimed at upward mobility. I give - it means a gift. You give to another so that he too can go up. Raise its vibration.

And thank you is more of a reassurance (shows how you wish the person to connect with calmness, strong, higher protection).

49:35 Health and physical characteristics of the body.

Galina: Thank you very much, I am very grateful for your information. If I may, I have a personal question.

Irina: Yes.

Galina: My vision is very reduced due to atrophy of the optic nerves. My question is, are there conditions under which I can improve my vision? Because I have 0.01 percent of one eye left, and this, of course, prevents me from adapting a little in life. Because it's better when you can see better. Under what conditions? Although I accepted everything.

Irina: You need to find out why your Spirit so influenced the energy of your body, the etheric matrix of the optic nerves, that it caused their atrophy. You need to talk to your Higher Self and ask what you have been refusing to see.

Galina: I've already gone out many times, but it doesn't work. Even with guides, we went with Irina, but it didn't work.

Irina: So you need to find out what is stopping you from talking to him. How do you feel during these sessions? How do you feel when you ask this?

Galina: I feel like I kind of have to live in this state.

Irina: Now ask, why?

Galina: As I always say, my past incarnations were somehow karmic.

Irina: What qualities do you develop in yourself with the help of this state? You need to know this in order to understand what your life tasks are.

If you went into this incarnation knowing about such a body, that it would see in this way, then you had some goals.

Galina: If I don’t understand these goals, then I won’t be able to reach those moments that will help me restore my vision?

Irina: You will do this unconsciously. And if you ask the Higher Self why you incarnated in this body, which thus perceives information from visual receptors (perhaps you didn’t want to see something in the external world, or you needed to pay attention to something in the internal world). It's all individual. You need to look at why you chose such a life scenario or, as you call it on Earth, a lesson.

Some events, some material features of the body. Some appear in a body that has extra chromosomes. This extra chromosome spoils their entire nervous system. They cannot manifest themselves as Spirit. When we start talking (Irina leads the parents of these children to the Higher Self), the children cannot adapt in any way to this world. They don't understand what's happening. Because it is very difficult for the Spirit to manifest itself through a brain damaged by incorrectly formed proteins; it itself remains in a helpless state, bound (shows how in a cell).

Then we begin to ask why he incarnated in such a body. Through his Higher Self. His parents reach his Higher Self, whose memory, naturally, is not blocked, it remembers everything. The child’s higher self replies that you and I agreed in the Spiritual world that I will come in such a body, sacrificing my incarnation, my time in this body in order to teach you how to love unselfishly. Because caring for such a helpless child is not so that he will thank them with something when they are old. This is just one option, but there can be many options.

Galina: Thank you. One more question about my name or date of birth.

I incarnated from level 11. In my previous incarnation, I was probably a plasmoid.

Irina: 11 are not plasmoids. This is called "consumer". One who enjoyed in a past life.

Galina: No, level 9.

Irina: The 9th are also not plasmoids. This is also an average level, called “student”. For some reason, you did not fully study moral standards in your past life and came to this life to study what is good and what is bad.

Galina: Everything is clear. What level am I at now?

Irina: The Higher Self only knows. He won't answer.

Galina: Okay, thank you very much. I thank you, everything is clear to me. Irochka, MidgasKausa thank you.

I also wanted to ask. I now do massage with children and psychosomatics with adults. It's my business?

Irina: What does your heart tell you?

Galina: Very mine.

Irina: So, this is already an answer from the Higher Self.

Galina: Thank you.

Irina: From the Higher Self, this answer is not from the mind. When we choose options in a logical way, that here I will be better off because I will worry less here, the salary is higher, this is called the work of the mind. And there is an answer from the heart.

Galina: Thank you very much, Ira. Thank you very much, MidgasCaus.

Irina: Thank you. He has a sense of humor as always.

Thank you, dear friends, I hope you found it interesting. Thank you for being with us. For supporting our Project. And you not only listen, but also apply our information that comes through us and from the Interstellar Union of the Galaxy, and from other spiritual entities, plasmoid civilizations, you put it into practice.

You're not just watching for entertainment, you're actually growing. A lot of people told me about this. I thank you for this, dear friends. I send you the Light of my Love. Thank you Galina for the interesting questions.

MidgasCaus: “Say hi to everyone too, I love everyone.”

#479 Meditation “Cup of abundance with Ganesha.” Energy for fulfillment of desires. Cassiopeia – Irina Podzorova.

00:20 An important condition for meditation.

Irina: Dear friends, we will do meditation. Yes?

Maria: Yes, please. This is already a good tradition for us. To end our meeting on a high note.

Irina: Okay. I ask you to sit in a position where you can relax. Before starting the meditation, I will ask you to come up with three wishes at once, which you will put in the Chalice in your Soul room, in your Soul altar. Three wishes can be both material and spiritual. But the main thing is that these desires are yours - what exactly you want for yourself. For someone else, the person himself must want it. Come up with a wish just for yourself.

If it is something material in the form of an object, imagine its image. A smaller image of this item. If this is a spiritual state, some kind of concept, come up with a symbol. Do you have any questions about how to come up with a symbol? Maybe someone has questions about how to come up with a symbol for certain spiritual desires? No questions?

“How to represent the Higher Self as a symbol?” Great! In the form of the Sun. The Higher Self is your inner Light, your inner Sun. Imagine it as if you are holding the Sun in your hands. Great!

02:45 Meditation “Cup of abundance”.

Irina: So, dear friends, close your eyes and relax. Pay attention to your breathing. Take a slow deep breath and relax. Let's ask our Higher Self to help us in this practice. Let's ask our curators, the Angels, to be with us. We just watch our body, how it breathes. Let's walk our attention from head to toe: is it completely relaxed? It may want to move and get into a more comfortable position.

Great! Now mentally imagine that you are standing in a clearing, field, or some open space. And you see in front of you a house or other room in which you would like to live. Imagine the house of your Soul as it looks from the outside. For some it will be a small hut, for others it will be a huge palace. The main thing is that you feel comfortable there, so that your Soul occupies all the space there. So that she feels that every detail of this space is dear and close to her.

This house actually exists in the Spiritual World. You built it, and you lived in it while you were waiting for this incarnation.

Now we will go there. Can you imagine what the door to this house looks like? Mentally imagine yourself approaching the door. Slowly grab the handle and open it.

Look: the first thing you see inside the house is a large, bright space. Mentally imagine how you take a step there, and all the sounds and images of the material world are relegated to the background. You are in the house of your Soul. The situation there may be different. But you know for sure that when you look at an object, it is familiar to you. You've seen it thousands of times, but you don't remember where or when. Look around.

Now look at the middle of the room. All actions in the Spiritual world are performed with the help of visualization. Mentally imagine a table in the middle of the room. On which stands - in the middle of the table - a large bowl. It may look like the Holy Grail or a simple cup from which you eat your daily lunch. It doesn't matter. Imagine the vessel that will represent for you the Cup of Plenty. Picture it in your imagination. Imagine that there is only a Cup on this table.

Now mentally address Ganesha with these words: “Ganesha, the embodied Spirit in the subtle world of Light, which is located at the core of our Galaxy. I turn to your Spirit. I thank you for this practice. I send you the Light of my Love. I ask you to strengthen the energy of my desires and help me realize them in my world. For my spiritual evolution and helping others.”

Now that you have addressed it, look ahead. He may appear in different guises. Greet him. He is ready to help you. He split into dozens of phantoms to be with each of you in your room. Greet him in your own words. Mentally direct the Light of Love towards him. Look how he rejoices and sends Light back to you! As soon as he sent you the Light, you received a blessing to replenish the Cup of abundance with your desires.

Say: “Thank you and accept. Love and blessings. I promise to direct the power given to me to materialize my bright desires.” Now mentally turn to the bowl. Imagine placing your right hand on your chest, on your spiritual heart. And imagine that you are taking out the image of your first desire from your spiritual heart. The most important thing for you. What you think, once you receive it, you will be happy and harmonious. Hold this image or this symbol in your palm. Look at it from all sides. Extend your left hand, take a slow deep breath and, as you exhale, direct the Light from your right and left hands through the center of your palm into this image.

Fill your desire with Light. Fill it with your strength. See how it grows and glows. Now mentally say: “With gratitude and faith, I release this desire into God’s hands, to the will of my Heavenly Father.” And put it in the bowl. Listen to your feelings. You have surrendered your desire to the will of Heavenly Father, which means that you will accept any result because you know that it will be useful for you and your development.

It is very important to let go of your desires and be able to accept what is given from God. Great! This is an expression of the prayer of Christ that he prayed before his crucifixion, so that the will was not his, but his Father's. Yes, it was not easy for him to decide on this, because this was not his desire. He, like us, was also a man and experienced pain. We have now actually done the same thing as him. You experience his sense of trust in his Father to fulfill his desire.

Now we slowly pull our hand back and place it on our heart. Let's think about the second wish. Mentally imagine that we are taking it out of our hearts and examining it. This desire is also very important. You carried it in your heart for a long, long time. Look at it from all sides. Fill with your Light, also take a breath, it is easier to do this while exhaling. And as you exhale, direct a ray of Light through the center of your palm. Fill this desire. It increases in size. I see that many people, and I also have the feeling that Ganesha also fills us with Light. Indeed, he sees him and greets him.

Fine. Now say: “With gratitude and faith, I place this desire in the hands of God. Let His good and perfect will be done.” Place this wish in the bowl. Realize that you are transferring through the cup into the hands of God. Great! Listen to your feelings. You trusted God to fulfill your second wish. This does not mean that you have completely withdrawn from the effort of fulfilling it. But this means that you are ready for any changes, for any new ideas for making your desires come true. This is God's help.

Now mentally imagine that you place your right palm on your heart and take out the third wish from there. Usually the most secret thing. Perhaps, which you hid from yourself. Maybe you didn’t even expect from yourself that you wanted this? Because during the process of performing the exercise, by the way, desires may change.

Look, what is this? Consider all the details of this image or symbol. Does everything suit you in this desire? And ask yourself, is this what you really want? If you have any doubts, you can improve this image and add new features to it. Now you are God, king and master there - in this space, above this image. Create your reality. The reality of the Spiritual world in which you are now creates material reality.

Realize this, realize your responsibility for every thought. She truly changes worlds. Great! Now mentally say: “With love, faith and gratitude, I place this desire in the hands of God. My beloved Heavenly Father." Place it in the bowl and say: “The bright field and the Love of my Heavenly Father are omnipotent. I am His part. I am the ray of His heart." Feel like a ray of very bright Sun. This is the heart of God. Great! Now you feel that you will fulfill these desires in union with Him. And He is in union with you. This is called “cooperation in the Light.”

Now approach the bowl and look into it. You see liquid there of different colors. It can be completely different. And there may be different quantities. But there is a power there - in the form of this liquid that you need to take into yourself. So that you have willpower, the power of consciousness and emotions, and the power of your spiritual heart to materialize these desires onto the physical plane.

Mentally imagine yourself reaching out with two hands and taking the cup. Feel how it feels to the touch. Pick her up. Look at this liquid. And while you hold it in your hands, mentally say: “My Heavenly Father, I thank You for this incarnation. I thank You for the ability to desire, feel and act in this world. I thank You for the opportunity to speak with You. With love and gratitude, I accept Your Light of Love in this bowl and direct it to the realization of my desires through all the energy centers of my body.”

Now mentally drink the cup - imagine that you are drinking what is there. You have to drink everything in there. You may taste different. And put the bowl back on the table. Mentally imagine that you are giving thanks. Make a slight bow to Ganesha and Heavenly Father as a sign of Love and reverence. It's like recognizing yourself as a part before the whole. Feel that from this movement the energy of the Light that you have accepted spreads throughout your body.

You can ask something in your own words from the Higher Self, from Ganesha or from God, the Heavenly Father. You can tell them something that you want. Feel what has changed in you. Remember this state and remember what this cup and these desires looked like. Now remember that by your actions to achieve this desire you will manifest this Light.

Great! Now mentally say: “I thank my Higher Self for this practice. I thank my supervisors and mentors for their help. I thank the Soul - the guide for the words of Light and goodness. I thank each participant for strengthening the energy potential in our space. I thank everyone, I send everyone the Light of my Love."

Now I will count from 1 to 5. When I say 5, you will return to your normal state of consciousness and fully connect with your bodies. One two three four five. Open your eyes. Inhale and exhale. Like this.

25:40 Reactions of participants in the "Cup of Abundance" meditation.

Irina: How are you, Masha?

Maria: Incomparable meditation, practice! There are so many images (even unexpected ones for me) that I did not plan to imagine or imagine. But I feel how the space works.

Irina: Yes, I saw it. You have gone to the Spiritual world.

Maria: Yes, how our mentors, our Angels, our helpers from all worlds work.

Irina: Dear friends, write, how do you like it? How did you feel? How do you feel, impressions?

Maria: You can chat.

Irina: I love you too. So, dear friends. Everyone has already put their wishes in the cup, everyone has drunk.

What kind of fluid did you have?

Maria: My liquid was a very interesting color. There were gold, purple, and pink colors.

Irina: Yes, there are different ones.

Maria: Then it turned into our Milky Way galaxy. Then I saw that it was a dark purple space.

Irina: Even, you see, the block has been worked through.

Yes, this is such a powerful meditation. What do you think, Masha, should we post it on the Meditations channel?

Maria: Definitely. You know, in fact, any meditation is joint, when we put our energies together on such elevated feelings, in such an elevated state - we actually change not only our reality, not only our own life, but everything around us. This means the entire universe.

Irina: Yes. Our curators were there too. They also imagined, sent Light.

Maria: In fact, this is a very valuable practice, a very valuable type of work with ourselves and with all the space around us.

Irina: “Ira, you are simply Light.” Thank you for such words.

Maria: I can imagine now the state people are in.

Irina: Vibrations. Is your condition different too?

Maria: Of course, it’s different. Already during our meeting, during our conversation, the situation changed. I think it changed for everyone. After this meditation, we, as they say, harmonized everything - all our energies.

Irina: Yes, you communicated with Ganesha, you communicated with Heavenly Father. And the house where you were was the house of your Soul. You were in the Spiritual World.

Maria: I thank Irina, I thank our curators, I thank Ganesha. We will be glad to see you again in our project.

Irina: Thank you. I felt all your energies. I felt how at the end you all merged into a single image. And such a round dance came out of energies.

Maria: Great!

Irina: You are the Light. You are the Light.

29:11 The spiritual meaning of the fairy tale “The Snow Queen”.

Irina: You wrote: “I am Light.” Each of you is Light. Believe in yourself, believe in your Light. And try to see in each person the Light that you now see in me, in yourself, in each of us. And even if this person is negatively inclined, it is still there, it’s just hidden. Try to melt the ice of his heart with words filled with Love and acceptance, as Gerda did. Remember, right? With the boy Kai.

The fairy tale is just about connecting with the Higher Self. You can read it. The Snow Queen, snow is a symbol of low vibrations. This is precisely a symbol of materialistic, selfish motives that create ice in our hearts. So, if you meet such a Kai in your life, be Gerda. Be a spiritual sister, a spiritual brother, and not an opponent or critic who tries to put a person in his place. He’s already in his place, he doesn’t feel good there. Just send Light, Love, acceptance. Explain to a person the spiritual laws that he knows but has forgotten.

I send you the Light of my Love.

Maria: Thank you, friends. Thank you Irochka! See you again in the vastness of our Cassiopeia Project!

Irina: See you again!

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Maria: Friends, good evening everyone! I am glad to welcome you to a meeting with Irina and our dear curators at the Sacral School of the Cassiopeia project. And today, as always, all our questions are devoted to our spiritual development: how we, together with you, all together in the Cassiopeia project and in our everyday life, can develop spiritually and help others in this. Good evening everyone! Irochka, I greet you!

Irina: Good evening, greetings everyone! Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. And today our curators are present at the meeting with us - not only mine, but our entire project, specially allocated from the Interstellar Union for the Cassiopeia project. This is MidgasKaus, who is our biologist, psychologist from the planet Esler, and LiShioni, a specialist in astral interactions, from the planet Shimor. They now also welcome and congratulate everyone on the successful progress of the project. And now they tell me that thanks to this project and thanks to the questions asked by our viewers, subscribers, people who came to the project as students, asked questions - thanks to these questions to specialists from other planets, this also stimulated them to study many things . To answer the question, they looked into the databases, and this helped them a lot in their personal development.

02:22 Spiritual problems of humanoids of the Interstellar Union. Methods of work of aliens with spiritual tasks.

Maria: Great, we are very happy! Before I start reading out the questions from our friends, our participants, I have the following question for LiSioni and Mead: please tell me, what spiritual problems do the inhabitants of the Interstellar Union face, what do they have to work on?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) We don’t call these problems, these are not so much unlearned lessons, but as tasks. The problems are the same as yours, they come from past incarnations: those qualities that need to be strengthened or reduced in yourself in order to increase your spiritual level. This is what we are taught from childhood. Recognize your true desires, your true goals. It’s your goals, not someone else’s! And harmoniously, in alliance with the forces of the Universe, go towards their materialization for the purpose of growing oneself in Love and the purpose of sharing with others.

Maria: For example, it seems to us that such qualities as greed, deceit, and envy do not exist in your civilizations.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) What you named is only a consequence of deeper violations that were not noticed in time. For example, what you called greed and deceit are types of fears. This is what we call fears of losing something, or not achieving one's goals, or being misunderstood. For example, lying is often caused by the fear of being misunderstood or rejected. Greed is often generated by the fear of not being a happy, self-sufficient person in material terms.

Maria: Do highly developed civilizations also have such qualities?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) There are no such people, or rather, we are doing everything to prevent their development. But, naturally, since we even have a planet of criminals, we also have criminals. As they say, this is the choice of every humanoid. But our lives are structured in such a way that in families, and then in schools, we teach our children how to work correctly with their fears so that they do not interfere with spiritual development. I want to say now that all Spirits have fear as a reaction to a certain environment and a certain internal state. This is an innate emotional quality. And if you don't work with it, don't harmonize this fear, then it can develop into such forms of manifestation in the material world as you just named.

Maria: If they manifest themselves, then the people around them already have enough awareness and understanding of this situation and the reasons for this manifestation that they immediately react correctly to it and help to cope with it, did I understand correctly?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes. We give to our children, and in our society there is also special knowledge, access to knowledge that will help to recognize this in ourselves and harmonize it in time to turn it into Light. We do not remove any quality from character, but transform it. If you remove some feeling, some emotion, then, in fact, this cannot be done for a long time; it will be developed again (this emotion). And even if you constantly cleanse your astral body and emotional field from negative emotions, it will be ineffective without deep transformations in the spiritual heart.

And in order to work with it, we teach you to meditate (shows), communicate with the Higher Self, analyze your emotions, for example, a diary of emotions helps with this. This is one of the tools. The second tool is communication with the Higher Self. And the third tool is communication with your physical body and understanding its needs, and feeling, sensing its needs, which it cannot do without. And the fourth tool is a source of knowledge about how to distinguish your spiritual desires from your instincts, how to prioritize the former over the latter.

This helps to reduce fears, which means there is less likelihood of the emergence of those already developed passions that you named.

08:10 Will of the Spirit. Types of activity of the Spirit. The role of the priorities of the Spirit.

Maria: Thank you very much, very good advice. I hope we will have enough willpower to apply them, to use them in everyday life.

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Willpower. In fact, Spirits, any Spirits embodied in any bodies, are divine beings who are endowed with active force, active energy, and this energy is called will. Absolutely all Spirits have will. And in fact, they are not inactive: inactivity in the Spiritual world is destruction. That is, the Spirit that does not strive for activity, it destroys itself, it is like a black hole (shows). Any Spirit - whether light, as you say, or dark - strives for activity.

Any thought is called the activity of the Spirit. This is the activity of the mind, the mind.

Any fantasy is an activity of the imagination.

Recollection is the activity of memory.

Thought is the action of thinking, these are all the abilities of the mind.

Feelings and desires are the activity of the heart.

The activity of energies invested by the Spirit is emotions, will and consciousness. This is also an activity manifested at different levels simultaneously in the spiritual heart and in the mind.

And the activity of the body is only a reflection of the activity that is located in the deep layers of the psyche, the subconscious. We simply call this by other terms, but they are identical.

That is, everyone has willpower. And for it to be beneficial for spiritual development, it must be directed with the help of attitudes that make spiritual development a priority. It is to perform certain practices.

Some people simply find it easier to conduct material activities, and their will is directed there. Why? Because they have such a priority. As soon as the priority of thinking, which depends on memory settings, changes, feelings change, all reactions change: reactions to what is happening, reactions to perceived objects, and, accordingly, behavior changes. So, in order for there to be enough will, there will always be enough of it, the main thing is to direct it.

11:45 Self-awareness of the Spirit. The first emotional reaction of the born Spirit.

Maria: Yes, this is a very important step on the path of spiritual development - directing your will. In our conversation we touched upon the Spiritual World of Intelligent Spirits, and we have an interesting question from one of the masters of our School, Oksana. She is a master of neurography. She asked such an interesting question: does the Spirit itself make the decision to incarnate? At his very first incarnation, does he have self-awareness?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Yes, self-awareness appears in him after birth in the Spiritual World. He immediately appears self-aware. The moment consciousness appears is the moment of separation. Not like separation (in Russian this is an incorrect term) - separation not in the sense of leaving, separation in the sense of encapsulation into a separate Spirit from the Divine Light. That is, this is the creation of an entity. And although this essence remains in the flow of Divine light, it already realizes itself as separate from it. It's about the same as in the ocean (shows). But not even in the ocean, but in the river, because it is a stream: in the river, one of a million drops built very thin walls for itself, and consciousness arose inside it, in the middle.

No, not at the 24th level, they can be born at any level: from the 24th to the first, because the Divine Light passes through all levels, without it the existence of Spirits is impossible. And at any level this consciousness can manifest itself for the first time.

Why does this depend? From the first impulse (as they explained to me) in relation to God - from the first impulse of this consciousness. Either it is more aimed at Love and acceptance of this world (Spiritual in this case, where the creature appears), or at some kind of fear, rejection, and then it manifests itself on a different level. But what exactly the Spirit determines when manifesting its first emotional reaction is already considered in its will, because the will is already manifested in this case.

Maria: How information.

Irina: Yes, but we can describe objects in the Spiritual world only roughly, because we now use material words that were invented in the material world and explain material phenomena. Therefore, what happens in the Spiritual world is actually much simpler and more complex at the same time. There, as you remember, there is no time, and when the Spirit appears, without even going through a single incarnation, but all its incarnations already exist in the Spiritual world, and moreover, all the variants.

Yes, they have that there.

Maria: Yes, this is a completely new area of knowledge for us. We encountered it only within the framework of religious teachings, so what you tell and convey is very valuable. I think this resonates more with modern people than religious teachings. From the Spiritual world we move on to nails.

15:55 Practice standing on nails.

Maria: How does standing on nails work on the energetic plane? And is it possible to stand, and what happens during this process? Who should do this and who shouldn't?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) This strengthens faith in yourself, in the strength of your body, your energy. And due to this faith, it enhances the energy of the etheric body, expands (shows) the etheric field.

But this will only be safe if a person trusts this process, he has no fears, because the mechanics of standing on nails in themselves are safe. It is only safe if a person stands on the nails with all the weight of his body: he distributes the weight of his body, and injuries are impossible there. Although the sensations (shows) will be quite painful. This is from pressure on certain points, which, by the way, activate nerves throughout the body - due to the reflex stimulation of all nerve points, which allows us to activate metabolism and release pleasure hormones, for example, if we look at the physical plane. These nerve nodes are located in different organs. By activating the metabolism in them, we help fight various inflammatory diseases, allergic and others.

But, if a person doubts, he will automatically, when standing on these nails, try to stand not with his entire foot. Then injuries are possible. The body weight will press down, and if it does not place the entire foot, it will not be distributed over the nails, and a negative experience is possible.

So this practice is only possible with trust and understanding of this process, with the supervision and assistance of an experienced instructor who will help if anything happens. He will show by example and support this person who is doing this for the first time.

Maria: Thank you. We know a more gentle option, like the Kuznetsov applicator. I think many have heard about him; you can lean your whole back on him. Also a very useful practice.

Irina: Yes. We have massage and acupressure.

Maria: Yes, acupressure.

19:15 Experience of meditation “Cup of abundance” with Ganesha.

Maria: Ira, I have an interesting question for you from the master of our project, a wonderful yoga instructor - Firuza from Germany, my fellow countrywoman, tell me a little about the meditation of the Cup of Abundance with Ganesha, you mentioned this practice.

Irina: I saw her off in Abkhazia, Ganesha was there. He is now a plasmoid, incarnated above the thirtieth density level (I don't remember where now). We were in contact, he came to me when I was at a session with Gulya. I stayed for a session with Gulya and went to the Astral. And first they took me to the Pleiades, as always, and then to him. He suggested that I do meditation.

I did it the very next day, when we gathered for practice with those people who were at the retreat. The gist of it was that Ganesha came and told me what to present to people.

What I remember there: we imagined a door in front of us, we entered the door into our room (into the room of our Soul), we imagined the situation there, what it looked like. In the middle they imagined a table - I'll tell you briefly now - and that there was a bowl on it. All our desires exist in the cup - inside it. Everyone had their own idea of what she looked like. And this is the Cup of abundance.

Then we imagined that we had three desires (traditionally - a trinity, the trinity of God). Trinity is a universal code of activity, activity in the Universe. And we represented three wishes in the form of some symbols. For example, if it is love, then these are hearts, if it is money, then these are coins. We hold it in our hands and put it in a bowl. The moment we hold it in our hands, we fill it with Light. When we put it in the bowl, they said: "With love I release this desire, and I ask all the Light forces to help in its materialization for the purpose of my evolution and helping others."

Approximately now I'm speaking the text. When three wishes were placed there, they watched what happened to the bowl. Almost everyone saw that it was starting to glow, or that a beam was coming from above. At the end of the meditation, people mentally extended their hands, took the bowl and looked into it. The liquid that was there - it was of different colors - they drank. This is how they received the power to materialize their desires.

I told this, People sat (this is done while sitting), and they imagined it. Then they thanked their Higher Self for their help, their curators, and Ganesha. This was meditation.

So I'm thinking, perhaps, we should host it?

Maria: Of course. Wonderful meditation!

Irina: What do you think, dear friends, write, should it be held with us?

Maria: Of course, with pleasure, let's do it. Tell us a little about the mechanism. Are these plasmoid civilizations helping, including with their energies, in the same way as fire plasmoids help with Zoroastrian practices?

Irina: Yes, plasmoid civilizations help. But, in addition to being a plasmoid, he is also a Spirit from a high level of the Spiritual World.

What does this Cup of abundance give? He told me: it gives us strengthening of our energies, strengthening of our faith and hope and the Light of Love in the direction of the fulfillment of this desire. The only thing I warned you about during meditation was that you would need to present your three most important desires in the form of symbols. We talked a little about symbols, about what can symbolize what. They asked me questions, for example: "What if I want to find my love?"

The fact that you encountered this in another School is, of course, also very interesting. He probably conveyed it not only to me, I already suspected it. But, of course, I am not surprised by this: Ganesha has a lot of contacts, he could convey this meditation to many and said that it is widespread on Earth. This means that he passed it on through others.

It would also be interesting to see how they accepted and how they carried out the meditation: are there any differences? Of course, they should be, because each contactee accepts at the level of his symbols, awareness at the current moment in time, and of course, his vocabulary. It’s even interesting how this happened through another person.

Maria: Of course, we are all individual, we have unique individual energies. I think everyone agrees. I'm already seeing a lot of positive reactions. And Feruzochka would be very happy too.

Irina: I’ll probably hold it on the Meditation channel, but not this time. Have any of you been to my meditations when I conduct them on the Meditation channel?

Maria: Yes.

Irina: Now I’ve done the “Purple Heart” meditation plus “Filling the Earth” twice. I'll do it next Friday, just in a week. I’ll do it one more time (we do it three times), and then we’ll probably start this one.

Maria: Yes, with pleasure! Maybe today at the end of our meeting?

Irina: If you want, I can do it today. It's not difficult for me.

Maria: With great pleasure! You know what wonderful meditations and prayers we have at our meetings with you. It's just fabulous!

26:29 Formation of power units. Prevention of blocks and diary of emotions on Esler.

Participant: I have a long question, I’ll just read it out, and you’ll probably answer what’s possible. So it will be convenient, Irina, MidgasCaus or LiShioni?

Irina: Let's go. Let's read, if I make it more specific, they are here in astral bodies. For them, the more specific the better.

Participant: Okay. I was selective then. Basically, when people want to go to the Higher Self, they have energy blocks. Here on Earth they are divided into blocks of the eye, jaw, throat, thoracic, diaphragmatic, abdominal, pelvic and supporting systems.

And in this regard, I have the following questions. How do they cope with emotions on other planets (you have already partially answered a little)? Do energy blocks form in their body from unlived emotions (because they do form here on Earth)? Accordingly, are they forming such power units?

Irina: We have a special program. Our education program has already included a system of psychological prevention to prevent these blocks from forming.

Of course, if we don't work with ourselves, we are embodied Spirits, and we can also lower our vibrations, just like you. You on Earth can raise your vibrations, and there were even cases when, for example, the Spirit incarnated from the 5th level or from the 3rd and went to the 16th, as, for example, happened with the spirit of Nicholas II - this is very a strong increase in vibrations on Earth. But it happens that it's the other way around, as happened with Lenin: he went from level 18 to level 5. This is a decrease in vibrations, and a decrease in vibrations cannot happen without blocks. And there cannot be an increase in vibrations without dissolving those blocks that already exist.

Of course, if we don't work on ourselves and simply react instinctively to all stimuli, develop selfishness and materialism in ourselves, then we will also accumulate blocks in ourselves, which will then fence us off from the Higher Self. We will no longer believe in it and will not we will feel it.

Participant: How do they track and diagnose this? Can you have any example? Or how is it included in the prevention program?

Irina: What exactly is diagnosed in a humanoid who does not communicate?

Participant: At myself, because this is the basis. Every person wants to help himself, both first and foremost. In order to contact the Higher Self, and to better understand yourself and track your emotions. Do they have such tracking, some kind of diagnostics? How do they do it? Can you give me some example?

Irina: Blocks are emotions deposited in the etheric field, that is, they have moved from the astral level to the etheric level of energy. And these emotions are negative. Positive emotions, positive emotions do not form blocks; on the contrary, they strengthen the astral body.

The same thing happens with feelings - with feelings that are in the spiritual heart. By experiencing them (either positive or negative), a person, if they are positive, strengthens his astral body, if they are negative, then he reduces it in size, and it is oppressed. Blocks are formed there and move to the etheric level. Why? Because a person spends energy experiencing this emotion or this feeling.

Of course, if this person or this humanoid, one might say, quite often or constantly experiences negative emotions, he can already assume, especially if they are on the same topic: the topic acts as a kind of trigger for the presence of blocks. If under the same circumstances, the same external stimuli, the same - I now emphasize - negative emotions appear! We consider negative emotions: fear, irritation, anger, despondency, hatred. If these feelings and emotions manifest themselves in the same situation or arise spontaneously, but with the memory of some situation, or with some other irritant, then this means that this Spirit has formed a block on this topic.

For example, I will now give a simple example. For example, if two people are communicating (now I will talk about people). One person annoys another with something. At first he gets annoyed and tries to fix something. Irritation is an emotion aimed at correcting that person. If this does not work out, then the person already develops a feeling of resentment or even, if it is strong anger, a feeling of hatred. Resentment and hatred are close in strength of manifestation. If this has already been formed, and a block of these feelings and emotions has formed, then the person begins to be irritated by the presence of another person for no reason.

Participant: It no longer tracks, it just turns on automatically as soon as it appears.

Irina: That is, it is the block itself that begins to manifest itself in his presence. You call this “larva formation.” Lyarva is a word that denotes a pseudo-living entity, but it does not have a soul, but it is like a robot. And it is inside a block because it is created as a program to perform a task that is nested in this block. And it was created by you, that is, by the people themselves or humanoids. If he creates this, if he doesn’t track it in time, doesn’t work through his emotions and experiences them often, naturally, blocks will form in his chakras. But we have many tools to prevent its formation at the initial stage.

Participant: Which ones, as an example?

Irina: This is, for example, tracking emotions.

Participant: Are they tracking? Is it fixation in the moment, or are they taught to track these emotions? That is, as a practice, prevention at school?

Irina: They write it down, keep an emotional diary.

Participant: How do they keep this emotional diary? These are daily entries, do they have some kind of template?

Irina: This is a diary, but it is not paper, but electronic, like a notebook, so to speak, and which the Spirit, embodied in an Eslerite, has constantly carried with him since childhood. And as soon as he experiences some strong emotion (at first a person pays attention, especially a child, to strong emotions - both positive and negative), he simply experiences it - takes out this diary when he has such an opportunity to record the emotion. There is the ability to write in letters, print, and there is the ability to speak in text.

Participant: Voice, like in Telegram?

Irina: These records appear there, and they remain forever. What is very important is that even for a primary school student this diary is closed. We can say that he has been assigned a password that the child himself knows, and parents do not have the right to look at this diary without it.

Participant: Cool!

Irina: It is believed that otherwise he will not be able to display his emotions correctly if he knows that someone has access there.

Participant: Well, yes, he won't be able to be frank with himself.

Irina: For example, how he writes. If we now transfer to earthly reality: "I was walking down the street, a dog barked behind the fence, I got scared and crossed to the other side of the road." And further he writes: "I was afraid that she would jump out and bite me. Why was I scared? Because I was afraid that I would get hurt." This is the fear of pain. And then he writes, only later, when he leaves there: "At that moment I did not realize that the fence separated me from this dog, because I was focused on her barking, and I did not turn on the thinking at that moment to evaluate, that it is safe, but instinct has kicked in." Something like this, and you know, this is how you can describe any emotion.

Participant: Very good example!

Irina: Can you imagine, if you have ten to eleven grades in your school, imagine: a child has been keeping this diary for eleven years! Is this how he will grow up?

Participant: Emotionally mature.

Irina: Different from modern people?

Participant: Very, very, it would be great if someone created such diaries for us.

Irina: What do you think, if such a generation grows up on this program, what will humanity be like?

Participant: More pure and bright, conscious.

Irina: Yes. It will be difficult to form blocks. Moreover, it is recommended to periodically read and review this diary. Because when a person reads (if we now take earthly reality) once a month or once a week - whoever has what opportunities - he begins to see. If small blocks are already formed, then he sees that these emotional situations begin to repeat themselves. Emotions begin to repeat themselves in the same situations. And he is already working with it.

38:03 Perception by the Spirit of the tasks of incarnation from the Spiritual world.

Participant: Next question to this. Does the soul choose in advance situations in life that will cause certain emotions? Like the impossibility, say, of coping with them, and the fact that they will settle in the body? Or that the experience will be a positive lesson? Does the soul choose in advance these states, situations that will cause these emotions?

Irina: When we choose incarnation in the Spiritual world, everything from there seems completely simple to us: “Now I will come, do my job and return to the Spiritual world with different qualities on a different level.” As much as I talked with the Spirits, no one planned any evil for themselves, any blocks. Everyone is optimistic. Everyone thought they could handle it. All Spirits understand perfectly well - I’ll just say right away - and they know (they are warned about this) that memory will be blocked (including about life in the Spiritual World), they know the reason for this blocking.

But they are in the Spiritual world in connection with their Higher Self, in unity with their Light, and this means in unity with God at the level for which they are ready (it is different for everyone). When we say “in unity with God,” we must understand that at each level, unity with God is experienced differently depending on what these Spirits are ready for, how they have prepared themselves. Each level is only a reflection of the preparation of Spirits to perceive the Divine Light.

Participant: Can you clarify? Do they prepare with mentors or do they imagine what their life will be like?

Irina: They present themselves, and mentors help them with this, if they ask, of course. It should be their will that mentors help them.

And when they are in connection with God at the level that they are at, they have little idea of what memory blocking actually is. They know this theoretically. They remember those incarnations that have already passed, that their memory was blocked. But again, they remember this in a state of unity with themselves.

And this state of unity changes their perception of the past. You could say even their memory. They change in such a way that the Spirits believe that they made all the mistakes not because they lost contact with the Higher Self or something else, but because this was their path at that time. They begin to reconsider their actions, their Timeline, and see the options for the development of events that would have happened if they had acted differently.

If they are at lower levels, for example, they may regret not having completed their task, they may become despondent. But all the same, when they are preparing the next incarnation, they think: “But now, even though my memory will be erased, inside myself I will still remember who I am, it is impossible to forget.” Everyone there thinks it is impossible to forget.

Participant: Yes, I can imagine how they face reality! Like ourselves, each of us who chose this incarnation.

Irina: You, too, were once in the Spiritual World, you will simply remember this Light, remember that you feel like a ball the size of your house, and it glows. Everyone has such a memory within him. And you will remember: you could not imagine how you would feel in the body. Could you imagine this?

Participant: Shackled in this small box.

Irina: Tell me, how does it feel already?

Participant: It’s like in the cartoon about Carlson: “Should we stuff you into this little box?” And he: “Nothing will work!”

Irina: Yes, how they pushed you! You see, you already remember this feeling. Is it possible there to believe that you will not complete your task?! There you feel omnipotent, omnipotent, and the more you feel omnipotent, the closer you are to God, the closer you are to perceiving God as the highest level.

43:19 Prevention of diseases associated with power units at Esler.

Participant: I have two more questions left, I really want to ask them too. What diseases do they have associated with negative emotions? We have a gradation of blocks: eye, jaw, throat, thoracic, diaphragmatic, abdominal, pelvic and supporting systems. Do they have such gradations?

If, for example, they have not lived through this emotion, does it remain with them, and is it associated with some kind of disease? Or are there no diseases as such, because they are working through it all?

Irina: We have disease prevention, which is also related to monitoring the possibility of block formation, as I already said. We still have conversations with the body. Such practices are taught. At school, children have a subject that can be roughly translated into Russian as “The Theory of the Safety of the Spirit in the Body.” It's about safe, harmonious living in the body. Using it as a tool for your spiritual growth.

In this subject, children are taught how to harmonize with their body, how to love it, how to perceive it as their favorite temple, how to treat it correctly. Loving does not mean indulging its desires so that it destroys itself. This is not Love, this is actually hatred of your body. But in order to recognize the true desires of the body, you need to communicate with it.

Participant: Can you give me some examples?

Irina: Practice, yes, I remember. I also had practice at a session with Ilya at the Mental Healing school. We sat down, this was also a type of meditation. We talked, filled ourselves with Light, sent Light from our feet to our heads, thanked each organ for its work, sent it the Light of Love, asked it to rest, relax. And then we asked if there was that organ in the body that wanted to talk to me.

And the Higher Self, which also controls all organs through instinctive programs, was included through the organs. For example, some organ responded and said that “I want to talk to you.” The man began to communicate. That is if there were no problems.

And if there were any health problems, then in this state you can ask a question specifically to the organ that has the problems: what caused them - this or that disease, what do you want to teach me, what do you want to show me, can I heal you , can I restore all your cells? These are the questions. We are also taught this from childhood, this is one of the subjects.

Participant: Cool! We need to create such a doctrine here. Anyone want one? I want!

Irina: Dear friends, just imagine: your children or grandchildren came from school and said: “Mom, or dad, or grandma, and we studied how to talk to your body.” I wonder what you will answer him?

Participant: It’s special here, yes! I know some who have a good attitude towards esotericism. And to everything unearthly, this is where the installations come in!

47:06 Constructive response to negativity. The spiritual essence of theft.

Participant: Last question. When some kind of negative experience comes, how much does it come for work on these planets? And how do they work through this negative experience: they teach them to work through it too, additionally prepare them for the fact that there may be some kind of negative experience and you will encounter it, how to react to it? And the recommendations that you will give to earthlings today.

Irina: There is no negative experience, there is only a negative reaction - negative or positive reactions. Because a negative experience is negative only in perception. And if we look from the point of view of the Universe, from the point of view of the Universe, the Spiritual world, and especially God, we see that any experience is neutral. He is called to develop the Spirit, that is, to develop some qualities in himself in the mind, in the spiritual heart, in the energies of the Spirit, or to raise his vibrations, that is, to take low qualities and transform them into high ones.

Participant: They don't think so? In our country, people sometimes think: “It was a negative experience that happened to me.” Do they not have this understanding as such?

Irina: Give an example, what experience was negative for you?

Participant: I understand. Let’s say a negative experience: something was stolen from a person.

Irina: What was stolen?

Participant: Let's say, money, documents.

Irina: I see. If stolen, this experience can be perceived in different ways. If you have a negative attitude, it means first: to show pity for yourself that you suffered, and second: to show resentment towards the one who did this. This is a destructive path that leads to the creation of blocks. Why? Because what happened cannot be undone. You can, of course, cancel it, for example, catch this thief, but this can be done with other emotions. These emotions themselves destroy the aura, destroy the body more than this damage that the thief created.

What constructive reaction will there be in this case, what constructive understanding, if we look from the point of view of the Spiritual world? One incarnate Spirit took something from another without his desire to give it back, that is, he showed violence.

The one who showed violence, aggression, in order to fulfill his goals, he actually lowered his vibrations. And the already formed bloc certainly led him to this. Because of this block, he does not feel connected to the Higher Self. If he felt connected to the Higher Self, he would feel oneness with everything that exists. And for him to steal from another person would be the same as stealing from himself. Because this person would feel, for example, you as his mother or his sister, or his relative. You wouldn't steal from your mother. Precisely because he had already isolated himself from the Higher Self with these blocks of his, which had already been created in him much earlier, he stopped feeling unity with all people in the spirit of the Divine Light, and committed this crime.

Crime - he has transgressed, transgressed the Divine Law because he does not feel it in his heart. For those who do not feel the Law in their hearts, there is a state law, which, to one degree or another, depending on the awareness of the legislators, reflects the Divine Law. But in any case, what should be the reaction? I am now explaining the reason for the theft. This is his unawareness, isolation from the Higher Self, his blocks.

But a conscious Spirit who has been stolen, he understands perfectly well that the thief’s isolation from the Higher Self leads to suffering, leads to illnesses - not only physical, but also spiritual, mental, spiritual illnesses, lowering of vibrations. And that with each act of theft, he strengthens his block, convinces himself that it is possible to do this, that it is good. He lulls his conscience. And conscience is also a type of communication with the Higher Self. It moves further and further away from the Higher Self, strengthening this wall more and more firmly.

What's constructive? How, for example, would an Eslerite feel in this situation? He would feel compassion for the thief, firstly, as a Spirit, because he has Love for everyone. And Love for the Spirit that is embodied in this thief, it would manifest itself in him as compassion, sympathy and a desire to help get out of these vibrations.

How can he help in this case, if he was stolen, how can he help? True Love tells him that if he does not stop (if this is, of course, possible), the action of this thief in any way, as is customary in his state, then he will strengthen this Spirit that it is possible to do this. This will further reduce its vibrations.

Is he answering clearly now?

Participant: Yes, yes.

Irina: He will do all the necessary actions: if this happens in your world, he will write a statement to the police (if, of course, the damage to him is significant). In order not to punish the thief, but at least to show him that he committed a crime and moved away from God. If the victim does not do this, then the thief may commit a greater crime next time. Because he will convince himself that since society does not react to his such action, it means that it is part of the norm for him. This will no longer be Love for the Spirit, this will not be true Love. True Love will be helping this Spirit.

Participant: Suspend impunity if there is evidence.

Irina: There should be no impunity, but at the same time there should be no internal resentment. Even if he wrote a statement, and even if the criminal is tried.

For example, (shows) first the victim works on himself. If he doesn't know who did it, he simply sends the Light of his Love, forgives: "I forgive you, I send you the Light of my Love." He is always ready for reconciliation in case this thief suddenly feels repentance, repentance (and this is a type of connection with his Higher Self in the form of awareness of a negative behavior scenario). And this will be a step up for this person; without it, he cannot realize what he did wrong. It's bad again regarding his spiritual development, because he himself may think that this is good.

We are now returning again to the relativity of moral norms. But in any case, if you look from the point of view of the Divine Light, which loves both the thief and the one from whom he stole, then this action is not harmonious, it leads to a decrease in vibrations.

What other consequences do theft have? The consequences of theft are that the one who stole loses a certain amount of his life force, equivalent to the value of the stolen property. He leaves it, it is sent to the owner of this thing. And since this all happens at the energy level, he then feels a strong loss of strength, but not everyone correctly explains the reason for this to themselves.

It is actually impossible to steal anything in the Universe - neither money nor things. You cannot lure someone out by deception - what you call “fraud”, “quackery”. There are scammers who do not steal directly, but introduce themselves as some people or a person who knows something, is able, or has some skills. And the person himself gives them the money because he trusts them - by abusing his trust. This is also a type of theft. But in fact, this money that he gave, he gave it away, but acquired the vital energy of this person. If he forgives him and sends him the Light of Love, then he will take this vital energy into himself. If he gets offended, he will push her away.

But the thief will lose it in any case, equivalent to the embezzled amount. Money is a type of energy, it is a type of material energy that is equivalent to human labor, in this case. Labor, any labor, any work in our material world is valued in monetary terms. Energy is wasted on this work. This energy is equivalent to what he stole directly (for example, theft), secret theft or open theft (in case of abuse of trust, when a person himself gives money, thinking that it is for a service, but receives nothing). For a thief, or a swindler, or a charlatan, a deceiver in terms of money, this can manifest itself not only in the loss of vitality, but also, for example, in the loss of physical energy, that is, in the form of health. It can happen in the form of loss of finances: they may steal from him, or something may break.

And not only him. If he has children under 14 years of age who are energetically connected to him, he shares this damage equally with them. They are in the same aura with him until he is 14 years old.

Irina: Yes, it can affect them too. For example, they may get sick or lose something. If a person realizes why this happened and returns this damage, then the fact that he realized this and asked for forgiveness, and forgave himself, and returned the damage - this is then returned to him even more (shown) as an increase for his awareness. God amplifies this positive energy he has put in. God, through his Angels, through his Higher Self, amplifies this energy to an even greater equivalent, and even more is returned to him. Why? Because He loves us all.

Participant: And he also went through a certain path in order to realize all this in himself, accept, understand, do, act, of course.

Irina: I see, dear friends, the topic of fraud and quackery is so interesting that we don't even write anything, we listen carefully.

Maria: The topic is really very interesting and important for awareness and understanding of energy relationships and processes.

Irina: Mash, is this an interesting topic?

Maria: You know, it's not only interesting, it's very important, so that people see these processes from an energetic and spiritual point of view and understand what they are really doing.

Irina: In fact, in the Universe, in the Universe, nothing can be stolen, nothing can be acquired for oneself without exchanging one's energy. The fact that a person thinks: "I will steal, and I will have more, and he will have less" is an illusion. Everything you do, you do in the face of God, in the face of your curators, mentors from the Spiritual World, in the face of all plasmoid civilizations. You do this in front of everyone, there is nothing secret. You can only assume that no one knows about it, but this is not true.

01:01:35 Working through negativity in the family. Practical spirituality.

Participant: Last question for today. Why? Because these are current topics: the one you voiced now, and the next one. Dissatisfaction or negative experience in relation to parents: father, mother, or children. These are the two triggers that turn on people's energy blocks. This is at the core of humanity. What do you say about people's assertion that their parents or their children are negative?

Irina: What's negative?

Participant: Like a negative experience: either negative parents or not such parents. Dissatisfaction with some situations. The child wants to take something away, to divide the apartment. Not some kind of father, not some kind of mother. These squabbles, claims, grievances (these emotional blocks) lie at the core of many people. What should a person do if he believes that the negative experience is his parents or children? How does this affect him?

Irina: Forgive, dissolve this block of your own. He can only work with his own block. This affects him negatively: both on his health and on his spiritual development, as we have already said. It can isolate the Higher Self from the Light, and then the person will not feel united with all of humanity, everyone will be strangers to him, and he will be a stranger to everyone. He will wait for Love, but will not be able to give it himself and therefore will not be able to feel the Love of others. It is like a wall that does not allow the energy of Love to pass either from him or to him.

Participant: There are a lot of people who complain that my parents didn't give me this. My parents didn't give me Love, so I don't give it.

Irina: How to remove this claim? Is that the question?

Participant: Yes.

Irina: To thank them for their incarnation, to realize that many children who wanted to incarnate were not given the opportunity by their parents to even be born. Are there such parents? Thank your parents for what you have and send them the Light of your Love. You cannot feel Love from them until you yourself send them and demonstrate this Love in actions.

It’s not enough to just send Light and then go and swear again. It is necessary to manifest this in the material world. If you meditate on the image of your parents in one room and send them Light, and fifteen minutes later you react with irritation to their words, to their comments or to their request to help you - this is not meditation, this is just self-deception and that’s all.

Maria: Yes, thank you, very good and relevant advice, because all the knowledge that we acquire in our project, in any other courses, is very important to then apply it in practice in our everyday life. Therefore, no meditation, no affirmations, no prayers will matter if we do not manifest this in our everyday life.

Irina: Yes. And there is practical spirituality in this. Practical spirituality is not when a person fasts, prays and is baptized in front of icons, and then, seeing a person with non-fasting food, condemns him. This is not fasting, this is only his self-deception, his desire to rise above others and the decrease in his vibrations. It's the same in other matters.

If a person reads mantras and goes to the Light, he purifies himself spiritually, but at the same time he is indifferent to the suffering of other people and gets annoyed, for example, with his child, who is preventing him from meditating. And even if he does not show this in behavior, this irritation simply manifests itself in his soul - this indicates that he needs to postpone meditation and take care of the child. It is the child now that is his meditation.

Maria: His assistant on the path of spiritual development.

Irina: Yes. His meditation means his practice.

Maria: Yes.

“...We do not use quantum analysis of isotopes at all. This is completely pointless..."

“...They gave earthlings technology mainly for the construction of buildings and temples...”

01:00 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today our curators are present here: Raom Tiyan from the planet Burkhad - a specialist in energy interactions, also present here is LiShioni from the planet Shimor, who is a specialist in Astral energy in that part of the Spiritual world that is closest to the material world. Also present here is MidgasKaus from the planet Esler - a biologist, psychologist, specialist in the study of alien civilizations, more specifically, the Earth. They are now present here in astral bodies, that is, they have left their physical bodies, and are in the astral space of this room and are connected to me through my spiritual channel.

Alexey: I'll also start with a greeting. Good afternoon to everyone present, representatives of the Interstellar Union, Irina and Maxim, as well as everyone who is listening to us now and will listen later in the recording!

A few words about myself. By basic education I am a materials scientist. But since I work at an institute related to nuclear energy, in order to solve problems in the course of work I had to significantly expand my scientific horizons both in the field of physics, chemistry, thermodynamics, and subsequently in the field of nuclear physics, astrophysics, and then alternative physics and non-traditional energy sources.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): He says that he thanks Vasza for your courage, for the fortitude of the Spirit, because it is not so easy: from the boundaries of science to come into contact with esotericism, contactees who explain these scientific paradigms in a different way than they are used to in science environment. Of course, you, as an experienced person who has seen a lot in life, are well aware that you may be criticized for this decision. But, nevertheless, this does not stop you, and for that I thank you! Because it was people like you who advanced Earth science in the past, that is, with such a lack of fear.

03:42 First block of questions.

Alexey: Irina, thank you very much for your kind words, but let's step by step. This means the first block of questions. They are quite simple.

First. Nuclear energy, the history of its development on Earth, Venus and Mars before interstellar wars.

What fissile isotopes, natural and artificial, were used, and the isotopic composition of elements on Earth before interstellar wars.

Theoretical approaches to the structure and division of the nucleus in ancient times on Earth, Venus, Mars.

The use of nuclear energy at that time for military and peaceful purposes. Radiation protection, again at that time. And how radioactive waste was disposed of.

Was it possible to develop energy without going through the nuclear energy stage?

Did the Interstellar Union interfere with research, help or slow down? And to what extent was the spiritual development of earthlings, Martians, and Venusians at that time in harmony with their scientific and technological development?

And finally. Changes in the isotopic composition and structure of atoms after interstellar wars, and why, therefore, radiocarbon dating cannot be trusted?

And here is the age of the Shroud of Turin, which, according to this analysis, is considered to have been made in the Middle Ages?

05:12 History of the development of nuclear energy on Earth.

Irina: Let's talk about the first block right away. The questions are clear. This refers to the development of these technologies specifically on Earth, as far as I understand?

Alexey: On Earth, Venus and Mars before this Great Flood.

Irina: Raom Tiyan is speaking now.

(RaomTiyan) Yes, I studied the history of the Earth and its colonies in the solar system. But my point is that before the war 12,000 years ago, all energy technology that was, so to speak, more complex than the steam engine was provided by the Interstellar Union. They provided a lot of technologies for the construction of cities and infrastructure. As for energy, people at that time did not have the means of science and technology, or means of transportation. They were even resettled on Venus and Mars on ships of the Interstellar Union.

06:34 Was there uranium on Earth 12 thousand years ago? What was its isotopic composition?

Alexey: I see. Was there uranium at that time, and what is the isotopic composition of uranium on Earth at that time? Has it changed after the wars? Now U238 is known - the main one, and 0.7% - U235. Was it the same at that time?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): No. I'll explain now.

The thing is that any substance is heterogeneous. You just named two isotopes of uranium, but there are other isotopes, you just don't record them.

Alexey: There are others, yes. But I'm talking about the main ones that we use now in nuclear energy.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Moreover, those isotopes that you named - U238 and U235 - are inhomogeneous within themselves. You call an isotope, as far as I understand, an atom where the number of so-called neutrons in the nucleus exceeds the number of protons?

Alexey: In these nuclei, yes, the number of neutrons exceeds the number of protons.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): But you don't yet have a technology that could accurately count the number of these intranuclear elements.

Alexey: I understand everything, but the point is that if we move on to specifics (you ask about specifics), then we divide these isotopes, the nuclei of these elements into U235 and U238, we clearly separate them. If we separate, then we cannot approach it in such a way that everyone has everything. That is, we separate them, and U238 has the same nuclear properties, while U235 has different ones. U235 is widely used in our nuclear power industry, in commercial thermal nuclear power plants.

08:40 Different approaches to the structure of atomic nuclei.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The whole point here is that what you call neutron radiation, for us it is a certain quantum radiation of the second level. And it changes in each element, which depends on the elemental composition of neighboring atoms, even depends on the radiation of the Sun, the Earth's core, etc. That is, different energies create different atoms, which in one element can contain slightly different numbers of quanta.

Let's start not with uranium, let's start with hydrogen. It would seem that a relatively constant element such as hydrogen also contains different types of atoms.

Alexey: Sorry, I will interrupt you. This may be impolite, but I have read some of your work, so there is no need to repeat it here. The fact is that our approach is a little different. We consider the core and electron shells. We share the core. Electronic shells do not seem to be involved in this. Then you said "second level".

In your dialogues: there were nine energies of three levels on Earth. The first level - this relates to the atom, as I understand it, to the properties of the atoms of this electron shell. The third is gravity, the second is gamma radiation. In total, if you add it up, you get seven. The eighth is neutron, it belongs to the second level, it turns out. And another one disappears - the ninth.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Now I will explain to you. This is important to understand because I have been studying your ideas. Specifically, terrestrial - planetary model of the atom. Accordingly, I did not know what it was based on, how this model, which is drawn by certain scientists, explains everything. I actually have a question here. And now I'll ask you this before you talk about isotopes.

I want to understand. Here you, your scientists, claim that electrons, to put it simply, revolve around the nucleus of an atom. There are certain orbitals, etc. But when I started studying what they say about the nucleus of an atom... They say that it consists of protons and neutrons, but they do not say whether protons make up the outer layer of the nucleus of an atom or neutrons.

Alexey: I agree completely, because you have now outlined the traditional point of view on the structure of both the nucleus itself and the atom as a whole.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Still, if you talked about isotopes here, and you named U238, U235, anyone can think that the difference between them is the number 3. What does the number 3 mean? It stands for the so-called “extra” three neutrons.

But what is a neutron? A neutron is a specific package of quanta. And how many quanta there will be in this packet each time, you cannot determine this. I can say that using these criteria it is possible to determine about 15 isotopes of uranium.

Alexey: I understand. This means, as they say in esoteric books, every atom and every element is not similar to each other. Also, each neutron in a certain state (we consider it to be a semi-excited state) behaves differently.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I’ll even tell you what’s more: each atom is not shielded, so to speak, from neighboring atoms and energy, physical energies, energy fields that affect it. Therefore, isotopes can easily transform into one another.

Alexey: This is a very interesting approach! Moreover, in physics there are now alternative theories that each electron is associated with a specific neutron in the nucleus of an atom, and that it is impossible to consider the atom separately, dividing it into parts: electrons - at this level, at another - the nucleus, neutrons, etc. Each one has a connection with each other and changes its state depending, as you said, on the number of these quanta. But I want to say that...

Irina (Raom Tiyan): You yourself said that every snowflake is not similar to each other, why should they be similar?

Alexey: Yes, but at the same time there are statistics, there is society, there are our futurologists who blame everyone and decide what people need and what they don't need...

See why I focused so much on U235, U238. You know, you have many bases on Earth, that our main nuclear energy is provided by thermal stations based on the fission of the U235 nucleus, the thermal neutron.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I don't understand at all, he says, why are you taking uranium for this?

Alexey: Wait, I'll finish now, and then you'll interrupt me. U235 fissions with thermal neutrons, fragments fly apart, a chain reaction occurs, three neutrons are emitted instead of one, and energy flows. But U238 is not divisible. Therefore, these three neutrons are very important for us, so we separate U235 from U238, otherwise we will not receive energy. Only in fast reactors, but that's a separate conversation. He will be in the third block. Sorry, I interrupted you again.

Irina: He really likes to talk about these topics, and says that energy can also be obtained from U238.

Alexey: In the second block I will have questions about whether it was possible to skip ahead without developing nuclear energy. What we're doing is very interesting, but a little chaotic. But that's a good thing.

15:36 Radiocarbon dating and its imperfections.

Irina: Regarding radiocarbon dating, I'll comment now.

(Raom Tiyan) Radiocarbon dating, by the way, is an important topic, we were also asked a lot about it. The whole point here is that radiocarbon analysis, it's also called carbon analysis, that is, it is determined, as we call it, the quantum state of the carbon atom. You call them isotope-12, isotope-14, and some other numbers. And we call this the "quantum state of the carbon atom."

But the quantum state of a carbon atom can be different, depending on its occurrence in organic molecules and inorganic molecules. Depending on the reactions that this atom underwent while it was in this molecule. That is, the quantum state of this atom depends on many things. There is a lot of evidence for this. There are cases when, for example, they took an analysis of a tree, and the outer side of the tree showed its age, for example, six years, and the inner side of the same tree, according to isotope radiocarbon analysis, showed 10 times more.

Alexey: Because there is shielding. This is understandable, this is a known fact.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): For example, they catch shellfish, and their shells show a great age that they have not lived. Clay pottery products have been found that were reliably made 200 years ago, but show many thousands of years. This can also happen because the carbon that was included in this clay, for example, was heated in a certain way or was subjected to other energy radiation.

So, to date any objects, we do not use quantum isotope analysis at all. This is completely pointless. Our science defines historical events differently.

Alexey: Thank you very much. A very detailed answer. I'll summarize what you said in a nutshell. Radiocarbon dating cannot be proven, because, in general, our science has shown that it is influenced by many factors. So, the age of the Shroud of Turin turns out to be normal, in the sense that it is natural?

Irina: He shows me that it is necessary to take an analysis not of this canvas itself, but of the blood that got on it.

Alexey: And the most important thing that you said is that we even take carbon-14 or others that are transformed there, and each, depending on the conditions it was in and how quanta influence it, can decay faster, decay slower. This applies not only to the carbon nucleus, but also to other nuclei, including radioactive elements. This makes it possible to influence the decay rate and transmute all this radioactive dirt into stable isotopes. That is, with this quantum approach, this is possible!

20:07 Nuclear reactor found in Africa.

Alexey: My colleague gave us an additional question to close the first topic: the oldest artificial nuclear reactor found in Africa. He is almost a billion years old. That is, this is before you discovered us.

Irina: We need to look at what exactly they found there. They do not rule out this possibility.

Alexey: They don't rule it out, that is, it could be a newspaper "duck"?

20:29 The connection between nuclear energy and "dark forces".

Alexey : Nuclear energy is often seen as involved in dark demonic manifestations, as a kind of unspoken cult led by dark ones. Is this a coincidence?

Irina : Good question! Now MidgasKaus speaks like a psychologist.

(MidgasCaus) I'll answer it because it's about psychology.

The whole point here is that some people with a certain character are characterized by so-called neophobia, which easily turns into technophobia. That is, these are irrational, inexplicable at first glance fears and rejections from everything related to technical innovations and science.

For what reason does this happen? If we dig deeply for this reason, it will be due to global mistrust of the world, the divine energies that surround every person. That is why at the dawn of the scientific and technological revolution on Earth there were also people who denied progress, who called steam locomotives, steamships and electric light bulbs demonic forces. This happened, and such people rejected everything unknown. But time has passed, people have gotten used to it, and now it is a familiar part of life for them.

It's the same with nuclear and nuclear energy. People who suffer from neophobia call it demonic energy. Although in fact this is also divine energy, which passed through all 56 levels of matter density and eventually became electrical.

I want to say that all these atoms (now I will add to what Ra Tiyan said), all the atoms that exist around you now, they did not come from nowhere. They existed previously in the form of quantum fields. And these quantum fields, in turn, also did not appear out of nowhere. They arose from etheric vortexes that are created at subtler levels of density.

Accordingly, now I'm listening to your conversation from the sidelines, Alexey, I hear the words of Raom Tiyan, and I want to say as a psychologist that in any scientific research, when two scientists meet, in order for them to understand each other, it is first necessary to decide on the terminology. Do they mean the same thing by the same words? This is especially true for scientists who are from different planets. Because studying on different planets creates different terminology and understanding of reality. That is, your conversation now resembles, how would you say in a language you understand, two people speaking different languages.

Alexey: Thank you very much for your comment. It is, as always, very deep. This approach: what is incomprehensible is immediately demonic, this is characteristic of us, we know about it.

Irina: Neophobia.

Alexey: Yes, neophobia. As for different approaches... The most important thing is not that we are in different languages. I know approximately how you see the structure of the atom, I read your, unfortunately, very short dialogues about quanta, etc. I roughly understand what a quantum is. The main thing is that I understood the image that you created by telling this, and then I will try, as they say, to apply this image with the help of our approaches. This is a separate conversation. Thanks everyone! Let's, to finally close the first topic, one more question.

25:59 What energy sources did the Atlanteans use?

Alexey: You said that you helped the Atlanteans develop. They didn't have nuclear power, which is very good in the sense that I'll have fewer questions.

Were they given any energy sources? That is, what did they use for energy production, for movement, etc.?

Irina (MidgasKaus): They moved, so to speak, on foot and using animals. They had no transport.

Alexey: But did they have a wheel, or, like the Japanese and Chinese, did they not?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It was, but it was made of wood.

Alexey: I see.

Irina (MidgasKaus): There was already metal mining, but it was quite limited and was used mainly for various tools. There were wars between tribes at that time, but they were not as developed as they are now, but they also used weapons for conflicts.

Our ancestors, who lived at that time, gave earthlings technology mainly for the construction of buildings, houses, temples, observatories - for tracking the stars. That is, it was like an observatory, but there was no such technology as there is now. It was increasingly primitive. What technologies were given to them? Those without whom it would be difficult for them to survive.

(Irina) He is now showing me the devices that control gravity. And with the help of it they could move various objects and build houses.

(MidgasCaus) This is what they were given. Then they were given medical technologies that could treat various diseases, infections and genetic disorders. And if this was agreed upon with the Spiritual world, then to prolong their physical life. But not everyone. Only a few who were approved.

Accordingly, these were the main technologies that were provided. They were not given ships; they could be transported to other planets by the aliens who worked with them, the curators.

28:37 Why did the Atlanteans not technically develop to our level in 3 million years?

Alexey: Then a childish question immediately arises, excuse me. You worked with the Atlanteans and others for 3 million years. Over these 3 million years, they reached the level that you just described. After the war, 12,000 years passed, we also started virtually from scratch, because the memory was erased. How have we jumped so fast in 12,000 years, and they barely jumped in 3 million, even though we are genetically the same race?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, genetically the same race, but there was a different choice of egregors.

Now I will explain what it is. There was a different selection of peoples who lived there. Those peoples who lived for 3 million years, they, how to put it, lived longer in nature. We used what nature provided. There was a favorable climate. They were vegetarians, controlled their thoughts and developed their psychic abilities, and paid practically no attention to the possibilities of knowledge of material laws.

Alexey: I see.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And after the war 12,000 years ago, people at first also lived in nature, but gradually, with the deterioration of material living conditions, they began to invent various devices that would make it easier for them to solve problems. Accordingly, the more difficult the living conditions, the faster they developed. This is typical for your species, because your egregors assume technical development only if it is needed for some reason, and it is needed not by scientists, but by the people. Only then are the people ready to support and provide the work of the scientist with their labor.

Alexey: It's clear, but still the difference, if you divide one by the other, is 250 times – it is, of course, impressive. And here's the question. From your conferences it is known that you approximately estimated (average statistics again) the level of spirituality of earthlings: 10th – 12th level. There is lower, there is higher, it's natural. But what was the average level of spirituality among those comrades - the Atlanteans, Hyperboreans, etc.?

Irina: LiShioni is speaking now.

(LiScioni) I want to add to the words of my colleagues. I believe that the technological assistance the Interstellar Union provided to earthlings before the war largely slowed down their technical development.

Alexey: I see. That is, if we give more complex conditions for development - this, as they say, is the ABC of any science - then, naturally, humanity or humanoids develop faster. That is, they discovered us 5 million years ago, the Interstellar Union waited 2 million years until we ourselves started knocking down bananas with a stick, etc. That is, if we were stuck in some cold ditch, etc., we would develop more, faster, and there would be no need to change our genotype?

Irina (LiScioni): When you were exposed to winter conditions, you had to generate heat, and we had to make additional genetic changes.

Alexey: I see. In principle, this could have been done 5 million years ago, and not have to suffer later, introducing your genes.

Okay, then let's move on smoothly to the second block of questions. They are already more serious.

32:49 Second set of questions.

Alexey: Stages of development of nuclear energy on the planets of the Interstellar Union. Is it now used on the planets of the Interstellar Union and on other planets of our Galaxy?

How long did the period of nuclear energy use last there?

Modern theoretical approach to the structure and division of the nucleus.

Is evolutionary development possible without going through the stages of nuclear energy, and are there such precedents on the planets of our Galaxy?

By what mechanism were 94 stable elements (according to your data) formed on Earth and other planets, and how much of this could be due to the mechanism of cold nuclear fusion and low-energy nuclear reactions (LENR) (there are such alternative theories and many experiments are now being carried out in unconventional physics) .

Stages of energy development on the planets of the Interstellar Union, or have they overtaken nuclear energy?

Irina: Let the representatives of the three planets speak, respectively, let everyone answer.

The fact is that here are representatives of the planets Burkhad and Shimor, who were the founders of the formation of the Interstellar Union.

Alexey: Yes, I know that.

34:20 Stages of development of nuclear energy on the planets of the Interstellar Union.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The Interstellar Union was formed 16 million years ago, accordingly, nuclear energy, as you call it, developed on our planet, but far from the volume and quantity in which it now exists on Earth.

Firstly, the composition of the crust of our planet differs from that of the Earth. For example, we have tens of times less radioactive elements in general. But the radiation of our star is more powerful. Therefore, we mainly use solar energy. And we didn't have fuels like oil and gas, that is, organic residues and other substances that could burn. Therefore, we used only mainly solar energy in a certain way.

(says LiShioni) On Shimora we also have a large flow of solar energy, but our core is close to the crust. The mantle is thin in some places on the planet, and therefore there is a lot of geological activity there - geysers and volcanoes, etc., and the atmosphere is heating up a lot. So we used various geothermal sources, heat to convert into energy that we needed.

(Irina) Accordingly, the planet Esler had nuclear energy?

(MidgasCaus says) Yes, we did. But it was based on an element such as actinium.

Alexey: Yes, there is one, I know him.

Irina (MidgasKaus): It was based on an element such as sea anemone. An element like your battery contained a small amount of actinium, which was transformed, turned, as you say, into electronic quantum flows, electric current, only it was of a constant nature. Alternating current was almost never used in our devices.

Alexey: Sorry right away, I'll interrupt. Is actinium radioactive or not? How was it isolated - from ore or... How did you work with it? It was probably dissolved in the ore. That is, you isolated it from ore, protected yourself somehow from radioactivity, probably right? Remotely or something else?

Irina (MidgasKaus): At first, this was done by special people, workers from Esler, who were in suits.

Alexey: I see. In general, like ours.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Accordingly, they extracted it from the ore. I know that it was transferred into various compounds, just as a metal is transferred into various salts. Then it was extracted by sedimentation.

Alexey: Of course, traditionally. About the same as on Earth, maybe even we have gone further in this matter.

And then, when it was used up, was it somehow recycled or thrown away somewhere?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Then these batteries, which no longer worked, were given to special services, which were heated in a certain way (shows to Irina), and together with the heat it was deactivated. That is, the energy was leaving.

Alexey: Technology is a separate issue, we won't dwell on it now.

That is, in fact, nuclear energy has become the most widespread on Earth, perhaps due to the elemental composition of the Earth, perhaps for some other reasons?

Irina (MidgasKaus): There are other planets in the Galaxy where they also studied atomic energy for quite a long time before joining the Interstellar Union. For example, on the same planet Selbet, and on other planets such as Saama, Disnit, etc. That is, there were scientists there who had been studying nuclear energy for quite a long time. But after they entered the Interstellar Union, they were naturally provided with technologies that were more advanced and safer.

Alexey: Why did I ask this question? How long do we have to suffer with nuclear energy? It turns out that it took quite a long time, since Selbet - in general, high-level humanoids - were not able to switch to other sources of energy themselves, but waited for their comrades from the Interstellar Union to help them. Got it, thank you very much.

40:09 The simplest ion engine for spacecraft.

Irina (MidgasKaus): The Interstellar Union itself is already 15 million years old. It also happened when, even in the Interstellar Union, there were engines on spaceships based on so-called ion converters, when sodium ions were heated in a plasma jet, changed their quantum value, and this energy, which we called “internal radioactivity,” moved the ship.

Alexey: We seem to be considering something similar in alternative physics. Thank you so much, you’ve given us a lot of insight just now!

Irina (MidgasKaus): In general, there were many different solutions for spaceships. But the only thing I want to say: even at the dawn of so-called space navigation, or interstellar travel, we did not have jet engines, because in order to create them with the appropriate power... The power of a jet engine in space depends not only on the type of fuel, but also on its quantity, and the amount of the oxidizing agent, which is also located there. And accordingly, the mass of both requires a significant amount. Therefore, their use is unprofitable, unprofitable, and they were not used.

Alexey: I completely agree. This is a dead end until we come up with something better.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I understand that you can fly around the Earth like this, to Mars, and then to Mars using a jet engine... It does not reach a speed of even 30 kilometers per second.

Alexey: We ourselves understand this too, but then we need to develop alternative approaches. The funny thing is that we have them, but they are not recognized by traditional science. This is already from the field of psychology.

42:48 How 94 stable elements were formed in space.

Alexey: Last question from this block. By what mechanism were 94 stable elements formed? Because the Interstellar Union correctly believes: not all elements need to be taken into account, but only those that are stable on Earth and on other planets. But most importantly, could this be due to the mechanism of cold nuclear fusion and low-energy nuclear reactions?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Is this a type of nuclear reaction that you assume changes the nuclei of atoms without tearing them apart and putting pressure on them?

Alexey: Yes, without radioactivity. This is usually in “hydrogen-generated” materials under various influences - plasma, laser, vortex, all kinds of heating, etc., etc. This, perhaps, will be a separate interesting topic later, because in addition to the excess heat released, elements are formed, it is not clear how, and they are not formed by simple synthesis - from two one, like hydrogen and deuterium into a helium nucleus, but two or three are formed and divide ...

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There are different processes for creating elements.

Alexey: And an incomprehensible—that’s what they called it —“strange” radiation is also formed, which affects all sorts of biological processes.

44:02 How 94 chemical elements were formed on Earth.

Alexey: Let me return to my question. By what mechanism were these 94 elements formed on Earth? Because what traditional science now claims is that it is confused, to be honest.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Your traditional science about the formation of the Earth (I studied some scientific theories about earth formation, that is, the formation of the Earth from a dust cloud) is all quite correct.

Alexey: The first stage – yes. And I mean “nuclear” processes, when new elements began to form. Because in the “cloud” there was a minimum number of elements, we now have 94 of them.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In the beginning there was, if we look only at the beginning, for example, from the moment of the birth of the Sun, hydrogen.

Alexey: Hydrogen, then helium and off we go, right?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, helium is formed from hydrogen. And what does it mean? This means that from the quanta of one element, adding them together, another element is formed.

This also suggests that elements can be created not only due to pressure and temperature that is formed in the center. And it is possible, for example, to create the same radioactive elements, for example, by influencing the biochemical reactions of microorganisms.

45:50 Third block of questions.

Alexey: Now the third block of questions. Thermal and fast reactors of various types with different coolants - water, liquid metal, gas, salt, and their prospects for use at a given time on Earth. Because for now we are using them.

Use of thorium.

Processing and combustion of radioactive waste, including minor actinides. Because our nuclear energy industry is very developed, naturally there is a lot of radioactive waste, especially these medium minor actinides.

Various reactors - water, liquid metal, gas, salt, and even thorium. Which of this set is most promising for us in the near future?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In any case, to answer this question, I already said at the beginning that it would be good to use thorium instead of uranium. For example, when we had that short period when we used nuclear energy on our planet, and specifically obtained other types of energy from this nuclear radioactivity, we used thorium. We also studied the elemental composition of the earth's crust, oceans, etc., and we found out that there is more thorium on Earth.

47:22 How the Interstellar Union obtained energy from thorium.

Alexey: An abyss, yes, especially in India.

It is known that thorium cannot be used so easily, because in nature the isotope 232, if my memory serves me correctly, is not divided in the thermal spectrum. We convert it in the reactor into uranium 233, which is already divided in our standard thermal and water commercial reactors. How did they get uranium from thorium, also by fission? That is, a fast neutron probably flew out of it, because the thermal one will not divide it, 232nd thorium. Or they had some more complex isotopes, because thorium is needed for the transition to uranium-233, and that's all.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, we had other isotopes of thorium, but even if you have such an isotope, you can extract radioactive energy from it without converting it into uranium, but you need to look specifically at the design of the reactors in which it is used .

Alexey: So your reactors are of such a type that you can immediately extract energy from thorium? Because in our reactors – neither thermal nor "fast" – this is practically impossible.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We have certain energy converter devices that can convert radioactivity into other types of energy. You need, for example, to convert radioactivity into heat or electricity. And you use this converter. And your reactor, all the reactors that you listed, they convert, as far as I understand, energy into heat.

Alexey: Yes, yes, yes, energy into heat. Here again is a small correction to what the respected comrade from Burkhad just said. The fact is that 232 thorium does not have natural radioactivity, and we cannot simply transfer its energy somewhere. It must be exposed to a neutron, converted into uranium-233, only then will it become radioactive. And he himself, excuse me, lies in a stable state like a piece of iron.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I understand. But there are atoms in it that emit this energy, only it is in smaller quantities, it can be increased.

Alexey: Are there atoms that near thorium emit energy and provoke thorium?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Look. Let's say we take iodine. There is regular iodine...

Alexey: And there is radioactive iodine.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): There is radioactive potassium and even several types of radioactive oxygen.

Alexey: Yes, it’s all there, these are isotopes, as we call them.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This also suggests that in the so-called thorium there are also the same atoms that naturally emit this energy. There are somewhat fewer of them in this element, but the very quantum structure of the thorium atom allows, how can I say, to easily open the electron shell of the atom and release this energy from the nucleus.

Alexey: Thank you very much, you said a very interesting thing! That, in principle, by acting in another way, we won’t specify which one, this is your know-how, you can “open” thorium and make it fission along this chain. We will think and figure out how to “open it” ourselves.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I know that some kind of powder was made from this metal, and this powder was placed in a vessel made of lithium. And electric and electromagnetic waves with a certain amplitude were sent into this lithium vessel. I need to look at the reference book, I don't remember the numbers, but, in principle, this is known. And those atoms that were in thorium, in contact with lithium atoms, or quanta that made up the outer shell of heat, magnetism, electricity and everything else - they passed into lithium atoms, and the path to the second level was opened - to the nucleus of the atom. And from there came a beam of radioactivity, which had to be absorbed by a certain carrier, for example, the same carbon or silicon wool. And, entangled in these threads, give away your energy.

Alexey: I see, and then everything goes into electricity. You had some kind of seminar on energy sources about "cotton wool".

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In our country, these elements are widely used as energy collectors.

53:21 Alternative structure of a uranium reactor.

Alexey: Water, liquid metal, gas, salt reactors - we focus on them. Thank you, we will think about their prospects for use at the moment. Now they want to switch to salt reactors.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Knowing the properties of this material, we would create something like (shows) glass test tubes that would be placed around a certain shaft that rotates. We would place either balls or polyhedra of this uranium in test tubes filled, for example, with mercury. And by rotating this shaft with the help of electromagnetic fields, we would create a certain pressure of the energy that is in the mercury atoms on the atoms. And we would receive a flow of energy.

Alexey: This pressure, is it some kind of quantum type? Because to create pressure, you need some kind of environment. Maybe it's an ethereal medium, and you create pressure with it?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I just know that mercury is a good catalyst for such reactions.

54:51 Reprocessing and incineration of radioactive waste.

Alexey: I see. Thank you very much, everything is clear here. Well, the very last question for this third block is the processing and combustion of radioactive waste, including actinides.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): They simply purify, they have a certain device that collects this radiation, and it does not remain in the substance. As you call it, it goes into other non-radioactive elements, including gases.

Alexey: I see. Now it's the fourth block, we're moving on to this.

55:28 Fourth block of questions.

Alexey: Is it possible to speed up or slow down the transmutation of radioactive elements into stable isotopes, that is, the half-life?

Is it possible to have remote influence not only in reprocessing, but also to transmute nuclei without removing them from fuel rods? Because with us everything is divided into fuel rod casings, we cut them and then remove them. Is it possible to influence them remotely, as well as speed up or slow down nuclear reactions?

Then here is a general question that worries everyone. When and how do we cleanse the Earth of radioactive waste? Experience of different planets that have passed this stage of development. Maybe the Selbet people will help us?

And I was also asked to ask the question whether the Interstellar Union could track and block the suddenness of contamination of the Earth in the event of terrorist attacks, for example, if containers with waste were mined and then suddenly exploded. Because when a missile flies, as I understand it, they can intercept it.

56:38 Is it possible to influence the transmutation of radioactive elements.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Of course, you can influence, like any energy, you can drive radiation inside altogether (shows to Irina). You can speed up its extraction, but how can you achieve this with your technologies? Because – I will now tell you the general principle – our technologies use one or another vector-directed energy flows. That is, the vector there is precisely directed to the point of these atoms of substances. And before this, we bring the substances into a state in which they can best perceive the energy flow changing them from the outside.

Alexey: I see.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): That is, the state of aggregation of matter also plays a role here. To do this, some substances need to be dissolved in some neutral solvent, some must be evaporated, other substances must simply be reduced to a very fine powder. This also plays a role.

And then we place them in certain devices, the walls of which consist of spheres that will capture the energies we need emanating from these atoms. If you simply put it in an iron or steel barrel, or in a glass jar and direct the flow of energy to this substance, then you will not catch anything. There you need certain walls that can transform this flow of energy that passes through them, either accumulate within themselves, or send it higher, into that conductor. Only this is not a conductor wire, but it may be a special energy field. And, accordingly, for effective energy conversion and control of the same radioactive decay, in many cases it is necessary to create a vacuum, shield it from surrounding fields, that is, conditions must be created there.

Alexey: Yes, I understand the conditions.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): As a physicist, I studied these processes, but did not work directly with instruments. In our country, no one has worked directly with instruments now for millions of years; special machines, special robots have been created for this, which control this process and create similar robots. Relatively speaking, a large ship can be called a robot, and a small microcircuit or chip can also be called a robot. So, our devices are full of electronics that control, measure and redirect energy flows depending on the measured number of quantum states we need in atoms.

For example, if you took uranium, or thorium, or something else, you need to extract energy from it. But, as I already said, the number of quantum states in a given piece of matter may not be uniform. Maybe you got it from that deposit, where the quantum composition has already been changed. Do you know what I mean?

01:01:07 How to convert radioactive cesium 137 into barium. Biochemical methods.

Alexey: Yes, everything is clear. Is it possible to do this remotely, for example, without converting these radioactive waste elements into powder and so on, but simply by irradiating them? After all, there are probably rays that pass through materials, etc., reach a certain isotope, and enter into some kind of resonant interaction with it. And in this place, without being extracted, it turns, for example, radioactive cesium 137 into barium. Here are the most common ones.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): In order for radiation cesium to turn into barium, its quantum composition must be changed.

Alexey: I see, that is, you can influence it. The reason I say this is because, again, I refer to alternative physics. There are a lot of experiments with plasma, electron beams, vortex phenomena - this is all “at random”. This is not like some kind of technique like yours, especially one based on automation and electronics. “At random” it turns out that they somehow turn into stable isotopes. An uncontrolled process, and during the transformation into stable isotopes there is no such large gamma and other radiation.

And at the beginning they talked about biotransmutation - this is what we do at Moscow State University, and even at our institute, cesium was converted into barium by bacteria. This, of course, is again all laboratory, not industrial, in small quantities - such a transformation by bacteria. And how do bacteria act on this very cesium so that it turns into barium?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): They can do this by including radioactive substances in their biochemical reactions, by participating in which the atom changes its quantum composition because it exchanges different quanta in organic and chemical reactions.

Alexey: Got it. It seems like biochemical reactions that seem to be unrelated to the nucleus, but at the same time this effect on the electronic shells of atoms leads to such situations.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The fact is that the state of the electron shells also affects the neutron.

Alexey: Yes, there are experiments that the decay of, say, ions, the rate of decay is completely different if you influence the electron shells in some way. Then the core connected to them... This is again your approach, the Interstellar Union, that everything must be considered together and not broken down into parts, like we do.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Moreover, a radioactive element, even passing through the human body, which begins to change it in safer parts, will pass through it and leave the human body, if it has not been absorbed naturally, or will be cured, for example , from blood, from muscles, etc. – it will already have less radioactivity.

Alexey: You probably know the experiments of Louis Kervran - about 50 years ago, when he observed these natural processes in biology. I fed the chicken food containing not calcium, but potassium, but she kept laying eggs, and in eggs, calcium should naturally be in the shell. And no matter how much I fed her, it seemed like all the calcium had left the body, but she still somehow gained it. It turns out that such biological mechanisms exist. And, by the way, I spoke to a friend from Chernobyl at the IAEA, and he claims that the Chernobyl zone is cleaned up 100 times faster by nature itself than what scientists calculated. Is it true?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This is, of course, a valuable observation, because, as you said, calcium was removed from the body. But the whole point is...

Alexey: She ate potassium, and she needs calcium for eggs to lay.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): But why did she carry the shell? The point here is that an organism that has a skeleton, which consists mainly of calcium phosphate, also has an enzyme that creates calcium from calcium phosphate when there is a shortage of this element or when it is especially needed in other places. Some substances are catalysts for this process. For example, if this chicken, in addition to potassium, received fluoride in large quantities - with drinking water, fluoride catalyzes the enzyme reaction (indicates) the transfer of calcium from the bones into the blood.

A person also has a similar enzyme, so if he receives large amounts of fluoride from the environment, this can cause him to soften his bones, lose calcium - the so-called condition of osteoporosis. And the excess calcium that ends up in the blood will increase its coagulability, thrombosis, and cause stone formation in the gallbladder and kidneys.

01:07:15 How to cleanse the Earth of radioactive waste.

Alexey: This is a little about something else, but, in principle, thank you. This is a very good answer for biochemists. And there is a global question: how can we cleanse the Earth of radioactive waste?

Irina: He says you can also extract energy from some residue. That is, some kind of radioactive residue, a radioactive element and radon. Energy can also be released from these substances.

Alexey: I see. Will we have to cleanse the Earth ourselves, using those quantum approaches?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): How to cleanse? From radiation, you can use a simple device in the form of, for example, rechargeable batteries, which will consist of at least half... it is better to put magnesium there, of course - from different parts of magnesium, fluorine, and with the addition of polonium.

Alexey: Polonia, which one is radioactive?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Yes, but it needs 3%.

There are also solutions when excess radiation is collected on rods that will be in solution. For example, take the same copper chloride and place rubidium rods in it accordingly. And you can also collect radiation into these rods later. But then you need to extract this in any electricity converters. Do you have converters that convert the internal flow of weak radioactivity into some form of battery charging?

Alexey: You again answer how we can get energy, but we need how to clean it.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): So this method, it will just cleanse.

Alexey: It's clear that if we take energy in this way, radioactivity will automatically decrease.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): The whole point here is that we do not clean the atoms themselves, which, as you say, are radioactive. We do not cleanse them of this radioactivity themselves. We clear space from fields of radioactivity, from quanta of radioactivity. Don't you have such a concept as "radioactivity quanta"? But we have them, and we simply convert them into other quanta.

Alexey: You have the concept of quantum - this is a unit of energy, I watched one broadcast with you. Is this quantum of radioactivity the same quantum as a unit of energy, of which there are almost eight thousand in a hydrogen atom, or is it slightly different?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This is the same quantum.

Alexey: The same quantum, I understand. In principle, you can even easily calculate its energy. But that comes later.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Of course, that's why I said initially that there are quanta of radioactivity in any atom.

01:10:56 Help from the Interstellar Union in cleaning the Earth from radioactive waste.

Alexey: Take hydrogen, the electron level, and divide it by 8000. Okay. This is understandable. I understood that we ourselves will work on this, and the Interstellar Union will work for us, if suddenly there is some kind of pollution... Although you yourself know that this is exactly the situation now. We may simply not be able to cope if all these stations, waste, etc. are blown up. Will there be any at least theoretical help?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): We have bases that constantly monitor the situation and the radioactive background. I want to say that ammunition with a certain weak content of radioactivity has already been used on the territory of Ukraine. But that Burkhad base, which is located in Crimea, sent its probes under a shield, under a photon field that makes them invisible, and they collected this radiation in space, thanks to which it is neutralized.

Alexey: So, these shells have already exploded on the front line? Thanks to the Interstellar Union that they neutralized it, but for some reason there was no information.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It's just that the Interstellar Union did not want all this to get into the water, so that it all would end up in the Dnieper, in the Black Sea. After all, what is characteristic of radioactive isotopes and elements is that they do not just lie on the bottom or form some kind of suspension, they can form active chemical compounds that can become food for the same people.

Alexey: Yes, we know this, we have encountered this, we work in this area.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): And moreover, your recent disaster with water from a reactor in Japan - the Tikhta and Disnita bases, which are located in Southeast Asia (underwater bases), also appear there. And at the bottom of the ocean there are underwater probes that measure the level of radiation in this area, and if the required level is exceeded, an automatic process of neutralizing these fields will be activated.

Alexey: Thank you very much for your help with these radioactive shells! It's not only the pollution that's dangerous, but also the fact that if we take them seriously, there will be a very powerful response from Russia, and a chain will begin... Because if they use such weapons, then I don't even want to think about what kind of answers there might be from our president.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): I want to say that some nuclear power plants on Russian territory were already under fire from the Ukrainian army, but no disaster occurred because the Russian troops themselves destroyed these munitions in the air.

Alexey: Yes, we know that. Thank you for the very detailed and important answers, because this problem is, of course, very relevant.

01:15:00 Fifth block of questions.

Alexey: The fifth block is about alternative approaches. Alternative approaches are controlled fusion energy, hot fusion, ITER, etc. How futile is this approach? It is known that they have been creating this for seventy years, they spent 200 or 300 billion dollars. Or is there a chance to achieve something in this direction? How to overcome the "Coulomb barrier" - the main problem that ITER is trying to solve?

Next - cold nuclear fusion and LENR (these, as I already said, are low-energy nuclear reactions). Their place in the energy sector, the scientific principles of the release of excess energy during these processes - it is released with virtually no radioactivity. The ability to directly obtain electricity from LENR processes is usually excess heat, 3-4 times the cost.

Experiments by Andrea Rossi (maybe you know him?), who is trying to generate electricity through LENR processes.

Analysis of the discovered accompanying effects in LENR is the transmutation of elements and the so-called "strange radiation". Entire conferences are already being held on this "strange radiation".

Well, alternative energy sources of the near future. Of course, not as powerful as yours, but something simpler that we can create in 5-10 years.

01:16:33 How promising is the ITER approach?

Irina: Let's speak a little more into Russian - what kind of ITER is this?

Alexey: This is a controlled thermonuclear reactor, where in order to bring two atoms together, for example, hydrogen or deuterium, it doesn't matter - they are positively charged, you need to overcome this very "Coulomb barrier", repulsion. To do this, they create and concentrate enormous energy, enormous pressure and tens of millions of degrees of temperature at a point. Like a thermonuclear bomb exploding. But a thermonuclear bomb is uncontrollable, but here they want to connect one atom at a time so that, as they say, energy can be taken without an explosion, that is, micro-explosions.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): It's not even about the explosion. What is a thermonuclear reaction? This is when, as I already said, when we combine - we will now take hydrogen to simplify - two atoms (shows Irina several hydrogen atoms), when they are exposed to external energies from the outside, their quantum levels begin to penetrate each other. And because of this penetration, energy is released from the second level of the hydrogen atom. And this is not only thermonuclear energy, on its way from the second level it affects the external, third level. That is, this substance emits heat, light, electricity, radio waves, magnetic energy. As a result, we get an explosion.

Why does this happen? Because a new element is created, in this case helium. And, accordingly, it is, in principle, possible to use energy, but I would not recommend that you do this, because it will be difficult to direct it in some direction. Because many different energies are coming out, and they are coming out in a short period of time. A large flow comes out, which will be very difficult to transform and capture, and if the energy is dissipated in space, then it will just be an explosion and will not bring any benefit.

01:19:38 What can be used instead of ITER.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Accordingly, I would not recommend you to use thermonuclear energy. It is better then to focus on converting, for example, the heat of the plasma field - you can get plasma of the same hydrogen. You can use the heat and light of heated hydrogen plasma in special photovoltaic and thermoelectric plates, which together will convert them into the energies you need.

Alexey: You said exactly what they are now trying to do in low-energy nuclear reactors, where plasma is created. Hydrogen, the metals that absorb it - palladium and nickel - and all sorts of processes occur. But I think that this should be a separate conversation, we need to prepare.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): Palladium is good. Retarders, I understand, are also different.

Alexey: No, what we mean is that hydrogen is distributed in some metal - it dissolves well in nickel and palladium. And then, when all this material is converted into plasma, it turns out, as they say, interaction at the micro level.

Irina (Raom Tiyan): You can also extract energy from an abrupt change in the state of aggregation.

Alexey: Do you mean the state of aggregation from metal to plasma?

Irina (Raom Tian): Yes.

Alexey: The fact is that when it turns back from plasma into metal, it must absorb the same energy, that is, it turns out to be a circle. Where is the extra energy, where will it come from?

Irina (Raom Tiyan): This means a transformation, an abrupt increase, when under the influence of energy there is a decompression.

Alexey: I understand, but I'm not as smart as our specialists at LENR. I think we'll invite them next time.

Okay, we've probably been talking for almost 2 hours, I need to digest all this. Many thanks for the answers! I got a little carried away, because then ordinary people, non-specialists, will listen to us. But, as they say, this is the topic. And I hope that comrades, my colleagues who listen to the broadcast, will not only join, but simply "pounce" on you with their problems.

I also have a lot of scientific developments on entropy, on alloys, on eutectics, etc., we'll leave all that for later, we'll do it step by step. Once again, many thanks to everyone present!

Irina: Dear friends, I thank you for this conference, I thank Alexey for the interesting questions, so to speak, revealing the secrets of the substance. I thank Raom Tiyan, MidgasKaus, LiShioni for interesting answers that make me think about a lot of things in a new way. Also thank you to everyone who watched this video, I hope you enjoyed it anyway. So, dear friends, see you again!

01:23:30 End of broadcast.

#490 True love, awareness, spiritual vibrations. ALIENS ANSWERS. Cassiopeia – Irina Podzorova.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/istinnaya-lyubov-osoznannost-duhovnye-vibracii-otv
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=G5wITJ7EL4Q

00:00 Start of video.

00:40 MidgasKaus about hunting.

Question on the screen: Tell us about your hobbies, what are you interested in besides esotericism and contact making? Do you think such a thing as hunting, as a hobby or for food purposes, is acceptable? Provided that modern man has all the available products.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Let me remind you that I live on a planet where we only have a dairy-vegetable diet - due to the biology of our organisms. Our animal ancestors ate only plants and milk. You have such animals. In principle, we had no such thing as hunting. Therefore, naturally, on our planet Esler no one does this for lack of necessity. Even in ancient times there was no need for this. Can picking fruits be called hunting? Some people call picking berries and mushrooms “silent hunting.” In any case, this is most likely an earthly concept.

For me personally, hunting is not a hobby at the moment. This may be acceptable if a person lives in conditions where it is impossible to obtain food in any other way. There are such peoples who live practically surrounded by wild nature, where it is difficult to get any food. Or there are such villages (Russian or some other), where they live for generations by some kind of hunting. It could be fishing - they sell fish. This is also a type of hunting. This could be a hunt for fur-bearing animals, for the sake of some skins, they hand them over and live on that alone. Their grandfathers, their fathers taught them this way. It's just passed down through generations. Even now, in the 21st century, such families exist.

I believe that this is a personal choice of these people. Personally, I wouldn’t live like this, because this job is not interesting to me. I'm doing something completely different. I am not involved in agriculture now. This happened earlier. I came from the village after all. I was engaged in agriculture, I had a vegetable garden and livestock. Now I work with people. But even when I lived in the village, I would not go hunting, because these animals are designed to live in nature. This is my understanding.

03:42 MidgasKaus about awareness.

Question on screen: There is such a thing as “increasing awareness.” What do you put into it?

Irina: Awareness includes understanding what these tasks are. This is communication with the Higher Self! Communication with the Higher Self is communication with a part of God. God is the Creator of the entire Universe, no matter what He is called in other languages. Many different names: the Absolute or the Supreme Mind. For Russian people, the word God is more suitable. We are used to calling the Source of the entire Universe this way.

The Source of the entire Universe has Light, this ray is Spiritual Light. The one that illuminates all darkness and dissolves it in itself. Darkness is all evil, all imperfection. And, having invested a piece of Himself in us, as in His children, He gave us His Divinity, His Divine nature. In one parable, Jesus said that He gave every person one talent. Absolutely every person has talent. This talent is that Divine nature.

But every person has a choice in this life, in this material world - using material tools, to multiply this talent and make it two talents, five talents or as many as ten, i.e. increase your Divine nature. Or bury it in the ground.

There is such an expression, it was used by Jesus Christ - “bury your talent in the ground.” What does this expression mean? This means spending the time of your incarnation and your Divine potential only on material activities. The earth here is a symbol of matter. Matter – it is in no way bad or evil. It is simply a tool in achieving spiritual goals. If the tool itself is taken as the goal, no awareness, no wisdom and no development comes out of it. This understanding is, in my understanding, awareness.

05:54 MidgasKaus about high and low vibrations.

Question on screen: Often in esoteric circles one hears statements such as: “You have lowered your vibration,” “You are vibrating at low frequencies,” etc. What do you think are low vibrations and what are high vibrations? Why are low frequencies worse than high frequencies?

Irina (MidgasKaus): The whole point is that these phenomena of the Spiritual world are called vibrations only in comparison, by analogy, by symbolism in comparison with the material world. As in the material world: the higher the vibrations, the closer to gamma radiation - all-penetrating radiation that penetrates even the thickest walls. The closer to stellar radiation - X-ray radiation, gamma radiation, which we call “hard radiation”. Yes, it is dangerous for physical bodies, but it is also Divine energy. And since it has the highest vibrations, it generates all other radiations. By gradually lowering the vibrations of these electromagnetic waves, the entire visible world is born. Including light waves and others.

As for spiritual vibrations, these words refer to spiritual qualities or spiritual nature. Qualities, certain feelings, desires or emotions, i.e. spiritual processes that occur in our Spirit. Inside is no longer the body, but the Spirit. They manifest themselves through the body. But you need to understand that in the Spiritual world we are also not deprived of the ability to experience feelings, emotions or desires - this time without a body. Disembodied Spirits understand very well that they are also not devoid of feelings and emotions.

What vibrations then can we call low or high in the spiritual sense, if these are qualities? In order to call some high and some low, we must think about what we will take as the standard for measuring them. What do we take as an ideal? What will we compare them with in order to call them high or low? You understand that the measurements of the vibrations themselves depend on this standard.

The standard, measurement in material vibrations is the so-called Hertz - one vibration per second. This will not work in Spiritual vibrations: there is no time there. What will we take as a standard? The highest Spiritual vibration is the one that gave birth to all the others, which is the primary source. So, the highest Spiritual vibration is called “Unconditional Divine Love”! Without Love there is no life. It is because of Love that we were all born from the original Spiritual Light. It was because of Love that all the worlds, all the galaxies, all the aliens and everyone else appeared. If there were no Love, no one would have life.

It is with Unconditional Divine Love that it is necessary to compare all other feelings, all other desires, aspirations - what they are directed towards, and, naturally, emotions and thoughts. If we look at the Spiritual heart, the state of the Spiritual heart gives rise to thoughts. What the Spiritual heart is like, what it is filled with - such will be the thoughts of a person. If we are talking about which vibrations are high, these are those that are closer to Unconditional Divine Love.

09:50 MidgasKaus about True Divine Love.

Question on the screen: What is Love for you, what do you mean by this concept? What kind of Love did Jesus Christ talk about when he preached about Love for one's neighbor?

Irina: What I’m talking about now is Unconditional Divine Love. But love has many types. There is love for an individual. There is love for some thing. There is love for some phenomenon. There is love for oneself. And there is love for God. All these forms of love are a manifestation of one single energy of Love, simply directed towards one or another object. Remember yourself when you love.

Love is a state of unity with a loved being. If this is unconditional Love, this is unity without shades of exaltation, without a sense of belonging of this object to itself. There is love that is distorted by selfishness, a feeling of greed, when the loved one is considered a part of them. At the same time, they do not consider themselves part of this person. Such is the elevation. Real, true unconditional Love is a state when you completely feel equal to this person, with this person, and at the same time you feel one with him.

What is one? This means his joy is your joy, his pain is your pain. You are one whole being. This is unconditional Love for yourself, for your neighbor and for God. This is the same Divine Love that Jesus spoke about. One who is filled with such Love cannot be indifferent to the troubles of his neighbor. His feelings, his relationship to this suffering person will not be limited only to feelings. They will not be limited only to exclamations that this is unfair. If this is true Divine Love, it is always practical. Man necessarily manifests it in matter. He always saves and helps those who suffer. Because he feels his suffering as his own.

#489 Communication with the Spirit of the Golden Man - a symbol of Kazakhstan. The life story of the Saka king Assiyar.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/obshchenie-s-duhom-zolotogo-cheloveka-simvolom-kaz https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=o76qhGbl5lk

00:00 Start of video.

00:58 Preparing for contact. Relay contact.

Irina: I need (I'll explain now) just lean back, get out of my body and travel. First I will go to the plasmoid world. I'll look for the Spirit of the area here, I'll talk to him who it is. In any case, he knows himself or from his predecessors. One of our curators will come with me, his name is LiShioni. He is from the planet Shimor. He is here in the astral body, and the two of us will travel together. And then, where the Spirit of the area will direct us, because I specifically left acquaintance with the Spirit of this man, whom you call the Golden Man, directly on the area, I had not previously dealt with this issue.

Maxim: You can lie down if you want.

Irina: No need.

Maxim: Is it normal? Give us feedback. Where shall we go next?

Irina: The Spirit is present with us now. He is not embodied.

Maxim: Not embodied?

Irina: He had three more incarnations after. He is here with us now.

Maxim: With the Golden Man?

Irina: Yes. His Spirit, and the Spirit of the area - he is from the twelfth level of density. We are with LiShioni, and there is also a Spirit of the 12th density level who is responsible for this area. His name is (my perception) Asauleac. And we also invited the Spirit, which is not currently embodied, which was in the body of the person we found. I asked him to come. She told me about the importance of our event.

He began to give me information about his incarnation. I realized that it is difficult for me to remember in an altered state of consciousness in the Astral, so it would be better to ask him questions here directly. You will now ask questions, because I might have mixed up the answers, or something wrong to say.

Maxim: We will probably give it right away.

Irina: You will ask him now. He is through me, through my consciousness - he doesn't have ears, they remain in his physical body. He can only hear sounds through the brain, the perception of the contactee. Now ask a question, he will hear it through me, give the answer mentally, and I will translate.

Now I explain to the person how contact occurs. Why am I explaining? Because each contactee transfers information from the astral plane through his perception. This suggests that if you were already talking to someone else, they might have interpreted the information—the same information—differently. Each contactee conveys everything differently. Firstly, he selects words, so to speak, from his memory - when he speaks out loud, he translates them into speech. This is called "contact relay".

You can ask him the questions you asked me. He is present here now. True, I want to say right away that at the moment, so that everyone understands who he is, he is on the 6th level.

Maxim: At the level of the Archons?

Irina: Yes. But this is not because of that incarnation, but because of the last one. He told me more about the last incarnation, because his impressions are more recent.

The fact is that every Spirit goes through a chain of reincarnations. It is impossible to achieve complete perfection in one life. Even in many lifetimes it is impossible. Therefore, a certain opportunity is given to return to this world again and again.

05:37 Golden man about himself.

Participant: What gender was the Golden Man, male or female?

Irina: Man.

Participant: What name?

Irina: I hear that in his language, as it will be conveyed by our sounds, his name was Aziyar or Assiyar. This is how I can convey.

Participant: What tribe did he belong to?

Irina: (Golden Man) Our people were called Saori.

Participant: Saori?

Irina: Saori. It's like some kind of language.

Participant: Who was he during his lifetime? What was his occupation?

Irina: The son of a leader, he was also related to priests and shamans. Studied. Unlike many other people around me, I was literate (shows how he writes). Others could draw, but I could also write.

07:05 Golden man about the cause of his death.

Participant: Cause of death?

Irina: Murder.

Participant: Who?

Irina: The enemies killed me.

Participant: At what age?

Irina: I was 21 years old. Twenty-one was coming - almost twenty-one.

Participant: Are there any relatives in the neighboring mounds?

Irina: Relatives - do you mean his blood or even from his tribe?

Participant: From the tribe.

Irina: Yes. He reveals that he and his father were killed. His mother remained alive at that time, and they were killed together by those who wanted some kind of rebellion, or to overthrow the government. There was a struggle for power. As I understand it. He's showing me pictures now. It was at night. The last memory shows. Something like a tent, like this one, only it's smaller and a different color. He's inside. Dark. And they are attacked.

08:20: Golden Man about the time of his life.

Participant: What is the time of life and death?

Maxim: What year?

Irina: Now, I asked LiShioni to compare it with our dates, because this: “I was born in the year of some constellation Draco, when the sun was turned to such and such a constellation” (shows an image) - this means absolutely nothing to me does not speak. Therefore, I asked LiSioni to calculate from his memory what year he was from according to our chronology.

(LiShioni) According to his individual vibrations, according to his internal memory, he was incarnated approximately in the years 512 - 490. There was a birth approximately between them - BC, that is, before the Nativity of Christ.

Maxim: What year is it?

Participant: About the third century BC - two and a half thousand years ago.

Irina: He says that he is not the third, before.

Participant: Before?

Irina: Before three.

09:55 Golden man about the origin of the tribe and mounds.

Participant: Origin of the tribe? Where did they come from?

From the public: Altai.

Irina: Shows the North. It's not them, it's the ancestors who came. We were here, but our ancestors came. Large mountains in the north, northeast.

What is this your card or what?

Participant: Why were these mounds placed exactly here?

Irina: Sacred place. When our ancestors arrived, there were already other burials here. They already lived on the mounds. Shows that people have lived here for a long time. This is a sacred place.

Maxim: Why did you come here?

Irina: Relocation. We were looking for a new space to raise livestock. We were looking for space and constantly moving forward. They moved forward, and then they could live in one place for several years, or they could live for several months. Depends on how much space there was. But I personally didn't like moving with my family, with my father, with my wife (he already had a wife, shows the girl).

11:54 Golden man about his kind.

Participant: Children?

Irina: Yes, there was a child, a small one.

Participant: Boy, girl?

Irina: Boy. It was probably two or three years since he remembers it.

Participant: Another question. What is now called the "Rakhat settlement" already existed at that time?

Irina: This is not our language.

Maxim: Where is it located, is this settlement?

Participant: Three and a half kilometers from here.

Irina: Maybe they named it later.

Participant: But did this settlement exist under a different name in those days?

Irina: There were many settlements here - both large and small. When I lived here, when I was here the son of the leader and his heir, it was the richest family, which was deified - sacrifices were made to it or some gifts were given. That's why I didn't like to travel, to move from one place. Because it didn’t matter to me how much space there was for other people’s livestock - the Saori brought it to my father and me.

He wants to talk about his last incarnation.

Participants: Let him tell you.

Irina: “Saori” is translated from our language as “shiori” - “si”, the power of the image of our deity. The image of a deity who gives us strength.

Maxim: Who was worshiped, what deity?

Irina: Tengri.

Maxim: Tengri? What it is?

Irina: Sky (points to the sky).

Participant: What's his name again?

Maxim: Tengri. God.

Participant: No his name.

Irina: Assiyar. Something in between.

Participant: At the end of the “r”?

Irina: Assiyar.

Participant: What was your mother's name? Yes, mom, dad.

Irina: Luaria.

Maxim: And dad?

Irina: Parhar.

Maxim: From the North?

Irina: It’s not him from the North, it’s his ancestors.

Participant: What color are their skin?

Irina: White, but not entirely. Pink - the same as ordinary people. That's how it is with us.

Participant: Hair color?

Irina: The dark one is showing. Not quite black, but something like chestnut.

Participant: And the eyes?

Participant: Where did his head and pelvis go?

Maxim: Spirits usually do not answer such questions.

Irina: I have already left my body.

Maxim: When they leave, they are not interested in the remains at all.

Participant: Physical body.

Maxim: Not interested at all.

16:17 Golden man about his spiritual level.

Participant: What level did he go to?

Irina: From Assiyar’s body?

Participant: Yes.

Irina: Level 13. Because I didn't complete my task.

Participant: And when did you incarnate?

Irina: 15th.

Participant: 15th?

Irina: From the 15th I went to the 13th.

Participant: Let's talk about the last incarnation.

Maxim: Wait, maybe there are some other questions.

16:49 Golden Man about the rituals of God Tengri.

Participant: Let him tell you about God Tengri, how they worshiped?

Maxim: Yes, how did you worship God?

Irina: Fire is a manifestation of God Tengri on Earth. We lit a fire and threw offerings. Some birds (shows) like small pigeons, and they, already without feathers, without heads, were thrown into the fire. They walked around like it was a holiday. Then they take the ash from this fire, scatter the pebbles on the field, and then sow the grains. Light up the field.

17:42 Golden man about the slaves of the tribe.

Maxim: Who made his robe? Who gave it to him?

Participant: So masterful. Very precise work.

Irina: Slaves, workers, they were in captivity. They were forced to do this.

Maxim: Who did they keep as slaves?

Irina: Shows battles with individual tribes for territories; adults were most often killed - they resisted. But the children - boys - were taken captive and raised as slaves, raised.

18:43 Golden Man about trade turnover in the tribe.

Participant: Where did they get so much gold if they were nomads?

Irina: There were different paths. It happened that they exchanged it for something from other nations (shows how they came).

Participant: What did they exchange for?

Irina: For food.

Maxim: He didn’t have time to answer the whole question. Where else did they get gold?

Irina: And it happened that they passed it on from generation to generation. If there was an attack on a caravan that was carrying gold, it was plundered. I didn't do this. But if there was such a thing in our tribe, then it was preserved. But I didn't do that.

Maxim: Did you mine gold yourself?

Irina: Our tribe is not. It was gold that was not mined. Other metals are something like copper (shows). Some kind of river in the mountains, and there, not far from the river, there are stones that they melted in a rectangular stone container over a fire. The stone was somehow thin (shows an image). And they put these stones there, which melted and turned into metal.

Maxim: Smelted from stones.

Irina: There were tribes that mined gold. Not we.

Maxim: What area did their tribe oversee?

Irina: There could also be gifts. Gold could be as a gift, that is, as an offering to the leader.

Maxim: How many people did the leaders have under their control? What is the number from all the tribes that were under control?

Irina: About two thousand.

Maxim: Two thousand people worked for the leader?

Irina: They could have given him just the gold that they themselves got in this way.

Maxim: What was the gold exchanged for?

Irina: They could come from one tribe, take a girl as a wife to someone, and they exchanged gold for it, paid for it. And also those who did not want to engage in livestock breeding, they exchanged it for milk and meat, that is, they bought it.

They had that kind of money back then, as I understand it. That is, there were no coins, but just some pieces. I wouldn't call it an ingot, just pieces like that.

22:22 Golden man about the territory and living conditions.

Participant: What was this area called, where did they live? Now it’s Kazakhstan, and before?

Irina: Areya. Land of the Sunrise (shows how the sun rises behind the mountain and illuminates the valley). And that's why it was called the Land of the Sunrise.

Participant: What was the territory like? Size?

Maxim: On what territory was the tribe and the management of the tribe located?

Irina: I’ll now describe to him first what a square meter is.

Maxim: What unit of measurement was it? How did you measure the territory?

Irina: Sak.

Participant: What is sak?

Maxim: Sak or step.

Irina: Sak. This is approximately the same as twelve human steps.

Participant: What kind of houses did they live in then? In dugouts or yurts? What did they have?

Irina: He shows me the skins of animals - sheep or rams. They put something like wooden sticks and skins on them. And then they took it apart and folded it up.

Participant: What were they called?

Maxim: Again, it will be in their language.

Irina: Aliyura, aliyura.

Participant: What was their climate like at that time? Were there winters?

Irina: Yes.

Participant: Severe?

Irina: Shows how it rains. Sometimes there was snow, but they often continued to graze.

Participant: All year round, right?

Irina: Yes, the grass was preserved, and there was even snow. Large rams dig with their hooves - like deer.

Participant: Was there a lake in the mountains then?

Irina: Above them?

Participant: Yes.

Irina: He shows me a river that runs over the stones. And along this river there are some stones. And several people climb over these stones, search and just find some stones that later turn into metal. They walk along the river. There is some grass growing there. Berries.

Maxim: Any other questions?

Participant: Did you make the weapons yourself?

Irina: Yes, artisans. I didn't do it, but there were some of the people.

26:26 The Golden Man about the language and the inscription on the cup.

Maxim: What was your language?

Irina: Saori.

Participant: What does it look like?

Maxim: How can he compare? What language was your language like? Were there languages similar to yours?

Irina: It was similar to the language of the people who lived to the north of us. Some kind of patiche or patishe. The Patishe people's language was similar to ours. And modern (reads from Irina's memory).

As far as I understand it, it was more like Arabic. I hear a lot of "al, el, il.” Lots of L's.

Maxim: What was written on the silver cup that was found next to you?

Irina: What could they give you?

Maxim: Yes, by the way.

Irina: Why did they put so much in there anyway? I heard that they put a lot of items.

It's like a sign of respect. Like a sacrifice.

Participant: Maybe the Spirit of the area knows what could be depicted on the bowl? Irina: She shows me several of them - three or four images, they are round, and each one has something written on it. I wouldn’t call it letters, like we do. Just dashes. This line is like a rune.

Maxim: What is the meaning of these inscriptions?

Irina: This is the purpose of the dishes, because they were very rarely made of metal, and they were special for some purpose. Not just the ones they drink from every day, that's why it was written on them.

Maxim: What is written?

Irina: So that descendants, who will use them later, know their purpose.

On the cup that they could put for me, there was written what is used in the burial ritual. To be sent to the Spiritual World. There such bowls could only be used. And it was written on them that this cup was intended for the wine that was drunk at this ritual.

In general, because of its taste, wine was considered a little bitter - a drink not of joy, but of grief for the deceased. It is used in burial rituals. It should have been written there that this cup was intended for wine, which was used in the burial ritual. For wine for seeing off to the world of Spirits. This is roughly the translation.

Maxim: Now I'll ask a question. Is this your interpretation of the inscription, or is it the inscription you saw?

Irina: I know what kind of bowls we had, especially, as you said, silver ones. There weren't many of them (shows three). And what they could put with me is used in ritual. Because that's the custom. Others were buried soldiers.

When they killed me and my father, our other relatives, there were many of them (shows): brothers, father's brothers, then father's father's brothers, that is, clan. They came from other places. And they, if a murder occurred, how could they bury a warrior - as if he died in the war, gave his Soul to the war. There is a special ritual for this. And wine was used there.

32:37 Golden Man about the meaning of a funeral suit.

Participant: Where was your father buried?

Irina: I didn't see his body, but according to customs, it's probably next to me.

Participant: Please tell me there are six more Golden Men on the soil of Kazakhstan. Are they connected - these tribes - to each other?

Irina: They call the Golden Man a suit that has been preserved because 2000 years have already passed since they found your body and, naturally, there is little left of it, you understand. Is there a connection?

This could simply be a symbol of the leaders. But these may be different peoples. It is a common idea that gold is a precious metal that is used for clothing and decoration not in everyday life, but for those sent to the Spirit World.

Gold is the metal of the Sun (shows how it is sent to the Sun). These are exactly funeral clothes - they didn’t just walk around in them - but special funeral clothes.

Maxim: On your headdress, on your suit, in which you were buried, there are four arrows. What do they mean?

Irina: Four arrows represent the four forces of the Soul, which are directed upward from the head.

Maxim: What are the four forces?

Irina: Four powers of the soul - Khar, Maori, Silasi, Paash.

That's about it. I can't hear with my ears. You need to understand that these are mental images, mental packages, because he has no language.

Maxim: What do they mean – these forces? How to describe?

Irina: The power of desire, the power of thought, the power of reproducing one’s own kind (the power of the earth) and the power, in your opinion, of the desire for God.

He is now showing me a drawing of a man. When he was 14 years old, they drew such a picture, and these arrows were in a person. One is directed downwards, the other is directed upwards, and two are directed to the sides, creating a cross.

Maxim: Were these forces directed up, down, right and left? It turns out there are four cardinal directions.

Participant: And when they come out, are they all up?

Irina: When the desire is upward, that is, towards the Sun.

Maxim: Why such high hats? Why were high hats needed?

Irina: Because the Soul leaves through the channel (shows), and it symbolizes the pipe.

36:58 Descendants of the Saori.

Participant: Kazakhs - are these people your descendants?

Irina: (LiShioni speaks) Dozens of peoples lived here. He had already left that life and was no longer involved in incarnations into people. According to the history of the Earth, dozens of peoples lived in this territory. And what he calls “tiori” could be a branch of a larger people.

Participant: What were these people called?

Maxim: A larger nation from which there was a branch?

Irina: (LiShioni) The people that you call Scythians, or Saakhs - they were heterogeneous. There were many tribes there. And in terms of language it was heterogeneous.

38:07 Appearance of the Golden Man.

Irina: Show me your image, your face. I'll describe it.

Participant: Eye color?

Irina: Normal eye shape.

Participant: European?

Irina: No, a Russian person. It’s oblong, not too elongated, but rectangular. Young enough. He has some kind of antennae coming out here. And here too.

Participant: Goatee? What colour?

Irina: Dark.

Maxim: Eye color?

Irina: Dark. But not black, but brown, not light brown, but dark brown.

Maxim: I asked about height, but what to compare with? What's your height? How can you describe what kind of height?

Irina: About me. Maybe even a little lower, but about the same as me.

Participant: And your height?

Irina: 170.

Maxim: Ask the rest of the questions. Only one at a time.

39:33 Golden Man about the Saori language.

Participant: And what about greeting them?

Maxim: Yes, how does the greeting sound in their language?

Irina: Alli Yahoo.

Participant: Did they also say “Alli Yahoo” in response?

Irina: Also “Alli Yahoo”. And so they did - they bowed, and then shook hands.

What did "alli yahoo" mean? This meant a wish for Light from heaven. “Alli” is the heavenly Light, and “hu” is “you.”

Maxim: Still, I want to ask. I didn't get an answer for myself. These inscriptions on the bowls - were they letters, or were they syllables, or were they words?

Irina: There were letters, and there were syllables.

Maxim: Both letters and syllables?

Irina: It was so. Many other incarnations have already passed, this is what I remember.

He is now turning to that part of memory that is responsible for that incarnation. Reads information from there. And he says that there were signs that denoted the letters: “a”, “o”, “r”, and there were, but there were fewer of them, signs that denoted syllables.

Maxim: A whole syllable?

Irina: And there were ones that indicated numbers.

Maxim: Numbers?

Irina: I don’t know the Sumerians.

Maxim: Imagine what the Sumerians are for him now...

Any questions?

Participant: Does he know who killed him?

Irina: Enemies.

41:52 Golden man about everyday clothing and weapons.

Maxim: What kind of everyday clothes did you wear? What did you wear?

Irina: They were like dressing gowns. They sewed from leather.

Maxim: Made from leather?

Irina: Yes. And there's some kind of fringe here. And something like a leather jacket. She protected from the heat.

Maxim: What kind of weapon was it?

Irina: Arrows, spears. The stick is so long with a tip. And knives.

Participant: Gold or metal?

Irina: Why gold?

Participant: Iron or bronze?

Maxim: Knives.

Irina: Bronze, there were also iron ones, but less often. This was rare.

Participant: Were there chariots?

Irina: Yes. There were chariots. With two wooden wheels.

43:19 Golden Man about the rock paintings of Tamgaly-Tas.

Participant: Please answer about the rock paintings! Very interesting. We live here. We have one on the Ili River - it’s very beautiful.

Maxim: Please ask the right correct question about rock paintings.

Participant: What do the Tamgaly-Tas rock paintings mean?

Irina: This needs to be specifically shown. There were quite a lot of them.

Maxim: Let him count from your image.

Participant: He looks like Buddha sitting.

Irina: The hunters drew, but this is not from our tribe. I saw them, how they lived here. But we didn't draw it. Hunters.

Participant: These are ancient after all? Not modern, created for tourism?

Maxim: Were there before you?

Irina: When I was born, they were. But I don't know exactly about them. I was told that hunters painted this.

Participant: We assume that this is done for tourism, for development. It's so difficult there with such tools!..

Irina: They just showed me the deer. He says: “The hunters were drawing.”

Participant: And there’s not a deer there, there’s Buddha!

44:18 The golden man about life in his tribe.

Participant: Did you use horses? Horses?

Irina: Milk, bread. Not even bread, but something like porridge with water (shows a fire). And so they cooked it. Meat, bird eggs (shows how they are collected). Some mountain birds, quite large - not eagles, but smaller ones. And they are not predatory. Kind of like a partridge. And so their eggs are collected.

Participant: Did you have polygamy?

Maxim: Was it possible to have many wives?

Irina: This was freely permitted at the request of the person himself. The woman had to obey.

Maxim: What kind of livestock were there?

Irina: Shows a horse, a ram, cows, but they are low, with large horns. The dogs were herding sheep. And sheep could walk in the mountains. There were goats, but less often. There were few of them.

Participant: Camels?

Irina: This is not ours. It's further south. I saw them, but they were not in our tribe.

46:30 Golden Man about contacts with aliens.

Participant: Did they have open contacts with aliens then?

Irina: Did you have contacts? What do you mean with whom? With people like LiShioni?

I didn’t see it, but my father and my father told me when I was little that Gods can appear in the human world on heavenly bowls (shows). That is, they were flying, but I didn’t see them.

I saw one old man who met them in the mountains. He was already a very old man. He was definitely over sixty years old.

47:48 Golden man about life expectancy in the tribe.

Participant: How many lived at that time?

Maxim: What was the average age of life in your tribe?

Irina: 35-40.

Maxim: At 60 years old - a very old man!

Irina: He shows me the image of an old man who walked with a stick. He was so old that he could not chew food himself.

Participant: Why are there so many mounds? And is there anything that hasn't been found yet?

Irina: When I was born in this area, they were already there. Even before our tribe there was a people.

Participant: They kicked him out by force?

Irina: When I was born here, in this tribe, they told me that when our ancestors came here, there were just remains here. There was no war here, in this territory. They just came here, and there were already remains here.

49:10 Golden Man about conflicts between tribes and burials.

Maxim: Did you often fight here? Have you often been attacked?

Irina: No, not often. Maybe once every five to seven years.

Participant: Who did you fight with?

Irina: With other tribes - from the south, from the southeast. Here they are with narrow eyes. They had many people - khaori. They surrounded a village or some kind of tent, all together shooting arrows at the same time. They aimed and fired at the same time. And they could have surrounded several people on horses.

For example, they go to the steppe. They are looking for a new pasture, where to move, where to move the sheep, and the dogs run alongside. They could surround the victim - these khaori stand on horseback around the victim and at the same time begin to shoot. And when there was a battle, they also tried to surround.

Participant: Were there any warrior girls?

Irina: No. I don’t know anyone like that (surprised).

Participant: Why were all the mounds plundered?

Irina: Because people have lost fear. Desecration. The veneration of the dead instilled fear - to even touch something, even to invade this territory - there would be something like a curse on their family for violating the border of another family without permission.

Maxim: Who built your mounds? Did you participate in the construction yourself?

Irina: Laughs. He says: “I’ll be there again, maybe (inaudible)”

Maxim: Who gave the technology for building mounds?

Irina: What is technology?

Maxim: Method of building mounds.

Irina: Priests (shows a man quite old, he is a priest).

Maxim: You were a priest. You should know how mounds are built.

Irina: That’s how I was taught. I was supposed to be the leader. Since I was supposed to be a leader, I was taught by the priests and told about the rituals. But I was not interested in these subtleties - the construction of mounds. Whatever they build for me is good.

53:10 The golden man about money and the position of slaves.

Participant: What tenge was it?

Maxim: There was a golden euro! I have a feeling that half of them were not present here.

Irina: What were these pieces of gold and silver called?

Race.

Maxim: Race?

Irina: I hear “race”.

Participant: What was the status of slaves?

Irina: What was the position of slaves in society?

Maxim: Could they have a family, children, live with you?

Irina: If he does poorly what he was ordered, they put a leather collar around his neck and drag him, throw him into some kind of hole, and he sits there in the heat. Clay sides. He couldn’t get out, he sat there for three days and was already asking for a drink. The first time they lowered a wooden ladder down for him. “It’ll happen again – we’ll throw you into another hole.” And there are already stakes with iron tips driven in there.

55:04 Golden man about leisure.

Maxim: What did you do in the evenings when you went to bed?

Irina: When we went to bed, we took care of the wives.

Maxim: What did you do in the evenings, besides taking care of the children?

Irina: We raised children. They told them about the world. They answered their questions. We talked with relatives. We drank tea (shows). Everyone is sitting at a table.

Maxim: Where did you get the light from? How did they get light when the sun went down?

Irina: The vessel was like a boat, and fat was poured into it and set on fire.

Participant: What musical instruments were there?

Irina: Something like a tambourine, but it has bells around it. And like a flute, a pipe. Doesn't show anything else. Here are these two.

57:02 The Golden Man about the purpose of the vessels.

Participant: What were large cauldrons and cauldrons used for? Large vessels. Metal, oval.

Irina: For meat. To cook meat, put it on fire.

Maxim: How did you fasten it?

Irina: You are the one calling the kavatchians.

Maxim: What was this one used for?

Irina: Something like a ritual bowl (shows). They stirred it with water and put some herbs in it. Then we drank it all.

Participant: Tea, perhaps?

Maxim: No. This is a ritual bowl. Blood, plants, various herbs.

Participant: What is the big clay jug for? Which we touched everything.

Irina: The one that was glued together?

Participant: Yes.

Irina: For grain. It was poured there and covered with a wooden lid to prevent mice from eating the grain. Mice could climb the walls and fall.

Participant: Is it true that they could also store jewelry there, in the same jar among the grain?

Irina: If only they hid them.

Participant: They hid it in this jug that we touched.

Irina: This is if you suddenly needed to leave urgently, for example, some kind of attack was planned. And this jug - you can't throw it to the enemies along with the grain - had to be placed on a cart. And jewelry was hidden between the grains. Because detachments could be waiting there, and they could just bring them in and say: "This is our food." And they could have been missed. They didn't know there was gold there.

Maxim: Watch the film "Robin Hood".

59:40 Golden Man about storing meat.

Participant: How was the meat stored?

Irina: My grandmother (shows) did this, I saw it as a child. He shows me how the meat was cut. Thin flat, cut with a shiny knife. And they sprinkled something on it. There wasn't a lot of salt there, they sprinkled it with herbs and then hung it in a place like a barn. There was no sun and no flies, it was closed. And he says that it's not allowed to be exposed to the sun. Dry needs air.

It turned out that some could cut off a piece and put it in their mouth. But it was impossible to chew, it was quite tough. The meat gradually became soft in the mouth, and they could hold it like that for two hours. It was quite nutritious. But they could also throw them into boiling water.

It now reproduces the taste for me - quite salty and with herbs. What kind of herbs - I don't even know what it looks like. Not coriander, not dill.

Participant: Pepper?

Irina: Not pepper.

Participant: Zira, probably.

Irina: It grows on the hills (shows), such long leaves. Like thyme, probably, just bushes like this.

Maxim: Any other questions?

Participant: What deity did the Golden Man tribe worship?

Answer from the audience: It already happened!

1:02:05 Golden Man about the daily life of the tribe.

Participant: Did they have agriculture? Did you grow plants other than wheat?

Irina: Sometimes, when they lived for several years, they could sow. And then they took it with them. And they also bought it for gold - they could come to some village where the peasants sold it.

Participant: What level was medicine at? How were you treated?

Irina: They drove away the Spirits of illness. Special spells, special herbs. For example, if a lump appeared on the skin, something like a boil, and a person fell ill, he had a fever, weakness - this meant that the Spirit, an evil Spirit, had entered the lump. And the shaman, the priest, in your opinion, the sorcerer, gave a special herb in which the Spirit lived, expelling the Spirit from this sore.

Maxim: They treated with grass, herbs, but they explained it with Spirits.

Irina: Every blade of grass has its own Spirit.

Maxim: Correct. Plasmoid civilizations make their Souls.

Participant: Did they have baths?

Maxim: How did you wash?

Participant: How often did you steam?

Irina: Firstly, they took water from the river. There were no wells to dig. Water was taken from the river in wooden or clay vessels and carried on something like a wooden stretcher. If it was far away, they could bring it on horseback. And they poured it into large jugs, like the ones used to hold wine, only they were even larger. They poured it there.

And if you wash, it shows some kind of excavated in the ground, clay soil, a recess, a hole, only it is small. Approximately, perhaps, to this depth. They dug it up like this, and then the man poured water there, and it stayed there, and he washed there.

Did you have baths? I just showed him that this is steam, they are steaming there. But he tells me that he is unfamiliar with this. It was simpler.

1:05:18 Golden Man about religious rituals in the tribe.

Participant: How did they pray?

Maxim: How did you turn to God? What rituals were there?

Irina: A lot. There were holidays every day. Morning evening. For some reason, this Tengri was connected with the Sun. The Sun appears from behind the mountain - and it’s like Tengri’s eye. Daytime eye of Tengri. And he was welcomed. And then, in the evening, when the daytime eye, the Sun, left, the Moon was perceived as the night eye. But since it was not always there, it was believed that he had a period of rest.

Maxim: That's it, Allah is sleeping, you can have wine.

Participant: During excavations, marble statues were found that depict either sleeping or dead people. We were looking at the museum now.

Irina: We need to show him.

Participant: Did you make boz from kumiss? It's like wine.

Irina: Shows that they grow grapes.

Participant: Yes? Are the grapes growing?

Irina: At least, I see something like a vegetable garden, and they have something like that weaving like this. Not cucumbers - like grapes, clusters hang.

Maxim: Did you make any alcohol from milk?

Irina: We made cheese. What kind of cheese is this, it’s actually some kind of piece of cottage cheese! Some kind of cottage cheese.

Participant: Cheese cheese, perhaps?

Maxim: Any other questions? Our excursion here was supposed to be short. Is it already twenty o'clock?

1:07:38 Golden Man about plans for his next incarnation.

Participant: Let's at least talk about the last incarnation!

Irina: He considered information about this. But something else is more important to him.

Now I am deciding the issue that I have already disembodied - in Afghanistan in 1978. My name was Ahmed. He died in battle (shows that he died in battle, he was suddenly disembodied). I had hatred in my Soul, and because of this I ended up on the sixth level.

Now my mentors say that I already have a favorable opportunity for incarnation on Earth in Russia, because I treated this people badly, without Love, with hatred. So that I can understand that the same Soul lives in the body of a Russian person as in me.

Maxim: In general, when you are incarnated, you hear “Cassiopeia” - come. Thank you so much! Let's also thank the Spirit of the area! Thank you for your support!

Do you have any wishes for us? Maybe he would like to convey or say something? We have a person here who is studying exactly your life that you have lived. Here they are in different conjectures: what happened, what tribe, what clan?

Irina: I came to tell you about this life, and now I want to ask you a question. My mentors recommend that I incarnate in Russia. They name me three cities, but I don’t know anything about them. Which one would I feel better in?

Maxim: I believe that it is necessary to determine the spiritual heart.

Participant: Name it. What cities?

Maxim: Tricky! Look, he immediately asks for advice!

Irina: They offer Omsk, Ryazan and Rostov-on-Don. Which is better?

Participant: So, we need to go to Omsk. This is the old city of Asgard Iria.

Maxim: Rostov-on-Don, Omsk, Ryazan - anywhere.

Participant: Which is closer to Voronezh.

Maxim: We need to dive deeper into the village.

01:53 Introduction of participants.

Ekaterina: Hello. My name is Ekaterina. I am the head of the St. Petersburg branch of the Cassiopeia Health Center. I work with stones, I am a universal contactee, bioenergeticist, aromatologist - I conduct aroma diagnostics. I create individual aromatherapy mixtures for people that work with the mental and physical bodies, as well as psychosomatics.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today with us is my curator from the planet Esler - biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations - MidgasKaus.

Irina: Hello, Katenka!

Ekaterina: Mid, hello! Irisha, hello!

Irina: Mid also says hello. Today we have an interesting topic: “Essential oils and their use for physical health and to help in Spiritual development.”

03:05 Origin of terrestrial plants. Changes in the genotype of Earth's plants.

Ekaterina: Absolutely right! I work with oils and cannot imagine my life without them. The idea was born to communicate with you, with Mead, so that he would answer some questions that I had compiled. The first question is: are our plants grown on Earth, or were some of them brought from other planets?

Irina: All the plants that exist on Earth were there, but not in the form in which they are now. Many have been selected by people themselves. But when representatives of other civilizations arrived on Earth, they also experimented (shows) with the genes of various plants in order to develop species with the desired properties. This especially affected the cereal family.

When people began to live on earth, they began to grow ancient wheat, barley and others from field plants. This is a wild plant of the grass family, somewhat similar to bluegrass. Something similar, only the ear is different. This type of bluegrass underwent targeted genetic mutation, and the seeds of wheat, barley and other various plants were obtained. One can, of course, figuratively say that they were brought from other planets. But this only means that it was not they that were imported, but the ideas for their creation; the material was on Earth.

Ekaterina: Are all plants of terrestrial origin?

Irina: Yes. Only they were often modified so that they could bear more fruit, with more nutrients, so that their growing season could be extended. All this was created for the first ancient people.

Ekaterina: All these improvements were created in cooperation with plasmoids? Did they ask permission?

Irina: Yes, of course, it was in contact with plasmoids and under their control. They created a plant Soul for those plant seeds that had altered properties. It was in consultation with them. Specialists of the Interstellar Union, before making changes to the genotype of any body occupied by a living Soul, first create a general council with the creators of this living Soul - plant or animal, so that everything goes harmoniously.

Ekaterina: Great. Fine.

06:28 MidgasKaus about methods of treating earthly man.

Ekaterina: Please tell me, what is the difference between aromatherapy and herbal medicine?

Irina: Aromatherapy is a branch of herbal medicine. But its peculiarity is due to the fact that plant aromas and special essential oils are used. Substances that have a strong odor are collected in a liquid such as plant concentrate, and are used more through the respiratory system. Although aromatherapy involves the use of essential oils internally, the name itself suggests that it is the inhalation of aromas. Aroma is a certain pleasant smell. Aromatherapy is healing through the air, through breathing.

Ekaterina: Are there any differences in the degree of effectiveness of aromatherapy and herbal medicine? Which of these methods is more effective?

Irina: Each person is individual, and the approach of Eslerian medicine is to treat not a single organ, but to bring the entire body into harmony. Aromatherapy, physiotherapy, and herbal medicine can be used, if we are talking about Earthly man. Sometimes pharmaceuticals are used, that is, those drugs that contain concentrates of certain chemicals. We call them “drugs chemically purified from impurities.”

Ekaterina: Please tell me, are essential oils capable of replacing pharmaceuticals?

Irina: In some cases, yes, you can get by with essential oils alone. Especially in cases of functional disorders, as well as diseases such as acute conditions of the gastrointestinal tract, respiratory tract, respiratory system, and exacerbation of chronic diseases in this area. But each person is individual, for some this is suitable, for others they need support with other drugs.

Ekaterina: Is there a powerful future for essential oils in development and popularization?

Irina: I think so! Because this is a very promising direction to improve people's health, reduce the dosage of medications they take and the occurrence of side effects.

I also see great prospects in the use of essential oils in psychology, psychotherapy and even psychiatry. Because using them, spraying them in rooms where patients of this profile are located, will contribute to emotional calm and harmonization of all their spiritual states.

10:04 Essential oils and mental states.

Ekaterina: What specific oil would you recommend spraying for such patients?

Irina: If these are depressive symptoms, then it is good to use citrus and eucalyptus oils. Oils of orange, lemon, grapefruit, tangerine, and eucalyptus are antidepressants and improve mood.

And if we are talking about psychotic conditions that cause hallucinations and delusions, distortion of thinking due to inharmonious contact with any entity outside the dense physical world, on the subtle or spiritual plane, then lavender oil will help very well. It harmonizes contact with plasmoid worlds, reduces the intensity of fear and anxiety.

The essential energy of lavender, including tea made from it, and the spraying of oil harmonizes, improves the contact and conductivity of the essential energies of plasma civilizations through the human body. There will be more control of contact, less fear and more awareness. This does not cancel spiritual work, it is an auxiliary method. It helps a person with his spiritual work with himself, dissolving blocks and talking with the Higher Self. If you also use the aroma of lavender, then all this will happen faster.

If these are negative entities of the Spiritual world, that is, disembodied Spirits from demonic levels, then it is good to use the oil of myrrh, frankincense, sandalwood, as well as wormwood, tansy, and yarrow. This contributes to the fact that a person develops vibrations that are poorly suited to these demonic worlds. This also does not cancel spiritual work, but, as in the case of lavender, helps to more quickly complete the lesson of this contact.

It is also very good to use essential oils for contact with the Higher Self, for meditative states, and astral travel. For example, in yoga and meditation halls it is very good to diffuse jasmine oil. This contributes to the appearance in a person's etheric field of such vibrations that promote the opening of the 7th chakra and tune in to the perception of very high-vibration plasmoid worlds and higher regions of the Spiritual world.

Ekaterina: Wonderful!

14:01 Essential oils and chakras. Harmonic correspondence.

Ekaterina: Since we are talking about chakras, can we go through the chakra system? What essential oils activate each chakra?

Irina: In fact, each chakra has several of them. Moreover, the same oil acts not on one chakra, but also on several. I'll name the main ones. I know that people are looking for a certain remedy, directing their faith that it will help them in opening some chakra. This factor will additionally act as a setting for this oil.

To cleanse and open the first chakra, it is good to massage the whole body, especially the feet with ylang-ylang oil. Bergamot oil is also suitable. The soles of the feet are in contact with the ground, and the energy of plasmoid terrestrial civilizations comes from the ground into the middle of the feet. In the middle of the foot, like in the palm, there is a mini-chakra - an energy center. On the feet there are two channels in two legs, and on the subtle etheric plane it is one large funnel. When you massage your feet with this oil, the work of the first chakra is activated, all its petals, all the structures that are in the first chakra begin to open.

During a massage, a person should relax and not think about anything in particular - relax his mind. Those memories and thoughts that will come to him about unpleasant events, if there are blocks in this chakra, it is necessary to let them go and send Love there.

I want to dwell on one point in more detail. What does activation with essential oil mean – opening the chakras? This is not an automatic discovery, but a bringing to mind of a person those situations that may have blocked this chakra. To feel this, you need to mentally distract yourself from everyday affairs. Even if a person massages himself, he should relax and clear his mind. That memory that comes to mind - it can come suddenly - you need to turn your attention to it and direct the Light of Love there. You can also concentrate mentally on the coccyx area - imagine the Light there. This will also increase the impact.

Citrus fruits suit the second chakra. They have an antidepressant effect. The second chakra is responsible for emotions, and its activation brings a feeling of joy and optimism. Use essential oils of grapefruit, tangerine, and orange.

Lemon oil is more for the third chakra, its activating moment. The third chakra is lemon and eucalyptus.

The fourth chakra is lavender. She is also approaching the sixth. Myrrh oil – to activate the fourth and seventh at the same time. Each oil can affect several chakras.

Catherine: There is a connection between the fourth and seventh chakras. In the fourth energy center, a large number of blocks are formed in the form of grievances, anger, etc.

Irina: As for the fifth chakra, different oils can be used here - thyme, basil, coriander and other spices.

Catherine: Can cinnamon suit the fifth chakra?

Irina: Yes. This is also a spice. The sixth chakra is more suitable for coniferous oils: cedar, juniper, pine, that is, woody scents. And the seventh chakra contains smells of a special group, as you call them, “noble” (which are sprayed near temples).

Ekaterina: We call them “cult”, “camphor”.

Irina: Yes, camphors are frankincense, myrrh, sandalwood. All sandalwood scented oils activate the seventh chakra.

Thyme, which I named for the fifth chakra, was a seasoning in ancient times. It was used as a spice. And coriander oil too. In general, all spicy oils.

Ekaterina: I understand.

Please tell me where the system of oils for activating the chakras came from? How did it happen that spicy oils activate the fifth chakra, while woody oils activate the sixth?

Irina: Each chakra has a certain vibration. Chakra is an energy center manifested through the human body, which reflects the spiritual qualities of the embodied part of the Spirit. Each chakra simultaneously exists in the etheric field and in the place of the physical body onto which this part of the etheric body is projected. And there, in the physical body, certain vibrations occur. Vibrations can be physical and they can be ethereal.

Each essential oil also has the physical vibrations of the herbs from which it is made, and the subtle etheric energies that are concentrated in a given plant. Each type of oil corresponds in vibration to a chakra. This means that according to the law of harmonization, the difference between the vibrations of the oil and the chakra is a multiple so that the oil can raise the vibrations. This is called "harmonic matching".

23:15 Essential oils and human vibrations.

Ekaterina: Do essential oils increase human vibrations?

Irina: They increase the vibrations of the etheric body. We have physical, etheric (subtle material) and spiritual vibrations. An increase in etheric vibrations contributes to an increase in spiritual vibrations during spiritual work. It helps – it gives a boost.

Why did I now name several oils for each chakra? In order to increase spiritual vibrations, it is very important that the aroma of the oil is subjectively pleasant to a person, so that he can experience joy and not experience discomfort.

Ekaterina: If a person likes a scent, can we say that this scent will be a resource for him?

Irina: Yes, he can even inhale it in moments when he is upset or tired about something in order to increase his resource.

Ekaterina: During diagnostics, I compose an individual aromatic mixture according to the request of a specific person. He then works with her, interacts. How effective is it?

Irina: It's effective for him. He can use these oils for the purposes for which he was diagnosed: inhale the aroma, add to the bath. Some oils can be taken orally in small doses.

25:17 Methods for obtaining aromatic oils and their quality.

Ekaterina: Does the quality of the oil affect its effectiveness?

Irina: The purer the oil - without impurities, the more vibrations of the plant it contains.

Ekaterina: Does the extraction method affect the composition of the oil and its properties?

Irina: The main thing is that a specific plant is used and no others are added to it. The method doesn't really matter.

Although it depends on what method. If by steam sublimation (using water vapor), then this is a good way to obtain oils: water has more neutral energy compared to the plant. But previously, another method was used when they took the required amount of plants, usually herbal, and boiled them in a large amount of another oil. The result was an extract extract. There were already vibrations of both the plant from which the base oil was taken and the one in which it was boiled. Then you need to look at compatibility: the base oil could enhance the effect, could be neutral, or could weaken it.

Ekaterina: Got it.

26:50 The emergence of knowledge about aromatherapy on Earth.

Catherine: Mead, please tell me where such a science as aromatherapy came to Earth?

Irina: From several sources. It happened that people took from their own experience. A healer who treated people noticed (shows) that when inhaling certain odors the person felt better. And he passed all this on to his students. And it happened that I received it mentally from my curators, from plasmoid civilizations, from the Spiritual World, from alien civilizations - through contact. It even happened that a person received this information from his Higher Self, as the experience of past lives, as memories. But the memories are not about the past life itself, but about the fact that the aroma of this grass or flowers can help with something.

28:05 Safety when using essential oils.

Ekaterina: Please tell me, can essential oils harm a person in any way?

Irina: They can, if they are used in large doses: an excess amount of oil can cause irritation or even tissue burns. Some people may also experience allergic reactions. This is because each oil is an antiseptic and antiparasitic substance, and if a person has a large number of microbes, parasites in the blood, then they can be irritated by the introduction of the oil and cause swelling or a rash. That is, they can come out of a person. In this case, care must be taken to avoid causing serious complications.

Caution is also required for those who are allergic to the plants from which these oils are extracted. Allergic reactions can be caused both by improper functioning of the liver and (as I already said) by infection in large quantities by various microbes and parasites and the reaction of these organisms. They can also be caused by psychosomatic reasons, that is, experiences that caused energy blocks that the person forgot about. But now his body reacts to the smell of the plant that was present during this experience in a negative way. This also happens.

30:10 Essential oils and psychosomatics.

Ekaterina: Do essential oils help when working with psychosomatics?

Irina: Yes, of course. It is very good, as I already said, when in contact with the Higher Self, in any meditative states, for example, forgiving oneself, forgiving others - any meditation - to use jasmine oil, lavender, floral scents.

Ekaterina: And for forgiveness, which oil is most effective?

Irina: Same as for meditative states. Jasmine oil, for example, promotes high spiritual states, including forgiveness.

Ekaterina: Wonderful.

31:00 Essential oils on Esler.

Ekaterina: Please tell me, Mead, do you use essential oils in your practice, are they available on your planet?

Irina: We have factories that also extract essence from our flowers, from plants growing on the surface of the soil and in water bodies. “Essence” is translated from Latin as “the essence of the flower.” And here we call it “alfryuzim” - in Russian it can be translated as “essence”.

Ekaterina: Where did you get plants that are similar to ours: from Earth or do you have them?

Irina: We have similar plants. They are similar in that they have chlorophyll, which processes sunlight into certain substances. There are also similar cycles of existence, but the forms of plants themselves are different (shows). They also have a leaf, a root, a flower, but different forms. For example, a tree is a white trunk with leaves growing on it without branches. There are also trees (I remember) in which the upper part of the trunk is green and the lower part is white.

Ekaterina: How interesting!

33:16 The use of essential oils by aliens.

Ekaterina: For what purpose do you use essential oils?

Irina: In order to adjust your mental states. When we experience some emotions, we inhale essential oils, and then, already in other conditions, inhaling them, we can remember this emotion. Also, to harmonize the upbringing of children, oils are sprayed in children's rooms and classrooms: to enhance brain function, activate and simply for a good mood, to increase vibrations.

Ekaterina: Do you use oils for oral administration in your medicine?

Irina: We don’t have medical use, we have prevention. Essential oils are used in food as additives in order to maintain a constant level of certain substances in the body. It's like your spices.

Ekaterina: I understand.

34:52 Healing with essential oils.

Ekaterina: Please tell me, is it possible for a person to be healed with essential oils?

Irina: It's possible. It all depends on what exactly he will be treated for, and how he will eliminate the spiritual causes of the disease, and whether he will do this.

Ekaterina: Got it.

35:10 Using essential oils for children.

Ekaterina: You said that your children interact with essential oils. Do you think our earthly children need them?

Irina: I think that it would be very good to use an aroma lamp to diffuse certain essential oils so that children are more emotionally balanced, cheerful, and joyful. I have already talked about essential oils that improve your mood, for example, the aroma of orange. The aromas of mint, dill, coriander and lavender also work well for children in small quantities.

Ekaterina: Okay.

36:18 Rejuvenating essential oils. Aroma oils for women.

Ekaterina: A question that interests women is anti-aging oils...

Irina: It is very good to use rose oil for rejuvenation. It helps regenerate tissue, promotes faster renewal of skin cells and cleanses dead epidermal cells.

What is anti-aging effect? This is a rapid and complete regeneration because the top skin cells that make up the epidermis are constantly dying and being replaced by new ones. If the skin has changed in some areas, but not in others, this causes stretching of the skin and loss of elasticity. To ensure that this process goes harmoniously and there is no overextension, it is very good to use rose essential oil. And not just rub, but massage.

If the rejuvenating effect is meant as a psychological one, then in order to feel like a child, it is very good to inhale vanilla essential oil. It activates childhood memories.

Ekaterina: Are there other oils that help women at different periods of their lives?

Irina: Geranium oil helps establish contact between a woman and her children and understand the emotional processes of children. If she has difficulties communicating with children, then it will be very good to reflect, meditate, send Love to the children, while simultaneously spraying geranium oil in the room. This will help soften the energy and manifest maternal energies.

Ekaterina: What oils are used during special periods of women's lives, for example, 50+, when hormonal changes occur - during menopause?

Irina: Geranium oil can also help with menopause (it stabilizes hormonal levels), as well as oils that belong to the second chakra. If menopause has already begun, then breathing exercises and moderate ingestion of basil oil, including the use of basil herb itself, help harmonize this condition.

40:29 Aroma oils for men.

Irina: For men in a special period of life (they also have menopause), ginger oil will help very well, as well as using it in food.

Ekaterina: Are there any oils that increase male and female libido?

Irina: Patchouli, ylang-ylang, ginger, juniper. They belong to the first chakra, where the kundalini energy is located. These oils help awaken sexual energy, which serves to enhance sexual desire, prolong the duration of sexual intercourse and at the same time enhance pleasant sensations and pleasure. The sensitivity of receptors to energies that appear during sexual intercourse increases. He can say that to a child too.

He says what's wrong with this. This is the occupation of almost all people, without which there are no new incarnations.

42:30 Cleansing the body with oils. Treatment of ARVI, influenza.

Ekaterina: We live in large cities, and we have a lot of slagging. Which oils will effectively remove heavy metals and toxins from the body, and what is the best way to use them?

Irina: Oils of anise, juniper, thuja, cypress, sea buckthorn, eucalyptus and fir have cleansing properties (sea buckthorn oil, for example, even removes radionuclides from the body).

Ekaterina: For effective cleansing, can they be taken by inhalation or orally?

Irina: For effective cleansing, you can combine them: one can be used for inhalation, and the other for oral administration. For example, if eucalyptus, cypress, and juniper oils can be used for inhalation, then the softer sea buckthorn oil can be taken orally.

Ekaterina: Is it possible to use a mixture of essential oils?

Irina: Yes, you can mix essential oils for different purposes. For example, if you have symptoms of acute respiratory infections or flu, inflammation in the upper respiratory tract: lacrimation, runny nose, sore throat and malaise, it is very good to use a combination of antiviral oils that simultaneously have an anti-inflammatory effect. Their physical substances suppress the proliferation of viruses, and their etheric energy restores cells that have suffered from inflammation.

In this case, it is also very good to use a baby cream as a base for massage, which has neutral, hypoallergenic properties (there are no chemicals added to it, as in creams for adults). Take a tablespoon of baby cream and add five drops of eucalyptus and fir essential oils to it. Stir everything and lubricate the chest from the throat and below, as well as the opposite area from the back.

This cream will help the essential oil penetrate the skin. And at the same time, when you begin to lubricate, you will inhale the aroma, and beneficial substances will penetrate the nasopharynx. You can additionally lubricate the wings of the nose with eucalyptus and fir oil. You need to be careful with lubricating the nasal passages themselves: for some sensitive people this can cause a burn. Here it is better to use softer pine oil.

46:25 Antifungal effect of essential oils.

Ekaterina: Please tell me which oil is the most effective against fungi on the nails or skin, against candidiasis?

Irina: Tea tree, thyme, and clove oils have antifungal properties. Clove oil also has the property of dissolving the shells of helminth eggs, that is, destroying not only the adult forms of various worms that live in the human intestines, but also the larvae that are in his blood and eggs. Not every anthelmintic drug has this.

Tea tree, thyme and clove oils have a good antifungal effect. They can be combined with each other. Their effect is superior to that of disinfectants. Including, they act not only on fungi. You need to understand that fungi do not appear on their own; they come to the place where bacteria have worked. Fungi can only feed on tissues in which there is no life, those cells that have already died. They “come to the feast” last.

But with a decrease in immunity, a certain type of fungus (shows) may appear on the skin, hands, and nails, which exist in symbiosis with bacteria. Thyme oil is good because it simultaneously acts against bacteria and fungi. For example, did you know that just a five percent solution of thyme oil destroys typhus bacteria in 5 minutes? Thyme oil is also very effective against tuberculosis bacillus. Simply by inhaling its aroma, you can suppress the development of tuberculosis in the lungs.

Ekaterina: What can replace thyme oil that is equally effective?

Irina: Clove and tea tree oils are also very strong antiseptics, almost equal, against fungi and against bacteria. Thus, the effect of undiluted tea tree oil on pathogenic bacteria is stronger than the effect of carbolic acid.

And, for example, lavender oil works well against bacteria - staphylococci, streptococci, Pseudomonas aeruginosa.

Question: Can lavender oil be used internally or is it better to inhale?

Irina: It should be taken orally drop by drop, diluted in milk to avoid irritation of the gastrointestinal tract: it contains very strong alkaline substances. Instead of milk, you can dilute it in sunflower or olive oil and drink it. It can be diluted in water, but only if the person does not have gastrointestinal irritation. Lavender oil removes anaerobic flora, even those that cause gangrene, and which have adapted to antibiotics. Lavender oil also has an anti-burn effect - it promotes skin regeneration after burns, including sunburn. If you have skin irritation after sun exposure or tanning, you can add a few drops of lavender oil to your cream.

Ekaterina: Great, good.

51:57 Essential oils and hair.

Ekaterina: Let's go back to beauty. What oil is needed for hair growth and strengthening? In megacities, there is a high probability of hair loss. How to avoid this?

Irina: Wood oils have a good effect on hair. Burdock oil too. It belongs to fatty oils, obtained from burdock seeds, but, like essential oils, it also carries the vibration of the plant from which it is obtained. Even sunflower oil carries the vibration of its plant. It is obtained from sunflower seeds - there is a lot of fat there, because the seeds retain fat well. Still, it contains etheric vibrations, like any other oil.

Wood oils have a good effect on hair growth, because the essential energy of the tree promotes rapid growth of the trunk. This property turns into oil, and when applied to the scalp, it helps strengthen the essential matrices of the hair follicles, from which hair is then formed. By analogy, hair becomes as strong as trees. Not like tree trunks, but if you look at a hair under a microscope, it will be like a tree trunk, and the energy will be like a tree trunk.

Ekaterina: What would you recommend?

Irina: For example, cypress, thuja, pine, eucalyptus, juniper. Everything related to trees.

54:25 Aroma oils and the cardiovascular system.

Ekaterina: Let's talk about the cardiovascular system: veins, blood. Which oil will be most effective for the circulatory system and for varicose veins?

Irina: Ginger oil prevents the development of blood clots and dilates blood vessels. Orange and lavender oils slightly reduce blood pressure. Eucalyptus, lemon and other stimulating oils can increase blood pressure. Other substances contained in the oil of ginger, cloves, and nutmeg can react with very low density cholesterol, which has already settled on the surface of the blood vessels, transform it into another form and cleanse the blood vessels. Cinnamon oil can also help with this.

Ekaterina: Can cinnamon oil be applied to the body to improve blood circulation?

Irina: Yes, especially in the area of large vessels - where the elbows are, in the neck, inguinal folds, on the back of the head. These molecules enter the body through the skin. Etheric energies come into contact with the etheric matrices of the organs upon contact and even through inhalation. But upon contact, more contact occurs, a larger amount of ethereal energy enters the human body.

Ekaterina: Okay.

57:05 Aroma oils and human energy blocks.

Ekaterina: Please tell me, during diagnostics, if a person really doesn't like the oil, does this indicate that he needs to work with a certain property of this oil that affects psychosomatics (for example, cinnamon oil is self-acceptance)? If he doesn't like this oil, should he work on it?

Irina: There are special tables on self-acceptance, I know. But the reason a person doesn't like butter may be simpler. The fact is that humans have associative memory. In childhood, a child's sense of smell is stronger than that of an adult: while he does not have a fixation on the visual perception of information, he is fixated on the olfactory receptors. The child can even distinguish his mother by smell. As an adult, he does not feel this. The child perceives all smells acutely, and he associates them with certain phenomena, such a picture of the World.

If in childhood something happened to a person that caused an energy block, and at that time he felt some kind of smell, then this smell in adulthood will cause activation of the block and unpleasant memories. He may not realize this, he may simply say that he doesn't like the smell itself, and he cannot explain to himself why he doesn't like it. There may even be a reaction on the physical plane, such as nausea. He may not track his emotions and thoughts because many people are not used to tracking their internal states.

What I come across when I talk to people and see who comes to Irina is that many are fixated on the external. This was surprising for me, because at Esler everyone is taught to first listen to their inner state. I was very surprised what was wrong on Earth. That is, if you don't like cinnamon, then perhaps (as one option) the mother scolded the child while baking cinnamon rolls. And this smell was recorded as a sign that he would be scolded. But he doesn't remember this. To remember, if you don't like the smell, invite him to ask his Higher Self what block is associated with it.

Ekaterina: In aromatherapy, when a person works with oils of rejection, are the blocks worked through at this moment?

Irina: If he does not move away from these thoughts, but asks the Higher Self: for what reason do I not like this smell? And ideas will come to him about what to work with.

Ekaterina: And in this way we will work on the block together with oils?

Irina: Yes. This is possible. Let them smell different oils, and if the person says that he doesn't like the smell, then ask: "What does it remind you of?"

1:01:12 The mechanism of the influence of essential oils during meditation.

Ekaterina: How does the effect of essential oil increase during meditation?

Irina: When people inhale the aroma of oil, the effect through the olfactory nerve goes to the area of the brain that is next to the area through which emotions are manifested. We can say that these areas of the brain are supplied with blood through the same network of blood vessels. Therefore, through various smells you can easily influence, as I already said, your emotional state.

How to strengthen this? Fix yourself when you are in a state of meditation and communication with the Higher Self, when a person has an opening of the heart, a spiritual flight. The state of connection with the Higher Self is always subjectively not just pleasant, it causes a feeling of happiness. A person does not feel his physical body or feels it differently. He begins to merge with the Supreme Self and realizes that he is an eternal being who is always loved by God. This is a wonderful condition. Now Catherine feels it. Do you feel it?

Ekaterina: Yes. I feel very pleasant, warm, comfortable. The flow went straight.

Irina: Because you remembered the state of communication with the Higher Self.

In this state, it is good to use jasmine oil, or frankincense oil, or any other oil you like, to activate the seventh chakra. Then, when you spray this oil before meditation, you will quickly enter this state, because it will remind you of it from associative memory.

Ekaterina: Mantras can enhance the effect of essential oil, like meditation?

Irina: If a person sets himself up to meditate through mantras, then repeating the mantra will bring his energy to the desired state.

Ekaterina: Mead, thank you for your answers! Irina, thank you! It was an amazing conference. Thanks a lot.

Irina: Thank you, Mid! I was also very interested. Thank you, Katya, for the interesting questions. Dear friends, thank you for watching this video. I hope it was interesting and informative. See you again!

00:00 Start of video.

00:06 "Pillar Tree" method.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone! We are, as always, on the road. At the moment we are in Moscow. We visited the entire wellness center, plus Irina does appointments here. We will have a very interesting broadcast today, and I want to immediately warn everyone that this broadcast is not political. We do not pursue any political goals, we do not pursue the goal of exposing anyone. We, the Cassiopeia project, are interested in communicating with those Spirits who have emerged from incarnation, about whom a very large number of people on Earth know. I would ask, please, that today everyone in the chat be more restrained in their expressions and emotions, because we have moderators who will moderate, delete and ban. Therefore, very carefully.

We also tried to approach this topic very carefully. In the Q&A chat. Live broadcast" I selected 33 questions for the Spirit of Stepan Bandera, and thank you all so much for participating in the formation of these questions and helping us create and conduct this wonderful broadcast.

I would like to remind everyone that we are having another outdoor event soon. We will hold it in Kazakhstan, the city of Almaty. Hello Almaty! We are traveling to the city of Almaty with almost the entire cast of the Cassiopeia project, part of the staff of the health center. We will conduct a training retreat on the topic of connecting with the Higher Self, contacts with extraterrestrial civilizations, healing and meditative practices. We will talk about regression and astral travel. We will have a very interesting excursion to the place of power, but only those who come to the retreat in Kazakhstan will learn about it. It will be from the 7th to the 14th, the link to sign up for the retreat is below this video.

Before I go live. Our wonderful master Alleyya is with us in Moscow. Alleyechka, you literally have two minutes.

Alleya: Hello everyone! Dear friends, I want to invite you to study the unique “Tree of the Pillar” method, which we conducted today in Moscow. I want to invite you to Khabarovsk and Vladivostok for retreats: July 17 in Khabarovsk, July 24 in Vladivostok.

This method allows you to painlessly put the “atlas” in place, straighten the spine, and remove obsessive states. The most important thing is that in one session you will really straighten your spine, put the “atlas” in place, and straighten your legs. You can also, using the “Tree of the Pillar” method, heal your spine and remove problems with the gastrointestinal tract. Not only help yourself, but also help your loved ones. Also get a unique profession of new times - Master of the “Pillar Tree”. I'm waiting for you all on our website, in the chat - link under the video. Be sure to come, I will be glad to see everyone. Thank you bye!

Maxim: Thank you, Alleyechka! I would like to invite our wonderful contactee Irina. Irish, have a seat! Now I'll set up the camera. Oh, what a cool hairstyle you have today, Irisha!

04:33 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello everyone! Good evening, dear friends, my name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

Representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations supplied me with microdevices, which on Earth are called chips, so that I could freely, without distortion, transmit information from the Spiritual World. This is a special feature of the chips. Because I was given these chips, I can communicate with representatives of plasmoid civilizations and with representatives of the Spiritual world, with those Spirits who have already left incarnation.

As you already know, we have conducted many sessions with the Spirits of various figures known in our world. Today we have with us LiShioni from the planet Shimor, who invited and helped the disembodied Spirit to come today, who was known in his last incarnation under the name of Stepan Bandera. He is here with us today. We asked him to come and explained to him the importance of this conversation. He agreed to come to answer questions and said that he was very glad that people were interested in his opinion, his beliefs.

Maxim: So, I salute the Spirit of Stepan Bandera. How can I contact you?

Irina: Stepan.

Maxim: Can I just contact Stepan?

Irina: Yes.

06:55 Stepan Bandera about his spiritual level.

Maxim: Please tell me, at what spiritual level are you now?

Irina: On the fifth, according to the terminology of the Interstellar Union. LiSioni already explained to me what your levels mean. So yes, on the fifth.

Maxim: That is, at the level of demons?

Irina: Yes, on the fifth level.

07:24 Stepan Bandera about leaving the incarnation.

Maxim: Thank you! Tell me, please, at what age and for what reason did you leave incarnation?

Irina: I was taken out of incarnation by force. This is murder (shows a man). I was disembodied by a man, it was revenge for my activities, I was 50 years old. I left early, and it was done in a violent manner.

Maxim: Please tell me what you felt when you came out of incarnation, and what were those sensations?

Irina: I didn't immediately come out of incarnation, I was first wounded (shows his image of a man lying in some room - either a porch or an entrance, rising up, like a step). I felt annoyed that I had let my assistants and guards go. Frustration and anger at this person. This is the last thing I felt at the moment of death. There was no fear, I felt annoyed with myself and angry at this man.

When I came out of incarnation, I saw darkness fall over me, and it felt like a dark bag had been placed on me - I couldn't see anything. I just saw this darkness. Then (shows) how one star lit up, then another in the other direction, they began to revolve around me and gradually the darkness began to go away. I saw that these were not stars, but two bright beings who approached me, extended their hands to me and said that I was in the Spiritual World. Like two bright people. Why "creatures"? Because I immediately realized that these were not people. Light emanated from them, white.

Maxim: Did you understand who it could be?

Irina: Yes, I understood that the angels of God. That Jesus sent me angels. But back then I didn't know what level. I remembered that I was wounded, so I realized that I had died.

Maxim: What happened next? Where did you then go with these angels, where did they take you and what did they talk to you about?

Irina: They told me that I had entered the Spiritual World. I told them: "Yes, I know, but it's a shame that it's like this." They said: "We will talk about everything in the eternal home where you will live." They took me by the hands and we began to rise up, as if towards the Sun.

We came. They brought me to the place where I am now (shows images of a twilight place, there is little light, there are some garages or something, iron hangars, dirt on the street).

Maxim: How was this place formed?

Irina: General mental images.

Maxim: In this place?

Irina: Yes. They brought me there as if to a wasteland. I looked around and asked, “Where am I?” They began to explain that this was the fifth level, and that I needed to talk to my Creator, the Heavenly Father.

He came into contact with me and began to show pictures from my life.

Maxim: How did he show you these pictures?

Maxim: What did you see there?

Irina: I saw myself, my life, as if from the outside, from birth to the event when I was killed, my body.

Maxim: What were your feelings when watching this tape?

Irina: The memory of why I was born returned to me. Again, I felt annoyed that I had lowered my level, I should have been higher. I came to the understanding that I had incarnated from a different level, higher than what I got this time.

Maxim: What were your goals before being incarnated on planet Earth?

Irina: My task was to be brave. Develop courage, independence, perseverance in achieving your goals and determination, but do it all in the field of art (shows music or religious service).

Maxim: You looked at the tape. And what did you see in this tape?

Irina: I saw my whole life and compared my actions with the information that began to come to me by itself (shows how the beam goes to his head).

Maxim: This is a figurative perception - does the beam go to the head? What is this?

Irina: It's like a Spiritual Channel (shows how the Spiritual Sun sends a ray to it, and information descends along this ray).

Maxim: What kind of ray is this? Can you explain now?

Irina: This is a message from God. While I had not yet connected with my Spirit (I connected with it later) and did not know what happened to it, where I ended up, because I did not remember my tasks. This information is from God that was given to me. God gave me so that I could compare my life and the tasks that I set. But I realized this only later, when I united with the Spirit.

Maxim: Very interesting!

14:46 Incarnations of the Spirit of Bandera.

Maxim: Please tell me, have you had any other incarnations on this planet?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: What incarnations were there?

Irin: Issachar, who was one of the sons of Israel. I took part in selling my brother Joseph to the Egyptians in that incarnation. I also incarnated in Egypt, even before this time. Also incarnated on Earth (shows the Arabian Peninsula, where approximately Saudi Arabia) in the Middle Ages (shows a slave trader). Before incarnating as Stepan, I incarnated in a plasmoid civilization, it was not on Earth.

Maxim: In a subtle-material civilization, right?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: What tasks did you have there, and what level did you reach in the Spiritual World from there?

Irina: On the fifteenth. Incarnated on the 12th in a plasmoid civilization, and left on the 15th. Incarnated into Stepan's body on the 15th.

Maxim: I thank you.

Irina: My tasks were to transfer etheric matter from a subtler level to a denser one, creating some kind of cells with my thoughts. Like construction in space.

16:56 Stepan Bandera about his worldview.

Maxim: Got it. Thank you, Stepan. Please tell me, do you know the OUN UPA organization?

Irina: These are two different organizations.

Maxim: Which of them did you head?

Irina: First.

Maxim: OUN?

Irina: Yes. I was not the only one in charge, there were several people. There was a branched, hierarchical organization there.

Maxim: What was the goal of this organization?

Irina: Protecting the interests of my people and building the independence of the state, country, like everyone else has.

Maxim: What do you call your people, what do you mean? What does "your people" mean?

Irina: Which I felt was my own, the people of my father, my mother.

Maxim: Is there a division into nationalities: Ukrainian, Russian?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: That is, you built the people.

Irina: I built a people who themselves felt that they were mine. I could speak any language or be descended from any ancestors, but I felt that I belonged to this particular people. This is an internal feeling.

Maxim: Then I'll ask this question. Tell me, please, did you feel that these were your people, and why was the terrorist path chosen rather than diplomatic in achieving goals? And do you consider it terrorist?

Irina: Because of this, I fell 10 levels. Because of the accumulated anger from injustice.

Maxim: What kind of injustice?

Irina: That all nations have their own state and their own laws. They can build their own lives and not be subordinate to other countries, not be enslaved by them.

When you see from childhood that a nobleman chooses the best place for himself, even in a bathhouse, or in a store, or in any shop, but considers a Ukrainian to be of lower rank and takes him for a slave, you see this from childhood, naturally, you want to free this people. Moreover, my father told me about this.

Maxim: Your father was a Catholic priest?

Irina: Priest. He said that God did not like this situation.

Maxim: I see.

Irina: For this people, because it’s unfair. I believed him.

Maxim: You and your associates, your organization, chose the path of destroying another people in order for your people to feel comfortable, is that so?

Irina: There was no other way to do this. You asked why terror? In any other way, no one listened to me or us, our society. All people who want to create their own state go through terror. Even those who created your state passed away. They are just heroes for you now, because you live in this state. But in reality they were just like me.

For example, I communicate, he is on the third level, we agreed to go into incarnation together. Maybe you know him - Felix Dzerzhinsky?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: We communicate with him. I go down to him on the third level.

Maxim: And what are you talking about?

Irina: He talked about how he created the Soviet state. Our angels, mine and his, are going to incarnate us together, in one world, because we treated each other very badly during our lives. So that we can incarnate together, in one family, and walk the path of Love. Although he is in third and I am in fifth, we communicate a lot. He did not tell in language, but showed in images how he created the state on the ruins of which you now live.

Maxim: Okay, I won't.

Irina: I can tell you. He was not much different from me. The same terror, only later legitimized by the victors.

22:45 Stepan Bandera about the agreement with the German Nazis.

Maxim: Please tell me, did you have any agreements with the Germans? At your organization.

Irina: Yes. But I regretted it when they broke their word.

Maxim: What does this mean?

Irina: They show me some men. Three men.

I realized that I was taken advantage of, me and the organization of nationalists of Ukraine. They took advantage of us fighting against the Soviets together with their army. So that we do this for their sake, their conquest of the earth. They verbally promised us (I did not take a written commitment, an agreement) that they would protect us from Poland and the Soviet Union, and provide us with the opportunity to build our own state, which would be an ally of Germany.

But they broke their word, they simply laughed at me in the face when I was in Lvov, they verbally mocked me. They said: “The Fuhrer will decide what kind of state and when to create it.” Although before, when we helped them clear the way through Ukraine to the borders of Galicia, they were much more flexible and talked to us differently. They said that they would help us defend our independence. I and all my followers who dreamed of creating a state, because you like to live not in a subordinate position, but as a free citizen. Everyone wanted this too. They were no different from you. We were just born at a different time. Therefore, they believed the Germans because they were stronger, they had more weapons than the Soviet Union and Poland. But they deceived us.

25:13 Stepan Bandera about violence and murders.

Maxim: Tell me, please, if there were no Germans, would you continue to kill Poles and residents of the Soviet Union?

Irina: We would continue to kill each other, to be more precise. We weren’t the only ones killing Poles, or Belarusians, or Russians – it was a war. When there were more Poles, they started a war and killed Ukrainians.

This would continue until a strong leader appeared, because it was impossible to agree peacefully, everyone wanted to live on this land. Everyone considered this to be historically fair. Where hearts are silent, weapons should speak. And it spoke.

Maxim: Tell me, please, but if you fought for justice, why were such brutal, perverted murders of people needed? With the crucifixion of babies, with the rape of women and then the murder of women, and did that happen?

Irina: I told you that what you just named – the organization of Ukrainian nationalists – was not only led by me, there were many detachments and departments. Where I was in charge, I did not allow this to happen.

Embittered people, they are difficult to control, they can do such violent acts as crucifixion, hanging dead children around trees in the form of a wreath (now showing), in the form of intimidation, so that other people will leave the place. Because a person gets tired of killing, he wants a quiet life. When he realizes that he cannot clear this territory of the enemy, he goes to extreme measures.

I myself did not do this, and I believed that it was truly sacred only if you killed your equal in battle. Like a soldier. But there were people who did what you say. We executed them ourselves (shows), hanged them.

Maxim: Do you want to say that you yourself did not engage in any atrocities and perversions?

Irina: No. I personally killed only three people with my own hands, adult men, and then when I tortured them to get information, when they were already tied up.

Maxim: Do you know what they write about you in our history?

Irina: I guess. This is the image that some politicians need to justify their crimes.

Maxim: Who do you consider yourself: a hero or a criminal?

Irina: I consider myself a sinner who did not fulfill his task and went to a low level. Whether there was heroism in my actions - let those for whom I fought say. Whether there was a crime - let the court say. But only the court that will consider the charges against me with solid evidence.

Maxim: What about Khatyn, which you burned?

Irina: I wasn’t even there. I was in a concentration camp in Germany at that time, how could I burn? I was in Poland and then in Germany. I was not there. What happened before Khatyn, when the Belarusian partisans threw women and Ukrainians into the well and did not allow the men to pull them out. They were drowning before their eyes. It was such a time, and no one was surprised by it, there was a struggle.

Maxim: Everyone was creating chaos, you mean?

Irina: It was for the purpose of intimidation. When a person is in this system for a long time, his Soul hardens, he does not feel the suffering of others. This happens to everyone, regardless of nationality. Therefore, I immediately said that those traitors from among my people who went over to the side of the enemy must be destroyed even more cruelly than the enemy himself, so that others do not follow their example. This is not revenge, but like fear.

But other political figures, national leaders of any countries that you now consider large, established and successful - they acted in exactly the same way. Should I tell you about Ivan the Terrible?

Maxim: A very interesting person. We'll probably invite him later.

Irina: LiSioni said that you have already talked with Stalin.

Maxim: Did you communicate with Stalin in the Spiritual World?

Irina: No, I didn’t communicate with him. I communicated with many of his followers who helped him drown the country in blood, and many turned out to be on my level. When with one stroke of the pen you send tens of thousands of people to death, it is only an illusion that they are not in your blood, but in the blood of those who shoot. And in the Spiritual world, where I now find myself, I realized that the responsibility is higher on the one who signed than on the one who pulled the trigger. He only relied on the will of his boss, and in this he was right. And the responsibility is higher on the one who signed.

I also want to say that I realized this when I came out of incarnation and connected with my Spirit, looked through my life, not like on a tape, as I was shown initially, but from within my consciousness, that is, I remembered it myself. I realized that I got to the fifth level only due to the fact that a long time had passed after all these actions in Ukraine, in Poland, in which I participated. I had already lived in safety in Germany for a long time, prayed to God and realized a lot of things, my mistakes. If they had dismantled me in battle when I was 25-30 years old, I would definitely have ended up at the third level and lower. Time passed and I managed to get up.

34:09 Stepan Bandera about the fight for ideals.

Maxim: Did you believe in God at all?

Irina: Yes, of course.

Maxim: How can you believe in God and commit such atrocities?

Irina: It's possible. An example of this is, for example, the prophet Elijah, who, for the sake of faith in God, and this is written in the Bible, with his own hand and sword killed 400 priests who did not obey his religion.

Maxim: What do you think, without referring to the prophet Elijah?

Irina: By the way, he is holy in his religion. Because he fought for God. So I fought for independence, and for me this idea was sacred. An idea that it was the will of God to defend even by killing. As his messenger. He did not feel like a prophet, but like one who builds a state and protects these oppressed people. He had a feeling that he was right.

Maxim: The struggle for ideals and justice, which justifies the means, lives up to expectations?

Irina: People who came (I am moving into the consciousness in which I lived then) to the land of another people, exploit them and treat them cruelly, must understand that for this they may not be sent love, but a bullet. They should understand this if they are adults and mentally healthy people.

Maxim: But you understand that now many follow your example and also engage in bullying and atrocities, and shoot bullets?

Irina: Not only my example. Examples of hundreds of others, starting from Prince Igor, who went to Constantinople. Take the example of Ivan the Terrible, who burned the pagan Mari near Yoshkar-Ola with fire because they rebelled against the seizure of their land. And many others, I can list dozens. I can start with Alexander the Great.

37:02 Stepan Bandera about sponsoring nationalists.

Maxim: Okay, I understand your opinion. Tell me, please, who sponsored your organization? Where did you get the money to carry out terrorist acts and what you did?

Irina: At first, when I was young, they collected money by kidnapping people, for example, children, grandchildren from rich Jewish bankers, large landowners, tavern owners. They set conditions for them, wrote notes that if they did not pay a certain amount of money, then his child would be sent in parts. Yes, there were such methods. They usually sent money. Because we knew approximately how much they had, and even if they didn't have that much, they went into debt.

Maxim: Tell me, please, where does such hatred of Jews, Poles and Russians come from?

Irina: Now. About money. Later, when Adolf Hitler made a treaty with Joseph Stalin to divide Poland, Joseph was glad to have him as a friend and they divided Poland. When hundreds of thousands of people, including Ukrainians, were sent to the concentration camps of Adolf Hitler and the concentration camps of Stalin, we did not see much difference in Ukraine between these two figures. But it was only in appearance that Adolf Hitler was then friends with Stalin and concluded an agreement of friendship and mutual assistance with him, dividing Poland with him. You know that they had joint parades of the Soviet Army and the Wehrmacht?

At that time, the Abwehr, the German intelligence services, were secretly looking for Ukrainian nationalists, including me, so that during the war with the Soviet Union, which they were already planning then (although they didn't say anything like that out loud), they were looking for people, Ukrainian nationalists , which will undermine confidence in the Soviet Union. And to counteract the emergence of partisanship against the Germans during the war. For this purpose, to undermine trust in the Soviet Union, underground work, the Abwehr, that is, Germany, already paid us.

40:30 Stepan Bandera about hatred of Jews, Poles, Russians.

Maxim: Where does such personal hatred of Jews, Poles, and Russians come from? Where does this personal hatred of the entire organization come from?

Irina: Because the Poles seized our land and, as I already said, held us for slaves. They kicked me out of school, for example, because they didn't know Polish. They were not allowed to speak their own language. There were even those who killed for it. Because people gathered in some village (shows) and wanted the Ukrainian language to be introduced at school, so that we would receive the same rights as the Poles. But this was not allowed. They were put in prison and could be shot. It's been a long time. The Poles could rob Ukrainian houses, there was violence, including against women. All this gave rise to resistance.

As for the Russians. At first there was hope, like the Germans, that they would allow us to revive our state and fight the Poles who captured us. But when we learned from our eastern Ukrainian neighbors, who were already in the USSR, about collective farms, about repressions, that the priests whom we revered were being imprisoned and sent to hard labor for their faith, we began to fight against the Russians, because it would be even greater slavery than with the Poles.

As for the Jews. I was neutral towards them. But there were those in my organization who hated them because they got people drunk, built taverns and got rich off the deaths of people. They were like that. Because they were rich, bankers.

Maxim: You just said about Poland, that it forbade speaking Ukrainian. Do you know that Ukraine has passed a law prohibiting speaking any language other than Ukrainian?

Irina: It was not just a state ban, it was persecution. Anyone who spoke Ukrainian could be persecuted and considered inferior. And in many countries, including Russia, the only language is Russian.

Maxim: No, we now have a multinational state, and many languages.

Irina: I mean the language is mandatory to study.

Maxim: We are allowed to speak other languages, and no one persecutes us for it.

Irina: If there are people in Ukraine now who are persecuting people for speaking a language other than Ukrainian, then these people are no different from those I fought against. They simply forgot their history.

44:49 Stepan Bandera about the glorification of his personality.

Maxim: Do you know that you were heroized in Ukraine?

Irina: Yes, I feel an influx of energy when I am praised and honored. I feel an influx of energy, admiration, gratitude and even aggression. They are ready to admire me; my image allows them to show their aggression.

Maxim: Tell me, please, do you think, from your point of view, you are now in the Spiritual World, is it normal to glorify the central person of the organization, who was engaged in brutal murders?

Irina: From the point of view of where I am, I can say that this is negative, it leads away from the path of Light, because there is no assessment from the point of view of Light. I have already said that I did not fulfill my task. There is glorification precisely for the struggle in the name of some goal, be it the creation of a national state, the conquest of other lands.

Look at the map of Russia - it is the largest country. Do you want to tell me that the country became like this right away, and there was no war to annex other lands? But you know that's not true. Those who did this are revered in your country, in the sense that cities and various streets can be named after them. For example, what does Lenin Street look like for you in any Russian city, who signed with one stroke of his pen the execution of thousands of people. Normal glorification, as you said?

But the people who live on this street don't think about it. They have the name Lenin, this is a memory of their great history. Therefore, I believe, this is my personal opinion, that it is always necessary to remember political figures, whatever they may be, including erecting monuments to them. Whatever they were, they did what they could at the moment.

But at the same time, it is necessary to explain to people that such methods do not allow them to fulfill life's tasks - this leads to aggression, anger, claims, and physical aggression. And it also made me sick (shows that his bones hurt).

How should I feel about the Russians if my father, a priest, was shot by the Russians a month after he went to prison just because he reads prayers and performs funeral services for the dead. My personal father. How should I have treated the Russians after that? What harm did he do to anyone? He didn't kill anyone.

They could not take me only because my German friends took me across the river. How should I feel about the Russians if three of my sisters were sent to Stalin's concentration camps just because they were the daughters of a priest. What crime did they commit? They served there for ten years, and came back sick from there. It wasn't easy for them to sit there and type at headquarters—they were cutting down forest. How should I have treated the Russians? Do you think I didn't feel sorry for my relatives?

Yes, I made a mistake in identifying the Russians with the Soviet regime. But everyone did this, because they believed that they were all adults and they understood perfectly well what kind of regime they were subject to.

49:37 Stepan Bandera about Zelensky.

Maxim: Do you know that now the president of Ukraine is a Jew? What do you think about this?

Irina: They told me about this (they show some Spirits, former people who disincarnate and talk about the situation in the modern world). So I've heard about it. My attitude towards whom? To this president?

Maxim: Yes, if you know him personally.

Irina: No, I don’t know him personally. Yes, I heard about him, but we didn’t communicate. About the fact that he is Jewish?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: I believe that if he sincerely loves our country. I no longer consider myself among the people, because I have left the incarnation, and my memory is now wider. But if I identify myself with Stepan’s personality, then I can say that Jewish blood, like Russian, like German, does not spoil a person if he loves his people and fights for their existence. If he does not harm his people, but helps them, then that is good. But I didn't come into contact with him.

Maxim: Do you have any contacts?

Irina: No.

Maxim: Are you in contact with any of the earthlings?

Irina: No, I don’t contact. But I made contact (shows), I was called five times as a Spirit. There was another way of contact. I aligned myself with the field and spoke through the person. And here I transmit into the mental field, but I hear response thoughts. Of course, I cannot hear sounds, because this is not the physical world where I am. But I hear response thought forms from what Irina is answering. I like how she conveys contact, even when it’s unpleasant for her to hear things about her nationality, about Russians - she won’t say anything. She conveys it correctly.

52:26 Stepan Bandera about the conflict between Ukraine and Russia.

Maxim: Thank you. Do you know that military operations are currently taking place in Ukraine?

Irina: Yes, this is visible in the egregor. An egregor is an energy cloud that reflects the state of the people on a spiritual level.

Maxim: What do you think about this?

Irina: I think that there was an uprising of people who wanted to be independent from my country. And the government of my country began to suppress this uprising. Then the country joined that, by offering help to the rebels (your country - Russia), wanted to annex these territories, taking advantage of the uprising and civil war.

What do I think about this? As I already said, if people, no matter what country they live in, consider this government where they live to be unfair, they will rebel and will look for allies in other countries. These are people who live in Donbass, in fact, they go through the same path that I went through in Ukraine, when there was no independent state. I considered my people oppressed by another state, specifically Poland, just like my father. And then the Soviet Union.

They are looking for help from a larger state, from Russia. I, too, was looking for help, and my followers Melnik was looking for help, Shukhevych and others were looking for help from Germany, as a larger neighbor, who promised independence.

I completely understand these guys, warriors, I understand those who resist. This confrontation can develop in two ways. Either both sides of the war, the internecine murder, realize that this cannot be done. They will sit down at the negotiating table to seek a compromise and admit their guilt, as happens in peace negotiations. But here two sides must be the initiators, then everything will stop. Or, if they do not want to do this, they will kill each other until the stronger one defeats the weaker one. Then, for posterity, he will write in history books everything as it happened from his point of view.

56:28 Stepan Bandera about the history of Ukrainian nationalists.

Maxim: Thank you! How many people have been killed by your organization?

Irina: Yes. Many were killed. If you count for all the years while I led the organization, it will be around a million or two maximum. This does not take into account the UPA. Although I was indirectly responsible for what they did, I did not approve of their actions.

Maxim: Could you control their actions?

Irina: How could I control their actions if they were in Ukraine and I was in Germany?

Maxim: Then, when you were in Ukraine.

Irina: There was no UPA yet. It came later, when there was a war between Germany and the USSR.

Maxim: Was there already an OUN?

Irina: Yes. There was OUN.

Maxim: She also committed atrocities? Murders.

Irina: Of course, but I take responsibility only for my part of the OUN, and not for Melnik. Let him be responsible for his own organization. He had more contact with the Abwehr than I did; they had joint police raids in all cities and villages. Melnik's followers built caches and threw grenades at the NKVD officers. I excommunicated him from this organization, and he created his own. Let him answer. He doesn't want to talk to me here.

Maxim: But did you have a joint organization at first?

Irina: At first, yes.

Maxim: How did the division of the organization go?

Irina: He began to have more contact with the Germans and began to switch more not to nationalism for the sake of creating a state, but to nationalism as the “idea of purebreds.”

Maxim: Did you use nationalism to create a state?

Irina: Yes, I told him that there could only be a temporary alliance with Hitler, with the Fuhrer, so that he would help us. And then we need to do our own thing and not listen to him.

He said that this is dangerous, and there is no need to anger him, otherwise it will turn out that we will not have any state at all. At first, I also believed the Fuhrer, and when I was convinced that he did not need the creation of a state, they took me to Berlin (shows the camera), and Hitler’s people began to talk to me, saying that I was engaged in arbitrariness.

Because I declared an independent state (shows the paper he read that Ukraine is an independent state), for this I was sent to Germany.

Maxim: Did you sign some kind of paper stating that Ukraine is an independent state?

Irina: Not only me (shows a gathering of people, deputies). They signed that we are creating a state. And for this they called me: “Why did you declare yourself the leader, and not another nationalist?” I said that my father fought for freedom and I fought. You know that at the age of thirteen I led a teenage nationalist group.

Maxim: At the age of thirteen you were already in charge?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: What were you doing?

Irina: It shows how they disrupted classes at school when the Polish language was taught, and how they left them as protests. They wrote leaflets and dropped them near houses.

01:01:32 Stepan Bandera about his childhood.

Maxim: Is it true that they say that you didn’t smoke, didn’t drink and played sports?

Irina: Which one should I drink and smoke? I was in poor health. I realized it later. I have already said that my heart ached, my joints ached, and I often had a headache. Through sports I supported my body so that it could serve me for my purposes, otherwise I would have been bedridden (his joints did not bend).

Maxim: Why did you mock yourself? They say that you pricked yourself with some kind of needles, held pencils between your fingers, is that really true?

Irina: It was in my childhood when I heard from my father that those of our brothers, Ukrainian nationalists who were captured by the Poles, were being tortured in various ways by the Polish police to extract information about where people gather, how many of us there are, what means we have, who is helping. They thought that Russian intelligence was helping us. I was angry, I was angry that they were doing this to our brothers. And I even swore to God, when I grow up, to take the path of defense and punish all those responsible for this, for this blood. But, at the same time, I understood that if I was captured, I could betray my comrades. And to see what I was capable of, to endure pain, I took a nail and stuck it under my nail. I was ten or eleven years old.

Maxim: Do you think this is normal?

Irina: I couldn't do otherwise, because there was an understanding that if I went to war, not knowing my capabilities, and I was captured, I could hand over my own.

Maxim: So you prepared yourself for torture?

Irina: Not what I cooked, I checked, check.

Maxim: And how did the check go?

Irina: I know very well that it is impossible to get used to pain, but at the same time I researched. I realized that if I was captured, I would not be able to stand it.

01:03:58 Stepan Bandera about disagreements between the Slavs.

Maxim: How do you now, from the point of view of the Spiritual world, look at the cause of the disagreement between the Slavs? Do you consider the Slavs to be a single people?

Irina: Slavs are a group of peoples.

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: It's between them that is the reason for the disagreement, right? How do I see her now?

Maxim: Yes, as you see it now, from the Spiritual world.

Irina: Human egoism and lust for power. I've been thinking about a lot here, about these reasons. I can say that human selfishness, selfishness, love of money, greed. There is a type of person who is inclined to seize what does not belong to him, instead of acquiring what is his by his own labor. He is inclined to seize land, servants, slaves, resources. Because of this, there is injustice and wars, including among the Slavs. As I already said, when I cited the example of Ivan the Terrible, also a Slav, the Russian Tsar - what forced him to go to Kazan? Then further. Maybe the Kazan Khan himself called him? Hardly. Three times they burned Kazan. By the way, women and children sat in these wooden houses. What was it like for them to burn? What compelled him? Naturally, his greed, lust.

Maxim: Do you think the Slavic group should be together? Or should everyone still defend national interests?

Irina: What does “together” mean? You can live together in the same city, but the state will be of a completely different nationality. Together under what conditions?

Maxim: On mutual.

Irina: Why did we, my people, want the independence of the state? To establish equality for Ukrainians there. So that they would not be enslaved by the Poles. So that they are not deprived of the opportunity to study at school in their language, in the Ukrainian language, so that they are not forced out of good jobs, so that they are not forced to dig up the land like slaves, but they themselves take the places of teachers, doctors and servants.

Maxim: And would you, when you created a state, say, would you allow other nationalities to live in this state and enjoy the same rights?

Irina: It depends on how they behave. If they followed the laws of my state, yes, I would allow it. If not, then let them go to the state that will allow them...

Maxim: Breaking these laws...

Irina: ...which will allow them to live according to their laws.

1:08:00 Stepan Bandera about his idea of nationalism.

Maxim: The UPA had the idea of incomplete nationalism, as I understand it? That you would allow other nationalities to exist comfortably in your state?

Irina: Yes, in the UPA itself there were Russians, Poles, and the same Germans. If we were only for the Ukrainians, that they are the most “full-fledged” people, would we really begin to negotiate with the Germans? Even temporarily. This would then undermine my authority.

Maxim: OUN or UPA?

Irina: In the UPA and OUN, in any case, there were people of other nationalities who recognized our idea and fought for our independence. They were already becoming like their own.

But there lives, for example, a Russian. There would be increased suspicion towards him, compared to a Ukrainian on our territory, because it was believed that he loved his homeland Russia, even if he lived abroad. And if he loves his homeland, then he will defend its interests. This was the default view. And that's why there was suspicion towards him. Because we ourselves loved our Motherland, defended our unity, and we put ourselves in its place. Therefore, they believed that if a Russian lives abroad, then he needs to be watched so that he does not violate the rights of other people.

As I already said about the Soviet government, what it wanted to seize. Together with Hitler, they divided Poland, which then had our lands, in 1939. It is clear that this is aggression, both from Germany and from the USSR. And how should we react to this? Moreover, when they began to exile our people to Siberia and send Russians to settle on our lands. How did I perceive it? Naturally, like the destruction of a people who have the same right to life.

Everyone saw it. When the Germans ousted the Russians, some Russians remained. Where could they go? If the remaining Russians after the withdrawal of Soviet troops (or a representative of this family) could speak approvingly in front of the people about the Soviet system, about the Soviet Union, support them, and someone from the nationalists heard this, there was a great danger that when everyone woke up in the morning, this family won't be alive. They were already considered enemies. They were strangled. Because it was believed that if the Soviet Union suddenly came again, they would be the first allies of the Soviet Union in the destruction of our people.

01:11:37 Stepan Bandera about his previous incarnation and plans for the future.

Maxim: I understand. Please tell me, do you regret anything in the life you lived?

Irina: Yes, I regret that I did not fulfill my task, but took up defending political justice and political affairs, although I was not ready for them. I had a task - to develop independence, activity, determination, but my tasks did not specifically include the acquisition of power. And that's why I made the wrong decision.

Maxim: If you had the opportunity to fix something, what would you fix?

Irina: I would not deal with this topic. I would just become a priest (shows how he wanted to become a priest). I would pray for all nations, just like my dad did. Although he helped the nationalists, his hands are clean. Although he also died from a Soviet bullet, he ended up on the 17th level. Although he helped the nationalists, he did so without malice. If I returned there, with my memory, which is now there, with my consciousness, after connecting with my Spirit, and understanding my tasks, I would become a priest.

I always felt that I liked to sing songs, I would also sing in a church choir (shows a large church, like a Catholic one). I liked to play musical instruments, I wrote poetry, it's like creativity. But I did not follow this path, because my father raised me with the understanding that they are an oppressed people, and we need to help them. But it was possible to help only by cleansing our land physically.

Maxim: Can you tell me the secret of where you and Felix plan to incarnate?

Irina: We are both offered to first undergo incarnation in a plasmoid civilization, so that we learn how to build a life, create Souls. In those plasmoids that create the Souls of animals. So that we learn to invest our lives. Don't take it away, but invest it. And then, after this incarnation (we have already asked what's next), they are planning to incarnate both of us on one of the planets of the Interstellar Union, but which one will be seen based on the results of our incarnation in a plasmoid civilization. In a civilization to which we will approach by vibration, so that we can study the laws of other planets.

01:15:05 Stepan Bandera's address to his compatriots.

Maxim: What would you like to wish to your fellow tribesmen who are now left on this planet?

Irina: To fellow tribesmen?

Maxim: Yes, exactly to my fellow tribesmen.

Irina: My dear compatriots. I also love our dear country Ukraine, just like you. I gave my life for her, not only because they killed my body, but because I lost almost all my relatives in the struggle for independence. I spent the best years of my life on Earth to fight for our common freedom with arms in hand.

Now you live in the country that my colleagues and I created earlier. I ask you to look around, learn to appreciate what you have and strive with all your might to reconcile the military conflict. The more days pass, the more suffering our people suffer, the more people die and the more wounded there are.

Of course, not only you are responsible for this, but you too, because the general policy led to this result. However, remember that you also have the ability to stop the bloodshed. Many wives, mothers, daughters, and your children in general, will thank you if you return to them alive and do not die for a country that may not appreciate this feat. Because completely different people may come to power, who will consider you something like what they consider me to be in Russia.

I know what image you created for me. I know what image other peoples created. You created too light, they created too dark. I didn't measure up to any of them. I was a real, living person, with warm red blood that I shed for the freedom of our country.

But, because of this struggle, I did not complete my task of incarnation. Now I am in a dark place where people like me are seekers of justice. Therefore, I realized that the best task on Earth is not to seek justice, not to defend one's interests, especially in an aggressive way, but to pray to God, as my father did, including praying for enemies.

He could perform the funeral service for a Russian or a Pole – it didn't matter. And pray sincerely for his Soul. He is at level 17, in Light. He came to me and cried like an angel. It's like the image that he's crying, only he doesn't have tears, but sparks of Light that fell on me. They hurt me a lot, even though he is my father.

I don't want such a fate for you. And I don't want such a fate either for the Russians or for the Americans - for anyone. Because I remembered many of my incarnations, and in some of them I was an angel, and I want to return there.

It's not worth it - this struggle is not worth the darkness where I find myself. And in order for me to get out of it now, I need to learn to give life, and this is very difficult to do when your mind is focused on murder. I don't want such a fate for you.

Maxim: Stepan, I thank you for agreeing to come and talk with us. I wish you a good incarnation so that you can appreciate true Love. So that you learn to show this Love without destroying the Love of other people.

Irina: He says: “I thank you, and I really feel Love from you. You sincerely wish me this bright state, which is surprising, because some of my words were outrageous for you. But you overcame this indignation and still wished me Love, and this will be an example to me.”

Maxim: Dear friends, thank you all very much for being with us. Many thanks to Stepan, many thanks to LiSioni and other people present here.

Irina: Dear friends! Yes, it was an interesting contact. His energy is masculine and quite tough. But I also send you, Stepan, the Light of my Love. I wish that in your next incarnation you will raise your level and meet your father, who you had in the physical world, in a different capacity.

Dear friends, I thank you for watching this broadcast, the answers were what they were, see you again!

Maxim: See you next Sunday. I think that next Sunday there will be an equally interesting broadcast. Bye everyone!

00:17 Programs of the Cassiopeia project for September 2023.

Alina: Hello! Please tell me how I can be seen and heard. I welcome everyone! Greetings to all our listeners and viewers! My name is Alina, today I will broadcast for you, talk about our news and make some announcements. This is a mandatory program on our broadcast, so please listen and have your pens ready to write down the necessary information.

So, we remind you that from October 10 to 14, literally in two weeks, the retreat “The Science of Imagery and Astral Travel” will be held in St. Petersburg. “Cassiopeia” comes to this retreat with its entire health center staff - which means that you will be able to undergo personal consultations and wellness sessions with our specialists on a “donation” basis. Also, as part of this retreat, our center brings equipment - and you will be able to undergo an examination on Oberon and wellness sessions in our “Chambers of Light”. If someone else doesn’t know what kind of equipment this is, please go to the Cassiopeia website (https://zdrav.cassiopeia.center/) and please read about this equipment. The link to sign up for the retreat will be under this video, and in order to sign up for sessions with specialists and sessions with equipment, please write down the phone number: +

Next, from November 12 to 18, a multi-retreat will take place in Belarus. What does "multi-retreat" mean? This means that the Cassiopeia center will present all its projects at this retreat; I will now list them:

- the “Gikhor” school is a school of cosmoenergetics, you will be able to undergo initiation into the first block (under “donation” conditions, of course);

- healing project “Cosmohealing” with evening healing sessions;

- the “MentalHealing” project is a project that combines psychology and esotericism;

- the “Atman” project is a multidirectional esoteric project, which you can also read about on the website.

Also at this retreat in Belarus, the “Cassandra” project is restoring its work - this is a message from higher powers.

And as part of the multi-retreat, you will be able to undergo healing sessions on our equipment. We bring equipment: “Cameras of Light”, “Oberon”, “Crownoscope” and “Aurabuk”. Please read about this equipment on the website.

More than 20 specialists from our center have attended this retreat, including all the specialists from the Belarusian center “Cassiopeia”.

Next announcement: the Cassiopeia project is expanding and developing. Codes". This is a unique project with support from our interstellar curators. What is this project about? Any energy can be described in numbers and codes. This project reveals a secret that has been hidden by priests, magicians, and healers for centuries. We can offer you any matrices for any tasks, for any purpose. For example, a matrix for healing, a matrix for finding happiness, a matrix for financial abundance, a matrix for harmony in relationships, and so on. It sounds fantastic, of course, but in order to dispel all doubts, you need to try it. In addition, everyone can get a personal matrix for themselves - it will be via the link under this video.

Next announcement: From October 21st to 24th we are planning training in the Pillar Tree method in Istanbul. Make an appointment by phone number: 988 910 00 40.

And the last announcement: on October 23, here in Voronezh, a new stream of the Cassiopeia school - the School of Contactees - starts. Teachers: Irina Podzorova and Ilya Alexandrov. Make an appointment by phone number: 988 910 00 40.

That's all the news for today. I invite Irina. Today we have a meeting with a representative of the plasmoid civilization of level 37, his name is Erwin. Irochka, please sit down.

07:22 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Dear friends, good evening everyone, greetings! How can I be seen and heard? Yes, thank you and welcome everyone.

My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle worlds and the Spiritual world. Today we decided to invite a representative of the plasmoid civilization, because we most often have on live broadcasts either disembodied Spirits who lived specifically on Earth in their last incarnation, or humanoids - that is, Spirits embodied at the third level of density, but on other planets.

However, we still have a very large area of the Universe, which we do not consider very often - these are the subtle worlds, of which there are 56 levels. But 56 levels does not mean 56 worlds. There may be millions of worlds on each of these levels. Imagine: here we have the third level of density, but to be more precise, the third level of density of the physical world in which we live also contains the second and first levels of density, we simply call the highest in our cluster. We have the first cluster - a cluster called physical. Accordingly, the physical cluster is our physical Universe. This is a Universe where there are physical laws: the law of gravity, the law of centrifugal force, the laws of light, sound - in short, everything that we call the laws of physical matter.

I thank everyone for your kind words and for your compliments, dear friends.

Today I welcome here, in our world, a being who has come to the astral space and will communicate with us through it. This creature lives far from Earth, in a hot star called Betelgeuse in the constellation Orion. It incarnated at the 37th density level. His name is Erwin. But, again, he took this name from the dictionary of earthlings; they do not have sounds like ours. Erwin is a certain mental image, a sound code with which we can address him.

So, I welcome here the representative of the plasmoid civilization of the 37th density level, whose name for us is Erwin. He is the Guardian of the Order of Ice Fire Mages - these are, of course, our earthly concepts expressed in Russian, behind which there is a certain spiritual and energetic reality, but it can be conveyed precisely by these words. So I welcome you here, Erwin! And this broadcast will be dedicated specifically to him and his world. Since this broadcast will be about plasmoids, I ask you to ask questions.

12:03 Plasmoid Erwin about his incarnations.

Alina: Good evening, Erwin!

Irina: Good evening!

Alina: I am glad to welcome you and thank you for agreeing to devote your time to us.

Irina: Mutually.

Alina: I start with the most popular question in our audience. From what Spiritual level did you come to your current incarnation?

Irina: On the 20th.

Alina: Please tell me how many incarnations you had in this manvantara, where and what they were like?

Irina: If you count one revolution of the Earth around the Sun per year, I am a little over 56,000 years old.

Alina: Middle age.

Irina: I am incarnating in this manvantara for the 112th time.

Alina: Where else did you incarnate?

Irina: I incarnated on many planets, not only the Milky Way Galaxy, but I had only 15 incarnations in dense worlds, two of which were on Earth, if you look specifically at the physical plane. Are you specifically interested in earthly incarnations?

Alina: Earthly ones are interesting, yes.

Irina: I was incarnated 264,000 years ago and another two and a half thousand years later.

As I understand it, this is before the war (Erwin says), which took place 12,000 years ago. When there was a war with the reptilians, he was already Erwin then, because he is 56,000 years old, and the war was 12,000 years ago.

But this is middle age (Erwin says) for our world.

Alina: Your average life expectancy is 100,000 years, right?

Irina: Yes, 97-100 thousand.

Alina: I want to ask right away: how are you on Earth? Tell me please.

Irina: Both times I incarnated on Earth (in the physical plane of the Earth) as a man - and both times I was a singer and poet, in your opinion, a bard. In those days, singers and poets were close to tribal leaders; they helped them control people and create images for them.

Alina: And from what level did you incarnate in both cases?

Irina: In one case - from the 13th, and in another case - from the 18th.

Alina: Did you come out?

Irina: In the first case, I came out on the 17th, and in the second case, on the 19th.

Alina: I increased it.

Irina: He raised it, it suits me now.

Alina: I see, good.

15:14 Plasmoid Erwin about the tasks of embodiment. Creativity of plasmoids.

Alina: Please tell me, do the Spirits at the 37th density level remember their tasks for incarnation? Here you are - in this incarnation, do you have access to information about what tasks you have embodied in the body of a plasmoid now at this level?

Irina: This is known to everyone at all levels of density, only information is manifested differently. For you, for example, this manifests itself as the desire of the Spiritual Heart, the desire of the Soul - and for us it manifests itself in the form of preference for one task over others. Our mind does not manifest itself through the brain, so our energy body perceives the thoughts of the Spirit differently.

Alina: It's like knowledge, right?

Irina: It’s like a program, but it does not control the Spirit embodied in the plasmoid, but prescribes for it a course of action, an algorithm, from which it can still deviate by free will.

Alina: But for us, earthlings, most often the tasks of embodiment are associated with the development of certain qualities in ourselves. Accordingly, such tasks are not set for plasmoids, right?

Irina: They are setting. But our tasks are more about developing creativity.

Alina: Creativity?

Irina: Creativity and the ability to manipulate matter are also creativity in any case.

Alina: That is, this creativity is not at all like ours - do I understand correctly?

Irina: But you, too, when you create something, control matter.

Alina: Yes, including.

Irina: You are introducing something new into the material world - this is already the management of matter. And with us this is also possible, but with us, due to the subtlety of matter, the fruits of creativity appear faster.

Alina: For example? Please give some example of the fruits of your creativity.

Irina: For example, I live inside the star Betelgeuse at the 37th density level. The fruit of my creativity and the creativity of plasmoids from my world are ethereal matrices - prototypes of clusters of plasma structure, which then make up a physical star.

Alina: Please tell me, are you interested in this?

Irina: He is now showing me the space - it is filled with some kind of diamonds, in which something white appears, similar to poplar fluff. And then a star appears - and energy begins to emanate from it. He says that it is better to show in an image, because in our language there are no words for their creativity.

Alina: Okay, but something else is interesting: does it bring satisfaction? Do you have such conditions? How much do you like it, how happy is it? Do you have any feelings about this?

Irina: This brings us an understanding of purpose. Understanding that we are moving towards fulfilling our goal. But, again, our joy is accompanied by a surge of energy: the more we complete our task, the more we are given access to the energies of the Source.

20:05 Plasmoid Erwin about his perception of objects and energies. Time on Betelgeuse.

Alina: I see. Tell me, is Betelgeuse a star of some planetary system?

Irina: No, there are no large planets there, but there is (shows) a dust cloud with various asteroids, fragments and comets.

Irina: Can you describe what the Earth looks like from your density level? How do you perceive the Earth?

Irina: Like a huge multi-colored crystal with 24 sides.

Irina: Shows 12 faces on top, arranged in the form of a pyramid, and below there is the same “pyramid” - and it also has 12 faces. The crystal has a white light and a purple halo around it.

Alina: Is it beautiful?

Irina: Yes. From level 37 onwards it feels like a huge complex structure.

Alina: What does our Sun look like and how is it perceived?

Irina: The Sun is perceived - as well as Betelgeuse, and all stars in general - in the form of a vortex.

Shows the rotation of the threads: the inside is silvery - and then they turn gray. And the shape is like a cone. No, not a cone, but like a lentil. It rotates and consists of long threads. The threads are the energies of the star.

At the level where I live, the whole world consists of rotating fields, rotating energy. A field is an accumulation of energy. Where I live, all space consists of spirals.

Shows its shape: the space is light purple in color - and in it there is something like a square window of white color, and the square itself is three-dimensional, and a ray emerges from each of its corners. They have some kind of shape.

Alina: You're cute!

Irina: Cute!

Alina: You described what your world looks like. These are energy swirls, vortices.

Irina: Yes, swirls, and golden in color. In general, we have all the colors of the rainbow, but the most common is golden (shows). In the perception of earthlings - we just have different perceptions - it will be golden light.

Alina: But if your world is like this, it turns out that you have no concept of time?

Irina: It exists, but it flows differently.

Alina: In relation to what are you calculating it, if there are only turbulences and movements around?

Irina: From the speed of movement of these vortices.

Alina: They are different.

Irina: By speed of movement relative to each other. You also have certain planets with the help of which you count how much time has passed.

Alina: Yes. So, do you still have a starting point?

Irina: Yes. These spirals - as I understand it, they rotate relative to each other with a certain periodicity, because this is the material world, and they count from this periodicity.

We don’t have this: day, night. We call these periods differently.

25:01 Plasmoid Erwin about communication between plasmoids. Senses of plasmoids.

Alina: Does age (what we call age) matter in your world? What does this mean? In general, do you somehow differentiate each other by age?

Irina: Only experience in performing certain tasks matters. Personally, for example, I am a scientist by specialization who studies worlds of another density - specifically the third. Not everyone here is engaged in such activities, but I specialize in it. I have such a task - and I have been fulfilling it for 56,000 years: I started when I was 400 earthly years old, that is, quite soon after being born in my world.

Alina: It turns out that status matters?

Irina: Experience. The longer you complete a task, the more experience you gain.

Alina: Do you somehow distinguish each other in this way?

Irina: We distinguish each other not by names or by external image, but by individual vibration. This is how you distinguish, for example, smells.

Alina: Smells?

Irina: Yes (shows flowers), even if they are similar in appearance, but different in smell, you will distinguish them. Each plasmoid emits a certain radiation - and it is individual, it replaces our name. Erwin is for earthlings, but in the plasmoid world my name consists of a series of energy bursts and waves.

Alina: Please tell me, how do you choose a name then? Does someone appoint him - or do you yourself, each to himself?

Irina: We don’t choose at all. We are simply born - and it appears to us on its own as a result of the influence of a part of the Spirit on our body. What you call aura is our name.

Alina: We know that there are much more plasmoids than dense material bodies - and each has its own vibration, right? That is, everyone is unique in this sense.

Irina: You also each have your own name.

Alina: Yes, but we have a lot more people than names. The names are still repeated.

Irina: If you wanted, you could also make sure that the names are not repeated. For example, they could be called by some other names that do not belong to anyone else.

Alina: It turns out that you somehow read each other's names and experiences at the level of telepathy?

Irina: We communicate using ethereal signals; we do not have sound waves.

Alina: How is it - with ethereal signals?

Irina: We put mental images into the radiation that we send to each other. This is exactly the same as you put thoughts into words. You also have certain waves that emanate from you, for example, sound waves. We have no sounds due to the lack of a medium that will carry them. Therefore, we communicate differently, through this disturbance of the ethereal environment. You communicate using disturbances in the air, and we communicate through the ether.

Alina: Please tell me what your communication is about?

Irina: Transfer of information, transfer of feelings, exchange of experience and creation of plasmoid societies for a common goal - help, for example. We can agree to help someone, create an egregor, get in touch with someone.

Alina: It’s very interesting about feelings. What are your feelings?

Irina: Love. Compassion. There is also a sense of responsibility. A sense of aesthetics, beauty. A feeling of confidence, a feeling of faith. We have the same feelings as you: feelings are the same throughout the Universe, they just manifest themselves more acutely in us, because they do not pass through the body, which extinguishes them a little. When feelings pass through the body, you begin to perceive body sensations instead. For example, if you feel love, then it will pass through your body - and you, for example, will feel warmth somewhere, tingling somewhere, somewhere else something else: this is how the physical body reacts. But we don’t have that, we just have pure love.

Alina: You say there is a feeling of beauty. It's probably similar to ours, right? What is beautiful and ugly in your world?

Irina: Beautiful is harmonious.

Alina: This is a harmony of shapes and harmony of colors, right?

Irina: Yes, it’s harmonious. And the ugly is what is destroyed. It is ugly precisely because there is no harmony in it. Harmony means the correct relationship of parts, such a relationship of parts that helps the whole to exist.

Yes, I understand what you are talking about.

32:10 Plasmoid Erwin about the human aura.

Alina: You described yourself, but how do you see a person? How do you see us? What do we look like?

Irina: I see your auras as an oval.

Shows two ovals.

Alina: So one person has two ovals?

Irina: No, the two of you are like two ovals that fit into one another, they are crossed.

A person's aura is not a sphere (shows), but an oval, which above the head is like a pointed egg or like a rugby ball - it expands towards the middle and narrows towards the bottom.

It glows in different colors for you. Each person has their own leading color. For example, Irina's leading color at the moment is light purple. And you have a green oval, and there is also a white one above your head.

Alina: Thank you, I was interested to know.

33:18 Plasmoid Erwin about the birth of plasmoids.

Alina: An interesting question is how what we call birth happens in your country. How did you come into the world in particular? How does this happen in plasmoids?

Irina: Four plasmoids participate in the birth of a new plasmoid.

Alina: Four?!

Irina: We have no gender. Four plasmoids decide to embody a fifth plasmoid from the Spiritual World - and for this they gather in one space, in your opinion, like a chamber for birth.

Alina: Energy?

Irina: Yes, they line up in the corners (shows) opposite each other at a certain distance, they come into mental and energetic contact with each other. Shows how they exchange energies. Then each of these four plasmoids sends a ray from itself to the center of space - and a ball is born there, and then the Spirit descends into this ball.

Alina: How interesting, very interesting! Thank you. Here we have the concepts of “father” and “mother”. We maintain contact in the future, we have a certain interaction between parents and children, there is a certain status between these Spirits. Do the plasmoids who participated in the creation of the new Spirit maintain relations in this regard? So four plasmoids created a new one - and then there is some kind of interaction? Does he know them as parents in his later life?

Irina: Yes. He is grateful to them for directing energy to his implementation. Rni become his teachers in order to adapt him. Like parents, there are only four of them. They are not called “dad”, “mom”, they are all equal.

Alina: And plasmoids can create Spirits more than once?

Irina: More than once.

Alina: In general, are there any statistics there, as is usually the case?

Irina: As agreed. If one plasmoid wants to embody a new one, he must find three others with whom he will match in vibration. But not everyone can find them here.

Alina: Is this a very long process?

Irina: We need to find, for example, those plasmoids that will suit each other, and which were chosen by the Spirit himself.

Alina: I mean, the very creation of a new Spirit is a long process or is it fast enough, at least in relation to something?

Irina: The process takes about two days in Earth time.

Alina: That is, quickly.

Irina: 48 hours, somewhere around this range (Erwin says).

Alina: Have you already had children?

Irina: Yes.

Alina: How many?

Irina: Three.

As I now understand, three in 56,000 years.

Alina: Are you planning any more?

Irina: I plan.

Alina: There will be four sons and a sweet daughter. Fine.

37:22 Plasmoid Erwin about the emotions of plasmoids.

Alina: We talked about feelings, but are there emotions?

Irina: Yes, but they also do not manifest themselves through the body. These are reactions to change.

Alina: What emotions? Both positive and negative?

Irina: Any, like yours. Only they do not manifest themselves through the body, like yours. Our emotions are manifested by changes in the vibrations of the outer energy shell.

Alina: And by these changes you read each other's mood and state?

Irina: Yes, of course, we can read it.

Alina: And this is how you exchange pleasantries?

Irina: Yes.

Alina: I see. Fine.

38:15 Plasmoid Erwin about the "Order of Ice Fire Mages."

Alina: Next I would like to turn to your professional activities. From previous broadcasts we know that you are the Guardian of the Order of Ice Fire Mages. So?

Irina: Yes.

Alina: What is this Order of Ice Fire Mages? The name is beautiful.

Irina: The name "order" was given by certain earthly contactees. This is a community of plasmoid worlds at different density levels. There are currently 1037 creatures.

Alina: Wait a minute, can I ask right away: is this association a community of worlds, not even plasmoids?

Irina: You could say both worlds and plasmoids. There are certain entities that enter there, but not all worlds: for example, I enter. However, this does not mean that my whole world is included. It's like an egregor, but created at different levels of density. Here you have some kind of society, but it is created only on the physical plane, and this is on different levels.

Alina: And that’s why different creatures come in, right?

Irina: Yes.

Alina: I see. But this name is “Order of Ice Fire Mages”...

Irina: The word “order” comes from the word “society”. An order is not in the sense of “reward”, but in the sense of “society”. “Magicians”: magic is a certain influence on the material world through an energetic change in the astral world, that is, an influence on the physical world through the astral. Therefore, the order was called the “Order of Magi.” And “Ice Fire” is the name given to the energy that people feel when they come into contact with the plasmoids of the Order. Contactees (not all, of course), when plasmoid energy passed through their bodies (shows), felt like a fire was burning inside them, and everything outside seemed to be covered with ice.

Such a paradoxical feeling.

Alina: It’s paradoxical, but some people know it.

Irina: So, we were also in contact.

Alina: It turns out that yes. It turns out that the name “Mages of Ice Fire” is more of an earthly name. How many participants?

Irina: 1037.

Alina: 1037 participants from different levels, from different worlds.

Irina: Yes, from different worlds and from different levels of density.

Alina: Please tell me, is there a Spirit within the Order that we could know as a Spirit that has any relation to our planet at different times? Is there anyone we know, in human terms?

Irina: There are Spirits who incarnated on Earth.

Shows their energies, images, but these were some of the incarnations, and which incarnations - they do not reveal this. Their fact is simply known, but no one is interested in who exactly they were there. Shows that they were occultists, shamans, and sorcerers on Earth. Having left incarnation, such Spirits can enter the Order of Ice Fire, provided they incarnate at ethereal density levels, that is, from the 4th to the 59th (because all levels can be included there), and subject to the desire to engage in magic - only now from the side not of a person, but of a plasmoid.

Alina: I see. The essence of Ice Fire magic is the influence from the astral world on the material world, right?

Irina: Yes.

Alina: Could you give some example of how this magic works, so that we can understand?

Irina: Protection, creation of portals, weather control, healing.

Alina: What is protection like?

Irina: Protection from negative entities and from the negative programs of other people that they mentally send to each other. After all, a person can mentally look at another and send him a negative program through the Astral.

Alina: Yes, but tell me, please, is this protection created solely at the request of a person or otherwise?

Irina: Are you now asking about the work of the Order?

Alina: Yes. It is about the work of the Order.

Irina: Of course, at the request, at the request of the person who came into contact with us: without his request it would be violence.

Alina: It turns out that we can contact you with this request?

Irina: Yes. You can address it this way: “I ask the Guardian Mages of Ice Fire to protect my space, my aura from all the negative vibrations that surround me. I promise in the future to change my vibrations so much that the negativity of others will be safe for me.”

If negativity is dangerous for someone and can cause, for example, illness or so-called accidents, this means that the person absorbs these negative vibrations like a sponge. I am not the only Guardian, there are several Guardians who store energy and information. There are also simply Servants of the Order of Ice Fire Mages, who also protect people. They envelop you with their energy (its image looks like white ethereal foam). These are high etheric vibrations that cover a person like cotton wool, and negative vibrations cannot reach him - even if he attracts them. But in the future, if he does not work on himself, this protection can be removed so that the person learns his lesson.

Alina: Will the representatives themselves film it?

Irina: Yes, they will see that he is not changing, and they can leave - this happens.

Alina: Interesting. OK, thank you. What does Guardian mean? You are the Guardian of the Order, aren't you?

Irina: Keeper of traditions in your opinion. I store information and energy potential (shows balls). I can take on the image of a man in a cloak holding a ball. This ball contains the energy potential of the Order of Magicians, the energy they mentally collected. This is part of our life force that we have invested there and which we can purposefully use for various purposes. Use a bundle to direct this energy to solve some problem.

Alina: Very interesting. You said about protection, what other examples?

Irina: Controlling the weather, but not through violence, but through an agreement with local plasmoids. You can't show violence.

Alina: But this is also at someone’s request?

Irina: Yes.

Alina: At whose request?

Irina: At the request of a person who lives there and who, for some reason, needs it. But also not just because he wants to, but with the goal of bringing benefit.

Alina: And in another case, what can be considered under this request? An example: people in one area are tired of the heat and want rain. Will this be considered a request? They just dream, walk around and say: “Oh, I wish it would rain already!” When will this heat end? Is this a call for plasmoids?

Irina: It is not. I mean a conscious call.

Alina: Only if there is a conscious request, a conscious appeal?

Irina: Yes, conscious appeal. You can contact directly the Spirits of the elements - for example, air.

Go outside (shows), look at the sky and imagine that clouds are gathering in the sky. At the same time, greet the Spirits of the area: “I greet the Spirits of the area and the Spirits of the element of air! I thank you for such clear sunny weather, but in order to increase fertility, I ask you to collect clouds in this area so that it rains.”

You can do it in your own words.

The most effective way is to imagine how you take out a bird in the form of a dove from your heart (this is working with thought forms), whisper your request to this bird and mentally release it.

Alina: Very interesting.

Irina: Can you imagine a dove?

Alina: I can, of course.

Irina: And how do you whisper something to him?

Alina: Beautiful image, I can imagine.

Irina: And how do you let him go?

Alina: I can.

Irina: And look. You can look at the sky and mentally see how in the subtle world he flew to transmit the image to the plasmoids.

Alina: Beautiful image.

Irina: Funny.

Alina: Okay. Returning to the Guardian of the Order, is there only one Guardian?

Irina: No.

Alina: How many out of a thousand plasmoids?

Irina: Six Guardians.

Alina: Equal in status?

Irina: Yes.

Alina: Is the number 6 connected with something? Does it have any meaning? This is not a random number, is it some kind of code? Why exactly 6 Guardians?

Irina: Each number is a code. 6 is the numeric code for Unconditional Love, for which the Order exists.

Alina: Okay. How is the Guardian of the Order elected? Is this the consent of all members of the Order?

Irina: Now I'll ask him. How is the Guardian of the Order selected? Shows that there is a general meeting where a certain Spirit is offered - and if no one protests, then he becomes the Guardian.

Alina: I see. On a voluntary basis. Clear.

52:11 Plasmoid Erwin about magical abilities.

Alina: On Earth we have such a thing as magical abilities, and, accordingly, people who possess them. But few people really understand what it is, from the point of view of how a person is structured: not how his physical body is structured, but how he is structured as a cosmic organism - that is, the physical body and the totality of subtle bodies.

Do you know what the magical abilities of people on Earth are? Because even those who call themselves magicians cannot really explain what it is. Some say it runs in families. My guess: this is some kind of magical structure that was developed by the Spirit, perhaps in past incarnations. On what plane should we look for the differences between a person who has magical abilities and a person who does not have magical abilities? Do you know anything about this?

Irina: These are certain energy characteristics of the etheric field that are being developed. The first is the ability to sense representatives of the subtle worlds and communicate with them. Also the ability to visualize your desires yourself, because for magic it is not enough to read some kind of conspiracy or perform some kind of ritual - for this you always need to invest your energy. You can't invest energy without imagining this result. Such abilities are faith in the effect of magic, plus a focused strong will, self-confidence, and also the imagination and ability to visualize must be sufficiently developed.

Alina: Essentially, what are magical abilities?

Irina: I would say that magic is a set of psychotechniques in which a person's abilities should be like that of an artist plus a good psychologist. At the same time, he must have mathematical abilities, because sometimes he has to calculate his actions - that is, be with clear thinking (shows), which puts things into perspective.

Alina: Essentially, magical abilities are the ability to create an image as accurately as possible and attract the essences of the subtle world to the embodiment of this image.

Irina: Yes. He also directs his energy, but in order for it to be embodied faster, most often, of course, the help of beings of the subtler worlds is needed. Magical abilities are the abilities, including the ability to come into contact with plasmoids. Many magicians are connected to the subtle worlds.

00:18 Background.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:50 Introduction of participants.

Maria: Hello, dear friends! I am very glad to be with you today and to present to you a very interesting topic that we had during one of the conferences regarding your questions. My name is Maria, I am now in Germany, and at our meeting Irina Podzorova, our respected and beloved contactee, she will now tell you who is visiting us and will answer my questions.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! Good evening! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today with us is my curator from the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations MidgasKaus. Today he will broadcast this broadcast and answer questions on this topic because he studied it.

02:55 Transmigration.

Maria: Thank you, Mid. The topic of our meeting today is the phenomenon of transmigration. Please tell me what it is.

Irina: Transmigration is a type of contact when a Spirit (most often a disembodied Spirit) comes to its contactee, an embodied Spirit, and begins to live with it - one might say, living its incarnation almost inseparably from it. Moreover, it can even temporarily occupy his body and, through the body's receptors, receive information from the outside world. At the same time, the owner of the body himself, the incarnate Spirit, leaves the life thread unbroken, still being the owner of this body and considered incarnate. Transmigration is a type of very dense, close cooperation and supervision with the disembodied Spirit. Why specifically with the disembodied? Because it is very difficult for an embodied Spirit - a humanoid or a plasmoid - to contact in this way, to constantly be in contact, because he must also be distracted by his own body.

Maria: Thank you. Tell me, please, can you recognize such people on Earth or humanoids on other planets, for example? One of my friends - also a contactee, as we found out, even physical, with Pikran - told me that he sees such people: ordinary people have a luminous ball above their heads, and people with transmigration have two balls. He told me about this type of contact, and I'm wondering how you see it?

Irina: There you need to distinguish by energy: in the field of some person there is a disembodied Spirit almost constantly, that is, it is held there due to the vital energy of the person himself and all this happens voluntarily, with the consent of the contactee himself, the disembodied Spirit and their mentors, the Angels. consultants from the Spiritual world, because this contact should not disrupt the plans for the incarnation of the incarnate Spirit, so that he, too, fulfills his task.

Maria: I see. But how do you see such people, such contacts?

Irina: We feel the presence or even see this Spirit in the field. If he is right now directly in the human field, then we see him in the Astral, his image.

Maria: The one seen in Astral, yes?

Irina: Yes.

06:15 Reasons for transmigration and stages of the process.

Maria: Mead, please tell me what is the main reason for this kind of contact? For what purpose do Spirits usually make such contact?

Irina: There are different reasons. Most often, this is some kind of unfinished business for the disembodied Spirit, which he could not finish on Earth. At the same time, the Spirit still has someone left on Earth, for example, a continuer of his work, a student, or simply a person suitable in vibration, who can, in union with the disembodied Spirit, finish this work, and they work on it together.

Maria: How often does this happen?

Irina: On Earth, specifically at the present time, this is a rather rare type of contact: approximately one in seven thousand contactees with the Spiritual world.

Maria: Very rarely. Because obviously it's a complex process.

Irina: This is a very complex process: they must completely coincide in vibration, and the still unembodied Spirit must be able to inhabit the body - not every Spirit can do this. And not just to inhabit the body, but to control it and receive information from the senses. The spirit must be very well compatible with the body, and this must be, I emphasize once again, voluntary consent.

Maria: Please tell me, Mead, at what stage of the incarnation of the first Spirit, the owner of the body, is such a connection with it of the second Spirit, the disembodied one, possible?

Irina: When the disembodied Spirit comes out of its incarnation and completely loses its vitality (after forty days) - at what stage should it come to the incarnate Spirit?

This may first be simply contact with the Spiritual world for this person, and then an offer will be received to constantly be in his field. And then the disembodied Spirit may offer to give up his body to him for a certain period. But the fact is that Spirits have different abilities and the ability to remain in the body of another Spirit for different times, because the body is still completely adapted to one Spirit. And for the second Spirit, even if it matches the vibrations, it is still someone else’s body - and it has to make more efforts, so the time of continuous stay in it is limited.

Maria: At what stage is such a settlement, such contact possible? At birth or at a certain age - doesn't it matter?

Irina: It doesn’t matter.

Maria: This can happen at any age, at any stage of development?

Irina: This will not happen in childhood, because the childhood stage will not help that Spirit who has not fulfilled its destiny; it needs an adult.

Maria: So this happens mainly in adulthood, when a person can already somehow act in society?

Irina: Yes. After all, how can a child help? How will this child's body help the Spirit, what purpose will it fulfill?

10:03 Necessary conditions for transmigration and implementation mechanism.

Maria: Can you describe in a little more detail the mechanism of connecting two Spirits in one body?

Irina: This is not a union of Spirits in one body, but one Spirit, the owner, temporarily leaves the body and is either next to it in the Astral Plane or in the World of disembodied Spirits, but still remains connected by a vital thread so that the body is alive.

Maria: Very interesting. Tell me, please, are there any specific prerequisites or conditions other than the coincidence of vibrations? For example, should these Spirits be from the same spiritual level?

Irina: They do not necessarily have to be from the same spiritual level, but they must be well acquainted, they must be completely in the same spirit, that is, completely coincide in their beliefs, in their moral standards: this way it will be easier for them to combine mental fields with the brain. And the consent and recommendation of the Consulting Angels of both the first and second Spirits - both the contactee and the curator - must be obtained.

Mary: Is that incarnate Spirit who provided his body in the Spiritual world with his incarnate and disembodied part?

Irina: No. He is still with vital force, and his embodied part - the Soul, separated for incarnation at 30% - is separate, not merging with the Higher Self, because there is still vital force. And she will be in it until the thread is broken.

Maria: Until he comes out of incarnation, right?

Irina: Yes, until he completely leaves the incarnation.

Maria: What is the energy structure of such a person? How many subtle bodies and chakras does he have? Does anything change?

Irina: Nothing changes, all the same bodies and chakras, it's just that the Spirit that came fills the etheric matrix of this body. He takes the place of the Contactee Spirit within the etheric matrix, which is an intermediary between him and the physical body. And then the mind, feelings and emotions of the Spirit-curator, passing through the physical plane, create certain subtle bodies.

Maria: Okay, thank you.

12:54 Numerological calculations for transmigration. The relationship between two Spirits during transmigration.

Maria: Please tell me, if the second Spirit comes later - mainly in adulthood, as you said - are all numerological calculations correct for him? What orientation does he then receive for his incarnation?

Irina: This is not incarnation into a new body as such. It is simply a temporary use of the body with the consent of the Spirit embodied in it. So numerological calculations and all other characteristics do not change, because the disembodied Spirit was not born, but comes into a ready-made matrix.

Maria: I see. Does this mean that numerological calculations will not be correct for this Spirit and its purpose of incarnation?

Irina: They will be faithful to him. It's just that when he comes into contact with this body and, as I already said, takes his place in the body through the etheric matrix, then he takes on those numerological and astrological characteristics that the owner of the body had.

Maria: Does this mean that the goals of their implementation should coincide?

Irina: Yes, as I already said, their goals, the initial settings of coincidence in vibrations - this is, among other things, a coincidence of the purpose of incarnation. At least mostly. You know that two people with the same numerological calculation will realize their energy in completely different ways.

Maria: Yes. This is true.

Irina: For example, if two people have musical talent, that is, some increased sensitivity of auditory receptors to the sounds of music and the ability to produce it, if they are given the same development of this talent by their Higher Selves, then they will still realize it in matter differently.

Maria: I understand, it is so, we use and realize the goals of our incarnation in different ways. Tell me then, with which Higher Self does the second Spirit unite upon contact? Can he unite without knowing it with the original Spirit?

Irina: No. He connects with his Higher Self, because the human body in any case (and in the case of transmigration too) cannot contain more than 30% of the Spirit. For this reason, when connecting with the body, it is partially connected, it's just that there is a slightly different mechanism, since it inhabits not its own etheric matrix, but the etheric matrix of another Spirit. But still, when connecting with the body, his Higher Self is not in the World of disembodied Spirits, but in the Astral around this person.

Maria: So all 70% are in the Astral, not in the Spiritual World?

Irina: Yes, in the Astral, and 30% is in the etheric field of this person.

Maria: And the incarnate Spirit, who provided the body, has 70% in the Spiritual world?

Irina: Yes, and 30% can be both in the Spiritual world next to their Higher Self, and simply in the Astral.

Maria: I see. And whose incarnations then does such a person see during regression? Can he see the incarnations of the indwelling Spirit and accept them as his own?

Irina: No. These are still two different Spirits. The fact is that during transmigration, the Spirit who moved in will remember this and will know for sure that he is not the same person whose body he moved into.

Maria: I see. Does the Spirit who contacts or has occupied this body know that he is using someone else's body?

Irina: He knows. The memory of this, unlike the incarnation, is not erased.

Maria: Does he absolutely know that he is in someone else's body?

Irina: He not only knows this, he remembers the very moment of transmigration. Also, since he has not yet incarnated into his own new body, he can remember his past lives, including his last life, which was before leaving his incarnation.

Maria: He also knows everything about the Host Spirit?

Irina: He knows about his Spirit.

Maria: What about the Host Spirit?

Irina: He knows about the Host Spirit only what he himself will tell him in a mental image, because in the brain that he occupies there are practically no memories of the past lives of this Spirit, because the brain does not contain information about life in others bodies, he did not experience this experience.

Maria: Mead, please tell me, is it possible for a conscious meeting and interaction of two such Spirits in the Astral or in the Spiritual World while they are in the same body?

Irina: They first meet in the Astral - and only then, when they come to an agreement, the Spirit-curator occupies the body of the contactee for a certain period, and then leaves it again and the body is occupied by the owner. Because if you don't do this, the body will not be able to carry out the orders of this Spirit constantly.

Maria: I see. Can they continue to meet and interact somehow?

Irina: They constantly interact with each other and even sometimes replace each other several times during the day. To others, this will look like a change in personality.

Maria: Yes, this is also one of the questions that I will ask later.

Tell me, please, do the actions and thoughts of the Spirit that has settled in his body affect the state of the Contactee's Spirit? This is not a guarantee that he will develop along the path that he began in advance.

Irina: Not a guarantee. But he can always, like any contactee, break this agreement.

Maria: Can this situation be interrupted at any time?

Irina: Yes. It happens that the invading Spirit lowers the vibrations of the body or harms it in some way - and these vibrations are transmitted along the life thread to the owner of the body, who is located outside of it. If the invading Spirit negatively affects the body or Spirit of the contactee, causing negative emotions and a decrease in vibrations in him, then the contactee can turn to his Guardian Angel or his Consulting Angel and say that he refuses to further contact and interact with the Spirit-curator and voluntarily decided to break off contact. And then his own Consulting Angels come to the Spirit that occupies his body and ask him to leave.

Maria: I see.

21:14 Transmigration agreement. The difference between transmigration and possession.

Maria: Tell me, please, if the Soul did not have the opportunity for development, then to what level does the Spirit then go after the disincarnation of the body, that is, the Spirit of the owner of the body?

Irina: To the level that will be before his exit from incarnation. He will still return to his body and will also perform some of his own actions. Usually they have an agreement there about how long the owner uses the body and how long the curator uses it, because if the curator completely occupies the body, this will not give the contactee the opportunity to develop through matter - such an agreement is usually not drawn up.

Maria: Does the spirit of the owner of the body still have the opportunity to develop independently and realize itself normally at some point in time?

Irina: To put it simply, this is renting a body, just like renting an apartment, but the owner still retains basic rights.

Maria: Are there such situations when a curator who comes into someone else’s body remains there throughout his entire conscious life until the owner leaves the incarnation?

Irina: Yes, if this is provided for in the contract, but he still, according to the contract, must give way to the contactee. In addition, he will not be able to constantly exist in the body without leaving it. Because this is someone else’s body, which needs to be given the opportunity to adapt, to bring itself into a state of harmony.

Maria: What are the usual terms of such a lease?

Irina: The fact is that contracts are completely different. The spirit, which is the owner of the body, can generally say: “I want to stay in the Spiritual world, and you will give me, say, ten days a month so that I can fulfill my task. The rest of the time you can control my body, and I will be in the Spiritual world without interrupting the life thread, so that you can live in my body and complete your task, because you could not do this for some reason in a past life . I love you so much that I give you most of my time.”

But the fact is that the body of the Spirit itself will not be able to hold the curator in this way for a long time, since it will need long periods of rest in order to be in harmony, not to have any diseases or abnormalities, and to be adequately used to fulfill the task of life. Usually the curator understands this very well, so he himself will not exceed these deadlines, otherwise the physical body will be incapacitated and become ill due to a violation of the etheric matrices.

Maria: I see. Returning to the spiritual level that these Spirits can acquire during their incarnation and use of the body, it will most likely change, right? Are both Spirits given the opportunity to change and increase vibrations?

Irina: Yes, level up. And I also want to emphasize that specifically transmigration is more typical for Spirits of the angelic plane or the middle level, who know how to negotiate. Disembodied Spirits from demonic levels are most often very selfish, very cruel, and the idea of negotiating something with their contactee does not occur to them in their spiritual mind, they simply inhabit him - and this is already called possession.

Maria: Obsession, yes, we know such a phenomenon.

Irina: Here an obsession already occurs, when the contactee has attracted a certain Spirit with his vibrations - and they no longer negotiate with him, but simply push him out, kick him out, so to speak, into the street. Of course, the owner is still connected to his body with a vital thread, but it can be very difficult for him to get rid of the uninvited guest due to the fact that he himself attracted him with his vibrations, and due to the fact that most often the will of the contactee is suppressed.

Maria: I see, thank you. Yes, we have such a type of disease as split personality, and we can say that this is exactly this type of contacting: using the body in a destructive way.

Irina: If this is transmigration, then the Spirit himself will know exactly who he is, where he came from, why he came for this transmigration, and what are the goals and objectives of his continuation of life in the material world without his own body, which died. Usually these are very important tasks that were not solved due to some, for example, violent actions, cataclysms, serious injuries, and so on, which led to the exit from incarnation earlier than the deadline set by oneself.

Maria: So, the Spirits who come in this way have global tasks - one might say, on a planetary scale? In other words, are they getting a body like this for very serious purposes?

Irina: Yes, this often happens to those who had tasks, the implementation of which greatly influenced the noosphere of the entire planet, the development of the entire civilization. In this case, if for some reason the Spirit left the incarnation before the time appointed by itself in the Spiritual World or at its own time, but without fully completing its task, then it could find a contactee, agree with him in the Astral Plane about what would occupy him body, and be sure to give something in return according to the law of exchange: some information, help, and so on. Occupying a body just like that (“I haven’t completed my task, and you will give me your body”) - usually Consulting Angels will not agree to this, because this is more like the same egoism of demonic levels.

Maria: What do such Spirit-owners of bodies usually receive in return?

Irina: In return, they receive, for example, help in their spiritual development (in the form of information, various energies), some kind of gift (the gift of healing, clairvoyance) or some other help. The spirit, naturally, cannot pay for this rent with money, it does not have any, but it can provide its spiritual skills, information, and so on.

Maria: Mead, please tell me, does the Spirit who is the owner, after the departure of the Tenant Spirit, remember about his guest, about his contactee?

Irina: This will depend on the degree of his memories of the contact and the time spent in the Astral, on his awareness. He may remember it quite clearly, or he may remember it as a dream.

Maria: I see, he may not even know that some Spirit was using his body?

Irina: If he later wants to repress these memories for some reason, he can forget about them. This experience will remain only in the subconscious.

Maria: This will be a rather strange situation for his environment, when a person lived and behaved in a certain way - and suddenly, after the departure of the Tenant Spirit, he suddenly becomes completely different, behaves completely differently.

Irina: And also if he introduces himself by a different name.

Maria: Yes, she will begin to introduce herself by a different name. We even have classic works on this topic.

And in conclusion, Mead, I want to ask you if you know of any significant historical figures who acted on our planet in exactly this way, coming as contactees through transmigration.

Irina: I haven’t studied specific individuals, but I can look at this question. I was simply studying the phenomenon itself.

Maria: It would be interesting, since we said that usually very significant Spirits come in this way.

Irina: Transmigration occurs not only on Earth, but in general in all worlds and even at different levels of density. I only studied the phenomenon itself.

31:22 Advice for people who have come into contact with transmigration.

Maria: Okay. And the last question. What advice do you have for people who suddenly recognize this type of embodiment in themselves?

Irina: What does “recognize” mean?

Maria: If they consciously understand that they have a Spirit to whom they provide their body for a while.

Irina: First, ask your Higher Self about how necessary such contact is for the purpose of a person’s incarnation and whether it can interfere with the purpose of this person’s incarnation - here you need to look for harmony.

Maria: Do you recommend a conscious approach through the Higher Self?

Irina: Yes. A person who receives an offer of such a plan, before agreeing, needs to talk with his Higher Self. Through the Higher Self, invite his Consulting Angels and the Consulting Angels of this Contactor Spirit - and together with them determine the details of the spiritual contract.

Maria: You can track the events of your life: maybe someone really has such a case of transmigration, when a person behaves inappropriately.

Irina: And if now this video is watched by that Spirit who understands that he has occupied someone’s body, and, therefore, remembers why he occupied it, then I recommend that he still be careful not to get carried away by any then material desires, material attractions not related to the fulfillment of his task, for which he asked his contactee to provide him with a body, otherwise this will lead to the fact that the contactee may ask the Consulting Angels to terminate the contract - and then you will not complete your tasks, for the sake of where it all started.

In fact, this is a very complex action, a very large project, in which the curators of this person also participate, supporting him energetically. It also happens that it is supported by plasmoid civilizations - they provide energy during the period of adaptation of the Spirit-curator to someone else's body, which does not always go smoothly and easily, there are different cases. Especially if the owner of this body has a family and another Spirit needs to interact with it, for whom they are complete strangers. There are different options possible - naturally, the Consulting Angels try to harmonize all this as much as possible and give the opportunity to the Supervisor Spirit, the disembodied Spirit, to fulfill its tasks. This is a fairly serious event that is not recommended for fun. This is not just a temporary provision of one's body so that the Spirit can say a few words, it is a very serious phenomenon that affects the life of the person himself and the people around him.

Maria: Mead, thank you.

Irina: I also want to give some advice to those people who understand that their relative is no longer the same person they knew for a long time, he has changed in some way, as if he had lost his memory, does not recognize his relatives, calls himself by a different name and talks about completely another life.

The fact is that most often, during transmigration, memory remains with the owner of the body, with his Soul, and only imprints of this memory remain in the brain in the form of special protein molecules - they still need to be deciphered. This is not so simple, so the contactee may get confused with names and dates, especially if he works somewhere. This person may look quite inadequate, especially at first. And if suddenly this happens in your family, it is rare that the contactee warns his entire family about this, most often this happens simply alone with the curator and with the Spiritual world, and the contactee is usually afraid to notify his family, especially if they adhere to materialistic beliefs and can don't understand. He simply confronts the relatives living with him with the fact that the curator has already moved into his body - and it looks like the person suddenly lost his memory and began to consider himself a different person. You, of course, understand how this looks from the point of view of medicine - medicine, which does not recognize such phenomena as transmigration and contacting in general.

Maximum tact and calm are required here. You need to ask the person who he is, where he comes from, for what purpose he came, and give him in brief form the maximum information about where he ended up, in what family, in what city, and so on. Some Spirits even find it difficult to find words in the contactee's native language - and they begin to get confused, although most information about the language (about the vocabulary and pronunciation of words) is stored in the brain on the physical level. But even to count it, it takes a lot of effort, especially at first, when the Spirit has not adapted to the body, so it can generally go into silence and try to somehow adapt to the new environment. At the moment when he inhabits the body, his physical body, his feelings, his sensations of the body through receptors usually turn out to be completely different from what the Spirit imagined them to be. It falls on him like a cascade of impressions and sounds.

So, dear friends, very interesting information was given about transmigration. It turns out that this type of contact exists, but it is rare, very ambiguous and quite risky - both for the person and for the disembodied Spirit who makes such contact.

Dear friends, I thank you for watching this video, thank you for your attention and for being with us. See you again!

Maria: We also thank Irina and MidgasKaus for this information, very interesting. I think it will help many people understand situations that are unusual for them. We look forward to new meetings and new interesting topics, goodbye!

Irina: See you again!

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone! Now I'll set up the camera. Hi all. Warm greetings from Montreal. By the way, hello to Montreal. In Montreal there is one of the branches of the CASSIPEA Project. Therefore, hello to Montreal right away.

Guys, I want to immediately let everyone know who I am and what I am. Because we will do this every live broadcast.

Hello, my name is Rusan Maxim. I am the leader of a very large esoteric project on contacts with extraterrestrial civilizations. I am the leader of this project. This is a unique project.

How is it unique? The project is unique in that we have a contactee - Irina Podzorova, who has contact with dense-material structures, that is, with aliens, contact with subtle-material structures, let's call them so - Spirits of nature, Spirits of stars, and contact with the Spiritual world. Plus, Irina is a unique contactee (there are no such contactees anymore, if you show such a contactee, we will be happy to talk with him), who transmits technical information from our interstellar friends, namely representatives of the Interstellar Union and from representatives of the Galactic Federation of Light. If you are watching this video now, you have entered a unique live broadcast.

Many people know us, many people watch us. I always start this broadcast with news about the project, what has happened lately, what off-site events we have, new discoveries, discoveries of new developed devices (we are now working on them with the help of our interstellar friends). Of course, they do not provide technology, but they tell us and our scientists how we can develop either equipment or a device that will help the development of the entire civilization and all of humanity.

Therefore, if you are watching this live broadcast now, you are watching an absolutely unique channel. I really want the taxi driver with whom I was traveling in Moscow to watch the channel, if anything - hi! He was very surprised that there was a project that was in contact with extraterrestrial civilizations.

We literally just arrived from Moscow this morning, from our Moscow Center “CASSIOPEI”, which is located in the city of Domodedovo, in the Vostryakovo microdistrict.

You can chat, but without pleasure? No, you can’t communicate here without pleasure, here you can only communicate with pleasure.

This is our Center, we went there with our outdoor event. You know, they write to me very often and say that it is impossible to get to Irina. I will tell you this, there is indeed a very great difficulty, because there are a large number of people.

I forgot what makes our project unique. Our project is unique in that we conduct all spiritual knowledge, healing sessions, wellness sessions on donation terms. In Russia, many people try to do this, but, unfortunately, in the end it doesn’t work out. And we use this donation that we collect for the development and construction of the CASSIOPEA Project throughout Russia. Therefore, when you come to our project, when you yourself determine how to help the project, I, as a manager, decide where to direct this money - for construction and development.

I’ll tell you honestly, not all esotericists, of course, are determined to develop you in order to build some projects. Basically, esotericism in Russia is aimed at making money for your loved ones. This is fine. This is good.

Money is good, money is not bad. I'm just telling you why our project is unique and why we're crazy. We are crazy that the money you give us for development, we use for development. And even the money that I earn as an individual entrepreneur, I also use for the development of the project. Therefore, if someone says that we have gone crazy, yes, we have gone crazy, but in a very strange way.

As a leader, I believe that the main task on this planet is to increase the level of awareness of the perception of each person. And as long as I am the leader of this project, as long as I am alive (although, probably, not very many people like the fact that I am still alive), I will direct the entire project and all funds for development. So that you can come to us, decide for yourself how much it will cost you, and we will pass on to you the knowledge that our interstellar friends pass on to us.

We are waiting for you all. We have a Center in Voronezh. We are waiting for you at the Voronezh Center. Training takes place on condition of additional training. If you show me where in Russia they teach you pre-nation, I will gladly go there to study and complete this training. Therefore, write in the comments if anyone knows that some projects can teach additional training, I will be happy to go there and study, and see what knowledge they give there.

06:14 Camera world.

Maxim: Regarding the news. We were in Moscow not only with a visiting program. I would like to say that we will conduct such visiting programs often. Why? Because I will talk live about the fact that we are leaving, and everyone who watches the live broadcast will have a real opportunity to make an appointment immediately after it and get an appointment with Irina at this particular outdoor event. So watch our live broadcasts. I can clearly determine that we are going to Moscow and we will hold an event there.

What else makes these retreats unique? We are going not only with Irina, one of the project managers is also going with us - Alexey Morozov. Nadezhda Viktorovna will always travel with us - this is the head of our health center, who has been working on OBERON equipment for 30 years, who will be able to look at you and identify your physical ailments with the possibility of recommendations for further work with them. Plus, specialists from various fields, such as visceral massage and bioenergy massage, will travel with us.

And the most important thing. Remember when I told you that we are at the stage of developing unique equipment that deals with the regeneration and restoration of cells at the physical level? This is the "chamber of light". You can congratulate us - we have the first samples that have been approved by our scientists. They were developed with the help of our interstellar friends. We now have the ability to place these “chambers of light” in each of our centers.

What it is? This is equipment that creates magnetic fields of certain frequencies aimed at restoring all internal structures and organs of the human body.

Thank you very much, Igor. Congratulations, I'm very happy myself. We have been working towards this for a very long time. We have been working toward this for a year and a half. And now those secret technologies that the Americans promised are in our project. We are ready to share information with any structures if they are interested in these restoration technologies.

We are currently engaged in licensing at the level of medical activities. This equipment is not just some kind of fake. This equipment will be licensed and certified to be used for medical purposes. Because we have research, we have statistics, we have all the information to try to implement this equipment so that many people can take advantage of this achievement. We will not be selling this equipment for now. I don’t want to devalue it in any way, we will have it in the project. You can come to us at the Voronezh Center to use it.

We left such equipment at the Moscow Center. Therefore, if anyone wants to try the effects of this latest unique equipment, which is engaged in the restoration and regeneration of the human body, you can come to our Center in Domodedovo, it is there.

We, of course, will try to go global in order to try to reduce the cost of production, and ultimately make the process of operating this equipment accessible. Certification itself is very expensive, as is the development itself. But now we have already come to this. We have real samples developed together with scientists.

And by the way, more. Dear scientists, if anyone is watching us now, we are ready to interact with you, collaborate, and dock with our interstellar friends. I have a very big task - to engage not even in development, but in the possibility of approaching the issue of fuel-free energy. And I am happy (when we come to this) ready to transfer this scheme, these systems to our structures. Although I know that there are many developments, it is too early for them to be published.

Therefore, scientists, I am not joking. Although I am schizoteric, I am also a lawyer, economist, and psychologist. I consider what I do to be unique things. And I'm not afraid for the feedback from our interstellar friends that they will give to you, scientists. Because the conferences that are taking place now are truly unique. And each of them gives feedback to all those who participate in it. So write, call, find us. I know that you are very afraid, embarrassed, so that no one sees you, so that you don't get "shot," or something else. Don't be afraid, as you should - we'll approach it that way.

We have already passed the first stage of creating a bed for restoring the physical body, and I am approaching the second stage - this is the creation of equipment for fuel-free technologies. And I will try to promote this equipment to the masses so that in our country people can use cheap energy.

12:14 Film about Griar.

Maxim: Next. We were in Moscow and held a conference with the Spirit of Yesenin, three hours - this, of course, was a very long time. But what I learned there also certainly amazed me.

Guys, the conference will be out soon. And there our dear friend Yesenin admits to some things, but I won't tell anything. I hope this conference will be published in our service content. We can't put it on our YouTube channel. Because Bryusov Hall, where we performed, wanted to exhibit it for a fee. But you cannot display it for a fee, this is contrary to the terms of our project. This will be billed as donation.

"The development of fuel-free technologies is prohibited by the State Duma of the Russian Federation." Andrey, you know, you have now opened up some new milestone for me. How is this prohibited? We generally welcome the development of new technologies. It cannot be banned, someone deceived you. If it is prohibited, please write what law does not allow us to develop fuel-free technologies and transfer them to people.

A film about Greear will be released soon. A lot of material, a lot of editing and processing. I myself am looking forward to the release of this film. Because there will be a lot of different points that will be explained. Our contactees are all smart. A lot of information was provided regarding Griar. There we will provide you with interesting scientific data regarding the information that many contactees gave, especially those who spoke about the absence of this incident. So wait, guys. I can't say, but in the near future. We just arrived from Moscow, I literally slept for 3-4 hours today, and went on air to tell you a bunch of news.

The Moscow Center - the "chamber of light" is already located there. If so, find a phone number. For questions, to sign up for training, to find out what programs, if you do not know how to use our website, which basically has everything, then you can call the phone number: +7 988 910 00 40. Her name is Lenochka, Lena. She will tell you, tell you what training programs we have, there are a lot of them.

15:16 Workshop of the project "Cassiopeia".

Maxim: By the way, we are now launching workshops where we will teach you how to work with all types of energies. This is for everyone who has gone through many training programs. More precisely, not us, but our interstellar friends, plus our earthly subtle structures will teach you how to work with the energy of water, with the energy of fire, with the energy of the Sun, with the energy of the planets, with the energy of the Moon.

Therefore, we will soon have unique workshops.

“Maxim, we want to see you on air, ten people are waiting”

You can come to these unique workshops. And what’s most interesting is that these workshops will be available to both the 1st stage and the 2nd stage, and to those who have undergone self-healing through the Higher Self. But, of course, it is advisable to undergo the 1st stage of contacting in order to at least understand what are energies, what is the matrix of the planet Burkhad, what is the light network of the Galaxy.

Let's see how it goes for us. We are launching a workshop next year.

Next, what else do we have?

We have a retreat coming up soon, right here in October. From October 10th to 14th we will have a retreat at our Center in St. Petersburg. I made a reservation, we do not have a Center in St. Petersburg. But I think it was not in vain that I made a reservation, I think that after this trip we will have a Center in St. Petersburg. I have this impression, I have a feeling that we will also have some interesting moment there.

We are going to St. Petersburg with a unique program. It is called “The Science of Imagery and Astral Travel,” where Irina Podzorova and Ilya Alexandrov, together with our interstellar friends, will teach you and tell you what the Astral is, and in general, what the science of imagery is. The science of imagery is a science that is taught in schools of the Interstellar Union to children who know how and are learning to shape their reality.

How reality is formed, how the energy of this reality is formed, how you yourself shape this reality, everything will be told at this retreat. We are not just going with a training program, we are going with the Wellness Center, Nadezhda Viktorovna Merenkova is coming, Alexey, our visceral massage therapist, is coming. Plus we take “cameras of light” with us. Yes, guys, we are also taking this new equipment to St. Petersburg. And if you want to go to a retreat, or for health improvement, or for research, examination, or to a visceral massage therapist, you can also call the phone number - 8 (901) 193 49 50. Sign up for a retreat, health improvement, with Nadezhda Viktorovna, at “light chamber” and contact our visceral massage therapist at phone number 8 (901) 193 49 50.

Everything I said before, everything that is there, is in the links under this video. You can come and watch the retreat in St. Petersburg. Then, next after the retreat in St. Petersburg, we will have a unique multi-retreat in the Republic of Belarus, in a simply cool sanatorium. A former KGB sanatorium with a swimming pool, sauna, cryochambers, and health treatments. We have more than 20 masters coming, more than 6 projects that are part of the CASSIOPEIA Project, I can just list them: cosmohealing, cosmoenergetics, Atmash project, Sacral School, mentalhealing, Institute of Transpersonal Psychology. We go there to conduct a huge number of practices. There will be a lot of information. At the retreat in Belarus we will hold personal receptions with Irina Podzorova, because it is possible for people to get there from afar, from beyond the territory of the Russian Federation. There will be masters with different practices. At the retreat in Belarus we are again opening the Cassandra project. We are bringing with us not only Irina and unique masters, but also another unique master who is capable of transmitting messages from the Higher Powers, which can be aimed at increasing your awareness and perception.

We are waiting for you in Belarus. Because Belarus will be, I would call it, a collection of experience from all three years of the CASSIOPEA Project and the masters who will participate. Our Belarusian Center will be present there with its masters, a large number of massage therapists, and health practices.

Minsk, Belarus, there is a sanatorium in the forests with unique nature. This sanatorium also has a unique water well, which also helps restore all internal structures and organs.

We are not going to Egypt; this year we have placed full emphasis on the territory of the Russian Federation. And instead of going to Egypt before the New Year, we decided to give each of you the opportunity to choose where the CASSIOPEA Project will come with the first stage training program.

Under this video there is a link to the “voting”, you can select your region. Accordingly, the region that wins this vote, we promise that we will go there right before the New Year.

And another piece of news. We celebrate the New Year at our Center in Voronezh. At our Center in Voronezh, I am now completing the construction of the third building with a kindergarten, or rather, I am building this building. I hope that before the New Year we will already have a large conference hall in order to hold events there.

Therefore, the most important thing is that I want to thank you all. Guys, thank you so much for your help and support, and for your gift from the heart, which you direct towards the CASSIOPEA Project. And I can guarantee that everything that you sent with your gift to your heart for the masters of the CASSIOPEA Project, to the CASSIOPEA Project itself, everything that you buy from the CASSIOPEA Project, I won’t say anymore, there are essential oils, probiotic microorganisms.

We have a new cool thing coming soon, I won’t say yet. As soon as it comes out, I'll let you know.

Everything you send to us goes towards the development of our Project. Thank you very much. I won't keep you any longer. Today we have a unique broadcast with the youth Vyacheslav. There was a request for him, a very ambiguous person with such ambiguous spiritual material. Today we will find out everything.

See you all again. I give my floor to our unique contactee, who can transmit any kind of information, especially technical information.

23:36 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Greetings to everyone, dear friends.

Maxim: Just a minute, we need to fix the camera. All. We are ready.

Irina: Yes, I welcome everyone.

Maxim: No, I won't run for President, it's too much responsibility. I believe that Vladimir Vladimirovich has taken on such responsibility that no one can do it better than him.

Irina: I greet everyone, dear friends. Thank you everyone. My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle beings and the Spiritual world. And today the Spirit is present with us, the disembodied Spirit, who in his last incarnation on Earth was known as the youth Vyacheslav. In our Orthodox religious egregor this is a famous person.

He is present here. But he is not present alone, but with his Angel guide, who helped him pass from the world of disembodied Spirits to the Astral and come here to me to transmit information. He is present here in the Astral Plane and is ready to transmit information. Hello. Says hello to everyone.

Maxim: I greet you. Please tell me how can I contact you?

Irina: Simply Glory.

Maxim: Glory, yes?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Slav, I thank you for coming. We really have a lot of questions for you. We have a lot of information about how you spent your short life on this planet in this incarnation.

26:01 Youth Vyacheslav about his incarnations.

Maxim: I would like to ask you right away, please tell me, from what spiritual level did you come to our planet in your last incarnation, when you were Slava?

Irina: If you look at your teaching, then from the 9th.

Maxim: From the 9th spiritual level.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Please tell me, to what spiritual level did you leave incarnation?

Irina: On the 10th.

Maxim: From level 9 to level 10, right?

Tell me, please, was this short incarnation of yours even planned in principle?

Irina: So short – no, it wasn't.

Maxim: How long did it take to implement it?

Irina: Seventy-three years.

Maxim: Wow. At what age did you leave?

Irina: I didn't make it to 11 for five days.

Maxim: I didn't live to see 11 for 5 days, right? Tell me, please, how many incarnations did you have in total in this manvantara?

Irina: Eighty-two.

Maxim: Not so much. And in what percentage in fine-material structures and dense worlds?

Irina: 14 incarnations were in dense worlds, the rest were in subtle worlds.

Maxim: 14 incarnations in the subtle worlds, and the rest?

Irina: On the contrary.

Maxim: Have you had any other incarnations on Earth?

Irina: Yes, the previous one.

Maxim: Before Glory?

Irina: Previous.

I'll explain now. He has now come as the Spirit. And now he turned on the memory, the part that contains information about the last life in the body. This is the youth Vyacheslav. And when we start asking him about other incarnations, he switches to other memory cells.

Maxim: Is it even possible to do this in principle?

Irina: Yes, perhaps I have information stored.

Irina: He’s just not incarnated now, and therefore he has information about all incarnations. This is not just information in the form of images, in the form of memories. So, when he talks about his previous incarnation, he means before Slavik.

Maxim: Yes, and I'm asking in front of Slavik.

Irina: There was also an earthly incarnation.

Maxim: So, where and by whom?

Irina: I was incarnated in January 1922, on the outskirts of Berlin, by a man, my name was Peter Groft. And I took part in the war against the Soviet Union. Because of the war, I lowered my level, because I incarnated into Peter's body from the 22nd level. And he came out of incarnation in 1943 near Stalingrad in battle to the 9th level.

He is now showing me the image of this soldier. At the beginning he was a boy about 10-12 years old. A boy in a long white (shows) nightgown. And then he shows an image in a helmet. I see a man with a round face. He says that he incarnated into this body, into this Peter, from the 22nd level, and because of the war he fell to the 9th.

Maxim: From level 22? Tell me, please, what is the maximum level you reached?

Irina: 22nd.

Maxim: From the 22nd you came to Earth and fell to the 9th level, right?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: It's normal, our Earth is good. Tell me, please, what incarnations did you have in our Galaxy, not in our Galaxy?

Irina: I had an incarnation before Peter, I was incarnated on the planet Burkhad and lived there for 7200 of your years.

Shows, also a man, like a psychologist.

Maxim: On Burhad, yes?

Irina: Yes.

When I lived on the planet Burkhad, in the constellation Cygnus, I was personally acquainted with Jesus Christ. He had already arrived from Earth, and I communicated with him after that.

Maxim: Very interesting.

Irina: Shows the island, how he arrived there and communicated.

32:37 Youth Vyacheslav about the war.

Maxim: Here, Slav, now here’s a really interesting question. Rafael asks, please tell me what you think about the war with the Soviet Union and about Soviet soldiers. You remember your memories. What did you think of them?

Irina: Did you think then?

What did you think of them then? Customizable.

He says he's switching his memory. In that incarnation, I believed that these were enemies (shows aggression, anger). The anger that entered my heart, my spiritual heart, brought my level down. Have you heard this expression when military leaders build an image of the enemy?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: The same thing happened there. Soviet soldiers were presented as not entirely human, but as half-animals, guided only by instincts. Do you know what I mean?

Maxim: Yes, I understand. Because the same thing is happening now.

Irina: In fact, any war is terrible, not only because people die, but also because many Spirits lower their level as a result of these actions. Not only do they not complete the tasks they came for, but they lower their level and have to start all over again as an upward climb.

Of course, I understand that this is also an experience, but it might not have happened.

Maxim: I understand, thank you.

34:59 Youth Vyacheslav about psychology on Burkhad.

Maxim: I want to return to your incarnation on Burkhad, to inquire a little. What did you talk about with Christ when he returned to Burkhad?

Irina: I took information and knowledge from him about my science, about psychology. What is called psychology on Burkhad is different from what is called this word on Earth.

Maxim: How is it different?

Irina: Because there is an approach to psychology only from the side of the Spirit, and the body is considered as an instrument of the Spirit. And the psychological practices that Burkhad has are based on images.

Shows how he presented the image, called upon a certain subtle-material being, which directs its energy, and with it changes reality.

Maxim: Thank you.

35:59 Youth Vyacheslav about his contacts and healing.

Maxim: I want to return to you as to Glory. Now, Slav, there is information about you on the Internet that you were the incarnation of the Archangel. This is true?

Irina: Level 22 is considered the level of the Archangel. This is the level of Angels that can enter the Kingdom of Heaven. But I was him in a previous incarnation, not in this one.

Maxim: Wait, you personally said that you are the incarnation of the Archangel.

Irina: Yes, because in my incarnate part, when I was in the body of Slavik (the one you call Slavik, that is, Vyacheslav, the boy), I sent my incarnate part, the Soul, memories of who I was.

He recalled how he was on the angelic level.

These were my memories.

Shows that the part we call the Higher Self was sending him these memories.

Maxim: But tell me, please, when you were Slavik, a boy, did you communicate with your spiritual part, with your Higher Self?

Irina: Yes, of course.

Maxim: Who taught you to communicate with him?

Irina: Himself, he taught me.

Irina: I taught myself.

Shows the boy, a mentor comes to him in the form of an Angel, this was his Higher Self. But not only that, there were others there as well. Shows that he was a contactee.

Maxim: Who did you have contact with? Can you tell me?

Irina: I had mental contact. I had contact with Jesus, with the Mother of God, his mother.

When she was on Burkhad in her physical body, I lived there. We met her and knew each other. When I left my incarnation on Burkhad and began to incarnate on Earth, the Mother of God and Jesus saw that I had lowered my level because of the war. It was they who in the Spiritual world recommended that I incarnate in Russia so that I could love this people, against whom I fought in a past life. This was my chance to return to the angelic world.

In order for me to return there, to help me return there, Jesus and the Mother of God were in contact with me from the childhood of my body, when my body was still very, very small.

I also came into contact with subtle beings. In total, I had contacts with 139 plasmoid creatures from 17 civilizations.

Maxim: 139 plasmoid civilizations?

Irina: Creatures.

Maxim: Creatures from 17 civilizations?

Irina: This is if you count them all. Of these, some came more often, some less often.

Shows that they walked to him on foot.

Maxim: I see, then I'll ask you the next question now. Have you really been a healer and healed people?

Irina: It wasn't me myself. This was done through me by the Mother of God, Jesus, the Archangels who also came with them, and that part of the plasmoid civilization that brought the Light. Because I was in contact with everyone.

Maxim: Multifunctional contactor, right?

Irina: Yes, but I didn't exactly have alien civilizations, I had the subtle material and Spiritual world.

Maxim: Subtle material structures and the Spiritual world, right? So what they say about you, that you were involved in healing, is it true?

Irina: Yes, I studied, but not on purpose.

It shows that there was no such intention, but how thoughts came to him. For example, pray for someone, ask Jesus. He mentally shows that he is praying for this person in his mind so that he gets well.

It's like a conversation. You call it prayer, but it's like conversation.

41:15 The youth Vyacheslav about the tasks of his incarnation.

Maxim: Tell me, please, were you baptized?

Irina: Yes, of course.

Maxim: Was your mother also baptized?

Irina: Yes, it was, of course.

Maxim: I know that since childhood you had a huge amount of literature that your mother gave you. Especially Orthodox literature.

Irina: It was, not only Orthodox, but also scientific (shows scientific books).

Maxim: There was scientific literature too, right?

Irina: I asked her myself.

Maxim: Please tell me, did the clergy come to you, were you in church, did you talk with the priests?

Irina: I talked. My mother and I went and visited them (shows moving to another city by train).

Maxim: What did you talk about with the priests? What were we talking about in principle? Why were you taken there?

Irina: Mom asked me to tell them what I told her about my contacts (shows the one who came). And what I saw in my dream, and what my mentors told me (shows how they talk to him).

I passed this on to my mother. She didn't really believe it at first. And then I believed that I was sent by God. And I was truly sent by God to rise back to the angelic level through helping other people. I just didn't have enough time.

43:06 The youth Vyacheslav about the spiritual reasons for his exit from incarnation.

Maxim: What happened? Why did you leave so early? And what are the spiritual reasons for your illness?

Irina: As I already said, I was a soldier, and during the battles I disincarnated 26 people (shows that I brought them out of embodiment in battles).

During disincarnation, my etheric body (shows it) was damaged by the radiations of Souls leaving incarnation due to my choice. When I was killed, my body Peter was taken out of incarnation also in battle, he took with him into the Spiritual world these damages, rewritten with the help of a special etheric transcription into the shells of the Spirit itself, that is, the etheric body.

But as you say, first from the etheric to the astral, mental and then to the causal, so that you can understand more clearly what we are talking about. Information about these injuries influenced the formation of my new physical body. This is what you call a “karmic knot”. Have you heard this?

Maxim: Yes, I heard.

Irina: But its activation occurred due to the fact that I experienced fears, anxieties and mistrust in relation to the divine world because of the information that I received from the outside world and from those thin-material plasmoid creatures (not from all) who were against the Light.

Maxim: That is, low, destructive civilizations.

Irina: As I already said, I talked to everyone, it was as if my door was open.

Maxim: You spoke about the coming of the Antichrist. Armageddon you said.

Irina: I was afraid myself (shows dreams).

He had dreams and he perceived. He says that he saw dreams and perceived them as a warning.

There were these fears, and they gradually activated the “karmic knot”. My body's immunity decreased and because of this this disease, cancer, arose.

Maxim: I understand. Cancer is pain, resentment, hatred and anger hidden in a cage.

Irina: There is also fear.

Maxim: Fear, resentment, pain and hatred cause cancer.

Irina: And since not only I, but also my parents, who were connected with me, experienced fear, this intensified everything. And I left the incarnation because I couldn’t cope with it (shows damage to the body and exit from the incarnation).

Therefore, I did not have time to rise to the angelic level, but this is not my last attempt to incarnate here. I will try again (shows).

Maxim: I understand. Guys, very urgent information - on September 23-24 there will be a “Tree of the Pillar” in Irkutsk. Master Alleya will conduct it, so you can sign up by phone number +7 988 910 00 40. September 23-24, Irkutsk, “Tree of the Pillar” training, they just sent me information, you can sign up.

Slav, it turns out that, in principle, everything that was said about you is true. They even filmed a film, and my mother talked a lot about you, that you were practically like a saint.

47:50 Youth Vyacheslav about relations with the Orthodox Church.

Maxim: How did the Orthodox Church treat you? So you came and told me that you are in contact with the Mother of God, with Christ. What did the priests tell you?

Irina: It shows that who believed and who did not believe. I talked to many people.

Who believed and who did not believe. Many people started asking me questions. And someone felt sorry for me (shows how they felt sorry, pity).

But they didn't believe it, that is, some thought that I was attracting my mother's attention because I was sick. So that she pays attention to me, that's why I'm telling this. They didn't tell me this directly, directly, I just felt it. Perhaps you know, you and Irina, that thoughts and feelings can be felt. Now I'm not saying to read it like in a book, but to feel it. That is, I felt how they thought about me.

48:55 Youth Vyacheslav about fears.

Maxim: Slav, you said that aliens are demons.

Irina: These were my fears (shows how certain images come to him in a dream - how aliens, under the guise of beings from God, begin to take over the Earth, that is, such a substitution occurs).

Maxim: Who gave you these thoughts? Who did it?

Irina: Those who wanted to cause fear in me.

Who was that? Now he will show me. Show me who it was? Shows a creature that looks like a ball, like a ball of gray color, and in it there are legs like a spider.

I always felt them, as if he lived under my bed. And when I fell asleep, he sent me these thoughts. I found myself in a different reality.

Maxim: I see, but can you somehow protect yourself from these creatures?

Irina: Of course. Specifically for the child?

Maxim: In general, in principle, to people.

Irina: Of course, you can, if you don’t believe in their fears, but believe more in God.

Maxim: That is, not to believe in the thoughts that they inspire in you with fear, but to believe in God and trust the Light.

Irina: Yes, in order for me not to have these fears, I had to get away from them. Fear is my fault. How to leave? It's like my exam. You see, it's like an exam, like a test for wisdom. And this test consisted in the fact that when they showed me that aliens were taking over the Earth (and I read about Jesus, and I heard from him that he rules the Earth, directs energy to rule the Earth) I needed to believe Jesus. To believe that without his will, without his desire (and will is a manifested desire, this is natural) no aliens will be able to do anything with the Earth. The earth is under great divine protection. The only ones who can harm are the people themselves who live on it.

And I started blaming. I didn’t blame myself, but I believed in this dream. I dreamed about him more than once (shows).

Fine.

I could lie down and leave my body (shows).

Maxim: Astral travel?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Slav, we are soon having a retreat in St. Petersburg. We will also tell you how to lie down and leave the body.

Irina: I think it's interesting. Anyone can do this, it's simple.

Maxim: I also think everyone can do this. In fact, in order to do this, you need to understand how to do it. And we will tell this in St. Petersburg, at the retreat.

Irina: I lay down and just remembered, imagined myself as a ray of Light (shows). And when I imagined myself as a ray of Light, I imagined that it was shining from the heart, as if away from the body, upward. And where this beam ended, such a ball appeared, I imagined it. And then I imagined that I was looking at the body from the ball and rising along this beam.

When I came out, first I saw my body, and then I went up and saw the stars, and then I found myself in another world.

Shows he believed this was the world of the future. He saw various cataclysms on Earth, including aliens.

Only later did I realize that this was not the future. These were the images that were introduced into my consciousness.

Maxim: I understand.

54:21 The youth Vyacheslav about his mother.

Maxim: Slav, here they think that your mother greatly manipulated you, forced you on other people. Do you think your mother did everything right when she told people about you, priests, when she wrote a book, or made a film about you after your death?

Irina: I don’t think it’s good or bad. It's just her desire to talk about what I told her. Although she could have remained silent. And in fact, we are still in contact with her (shows how he communicates with her).

Maxim: By the way, are you now communicating with your disembodied mother?

Irina: Yes, they communicate.

Maxim: What level is she at, what level has she reached?

Irina: Does it show what level she has reached?

Maxim: From incarnation?

Irina: On the 12th.

Maxim: Is she coming down to you?

Irina: Yes. Shows that he communicated. When he came out of incarnation, he continued to communicate with her.

Maxim: Did she really hear you?

Irina: She spoke to me in the form of contact. And I know from her words to me that because of this book, in fact, many people turned away from her.

Shows how people turned away from her.

Maxim: Yes, that was there.

Irina: And what she shared, I think, is good, because she told people that there are children like me who are contactees.

Regarding the imposition. Personally, I don't think it's bad. She didn't say I was a saint. She just sensed my past because I was in the Light. And by the way, when I was on Burkhad, she was also incarnated there, we also knew each other there.

Shows that she was older, but they knew each other. That's why she recognized me.

57:44 Youth Vyacheslav about the mutual influence of faith and healing.

Maxim: Slav, people ask, if you communicated with the Mother of God, Jesus Christ, why couldn’t they cure you of the cancer you had?

Irina: Because I should have been ready for this. And I was not ready because of these fears. Didn't fully trust it. To heal, you need to trust.

Maxim: Wait, how did you heal people if you didn’t even fully trust yourself?

Irina: Not everyone. Again, it was not me as a being, as a person, but through me only those who were ready were healed (shows). He says that even Jesus Christ did not heal everyone. There were those he could not heal, and other healers as well. When he was on Earth, even this was written in the Bible (Vyacheslav says). If they did not believe in it, denied it or doubted it, then healing did not come. Although he sent energy, they pushed it away, and they pushed it away without realizing it, because they didn’t accept it. Their field was closed.

In order to defeat this unbelief and still heal them, it was necessary to show violence against their unbelief. Jesus did not agree to this. Because this is a violation of free will. In any healing, if it is through some external being or energy, in order for it to have a healing effect on you, you must be open to it. This requires faith.

Maxim: Why couldn’t you heal your mother? She believed in you.

Irina: (shows) her time has come. She's already been called.

Maxim: Did you have an agreement for this incarnation with your mother? And what is this agreement about, if there was one?

Irina: Yes, of course, there was an agreement that she would help me adapt to the earthly world, and also help me learn (shows the plan for implementation).

I wanted to become a doctor, and then study to be a priest, this was exactly my path.

1:01:02 Youth Vyacheslav about the possibility of extending the incarnation.

Maxim: Slav, you just said such an interesting thing. And I would like to ask you (I felt a little offended). It turns out that if a person has reached the end of his incarnation, and he is given some kind of disease, relatively speaking, to bring him out of incarnation, then not a single healer, not a single person on this planet can help him?

Irina: Help with what?

Maxim: Stay in this incarnation.

Irina: For what if the deadline has passed? Even if he can stay if this incarnation is extended, there must be a reason for this extension. After all, any Spirit knows that at a certain time in a certain territory a certain number of Spirits must be incarnated on Earth, for example. If someone comes (people are born, a new generation), then this means that those who have already lived must come out. It's a cycle, so to speak.

If someone gets an extension, there must be a reason. For what reason do you see that they can prolong life? What reason do you suggest? It is necessary to give an additional amount of vital energy, for what reason should this be? Just by choice? It must be justified by something. The conditioning of this desire simply by the instinct of the body is not suitable; everyone has an instinct. Then no one can be taken out of incarnation until the person’s permission is asked. And since man is an instinctive creature, he will never give permission. How then to change generations?

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: Interesting question.

Maxim: Yes.

1:03:35 Youth Vyacheslav about manipulating people's consciousness and the way to end wars.

Maxim: Slav, tell me please. Our person on the air is perplexed. He asks a question, what will you answer?

How did an angel from level 22 become a fascist and go kill people? How is this possible? The person cannot understand in our chat. How can an angel from level 22 become a fascist and go kill people?

Irina: Good question. There are special, not technologies of influence, but special methods of influencing consciousness through feelings of patriotism, good feelings, if a person is not in constant contact with God (and in that incarnation my memory was also blocked, that I came from the 22nd level). Such methods of influencing consciousness with the help of patriotism instill hatred towards other peoples. There we did not call ourselves fascists. I'll explain what's going on now. They explained to us what political training is, political preparation. We were shown a variety of films (the film was shown in black and white).

For example, we were shown various films from the Soviet Union, this was before being sent to the front. And these films showed how Soviet soldiers who are communists (various stars on their clothes show), how they mock the people (shows how they are put in prison, shot, take away houses, just for their faith, like churches (shows like a bell falls) exploded).

They showed certain things and said that certain people had seized power, which oppresses the people, and the people themselves want liberation. Then they told us that we would be better. Not us, of course, specifically, but our rulers, for example, Adolf Hitler, will be the best ruler, because he knows the place of every people on Earth. And that our people are the highest, because we only know the truth, and other nations are mistaken.

Maxim: Now this reminds me a lot of Ukraine. They were told that they are the chosen people, that they only know the truth, and we are all Russians, alcoholics, drunkards, parasites. The same technologies were probably used then to process people.

Irina: I don't think technology is that different in any country. If, for example, we take the same Soviet Union, I cannot say that those films that were shown to us were false. This was happening.

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Why did this happen? Because those people who treated their own people this way were also influenced in a certain way, on their consciousness. There was some processing, so to speak. And this processing, I want to say right away, it was not without the intervention of the so-called dark forces. Dark forces are very real beings who have abandoned the Light.

Maxim: I know that.

Irina: Any propaganda based on one's own exclusivity is aimed primarily at young people who are easy to control. If you are now talking about Ukraine, if they are shown something there, for example, about Russia, then in any case it is based on some facts. But it may not be presented in the form in which you understand it.

So they showed us all these horrors about the Soviet Union, but they presented everything in the form that this is the essence of this people, who cannot choose (even though they made a revolution) a ruler who would take care of them. And many, in fact, in Germany thought that it was better for, for example, the Russian people to live under the rule of Hitler. Because, although they would have been enslaved (they would not have occupied certain places in government circles, because the Russians were considered an ignorant people), what was happening would not have happened. On the contrary, they said that God sent for this purpose to deliver this people. Everything was covered up, not that we will come and kill you, but they said - we will help. Because if you say directly - we'll come and kill you, then many will not believe it and will begin to be indignant. The Light lives in many people, in the form of conscience. And in order to manipulate a person, you need to drown out this conscience.

How can you suppress your conscience? The rulers of different countries know well how to direct the resentment and anger that exists in a person to suppress his own conscience and to another people who are not at all to blame for his troubles. Have you studied this science well? This means earthlings. Not specifically any people, I think all earthlings have studied this well, just in different ways. Ukrainians have their own reasons why they think this way. The Russians are our own people, and so are other nations, for example, Americans. In fact, let's look from the Spiritual world (shows).

Maxim: Arthur, I'm not broadcasting anything. I'm also brainwashed, so everything is fine. I think the way I think. That's why I'm interested in these things. I was also brainwashed, I have my own propaganda here, I also believe in something. Can't I believe? That's why I'm trying to figure out what's going on? I understand that...

Look, I still want to explain. I consider Ukrainians my brothers, our brothers, and I consider this war that is going on to be complete idiocy. I want this war to end. A huge number of our brothers and sisters are dying, it's not good that this is happening.

Irina: (Youth Vyacheslav) This will only end on Earth when it ends at the egregor level. Do you know what an egregor is?

Egregor is the spiritual energy of society. And now the war is primarily taking place at the level of egregors. An egregor of some ideas against others, but physically it is only a manifestation of what exists on the spiritual plane. The egregors need to stop fighting among themselves. There is no such war as on the physical plane, no one kills anyone there, ideas fight there.

Maxim: Any war is bad, guys. Any military action is terrible. And unfortunately, for our part, we can only try to unite people.

Irina: The youth Vyacheslav says that he looks at this as a Spirit, which, as I have already said, has the memory of incarnations, including on Burkhad, the memory of communication with Jesus.

I look at it as Spirit, I'm neutral here. I look like a spiritual being. In fact, you can look neutrally even when you are in the body. I can tell you how to do it. We must remember that every person who wants to get out of this egregor of war, support for this war, needs to look at what is happening from a spiritual point of view.

Exactly how to look? Understand that this is a war of egregors, a spiritual struggle. Have you probably heard the expression that Light and Darkness are fighting, and the battlefield is the hearts of people? Have you heard the expression? This is just about the struggle of egregors. Physically, people kill each other, and entire armies go against each other - this is only a reflection of this struggle. Because, firstly, we see that they believe in different ideas, but how to stop this? Egregors can be combined.

Maxim: Slav, can we move on to the topic of the broadcast?

Irina: He simply answers the question of how to stop. How to stop?

Egregors can be reconciled. But for this it is necessary to find commonality in them. Who is fighting? Egregor. Who's fighting? The egregor of Russia, and the so-called egregor of Western countries, Ukraine is already one of them. They entered into a fight. What do you think they have in common?

Naturally, there is a lot in common. The first thing is that you are all people. You have common needs, you have common desires, for example, to live, have children, raise them, love, unite.

Maxim: Slav, we don’t have much time to air. We don’t need to end this broadcast, but continue the topic of the broadcast. We want to know about you. We don’t even know how to end the war.

Irina: He answers that the egregors need to be reconciled, that is, to find something in common.

Maxim: These egregors don't want to put up. A ban was placed on any reconciliation.

Irina: So, this is the choice of all peoples, because those who do not want to make peace, they were chosen by you, the people.

Maxim: Therefore, until someone turns their head and wants to reconcile, what is happening will happen.

Irina: There was a question, there was an answer.

Maxim: Thank you very much, Slav! Please tell me you said the Earth is flat.

Irina: Shows that he was also shown from space, that he saw it in the form of a plane.

Maxim: Did they just show you? Now what do you think about this?

Irina: Now I remember the data that, naturally, it is round, but again, it is round for people. But they didn't show me from the people's side. And I perceived it as physical.

Vyacheslav says that when he perceived this information, it was passed through his consciousness from certain beings.

Maxim: Dear admins, please help us filter this nonsense that is floating around in our chat about all things.

Irina: The topic is sensitive, and people are worried. I understand everyone.

Dear people, from all countries of the earth, I understand you all very much. In fact, I understand both of them, because we are all human. We all want to live. I ask you, please, let's all calm down and not feed the egregor of this conflict. We will simply send Light to everyone. This will help us correct the situation more than we will all quarrel with each other here in this chat. Thank you for understanding.

1:19:58 Youth Vyacheslav about the influence of low-vibration plasmoids.

Maxim: Slav, you said that creatures would come out of the ground. What did you mean when you said that creatures would come out of the earth?

Irina: I saw that creatures live underground. I was shown, like visions, that huge creatures like snakes live (shows how a pit appears, where a man walks, the snakes grab him by the leg and drag him away). In his sleep he dreamed.

Maxim: What kind of visions are these? Who gave you these visions?

Irina: So that I would be afraid to walk alone. And I even told my mother not to walk alone, especially past cemeteries, because they (as they showed me) feed on corpses.

Plasmoids scared me.

Maxim: And that you really believed in it? Did you tell people that there are creatures underground? Wait, let's do this, are there creatures underground?

Irina: Thin – yes. Subtle creatures.

Maxim: Fine material, right?

Irina: They can take the form they showed me, but they will have nothing with which to grab a person. They just scared me so much.

1:21:11 The youth Vyacheslav about the peacemaker king.

Maxim: Slav, you said that some Russian tsar would come and everything would change in Russia. Who did you mean?

Irina: The Tsar, specifically the Orthodox Tsar.

Maxim: Has this king come already?

Irina: No. Not fulfilled yet. For this to happen, people need to pray about it and wait for it. Just now I was talking about egregors, and this is very important - to create a bright image of a ruler, an Orthodox one, who will be Orthodox not in his words, but in his actions.

What is Orthodox? Take care of your people, be peace-loving, be a peacemaker. What is peacekeeping? As Jesus said, who was my curator, who remains my friend, because we were friends on Burkhad, and in the Spiritual world this friendship is eternal? In fact, a peacemaker is a person who brings peace, and he will become the ruler of our country, the country where I lived. I still consider it my homeland.

It shows when Vyacheslav's memory turns on, he is a Russian, and considers Russia his homeland, and as a Spirit, of course, he is neutral about everything. Homeland - even Burkhad. Consciousness is a little different from that of people.

Accordingly, in the country where I, as an incarnation under the name Vyacheslav, such a ruler of Russia will be a specifically believer, Orthodox king. Why the king? Because the Kingdom of God and the kingdom of man are connected with each other; God previously blessed the kingdom. You've probably just read, for example, about King David, who was anointed king. Then it was passed down through generations. For me, the form is not important - whether it was a monarchy or not, it was in the form that was understandable to me as a child, from the books that I read.

But the main thing is not that he is a king, emperor, president or someone else, the main thing is his actions. If this ruler is a peacemaker, this will be immediately clear to everyone, he will bring peace, goodness, and love to everyone.

Also about any other country, it makes no difference at all.

Maxim: Dear friends, I have a big request to everyone, if you don't like our broadcast, leave it. We do not force anyone to believe in us, we do not convince anyone. But before you leave the broadcast, please like or dislike. Guys, if you really like the broadcast, put "likes" so that normal, adequate people come here.

Someday I will make a broadcast about how to be a project manager. Sometimes it seems to me that I live in a madhouse. But no matter what it seems to me, I still support the idea of the project that we carry forward. Therefore, we continue the broadcast. I still have a couple of questions. I think I'll ask them now. Yes, "like", thank you very much to those who put "likes", and many thanks to those who put "dislikes", because this also promotes our broadcast, our channel, many people will know about it.

Slav, tell me, is it true that you wrote some healing recipes in some notebook?

Irina: Yes, it was like that – in my diary.

Maxim: Who dictated this information to you?

Irina: I read it and revised it. I asked those with whom I spoke, the Mother of God, for example. I asked, and the answer came to me, but not always from her, because I did not always distinguish.

There was a problem that I could ask one, and the other would answer. I couldn't tell the difference, one might say. There was no clear contact setup, like, for example, Irina, because her channel is already quite clear. But it is clear that she has experience, and she is older than me, and has communicated with many Spirits, I can already see this in the energies, and Teachers from other planets have tuned her, I also feel this in the energy.

I didn’t have such an opportunity, so I conveyed it in the form in which I was ready at that time.

It's okay, Vyacheslav. The fact is that at your age I have not yet transmitted anything.

Maxim: Slav, please tell me, that is, there was a notebook, did you write it down?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Tell me, please, where did she go after your death? No one can find her, she disappeared somewhere, do you know?

Irina: I left it to my parents.

Maxim: Parents. Nobody knows where the parents went.

Irina: Perhaps my father hid it somewhere, or maybe my brother (shows his brother).

Maxim: Yes, what the hell are aliens, they write. Indeed, there are no aliens, guys, we are the coolest in the Universe here.

Irina: He himself says that he was incarnated on another planet.

Maxim: No, there is a person and people there who are useless to convince of something.

Irina: I'll read it now. "What are you smoking? Gather the whole crowd and go to a psychologist. What the hell are aliens? The "fool" is crying for you."

I'll answer him now.

Maxim: Yes, no need to answer him. Look, the "fool" is crying for you too. And the "fool" cries for us. You will make a fool on your part that there are no aliens, and we will make a fool on our part that there are. So we'll both be right. We will respect our choice.

Irina: This institution, which you called "stupid", does not deal with people with esoteric beliefs. The people who work there, even if they are materialists, they believe that believing in something is a person's personal choice.

Maxim: So we'll meet in the "durka". You will be treated for the fact that they do not exist, and we will be treated for the fact that they exist.

1:28:54 Youth Vyacheslav about the purposes of the plasmoids that influenced him.

Maxim: So, Slav, please tell me, why do you think the church didn't canonize you? I know, they even painted your icons. Some priests believed you, even tried to canonize you. Why weren't you canonized?

Irina: Because I talked about many fears, first, and second - I spoke little about Christ and did nothing for the church, as an organization, to attract people there, practically nothing. They canonize those who brought benefit to the church as an organization, as part of the visible body of Christ on Earth, and who did not contradict the teachings of the Orthodox Church.

I did convey a lot of fears that distorted even my own mind and lowered my vibration. Why did this lower my vibration? Because, as I already said, this caused the activation of this karmic node, and ultimately physical illness. My body could no longer fight, resist, and none of my parents contributed to this, because they did not explain to me what was happening. And I left the incarnation, although I had other plans.

In fact, this happens. I have already met with the consulting angels and asked them to show those plasmoids who joked so wickedly with me. It turned out that this is not just a joke, it is a purposeful impact through me, through my mother, who later described it, on those people who will become acquainted with this information and invest in it the energy of the power of their faith. After all, if you believe in these cataclysms, which were described from me, as supposedly from a pure source, for which I considered these dreams, you will bring them closer.

Maxim: Slav, agree, half of the information that you conveyed to people is complete nonsense. These are some kind of horror stories, some kind of scares.

Irina: He already explained that he received all this from negative plasmoids, and believed that it was from God. He did not distinguish between these moments. I'll just explain now as a person who works with contactees.

Indeed, he was 10 years old, he had no life experience yet, and his memory was blocked. He didn't have enough life experience of his own, of course. He read books, but his personal experience was not enough, this is the first factor. And the second factor, his mother, his parents, they did not set up this contact for him to distinguish light from dark.

Maxim: Because they couldn't set up this contact for him, no one explained it to them.

Irina: "CASSIOPEIA" didn't exist then.

Maxim: Yes, there was no CASSIOPEIA, and there was no school. By the way, I want to say hello to those who are now sitting downstairs in the dining room and watching our broadcast. Our dear contactees, tomorrow there will be another broadcast, but not on TV, but live, where you will be trained.

1:32:52 Predictions of the youth Vyacheslav from September 2023.

Maxim: Slav, I want to get some small predictions from you now. Can you give them to us?

Irina: I'll try, okay, let's do it.

Maxim: First, you once said that Russia would fight with China. Will Russia go to war with China?

Irina: There is such a possibility.

Maxim: Is there such a possibility?

Irina: Yes, it was there then, and it is now. Then, when I was alive, therefore, now it is also there.

Maxim: This is interesting news in general. Very interesting. OK. Another question is: will there be a nuclear war?

Irina: There are several probabilities (shows) that were viewed by me, or rather were not viewed by me, but were transmitted to me. I didn't watch anything on my own. This information was right for me. You see, and you yourself asked me about this, 30 years have already passed since my disincarnation, but, as you see, Russia is not at war with China, the wrong probability has been fulfilled.

Maxim: Yes. You said that Russia will fight with China.

Irina: But I didn't see this possibility (shows that they didn't show it to him, although it also existed then).

Maxim: Dear Alexander. Peek-a-boo is our credo, so thank you, we already know that we are peek-a-boo, everything is fine. So will there be a nuclear war as likely as we can see now?

Irina: There is such a possibility.

Maxim: Why are all your answers so wrong?

Irina: He won’t say 100%, it depends on us.

Maxim: Okay, it depends on us. When will this war that has begun end?

Irina: He already answered when the egregors will make peace.

Maxim: But what are the probabilities when they make peace?

Irina: I would like to ask you this. When you get bored.

Maxim: Will we be chipped?

Irina: I think yes, but when technologies are invented. For chipping, you need not just a chip, but a system of computers that will, as it were, entangle the entire globe in a network.

Maxim: Then we will be chipped, right?

Irina: I think it’s convenient to do it this way.

Maxim: Will there be another surge in the pandemic?

Irina: Pandemics of what?

Maxim: Let’s say a virus came to us, and our factories and ships closed, people began to wear masks, a lot of people began to die.

Irina: If you continue to irritate and anger the plasmoids, of course, there will continue to be major pandemics.

Maxim: Just now they found some new virus in India, please tell me, will there be a surge in the development of this virus?

Irina: No wonder.

Vyacheslav looks at it and says that there is little chance that there will be a big jump there, maybe there will be something else.

Maxim: Are there aliens?

Irina: Of course.

1:37:00 Youth Vyacheslav about contacting.

Maxim: Basically, guys, let’s have one last question, please ask any question. Irish, I'll read it. It’s just that Irina is uncomfortable looking at TV because I’m looking at it. Let's ask Slavik any question. For now we will find this question. So Minsk, about marble, what about marble is unclear. Guys, I’m waiting for a question, the last last question for Slavik.

First of all, Slav, I want to thank you for coming, for helping to provide information and in general. But do you see how long the CASSIPEA Project will last?

Irina: In the form in which it is now?

Maxim: Both this and the other.

Irina: As long as you are in embodiment, leaders, it will exist in this form. Because I see the possibility that you are going to continue to carry this information. And when you leave the incarnation, your followers will develop it further, there will be some changes in the information, because other contactees there will already be transmitting through their perception. But this is actually normal, because you have a project based on contacting. What is contacting? Not just on esotericism, but on such an ambiguous part of it as contacting.

Contacting is the transfer of information from other worlds to earthlings. And this type of esotericism has never been as popular as the same magic. This is such a specific type of esotericism that few understand correctly. Even many esotericists consider contactees either dreamers or crazy. And many people in the esoteric environment have the same opinion.

For many people to understand this, they need to walk your path. After all, you also doubted and searched for the truth about what kind of contacts these were. For every person to follow your path, he must be interested in it and feel it as his mission. And to do this, you first need to believe in yourself, because many people are unconscious contactees; in order to be conscious of them, you need to believe in yourself. But this will not eliminate personal transmission; contactees are not robots. I didn't convey it like a robot either. I, too, was a contactee, and I know how this is viewed both in society and in the church.

Therefore, I believe that your project is unique, it will definitely receive development, but slightly different from the form in which you give it. You give through your personal assessments, and there will be through others, but still it will continue.

Maxim: When will there be contact with aliens?

Irina: When the Earth opens itself (shows). When the majority of earthlings want this contact and will not be afraid of it.

Maxim: When will the idiots on planet Earth end?

Irina: Never.

Maxim: Will there be eternal idiocy?

Irina: Idiocy is just a personal assessment, and in fact, even if you do something right for yourself, there will still be a person who will call it idiocy.

Maxim: I agree. No matter how holy you are, to someone you will still be an idiot. This is all true.

1:41:57 Vyacheslav's appeal to people.

Maxim: Slav, if you were alive, what would you tell the inhabitants of planet Earth, where you were in your last incarnation?

Irina: I would like to appeal to everyone who believes in me as a saint. I really am now communicating with you through Irina, and I want to convey my gratitude to you for your bright energies, for your love, for your faith in me, because this goes to me in the world where I am.

But I also want to ask you for forgiveness for the fears that I conveyed - those ideas, terrible images, if they suddenly harmed someone, lowered someone's vibrations, it was not with malicious intent. I passed on the contact as best I could.

I want to remind you that praying and asking for help in spiritual development is necessary, first of all, to our Creator, who sent me, each of you, into this world. After all, I am sent by God, but you are also sent by God. I just wanted to tell my mother that every person was sent by God to this Earth. There is no person who has not been sent by God. For a person to be born here, God must provide him with vital energy to connect with the body.

And this is already a message, a blessing from God to be embodied here. Any person, regardless of his actions or spiritual level, is sent by God to become closer to him in the Spiritual world through various life lessons. And if a person chooses another path - the path of destruction and distrust of God, and hatred of people, this does not mean that he was not sent by God, he was sent, but simply, using his choice, he left the path to God. Everyone has a chance to come back, even if you realize that you have done a lot of evil. There is a path of repentance, a path of changing oneself and raising oneself from the lowest levels.

I wish you to realize how dear each of you is to God.

Maxim: Slav, thank you very much. Guys, I want to remind everyone again. Listen carefully - October 10-14 - St. Petersburg, wonderful retreat: the science of imagery, astral travel. Next - November 12-18 - Belarus, a multi-retreat with a huge number of practices, esotericists, sorcerers, “gaduns” and all sorts of other interesting moments. In Moscow there is now a “chamber of light”; everyone who wanted to engage in self-healing can go to the Center in Moscow.

Guys, healing is reaching a new level, our scientists have determined the frequencies of the reference states of healthy organs. We have finally created equipment that can restore organs by matching reference frequencies.

I love everyone. Slavik, thank you very much. We are waiting for everyone at meetings, events, and our trainings. We celebrate the New Year here, at our CASSIOPEA Center in Voronezh. Bye everyone, see you again.

#418 How did Tarot cards appear? Probable lines of fate and predictions. Recommendations for tarot readers.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=TaTkyr2votg

00:00 Start of video.

00:18 Background.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 117 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:13 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, and I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we are holding a very interesting conference. Lana, a tarot reader, is with me. Hello Lana!

Lana: I greet everyone too! My name is Lana, I am a master of the Higher Self, a master of the author's methods, but today I will speak to you as a master of the author's Tarot method. I am grateful to Irina and those who are visiting us today for inviting me and I can ask questions. But before that, Irina, can I take my tool - Tarot cards and ask questions? Who is our guest today? Will it be interesting, and what will the cards tell us?

Irina: Wow! Yes, it will be very interesting. I give permission to view myself, and everyone who is next to me in their Spirit or in their subtle bodies also gives permission. This will be very interesting and indicative for our conference.

Lana: It's already clear what question I'll ask. I'll ask for my cards as a tool. I'm asking a question. Those people, my colleagues or future colleagues, those who study Tarot with me, you know that you need to close your eyes, tune in to the fields and read the information.

Therefore, I will be silent for a moment to receive the information and consider it. So, who is in our fields, I wonder what the cards will tell. Look, I got it, I'll show you who's studying with me. It is very interesting. You understand that maps cannot show what these creatures are. It turned out (shows) that there are two creatures here (I have two "Kings").

One creature (I will speak in our own way, in an earthly way) is masculine energy, because the "Kings" fell out. Male energy, one is younger, the other is older. The following cards show (shows the card) that they are equal, this is the Hanged Man card. It says that people have equal rights in knowledge, that is, they can, in principle, receive all knowledge.

Now I would interpret it this way: people are in subtle bodies, it was not in vain that the "Hanged Man" card fell out. He is in the air, as if floating, that is, he does not walk on the ground. The card suggests that people are in limbo. Can you imagine how wise the Tarot is! I think they are absolutely right.

Irina: They are laughing now, listening to you through me.

Lana: Listen, listen, I'll tell you about the next card (shows the card). And the next card says that we have gathered to learn about the past. A man looks into the future, but he has a past, because the Wands stand behind him, behind him.

He holds on to the rod that guides him into the future. This suggests that today we will receive very interesting information from the past, because behind him there are rods that will give us this information.

We may receive advice that we can implement, receive or accept in the future, but most likely it will be advice from our dear guests. So, my dears.

Irina: Very interesting, unusual and accurate. Indeed, there are two male beings here. I will explain who is next to me. As always, my curator, representative of the planet Esler MidgasCaus. He is a biologist, psychologist, and specialist in alien civilizations.

Mead studied our esoteric and fortune-telling systems from psychological and spiritual points of view, including our egregors: esoterics, Tarot cards, as an integral part of the egregor of esoterics. He is a man who is younger.

The second is a representative of the plasmoid civilization of the 53rd density level. He realizes himself as a male Spirit. They have no gender, in our understanding, but in terms of energy characteristics, this Spirit is analogous to our man. Their body has no gender, no physical characteristics of gender, but he feels psychologically and energetically like a man.

This is the second man. He now says that Tarot cards do not show physical matter, but the essence that is hidden behind it. His name is Archeron. He chose the name: "You can call me Archeron, Ar-she-ron."

He, if we count according to earthly chronology, is a little more than nine thousand years old, 9300 years old. All this time he has been embodied. His homeland is the plasmoid world. If we look at the space-time continuum in which it comes into contact with our physical world, then it will be near the core of the Milky Way galaxy. This is not the core, but the level of density where it is located.

He incarnated in a world where the largest spatially extended thin bodies of plasmoids are not. The diameter of its body is about 90 kilometers. Archeron can come with part of his subtle body, send tentacles as part of himself. He, like a ball, separates a part from himself and can send it through the Astral to some place in space and at the same time be in it.

(Archeron speaks) Like all plasmoids of my density, I have a multidimensional consciousness. The spirit that is embodied in my body can, through this body, realize itself in many realities, in many planes of Existence.

10:04 Archeron on transferring knowledge about the Tarot to Earth.

Irina: Archeron is one of the curators of some people (shows photographs of several women and men) who dealt with Tarot cards. And he also says that he participated in the transmission of knowledge about images and their use almost 9,000 years ago. He passed it on to the priests and their disciples, came into contact with them, along with an alien from another planet, a humanoid, who is now called the Egyptian god Thoth. Archeron was then a plasmoid, he was in contact with the god Thoth and, together with him, passed on knowledge. This was a universal method, which we will talk about now.

(Mead speaking) I greet you all. I will answer questions, if necessary, together with Archeron. Therefore, the cards showed that we are here together, male energy. In limbo.

We are suspended in the air, as is our spiritual quality - sacrifice. That is, we donated our time and the energy of our love to answer your questions and help you get closer to the truth that we put into such a tool. That card, which showed that we are looking into the past, shows a sign of expectation and a sign that people intend to use knowledge for good.

Lana: Dear Archeron and Mead, of course, we direct all knowledge only for good, and I would like to ask a question that interests me. Tell me, please, have you sent tentacles to us now or are you present in some other form?

Irina: I am not present in the form of tentacles, but as a small ball with a diameter of about three meters, in which one of my multidimensional consciousnesses is located, simultaneously here and there. But this ball leaves a connection with the plasmoid, which is 90 kilometers away.

Lana: Dear Archeron, please tell me who gave information to Rider Waite, who compiled a deck of 78 cards? Not only did he compile, he also has pictures and major arcana, he collected court cards and situational cards. Who gave complete information?

Irina: He’s showing me a few now. Archeron does not perceive the sounds of our names, but he shows me how they look in the mirror and see images of themselves. He singles out one. This was one of the founders of the deck you're talking about. But he not only conveyed it to him.

(Archeron speaking). I not only conveyed it to him. He had curators from the Spiritual World, and he communicated with them. He collected information from ancient books (shows that he reads books). When he read books, he addressed questions to me and to his curators, but not always consciously. At the end of his incarnation, he asked more consciously. He had psychological blocks, interference, obstacles that prevented contact. There were events in his life, but, nevertheless, he acted at a high level for transmission, wrote down information and tested it on himself. He used it himself.

15:38 Archeron about the process of development of the Tarot. Connection with the elements.

Lana: I see. Then the next question arises. Please tell me how the 78 cards are related to the four elements, and how they manifest themselves in these elements?

Irina: I'll get ready now. He tells me a story, I'll try to translate it. I understood everything. He says that back when Tarot first came out, it was in book form. The book recorded the characteristics of all energy states, including the elements, planets, and numbers.

In addition to the book, there was also, as a tool, a diagnosis of situations, people and what happens to them. This was not a prediction of the future, but a diagnosis of the current situation unfolding over time.

Instruments were used for diagnosis. At first these were pyramids carved from ruby. Their number varied. At one time there were more than 256 of them. Then their number decreased and became 128. Then they were divided into 22 main energies and 56 manifestations of these energies in the elements. In the Book of Thoth there was an image of a drawing with a description.

In modern Tarot cards, the division is called the Major and Minor Arcana.

Mead tells me that at the last meeting you talked about the proto-language. The words Tarot and Arcana have analogues in the proto-language. If we look at the Tarot, there was such a name: Ta is a place, a state, and Ro denoted the form, the design of something. One might say, the embodiment of space in a concrete form. Together "TAROT" designated the place of manifestation of forms. We were talking about diagnostics, where the forms of manifestation of something were visible.

Later the icons were divided into the Major and Minor Arcana. The Minor Arcana were divided into four elements. But the Minor Arcana, the four elements, were a continuation of the Senior Arcana.

The Major Arcana showed a certain direction, a path of energy, an energy cast of space. It had many meanings. The younger ones described specific circumstances or people, depending on what number it was, what element or what image of a person. There were images of people and specific situations, not general energy manifestations, but specific ones. The four elements were called differently.

20:42 Archeron on the interpretation of Tarot in ancient times.

Irina: What diagnostic method was there then? The pyramids, carved from ruby, were incised with designs. From them it was possible to determine the page in the Book of Thoth. These pages became maps. This was approximately 9000 years ago.

At that time there were already books written in hieroglyphs with pictures. The books were kept in special storage rooms under lock and key. This was secret knowledge. Pyramids later became triangular stones, not ruby, but any material, with greater distribution. Pyramids have become rare.

To cut a pyramid out of a ruby, it was necessary to put in a lot of work: not only to find the rubies, but also to process the stone cutter and apply the design with precise movements. If he had made a mistake, the pyramid would no longer conduct energy. When it was necessary to diagnose a situation, pyramids were used.

How were they used? They were always in a bag (shows) made of a material resembling ruby velvet.

Lana: (shows her bag). I'm showing you this velvet bag that I sewed for my cards. Does it look like the pouch you're talking about?

Irina: Yes, interesting, for the cards that contained the pyramids, I wonder how you knew?

Lana: I want to ask where I got my connection with the Tarot?

Irina: He says that your curators told you. There is still a possibility that you have the experience of a Soul that lived there.

Lana: Can they tell me how correctly I read information from the Tarot?

Irina: We have now looked at how you considered the information: who is present, and what they are going to do. This is a good level of contact with those energies that form the sequence of card drops. Cards do not appear randomly. During the layout, the hand automatically reaches for the card that will show the situation. This is not possible for everyone, but only for those who are in close contact with their Higher Self, curators, with the Tarot egregor, who believe in it, invest energy and love this business.

How was the diagnosis? The bag was tied with a green cord, emerald in color, and contained pyramids. When it was necessary to carry out a diagnosis, the priest, without looking, put his hand into the bag and sorted through the pyramids, asking a question. Then he pulled out as many pyramids as he could fit in his palms, and scattered them with a free movement on a flat surface.

The interpretation was given according to the Book of Thoth. Each pyramid had a drawing with a page number, and an interpretation was given. Diagnosis of the situation depended not only on the drawing that was in the Book of Thoth, but also on the location of the pyramids relative to each other. It was not a mystical, but a very precise mathematical system of knowledge that was passed on from one to another.

Ancient people were not intellectually inferior to you. They had the same potential for logical and critical thinking as you do now, only it was aimed at the inner world, at the achievements of the Spirit to a greater extent than at material achievements.

26:30 Archeron about the energy and information of Tarot cards.

Lana: Yes, very interesting. A question. Our dear guests, you said that energy and information flow through cards. Tell me, what system are the Tarot cards connected to, where do we read this information from and what energy are these cards charged with?

Irina: How should it be?

Lana: Yes, how is it going now?

Irina: Now I'll tell you a little. Previously, the Book of Thoth and pyramids, and later pebbles with notches, were passed from one priest to another, from teacher to student. They could change many generations, and each specialist, master or priest charged them with the energy of his Soul and gave them away with love. There was no way to go buy it then. Everything is different now.

Now, even if a tarot reader teaches another to diagnose a situation, he does not pass on the cards or tools to the student. The word "fortune telling" can also be understood. If you look at the meaning, this is the "path of recognition of actions", the path of diagnosis, recognition, recognition, internal diagnostics. He goes to the store and buys.

Purchased Tarot cards are not connected to anything. They are charged with the energy of the one who made them. To one degree or another, they are charged with the energy of the egregor of esotericism and the egregor of the trading pavilion or shopping store where they find themselves (they have their own egregors). They partially take energy. The person who bought them begins to gradually charge them with his energy and the energy of his curators who led him to the cards.

This process, of course, can be accelerated. You can configure the tool in such a way that the cards will act as a guide, but for this you need to meet several conditions. Cards must belong to one person. It is permissible to transfer them temporarily for teaching to a student, as the teacher did. After that, you need to tune them in for yourself. If transferred for other purposes, they will then need to be configured.

An energetic connection is formed between the owner of the deck of cards and the deck itself. The owner, his body and Spirit become conductors of energies for these cards.

Lana: Dear friends, from which field does the Tarot card information come? Which field are we reading from?

Irina: It depends on what, depending on what it's about.

Lana: When we make a request to our querent or client, we say something, ask about a person, information comes to us. It is clear that energy is always charged with information. Where does the information come from? Where do we get this information from?

Irina: Most often, if we ask questions about a situation, we receive information from egregors. We can receive information from a person's curators and mentors, as well as from his Higher Self, if the person agrees to this action. For example, a person's Higher Self gives an answer to a question to the curators of a diagnostician or fortuneteller, and they conduct energy in such a way that the cards are laid out that way. You can put it this way in a simplified way. Depending on what we ask about, the sources of information will be different.

What you call the energy information field or the Akashic Chronicles is a general concept, a huge library. To determine which volume is used, you need to determine which question. You asked the question "who is next to Irina" to your curators. They got information from us and ran us through the cards.

Lana: Yes, I realized that we read from the field, from the Higher Self, from our curators. This question is consistent with what I know. I am very glad that you answered my question, and I became even more confident.

33:06 Archeron on the correct perception of Tarot information.

Lana: What are arcana? Can we say that this is an archive of information?

Irina: These are energy-informational spatial modules or matrices that contain certain images or a certain meaning, the interpretation of which depends on the specific situation and on the nearby arcana. You know that the same lasso, which appears in different situations, can mean different things.

Lana: I agree one hundred percent.

Irina: In one case, such arcana as the Sun or Moon can mean (when we ask about the reasons, for example, for despondency or depression in a person), a deficiency of Light. Arcanum Sun may appear. When we ask another question about another person, for example, what is the most likely line of fate that will materialize if he gets this job, then the Sun Arcanum may also appear. In this case, the answer will be that the Light awaits along the most likely line of fate if you make this choice.

I want to warn you all (Archeron says) against complete dependence and immersion in these predictions and fortune-telling. This is just a hint tool. It in no way replaces your responsibility for your choice, conversations with your Higher Self. This is one of many tips.

There are people (and I have met them) who begin to ask the Higher Powers, their gods, the Higher Self through Tarot cards, other fortune-telling techniques, what to do in a given situation. It gets to the point that they cannot decide to do anything without them. This is a violation of the Divine Law, which states that a person, the Spirit, increasing the level of love in himself, becomes more open and trusting due to the responsibility that he feels as love.

Lana: That's a great answer. Tarot is advice, but in no case is it a program or programming.

Irina: Yes, this is one of many tips and tools. The alignment is by no means a verdict that this will happen, because this is one of the likely lines of fate. You looked at the options for the future and acted not with the goal of avoiding your lessons, but with the goal of passing them better; you were shown one of the negative lines of development of fate, in your perception.

In the perception of God, everything is an experience for his child, who comes to him in one way or another, sometimes longer and more difficult. The path to the top may be direct, or it may be around the glacier. If this is a negative scenario for the future and a person invested the energy of fear into it, got scared, began to wait, with these thoughts he began to strengthen the scenario, and it can materialize.

It may happen that mentors and supervisors will invest their energy and avert a negative scenario. At the prompt of the curators, the person will not make a choice that could lead to a negative scenario. In this case, the negative scenario does not come true or does not come true to the extent that it was shown by diagnostics using cards.

In this case, a person may become disappointed in the fortuneteller or in the cards, because he was shown a lie, instead of being happy. This does not mean that the tarot reader missed something, said something incorrectly, made a mistake, or deceived you. This means that your vibrations have changed in such a way that the negative scenario has left you, and you should thank God, the specialist and yourself for the fact that it did not come true.

39:42 Archeron on the effect of positive Tarot cards.

Lana: Great answer. You should always think about the good. There are cards that can change negative scenarios. For example, I know that we have a card of the Ace of Pentacles (shows the card), it is called “Master of Happiness”. I love it and call it that because it is that Ace, that card that can change the situation and help.

For example, I take her to the shops, and all the time I talk about: let me have some kind of gift. This is the smallest thing you can do, the simplest. Believe me, I never leave the store offended, on the contrary, with some profit. The question is: can these “strong” cards (these are really strong positive cards charged with subtle good energy, the energy of well-being) change a negative situation if it happens?

Irina: In this case, they act according to the law of the talisman. What law is this? This is the law of acceptance by a material object, consisting of atoms, of radiation of positive thoughts, feelings, and Divine energies of creation. In this case, the object becomes (shows) a flashlight that illuminates the space, like a lighthouse to which ships sail and attract positive entities. This is additional help. This help can be destroyed by unbelief, because it cannot be provided by force.

Lana: Yes, that's very correct, we can't do anything by force. Only in agreement and desire.

42:05 Archeron about the reasons for the negative attitude towards the Tarot.

Lana: Last question and a very important one. How do egregors influence tarot readers and the people who contact us? Are there any negative aspects? Many people ask for advice. They are afraid of the church, religion, people. Fortune telling is a sin, there will be karma. This is the wrong position in life, programming, for example. How do you answer this question?

Irina: I spoke with MidgasKaus (they are talking now).

(Archeron speaking). Large religious egregors most often prohibit their followers from such actions as lowering vibrations and leading away from God. Why? Because in religious egregors, trust in God is important. Viewing a situation was often associated with the fact that the person did it out of fear. This is the first aspect.

Second aspect. When large religious egregors were formed (this was approximately 5-4 thousand years ago, 2 thousand years ago - this is already a continuation of the more ancient ones), the religious scriptures that prophets and religious teachers wrote at that time were also taken from contacts with their curators. They proceeded, moreover, from their understanding of life and from observing everything around them.

Let me give you an example. During the time of Moses (divination and some other practices were prohibited at that time), not all types of magical and fortune-telling practices were prohibited. The Tarot analogue was not banned. What I was talking about: The Book of Thoth and triangles (not pyramids) made of stone already existed.

Yahweh (the Firstborn Son of God) laid down a law for the Jews: certain practices were prohibited.

For what reason? Those people who practiced fortune telling scared us with negative scenarios and influences (evil spirits, sorcerers, etc.) that there would be problems. These caused low vibrations because people trusted them. To get rid of fear, they gave their fortune to fortune tellers. There have been many abuses in this area.

Yahweh (Christ in the body of the Tumesoutian) studied the egregorial radiations in this area and saw that at this time and in this place the practices lower the vibrations of society. He called to trust God and not go to fortune-tellers, because this “defiles a person,” that is, lowers vibrations with fear.

In ancient magical and fortune-telling practices, there were people who did this not from the Soul and Light, in order to help a person, but in order to gain more fame, wealth and recognition. To do this, they aroused fear and hatred of relatives in a person. It’s as if their relatives harmed them and are controlling them. Under their control, they did what they were told. Of course, this reduced vibrations.

If you are doing this now with bright goals, to help a person not look for the causes of problems in something external, but to look into his Soul and identify negative scenarios, blocks, beliefs that led to problems, then this is a bright divine tool. Any light divine instrument can be turned into its opposite if you act without the Light of Love. At that time, the Light of Love was scarce. And the instrument is wonderful.

Lana: I thank you for your exhaustive answer, like a balm on the Soul. I have always understood that Tarot is a tool. This is the only way we present it. With whatever heart we speak, with purity, thoughts, this is exactly how it works.

I have now received reliable information that this is a bright, good tool, but you just need to use it for good. In “Cassiopeia” we try to use all tools only for good. I was glad that the information was the same as mine. I told my students, students, and practitioners that this information was read from the field and from the Higher Self. It must be treated very carefully.

49:08 Archeron about the ritual of connecting the Tarot deck and its use.

Irina: Yes, he wants to give information, if you are interested in how to connect them to the egregor after purchasing Tarot cards.

Lana: Yes, of course. I'll compare how we do it, how I do it.

Irina: There are many ways. But there is the most ancient one, which comes from Ancient Egypt. In the set of Tarot card arcana there are two arcana that are responsible for communication with egregors. Major Arcana number two is responsible for communication with the Spirits of the egregor, with the Guardian Spirits of the egregor and with the plasmoid guardians of the egregor.

Lana: This is Priestess. Now I'll show it. I am the owner of the deck, I am the Priestess.

Irina: This means, personifies, is a symbol of the Soul and a symbol of egregors of esotericism, in general.

And the symbol of the energy and information components of the egregors, that is, the library that is there, is Arcanum number eighteen.

Lana: I'll show you now. How, using the arcana, can you give instructions and intentions?

Irina: Now. First: it is advisable to purchase Tarot cards on the night before the full moon. In that day. The next night should be no later than two days, so that there is a full moon.

Lana: What does this have to do with?

Irina: This is due to the ritual that needs to be done for the cards so that they can connect to the egregor of esotericism. The first thing we do when we bring cards home is clear them of extraneous influences (shows).

Fire and crystalline table salt have a very great cleansing potential. You can light a couple of candles as a cleansing fire, place a Tarot deck between them and (shows) sprinkle salt crosswise, in such a way and in the amount that fits in a handful of one hand. It would be enough.

Express the intention for cleansing. In your own words, say: “I express my intention to cleanse this energy instrument, to tune it.” After this, table salt cannot be used for food; it must be dissolved in the water that flows outside the house so that it leaves it. And two candles must burn out. Do not simmer them until one third of them remains. This is purification by fire.

When night comes, in the room where you sleep, there should be a window facing the other side of the sky where the full moon will be. If not in this room, then in another room of your apartment. Place the cards on the windowsill all night under the light of the full moon. Place it so that the deck is closed, but two cards on the sides are open: the second and eighteenth arcana.

Lana: These are the arcana (shows cards). This is the Priestess. It's me who owns the deck. Whoever comes to me knows it and many take it. And this is the eighteenth Arcanum - the Moon.

Irina: Yes, this is the Moon. Between the two open cards, in the middle, the deck should lie all night under the full moon. Even if there are no clouds and the moon visible in the sky, it is still full moon that night and the energy will be active. There will be a connection to the egregor. This is one of the ancient ways. This is how ancient pyramids were charged.

It’s better to carry them in a bag, as Svetlana does. You can diagnose yourself, any of your situations, or another person with his consent. If there is no agreement, there will be no accuracy, because energetic dissonance will be introduced. The exception is in emergency cases. Viewing people who, due to objective circumstances, cannot give consent, but need help. Curators allow this.

If you pull out Tarot cards, treat them with respect, as an energetic guide. It is advisable, in every situation, for yourself or others, to light a candle as a source of fire. This will enhance energy and cleanse the space.

Lana: Thank you Archeron and Mead for a great day today, for this information. For me she is priceless. I realized that I was acting as they said. In accordance with the egregor, with the elements and with your karma, so as not to allow it.

Irina: Previously, they carried a bag of stones, but now this bag of cards can be worn on a belt or in a purse. This will charge.

56:40 Archeron about the card of the Virgin Mary in Tarot cards.

Lana: I have a request to our friends. This Tarot deck has a Third Arcana. This is a wonderful Arcana of the family - the Empress. It is also charged with magnificent energy, the energy of family, friendship, relatives, prosperity, warmth, comfort. I ask you, as High Beings of Light, to give us energy, to charge, perhaps, this card, and perhaps to convey a piece of the energy of this card to everyone who will watch this video, and who will gratefully write good reviews to whom it will be nice. Let this piece be on everyone.

Irina: (Archeron speaks). This card is a symbol of feminine energy, a symbol of the fertility of nature and childbirth, caring for children. This is the favorite symbol of the Virgin Mary because it expresses her energy. The best charge for this card is when you hold it between your palms and read a prayer to the Virgin Mary. This is how you need to take it and read it: “Mother of God, Virgin, rejoice.” I'll read it now.

Close your eyes, he will read with me.

“Virgin Mother of God, Rejoice, Blessed Mary, the Lord is with You, Blessed are You among women and blessed is the Fruit of Your womb, for You have given birth to the Savior of our Souls. Amen".

What do you feel?

Lana: I just felt like my card (shows the card) was charged and received very powerful energy.

Irina: Look, she seems to be smiling.

Lana: Yes, yes, yes. Now this card is all in the Light. She now has a sunny, light aura, imbued with the energy of the Mother of God. For me today it is a discovery that this is the energy of the Mother of God, the card of the Mother of God. I always thought that this was a card of family, prosperity, fertility, pregnancy, maintaining wonderful relationships.

Irina: It’s also in the sense of motherhood.

Lana: Please hold it between your palms and read this prayer, as our friends advise you. Please recharge yourself and remember that any tool in our hands is just a tool. The most important thing is what this instrument brings, and as we tarot readers, we bring it to you as masters.

Irina: Everything is your thought, manifested or unmanifested. What you think about now is what you will have tomorrow or at another time. What you allow in your thoughts, you allow into your physical reality.

Lana: Then from now on, let's allow only good thoughts, thoughts for our development, giving positivity to each other.

Irina: Yes. Now Lana, Archeron and Mead and I are in a divine merger and feel each other as a unity of Souls. Do you feel it?

Lana: That's right. I would really like all the people in “Cassiopeia” who came here to now experience this blissful feeling and feel this piece of “Cassiopeia’s” love that it brings to all of you.

Irina: Thank you.

Lana: Thank you, thank you, thank you.

Irina: So, dear friends, we also thank you all. We send you the Light of our Love. Our curators also send you the Light of their Love and the desire to realize yourself as an eternal Spirit, a beloved child of God. And we will always carry this message, even to the farthest corners where God sends us. See you again, friends!

Lana: See you again!

1:11:13 Chorus of the Hymn “Cassiopeia”

Here is my hand and I am next to you,

Star family - “Cassiopeia”,

Together we explore the worlds and constellations,

We are one family - “Cassiopeia”!

Here is my hand, “Cassiopeia”!

00:00 Start of broadcast.

00:17 Background.

Voice-over: In the summer of 1999, a 13-year-old girl Irina Podzorova from the village of Peski near Voronezh agreed to take a short trip on a triangular-shaped ship with aliens from the constellation Cassiopeia.

Since then, for more than 20 years, representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union of our Galaxy, which includes 116 of the 727 intelligent races present in it, have regularly come into contact with it.

01:52 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

Today my curator is present with us - a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations MidgasKaus from the planet Esler.

Inna: Hello everyone! My name is Timraeva Inna, I am a coach, a psychologist in metaphysics. I work at the level of the unconscious, I have the ability to read information from the information field. I have been practicing in this field for 2 years.

People come to me with different questions, and when we reach the level of the unconscious, it turns out to a greater extent that the cause of the problem is due to relationships with parents, relatives, some situations from childhood, as well as any disturbances in the family. In this regard, I have questions. I would really like to hear answers on the arrangement method, since I work with this and apply this method.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Okay, I heard about this method, there is something similar on the planets of the Interstellar Union, but only there in a slightly different form. This is called a word that can be translated into Russian, and which I can find in the memory of the contactee, as psychodrama.

This is a performance in which various roles are played that are responsible for certain thoughts, feelings of spiritual entities, etc. This is done for the purpose of self-knowledge, the path to perfection.

Inna: I just had a question: how true and effective is this method?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Your question is dictated by a dual type of thinking. There are no more truthful or more untruthful methods. Each method affects each person individually. In some situations with a certain personality type it can help him, while in others other methods are required. Any method has its advantages and disadvantages.

(Irina) Now I will explain, dear friends, some questions for our curators are somewhat strange: they have multidimensional thinking. Therefore, they do not look from the position of the most correct or the most correct, true way.

Inna: Please tell me, do you think people on Earth use this method correctly?

Irina: (laughs) MidgasCaus smiles.

Inna: As I understand it, everyone has their own vision.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Right for me or right for you, or for Irina, for whom? What is considered correct? Please correct your question so that I can answer it.

Inna: Do people use this method correctly to help with the stated issue?

Irina: Who are the judges?

Inna: That's the point.

Irina (MidgasKaus): The person who received help. As soon as such an experiment is carried out on me or on contactee Irina, I will be able to say whether it helped me or Irina in anything. We didn't go through it. Our judgment is only our opinion, which is all very subjective and does not reflect the fullness of the truth.

07:00 The spiritual history of the emergence of the Hellinger constellation method.

Inna: I'm very interested in how this method was discovered? Was there help from the Spiritual world?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, I spoke with the Spirit of the creator of this method. He is now in the Spiritual World. He said that he was analyzing his incarnation and was busy doing spiritual work on himself. He needs to be in solitude, a hermit. Even in the Spiritual world, he surrounded himself with space where he reflected. I can immediately tell that at the moment I was with him, and he is at the 18th level of the Spiritual World.

He needs reflection and solitude in order to transform the energies within himself so that he can prepare to become a Guardian Angel for the Spirit, which is soon about to be incarnated. He is preparing for this, in contact with this Spirit, so he asked me, as a psychologist, to answer questions based on his method.

After all, when I come to him in the astral body, and when we communicate directly through the Spiritual world, without a body, then we see the essence of each other's hearts. Therefore, when I spoke with the Spirit of the creator of this method, I completely opened my spiritual heart to him, and he saw that I could answer many questions about this method.

This is a very pure Spirit, in which there is a lot of sympathy and compassion. He was also (shows to Irina) a writer and was fond of art, drawing. He has a very subtle, sensitive Soul that appreciates the beauty in the world around him. And he was a believer, believed in God. Was not an atheist.

Inna: This is already a good sign that the method still has a spiritual basis.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I asked him about this method, he said that it was from the Spiritual world. He was told by his own Higher Self and his Guardian Angel. But he didn't give the whole method, but some tips.

This was from his experience as a psychologist. Before becoming a psychologist, he was a man who lived through a difficult childhood. I talked a lot with different people, whom I helped with some advice from childhood. And he began to develop a model of the world in which this method was embedded as a way to help people.

This was the case initially, the method was simpler, then his students contributed their own, further developing this method. He was told a lot by his Guardian Angel, his Higher Self. It was unconscious, at the level of intuition.

Inna: As I understand it, if at this time his Spirit is at the 18th level, this means that he, one might say, has completed the task of his incarnation?

Irina (MidgasKaus): We haven't talked much about this. He said that he was pleased with the result of the incarnation.

Inna: This is great! This means we are on the right track. The main thing is to really understand the principles of this method, to feel, to know what is put into it.

11:45 Types of attachments to beings of the subtle world.

Inna: Okay, next question. I hope we get answers so that it will help us and people.

It happens that the Soul of a person who lives earthly life leaves for the deceased. And in this case, we see that the person seems to be out of touch with reality, and it is difficult for him to realize his life tasks, especially goals. My question is: how does this happen on a physical or physiological level? It turns out that a person lives without a Soul?

Irina (MidgasKaus): No, he lives with the Soul, he just may form a necrotic attachment to the Spirit that has left the incarnation, based on some negative feelings and emotions, resentment, melancholy, despondency or fear.

Bright Love, bright memories, wishes to the Spirit for incarnations or being with God in the Heavenly Kingdom do not form an attachment. They form: melancholy, lack of acceptance of death, regret. Strong pity for a person who has left incarnation also forms a necrotic attachment. Especially if the Spirit himself ended up on the lower level of demonic or even middle worlds. But if the Spirit has reached the Angelic level, it is impossible to form a negative attachment to it. If a person tries to do this, the Angel Spirit will feel it, he will sympathize with this person, but will not allow this attachment to be attached to himself. Because for him this energy is negative. It will close with Light.

But if a person continues to direct these energies, negative, destructive plasmoids can feel them, take on the image of the deceased and connect to this person. This will already be tied to destructive plasmoids. It has slightly different consequences, more related not to energy, but to the influence on consciousness.

And if this is a necrotic attachment specifically to the Spirit, then this affects the energy too, because, unlike a plasmoid, the Spirit cannot send life energy to a person. He doesn't have it. It can send spiritual energy, but not vital, ethereal energy. Therefore, a person, if he has a necrotic attachment, irrevocably gives up his vitality, his etheric energy, which should go towards his development, the life of his body, the functioning of the immune system and brain. A person begins to quickly lose strength, his cells begin to age faster, and not just age, but to break down, immunity decreases, and diseases often occur. All this is due to a lack of vital energy, and especially in the organ that is located directly in the place where the necrotic binding is attached. It can be attached anywhere.

The Spirit itself, to which the necrotic binding is attached, cannot and is not capable of freeing itself from it. He becomes dependent on this energy, which comes to him from a living person, and this delays his development. After all, along with energy, a person sends negative feelings and emotions, which I have already mentioned. They are felt by the Spirit itself, which in this case is the recipient of this energy, and this Spirit constantly has memories of the past, of earthly life associated with this donor person. This prevents him from developing, prevents him from analyzing his incarnation, planning the next incarnation, and detains him at one level. And since this prevents another Spirit from developing, the donor person also has karmic responsibility for this, that is, karma. Therefore, it is always recommended to clear yourself of such bindings.

17:05 MidgasKaus about freedom from necrotic bindings.

Inna: Do I understand correctly: first of all, you need to realize that you should let go with Love?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, there are many techniques, including psychological ones, practices, meditations, aimed at liberation from necrotic attachments. Irina, I and LiShioni, taught how to do this through a trip to the Higher Self.

It is possible in another way, psychological, but the obligatory elements of this method are contact with the Spirit, to which there is an attachment. Forgiving him or asking for forgiveness if it is despondency or pity. Asking for forgiveness for not accepting his death as a natural law. And if there is any resentment towards the deceased, then forgive him. After this, wish him bright incarnations, send the Light of your Love, mentally fill him.

Then say: “By the power of my Spirit, I break the tie between us.”

Be sure to say: “I ask you to switch to food from Divine sources. I’m letting you go, I wish you bright, favorable incarnations in any of the Divine worlds.”

After this, the binding will automatically break because it is your will as the Divine Spirit. You need to speak by the power of your Spirit.

Next, it is imperative to return the binding energies back to the human etheric body. If they are not built back into the etheric body, then on the astral level this attachment will drag behind the person like a tail. Life force will continue to flow through it, albeit in a smaller volume. And again some kind of negative plasmoid may attach, of which there are many around.

After breaking the binding, you must definitely ask for forgiveness from the body, it suffered from this. Asking for forgiveness means making peace with the body.

Say: “I apologize to my body for creating this attachment (say out loud). I forgive myself for despondency, anger, resentment - for those emotions that were in relation to the deceased. I love and accept myself for who I am (who I am). I am the beloved son (daughter) of God. With the power of my Spirit, I transform the energies of this binding.”

Next, list what you want to direct to the body. For example, in the energy of your immunity, to cleanse the blood and lymph of toxins, regenerate all organs (a certain organ), improve the cardiovascular system, harmonize hormonal metabolism. Say exactly what you feel. If you are helping another person, say the words and he will repeat after you. Those that your intuition will tell you in this case.

Inna: Thank you for such detailed answers. Such valuable information. Thank you Irina: (Laughs) Well, how do you like the information?

Inna: This is very worthy and very important indeed. Thanks a lot!

Irina (MidgasKaus): I already see that Inna will try.

Inna: Okay. I am impressed.

Irina: (laughs) Why?

Inna: This is very valuable. I really want people to really know about this, so that they understand the essence.

Irina: Thank you! MidgasCaus smiles and says you are very sensitive. You felt in these words what was behind them.

Inna: I kind of lived a little bit (laughs). With deep awareness of every word.

Irina: Interesting.

Inna: Okay, thank you! Let's move on.

22:27 Causes of diseases of the physical body.

Inna: Please tell me, is it true that the next generation is responsible for the mistakes of their ancestors? It turns out that before the incarnation the Spirit already knows that he will go to answer for the mistakes committed in his family?

Irina (MidgasKaus): What does “answer” mean in our case?

Inna: It happens; in my work I come across situations where, for example, a child is sick. Going to the level of the unconscious, we see that there were disorders in his family, for which this child is responsible for his health.

Irina (MidgasKaus): What's the point?

Inna: To restore balance in the family.

Irina (MidgasKaus): How can suffering restore balance?

Inna: This was not clear to me either. How we get to the cause of the problem, it is also shown in the information field using the arrangement method.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Of course, I can give a ready answer myself, but it will be more valuable for you and our viewers if we think together.

Inna: Okay.

Irina (MidgasKaus): If a person’s illness is serious, and not only in a child. He is a child in the present moment, then he will grow. Every child is a future adult.

Inna: It turns out that his entourage is also involved in this?

Irina (MidgasKaus): What feelings, emotions, desires do this person and this Spirit who has embodied in a sick body experience? What feelings and desires do those around you – family, clan – experience? Are these feelings high vibrational or not?

Inna: Low vibration, of course.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Is it possible to restore balance in an already disturbed egregor with low-vibration feelings?

Inna: Perhaps this is a certain lesson that you need to go through correctly and raise your vibrations? It is correct to treat this, despite this circumstance and reason.

Irina (MidgasKaus): In any case, this is not to balance the egregor itself. It is balanced by completely different states.

There are various diseases of the body, including genetic ones, which have different causes - not only generic, but also personal karmic causes of the Spirit itself. This was given to him so that he could raise his vibrations, learn to accept and love the body that he has. I learned to thank God for him and thereby cleared myself of my internal blocks, so-called karmic knots.

(Irina) MidgasKaus says that each case is individual, you need to look at each of them, there are no templates here.

26:22 The universal law of energy exchange. Generic task.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I will only say that each Spirit, when incarnated, passes through the generic egregor and takes on the generic task. Some call it ancestral karma.

The generic task is the action and the quality of energy that the Guardians of the generic egregor offer the Spirit in the incarnation into which he goes to build into the egregor. To put it simply, this is what the genus offers to do for itself in return for the protection of the ancestral egregor that accompanies a person, especially in childhood.

The ancestral egregor releases a certain energy in order to store, protect, treat, and heal all members of the genus, especially small children. For this energy, the Guardians of the egregor, I would say in your earthly language, ask for an energy equivalent, as if compensation. Because there is a universal law of energy exchange: if something arrives in one place, then this place gives something of its own in return. Such an energy exchange.

Any Spirit is a system open to energy exchange with the environment. If he is given energy in any form, this automatically causes him the need to give this energy in any other form. If the Spirit does not have this need, but only needs to receive, then the Spirit lowers its vibrations and enters the system when it itself becomes only a center for receiving energy of any form. It stops its development and becomes, in your opinion, a parasitic system: it cannot raise its vibrations.

There is the same turn, a skew in the other direction, if the Spirit only gives, but does not want to accept anything, rejects the energies coming from the Universe. He only gives his energies to others in any form. But at the same time, he rejects the energy equivalent that the Universe offers him through different people and events. With his free will, he simply does not accept his life, himself. By this, he also lowers his vibrations, begins to destroy himself, becomes a system that renounces itself, self-love. This means that his Love for others gradually changes to its opposite. He lowers his vibrations and can no longer love.

So it is in the generic egregor: The spirit that came to incarnation through the generic egregor is endowed with a certain energy that helps him in childhood, growing up, adaptation in the family, in this family. In return, according to the laws of energy exchange, he promises the Guardians of the egregor to fulfill the ancestral task. This can come in completely different forms.

If the generic egregor itself is in the so-called stage of generic degradation, when a lot of negative energies have accumulated there from previous generations, then this is manifested by a decrease in the vibrations of the entire egregor and more frequent illnesses in the family. Completely diverse, but they are more associated not with the physical sphere, but with various addictions, mental illnesses, the attraction of negatively minded plasmoids, I would say so. Destructive plasmoid civilizations with a negative generic egregor can form an alliance.

And when the Spirit incarnates, there are still Guardians there who want to cleanse this egregor from degradation by any means. And when the Spirit agrees to this incarnation, he sees what kind of egregor it is, naturally, he thinks about everything, how much it will correspond to his tasks of incarnation, he analyzes everything. At his subjective moment, he is also shown the choice of his parents (father and mother).

By the way, there is a kind of father, and there is a kind of mother - these are 2 egregors. Dad and mom, when they give birth to a child, this family, as soon as a man and a woman unite, they already form their own mini egregor.

Inna: Built in already?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, at first it is built into these 2 egregors of the parents, and when a child is born and then he gives birth to his own, a larger egregor is formed. It goes like budding (shows to Irina) some egregors from others.

If the Spirit decides to go to this egregor, where there are many problems, to this genus, it means that he takes on such a mission - to cleanse this egregor. Usually the generic task here is associated with the projection into the egregor, that is, into the noosphere, the Astral - certain thoughts, feelings, desires, which are not enough there to be pure. To supplant some negativity with a certain bright quality.

33:34 Development of a degraded generic egregor.

Inna: As I understand it, if a person has such a situation, then the way out is to understand, feel and consciously direct oneself into the Light, into Love.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, if such problems arise, then you can find out from your Higher Self what needs to be done to cleanse the egregor of this particular person. Of course, the whole family needs this. He is alone, and in this case it will be very difficult for him if the rest of the family continues to project negativity. But he can talk about this in a correct, understandable form for people: how you can not only get rid of problems, but also cleanse your family so that Spirits are attracted who will receive a more positive, brighter experience on Earth.

Inna: Help the family develop correctly.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, because if there is a very strong degradation of the egregor, this will already affect the noosphere of the Earth, or certain areas of the Earth where this genus lives. If this already integrates into certain negative plasmoid civilizations, cooperates with them, and influences other people, other egregors, then the Consulting Angels may decide not to send anyone else to incarnate into this genus.

Inna: Yes, I heard this information from you.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And not immediately, but gradually there will be fewer Spirits who want to incarnate into this genus, and then the Consulting Angels themselves will close the possibility of procreation in various ways. It turns out that those who are born do not continue the family line. Dead-end branches. That egregor that was left without procreation, when its last representative comes out of incarnation, will simply remain without replenishment of the material plane and will gradually dissipate.

This will be helped by certain civilizations, whoever wants, Angels. If it is very negative, then perhaps destructive civilizations will first take out all the negative energy from it, so that all the rest will be scattered in the Spiritual World.

36:52 Esler's school education about family relationships.

Inna: In general, the conclusion from this is that you need to wake up and live your life consciously.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, that’s what I’m talking about, in our school curriculum the family egregor and relationships within the family are studied in the first cycle, in the first grade of school.

First, in the form of the subject “Family Psychology”. In 1st grade we teach how a child can find a common language with his parents, older relatives, brothers and sisters. How to correctly ask them for your needs and correctly carry out their tasks. How to correctly find a common language in different conflict situations, etc.

I was very surprised that your children do not have such a compulsory subject.

Inna: Yes, this is such a law of hierarchy.

Irina (MidgasKaus): And it also talks about egregor, however, a different word is used, this is an earthly definition. We call the ancestral egregor a word that can be translated into Russian as a certain ball (shows) - the ancestral sun with different rays.

Inna: I like the sun with rays! (smiles)

Irina: How do you like this image?

Inna: Very symbolic, appropriate.

Irina (MidgasKaus): But as you know, even in the physical world there are spots on the sun, darker places. And children are taught that their task is to be such rays. They are shown that each person in the generic egregor is a small sun, which is connected through a ray to the big sun.

Inna: Cool!

Irina (MidgasKaus): To prevent spots from appearing on your sun, you must send only Light, warmth, Love, harmony to your family through your ray.

Inna: And respect.

Irina: Yes, tenderness, joy, gratitude to all members of the family, to all ancestors. There are certain psychological techniques, such as conversations with ancestors from the male and female sides. Send gratitude and love to everyone.

Children are taught constant conscious interaction with the body, how to be in this state. They teach that this strengthens the clan, increases the level of success for all its members, facilitates the passage of various events, and eliminates negative scenarios. It also helps other Spirits who will come to incarnate into this genus to fulfill their spiritual tasks. Including the Spirit who is present there now. If he decides to incarnate again in this family, it will be easier for him, because he himself brings Light there for himself and for other brothers and sisters.

Inna: You answered all my questions at once! (laughs) Very comprehensive. Thank you!

Irina: He says: “We have this written in our textbook.” How do you like these subjects at school?

Inna: Unfortunately, we can’t even talk about this at a common table.

Irina: I say, how do you like this subject at school?

Inna: I would really like for us to come to this, really! Now the school has already introduced the subject “Heart-to-heart communication.” Indeed, various issues are discussed there. I think we hear you, we are trying.

Irina: There in the textbook they (they show me) have such a picture, a drawing. People sit in a circle, and between them there is the sun, and a ray is extended to each of them.

Inna: Yes, this would be a very good help in the development of our children. In general, we are trying, and, as I said, the subject “Soul Communication” has already been introduced in schools.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Very good, I’m very happy!

Inna: One hour a week to talk through such issues.

Thanks for the answer! Thank you

42:32 “Excluded” from the family. The connection between the generic and personal tasks of the Spirit.

Inna: The next question is of this nature: why is the next generation also responsible for those excluded from the clan?

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is not responsibility, in your sense, these are simply certain consequences that have accumulated in the generic egregor. Taking them upon yourself, that is, filling the egregor with opposite energies, is a generic task. Whether to fulfill it or not is decided by each Spirit when it agrees to incarnate through this egregor.

Inna: Do I understand correctly that a good tip for everyone here would be to identify all those excluded in one’s family? I think you yourself, Irina, can tell you how to do it right. At least on a mental level, accept these excluded ones so that such a situation no longer affects the race?

Irina: Tell me, who do you call excluded? Probably more for the audience.

Inna: Okay. The excluded are those people in the family who, for example, violated something, for example, committed a crime. Relatives are ashamed, for example, if a person is responsible in prison, and they mentally reject him, saying that we have nothing to do with him. We don’t want to know him, he never had anything to do with us. And that's it, they forgot about him.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, I understand. What I want to say is this. The fact is that those people who are in this family in incarnation are called the word “generation”. These are the ones who are living now. But the ancestral egregor consists not only of their energy, but also of the energy of all previous generations. The part that is incarnated is called a generation, and those Spirits who were previously in this egregor and left the incarnation, they also invested their energies into it. And some of them become Guardians of this egregor while they are not in embodiment. They keep this egregor, if, of course, they want to take care of it when they are in the Spiritual world.

And for some it happens that, even after incarnation, their Higher Self is busy taking care of its egregor. And even, sometimes, not about one, but about several egregors in which the Spirit was incarnated. He becomes the Guardian. Usually through phantoms. It's more, of course. characteristic of Angels who have a very high degree of Love, as an understanding of responsibility not only for themselves, but also for the well-being of others.

This is already an angelic consciousness, they become like God, because he takes care of everyone. He creates conditions with his laws, energies, the support of everyone with Light - absolutely all Spirits, no matter what level they are at. Becoming like God, the Angel begins to feel Love not just as a pleasant feeling that gives him pleasure, pleasure, but as a certain responsibility and desire to help unselfishly, as God does.

But I want to emphasize once again about the law of energy exchange: if the Spirit helps selflessly, without expecting anything in return, this does not mean that God, through the Universe and other people, will not return to this Spirit its Light of Love in the form of another energy. Because the Spirit is, as I already said, an open system for energy exchange. He gives unselfishly, and they also give unselfishly to him. This is how the exchange goes.

Inna: What about someone excluded from the clan?

Irina (MidgasKaus): He is excluded only in the thoughts of these people, but he is not excluded from the generic egregor itself, he has his own thoughts, feelings, emotions about his relatives. He, thinking about them, is already included in the generic egregor.

It happens that a person excludes himself from it, interrupting the connection with the generic egregor for various reasons. She stops thinking about him in general, about her family, and does not fulfill her tribal task in any way. He leaves, for example, for another country or locality, does not maintain relations with relatives, does not help them in any way, does not accept help from them. He just forgets.

Let's consider this man. If he doesn't think about his family at all, doesn't send his thoughts there, then the egregor itself is not only disconnected from it, the person himself closes the channel to his ancestral egregor. But at any moment he can open it if he turns his thoughts to his family and ancestors.

The fact is that such a disconnection from the egregor, when the person himself does it by his own will, can often be accompanied by failure to fulfill his generic task, because the person does not consider it necessary to develop in himself these qualities that are necessary for the egregor. If he refuses to fulfill his tribal task, this will necessarily affect the fulfillment of his Spiritual task, his personal task of incarnation, for which he came here. This very often makes his path difficult, and trials begin to bring him back.

Inna: A person cannot achieve a certain goal, he ends up with various specialists, like me.

Irina: It is difficult for him to follow the path of spiritual development, to raise his vibrations, he will be constantly reminded that he has a clan, a family. He will be reminded of this under various circumstances. Circumstances may vary. But this is if a person does not know how or does not want to communicate with his Higher Self.

If he knows how to communicate constantly and regularly, then the Higher Self itself or the Curators, Guardians, including his Guardian Angel, who keeps constant contact with the Guardians of the egregor, will definitely remind him of this if he forgets about his task before the birth. Fulfilling the generic task contributes to a successful combination of circumstances for fulfilling the personal spiritual task of the entire incarnation.

Inna: These are the most important words for today. They can be written in bold! In fact, it is very valuable!

Irina: (laughs) He says: “Thank you.”

Inna: Thank you! Well, okay, let's continue.

51:02 The first hours and months of the incarnation of the Spirit.

Inna: Question about aborted babies. It also happens that the reason for a mother’s lack of close contact with her existing children is an aborted child or deceased children.

Why does it happen that children who were born after this incident cannot fully receive as much Love from their mother as they would like? I understand that this all happens at the unconscious level, but still.

Irina (MidgasKaus): The problem is not in the generic egregor, it is more serious and hidden in the etheric field of this woman who did this. I'll tell you about it.

The fact is that every intelligent Spirit, when it goes for incarnation, is endowed by the Consulting Angels with a certain pranic energy: a type of ethereal energy that is taken from the material world. One might say, it moves to the Astral before incarnation. After all, the Astral is the border region between the world of disembodied Spirits and the material world.

In a certain way, into a specially created space, which you call the “Hall for vesting Spirits with vital energy for the adoption of a material body,” such a bright space, that part of the Spirit that is separated for incarnation moves. For earthlings it is 30%, as the beam goes.

Then this ray is dressed with vital Prana, a certain type of ether, which becomes its first vital energy. She will help him connect with the body. This happens to any intelligent Spirit. Then the Angel Guides will guide him into the material world, where he will watch his future parents at the moment when they conceive his body. But the Spirit that watches them is already called the Soul, that is, 30% of the Spirit clothed with this Prana. It's called Soul.

As I already said, passing through the generic egregor, it is endowed with a certain vitality of the egregor itself. This, one might say, is the second layer of the future etheric body.

Then he observes his parents from the Astral at the energetic level: he sees their emotions, desires and feelings. When the cells of mom and dad connect, and the first cell of his future body appears, which, naturally, carries all the genetic characteristics and etheric matrices of the cells of a woman and a man, because each cell has an etheric matrix at a subtle level, at this moment the Spirit enters your life force and part of the pranic shell, like a ray, into your first cell.

And from this moment the incarnation begins. The cell is alive, it begins to divide. The Spirit itself is still outside this cell, it is in the Astral, but actively helps the cells divide. Contributes, there is a word - synergy. It shows synergy in cooperating with energy by forming new layers of the etheric matrix every day around the future body, within the woman's body. Any thought, feeling, desire of a parent, especially a mother, and a father too, but to a lesser extent, because it happens in a woman's body, affects this etheric matrix.

56:31 Consequences of abortion on a subtle material level.

Irina: What happens if he is disincarnated when his future body is within her body. If they disincarnate, it will not necessarily mean that the Spirit itself will be taken out of incarnation. In this case, to disincarnate means to interrupt the vital activity of the body in some way. Due to which the first energy that entered will leave the body and return back to that Soul. He himself may be outside the body. I remind you that the Soul enters the body in the seventh week of pregnancy. But even before 7 weeks of pregnancy, it is nearby, and energy is still present in these cells.

So, regardless of whether the Soul itself was in the body or not, this is called disembodiment. Because in the first case, the Soul itself comes out, and in the second case, that energy comes out, those ethereal matrices that he has already created, which he begins to create in the very first hours after conception. In this he is also helped by plasmoids of four elements: Earth, Water, Air, Fire. They come to this Soul in the Astral and help it form special bioenergy channels, connections between its future biofield, which is called the etheric field, and the biosphere of the planet.

Many entities participate in the conception and birth of a child, and each contributes its energy to form its etheric field. If all this is interrupted, the energy returns to the woman. If this is interrupted by force, suddenly, the will of another person intervenes and interrupts the incarnation that has begun, then that ethereal energy that leaves the woman's womb, let's say so, returns to the Soul. But she doesn't just come out because she was suddenly taken out of there, she comes out quickly and incorrectly, that is, inharmoniously, while breaking the etheric matrices of the woman herself at the genetic level, the matrices of her very DNA. Subsequently, she will pass this damage on to her children if she does not cleanse herself of the energy of bloodshed.

59:54 Ethereal damage from bloodshed.

Irina: There is a special technique for cleansing the energy of murder. But you don't study it.

Inna: (shakes her head)

Irina (MidgasKaus): By the way, the same law applies not only in the case of termination of pregnancy, the killing of a certain fetus, but also in the case of murder, the deliberate taking of the life of any sentient being. Precisely the one who possesses the immortal Spirit. Not the animal Soul, there are slightly different energies.

A Spirit that removes another Spirit from the embodiment in any way, even if it is at a distance, even if the killer is not nearby, still this energy through the Astral will damage his etheric field. This is not a punishment, but a certain consequence of such a decision, which he will then have to pass on to his children. This ethereal damage is called "ethereal bloodshed damage." This is not necessarily from blood; you can kill with poison, for example, but still take you out of incarnation. Even in this case, the killer's etheric field is damaged.

(Irina) Yes, I remember, I have an article about the consequences of murder.

(MidgasKaus) The more people killed directly by this person, the more his etheric field is damaged. This can cause different consequences. Also, if there was a person who ordered the murder and there was a perpetrator, then the etheric field is damaged in both, they both participated in it. If a person ordered a murder, he will not stand aside. Moreover, for the doctor who directly performed the abortion, killed the child's body and interrupted the incarnation, the etheric field is also damaged.

These are all the damages that (if both a man and a woman want to conceive a child through their cells, which contain etheric matrices) people will pass on to their unborn child. This will affect him in different ways. It can lead to the degradation of the generic egregor (it acts somewhat similarly), it can lead to some tendency towards aggression of this Spirit that is being born. The vibrations of his developing brain will already be prone to mood swings through hormonal imbalances. For example, he will have an innately elevated level of stress hormone, or he will have difficulty keeping his vibration high, harder than without this damage.

There are also consequences of falling into some kind of addiction, mental, and sometimes even physical illness. They can manifest themselves both in the person himself with damaged etheric matrices, and in his offspring. This is passed on until the 7th generation, but gradually fades away if there are no more killings. Moreover, the tendency to aggression and solving problems by force, including murder, is also transmitted through this etheric matrix. The Spirit that incarnates will be prone to the same violation.

(Irina) How do you like this information?

Inna: Very seriously. We immediately need a therapeutic method after this.

Irina (MidgasKaus): That's why we also study this at school, although not in first grade. We have a lesson in the psychology of the Spirit, where all this is told: what consequences does such a conclusion from the incarnation have for the most intelligent Spirit, the humanoid, and for its offspring.

1:04:35 Essential damage from bloodshed among war participants.

Irina (MidgasKaus): On some planets of the Interstellar Union, which came to this knowledge through their spiritual practices and contacts, there were even such laws even before joining the Interstellar Union that if there was some kind of murderer, he was forbidden by a special law to give birth to children, so that do not spread this damage.

There was a planet where a similar law was passed (shows Irina that there was a war on this planet and male representatives were at war). In their absence, women passed a law not to bear children from those who were at war. And when they arrived, all the women refused to have sex with them. And they entered into contact only with those about whom there was reliable information that he had not been in the war.

By this they moved their civilization to abandon wars. Because no one agreed to go to war for political goals during subsequent calls from the governments of certain states. Because women refused to procreate with them. There was such a planet.

(Irina) How do you like this planet?

Inna: Quite serious information.

Irina: (laughs) Yes, there is such a thing.

Inna: We need a cleansing method. If you take the level of the unconscious, then you use the Hellinger arrangement method and, it would seem, that's all. But what I just heard is very serious, since it affects DNA.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This affects the etheric level of DNA, it is also transmitted to the offspring.

Inna: It still exists, right?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, there is. Even after the war with the Selbetites, there was Ashtar Sheran, the Burkhadians who won this war. They also participated in the disincarnation of intelligent Spirits. This included weapons on ships that were used on other ships. A ball of plasma turned on, which surrounded the ship, burning its energy protection (shows it to Irina). Energy was released in the area of \u200b\u200bthe vacuum where the ship was located. He crumbled along with all the humanoids that were there. Their bodies instantly evaporated and passed into an ionic state, like a cloud.

How many of them were there on that ship, 20 or 200 - it didn't matter anymore, can you imagine? Of course, this could be configured automatically, but the fact is that the automatic combat systems needed to give orders, to direct weapons of destruction against the Selbetites in a certain way.

Among other things, Ashtar Sheran participated in this; he also disembodied the Spirits, representatives of Selbet. There was no longer any way to stop the destruction of the planets. Because there were repeated calls for them to move on to negotiations, to find a compromise, but they turned off the means of communication and continued their work. Therefore, we were forced to undergo disincarnation, with regret, with Love, without any hatred.

But since these were intelligent Spirits embodied in bodies, during their destruction, disembodiment, naturally, their etheric energy damaged the etheric matrices of the warriors of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light. Ashtar Sheran and many Burkhadians who later decided to have children underwent a system of psychological and spiritual cleansing from these conditions. Even those who decided not to give birth to children, not to embody, did it for themselves, so that their etheric field was completely healthy. So that no damage comes out.

Because if warriors and soldiers are not cleansed of the energies of murder and bloodshed, then this violation can reach the level of the brain, damage the etheric matrix of the brain, and they will begin to develop mental disorders, such as delusions of persecution, aggression, and this will lead to a complete blockage of their lives and goals. All these pictures of war will appear before them in consciousness and in dreams, they will not be able to get away from it, because the etheric body is damaged. It is polluted by these energies.

1:10:38 Using the Hellinger arrangement method.

Inna: Can we get a technique for purifying the etheric field?

Irina: Yes, of course. It is quite simple, like with necrotic bindings. There are several stages, if you are interested, I will tell you briefly. (You can get acquainted with the technique of cleansing the etheric field from the energy of murder on the official website CASSIOPEIA.CENTER, link in the description of this video: https://cass.center/url)

Inna: Yes, of course, interesting. Moreover, after the information received, everyone needs to know this!

Irina: (laughs)

Inna: Since we were talking about Hellinger's methods of arrangement, I have a question. MidgasKaus, please tell me, does every person need to go through this method in order to normalize everything in their life?

Irina (MidgasKaus): You know, let your heart tell you. I would recommend at least familiarizing yourself with what it is. Read the information, watch the video on these arrangements and ask your heart. If it tells you that you need it. It is not advisable to go just out of interest.

This is quite serious work that can affect many aspects of your Soul. Identify many of your blocks. It happens that in these constellations people behave completely differently than they expected.

It is advisable to indicate the results of this arrangement in writing so that you understand and feel what conclusions you have drawn. So that this is not forgotten under the bustle of your material affairs.

Inna: Yes, and so that it can be applied in life, and not so that they receive information and move on with it, leaving everything in the same place.

Irina: Of course. But in order to apply it, it is first necessary to record it, because in moments of spiritual uplift, certain strong emotional experiences, it may seem to a person that he will remember it forever, the information will be preserved in him. But once a few days pass, he will remember well, if 10%-20% of what he understood. So it is advisable to record all this.

Inna: Okay, thank you very much! Very informative!

Irina: Yes, thank you for your bright Soul, pure thoughts and the right questions, which will help many of our viewers cleanse themselves of the burden that they unknowingly carry all their lives. See you!

Inna: Goodbye!

01:00 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

Today my curators are present next to me. MidgasKaus is a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations from the planet Esler.

I also asked a representative of the Galactic Federation of Light to come from the planet Futissa, Burkhada colony. His name is Lirinimash. To be more precise, this is his first and last name at the same time. That is, the name of the name in his family (he tells me now).

He specializes in the study of the physiology and pathology of organisms and energetic methods of restoring people's physical bodies. In our opinion, he is a doctor, but rather a general practitioner.

Lirinimash and Mead will answer Eugene’s questions. The planet Futissa is the capital of the Galactic Federation of Light.

Welcome! So, introduce yourself.

Evgeniy: I am a psychotherapist, 66 years in medicine. I have pretty good knowledge. But they are still not enough, because the knowledge on our planet lags behind the knowledge of those civilizations with which we are trying to contact. So I had questions. Perhaps these questions will lead to the solution of some common problem.

Am I turning to Mead now?

Irina: Introduce yourself, what is your name?

Evgeniy: My name is Evgeniy. Sorry, I forgot to say.

I welcome everyone. Those who see us and our alien representatives, curators.

Irina: They also see you through the Astral, through my perception. They are here in astral bodies.

Evgeniy: A little about myself. I am a psychotherapist with extensive experience. I know how to analyze information and everything that you, Irina, transmit to us on Earth, and through other contactees. That is, I am still analyzing what you say and, apparently, I correctly understand what you have not yet had time to say, for example.

I have an idea about space because I was associated with it at work. I have an idea of representatives of many civilizations. For example, I know that our genes contain a certain part of reptilian DNA. Which, fortunately for us earthlings, contributes to our survival on planet Earth. It's not as easy for us to live here as it was for Mead on the planet.

To start, I have a few questions. Irina, you must understand these questions correctly.

Today I would like to talk about our vision, but first I have a few questions to get some information.

For example, what I say goes through you, you pass it up to Mead. Meade, on the contrary, is here. Since I am a modern person, connected with the Internet and with all things, the question arises in me, why does a civilization that has millions of years of development in such an unusual way transmit information through you, through your chips.

Why can't they give you good computer equipment so that we all, and you, can see and communicate not with the help of your gestures, but on the screen? Ask Mead why there is no modern technical ability to communicate with us, and for us with them?

06:36 Physical evidence of contact.

Irina: Let me clarify the question: why don't they hand over their equipment for communication with them?

Evgeniy: Yes, absolutely right. So that we can see them and they can see us.

Irina: (They are now answering) According to the rules of physical contacts with earthlings, it is strictly forbidden to transfer any objects to Earth to contactees for many reasons. We can present them again if you are interested.

It is forbidden to neglect these rules. In case of violation of these rules, the curator who allowed this is removed from contact with earthlings. And if the transfer of objects entailed some serious negative consequences for the contactee or for other people, the criminals should be imprisoned on the planet.

Evgeniy: The answer is clear, but it is not modern, because we are modern people. On Earth, up there, civilization is very modern and we need to communicate in a modern way, not at the level of gestures and chips, but with the help of certain technology. I don't think that for the galactic community, for their leadership, this can be a problem: to communicate at a modern level.

Irina: We understand you perfectly, but we are not the ones who make such decisions. For this purpose there is a Commission for Contacts of the Interstellar Union on the planet Burkhad. There are political strategists, political psychologists, and specialists in interstellar interactions. They make laws.

Evgeniy: Great. Then, on behalf of the earthlings, I have a big request: let your curators, who are with you now, raise this issue with their leadership.

Irina: We know the answer in advance. These answers are already prepared. They are pronounced by the instructors. Before becoming curators, that is, mentors of contactees on Earth, we undergo a training course. The course requires mandatory completion of the Safety Instructions.

Speaking in earthly terms, we sign special documents electronically. But there is also our signature (our personalities) in the fact that we agree with the rules and understand their importance, their necessity. And, if we don't understand something, we ask questions to our mentors, who introduce the instructions. Therefore, the answer to the question that you uttered: to raise the question before the Contact Commission of the Interstellar Union, we will be sent to the instructions that we signed.

They include the clause "Prohibition of any physical evidence of physical contact with contactees." Why was this clause introduced? As a result of long negotiations in the Interstellar Union, with your development of science, which is closely related to military technologies and the activities of intelligence services, do not expose contactees to the danger of contact with intelligence services that may be interested in objects of extraterrestrial origin. Because of these items, they can begin to manipulate the contactee so that we give them information that will affect the development of the Earth towards degradation.

I'll give you the simplest example. If such an item falls into the hands of a contactee, thanks to such a developed communication network as the Internet, it will soon be known to the intelligence services. For this reason, they will check the information through their channels. If this is confirmed, then the contactee will be captured by the special services in order, firstly, to protect the Earth from him, as from the possible negative influence of alien civilizations on earthly civilization. Many people are suspicious of aliens who do not make open contact with governments.

Secondly, as I said, the military of Earth is associated with science, and they will try to obtain scientific knowledge and technology that will allow them to build various devices that will give advantages to their country over others, since you have very developed competition between countries . To obtain this information, they will go to great lengths in relation to the contactee and his loved ones.

Such cases have already occurred in France, the USA and the Soviet Union. There have been cases of death of contactees due to the thoughtless transfer of physical evidence by curators, for which the curators were punished. But, unfortunately, Spirits who have emerged from incarnation cannot be returned to the same body.

Evgeniy: Irina, I understand what your curators want to say. But I believe that they are wrong, since we are talking only about computer equipment. So that, as I see you on the screen now, we see representatives of civilizations who cannot convey anything through the screen.

Irina: Evgeniy, you are now wasting conference time on arguments. Question answer.

Evgeniy: Everything is clear. There was a bureaucratic response. Let's be honest. Let's move on to medicine.

14:20 Statistics of diseases on Earth.

Evgeniy: We, on planet Earth, are going through a difficult period: poor ecology, poor nutrition. Food is bad for the majority of the world's population. More than 200 thousand people a day die from various diseases. This is more than 70 million people per year.

About 33% die from infectious diseases. If we take Russia, about 2 million people die a year from various diseases. The main causes of death are diseases of the circulatory system, respiratory system, digestion, infectious diseases, cancer, diabetes and tuberculosis. This is, in general.

In order to fulfill my destiny on Earth, as a healing angel (as you defined when we met), I lack truthful information about the causes of our earthly diseases.

Why? Because scientists who have been and are studying these diseases draw speculative conclusions, not accurate ones, because we do not have good equipment and knowledge.

If we still don’t know what gravity is, what can we talk about? Our planes fly on kerosene. There is very little truthful information about the diseases that are inside us, about our brain, about the structure.

Today I would like to ask and talk about human vision. You can break an arm, a leg, something else. But when a person loses his sight and begins to wear glasses (there are diseases in which vision is completely lost), then he becomes disabled, an inferior member of society.

16:50 Electromagnetic processes of vision.

Evgeniy: I’ll now read what our scientists write. Human vision is the ability to perceive information by converting the energy of electromagnetic radiation in the light range. Is this right or wrong?

Irina: In general, yes. But not only that. This is only the part that occurs in the human brain. Another part of vision: we call vision not only the “material ability”, but in general the “ability of an intelligent being” (if we are talking about the vision of an intelligent being) to perceive image information and interpret it.

You spoke about the transformation of electromagnetic waves of the light spectrum. It doesn't say what the conversion is, I'll finish. This is a transformation into certain electrical impulses.

What you call “electrical impulses” is, in turn, accompanied by etheric turbulence in the etheric matrices of the organs of vision. All this is delivered to the optic nerve (we call it the “visual transmitter”) to the part of the brain that recognizes visual symbols, that is, translates them from electrical signals into figurative symbols and transmits them to consciousness.

Consciousness, let me remind you, is the energy of the Spirit for perceiving the world around us through receptors. Consciousness is connected to all structures of the brain. Naturally, it can come out of it, leave it, and return to it. But, in any case, while the person is alive, it leaves a connection between itself and the physical body. Even more precisely, between themselves and the etheric matrix that permeates the physical body.

Evgeniy: Then I have the next question. Is the vision of an earthly person, yours and mine, different from the vision of humanoids of other civilizations?

Irina: Yes, it is different. Different humanoids may perceive different types of light waves, depending on the illumination of the planet, the type of star, the formation of the organism from which the intelligent being was born. This all affects perceived colors, clarity, range of vision, etc. Lots of different options.

20:46 The structure of the human and humanoid eye.

Evgeniy: What about the physical parameters of the eyes? Are everyone's eyes the same? Pupil, iris.

Irina: No. There are different types. From our point of view, you have a complex visual apparatus. There are so many structures that refract light, and they complement each other, making the image clearer.

What is an image? The light beam enters the eye at a certain angle. When a light beam hits the eye, it carries with it information about the object from which it was reflected. About the distance to an object, color, shape, etc.

Each humanoid has its own eye structure. Some of them do not have at all or are extremely simplified those structures that refract light rays. You have a lot of them. If they work in harmony, then everything is fine, but if they start working at odds, it creates problems.

Evgeniy: I see.

22:10 The influence of working with small objects on the quality of vision.

Evgeniy: Now a question has arisen in my head. Let your handlers answer: Is my Russian Blue cat's vision better than my human vision? She sees at night, in the dark.

Irina: The ability to see in the dark is not the only characteristic of vision. If we compare the vision of a cat and the vision of a person in all respects: color, saturation, distance, etc., the degree of color discrimination, vision of small objects, the ability to concentrate and see small objects, then the person wins because he has evolved, for example, the ability to adjust the eye using muscles. It turns out that there are also some small muscles inside (shows).

Yevgeny: Yes, yes.

Irina: Depending on whether he examines small objects or large ones, they act differently. Due to the fact that a person, when working with small objects, and a more modern person when writing and reading, concentrates on small objects for a long time, the mechanics of the movement of the eye muscles and their sequence improve. The eye muscles that hold the eye in a certain direction, and the metabolism in the myocytes of the eye muscles occurs quickly. So that they can quickly be cleared of lactic acid and quickly replenished with ATP and oxygen. So that your eyes don't get tired.

I hope he speaks clearly for now.

Evgeniy: Great. I understand his answer.

24:23 The work of the human brain.

Evgeniy: I have the following question. Since vision depends on the functioning of the brain and the brain processes. Question: what percentage is our brain loaded (we are talking to you now) in contrast to the brain of curators? I read somewhere that we only use 7% of our brain power. And how much do they have, 100%?

Irina: It depends. The brain undergoes billions of operations per second. They are aimed at different needs. If you mean vision, then from 7% to 18%. Depending on what one is looking at, how long one is looking at it, and (a person is a conscious, intelligent being) this percentage depends on how important the subject being considered is.

By directing and concentrating attention, he also directs energy there. In the beginning - emotional energy, then comes etheric energy and then physical energy in the form of blood flow and activation of metabolism.

Evgeniy: I see.

Irina: Everything goes sequentially here. As for other parts of the brain, some parts are responsible for hearing, some are responsible for speech, some are for recognizing the position of the body in space, and some parts of the brain are responsible for controlling the pituitary-hypothalamus. I'd rather say it separately.

The hypothalamus, pituitary gland and pineal gland in order to control and manage the state of the entire organism, as a physical body, through the neurohormonal system. Some areas of the brain regulate temperature, breathing, heart contractions, digestion, and their functions.

Some areas of the brain store information recorded in neurons in the form of microscopic changes in protein tubes (he is showing me now), which have differences from each other, measured using a system of nanometers. That is, chemical memory.

If you look at the whole brain, then no departments are inactive. He is 100% busy, but not 100% is responsible for conscious actions. There are areas of the brain that are responsible for something not related to consciousness, but connected to the body (he is now showing me all these things).

27:43 Gene regulation of the alien brain.

Evgeniy: Such a question. Is the energy of the earthling's brain the same now as that of the curators with whom we are talking? Or is their brain more powerful than ours, perhaps by orders of magnitude? Do they solve everything faster, do their brains regulate all body processes more quickly? How is our brain different from theirs?

Irina: Yes, our brain is evolutionarily different. In particular, for many millions of years we have been doing genetic regulation of certain aspects that are associated with the development of embryos.

Evgeniy: Oh, how far!

Irina: We have been making discoveries for millions of years. Scientists were engaged in stimulating the development of cells in a particular organ for some purpose.

We have a science - genetic psychology. She studies how the Spirit manifests itself in a body with one or another set of genes that determine one or another protein structure of the brain. There are many scientific works on this discipline. A discovery has been made that allows you to control your brain so that it can more accurately and accurately control your body. So that he can help the Spirit recognize information from the outside world. So that he can help the Spirit guide his thoughts through matter into physical reality. So that he does not get tired, and has a fast metabolism, those toxins that destroy cells do not accumulate.

Evgeniy: Then I'm glad that for us, for earthlings, there is a prospect that our brain will be more perfect. Wonderful! The answer is clear!

30:24 Physical processes in glaucoma.

Evgeniy: Let's move on to eye diseases. I have this question. We have a very serious disease on Earth called glaucoma. I would like to find out with the help of our representatives.

Intraocular pressure increases in the eyes. Over time, this pressure, acting on the optic nerve, kills it, let's be honest. After a certain time: after a year, after two, after 10 years, a person becomes blind due to increased pressure in the eyes.

Increased pressure, as our scientists say, occurs due to the fact that eye fluid begins to accumulate in the eye without any outflow. The tubules through which the eye fluid moves become clogged with something, or something happens there. Our scientists don't understand, they make assumptions...

Question: why does the pressure in a person's eyes increase, due to what? Have they studied this issue?

Irina: Yes, we studied this issue. They completely studied man and his physiology. I know how physiological processes occur in the eye. I can say one thing: it's not about the tubules.

The point is the special structure and changes in the vitreous body. It may become denser, heterogeneous, due to which it loses its ability to absorb liquid (it shows similar to lymph). This fluid contains many nutrients, including antibodies, which protect and nourish the cells found in the eye. There are a lot of them there.

Very important - there are many species. Not all cells can be connected to blood vessels. Some must be nourished and eliminate waste products using a fluid that is very similar in composition to your blood plasma, without red blood cells and other formed elements. It contains antibodies that protect, for example, from viruses.

Normally, in a state of harmony, all the fluid that is produced by special blood cells is supplied to each cell for nutrition and removal of toxic substances. Then it is excreted not only through those tubules that you mentioned, but also through the vitreous body (shows a ball that can change shape). It consists of certain substances, the structure of which is like jelly.

Evgeniy: Yes, yes, absolutely right.

Irina: (He is now showing me trembling) Depending on various factors, it may become more dense and impenetrable to this liquid. It begins to accumulate, has nowhere to go, and presses back against the wall. What you call the "retina". A network of blood vessels is visible if you look into the eyes. This is only the first half.

Your scientists are already well aware of damage to the optic nerve in glaucoma. Sometimes it can occur when eye pressure values are normal for another person. Vision can remain normal for a long time and the optic nerve intact at high levels of intraocular pressure. You attribute this to the individual sensitivity of the optic disc to pressure. Now let’s think about what the optic disc consists of, and for what reason it is not protected from pressure as much as necessary.

Evgeniy: Yes, this is interesting!

Irina: After all, the evolutionary mechanism must assume the presence of pressure in those places where it can arise.

Evgeniy: Yes, that’s right.

Irina: Now think about what a nerve actually consists of? It is clear from neurons, axons, surrounded by a protein-lipid membrane of a certain structure. And for what reason does he not withstand the pressure?

You know very well that, for example, in various places of the skull there are branches of the ternary nerve, which sometimes pass through (he is showing me now: between the bones, into some holes).

Evgeniy: Yes, yes, absolutely right! Yes!

Irina: With certain changes in either the bone or nervous structure, or a nearby organ that can put pressure on a nerve, this nerve can be compressed quite strongly.

Up to certain limits, no sensations arise. Only with the addition of an inflammatory process, or something else, some kind of injury, can neuritis of the ternary nerve occur.

A nerve that passes through narrow openings and experiences constant pressure even stronger than a nerve that is pressed by water does not experience problems transmitting signals.

On the contrary, if the pressure on the nerve increases, it can lead to pain. What is pain? This is a signal that is very quickly sent to the brain that some organic structures are being destroyed.

What is pain? This is an electrical signal.

Evgeniy: Logical.

Irina: It even passes through a very compressed nerve. Nothing gets in the way. Even pressure doesn't stop it from passing.

Then the question arises. How does the electrical signal of pain differ from the electrical signal that originates in the neurons of the retina and is collected along small nerves to the main optic nerve to convey information about what is seen? How might these two signals differ?

One from pressure, it passes freely, but the second does not? Nothing.

Evgeniy: This is physics already.

Irina: If you look at nature, both signals are electrical.

Yevgeny: Yes, yes.

Irina: Both signals are generated by a certain energy in the neuron itself. Essentially, they are no different. Moreover, you can clearly see the pressure of the vitreous body. Behind the vitreous body there is a camera (he is showing it to me now), pressing it back from the liquid. It does not cause the soft tissue around the optic disc to bend back and thereby relieve pressure. There is no elasticity phenomenon occurring here, and the question immediately arises: for what reason does such a phenomenon exist?

Evgeniy: Absolutely right! Irina, I understand that since our body consists of a large amount of liquid, and this liquid in a certain composition is in our eyes, it means that the composition of this liquid depends, apparently, on what we eat, drink, if I guess. From the composition of the blood, as they say. If we eat sour things, then the blood will have a slightly different composition. Then, it turns out, the vitreous body can be formed somehow differently?

Irina: With the process that I just described, from the side of the vitreous body, from the side of the optic nerve head, from the side of the underlying tissues, the tissues could simply bend back under pressure due to their elastic properties and thereby protect the head nerve head from pressure.

Evgeniy: Yes.

Irina: Also the characteristics of the nerve, which, by the way, is subject to pressure over a very limited area of its length. With glaucoma, it is clear that not only this area is affected, but the damage, that is, the death of certain neurons, spreads further than the pressure.

We can say that the vessels do not carry blood. Due to oxygen starvation and lack of nutrients, neurons die. But a lot of capillaries and small vessels approach the retina from the other side (shows from somewhere below), just from the side where no liquid can squeeze them. So, the matter is completely different.

What's the matter? I'll explain now. Everything you see, everything your doctors see, they describe as it is. Medicine is basically a descriptive science: I saw it and described it. I saw an increase in eye pressure and described it. I saw damage to the optic nerve and described it. I saw the symptoms and described them. From the three different phenomena that you saw, you formed a clinical picture. I began to draw up a treatment protocol in order to, if possible, remove the causes of the clinical picture.

But it is impossible to relieve symptoms without knowing the exact etiology of the picture. Each symptom needs to be dealt with separately. This is the goal of therapy.

There are processes that do not occur in the physical body. Your medicine cannot establish them due to the lack of certain devices and diagnostic methods.

Evgeniy: Absolutely right, that’s what I’m talking about.

Irina: What processes are these? It is these processes that affect the structures of the eye, which the doctor or diagnostician considers as physical consequences. He sees, for example, a crater - the consequences of a bombing. He does not see the bombing itself, because the plane has already taken off. So it is here. Is the image clear?

Evgeniy: Great answer! Yes, extremely simple.

Then the next question. Your curators understand and know more about this disease than we do. Are there ways to get rid of what happens in a person’s eyes during the disease, glaucoma? Do they have such information?

Irina: For this, it is not enough to influence the physical structures in the form of reducing the production of intraocular fluid or increasing the permeability of the tubules and vitreous body. This is a temporary effect.

Evgeniy: Yes! We understood this.

Irina: Moreover, it affects other organs. These substances are absorbed into the blood and affect various structures of the body, including the brain, heart and liver.

Evgeniy: Yes, they treat one thing, and cripple another. Absolutely correct! That's what we Russians say.

Irina: Therefore, I explained to you that the main processes do not take place in the physical body. In the physical body you see only their consequences in the form of increased pressure and damage to the optic nerve. You can describe for a long time: how affected it is, to what extent, etc.

What is defeat? This is the extinction of the functions of the optic nerve due to the fact that the neuron loses its vitality and no longer transmits signals. One neuron, then another neuron, along the chain. And for what reason does this happen? I have now described the physical process. He is known to you.

46:13 Essential matrices of the organs of the human physical body.

Irina: Now I will describe what is unknown to you, because you have not discovered that between the Spirit of a person and his physical body there is a so-called etheric field.

The etheric field is vital energy, which is heterogeneous in humans. It forms the etheric matrices of organs. Etheric matrices are formed earlier than the physical body, around it during its conception. And already according to these patterns (I hope it is clear that this is), according to these patterns, the creation of a physical body occurs, according to the records in the huge library of DNA books. The eyes, all the structures I have described, have an etheric matrix. Every cell has an essential matrix, repeating it on a subtle level.

The etheric matrix consists of those types of etheric energies that are material, but not physical. Your data on matter is incomplete. You do not yet know many types of matter that lie outside the electromagnetic spectrum.

Evgeniy: Is it possible to start the process of restoring the nerve cells of the optic nerve?

Irina: Yes. But for this it is necessary to understand why the etheric matrices of the eyes break down.

What do you mean they break? They violate their structure. Because of this, a change in metabolism occurs, an increase in pressure, and damage to the optic nerve. It's going wrong. As we call it: inharmonious.

You only observe the consequence in the form of decreased vision, increased blood pressure, and so on. This is the cause not only of glaucoma, but also of other eye diseases and so on. Only the etheric matrix breaks down in different ways.

What can break it? It is not a physical object that can be broken, poisoned, or infected. Of course, infections contribute to the development of this disease. But they do not cause, but only accelerate the existing process.

What can break the etheric matrix? As I already said, ether is life force. Man has many types of ether. There is such a type of ether as life force.

49:20 The relationship of the etheric matrix with the human physical body.

Irina: Life force is not static. It constantly flows in and around the body.

In your teachings it is usually called the “etheric body”. We have an etheric field. The etheric body, the etheric field, some call it the “etheric matrix”, etc.

The pattern of movement of this energy, its speed, etc. The higher spheres of man are controlled by his Spirit.

I am now specifying as much as possible the causes of eye disease: glaucoma and more. They lie in the disruption of etheric matrices, which, in turn, are generated by certain processes in the higher - for materialists - areas of consciousness.

What does it mean? This means that in human consciousness, or, as we say, in the Spirit, there are various mental processes. These are certain attitudes, thoughts, feelings, emotions, desires, etc. You believe that these formations exist in the stream of your consciousness, but do not affect the physical body in any way or have only a slight effect.

Yes, they cannot influence on their own. They are on the spiritual level. But, due to their influence on the etheric matrix, they, in a certain direction and in an inharmonious state, break it, and it begins to damage the physical body.

Where the etheric matrix is broken, cells begin to fail. There the cell fails. It may occur in the eyes, throat, heart, or genitals. Depends on the location where the violation has accumulated.

This disorder, which breaks the body, we call, speaking in Russian, negative energy. This is energy that destroys. The energy that destroys is generated by consciousness, the Spirit of man. It affects the life energy in the matrix, which destroys the physical body. You only see the consequence.

Why - you ask - does this not immediately appear? This does not appear immediately. It may appear unnoticed at first. At first, your vision will be fine. There will be disharmonious disturbances in the Spirit. We call them "blocks". Energy blocked.

Then everything will come out on the physical plane. Not in everyone's eyes, but only in those whose eyes, for example, are weakened by something else: long-term work, lack of nutrients, injuries, infections or genetic predisposition. Then we call the eyes a “weak” place.

The block that a person has created in energy, in the etheric matrix, goes to the weakest point and begins to break it. Other parts of the body, with a healthier etheric matrix, resist the negative block more successfully and fail much more slowly or not at all. It's clear?

Evgeniy: Irina, everything that has just been said is clear to me. I automatically formed a conclusion: what you just told me is so difficult that even I, with extensive experience as a doctor, cannot cope with this disease. Because there are some reasons that we didn’t even think about. I have a business proposal for your curators.

Namely: 70 million people die on our planet, losing their sight and the like. This is a large number and they would like to help. The civilization of the curators is more modern than ours, earthly, powerful in knowledge. She must, must help us - earthlings - solve this problem.

Therefore, I am ready for your curators, even with the help of Kirchiton, to fly to us here, take me away and study me using my example. I'm ready for them to see what happened to me.

This will be the case for everyone, because we drink the same water, breathe the same air. If only they could find a method to help a person so that he does not go blind with this disease. Let him lose his sight to some extent, but he will not go blind. I am ready to be tested on me, and we on Earth would do a good deed with their help.

Irina: They are now smiling and saying - thank you very much for providing you as a test subject. But physical contact must be approved by the contact committee. How to contact her - you and Irina will talk about this separately; there has already been a live broadcast about this.

56:20 Spiritual causes of diseases.

Irina: Now we want to talk about helping people to whom this happened: they were discovered at the initial stage or later. We take eye diseases in general. Even a banal stye or conjunctivitis is a problem that signals disturbances in the etheric matrices, and therefore an inharmonious Spirit.

If this cause is not removed, it is almost impossible to physically cure without eliminating the energetic spiritual cause; it will return in another form if the person himself does not eliminate it. It is possible to help a person at any stage.

There were cases when eliminating the spiritual cause of the disease, working on one's energy, almost completely restored the cells of the physical body. That is, the optic nerve again gained the ability and ability to conduct signals. And the posterior visual cortex of the brain, although not immediately, completely regained the ability to receive and interpret these signals into visual symbols and transmit them to the Spirit, consciousness.

In order to restore everything, you need to be ready to work on yourself, as on a person as a whole. Not only over the physical body, but also over your internal contents.

If it happens that vision is very weakened or lost (it happens in a congenital form, we are talking about an acquired form), it is important for a person to understand that a restructuring of his entire consciousness, all his life attitudes, all his memory, feelings, etc. is necessary. So that he can restore his spiritual energies and help the etheric matrices recover. When energy flows through them, correct, normal biochemical processes will begin. In the eye, if there is pressure, the retina acquires normal elasticity and deviates, preventing the vessels from being compressed.

Evgeniy: Irina, everything that you said is understandable, but for us, earthly people, it is a little far away. The conclusion is this: no drops that are sold in pharmacies, even for very decent money, will help with glaucoma.

Irina: They will help temporarily, they will slow it down. The symptoms will be relieved, but the cause will not be eliminated.

Evgeniy: So, I understood correctly before. Then the following. Irina, you said that MidgasCaus can do etheric or astral diagnostics. Can he now look at my eyes and say what he sees? Let's get to work.

Irina: Yes, he is here now. According to an agreement with Zaliathar, he determines and diagnoses the state of the physical body through the Astral, through energy, only after determining the spiritual cause through the Higher Self.

Evgeniy: How can I understand? What's stopping him?

Irina: Agreement with Zaliatar and me.

Evgeniy: How can I negotiate with him so that he does the diagnostics?

Irina: First determine the reasons through the Higher Self. The conference does not involve personal work. I'm here to answer questions. Let's hold the conference first and then talk about other things.

Evgeniy: Irina, when we met, you said that my purpose on Earth is as a healing angel, level 22. This is pretty serious. In general, I feel like a strong person. I understand everything that was said about energy and spirituality. But this is such a volume that you don’t need to work, but just do it. For example, by yourself to restore everything. You can't do this in five minutes. Because we need to earn family and money, and treat people.

Everything accumulates and accumulates and one’s own illness is no longer considered to be very bad. You push and pull and you end up with a negative process that you have to deal with.

Then a big request: try to help me figure out this problem with the help of Mead. Can he do a diagnosis? This will provide an opportunity - his recommendations - to start working with the disease.

Irina: There are 3,000 people in line to see him for diagnostics. He will not do it without the Higher Self. Therefore, you need to go to the Higher Self, ask about the spiritual causes of the disease, try to eliminate them, dissolve the blocks, and so on, whatever we find. And then, after a period of adaptation of your etheric and physical body to spiritual changes, if necessary, he is ready to make a diagnosis.

Evgeniy: There is a person whose destiny is to be, for example, a taxi driver. My purpose is to heal people like a healing angel.

What he just said is a little unethical in relation to me personally, because I still have level 22, the same as him. Why does he, the scientist of the earthly specialist, abandon. Into the water, as they say, like a stone.

Irina: I would have left you if I had not suggested the path to healing. If you yourself choose not to follow this path, then it is your choice, and I have no right to interfere with you.

Evgeniy: No, no, no. I understand all this. I do it. But it's not that simple. For example, I have problems with the Higher Self. My Higher Self is silent. There is no way for me to contact him.

1:04:50 The primacy of contact with your Higher Self when diagnosing any disease.

Irina: You need to find out from the Higher Self why and what is stopping you, why it does not answer you. If you're in Cassiopeia, you know that other people get along great with him.

If people communicate with him, starting from childhood, then you may need to watch, attend a session, how others answer questions, how they connect with the Higher Self. How guides work.

Maybe you don't quite understand what is required of you? You need to look at other people's examples.

Communicating with the Higher Self is very simple. The Higher Self is a part of you, a part of your Spirit. It will answer you not only about the causes of illnesses, but also tell you a lot of interesting things: about the purpose of your incarnation, whether you are fulfilling your task, to what extent you have completed it, what is left. And many, many bonuses that your Higher Self will reveal to you.

What it is? This is the highest part of you. Why is she the highest? Because you make up 30% of the entire Spirit, part of which is embodied in the body, and your higher part makes up 70%. She does not have a blocked memory of your past lives and incarnations. She does not have a blocked memory of your tasks that you set for yourself when you incarnated into your body through your parents.

It perfectly remembers why you came here, it even remembers for what period you came, and so on. It looks from the Spiritual world to what extent you complete tasks, and how this relates to the period of your incarnation.

This is very important: you can always correct it and ask what percentage I have completed my task, and what else I have left to do before leaving the incarnation.

They will not tell you the date for leaving incarnation, so as not to provoke fears due to activation, self-preservation instincts. But they will tell you what remains to be done to improve your spiritual level. After all, with separation from the body and its disintegration into individual molecules and atoms, nothing ends for you as a Spirit. Life begins in Eternity, and now: every moment, every second, minute, hour, day you prepare yourself for that eternal life. How effectively you do this and what is your spiritual level at the present moment: not when you incarnated, but at the present moment, you can learn everything from the Higher Self.

Therefore, when I recommended that you first find out from the Higher Self the cause of the disease, and, at the same time, find out the purpose of incarnation and so on, I did not wish you harm. I wished you to understand yourself and come to the highest goal of your existence on this planet. After all, you know very well that if your dad had not met your mother and they had not had sexual intercourse, you would not have been born.

And if you were born, it is not by chance. If you had not been born, if your body had not been conceived, not only did you not see now or see poorly, you would never have seen the light of the sun in this particular body, in this particular life. And, if you exist here as a person, in a combination of Spirit and body, then you must understand that influencing any one part of you is ineffective.

As a rational being, you must understand that any violation of the human body occurs not only on the physical, but also on the spiritual level in one order or another: mental attitudes, astral, emotions, feelings, etc.

Therefore, knowing the seriousness of the situation of people who have eye disease, I recommend first finding out the spiritual cause of the disease.

If I look and prescribe any treatment, any drugs or herbs, they will have no effect (or will have a temporary effect) until you eliminate the spiritual cause of the disease. This will mean that I didn’t help you in any way, in a global sense. I don’t want to do this, so I suggest that you still begin to find out what led to the breakdown of your etheric matrices.

One more question and that's it. I have to go now.

Evgeniy: Irina, we’re finishing up. As a psychologist, I understand perfectly everything that was said. I've been improving at this all my life. I even learned to go to the Astral. I tried what it is, just out of curiosity.

I met with the children of aliens who were born here on Earth and counseled them, because they came to me as a psychologist and said: “We don’t understand people, how they live, why they think this way,” and so on. I advised many of them to take up computer programs.

Irina: I understand. Do you have another question? Or are we finishing?

Evgeniy: I am doing what was said just now about spiritual development. I do everything. Then a big request. Let MidgasCaus still find the time to make a diagnosis in order to practically begin to contact him in a business manner.

Irina: Is this your last question at the conference?

Evgeniy: Yes.

Irina: Okay. He will answer it now and we will finish.

If you said that you cannot contact the Higher Self and find out elementary answers from him, there can be no talk of any spiritual development, in my understanding. Spiritual development involves daily contact with your Higher Self. Daily, and sometimes even hourly and minute by minute.

Eugene: But I was told that I am the Higher Self. How can I contact myself? I understand myself perfectly, I understand everything I do, I understand spiritual processes.

Irina: So, ask questions to the Higher Self, the disembodied part of your Spirit, and receive mental answers. If you follow the path of spiritual development, it means that you are energetically pure and it will not be difficult for you to receive them.

Evgeniy: Okay.

Irina: If you are following the path of spiritual development, now I will expand my answer.

1:12:58 The essence of spiritual development.

Irina: What is spiritual development? Spiritual development is raising your spiritual vibrations. What is raising spiritual vibrations? How can we measure spiritual vibrations? We can understand that we can measure material vibrations with certain instruments that allow us to determine what frequency the vibration is.

What about spiritual ones? What kind of vibration meter do we have there? Very simple – our spiritual heart. It is an organ in the spiritual body. What is the spiritual heart? This is the core, the essence of the Spirit, in which its feelings, desires, and instincts are located. Raising your vibrations means approaching the highest vibration in the universe.

What do we consider the highest vibration of the universe, what do we consider the standard? This is spiritual energy, not material and not ethereal, that is, not physical and not ethereal, but spiritual energy. The spiritual energy of unconditional, all-encompassing love.

The word “love” (the contact now speaks Russian), if you want to know what this feeling is, you can specify it. Love of acceptance, love of help, etc. What is absolute and unconditional? This means absolutely everyone.

Evgeniy: I understand that.

Irina: What do you mean to everyone? To everyone, starting with yourself as a Spirit, with your body, acceptance, help, etc. To all your neighbors. A neighbor is any person who is in the zone of your activity: visual activity, motor activity. Not your relative, but someone who is directly in the zone of your life. All of them are considered close in their territorial location.

Of course, love for God. We call God the Absolute, the Supreme Mind, which gave energy for the creation of this World. This is an intelligent Spirit, Superintelligent. We are all parts of it.

The word "particle" should not be understood that it somehow changes the whole and makes it smaller. This is a material concept. If, for example, you cut a piece from an apple, the apple becomes smaller. This is not the case in the Spiritual World. Separating particles from the whole does not change the size of the whole or its power.

Evgeniy: Irina, I know all this, I don't even understand it, but I know it as a psychologist. I am a very sociable person. The people around me perceive me very well. Why? Because, apparently, some kind of energy. I correctly understand immediately, instantly, the situation.

For example, when a patient comes to me, without asking anything I already understand what he came with. Understand? Therefore, I treat all people very well, except for criminals, arrogant ones who ask to get punched in the nose. I have full contact and understanding with all other people. Therefore, I think that everything is fine with spirituality.

Irina: We're finishing. "I'm good" except for whom? I'll explain now. For people who are in low vibrations, in unconsciousness, in anger, in hatred (we call them "in low vibrations"), any measures that can hurt them will not help raise their vibrations at all.

Evgeniy: Absolutely right!

Irina: Quite the contrary. So "punching it in the nose" is ineffective, but talking, explaining and bringing it to awareness is effective.

Evgeniy: That's how I put it. Yes, I have to explain, absolutely right. When they come for a consultation, they have to do this.

1:17:53 An example of the primary determination of the direction of human development.

Irina: When you said that, your words expressed a feeling, an emotion in you.

Evgeniy: I see.

Irina: The feeling and emotion did not just pass fleetingly. She's not going anywhere. It remains in you and begins to act on your etheric matrices. These reasons, plus mental attitudes that were laid down from childhood, plus blocks that were created, perhaps, even in childhood, all this is eliminated through contact with the Higher Self.

I recommend that you contact either Irina or her students so that they can help you create higher vibrational energy based on materialistic perception. Then I will look at you and recommend something that will suit your vibrations.

But I warn you right away: our idea of physical diseases, the physical condition of organs, diverges from the ideas of your traditional medicine. So, those drugs or herbs that suit your vibrations may not match or will not at all correspond to those that doctors usually recommend in your case.

Evgeniy: Irina, I understand that. This is how it should be, because Meade knows more than we earthlings know, and I trust it 100%.

Irina: He says: “We have different knowledge, different ideas.”

Evgeniy: Yes, absolutely right.

Irina: So, dear friends, I hope you found this conference interesting and interested in the answers about eyes and diagnostic conditions. The diagnostic conditions apply to each of you, because many people contact me and write about Mead. I hope he has now given a comprehensive answer to each of you. I hope it was helpful.

Dear friends, I thank you for watching this conference. See you again!

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

Present next to me today are: representative of the planet Tumesout Gestam Parhur, a specialist in the energy of space and the manifestation of Spiritual Light through material forms. Gestam welcomes everyone. Also present is my curator from the planet Esler -

MidgasKaus, who is a biologist, psychologist, and specialist in alien civilizations.

Also with us today is Sergei. Hello, Sergey.

Sergey: Hello.

Irina: Tell us, who are you and what is the conference about?

Sergey: I am an architect by profession; in 1983 I graduated from the Leningrad Civil Engineering Institute, Faculty of Architecture. In my final years at the institute, I learned that architecture influences a person, his life, his destiny and even his health. And since then, as far as possible, I have learned all the mechanisms, influences, how this happens.

On our planet there are several teachings that have preserved ancient knowledge - this is Hindu Vastu, part of the Indian Vedas, Sthapati Veda, part of Feng Shui - this is the Egyptian tradition of sacred architecture and the ancient Russian tradition. These four traditions are the largest that I study. And by now, somewhere in 2008-2009, I had developed my own system, one might say, initially on the basis of these ancient teachings, as a result of their study. And then, realizing that these teachings are based on the laws of nature, I moved on to studying those laws of nature that underlie human interaction with architectural space, as space in general and architectural space in particular, in order to design a harmonious space, houses, cities. I design individual residential buildings, sometimes there are villages, centers of spiritual development - this is approximately my scale. I publish books, I published a two-volume book “Vedic Architecture” and “Architecture of the New Age”.

I assume that the knowledge that the surrounding environment influences a person will gradually spread, and I hope so. This, in general, is my goal, and, as I defined it for myself, the task for this implementation: to formulate this system, present it so that it can be used.

And, in connection with this, I have several questions that I explore not only, say, in the form of reading literature, scientific discoveries, and so on, there is also subtle research. And not only do I try to look at frames and pendulums myself, but I also communicate with people who more or less see something, and through them I also ask questions. And if several people answer the same questions in approximately the same way, then this can be taken as a basis. But now I have questions that, one might say, have not been clarified. Quite big questions, and I hope to get answers to them today.

Irina: Okay. Thank you.

So, today we will talk about building space, as far as I understand. You can ask questions.

05:28 Dwellings of humanoids on the planet Tumesout.

Sergey: Okay. So the first question is: how is it possible, using the influence of architectural space, to tone the upper centers of a person living, for example, in a city? I have an assumption that the upper seventh center of a person, located at the top of the head (frequency 852 Hz), tones the Sahasrara, there is such a statement on the Internet. The corresponding sound wavelength, sound propagation in the air at normal temperature and humidity is 40 cm. Will the size of an internal space, for example a room, a multiple of 40 cm, one of its sound harmonics tonify the Sahasrara? Any sounds that occur can resonate with this frequency and tonify.

Irina: He shows me. Yes, I understand, okay. Thank you for your question. Gestam shows.

(Gestam) Greetings to all of you, I am a representative of the planet Tumesout, a specialist in arranging space for the life of living beings.

Naturally, I studied the life of living beings on my planet. But I became acquainted with the characteristics of living intelligent beings on your planet. To harmonize space, the energies in this space, the energies of the chakras of a person (I will say a person, because I am saying this in relation to you), we use not only the dimensions of metric space, but also its shape, color, illumination, location relative to the magnetic poles and so on. And also the location depending on the point, for example, sunrise. And how the stars are located, that is, the pattern of the constellations. This is all taken into account. As for the upper chakras, stimulation of the sixth, seventh energy centers (shows a room, somewhat reminiscent of a cone tapering upward).

Sergey: Round or square to the base?

Irina: It's not like a pyramid, there are corners, it's like a dome, but pointed at the top.

Sergey: Oh, like that.

Irina: And the bottom color of the walls is between red and brown. And the top one, about a third taller than human height, begins to turn white and then light purple.

Sergey: I saw it, yes.

Irina: Our technology is such that there are no lamps. All walls are micro-panels that emit waves that release light from air atoms.

Sergey: I see.

Irina: It happens that they themselves can glow in different colors from the inside, like a backlight that can blink. Various symbols may appear there. That is, they have a space size that is harmonious for human energy. In order for him to be in his own space, if it is calculated in cubic meters, then for a person 1m 70 cm tall it is approximately 32 square meters.

Sergey: Room.

Irina: Yes. Not in cubic meters, but in square meters. Height approximately 2 m 80 cm – 3 m 20 cm.

Sergey: I have a lot of questions, about height too.

Irina: It depends on what shape the orientation is. We strengthen the energy of the upper chakras with light. Each color is a reflection of light on a single wavelength. And it is this color and this shape that will enhance the circulation of energy in the upper part of the space, the upper part of the room where the head is located.

Sergey: Upper centers. Clear.

Irina: No one has made such rooms for us.

Sergey: No, but we make such rooms.

Irina: Yes?

Sergey: They do. In fact, in the Indian Vedic tradition everything is similar. The premises must be oriented relative to the cardinal points, relative to the directions: north, south, west, east. Each zone has its own energy characteristics. And the room, for example, corresponds to fire - there is a zone of fire, corresponds to water - in the zone of water, the primary element of water.

Irina: But, as far as I know, it is not customary for you to place a pillar under the foundation down in the middle of the house, and sometimes they even put it in the middle of each room; it is most often metal or stone, but covered with metal on top. This is usually either silver, copper or an alloy.

Sergey: Vertical?

Irina: Yes. It gets buried in the ground. It depends on what kind of soil it is. But on average for 30-35 sq. m, it is driven in about 5 meters, and rods go up from it and to the foundation, and it turns out like a bowl.

But only the rods are solid, like a lattice.

Sergey: Don’t they protect you from the Earth’s electromagnetic field?

Irina: They are not made of metal, they can be made of other materials, even artificially created ones. In our houses, if we are talking about walls, they are most often built on a silicon or bioorganic polymer base, that is, they are grown.

Sergey: Like wood. Bio is a tree.

Irina: Yes. But they are grown, that is, trees are not cut down, but there are factories that grow it.

Sergey: I see. Thank you. In our center they also make bookmarks, but from crystals.

Irina: This pillar allows you to have contact with the elements of the Earth. And this contact along these rods will spread to the foundation, rise along the walls of the house, and there will be an exchange between the roof as the highest point of the roof, we also have this, even if it is a dome. If it is a flat roof, then a pillar is also made upward, and usually it is given some kind of functional load, like a statue.

Sergey: Yes. This also exists in the Indian tradition, called collage.

Irina: Statues.

Sergei: But there it is carved, like a baluster.

Irina: The statue is on the roof.

Sergey: Yes, in the very center of the roof.

Irina: And all this connects with Space and the element of air, and there is a constant energy exchange between the space of the house and the environment.

Sergey: Thank you. I will continue to ask questions.

16:21 Architectural elements that accelerate the evolution of humanoids.

Sergey: There is another assumption, but this is my speculation, that frequencies in the range from 7.5 to 13 hertz (Hz) tone the alpha rhythm of the human brain, this corresponds to a wavelength from 26 to 45 meters.

If the distance between buildings facing each other lies in this range, will this tone the alpha rhythm of the brain? Will this add a meditative state to people, and will this speed up their evolution?

Irina: Alpha?

Sergey: The alpha rhythm of the brain is a state between active activity and light meditation, that is, slight detachment.

Irina: And the beta rhythm?

Sergey: Then there is a more active one.

Irina: These frequencies are formed depending on the state of the Spirit, its work, what it does, what it is aimed at: if it is on the material world, then it will have a more active manifestation through matter, on the inner Spiritual world - that means it will be recorded through the brain more slowly waves, that is, they are already closer to the delta.

But alpha is quite active, this is already aimed at the material world. If you named those frequencies.

Because they call 3-5 Hz slow, it's like a gamma, delta state. Gamma state, delta state are already communication with the Spiritual world and exit from the body. But it can be provoked by sounds, the same color, light. Being provoked is more like helping in achieving it.

In this case, the color of the room should be shifted towards bluish-violet tones, such as dark blue, because this makes the wavelength in the brain longer, that is, this makes the brain waves calm down, they become slower.

It also requires silence, so fairly thick insulating walls are needed.

And the form. This is already close to a pyramidal state, because in pyramids this state occurs precisely.

19:50 The influence of a pyramidal dwelling on a humanoid.

Sergey: Is a pyramid a common housing space, or is a pyramid roof enough?

Irina: On Tumesout we have pyramids instead of houses.

Sergey: Is there, say, some danger that if a person with a low frequency is placed in a pyramidal form, it will be very difficult for him to live there? Everything should be somehow gradual. This is for a person who is already ready for some kind of spiritual transformation.

Irina: It's not that it will be difficult for him to live there. He will just be there all the time. And at night, when his astral body leaves the physical. In a dream, the energy exchange of the body with the environment is enhanced due to the fact that consciousness leaves along with the astral body, and the energy shell of a person, the etheric body, comes into more active contact with the environment, including the space of the house.

there or needs to be cleansed. That is, this will cause a gradual cleansing of his energy structure and increase his sensitivity to those spiritual and plasmoid entities that are nearby, and he can, for example, see something, make contact, hear voices, and so on.

Sergey: Is it possible under terrestrial conditions, for example, to use a pyramidal roof for this purpose? That is, a person does everyday everyday activities in an ordinary rectangular space and at night goes under the roof, puts a bed there and in this pyramid becomes spiritualized or helps himself to cleanse himself, to become spiritualized. Is this possible?

Irina: Yes. It is possible to only sleep in the pyramid, then his awareness of himself in astral travel will increase, in his awareness of himself in a dream the connection with the Higher Self will strengthen, it will be easier for him to enter a state of meditation. His bed, where he will sleep, should not be lower than 1 m 20 cm from the floor.

Sergey: Very interesting information.

Irina: This is from the floor of the pyramid.

Sergey: I understand. Which value should be better: in the center or somewhere away from the center?

Irina: Slightly different effect. If it is near a wall, the effect will be softer. But if the head is directed to the corner of the pyramid, then this can cause overstrain, like high tension of the etheric body in the head area, this can be harmful because there will be an increase in intracranial pressure. And if in the middle of the pyramid, but the head should not be directed to the corner, then this will cause it to be washed with energy etheric flows in a circle, this is like a double, one might say, cleansing effect.

Sergey: The center is more active, of course. Do the angles of the pyramid matter? There are angles that are more harmonious and less harmonious, as far as I know.

Irina: He shows me: the upper angle should not be straight, but closer to 45 degrees.

Sergey: More spicy.

Irina: Yes. And if it is larger, then it is like a smoothing of energies.

Sergey: Weakening the system.

Irina: Yes.

Sergey: I meant that there are angles, for example, 24, 36, 60 degrees. The result of dividing a circle of 360 degrees by an integer. In some traditions, such angles are considered more harmonious and calming to the space. Precisely by calming the space, harmonizing it inside the pyramids. Do you know anything like this?

Irina: He said that there should be an acute angle, but this is a matter of taste, you can do anything. But there, again, color matters. The closer to the top, the darker the color should become, but not black, again closer to a dark blue, purple hue.

Sergey: And dark blue and dark purple are colors that seem to compress space and enhance the characteristics of Saturn.

Irina: For them, the color of Saturn is black.

Sergey: That's it, I understand. Fine.

26:28 Human energy field. Spaces, shape and height of the house that are harmonious for people.

Sergey: In the ancient Russian tradition there is a system of measures - sazhens. In terms of size, fathoms differ similarly to the wavelengths of notes in music by approximately 1.059. There is an assumption that different fathoms determine different indicators of the size of a person’s field: height, width, depth of the field. Is it so?

And is there a difference in the size of the field, say, from front to back, to the sides and in height? But there is an assumption that there is.

And if you create a space of similar proportions, then it will be a more harmonious space for humans. Is it so?

Irina: You know, normally, in general, the field should be harmonious, it should have the same structure and size on all sides. We call this symmetrical.

Sergey: And in height too?

Irina: Yes. It shows how the ball passes around a person. It's inside the ball. But again, material objects do not interfere with the spread of subtle energy. It’s not that there should be the same distance above your head and under your feet. But this is normal, again, if there is a good connection between a person and the earth. He can be more grounded, as you say, or less, then it will decrease if you have inharmonious work of the first chakra. As for the sides, there are chakras here, but due to the fact that they rotate, the field extends to the sides to the same distance as in front, and behind, and above - this is already the work of the seventh chakra. If it is weak, then there will be less energy there, it will be like a flattened ball. And normally, a person’s field should be in the shape of a ball, but it can also be in the shape of a drop or in an oval shape - this is already a sign of energy deficiency. When you are charged with the energy of the Light of the Higher Self, spreading it into the aura and into the physical body, you will feel like a perfect ball and will expand in all directions. This is a sign of effective energy work.

As for the shape of the house. For a person, rooms that are close to square and rectangular shapes are harmonious, but this is for a person who lives an ordinary life, and pyramids are for those who are more in the Spiritual world, for meditation. You can make a room or separate rooms in the yard. Round shapes are also harmonious - this is the harmonization of family life, relationships with children, and so on.

Interesting. According to Indian tradition, a round house is unfavorable for life. What about the hexagonal house? How does it influence?

Irina: If there are more than 4 angles, this affects the third chakra, the manifestation of one's will, there will be faster career growth and financial well-being. In general, this again depends on the size, color, materials, direction. But the general trend is this.

Houses without corners, where there is a dome and walls, are considered round, that is, it is not necessarily a perfect circle, it may be closer to an oval.

Sergey: Do you mean forms that are not separated by internal partitions? Because partitions dividing a room into rooms can break and spoil the entire shape.

Irina: They can be temporary, not permanent, for example, when you hang some kind of fabric. Then the energy will be evenly distributed. And if it is a solid wall, which is fixed in the foundation, in the ceiling, in the roof, attached on all sides, then this can really interfere with the circulation of energy in a circle and the harmonization of 1, 2, 4 chakras.

Sergey: What is a more harmonious ceiling height for a person? I have an assumption that two heights or seven cubits is 1.75 height. Both sizes seem to be good. Which is better?

Irina: Again, for what purposes, for example.

Sergey: For life. For example, a house is built for people to live in, and the height from floor to ceiling is chosen according to the owner, the woman. Either 7 of her cubits, that is, 1.75 of her height, or two of her height.

Irina: If it is general for life, then the most harmonious for a person will be somewhere from the top of the head to the highest part of the ceiling, approximately 120%.

Sergey: That is, it’s even more than growth.

Irina: 1.2 height. That is, add his growth to his height and there is still 20% left.

Sergey: Thank you.

33:22 Traditions of building houses in ancient India, in ancient Rus' and on the planets of the Interstellar Union.

Sergey: Next there is a question, a very difficult one. In the ancient tradition, which India has preserved, the size of the house is measured by the perimeter of the walls. This method is called Ayyadi calculations. It has eight simple formulas, fractions, for example, 8/12, 9/10, 3/8 and so on. The calculation is based on a whole odd number of human measures that fit into the length of this perimeter. That is, the wave runs along the outer walls and must travel a certain number of times. This quantity is called the Ayyadi number. So, I can probably tell you the number of measures that fit into the perimeter of the house when multiplied by each formula, which should give a remainder that is positive in quality. And the positivity or negativity of this remainder is determined by tables for each formula, there is a table. The measure that is taken for calculations is either half of a person’s height or 1/8 of height, that is, the height of the head. This is one tradition for measuring the size of a house.

There is another tradition - Old Russian. She kept the calculation of the size of the house in fathoms or half-fathoms, or cubits. Moreover, the size of the premises is measured between the walls in space. That is, not along the perimeter, as in Ayyadi calculations, but in space: length, width and height.

These two types of house measurements or house size determinations are not compatible. I've tried to combine them many times, and it doesn't work out well. The ancient Indian tradition says that Ayyadi calculations are on a subtle level, while on an energetic level a crystal is created. And the ancient Russian tradition is simply the size of the house on the physical level. And so I do ayyadi calculations. But I keep worrying: what method of measuring the size of a house is actually preferable for a person?

Irina: It was not by chance that the measurement system of ancient people was chosen based on the names of body parts. In any case, parts of the body: finger, arm, leg - these were landmarks, templates that could be used to measure. This was simply more convenient than taking a bone from a mammoth and measuring it with it. For example, a builder, a man, applied a rope to his hand, and this was already a template. That is, the elbow.

We count differently: as a percentage, the length, width, height of the house, distance from floor to ceiling. It depends on the shape of the house, ceiling and walls. Color also plays a role there, purpose, what this room or house is needed for. Very often, on the planets of the Interstellar Union, in the same house there can be rooms of different shapes and sizes, like separate chambers.

But the whole point is that all these formulas, how to do this, are all calculated by our robots, because we ourselves have not been building our own houses for three or four million years. None of our civilizations touch any bricks. All this remains only in programs.

What is our system based on? We teach that the orientation of the house should be along the sunset-sunrise line from the Sun, the angle should point to the sunrise point on the longest day, for example.

Sergey: We do too.

Irina: Windows and doors should also not be just anywhere, but in certain places, and not only face some side of the world, but be, for example, at some distance from the corners. It is considered harmonious and pleasing to the eye, and this affects the psychology of a living being, and it is also considered favorable for the circulation of energy.

You know that in material space, in addition to the physical density of the existence of matter of the third level, there are 56 more densities. I will tell you that these 56 are not located on top of each other, like a layer cake, but are nested one inside the other. It's like smoke from different substances mixed into one cloud.

Sergey: This is all very clear.

Irina: Yes. And so the room in which you are sitting is actually not only in the physical world. She is in parallel worlds. Moreover, for example, at the 4th level of density it looks different. There may not be your room in this space, but there may be space in general, their world, their road or part of some mountain, or maybe their city. And so on at all levels. So between these levels energy flows, we call it “etheric flows”. It is needed in order to protect different levels of density from mixing and destruction and so that building material in the form of energy from the Spiritual world harmoniously and smoothly transitions from one density to another, and creates and supports various atoms. You believe, as far as I remember, that the creation of atoms is completed, but we consider this process to be continuous.

Sergey: That is, it continues and is constantly changing. But this is immediately accepted. Because like everything else, like a plant, an animal, and a person, everything is in the process of further creation.

Irina: Yes. We consider the Universe not a static structure, but a dynamic process. So these ethereal flows circulate according to certain laws, certain trajectories: in a circle, in a spiral, usually spiral movements if in free space. If there are any dense formations there in the form of walls made of different materials, because each type of material has its own vibrations, these etheric flows can change speed, direction, direction vector, go generally in the opposite direction, all this affects the person who lives in this space. Because, for example, a device in the walls of a substance that can be vaguely called glass, only there, instead of silicon oxide, about a quarter of them will be replaced by phosphorus atoms in the atomic structure. This is the kind of glass that seems to shine. If you cover the walls with this, you can significantly reduce the thickness of the ethereal partition between different density levels, and you can see plasmoids in your place, and they are in your place.

There are things that can increase contact or decrease it. For example, people who do not have harmonized contacts with plasmoids, with negatively minded entities that oppress their contactees, take away negative energy from them, and give them their own negative energy in return. In your opinion, this is called mentally unstable people experiencing hallucinations, psychosis, who cannot control their condition. If you had such solutions, then clinics and hospitals for them would be built from such material, walls of such a shape that, on the contrary, would make it difficult for plasmoids to contact them. Well, this, of course, is possible through the Astral, but for this the plasmoids would have to make more efforts.

45:35 Conspiracies in construction. Creator of energy structures.

Sergey: And all sorts of programming, popularly called conspiracies, are actually noospheric technologies, that is, when a program is applied to the walls, a statement. Can it replace or partially replace at least this protection?

Irina: This is possible at the Astral level. I am now talking about the etheric energy level. And everything that concerns thought forms and with feelings, emotions and certain ideas embedded in them is the level of the mental world, the Astral world. But we call the mental world the Higher Astral, that is, it is already somewhere on the border with the world of disembodied Spirits. And influence at this level can partially replace, of course, these walls, but only if a lot of vital energy from the creator of energy structures is invested in them. You usually call them magicians. We call them the creator of energy structures, the creator of subtle material structures using the power of thought, or simply a spatial creator.

The Creator not only creates space itself, but creates the internal structure. He can be an experienced magician, an experienced creator of space, who has a large amount of vitality and knows how to direct it, create very vivid images, this requires a very developed imagination, a very high concentration on it. He can replace just a team of architects like me to build. Just sit in space, go into meditation, get out of the body, just walk around and create.

Sergey: Gradually, I think, all this is moving there, to this level of development.

47:56 Human-friendly building materials on Tumesout. "Garland" cities in the Interstellar Union.

Sergey: This question is: what is more favorable for a person in the form of a building material: brick or wood, or, for example, straw for building walls, that is, a harder material from the earth or plant material? But the vegetable one is also harder.

Irina: All the types of materials that you listed are natural materials?

Sergey: Yes.

Irina: All the same, although they were assembled artificially in the form of some smooth objects in the form of bricks, the material itself was taken from the earth. This, as I understand it, is a natural material in any case. Its vibrations are equal to the vibrations of stones, sand, mountains. That is, houses made of brick and long structures filled with a liquid solution that hardens, it’s approximately like a cave. The caves were also surrounded by stones. The space in the cave in which people lived had stone walls, and such was the energy of the earth.

When it comes to plant materials, whether it's straw, it's grass. And, by the way, clay, sand, this is also more to the ground. Plant materials combine all the elements, there is the element of air, the element of fire, since the tree was fed by sunlight for a long time, the element of earth, because it grew in the ground, gaining the strength of the earth, and the element of water, because it fed on water. Just like straw, that is, any blade of grass also feeds on sunlight, earthly elements and water, and air, of course, too. By the way, any plant not only releases oxygen, it also breathes it. True, his breathing process occurs less intensely than excretion, but it is still there. So all the elements gathered there.

Houses made from plant materials in the Interstellar Union are considered the most expensive. It’s like for people involved in any magical or spiritual practices, because they combine all the elements. But, of course, this can also be done in a house made of artificial materials.

We have a lot of houses made of artificial materials, grown in the air by some pillars, such as garlands. Just balls and garlands hang, and bridges are laid between them, on which people walk at an altitude of even about 4-5 km above the surface of the planet, that is, a city can hang. Garland cities - this technique originally came from insectoid worlds, but it has taken root very well in humanoid worlds. And there is such a polymer, very similar to your plastic, but much harder. Even in such houses you can practice spiritual practices. But it is believed that the energy of the tree, the energy of the grass is more conducive to this, it will be easier for him to do this.

52:01 Energy of wood. Energy exchange during house construction.

Sergey: There is such a moment. If a tree is cut down, then, like any living organism, it first releases a large amount of etheric energy, and then over time after it is killed, it releases less and less and less energy. After some time, the release of this energy becomes less than zero. That is, it begins to have a negative effect. Does such a thing exist?

Irina: But for this there is a special, as you say, ritual, and we call it an energy action. Previously, people knew and did it, but, of course, not in front of every tree, but in a certain area where it was planned to cut down the forest for construction. Certain shamans came into contact with Spirits (plasmoids), who created the Souls of plants, turned to them, asked to give the bodies of plants for the benefit, for the life of dense material beings. And they wished for them to incarnate or dissolve in the astral world of Light and so on. And here there was a harmonious, mutually beneficial exchange. Because deforestation workers did not begin this activity without this shamanic ritual. It was believed that one could bring misfortune upon oneself in this way, for example, a tree could fall on a person, or a wild animal could come running and attack. In this way, plasmoids could drive people away from their lands.

Previously, people were much more sensitive. Therefore, any glance from Leshy from the thicket in the back was very keenly felt by them. Leshy is the Spirit of the Forest. Now a person will feel only a slight chill, a chill, which will simply be perceived as a breath of breeze. Now what is the ritual? Naturally, now many people do not cut down forests, they buy ready-made building materials.

What can I do in this case? The tree was brought to the condition necessary for construction. But you can sit next to this material, close your eyes, enter a meditative state and simply mentally, in your own words, address it. Put your hands on what you bought, for example, 5 cubic meters of firewood, as for the table, on this bundle and turn. Even if there is no energy there, etheric energy comes out of the tree, depending on the species and age, in a period of 3 hours to 30 days.

Sergei: And then there is no energy there anymore?

Irina: Then there's just substance. The younger the tree, the faster this energy comes out, the smaller it is. It takes the longest to grow from conifers, all other things being equal. Moreover, the tree that, for example, endured different seasons, cold, heat, grew in a more northern area, accumulated more etheric energy, needs more time for it to come out. That is, for example, a cedar pine in the taiga will be even stronger in energy than a Lebanese cedar; it has endured many temperature fluctuations, but all other things being equal.

But you can mentally refer to plasmoids like this:

I thank those nature spirits who created this material.

I thank the plant souls who brought this material to life as it grew on the earth.

I thank all the elements that grew this for me.

I thank God, Heavenly Father, who allowed me to acquire this as my property.

I promise to direct it only to achieve good goals. I send the Light of my Soul to all the entities that participated in this.

Something like these words. And sit and fill this material with Light from your heart, and you will feel that those who made it are nearby. And they will send you an answer. And after this exchange, it will take about 5-7 minutes, you can use this material, there will be no negativity.

Sergey: But won't, say, plant material after many years, for example, 40, 50, 60 years, begin to have a negative impact on a person, due to the fact that it is organic, and it also has a process such as aging. And the old material is already beginning to draw energy from the environment.

Irina: This etheric energy that surrounds him is more saturating than human energy, if this energy is not blocked by anything. How can the energy be blocked? If objects in the room or walls are located in such a way that it interferes with the circulation of energy. Usually there are some metal objects that are not harmoniously located, especially copper wires inside the walls, they need to be very carefully distributed inside the house, according to certain laws, energy lines, so as not to make too many branches from the central line. The same applies, for example, to such metal things as nails, for example, which are used to hammer some objects. Try to keep the quantity to a minimum and especially don't do it on one line.

Sergey: Because an energy line is being formed.

Irina: This especially applies to wooden houses, they are very sensitive to the metals inside them, you have to be careful.

1:00:01 Reasons for negative feelings in an old wooden house.

Sergey: But I still don't fully understand. Does the tree have a positive service life, that is, does it not turn into a negative one, because I myself felt that if you enter a very old house, for example, 50 years after it was built, then it is unpleasant to be in it, you want to get out of it. I associated or associate this with the fact that the tree ages, turns into old. And everything that is old begins to draw energy from the surrounding space. Is there such a fact, or is it connected to something else?

Irina: No, it's not connected. It will not pull energy from anywhere, it will simply be a substance and that’s all. This is just a substance consisting of various elements, the energy left it long ago, but it will be neutral in its properties.

It might have been unpleasant for you when you were there, and your subconscious mind, the instinctive mind, felt, heard some sounds that were made by the old tree in an inaudible range. It could send you a danger signal that the house might collapse. It is no longer durable because, especially in northern areas, the soil freezes, fills with water in the spring, thaws, begins to heat up unevenly, for example, one side of the foundation, then the other, over time cracks appear there, and it begins to lose its shape , the house begins to somehow tilt, distort its shape, its structure. The walls of old wooden houses are very sensitive to heating and cooling, so if there is a sharp difference between night and day temperatures, for example, it can be difficult to sleep in it. Expansion begins, inside the old tree there are almost always unevenness, internal cracks, and they can be filled with moisture from the air, rain, fog. And if, for example, it was hot during the day, and it got very cold in the evening and at night, then the water begins to compress and expand, and you hear a cracking sound.

Insects cannot always work in these walls; it may be in winter, they may not be there. This is because the house is old and does not stand quite level, as it was at the beginning, and because of these distortions it begins to move a little. You begin to fall asleep and may hear a clicking sound. It can be quite loud, especially in the quiet of the night. The house can be unpleasant to be in. Wood, like any organic material, unlike stones and sand, can be affected by mold fungi, and you may not see it, it can be in the depths, aspergillus can also release toxins that negatively affect the human psyche.

Sergey: That’s probably how it resonated now. I must have felt the internal corruption of the tree. OK, thank you.

I also have another question. In the Vedic tradition of the proportions of a house, its internal structure was considered correct if these are integer ratios, that is, it is geometry based on integer proportions: three to three, three to four, three to three and in height also to three or to four, that is, integers numbers. In addition to rational integers, there are irrational numbers. And among them there is such a number as 1.618 - this is the “Golden Proportion”.

From my point of view, it is good to use it not inside the structure, that is, not to build the structure of the house based on the proportion of the Golden Section, but to use it for decoration, for the external form. But we have people who believe that this is a proportion of development, expansion, a natural proportion, and if we apply it in parallel with the integer inside the house, then we will thereby add not only a male integer proportion to the house, but also a female one based on rationality.

Irina: He answered a similar question. They do not calculate with the same proportions as we do, all their data is contained in their computers, it does not matter to them, for them shape, size, material and color matter more.

Sergey: Does the geometry associated with the primary elements attract the quality of the primary elements into this space?

Irina: We need to finish, it’s already been a long time. Let's have one more question.

Sergey: Okay.

1:06:52 Example of consent to establish contact.

Sergey: Then you can ask: is it possible in principle to receive such answers to questions in the future? The fact is that my research continues. Time will pass, and there will be questions again. Is it possible for me to contact you in the future?

Irina: Yes, of course. Get in touch with your Higher Self and ask which civilizations you fit in with. If your Higher Self gives the go-ahead for contact with Tumesout, I am ready to become your curator and come if you give informed consent.

Sergey: I can already give my informed consent. Because everything he says resonates very well with me and seems to fit.

Irina: You need to feel my energy first. Will it be harmonious for you? Talk to your Higher Self. Ask if you are now a contactee? That is, you are it, but the Higher Self will tell you with whom. Then there will be certain questions regarding contacts with the one who suits you. I know that astral contacts do not require permission from the Interstellar Union, unlike physical ones. I don't have to ask this question. This is simply at my discretion and your consent.

Sergey: I can give my consent now.

Irina: I, Sergey,

Sergey: Yes. I'm Sergei,

Irina: I give my consent to Gestam,

Sergey: I give my consent to Gestam Parhur from the planet Tumesout,

Irina: I give free and informed consent

Sergey: I give free and informed consent

Irina: for astral contact

Sergey: for astral contact

Irina: for the purpose of exchanging energies and information

Sergey: for the purpose of exchanging energies and information

Irina: to build a more harmonious space on Earth.

Sergey: to build a more harmonious space on Earth.

Irina: I send Gestam the Light of my love.

Sergey: I send Gestam the Light of my love.

Irina: How do you feel?

Sergey: Okay.

Irina: He sends it to you too. Do you like his energy?

Sergey: I like it.

Irina: What energy?

Sergey: I send, as it were, feelings of love or a feeling of love. And I can’t understand, is it me who feels my message or the answer?

Irina: So, we need to finish this already.

That's it, dear friends, it was a pleasure to talk with you.

(Gestam) You need to talk to your Higher Self about this, about contacting it. You have already given your consent.

If everything is in order there, he will come to you in the Astral Plane. But in order to learn to hear it through a spiritual channel, you need to learn to communicate with the Higher Self in order to distinguish its thoughts, and then you will be with it.

Sergey: Okay.

Irina: (Gestam) I'll set it up. Let him talk to the Higher Self, I will do everything so that he can consciously communicate with me

Sergey: Okay. Thank you.

Irina: So, dear friends.

#472 Who wrote the esoteric Urantia Book? ALIENS ANSWERS. Cassiopeia – Irina Podzorova.

00:01 Authors of Urantia.

(Fragment from video #75 Live broadcast with contactee Irina Podzorova 01:03:37)

Maxim: Who wrote The Urantia Book?

Irina: Contactors. A group of contactees wrote The Urantia Book. MidgasCaus knows them, LiSioni.

They did not live in Russia - in Portugal, in England, America, and a few in Russia. Some kind of association: there were 15 of them, and they corresponded with each other and created this book, and then published it. But they didn't publish all of it; some manuscripts still remain. And many of these contactees' names and surnames do not have the right to be disclosed without their consent. They wrote it secretly.

They were contactees with different civilizations: with plasmoids, with humanoids, with the Spiritual World. They found each other and began to write what they were given and analyze it.

(Fragment from video #105 Conference of contactees with extraterrestrial civilizations in St. Petersburg, June 12, 2020. Part 2. 23:00)

Irina: (Raom Tiyan) According to the Interstellar Union and by the name "Nebadon", which you said while reading the text, by the use of this word, I recognize that the author of the text who used the word "Nebadon" was a representative of the Pleiades civilization. One of the representatives of the Pleiades civilization, which is called, if expressed in earthly sounds, approximately Thrialama. This civilization is not a colony of Burhad, but their genes are there. These are also hybrids.

02:11 Civilization «Thrialama».

Irina: Thrialama is a civilization that, at one time, also had very close contact with representatives of Earth and Burkhad. It is not part of the Interstellar Union, but of the Galactic Federation of Light. She is in very close contact with the Futissians.

02:31 The term "nebadon".

Irina: “Nebadon” is exactly the word in their language that designates the so-called “local universe.”

What is the local universe? It is the universe manifested in a given time and place in space, which can be explored by instruments or known by the mind.

02:57 The truth of “Urania”.

Irina: If you look at The Urantia Book, I want to immediately emphasize that, according to the Interstellar Union, it was written by several people, contactees who were in contact with representatives of various civilizations. That is, what you can read in the next paragraph could generally be conveyed, for example, by an Eslerite or a Shimorite, or someone else. Plasmoid civilizations were also transmitted. That is, it was written by several universal contactees.

About the truth. In any case, the information contained there reflects the ideas of those specialists who came into contact with contactees, but which was perceived, naturally, through the prism of their beliefs and concepts. That is, in the language that they could perceive. But in order to understand whether it is true, we must first translate it into the terminology of the Interstellar Union that we all use.

03:58 Raom Tiyan on the transfer of information during contact.

Irina: Judging by the text that you just read, there was talk about various names. About what they call “heaven” and “hell” - this will need to be specified. In any case, this is their version of reality, and true for them. As for the truth for me personally, I believe that contactees' information needs to be conveyed in a simpler and more understandable language, without using special terms whenever possible. That is, it is advisable to give even the names of planets, galaxies and everything that exists - all worlds - in as understandable a language as possible for the contactee, so that he can adequately convey it to people. Because this is precisely the purpose of contact: not to lead astray, not to confuse with complex philosophical categories, but to reveal the truth as much as possible. Therefore, we have entire, one might say, institutes of specialists in developing contact situations. That is, by correct, consistent transmission of contacts with knowledge of a particular contactee.

05:20 Raom Tiyan about the concepts of "heaven" and "hell".

Irina: And personally, I believe that the truth is that the heaven and hell that are described are images of high and low vibrations of the spirit. I just want to emphasize that this or that state does not begin after the death of the body. It begins while still living in the body. And what vibrations you are in - high or low - naturally, you can change them, but if you have not changed them, you continue to be in them in the Spiritual world.

As I already said, there are 24 levels there - in the world of disembodied Spirits. And they are separated. If you use the Russian language, then from 1 to 6, for example, this is what you call "levels of demons." But demons are just your Russian name, which is taken from your culture. In reality, they are not creatures with horns, tails, etc. These are some Spirits whose vibrational levels correspond to the concept of the absence of Light.

This is about The Urantia Book. All terminology needs to be agreed upon and translated into the terminology of the Interstellar Union, so that I, through the contactee, can adequately and correctly answer your question. It is simply familiar to me, and I am familiar with these categories only indirectly through the study of materials from contact situations of a given planet.

00:00 Start of video.

00:05 Contents of the Cassiopeia on-site health session.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone! Finally, we have another live broadcast. We couldn't go on air for a very long time, as we were on the road, on trips, at retreats and events. And this is not the end.

Our live broadcast today with Irina will be dedicated to the earthquakes that occurred on Lake Baikal with an amplitude of 8.5 points. We specially invited representatives of one of the bases that exist on Lake Baikal - these are the Tikhtians who deal with our ecology and will answer your questions.

Yes, I greet you too, dear reptilians! Each of us is 5% reptilian, so hello everyone!

So where do I want to start. First of all, I want to say a huge hello to all the people who attended our Turkish retreat. I want to express my deep gratitude to them for this wonderful retreat, for their openness, feelings, emotions. And, accordingly, I want to thank our masters who created this atmosphere, conducted practices, training, communication with the spirits of nature and much more.

In fact, I want to say that this is not the end. We have two wonderful news. First: we are leaving for Moscow tomorrow. From June 14 to 19 there will be a visiting session of our Wellness Center: these are visceral practices - Alexey Shuvalov, Oberon - our wonderful doctor Nadezhda Viktorovna, bioenergy massage - this is Yulia Kulagina, the light chamber - that wonderful device that Kryon talked about - we take everything from yourself.

Well, accordingly, Ira goes to Moscow to hold personal receptions. But this is for those who have already completed training in Moscow. So that after training people can connect with their Higher Self and consolidate knowledge.

We are leaving tomorrow to start receptions on the 14th. If you want to sign up for visceral massage, Oberon, bioenergy massage and light chamber, you can call: 8 (988) 910-00-40. The specialist's name is Elena, she will explain to you where you can go, which masters you can also sign up with.

And, of course, the most interesting upcoming event that I want to talk about is that from July 7 to 14 we are holding a training retreat in Kazakhstan in Almaty. This is for the CIS countries, for residents of Kazakhstan and nearby regions who cannot come to us in Voronezh - we come there with the whole team.

The retreat in Almaty will be attended by: Guzel Malyarova, Ilya Alexandrov, visceral practices, oberons, crownoscopes and much, much more. And, most importantly, for one day after training we go to a very interesting place next to... Well, okay, I admit, there is a base of one of our interstellar friends nearby. There is a place of power there - a very interesting place. That’s why I’m waiting for you all in Kazakhstan. There is already a link to record under this video. And the phone number that I called for an appointment in Moscow is also under this video.

So let's go! I invite, as I always say, our party gold – Irishka! Irish, have a seat! Let's go on air!

05:24 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! I greet you all! For the first time in my life, in a physical body, not on the Kirchiton spaceship, but on an earthly plane, I left the Russian Federation and was in Turkey. This was my first trip abroad, if you don’t count space travel as foreign trips, which are already happening outside the Earth.

It was interesting, of course, it was all! Yes, and I want to congratulate you on Holy Trinity Day! Today we have three holidays! You see, Trinity and three holidays! Today is also Russia Day! And the third holiday, which is better known to astrologers, is the Parade of Planets.

The Parade of Planets that is happening now is very rare. About once every 500-600 years. The last time this event happened was shortly before the Baptism of Rus', i.e. in the 10th century. This is a very large Parade of Planets, and it is very significant that this year it falls on both Russia Day and Trinity Day.

As you well know, dear friends, nothing happens by chance with us. And today, whoever was already at our session with Ashtar Sheran, at the practices of the Interstellar Union, I already told after the practice that it was no coincidence that this year it turned out that Russia Day, Trinity Day and the Parade of the Planets coincided at one point time and space. This suggests that for Russia, one of the largest countries in the world, and for all of us, and for the entire planet, there is a chance, which is strengthened by the Parade of Planets, to increase the vibrations of not only our real noosphere, but also all lines of probability that are located on the Timeline for our planet.

Today we carried out this practice in the Astral plane at Ashtar Sheran, I have already briefly talked about it. There will be more details at the next meditation, which I will definitely conduct when I have the opportunity. And I thank you and congratulate you on the holidays.

And today our topic, as Maxim has already announced, is the earthquake on Lake Baikal and everything connected with it. Our curators are present with us, who also congratulate you. They were invited specifically to talk about an event we've been asked about a lot this week. This is a representative of the planet Ticht. He is a scientist astrogeologist, studying geological objects in Space. His name, as I can roughly convey in Russian sounds, is Harrat Mikli.

Also present with us are our curators, who already miss live broadcasts, like all of us, these are LiShioni from the planet Shimor - a specialist in astral interactions and MidgasKaus from the planet Esler - a biologist and psychologist, he also welcomes you. They were with us in Turkey on a retreat and saw all our classes.

10:30 Appearance of the Tikhtian Harrat Mikli.

Maxim: What does Harrat Mikli look like?

Irina: Shows: his height is 130 cm, white skin and large square blue eyes. Like the Tikhtians, I gave a description. His eye shape is a bit like the Tashigan, but he has white skin. And the eye color is blue. The height is approximately the same as that of a Tashigan.

Maxim: Harrat Mikli, please tell me what other civilizations are there at your base?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): At our base there are rooms for guests who can fly in from the Galactic Federation of Light, from the base that is located in the north of Lake Baikal and belongs to the Galactic Federation of Light. It can also be visited by any civilization, including scientific geologists, in order to study the biology of the lake and the processes in the earth's crust that occur beneath it. There is a very interesting anomalous zone there.

12:02 Harrat Mikli about the parade of planets.

Maxim: They ask: what Parade of Planets? Jupiter and Mars in Aries; Uranus, Venus, Mercury in Taurus; Sun in Gemini?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): This is as seen from Earth.

(MidgasKaus) The parade of planets is read when viewed from Earth. It also depends on the point from which you look.

When viewed from Earth, which planets are participating in the Parade? Mercury, Venus, Earth, naturally, line up in one row, Mars, Jupiter. But the Moon will join later - closer to June 24.

Maxim: That is, the Parade of the Planets will be closer to June 24.

Irina: Yes. But by June 24, the remaining planets will begin to move away from this line. The 12th is the most complete Parade of the planets, because they coincide in degrees (shows the map and points).

And when the Moon joins, the rest will not be located so precisely in degrees. But still, the energetic influence of these planets will spread to both the Earth and the solar system within about 12 days. Will have the most powerful impact.

13:48 Harrat Mikli about earthquakes on Lake Baikal.

Maxim: I understand. Harrat Mikli, please tell me what is causing the earthquakes on Lake Baikal, and is your base damaged?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Our base is located quite far from the source of the earthquake, it is south of our base (shows the map), but it was in the lake itself.

Maxim: Was the source of the earthquake in the lake itself?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Not in the water, in the bottom.

Maxim: In the day. I understand.

Irina: That is. on the territory of the lake.

Somewhere not far from where we were on retreat (shows map), but it’s even further south.

Maxim: What does this have to do with? What is happening on the physical level?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): The fact is that Lake Baikal itself, as you know, is a dangerous zone in terms of earthquakes. Earthquakes occur in this area and are quite strong. This was noted at a time when there were no modern Russian people, but different tribes lived. And the territory of this lake and around it was already marked as dangerous for life, because destructive earthquakes occurred there quite often, compared to the European part of Russia.

They were all the more destructive because there were no modern construction technologies. And buildings that were made of stones were destroyed more easily than modern ones, which are made taking into account shocks and vibrations, and there were many casualties. The shamans who lived at that time were also well aware of this; they learned about the reasons for the dangerous land from the Spirits of the Earth. They called it “dangerous land.”

I can give a comprehensive analysis of this area. And from the point of view of the dense material world where Lake Baikal is located, and the subtle material structures that are fundamental factors for the construction of the dense world, i.e. plasmoid worlds, as you call them.

If you look at it in close-up, Lake Baikal itself is elongated, its bed is located almost entirely in the fault zone. This rift formed just at the moment when a single continent was split. A crack has formed there that runs (shows map) from Mongolia towards Yakutsk. A crack formed there to a depth of approximately, if you look in the earth’s crust, more than 60 km. But it is under the bottom. And since this crack is located there, there is also a recess where the water went.

Before the war 12,000 years ago, this lake itself did not exist, but there were smaller bodies of water and settlements around them. And after this war there was a flood there. 12,000 years ago, practically the same thing happened as with the Mediterranean Sea. When the Eden base, which was located on land, ended up under the bottom of the Mediterranean Sea, as representatives of the Interstellar Union previously spoke about.

Currently, the two parts of the earth's crust, between which there is a fault, are moving away from each other, one shore of Lake Baikal from the other, but very slowly - less than a centimeter per year. Due to the fact that people, without taking into account the terrain, begin to lay pipes, extract minerals, build many cities and discharge into Baikal itself, pollute nature and extract minerals, the extraction of which disrupts the architectonics of the earth’s crust, all this begins to affect the deep layers ground and sudden movements are possible that create waves.

But I want to note that this depends not only on the people, on their physical activity, but also on the energy of the people who live there. I just told you what is happening on the dense plane. And on a subtle level, any movements along the tectonic faults of the plates that make up the earth are initiated by certain plasmoid civilizations, which thus build the surface of the earth for future generations.

To put it very simply: the plasmoid civilizations of the earth's elements, which are responsible for Lake Baikal, want, to put it very simply, to expand this lake. So that this area is more occupied by water. The shores are moving apart. I'm telling it very simply. There are certain agreements between the Spirits of Water, Earth and Air. And they must carry out this process slowly so as not to cause destruction on the dense plane. Therefore, when the earth moves apart normally, small earthquakes occur constantly. But they don't feel like people. This is a small vibration. And even now this is happening. Our devices record slow rhythmic waves.

But, for example, with their energy (as was the case in the 19th century), the people who lived around Lake Baikal greatly lowered their vibrations, because they condemned the current king for serfdom. Because of this condemnation, the vibrations of the noosphere where they were located decreased. And this caused a violation of the plasmoid worlds, which tried to harmonize it in such a way that they gave a release of energy from the subtle plane to the dense one, and from this the earth shifted sharply. And so there was a big earthquake (shows the 19th century, around 1860, the water poured out and the village was flooded). There were victims of destruction.

And the reason for what happened, as you said, a few days ago, was precisely that the energy accumulated by plasmoid civilizations began to come out. Since there was no strong decrease in vibrations, there was no destruction. There was a strong shock under the lake itself, not where people live.

Maxim: Should we wait for more aftershocks?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): They happen all the time, but their strength depends on so many factors. These tremors cannot be expected if, as I have already said, you have a harmonious attitude towards nature and do not actively extract oil and gas, especially on the West Siberian platform. There is a huge ocean of water under Western Siberia. Because oil and gas are being extracted there, all these currents are disrupted and begin to flow towards Baikal, and thus the plates move apart even faster. This may cause tremors.

Therefore, before developing any deposit, it is advisable to talk with the Nature Spirits of this area and find out whether it will be harmonious for this area and for territories hundreds of kilometers away from this area. Plasmoids communicate with each other.

Maxim: We will definitely talk to the plasmoids when they extract oil, of course.

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Is the profession of someone who extracts minerals called a geologist? Don't your geological schools teach a subject such as the formation of rocks with the help of plasmoid civilizations?

Maxim: In my opinion, they don’t pass.

Irina: He made big eyes!

Maxim: I suggest that he start teaching this subject in our educational institutions. I understand that our viewers have no questions, then I will ask them myself.

25:02 Harrat Mikli about his activities on earth bases.

Maxim: Harrat Mikli, please tell me, what do you do at your base in general? People are interested.

Irina (Harrat Mikli): I have already said that I am an astrogeologist, I study the geology of celestial objects, i.e. other planets. The earth for us is a celestial object. My home planet is Tikht. Therefore, the Earth is a space object to which I flew to study its geology.

I have been doing this for the last 8 months at the Tichta base. And before that, I was at a base that is located in the area of the north pole, and it belongs jointly to the planet Futissa and the planet Gormiglon, it is also part of the Interstellar Union, but is one of the colonies of Gihor (this is in your language).

26:15 Harrat Mikli about the fault under the bottom of Lake Baikal.

Maxim: Please tell me what is located at a depth of 60 km under the bottom of Lake Baikal?

Irina: He is now showing me a crack in the stones. Rock. And in this rock there are large and small heterogeneous stones of different colors. There is a ditch in the middle of this rock - this is a trace from that fault. If it were even stronger, the Eurasian continent would split from Mongolia to the north of Yakutia.

Maxim: That is. is this fault located at a depth of 60 km?

Irina: To the depths. And then it goes smoothly. Homogeneous environment.

Maxim: Is there a possibility that this continent will split apart someday?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): If there are no explosions there, then no. It disperses very slowly under the control of the Nature Spirits. And we are in contact with them. You surprised me just now: how can you extract minerals without contact, especially with the Spirits of the Earth. In any case, they will suggest the most harmonious place, because from subtle planes they see these processes differently. Crystallization of those minerals and those substances that you call “minerals” for yourself. What are “mineral resources” for you are only one of the learning phases of existence for plasmoid civilizations. Not so much the phases, but their substance, which they made for teaching more complex things.

28:10 Harrat Mikli about the Tikhtian bases.

Maxim: I understand. Tell me, please, is there a base in Crimea at Cape Meganom?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): There is no Tikhtian in Crimea (shows that there is a Tikhtian base in the Arkhangelsk region, in Africa, approximately on the equator).

28:43 Harrat Mikli on the influence of water on processes in the Earth's crust.

Maxim: I understand. Harrat Mikli, we have super-mega scientists in our chat, they write: "No la-la, water does not cause earthquakes. An earthquake is the resolution of the stress of tectonic plates as they constantly move."

Irina (Harrat Mikli): They can happen either quickly or slowly. There are hundreds of factors that can either slow down or speed up the movement of tectonic plates.

Maxim: So water can have some effect? Or is this affected by, say, mining, oil production?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): It is not the water that is on the surface that influences, but the underground - there are oceans underground, they influence the processes of their flow, now in one direction, then in the other. And if this current is directed in a certain way in one direction, then it can speed up or slow down the movement of these plates, because water also has mass.

Maxim: So, dear comrade, Andy, I hope you heard.

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Water also has mass. What is the Earth's crust? There, too, all substances are equal participants in energy metabolism. I mean the exchange of substances too. You said the accumulation of energy, and then its release, but energy does not appear out of nowhere. It always changes from one form to another. Moving water also creates energy and can create, for example, energy that will even exceed the energy of moving stones. It depends on the flow speed and its direction.

30:46 Harrat Mikli about the rift as a portal.

Maxim: Harrat Mikli, please tell me, are there any energy portals on Baikal?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Yes, there are many of them. Plasmoid civilizations have long ago created a portal there, because this rift is simply at a dense level. And on a subtle level, any fault is a place of enhanced exchange of energy between the Earth and Space. (He shows the columns of light arrowing upward between Space and Earth.)

I mean the exchange of energies of the electromagnetic spectrum, i.e. high frequencies.

31:27 Harrat Mikli about special bacteria on Earth.

Maxim: I'll ask you a question, I don't know if you will answer it for us. Oil is produced on our planet. One day it spilled very heavily into the ocean. And our scientists invented the bacterium "Cynthia" so that it eats these hydrocarbons. But then it mutated and began to eat various living tissues instead of hydrocarbons.

Who stopped its reproduction, and why is it gone now? Where did this bacteria go? Can you answer this question? Are you familiar with this bacterium?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): As a geologist, I know that there are several types of microorganisms that can decompose such hydrocarbons, which you call "oil" or "petroleum products". There are even microorganisms that can live in a very hot environment, which you call a "volcano". They feed on substances that include carbon disulfide, i.e. which are not edible by other bacteria. They have special enzymes that bind their protein compounds first into amino acids and then into protein compounds.

There are, for example, special bacteria that can, relatively speaking, breathe nitrogen from the air. What neither people nor other organisms on Earth are capable of. Those. Certain bacteria fix nitrogen from the air into their bodies. Any bacteria are, in any case, not human inventions. They can only be changed by man. But in order for a bacterium to be alive, a Soul must be put into it.

This is also the creation of thin-material plasmoid civilizations. And for bacteria, as for a small form of life, a group Soul is created. Depending on the type of bacteria, this group Soul can include from several hundred to several thousand small organisms.

As for what you called "cynthia", I'm not familiar with that name specifically, but what you say "breaks down oil", those do exist. They can acquire any mutation, for example, such that they begin to eat living tissue, i.e. become pathogenic. And not only for people, but also for plants, for the same algae, and, for example, for fish.

And they can even acquire such a mutation that they begin to decompose some polymers, for example, polyethylene. These are certain carbon chains. And in order to break the bonds between the carbon and hydrogen atoms in them, if you invent special enzymes in bacteria using mutation, they will be able to do this.

As for the bacterium you named, I have not studied this issue. But, theoretically, this is possible.

35:08 Harrat Mikli about the structure of the deep layers of the Earth.

Maxim: I understand. Question: what really is in the depths of the Earth? Suppose, if we go further than 60 km, shall we go further than 100, 120, 150, 200 km? What's really underground?

Irina: Shows a very hard and hot stone, which, due to pressure and temperature, turns into a state between solid and liquid. It is hard and at the same time melts and because of this it slides. The upper layers begin to slide over the lower ones. Due to this, the plates move.

Now we were talking about Baikal, why do the plates move? Firstly, due to sliding, because they are molten. Secondly, because the Earth rotates in a certain direction, and this rotation also gives them direction so that they move. And, naturally, certain processes occur in the core.

Maxim: Are we now talking about the center of the Earth, the core?

Irina: What I just told (hundreds of kilometers away) is not the core.

Maxim: Yes. Are we talking closer to the core? What is the temperature in the core itself?

Irina (says Harrat Mikli): At the very core of the Earth, the temperature is around 5-6 thousand degrees Celsius.

Maxim: 5-6 thousand degrees Celsius?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Yes, in the center (shows like a red sun, but small and does not glow, but radiates heat).

To glow, there are no such conditions. It radiates in the thermal spectrum, it is heated.

But for some subtle civilizations it can be like the sun, i.e. looks like that. And therefore, in some peoples of the Earth there are legends that the sun is inside, and civilizations live there, i.e. They see the core with this sun, how the rays emanate from it.

This is their perception. This is not like a crystal (shows a ball). And the core is also divided into several shells. Every planet has it, not just the Earth. Any planet began to form from the core. Everything else stuck to the core and was later acquired. The core is the most ancient part of the planet.

38:30 Harrat Mikli about the Tikhtian base on Lake Baikal.

Maxim: Please tell me, everyone is interested in the question: at what depth is your base located? Approximately, no need to be exact.

Irina (Harrat Mikli): The entrance is located under water. Part under the shore, part under the bottom in the area of 300 m.

Maxim: 300 m.

38:59 Harrat Mikli about the Yeti underground tunnels.

Maxim: There is talk that there are some inhabitants in the depths of the Earth: ancient inhabitants, maybe from Atlantis, maybe some creatures live there. Is there some kind of life deep inside the Earth? We do not take into account the bases.

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Do you mean dense or thin?

Maxim: Dense life.

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Yeti that live in caves, including those that can lead underground. There are too few of them to consider the Yeti a separate civilization. But some make passages between their settlements underground.

Maxim: Yeti or some other civilizations?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): They have already been made, and yetis can only make small ones. They also have different capabilities (shows).

They have such good contact with the Spirits of the Earth, even I am surprised!

They have such contact with the Spirits of the Earth that they negotiate with them about something similar to an earthquake, but they make targeted shocks. Tunnels are formed, and the yetis only pull out the stones.

But this, of course, happens quite rarely. They usually use the tunnels that were built before them by representatives of the civilization that lived above before the flood 12,000 years ago.

Before the war occurred, representatives of the civilization that lived on the surface of the Earth often made underground passages in order to move there and not disturb the nature that grows on the earth, not cut down trees on their way, etc. They preferred to do this underground, especially since alien civilizations at that time were very willing to provide their tools: the same stone cutters that cut such tunnels. I know several such cases.

41:22 Harrat Mikli about the ecology of Baikal.

Maxim: I understand. Please tell me, Harrat Mikli, how do you currently assess the ecological state of Lake Baikal?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): We talked with ecologists, at the moment I rate it below average. Not exactly bad, but below average either. There is a lot of organic pollution and petroleum products, as well as a lot of poisons that are used on the fields. The rivers carry them there.

Water is generally a good solvent. Unnoticed streams begin to merge into rivers, because rivers are usually lower in relief than the hills on which the fields are located. Everything flows into them. And the larger the river's water areas, the larger the area it collects substances that are sprinkled on different plants.

Maxim: I see. How do you help us clean up the lake? Or do you still leave it up to humanity?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): I know that when Irina was at our base, I was not there yet, I was at another base. But before coming here as a geologist, I naturally studied the materials about her visit. They have been preserved at our base. There I saw that she was told about what our scientists were doing.

Shows how special substances are produced that neutralize these harmful substances. Otherwise the pollution would be much stronger.

43:40 About the consequences of unauthorized physical contact.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you. I also want to ask: Irina, please tell me if the Tikhtians know that we are going to Kazakhstan. Then during the excursion we will go to one place. Whose base is there? In general, what bases are located in Kazakhstan?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Tashig.

Maxim: Tashigan base, right?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Yes. She's in the mountains.

Maxim: Will we be able to make contact with representatives of the base there?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Physical?

Maxim: No.

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Immediately after contact with you, they will all be sent to the planet of criminals (smiles).

Maxim: If you then drive them all to the planet of criminals, then it’s possible, right?

Irina: I remember how one person says to Raoma Tiyan: “Take me. I also want physical contact.” And Raom Tiyan came to Astral and said: “We have rules. Fine. I will break these rules and personally take you to Burkhad. But I must warn you about the consequences. Since you didn't sign these rules, the consequences will be mine. When I bring you back to Earth, for violating these rules I will be suspended from working with earthlings forever and may be sent to the planet of criminals. If you agree, then we'll fly." This man himself refused.

Maxim: I know some who would not refuse to sacrifice Raom Tiyan.

Irina: I just remembered this conversation.

45:22 Mead on mental work with bacteria.

Maxim: Guys, we have a live Q&A chat. The link to this chat is below this video. By the way, I read a lot of questions from this chat.

Question from this chat: "Hello, if bacteria unite and have a collective Soul, is it possible to come into contact and negotiate with them, especially if they manifest themselves as a disease?"

Irina: (MidgasCaus, as a biologist) You can. A special meditation is dedicated to this, which I conveyed to Irina. Since these bacteria manifest themselves on the physical level, it is called "Filling the body with Light, talking with the internal organs." You can also talk to those who live in these bodies. Send them Light to harmonize them. You see, if you want them to leave the body, and your body is food for them, it is natural that, having gone into the external environment, they will die.

Therefore, it is not recommended to wish bacteria to die. This can make them even more active, because they have an instinct of self-preservation. The only thing you can ask for harmoniously is that they enter into a beneficial symbiosis with your body.

And asking them to leave will mean that you want them to die."

Maxim: Oh, how interesting. We still need to learn how to talk to these bacteria correctly. So that they do not understand that they are being killed.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Otherwise, they will respond with stronger irritation.

Maxim: I understand.

47:11 Harrat Mikli about water reserves on Earth.

Maxim: Question for Harrat Mikli. Tell me, please, are lakes Baikal and Issyk-Kul connected underground?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): If you look at the ocean that I told you about, then all the bodies of water that are under the lithospheric plates are connected through it.

Maxim: Do we have a huge reservoir underground?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Yes. And even deep under the European plain there is.

Maxim: Is this body of water fresh or salty?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Fresh. There's no salt.

Maxim: How much fresh water do we have on Earth then?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Considering that there are many millions of tons of groundwater underground.

Maxim: Maybe billions of tons?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Yes. If we take into account fresh water, there are still glaciers.

Maxim: Okay. For me, of course, it’s a little difficult with this arithmetic, and with alien arithmetic in general...

Irina (answers a question in the chat): No. What does Issyk-Kul have to do with it? He's talking about an underground lake. Issyk-Kul is salty, they write.

That underground, in which there is water, is fresh. They are connected to each other because there are cracks in the bottom through which different bodies of water communicate with each other. But they do not communicate so much that, for example, Issyk-Kul becomes a fresh lake. This is very deep.

Maxim: By the way, we didn’t say that the Earth’s core consists of water.

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Not from the water. It generally consists of different substances, there are many of them.

49:27 Harrat Mikli on mining.

Maxim: Here’s a question: should earthlings stop or limit such intensive extraction of mineral hydrocarbons in order to preserve the integrity and harmony of the Earth?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): In some areas of the Earth that are on the faults (which I talked about), which were formed at the time of the catastrophe 12,000 years ago, there was life there before this war. And then, due to the disaster, a lot of soil fell on these places, and due to the life of bacteria, gas and oil deposits were formed. These are the remains of the organisms that lived then. Near faults there may be the richest deposits due to upheavals of earth layers. There could have been, for example, a volcanic eruption, throwing out earth and filling everything up.

In some places along these faults it is advisable not to produce, much less large quantities of gas and oil. Because pumping water instead of oil does not always help against earthquakes. It can cause earthquakes hundreds of kilometers from where the oil is produced and several years later because it is not transmitted over the ground as quickly. Those. consequences may be delayed.

But even, as I said at the beginning, you are going to extract something, and not just oil or gas. Extraction of solid minerals such as coal, ores of various metals, etc. also introduces violations. This can also be extracted from the ground by certain explosions, but fossils are found in different states. Before organizing this, it is advisable to talk to the Spirit of the area about whether this is possible.

Maxim: Dear friends, I completely forgot that we have another interesting outdoor event of our master Alleya on June 18-19. She will conduct the “Tree of the Pillar”, i.e. Atlanta exhibiting practices. And sign up by phone listed below.

Call Lena, you can get to our masters at our Wellness Center, and you can get to Alleyya. From June 18 to 19, the Pillar Tree practice.

52:13 Harrat Mikli on the impact of pulp and paper mill residues.

Maxim: Let's move on. “Excuse me, please, how negatively do the structures remaining on the shore of Lake Baikal after the pulp and paper mill shut down?”

Irina (Harrat Mikli): There are chemicals there that create a rather aggressive environment (shows corrosive alkali).

But this matters for Baikal during the period when spring comes, the snow melts, the groundwater below rises and dissolves these substances, and then carries it to Baikal. Compared to the rest of the pollution on the shores of Lake Baikal and the ships that sail along it, this is not very significant.

Maxim: I understand. Dear friends! We will talk about the bases in Kazakhstan at the Kazakhstan retreat, and not only at the training, not only at the conference that will be there, but also at the retreat that we have planned.

We will all specially go there by bus, personally through Irina we will come into contact with them and find out what bases are, where they are, who lives in them and much more. We are waiting for you in Kazakhstan!

There is a link below this video.

53:52 Harrat Mikli about downed alien ships at the bottom of reservoirs.

Maxim: “Is it true that at the bottom of some lakes there are alien ships?”

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Those that were shot down by the military actually fell to the bottom of reservoirs, but this was in Karelia. At least the area near Petrozavodsk. Some kind of lake.

If an alien ship falls to the bottom of any body of water, be it the sea, the ocean, the river or the lake, then in any case robots are sent to pull it out piece by piece so that it does not end up with earthly scientists.

The military usually reacts more slowly. While cars arrive there, helicopters arrive, etc., flying saucers will arrive faster and take it apart. This has happened. Rarely, such cases are known in the history of scientific study of the Earth.

Maxim: An interesting question: “How much money do you spend on the project?” Guys, I don't even know. As much as possible, as much as you can help us.

Irina: Is this a question for him?

Maxim: No, this is probably a question for us. Guys, it all depends on what the project is. And we spend everything that is possible, everything that comes to the project as gifts, on the development of the project itself. And our task is to develop this project throughout the planet.

Irina: Maybe he wants to become an accountant for our project?

Maxim: Sponsor. May be.

55:48 Education of Irina Podzorova.

Maxim: Irina, please tell us what your education is.

Irina: I have a school education: 9 classes of day school, 11 classes of evening school. I finished night school because I planned to go to medical school. I first enrolled as a nurse, but didn't even complete a year of training; I left because my mother had health problems - she had a pre-stroke condition.

I returned to her and helped her. Then I went to evening school so that I wouldn't have to become a nurse, because with the 9th grade of education they only accepted to become a nurse. My teachers recommended that I finish night school so that I could become a paramedic. This was already a different education.

And during this year, while I was finishing 11th grade at night school, I met my roommate. He and I got along and started farming, and I never went anywhere else.

57:08 Harrat Mikli about communication between aliens and yetis.

Maxim: Thank you very much! Do extraterrestrial civilizations communicate with yeti on Lake Baikal?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Not only on Baikal. There are no such specialists at our base, because Yeti, as a special type of contactee, needs a trained specialist for communication. For example, they are on Burkhad. Burhad communicates with them the most.

57:34 Harrat Mikli about physical contact with aliens without space flights.

Maxim: Is physical contact possible on Earth without going into Space? Just for friendship, for communication?

Irina (Harrat Mikli): Yes, of course, it is possible. Just physical contact. They will invite you onto the ship, then the person will leave, return and will not visit Space.

57:55 MidgasKaus about curing diabetes.

Maxim: This is an off-topic question. Probably to Meade: “Sorry, off topic. How to trigger the production of natural insulin in children with type 1 diabetes? Meade, can you answer this question? The question is quite relevant.

Irina (MidgasKaus): It is necessary to establish the spiritual reason for the incarnation. If we are talking about children, then these are congenital forms, as you said, type 1 diabetes. You asked about children?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Very often they have congenital forms or acquired in very early childhood. They are usually called "hereditary forms." There are different explanations for the reasons. But before you start the production of insulin, you need to understand that this is a certain hormone that is produced by cells. And they cannot be forced to work simply by desire.

We need to find out why this body was formed this way. And this reason is not only in genetics, but also in a certain experience of the Spirit, which came to incarnate precisely in this body with such a feature of the pancreas.

Next you need to ask your Higher Self. If this is a child under 10 years old, then this can be done by the parents. Talk to his Higher Self with the permission of your Higher Self. First find out the cause, how to eliminate it. Be sure to ask the Higher Self a question: is it possible to restore the functioning of the cells that produce insulin at the physical level?

And if this is possible for this life according to his karmic lessons, according to his karmic knots, then the Higher Self will give the answer. And if not, then you can always ask the following question: how to alleviate the condition as much as possible so that he completes all the lessons in this incarnation?

Because it was not by chance that he was born in this body. This is still work with the Higher Self. It is this Spirit who chose to incarnate in the body that is damaged, if it is an innate form, and also at a time when the medicine of this planet cannot effectively eliminate these disorders.

In the future, there may be a high probability that your doctors will learn to eliminate it using a fairly effective method, but this is not yet the case. There are various transplants, but they are rejected.

Maxim: Thank you very much, Mid.

Yes, guys, we are planning a Center in Krasnodar, but in the very near future we are planning to open a Retreat Center in the Moscow region. Just when we go to Moscow tomorrow with a visiting session of our Wellness Center, I will be traveling and looking for a place for this Center.

Therefore, I am sure that if you have a desire to join the Cassiopeia project and open a Center in your city, we are always waiting for you to study with us in Voronezh.

A wonderful week-long training is taking place in Voronezh, the first stage of contacting. This first stage includes communication with the Higher Self, communication with curators and mentors. Come to us in Voronezh, we will be happy to train you. We transmit spiritual knowledge only on the condition of donation, on the condition of payment according to the heart. And if you are interested in any questions, under this video there is Lena’s phone number, who also records for outdoor events.

You can ask about any questions related to the project. To be honest, we were tired of riding, just exhausted. From move to move. Tomorrow we leave for Moscow. We love everyone! Hello everyone! Türkiye, hang in there guys! I am sure that we will still have great retreats in hot countries!

Therefore, once again thank you very much for your love, support, for your opportunity to organize new Cassiopeia centers! Bye everyone! We love everyone, we kiss you!

Irina: Dear friends! Indeed, time, as always, flew by! As has happened many times before and not in Voronezh, we did a live broadcast. We hope there will be such an opportunity.

Maxim: We will probably have such an opportunity. We will try to come up with some very interesting broadcast from Moscow. Let's do something interesting right in the field!

Irina: We have already been to St. Petersburg.

Maxim: Yes, we were in St. Petersburg. Guys, bye everyone! See you all again! Thank you very much for your support, for your kindness and for everything!

Irina: And I thank everyone for your support! Once again I congratulate you on the three Trinity holidays! And I send everyone the Light of love!

Maxim: That's it, bye everyone!

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Sokolova Irina: Hello, my name is Sokolova Irina. Our topic today is about minerals, about stones.

Irina: And you deal with minerals, right?

Irina Sokolova: Yes, I deal with minerals and jewelry, this topic is very close and interesting to me. There are a number of questions that I would like to ask our friends.

Irina: Okay. Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. And today our curators are present with us: LiShioni from the planet Shimor - a specialist in astral interactions, on the interactions of the astral and physical world, and MidgasKaus from the planet Esler - a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien life forms.

Sokolova Irina: Very nice! I can ask a question, right?

Irina: Yes.

01:25 Energy of natural and artificial minerals.

Irina Sokolova: At Moscow State University there is a museum of geosciences, and minerals grown in space are exhibited there. My question is: is the Spirit born in such stones, and to what extent are artificially grown minerals in space or on Earth resourceful in terms of energy power, that is, are they, like natural stones, suitable for healing, for energy practices?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Greetings, Irina!

Sokolova Irina: Greetings!

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Artificially grown stones in what way? There are many different ones.

Irina Sokolova: I am interested in methods where they are grown in space, in a specially made laboratory, and those grown not on Earth and in space. And I'm interested in precisely grown stones.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Yes, another type of stone, because not every stone can be grown?

Sokolova Irina: Diamonds, quartz crystals: citrines, ametrines, amethysts.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) This is not growing, this is a chemical reaction (shows) - crystallization from solution.

Sokolova Irina: Yes, yes. The crystal lattice is established, that is, the very basic basis of the crystal lattice of the stone that is being grown is launched. And later, say, in space, they change the shapes and even the names of the stones - they are completely different, not similar to those on earth. Therefore, the question is: can the Spirit be born in such stones?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) What do you understand by the word “Spirit” in this case?

Irina Sokolova: It happens that stones are like living things: you energetically feel their glow, warmth or cold, some kind of reaction comes from them. But there are other stones.

Irina: (speaks LiShioni) What do you mean like a stone, like a mineral?

What is a stone or mineral? This is a specific solid substance that consists of chemical elements arranged in a strict order. And due to the crystalline structure of this physical body, it can linger, it can retain, it can collect, it can charge various types of energies, various vibrations, and, among other things, it receives vibrations from those who create it.

Natural stones are created by natural spirits - what we call plasmoids, and you call, for example, gnomes, kobolds, mountain spirits, volcano spirits, that is, these are certain subtle-material entities. And they, creating every stone, every mineral, every crystal (shows crystals), do not create it by chance. Exactly his – the same in color and shape, chemical composition and physical properties. Otherwise all the stones would be the same. Why are they so different? Because different stones contain plasmoids with different properties.

If this is created by man artificially, then plasmoids in this case are limited only to the delivery of elements, primary elements. And then plasmoids of the elements already participate in this, and people collect them, naturally, according to certain chemical and physical laws. They cannot be crossed, for example, take some substance and assemble it from it or grow any stone, any mineral - it must be a certain stone or mineral.

Therefore, grown in an artificial environment, they are less saturated with the energies of plasmoids. And if by the word “Spirit” you mean the word “energy,” then yes, such a stone will contain the energy only of those people who made it. And if they did it at all, treating it as a routine job, then it will not be filled with anything practical.

Irina Sokolova: Thank you, I understand. It all depends on the quality of the energies that are already collected in the grown stone or mineral.

Irina: (LiShioni) And then, if you take this artificial stone or take a natural stone, you can fill it with your energies. But it will be easier to fill a natural stone, because all the distances, so to speak, between atomic structures, between ionic structures are already observed in it: plasmoids know all this. But how people collected, and how much they followed the laws, and how perfect they were in this, and how much this stone will even hold your energy - this is always a matter of chance. It depends on the conditions in which it was created, and who was next to it at that moment, with this artificial stone.

Irina Sokolova: Thank you for this answer.

07:25 Differences in the energies of terrestrial and cosmic objects.

Irina Sokolova: Next question. Rocks that fall to Earth from space, or cosmic dust - can they subsequently become the basic basis for new types of rocks on Earth, that is, enter into some kind of reaction with terrestrial rocks (it’s like crossing) so that a new type of rock is born? And if so, what minerals on our Earth are of this type?

Irina: Do you mean meteorites?

Irina Sokolova: Yes, meteorites or cosmic dust as the basic basis for crossing with earthly minerals.

Irina: (speaks MidgasKaus, as a scientist, biologist) I also studied the geology of planets in the Interstellar Union. The fact is that all those elements that are contained in space are also present on Earth. Moreover, the Earth contains many elements that are not found, for example, on many planets.

On Earth, in general, there is a unique combination of certain elements that form many minerals, many metals, etc., even very rare ones. But, of course, there are planets in the Galaxy on which there is a certain accumulation of those elements that are considered rare on Earth. But the Earth is characterized precisely by the fact that it has a little bit of everything: a little gold, a little tantalum, a little uranium, etc. And there are planets on which, for example, there is no aluminum, but on Earth there is a lot of it, etc. I'm talking about metals. And meteorites can be made of metals, that is, of certain metals, and they have these atoms.

As for minerals specifically, that is, those natural stones that consist of chemical non-metals in various combinations of oxides, sulfides, etc. Firstly, the stone that flies from space carries with it, one might say, energy the charge of another planet or the asteroid from which it broke off. That is, that celestial body that is unearthly, and, therefore, it was created - this asteroid, this meteorite, a stone - it was already created by other plasmoids, not earthly, and they invested their energy into it. Therefore, the meteorite has quite strong cosmic energy. What does cosmic mean? This means that its energies are not characteristic of the Earth and the human aura. The presence of a meteorite nearby sets him up for contacts with space plasmoids.

As for whether this will result in a new rock on Earth... Not that a new rock is like new energies that can stimulate earthly plasmoids to experiment to create some specific new minerals. It may or may not stimulate. It's like new energies. Something arrived, and the terrestrial plasmoids were surprised and began to study it. And they may want to repeat this or do something of their own, or take elements from a space meteorite and transfer them to earthly minerals. That is, this is possible, but it depends on the desire and ability of the plasmoids.

Irina Sokolova: Why did I have such a question? When creating cosmic particles and terrestrial particles, is information about the Cosmos and the Earth simultaneously preserved in their crystal structure during crossing? If terrestrial plasmoids decide to experiment, will they retain the energies, the information from space that they had?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) The energies themselves invested by cosmic plasmoids during the creation of celestial bodies will not go away, they will still be present in these elements, even if particles of this meteorite were included in the structure of some earthly stone, it will simply then be multicomponent.

Sokolova Irina: Thank you!

13:00 Natural and artificial radiation.

Irina Sokolova: There is an opinion that radioactive stones have a bad effect on low-vibration people and, on the contrary, contribute to the development of high-vibration people. Is it really? I want to say right away that by radioactive I mean: since on our planet they like to refine stones, and very often it happens that they are irradiated, and they become radioactive, irradiated. These are stones such as topaz, tourmaline, amethyst, carnelian, some types of diamonds, that is, quite popular stones. To what extent can the fact that they are radioactive affect some for the worse and others for the better? Does it depend on how high or low vibration people are, or is it a myth?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Something else is probably influencing here. Radiation is safe as a dose, that is, a certain amount of energy. You even have, for example, radiation exposure of certain types of food to suppress microbes. But there are no particles of radioactive atoms left there, which can then enter the body and cause the destruction of proteins.

What is radiation? This is the type of energy that has a high penetrating speed and high vibrations, a high frequency of vibration, higher - much higher than that of the human body. The human body, each organ, has a certain vibration frequency, a certain range of vibration frequencies. And if there is a source of strong radiation nearby, then these high vibrations, without entering into resonance with the human body, can destroy it. Not the body itself, but the structural protein molecules that make up cells. And here it already depends on a certain amount of this energy.

There are also many types of this energy and types of radiation. They also differ in vibration. What we call radioactivity is just a general name, and this energy can be more highly vibrational and can be less highly vibrational. This depends on the elements from which this second-level energy was released, from their atoms. In general, radioactivity is present in all atoms, it is at the second level, and its presence allows the atom, one might say, to be active, to enter into various reactions and add and release various energies.

And among other things, this natural radiation exists in the atoms of the body, but it is suppressed there, is in an inactive state due to the stable state of the atom. And if an atom is unstable for any reason - there are natural elements, and there are artificially created ones - then certain energies begin to be released, which enter other atoms and can also disrupt this protection in them, and from which their radiation begins to emerge.

17:23 MidgasKaus about the influence of stones on humans and the method of determining it.

Sokolova Irina: Such a question. When stones have pronounced flaws, for example, chips, cracks, gouges - is it possible to make talismans from such stones? Or do the cracks still bear some imprint of destructive energy?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) What do you mean by “talisman”? Is this a collection of energy?

Sokolova Irina: Yes, for talismans, for energy practices and for healing. Some people are afraid to use stones that have flaws. For some reason, it is believed that they carry some kind of destructive force. The question is, do the flaws themselves, the chips of the stones, affect their quality of energy supply for healing purposes?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) It all depends on whether this crack is natural, a flaw, or acquired later. If it is later, it can disrupt the crystalline lattice that was embedded by the plasmoids, and can lock these energies into stone, and can disrupt their polarity. If, for example, they caused a harmonizing effect on the pancreas, or on the kidneys, or on the liver, they may, on the contrary, cause an imbalance. But this is all individual, you need to look at it. That is, it can, on the contrary, enhance the positive effect.

Sokolova Irina: Can it strengthen it?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes. Take this stone, which you have doubts, in your hands, hold it in your palms, be sure to press it to the center of your palm - in the center of your palm there is an energy center, which is a universal receiver and transmitter of energy and various energies from the surrounding space. And when we hold some object in our hand, we close our eyes. Close your eyes and ask your body or your Higher Self - both the body and the Higher Self can answer you. You can ask your Higher Self: “To what extent is the presence of this stone next to me favorable for me, harmonizing me?” You can ask here.

Irina Sokolova: Thank you, very interesting.

20:00 MidgasKaus about elements with high conductivity.

Sokolova Irina: Such a question. Controlled deformation of the diamond crystal lattice allows it to be made into a conductor with the highest conductivity. Are there stones on Earth that have the same conductivity as diamond, but our scientists have not yet discovered it?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Conductivity of what?

Irina Sokolova: This is technical work, it is used in satellites, in technology.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) For example, not only diamond, but in general all allotropies of carbon are some element that is something between a metal and a non-metal. And due to this average state, it can be a very good conductor, such as silicon, rubidium, germanium. And also a good conductor of various energies is, for example, an alloy of rubidium, platinum and tantalum.

(MidgasCaus shows the molecule) Here in the middle there is a rubidium atom, and on the sides of it there are two tantalum atoms in a triangle, and three platinum atoms in a chain. How a triangle is formed, the letter U. But this is the crystal lattice of this alloy.

22:09 Use of stones by aliens.

Sokolova Irina: Do aliens use similar stones on their planets as conductors, or are they used in a completely different way? Are stones used?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) In some civilizations, for example, on Esler, stones and minerals can be used as conductors of energies, as symbols of memory. For example, they may contain a memory of some event. One humanoid holds in his hands and lays down mental images, and then passes it on as a gift about himself, as a reminder of himself. And the humanoid who took this stone as a gift - he can, being far away, in separation, for example, take it in his hands and feel who was holding it in his hands, come into contact with him, etc.

Irina Sokolova: I hope that this will happen here on Earth too. Exchange of some information, delayed information about a person...

Irina: (MidgasKaus) For example, they use stones such as jade, jasper, turquoise, ruby, corundum, amethyst, transparent rock crystal (shows). What is this purple? Some kind of fluid.

Sokolova Irina: Fluorite.

Irina: Now he’s showing me such a beautiful purple one.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) All these stones can be used in different civilizations together with plasmoids to invest certain energy matrices into them at the astral level in order to stimulate any energy centers, heal diseases, cleanse the astral field, mental field from some kind of negativity . And also to tune in to certain attitudes and thought forms.

Sokolova Irina: Wonderful! Interesting information.

24:50 MidgasKaus about balancing the elements in humans through stones.

Irina Sokolova: Now I'm coming to this point with a question. Any stone is the element of the Earth, in its basic basis, to which other elements are added in those proportions that correspond to a particular rock. And man - he also consists of elements.

And what is my question? Does it mean that in healing, when we use stones, the elements are restored to the standard state or towards the standard state in those organs or in those systems that we heal? That is, do stones help replenish lost energy by balancing the elements from stone to person, or are there other processes involved in healing?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Stone, yes, it is most often, indeed, created precisely by the Spirits of the elements, the Spirits of the Earth, the Spirits of the mountains, and can be created by the Spirits of the area. But sometimes plasmoids of other elements can take part in this, investing in them their energy of water, fire, and air, if they wish. Although this is not their direct work, sometimes they want to help the Earth Spirits do this: to invest in them some of their elemental balancing energy.

Each stone is individual. On Earth they say: "Every stone is a living being." We say a little differently: "Behind every stone there is a living being, and more than one - there is its creator." Just like the author of the painting is behind the painting (you can also treat through paintings, there is picture therapy). Or how the composer is behind the melody.

So a stone, a mineral, is the melody of the Earth, it is the melody of the Spirits of the Earth, it is as if frozen in time and space. But nevertheless, it is an expression of the beauty and Love of the Soul that created it. It's not for nothing that they come in different colors and different shapes. Even stalactites in a cave are created by the spirits of this cave through certain processes: of course, not just with hands (they don't have physical hands) - with energies.

What will balance some element or the ratio of all elements in a person, in his organs, in his etheric matrices, in his etheric energies, in the etheric body - this will depend on what energy the plasmoids and the person himself put in. He can completely change the stone's program and insert his own. Usually the stone is charged quite neutrally in relation to a person, so that he can take it and use it for his own purposes.

But only when you take a stone from nature or when you buy it in a store, be sure to thank the Spirits of the Earth. Go to nature, if you bought this stone in a store - go to a park where tall, large trees grow. Squat down (shows), hold this stone in your left hand, and place your other hand between the roots of a large tree on the ground, close your eyes, listen to your sensations. Spirits of the Earth, gnomes, often live between the roots of a tree. Most likely, it will not be those who created this particular stone, but they feel this stone through you. And if you give them the energy of your Love, they will definitely pass it on to the creators of this stone.

And say: “Dear Spirits of the Earth, I greet you! I thank you and the entire element of the Earth for the mineral you created, which I hold in my hand, and I send you the Light of my Love. I also thank all the plasmoids who took part in this from all worlds and all density levels!” Because it’s not necessarily the Spirits of the Earth, maybe someone else was present there. And you will feel how energy first goes to them through your hand, and then you will feel the response, and they will also charge the stone.

Sokolova Irina: Very interesting practice. I even got goosebumps.

Irina: How did you feel?

Sokolova Irina: You spoke, and I imagined a tree, and how I would do it. And, indeed, very pleasant energy goes into the roots there. And when energy goes from you to the roots, for some reason energy goes from above to the top through the crown throughout your body. I even still get goosebumps!

Irina: Did your plasmoid curators like this information?

Sokolova Irina: Yes, very much, thank you!

Irina: I feel like they are thanking you through you, right?

Irina Sokolova: Yes, thank you very much! Indeed, this is cool, it is very simple, and again, the connection with the Earth can be maintained in this way! Very cool!

31:24 MidgasKaus about yellow stones.

Irina Sokolova: I have a question. There are stones such as heliolite and aventurine - these are sun stones. Does the Sun really influence the energies of these stones, or is it still an image?

Irina: What does the Sun change, don’t you understand? Sun stones, what's the question?

Sokolova Irina: Is it possible, if they are influenced by the Sun, to use them in healing for restoration? They say that sun stones can be used for healing, when there is depression, when there is chronic fatigue - to activate the mood, certain centers.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) In many stones that are yellow and sunny, solar plasmoids can be used to create them. Not in all, but in many. And in this case, it is no coincidence that solar plasmoids, like the Spirits of the Earth, are called the spirits of the Sun - they, figuratively speaking, marry each other to give birth to this stone. This is their common child, and they invest the energy of the Sun and Earth into it. The energy of the Earth makes a person closer to the earth, that is, it allows him to be more practical, to appreciate the material world more, and the Spirits of the Sun create optimism, against depression.

33:24 MidgasKaus about moon rocks.

Sokolova Irina: Thank you. Accordingly, I have another question. There are lunar stones: adularia, belomorite, selenite. The same thing happens with them, just like with the Earth and the Sun, that the Moon connects with it and gives birth to these stones? And such a question. Is it possible to work with such stones with lymph or when the blood is thick to restore the water balance in the body? Precisely moon rocks.

Irina: What kind of blood?

Sokolova Irina: Thick blood.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Moonstones (shows a moonstone). It is no coincidence that moonstone is called lunar, because there are also certain plasmoid civilizations on the Moon. And, as in the case of the Sun, plasmoids of the Moon are used to create moonstone. And they invest in it the energy of calm, hormonal balance and proper functioning of the endocrine glands so that there is no stress; the energy of motherhood, strengthening the maternal or paternal instinct: how to be a parent, feel the child, his needs, his desires.

Because lunar plasmoids love to come to children when they are sleeping and show them the Moon, take them to the Moon in the Astral Plane. And you've probably heard that very song that is sung like a lullaby - that when a child lies down, he will see the Moon in his dream, he will go to the Moon. It was precisely the author of this song, these poems, which later became a song, who himself recalled his childhood, when he flew with the creatures. They are such a white light, small people, made of the same color as moonstone - white, and they are usually the size of a child. They do not appear large to him, so as not to frighten him. And they take him by the hand and fly with him to the Moon, and show them their cities, show how the Earth looks from the Moon.

Sokolova Irina: So then, in principle, as I understand it, moonstones can even be used for children if they sleep restlessly?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Yes. This will attract lunar plasmoids to them, and if for some reason they do not come to it (there are various reasons, maybe due to vibrations it is not particularly suitable for them), but it is the lunar stone that will contribute to their coming and They will come into favorable contact with him and calm him down in his sleep. In a dream, when he goes to the Astral, they will become his friends and show him other worlds.

Sokolova Irina: Interesting and good information, thank you! So many new, interesting, educational things!

37:27 Using the thought form of a stone in healing.

Irina Sokolova: I have a question. Suppose that a person does not have a stone, but he has either seen this stone or has ever come into contact with this stone. Can he use the phantom of this stone, imagine in detail the image of this stone and also use it for healing, for his energy practices, or is it still impossible?

Irina: Yes, he can use a phantom, he can use it like a photo, like a picture: he can look at it, he can pick it up and imagine that it is a real stone. And the energy will be partially transferred, but this will depend on his strength and ability to visualize. And in any case, then his energies will still be present in this thought form, because he will create it. And he can ask his curators, especially if these are plasmoid civilizations, to come and strengthen the thought form of this stone for him, and then it will become more dense. He can represent this stone even if he physically has it. But still, to enhance the effect, he can imagine this stone inside the body, in the projection of some organ, and the thought form will move there.

Irina Sokolova: Thank you, interesting.

39:09 Astral projections and perception in the Astral.

Irina Sokolova: That's the question then. If, suppose, a person was in a place where there is a cave, a lot of stones, in the mountains or in a museum where exactly a lot of stones are collected - and it's very nice, comfortable, cozy there, something is happening - can he transfer his phantom to that place? Transfer to that place in order to receive the charge that you received, perhaps, from this place?

Irina: Yes, he can move his phantom, his astral body to any place, only he will move it not to the physical world, but to an astral projection.

Any physical place that exists in the physical world has an astral projection. Astral projection consists of thought forms about that place. If he himself was physically there, then his thought forms will take precedence. That is why, if a person goes to the Astral or sends a phantom and goes to a place familiar to him from physical visits, then he sees almost the same thing, with slight differences, as in the physical world.

But if he has not physically been there, but goes there in the Astral, or sends his phantom to the Astral and then reads information from the phantom, then he does not have his own thought forms about this physical place (he was not there). This means that he will only perceive the thought forms of the people who were there. And moreover, he will perceive the thought forms that are priority for him (there could be a lot of people there). His priority will be the thought forms of people close to him in vibration.

We call this “perception through an egregor.” Because even three thoughts of people on the same topic are already combined into such a three-part thought form - already a mini egregor. And if there were a lot of people there, then, accordingly, everyone had their own ideas: one saw it, another saw it. And the person will see with priority, that is, those close to him in vibration, what this place looks like.

A person can, for example, stand in this place and imagine something. For example, he can stand in a cave and imagine that it looks somehow different. And a person who flew to the Astral, but was not physically there himself, will then see its mental projection.

But in any case, plasmoids also go to the Astral. Astral space is superimposed on all plasmoid worlds in the same way as on the physical one, and permeates it. Therefore, all plasmoids have access to the Astral, just like people, and accordingly they can come into contact with this person there, in the Astral.

Sokolova Irina: Thank you.

42:43 Practice with stones to restore the blood formula.

Sokolova Irina: Such a question. To cleanse the circulatory system, can you use pomegranate or is it better to use ruby?

Irina: (LiShioni) Ruby and hematite. Better is ruby, hematite, garnet, but only red, (LiScioni shows) dark red - like droplets of blood. (LiScioni continues) A good pomegranate for restoring the blood formula will be shaped like a heart. In any case, something round, without sharp corners, or like a drop - it will resemble a drop of blood. And the color is like that of dry red wine that was poured into a glass (aka dark, dark red).

Hematite, ruby, red garnet, there are also red topazes - they can also be used, these energies are also invested in them.

To cleanse the etheric matrices of blood cells and to stimulate them, it is better to first hold it like this (shows: in the palms), thank the plasmoids who created this stone, send them the Light of your Love. Then you can call on the curators, and charge it together with them: mentally watch it so that it lights up in your hands. We call this “activate”. And then apply it to the heart chakra, approximately here (shows), because the heart is the central organ of blood circulation. And you will feel the waves in your body.

Such a session should not last longer than ten minutes to avoid depleting the energy reserves of the stone and excessive stimulation of the etheric matrices of blood cells. And be sure to thank him after you use it.

You sit with your eyes closed for no more than ten minutes, feel these waves, relax and mentally help them pass, as if pushing them to the tips of your fingers, to your feet, so that this energy spreads everywhere. Then open your eyes and be sure to thank your curator for your help, the creators of this stone. You can contact him directly, it will still go to the plasmoids. Imagine that a ray of Love comes from your heart, passes through this stone and becomes wider (the stone acts like a lens). Thank them for their help.

And in order to cleanse it of the negative etheric energy that could enter it, it is advisable to hold it under running water for the same amount of time as you held it. And if you do not keep it in running water, but simply in a glass, then twice as much. Then, naturally, this water must be poured - it also takes on the charge of any energies - into a place where they cannot drink it, and say: “I send this energy to the earth’s plasmoids for processing and increasing the fertility of the earth.”

Irina Sokolova: Thank you, this is again very interesting.

Irina: Yes, they love practicing with stones.

Irina Sokolova: Yes, the practices are very interesting.

47:32 Various causes of thrombosis.

Irina Sokolova: I have the following question. It is associated with combination. If we take it not separately, but if we combine, say, hematite and ruby, is it possible to purposefully direct this energy in order to remove blood clots?

Irina: (LiShioni) This is already a physical action. There it is necessary to find out why it was formed and act on the cause. Stones can only be used to support and contribute to the maintenance of the etheric body. But there are simply different reasons. If the physical reason is serious, then something physical needs to be applied.

Sokolova Irina: Yes, I understand that it’s physical. But why did I think hematite and ruby. Because when there are blood clots - as I understand it - there is a blockage of the channels. And hematite can help to distribute them correctly, that is, to open them, as it were.

Irina: (LiShioni) Blood clots in blood vessels - this could be a defensive reaction to something. Maybe you don't have enough iron in your body, for example. Maybe there are some internal microbleeds (you don’t notice them) in the stomach, in the intestines. And blood clots begin to form: so that there is no blood loss. But they end up somewhere else.

There are various causes of thrombosis. Maybe you don't drink enough fluids, and this makes your blood thick, because toxins come out through the kidneys and through the skin, and what remains is thick blood - the hematocrit. Maybe this is acidosis - acidification of the body from certain microbes, of which there are many from infections in the body, from parasites. And they inject acidic metabolic products into the blood, but the liver cannot cope, and this causes red blood cells to stick together. That is, when doctors say: “increased ESR.”

Meade will tell us this.

50:08 Minerals for energy practices.

Irina Sokolova: Can they tell you which minerals are best to use to discover your potential and abilities - specifically for energy practices?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Amethyst, fluorite, moonstone, rock crystal (shows a pyramid of it), turquoise, but it is more suitable for feminine energy, it can overly calm a man, making him less active if used too often.

In general, contact with the Higher Self and with curators, and energy vision are well stimulated by stones of purple, white, transparent like water, and (shows) sapphire, turquoise - blue, but closer to blue. They should be a rich blue color, like blue (blue is the color of the third eye).

51:48 Minerals and the state of Enlightenment.

Sokolova Irina: Is it true that amethyst is considered a bishop’s stone? There is a belief that the first stone that church ministers allowed themselves as decoration was amethyst. And that’s why they began to call it the bishop’s stone.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Amethyst was called the bishop's stone because it stimulates the seventh chakra. It is purple. And fluorite, by the way, is also very similar in properties. But it is larger - through contacts with cosmic plasmoids, plasmoids of Kryon, that is, the Earth’s magnetosphere, also participate in its production, and some stellar plasmoids can come.

And amethyst is more of an earthly plasmoid, but they directed energy specifically to stimulate the spiritual channel and to open the seventh chakra, the seventh energy center. (LiScioni shows) A completely open seventh energy center makes contact with the Higher Self very easy: a person constantly feels it, is constantly in contact with it and looks at everything through the eyes of the Spirit. As you call it on earth, the state of Enlightenment. Only this is not such direct delight-delight as ecstasy, but calm Enlightenment.

Irina Sokolova: For people who are contactees, crystal is still more suitable.

Irina: Yes, it does. And pearls are also suitable because they are white, but water plasmoids also take part in their creation, especially natural pearls.

54:04 The practice of transferring family jewelry to other people.

Sokolova Irina: After death, jewelry passed on by inheritance - they bring good luck and protection. And if the jewelry is sold, will this cause any damage to the heir? Because many are afraid to give away jewelry, leave it at home and don't know what to do with it. There is such an opinion.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Before you sell or give away a stone that has been inherited by you, thank those plasmoids who, perhaps, supported its energies for several generations. It can also be passed down through the family - the so-called family jewel, that is, family treasure. And thank the plasmoid beings and those spiritual beings who created this stone and who for a long time supported the energy of your kind through this stone. Send them the Light of your Love. Hold it and send light in the form of a beam, and imagine that it enters the stone and expands behind the stone, like a lens. This is a universal way to thank plasmoids.

What is the energy of gratitude? It is very important because it is one of the forms of the energy of Love, one of the manifestations of the energy of Love, which is the nourishment and life force for light plasmoids, which then, in their gratitude, bring protection, healing, Love and their Light, the Light of their Souls. This is a favorable exchange of energies with plasmoids.

And after you have thanked, say mentally: “The circumstances of this life have led me to the point that I need to pass on this creation of yours, your beautiful creation to other people. I ask you to accept these people with Light and Love and interact harmoniously with their energy.” Usually, if you send Light and Love, they will agree and will be grateful to then serve other owners with their Love.

Sokolova Irina: This is probably the best option - when she and Lyubov serve others, rather than just lying in the closet?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) It's up to you to decide again. You, as the owner of the stone, decide anyway. Maybe you decide to keep it for your children or give it to someone, or something else, or you can sell it. It's up to you to decide.

Sokolova Irina: Thank you.

57:35 Differences in information between humanoids and plasmoids.

Irina Sokolova: Last question. In order to receive information on how to work with stones specifically in the direction of healing for organs, for human systems, it is better to tune in through the Higher Self to curators, with your curators, or go to plasmoids, to plasmoid worlds that can give answers, what use stones?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Yes, we could also invite plasmoid civilizations, but we decided to give answers precisely from the point of view of the Interstellar Union. Because we believe that this information is interesting to people: how we use contact with plasmoids, and how you can do it. But the same information could be given to you by plasmoid civilizations. But they would give their terminology, perhaps through their worldview. We are more scientists, and they would perhaps speak more in images.

To get information about any stone, it will be enough, yes, to invite your curator. You have curators - these are very kind, wise, old plasmoids. You can invite them, you can also ask your Guardian Angel about this.

Irina: Yes, I see a girl, she has already told me her name several times. For some reason Anna. Your Guardian's name is Anna. Interesting.

You now have two plasmoids, one shows the forest. Spirit of the forest. And the second shows a huge mountain, like some kind of volcano: “She can call me Vulcan. You can contact me."

Sokolova Irina: Thank you.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) But in order to get the correct answer from the plasmoid, you must first turn to the Higher Self and ask in your own words to set up contact. Then be sure to thank the plasmoid, send him the Light of Love, and then ask. After the conversation, also thank. Answers come in the form of words-thoughts or images-thoughts.

01:00:58 Healing as understood by representatives of the Interstellar Union.

Sokolova Irina: On other planets do they even do healing through stones?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Yes, but this is rather not the same as healing. We understand healing not as the treatment of specific diseases, but as wholeness, restoration and maintenance of the integrity of one’s being - as the union of body, soul and spirit. That is, there is no neglect of either the spirit or the body. These are all equal parts for our development.

Sokolova Irina: Do they teach mineralogy in schools there?

Irina: (MidgasCaus) Mineralogy? In schools they teach within the framework of, in your opinion, Natural History. They talk about the planet, what the structure of the planet is, what minerals are there. They say that they are created by plasmoids, what their use may be. But this is all in short form. The most information is received, of course, in families - from parents, from certain of our traditions of communication with plasmoids. But if anyone wants to study this issue more deeply, there are special scientific educational institutions where they only talk about this.

Sokolova Irina: Thank you! Thank you! I thank your curators, MidgasKausa! A very pleasant, very interesting, powerful energy was flowing. It even seemed to me that they came here periodically, because there were such interesting vibrations. I thank you for the interesting practices, for the fact that they are really very simple. And as far as I was able to experience one of the practices now, it is very accessible, that is, even through thought forms you can enter these dimensions. Thank you Irina: Thank you, dear friends! Thank you, Irina, for the interesting questions! Dear friends, thank you for watching this video! Try these practices for yourself. Be sure to write in the comments what you feel, what do you think about it? Perhaps you can offer something of your own. Together, sharing our opinions, we will move towards the Light of Truth, which lies in Unconditional Love for all forms of life, both for ourselves and for God, who created this material world for us, just as a loving Father creates conditions for the development of his children. So, dear friends, thank you for being with us, I send you the Light of my Love! See you again!

00:00 Start of video.

00:09 Greetings. Cassiopeia News.

Julia: Hello, friends! The “Cassiopeia” Project and the “Higher Self. Practice” telegram channel are with you. My name is Yulia Zinnurova. Today is April 21, 2023, and we have good news.

Right now they are in training camp, and some are on the way - students of the second stage of the second stream of the school of contactees. And our Higher Self masters also go to Voronezh for this training - to improve their skills, so to speak. We are really looking forward to their upgrade and return with new knowledge and new energies. For those who have not yet attended sessions of merging with the Higher Self, who have been thinking and putting off, I highly recommend making an appointment with these masters on dates after their arrival in order to be the first to feel the purity of the conductivity of their energies.

01:08 “Cassiopeia. Codes". Introduction of the project creator.

Julia: And today we have a guest broadcast. It's called Cassiopeia. Codes and the Higher Self." I know that we have part of the general audience, but there may be those who do not know what it is. “Cassiopeia. Codes" is one of the areas of our large structure. I am a volunteer of the Project, and I have, one might say, a colleague, his name is Dmitry Ryabov. He is also a volunteer, we are such working bees.

Dmitry’s story unfolded literally before my eyes, and it fascinates me. This is an example of how you can reveal your inner world through contact with your Higher Self. Therefore, we invited him on the air today so that Dmitry could tell first-hand how through contact with his Higher Self he came to fulfill his life’s task. Also, Dmitry and I share the same time zone. I’m talking to you from Ufa, and Dmitry is connecting from Orenburg. So, I give the floor to Dmitry. He is a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations and the founder of the Cassiopeia project. Codes". Dmitry, hello!

Dmitry: Julia, hello! Dear friends, I greet you all! I thank Yulia for the invitation to take part in the live broadcast. I’ll say right away that this is my first live video broadcast. I went on air with subscribers of the Cassiopeia channel. Codes" in audio format, we provided answers to their questions. In principle, I’m used to the audio format, but the video format is a new experience for me. Therefore, I ask: do not judge strictly, but I really thank everyone who joined the broadcast - both subscribers of the Cassiopeia Project, and subscribers of the Higher Self. Practice channel, as well as subscribers of our Cassiopeia project. Codes". And we have a new direction - a weight loss marathon through personal codes, and we also invited participants from there. I greet you all from the bottom of my heart!

Julia: Yes. I remind you that if you have questions about the topic of the broadcast, please do not hesitate to write them in the chat. If someone wrote a question to Dmitry in the chat, please duplicate it here, we will read it.

03:26 Dmitry about his path to the Cassiopeia Project.

Julia: But for now, Dmitry, tell your story. How did you come up with this idea? How did your transformation begin?

Dmitry: Yes, come on, friends, I’ll briefly tell you about who I am, how my worldview developed in terms of spirituality before the Cassiopeia Project, and what changed after I found this Project on the Internet.

So, Dmitry Ryabov, age 43, was born and lives in Orenburg. I can say that before the Cassiopeia Project, I was probably a simple average person, not particularly different from the mass of other people. In general, I had a very interesting attitude towards esotericism: it seemed to me that the word “esotericism” is a synonym for the word “sect”, so I tried not to touch on this topic at all, somehow avoided it.

He believed in God. I am a baptized, Orthodox Christian, but I believed in God on a consumer basis, because I turned to Him only when I had problems and needed help. That is, I began to pray only before exams, or when there were some serious difficulties or problems. Then he remembered some prayers, for example, “Our Father”, others, and began to pray - as if partly from the prayer, partly in his own words. And, in essence, I asked God: “Lord, help me! Lord, give it to me! That is, without much gratitude, without much understanding of all these processes.

And since childhood, I have generally had a very good attitude towards the topic of ufology; I have always been attracted by all sorts of unidentified phenomena in the sky. I sometimes saw some unusual objects, always raised my eyes to the sky, always hoped, believed that there, somewhere far away, intelligent beings live, and they are not as evil as Hollywood shows us. In Hollywood blockbusters, mostly, if they are fantastic, the plot is structured in such a way that extraterrestrial civilizations fly to the planet with the aim of capturing and enslaving. But I always hoped and believed that we are not the only intelligent beings in the Universe, and that these beings will be friendly to us if they come to contact.

I had such an unusual case when I was 12 years old. This was my first contact with extraterrestrial civilizations, it took place in the Astral, but I did not know what it was, why, how, or what it happened. In fact, all my years - until I was 40 - I did not know what it was, and it seemed to me that a poltergeist was just attacking me for three nights with the goal of strangling me. My body simply became immobilized, I could neither speak nor move, and I felt the presence of some entity. It seemed to me that she jumped on me and was trying to strangle me. What it turned out to be, I’ll tell you a little later, when I get to the moment of meeting “Cassiopeia” - the change, the transformation of my worldview.

Some kind of spiritual manifestation was a bit of a gift of clairvoyance: sometimes I had prophetic dreams where I predicted the future for people and provided some information. Also, before Cassiopeia, I had an unconscious or semi-conscious feeling that I was a conductor of some energies. That is, I began to notice in the process of my life that people, when communicating with me, find their happiness, become happy: some find husbands, wives, some give birth to children who could not give birth. I began to consider myself a guide, I thought that it was my destiny, the Universe gives people who need help, and after communicating with me, the Universe or some Higher powers transfer some energies, and thanks to this people become happy.

I also had a very unusual case and experience. My life came at one fine moment, somewhere around the age of thirty-three, to such a brink that life's difficulties led me to thoughts and even attempts to leave this world ahead of schedule. Even then I didn't know that this was not a way out of the situation, that it did not solve the problem, but only aggravated it, but I began to try, and one of the attempts was almost crowned with success. That is, I had a small coma, about a total of an hour and a half, when the ambulance pumped me out, and in that world I visited with one hand, so to speak, and one foot.

That is, I saw myself from the outside, I saw my body, my Soul, how it leaves the body, and I experienced all the sensations of transition that are described more than once in books, in some scientific programs, when people tell their feelings. Life flashed before my eyes, I said goodbye to everyone there, and then only Love remained inside me, and it was as unconditional as bliss. And after this incident, I realized that the Guardian Angels or some Higher powers left me here on this planet, which means I am needed for something else.

After this incident, when I managed to return from there, I had mental contact with the Spiritual world, which lasted about a year and a half. I simply lived like an ordinary person, but with my eyes open I saw, as it were, dreams - such pictures about the structure of the Universe, about God, about Love, about the arrival of some Higher powers or alien creatures on our planet, about the creation of people. I started sharing this information with people, talking about God, Love and some spiritual things. But people didn't understand me. They twisted their finger at my temple, thought that I had joined some kind of sect, and asked what books I had read, what kind of Love was I talking about, what God?

It was, of course, difficult to communicate with people in a new way, in a new format of consciousness, which was beginning to emerge in me even before the Cassiopeia Project. And in principle, I probably would have wandered for a long time through the vastness of the Internet, through the vastness of some esoteric projects. Sometimes on YouTube I came across some kind of contactee videos, channelings, when sleeper contactees transmitted information through themselves, from curators, from some extraterrestrial civilizations.

10:50 Dmitry's acquaintance with the Cassiopeia Project.

Dmitry: In principle, I really liked it. But this information came across rarely, I studied it like this, periodically, from time to time, studied it - then abandoned it. Until one day, on the Internet, I came across a piece of a conference with Irina Podzorova, and I was so interested in this fragment that I went into the comments and saw rave reviews there. That this Irina Podzorova is a cool contactee, that she has a lot of videos on her channel, and some unknown force pulled me to go on a search and find the channel "Cassiopeia. Irina Podzorova." And since then it's been about three, three and a half years since I began immersing myself in information from the Cassiopeia Project.

What did I get? I received all the answers to my questions that had accumulated inside me throughout my life, and answers that, in principle, no one else had given me. I understood and realized that intuition, it turns out, is not just some quality of ours, but a part of our Spirit that is not embodied in the body. This is our so-called Higher Self, which is located in the Spiritual world, remembers all incarnations, remembers life in the Spiritual world and can communicate with us as with our best friend, and give answers to all questions, give advice, and transmit information from curators.

For me, it was a very big discovery from the Cassiopeia channel that aliens exist - this, firstly, and that they are kind. This made me very happy. And I was very surprised that we and the aliens have one God. Previously, before Cassiopeia, I thought that our world was created by our God, and aliens, if they exist, have their own God somewhere out there, far away. But when I found out that we have one God, we are all children of one God, we are all spiritual brothers, I simply rejoiced and rejoiced. For me, it was a revolution and a transformation so strong that I immediately began to remember some remnants, echoes, sensations - they began to emerge through the Higher Self - that I had been incarnated many times in other worlds, that all this was close to me.

My attitude towards the church, towards religion has changed. Before the Cassiopeia Project, as a believer, I considered myself a member of the Orthodox Church, but for some reason it was difficult for me to go to churches. I just thought that temples and religion were structured a little differently, and due to the lack of knowledge, the heaviness of being in these holy places appeared. But when I actually found out how earthly religions were created, how it all works, how egregors work, where Jesus Christ is now, and what mission he is fulfilling... When I learned all this, I was so imbued with Love and respect for the church, that now I come to church and feel at home, as if I had entered my own home. I feel all the flows, all the energies, and I accept it all correctly.

14:16 Volunteering and administration of Dmitry in the Cassiopeia Project.

Julia: Dmitry!

Dmitry: Yes, yes.

Julia: So you met the Cassiopeia Project, and what was your next step? In general, how did you become a volunteer and when did you go to study for the Higher Self?

Dmitry: When I found the Cassiopeia Project, I simply turned on Irina's first video and began to absorb all these videos with my mouth open and my eyes wide open. In about a month and a half, I watched about 200 videos at high speed (there were about 180 of them at that time, approximately). I ran around with my eyes wide open, telling my wife, friends, and acquaintances. It's good that my wife supported me.

This, by the way, is actually a very big problem - when a husband and wife do not support each other in some areas of spirituality and esotericism. I was lucky in this regard. My wife is on the same wavelength, and she is also studying this Project and, in principle, supports me in everything.

As soon as this information began to reach me, I immediately, without hesitation, decided that I should become a volunteer for the Cassiopeia Project. I started looking for ways to get there, inside, not just to study information, but to help this Project develop.

Yulia: As I understand correctly, you combined volunteering with regular work?

Dmitry: I still combine volunteering with regular work. I am currently working as a technological compressor operator at a gas processing plant - a difficult, complex, harmful, dangerous work profession. Despite the fact that I have two higher educations and worked as a leading engineer, but now, by the will of fate, I have been at this plant for the 11th year. And by some miracle it was possible to combine it with participation in the Project. But I know that it was the curators who brought me to the Project and gave me a lot of strength.

Julia: This is surprising, because I know that you have a large amount of work on the Project. And before that, you did a lot of work, but now, with the advent of this direction, I don't even know how many hours you have in a day.

Dmitry: As soon as I became a volunteer, I immediately had a desire to become an administrator of some independent areas. I began to launch small social networks, create profiles, and try to promote them somehow. Then, as if also by chance, I was offered to help organize the exam for the "School of Contactees." And as soon as the first streams of the School began to launch, I immediately decided that I would definitely choose the time and go to study there. Because really, the curators guided me, there just wasn't even any doubt.

So, by the will of fate, I became an exam administrator for the "School of Contactees." This gave me a very in-depth study of the information from the Cassiopeia Project and gave me experience working with people, with candidates for the School.

And then, before studying at the “School of Contactees,” I also took an online course on astral travel. In this course I found out who came to me at the age of 12. This, as it turned out, was the Shimor civilization; it was its attempt at astral contact. It’s just that my child’s body was so afraid of this that fear blocked contact, and the Shimor civilization was unable to communicate with me. But after unsuccessful attempts to contact me three times, the Shimorians did not leave forever, but left mental contact. That is why I have been their guide all my life, and they have guided me all my life and helped me in everything.

Julia: I’ll put in a remark. You know, friends, in fact, the curators of the Cassiopeia Project - Shimor, Esler, Burkhad - and those who are also their colleagues and are in contact with earthlings, literally all of them gather all their contactees into the Cassiopeia Project in order to establish contact. People come to tune in with their Higher Self, and it turns out that their supervisors are from Esler, for example. It’s just that the Eslerites, already knowing that “Cassiopeia” exists, establish contact with the curators, bring everyone to these sessions in order to harmonize contacts. And Dmitry, most likely, was also brought to the Cassiopeia Project in the same way, perhaps through LiShioni, to set up a contact.

Dmitry: They led very, directly consistently - step by step.

18:38 Dmitry about his first access to the Higher Self.

Dmitry: The experience of accessing the Higher Self for the first time was interesting.

In the Cassiopeia Project, one of the first things I learned was that the Higher Self exists, there are masters who, having trained in the first streams of the “School of Contactees,” can lead people to the Higher Self if people have problems with this communication I tried practices on my own, tried to contact the Higher Self, but there was also uncertainty that this was actually the Higher Self. There were some doubts, there was some uncertainty: maybe I hear, maybe I don’t hear.

I learned in “Cassiopeia” that you need to choose a master for the first session with the Higher Self with your heart. I opened the masters page many times and didn't understand how I could choose with my heart. I looked at the profiles of guides to the Higher Self, but for some reason my heart didn't tell me anything special. To be honest, I was at a loss - I knew that for the first session with the Higher Self, like on a first date, you definitely need to choose your master with your heart, so that he leads you well, so that the connection takes place, so that you don't get disappointed in all this .

But here, again, fate turned out in such a way that I helped recruit one of the first streams, in my opinion, it was the third stream of the "School of Contactees", and there two people refused to study, and it was urgently necessary to select two candidates. And I just had two girls from Voronezh in touch, and one of them was Natalya. I quickly helped these girls get into the "School of Contactees," and after training, Natalya, whom I helped, said: "Dmitry, you can't imagine: the Higher Self is so cool! I am so grateful to you that you helped me get into the "School of Contactees", that let me take you to the Higher Self to see what it is all about. This is simply fantastic!"

My heart said: "This is the person who will take you to the Higher Self! Do it - have your first session with him!" And we had our first session with this Natalya. It was something with something! There were tears, flows of energy, there I received answers to questions, dissolved one block, which, it turns out, had been there since childhood. I didn't even know that he was kind of tormenting me and hindering my spiritual development. And after the first session, I found out who my curator is from the Spiritual world, what the name of my Spirit is, his spiritual name, I learned the purpose of my incarnation. And after all this, some deep processes of transformation began to be launched.

21:20 Dmitry about his contact with Archangel Metatron.

Julia: After you established contact with the Higher Self, did you practice on your own, did you try to communicate with it consciously? Did it work out for you?

Dmitry: After the first session took place, the master told me that it is necessary to carry out the practice until contact with the Higher Self becomes so conscious and regular that I can simply, at will, at any time, go out to my disembodied part and receive answers to any questions. I will honestly say that I did not practice communicating with the Higher Self every day and regularly, to sit down and leave using this method, which was how I was led out.

It seemed to me that it was difficult, it was energy-consuming, time-consuming. But the processes started so well that through this contact I not only began to receive answers from the Higher Self itself, but also from Archangel Metatron - this is my curator from the Spiritual world, whom I learned about at the session. I immediately began to hear him and understood how the insights and flows of energy of this spiritual curator differed from the voice of the Higher Self. And then I began to understand that a person, in addition to a connection with the Higher Self himself, can have a connection with Guardian Angels and curators who guide and help us through life. It was a fantastic experience! Archangel Metatron took me by the hand into the Astral and showed me how energies work. Of course, he gave me a lot.

Julia: It turns out that you found out the task of your incarnation? It was already clear to you, there were already hints that your activities would somehow be connected with numbers?

Dmitry: The Higher Self told me that my main goal of incarnation is to work on myself and help people. When I heard this, I realized that I had been working on myself all my life - improving myself, getting an education, trying different types of work, all my life struggling with bad habits - always striving somewhere upward.

That is, I worked on myself, but I rarely helped people, I simply felt that fate was giving me some person, I was working with him, communicating with him. I just didn’t know then what insights were, and I didn’t give people such large, long, heartfelt messages as I do now, and when I read them myself, I understand that it’s not me writing, but some Higher powers. And then I had no idea that I could even say such a thing.

Julia: I confirm. We turned to Dmitry for help writing announcements, and Dmitry was really good at it. This was a lifesaver for writing some advertisements.

Dmitry: And then, when I learned about Archangel Metatron, a curator from the Spiritual World, I began to receive insights from him, and pass these insights on to people. That is, helping people has already begun to become more widespread, people began to come to me more and more often, and helping them began to become more effective, deeper in some way. I began to give specific, clear answers to questions, some tips, some steps.

24:54 Dmitry about the transition to numerology.

Dmitry: About numerology. Before studying at Cassiopeia, I had nothing to do with numerology at all, and moreover, I thought that horoscopes and calculations were some kind of nonsense. In general, I did not believe them and did not belong to this area of esoteric and spiritual knowledge. But everything changed after studying at the School of Contactees.

Before studying, the Shimor civilization - those four Shimorians who came to contact at the age of 12 - came to me for mental contact and gave me clear instructions. They said that I needed to go to the “School of Contactees” and be sure to install the Burkhad matrix there, since my Higher Self consents to the installation of this energy-informational artifact inside. And they said that after training, after unpacking the matrix, unpacking inside me this invaluable knowledge that is received at the “School of Contactees”, after setting up all contacts, I will be given further instructions.

Then my studies at the “School of Contactees” ended. In addition to the Burkhad matrix, one of the phantoms of Jesus Christ and the phantom of the Virgin Mary personally worked with me; they personally installed an etheric copy of the Ray of Christ Consciousness for me. And thanks to these artifacts, when they were unpacked, established, when all this took root in me, life became more conscious, somehow deep, rich, bright. I began to give people answers to any questions about spiritual development - with insights, generally very deep answers.

And at one time I began to worry, where were the instructions that the Shimorsky curators were talking about - the instructions that I would receive after training? And they also arrived suddenly.

About two months after the training, a sudden craving and thought came into my head, how numerological calculations generally work. I began to consciously talk about calculating the spiritual level, I even took a pencil and a piece of paper and tried to derive the formula for this calculation.

And then one of the students from our stream, Lyubov, approached me. She said: “Dmitry, I have developed a system for calculating a personal code. Look what this system is.” When I looked at her system, I basically liked it. I said: “Lyuba, why don’t you want to take this project and bring it to mind, harmonize it with the Cassiopeia Project?” To which Lyubov answered me: “No, it’s not mine. If you want, take it yourself. I won’t do this.” I tried her system on myself, but for some reason it didn’t work for me, for some reason I didn’t like it.

I tried to figure out how it works, tried to calculate these formulas, and some kind of dissonance occurred within me. And suddenly a voice - as if a voice from the curators - asked me: “Do you want your own numerological calculation system?” I said: “Yes, of course I want to!” And from that moment, through automatic writing - my hand literally grabbed a pen, a pack of paper, and I began to write down - the curators began to transmit algorithms for the numerological system for calculating personal codes. That is, last name, first name, patronymic, date of birth - they explained to me on their fingers how to translate this into personal codes, and what capabilities these personal codes have.

I wrote these drafts and threw them away. Just as Lyuba, my colleague, said: “No, this is not mine, I won’t do it,” - in the same way, I, since I was not a numerologist, was not a specialist in this field. I looked at the drafts, walked around them somehow and threw them away.

But the head of our common Cassiopeia Project, Maxim Rusan, always tells all admins, all volunteers that he wants everyone to launch, organize or take on their own project and harmonize it with the Cassiopeia Project. And Maxim always said to me: “Dim, how are things going with your projects? What are you doing, what are your thoughts, ideas? To be honest, I completely forgot about this calculation, which was handed over to me for drafts. Then, at one fine moment, I remembered and said: “Max, I have a project, the curators gave me this system for calculating personal codes. Let me show you."

And so Maxim and I got in touch, he looked at this system, he really liked it. He ordered to urgently contact Irina Podzorova, and through her, through the curators, check this system, and, if everything is in order, begin to develop it in its entirety and launch it to the masses.

Irina Podzorova is for me a contactor of the highest category. That is, due to the chips and due to physical contacts, due to the fact that she has been doing this since childhood, the purity of transmission and the degree of quality of information transmission are so high that this is simply the standard of contacting, from my point of view!

Irina Podzorova, when she read these drafts, thanked for the purity of contact and transmission of information and said that the curators, having checked these records, reported that this is one of the systems of numerological calculations of the Interstellar Union, which its civilizations actively use and study them widely since school. Everyone there, upon leaving school, receives several similar calculations and books with their descriptions, and according to their desires, according to their capabilities, puts all this into practice.

Irina said that the curators added very interesting points to this system on their own. It’s not just what they added, they said: “This is how we see the whole thing, look, please.” I received all this from Irina, looked at it, and it all harmoniously entered into the overall system. That is, in fact, the system was not compiled by one person. Maxim always says that this is a project that was implemented by a group of contactees: me, Irina Podzorova, Maxim Rusan (these people are great contactees, with a capital “G”), my spiritual teachers and mentors, plus curators who passed on this entire system. They are also contactees.

Several types of curators participated in the transfer of this information: these are the Spiritual World, humanoid civilizations, and plasmoid civilizations that supervise Reiki from the Pleiades. That is, in addition to the fact that the system of personal codes shows a person the tasks of spiritual growth, by performing which we realize the goals and objectives of our incarnation, it also gives each person the energy to complete these tasks - the opportunity to activate the connection with the Higher Self, to participate in self-healing, self-diagnosis , activation of chakras. That is, the system is very rich.

Julia: Dmitry, can I add?

Dmitry: Yes.

Yulia: I was actually waiting for such information on codes to appear. Since I work with texts in the Cassiopeia Project, I made a publication about the Kalachakra codes, and I remember this paragraph very well, and I now found it and read it: “Kalachakra added that each embodied Spirit has individual numerical codes of internal spiritual energy processes. Using them, you can significantly enhance the positive qualities of a person and successfully combat negative manifestations. This is possible by increasing the amount of energy in positive psychological processes and decreasing it in negative ones.” And so they finally manifested themselves through Dmitry’s project, and I saw that you really can regulate manifestations through codes.

33:29 Curators of the project “Cassiopeia. Codes".

Dmitry: In general, after the project was launched, and this happened literally about a month ago, I watched one of Irina Podzorova’s broadcasts with one of the Spirits. And Irina always names before the broadcast who is nearby now, who is in contact, what Spirit has come. I then said to my Higher Self directly out loud: “Higher Self, please tell me who are my personal curators now, at the moment, and the curators of this project “Cassiopeia. Codes"? And again, I just took paper, a pen, in my opinion, or a gadget, took out my phone, and wrote it down in a notepad. And the Higher Self dictated to me who the curators of this project are at the moment, who transmits what energies, and how they affect each person.

One of the curators of this topic was one of the Kalachakra phantoms. That is, Spirits of high orders can create their own phantoms, and each phantom has consciousness and is endowed with the functions of performing special tasks. In fact, the curators assigned personal phantoms to me - the phantom of Archangel Metatron, the phantom of Jesus Christ, the phantom of Kalachakra, the phantom of the Virgin Mary, and in constant communication there was also a cosmic plasmoid from the Pleiades of the 18th density level - from those who supervise the topic of Reiki. Here!

And these phantoms of all these entities, through the Burkhad matrix inside me, make an energetic mix, and through an ethereal copy of the Ray of Christ Consciousness, they give each person this mixed mix of energies, which is distributed to each through their personal codes. In general, the curators explain to me that they have worked with many contactees for more than 200 years, in particular in Russia, to transfer such a system to people. That is, their work took more than 200 years! And they just showed me how difficult it was for them to convey all this. To do this, it was necessary for all people to match in vibration, all curators, and for everyone to be at the right point in space and time, for everyone to be harmonized, and for there to be a person through whom energies can be mixed.

In general, my supervisors both before and after training, as well as supervisors for transferring this energy to people, they tried to transfer energy through me in different ways - through posts on social networks, through personal communications, through text communication, through voice files, through phone calls ... And seeing that there was a broadcast through various sources, both myself personally and the curators, we wanted to make this topic mass. And since Kalachakra and the Antiverse in general - they are all specialists in personal codes, and in general everything can be structured through personal codes, personal, group of some kind, this system was born in this form and this is how it works.

And what's more, I may be announcing it too early, but yesterday at a session of cosmoenergy at the Gikhor School, instead of conducting a session with me, my curators simply came to me again, opened my eyes wide and said that, in In principle, as a master, I am ready to transfer energy to people through personal codes, through meditative practices - such as cosmohealing, meditation, cosmoenergetics.

The curators asked me: "Are you ready to work as such a master, to transfer energy to people through similar sessions that take place online through meditative music?" I agreed. And the curators held a kind of initiation session with me, recruiting such masters into the staff. It was such a fantastic job! My tears flowed. There's just, I don't know, such flows of energy! Two or three times I experienced just streams of tears and the energy of happiness, almost to the point of losing consciousness. And when I came to my senses after the session, when I realized this whole thing, I realized how great this thing is, how great a power this is - this is such work with people, with masses of people!

And the curators said that if the project is implemented, if the management of Cassiopeia gives the go-ahead for such sessions, then in some near future or not in the near future they will appear in the format of the Cassiopeia Project, and people will not only charge water through personal codes , but also to receive such personal sessions. That is, the phantoms of these entities will come through a personal code and work personally with each person. Plus, these are the energies that these entities, the curators of our humanity, will build into every person. Even from my own experience - I try to share all this with people in the weight loss marathon chat, I try to share it online - and for me it's such a profound transformation and so... It's just some kind of fantasy!

Just literally three and a half years ago I was a simple, ordinary person. And now I am the project manager for numerological calculations, and I am being given the technology for online sessions of this type as cosmohealing. And the technical department and I have an ideas chat, where I receive ideas in a stream and put them there, and in this chat, after the launch of the code project, they gave me ideas for three years. This is only active work to launch some new directions, new ideas. It is fantastic!

Julia: Dmitry! Yes, these are, of course, just fireworks for you. And I look into your chats and recommend to everyone: "Take a look, look at this section "Creativity"! What are people doing there! And bracelets, and drawings... They don't do anything! This is simply fantastic!" That is, you also provide such an opportunity for the manifestation of this creative principle using codes. People get inspired by this. This is simply wonderful! Friends, take a look, look into their chats and also admire them as much as I do.

40:13 Dmitry about the second stage of the "School of Contactees".

Julia: Dmitry, are you planning to go to the second “School of Contactees”?

Dmitry: As soon as I arrived at the first stage of the “School of Contactees”, one of the first questions I asked the management of “Cassiopeia” was: “First stage. So there will be a second one? And when, what and how? Maxim and Irina told me then that as soon as the masters were trained, this whole thing would go into production, and the second stage would definitely be launched. And since then, as soon as I found out about this, I send my intention to the Universe to definitely learn. Because the energies inside me from the lower chakras rise to activate and strengthen the work of the upper ones, and I understand that this is such an increase in energy. This gives an increase, deepening of work on oneself, improvement of tools for helping people. And in any case, I will reach such a limit one day, when these energies and opportunities will no longer be enough, and I have been sending such intentions to the Universe for a long time.

It’s just that now the son from his second marriage is five years old, the youngest son is five months old, so, of course, it will be difficult to come. But my wife also already has such a conscious desire - to go for training and install the Burkhad matrix. Because he sees my transformations, sees how the Burkhad Matrix and the Ray of Christ Consciousness operate, what answers and insights I give. By the way, the Burkhad matrix - it extends its influence to close family members, that is, to children, to the wife, to the mother-in-law, who practically lives here next to us, in the neighboring house, behind the wall. And this awakens everyone and gives energy, provides some kind of protection, strengthens the immune system, activates the chakras.

And my wife also wants, and we want to go to all retreats in Cassiopean style. Because before I didn’t understand why I wasn’t very inspired by tourism. So I came for some kind of vacation - a beach vacation, other types of vacation - and didn’t understand why I didn’t get much pleasure. But when, after the Cassiopeia Project, we made a retreat in Sol-Iletsk, we traveled to places of power there... Our student, Marat, showed us places of power in Sol-Iletsk, showed us how it all works, with curators, with Spirits We communicated in these places, being with spiritually close people in the same format. Yes, live communication - this, nature, places of power, a fire, a song with a guitar, baked potatoes, joint practices - and I understood why I didn’t particularly like this type of recreation, such as tourism, some kind of trips. I just went to the wrong place and with the wrong people.

43:02 What do places of power give?

And what about places of power - why is it good when you visit such places with spiritually close people? Firstly, there is an exchange of experience, an exchange of curators, and an exchange of energies, and places of power saturate us like batteries. That is, we give this place something of our own, and this place gives us very large charges of energy. This is also a very important topic, a very important area of work.

Yulia: Now from Monday there will be a second stream of this second school, and it was there that Irina connected us to the Light Network of the Galaxy. This is about what you said. Maybe you are already just getting the knowledge about the transfer of energy from the Light Network of the Galaxy? And if you go through this connection, it will expand your capabilities even more.

43:52 The role of the Ray of Christ Consciousness in the quantum transition.

Dmitry: I very often notice that the information from the curators, which, for example, Irina conveys, coincides with what comes to me, I always find confirmation.

Just recently, as part of the implementation of the fourth block of calculating personal codes, the curators passed on the practice of installing an etheric copy of the Ray of Christ Consciousness through personal codes. And when we launched the fourth block of calculations with the technical department to the masses - in the Cassiopeia chat, in the Cassiopeia volunteer team - one of the volunteers posted a video of Irina Podzorova's interview not on the Cassiopeia channel, but through friendly people, a friendly project.

Someone, between studying at the second stage, just, in my opinion, the "School of Contactees," interviewed Irina - a girl with a pleasant voice. Unfortunately, I don't remember her name, but she often comes across on the Internet and often contacts Irina Podzorova and the Cassiopeia Project. And this girl interviewed Irina Podzorova about what questions she asked Irina two years ago, and how now all this has changed, what dreams have come true. And Irina Podzorova reported such an important thing that the Earth is now going through one of the next stages of the quantum transition. That is, our Earth, as a planet, and our society are constantly transforming, and now the Ray of Christ Consciousness will oversee the new stage of the quantum transition for a whole year.

And it was so surprising to me that Irina was talking about this, because through me, through a system of personal codes, the curators conveyed precisely the practice of installing an etheric copy of the Ray of Christ Consciousness. That is, there, in the first and fourth calculations, I explained to people in great detail what Christ Consciousness is in general - what the filter of Christ Consciousness is, the Ray of Christ Consciousness, what ethereal copies are, how it all works. That is, it is so amazing that we, all contactees, are united by some common supervising force - the power of Light, which helps the Earth, society, people, nature, the planet to transform. We are all united, given some common guidelines that lead us to a common denominator. This is very, very cool!

46:16 Numerical signs of the project curators.

Yulia: Yes, even today it so happened that our broadcast is number 21, and on the calendar it is April 21. We discovered this by accident. That is, here you are also accompanied by a number...

Dmitry: When the curators give us signs, we understand that we are on the right path. That is, this is clearly a sign for me that I am on the right path, so that I somehow have no doubt that the direction of live broadcasts, video broadcasts is very cool and cool! That is, this will give people more energy in addition to the information load than the audio broadcast, which we conducted with our voices. And in principle, I feel very comfortable, only at first I was nervous.

At first there was such jitters! There, Yulia and I checked our equipment many times, I asked a lot of questions... But now I feel very comfortable, confident, I feel that there are curators behind me, because I feel flows - periodically, very pleasant energy passes from top to bottom, from below up. Tears of joy and happiness well up. This gives understanding, awareness that all contactees need to unite and not be afraid to say that we exist, that we bring Light to people - the Light of unconditional Divine Love, which should unite everyone, cleanse the Earth's noosphere of negativity. And then all wars and conflicts will begin to stop, the Earth will begin to cleanse itself, people will begin to think about harmonizing with nature, with the planet, with each other...

Yulia: Yes, I was with Dmitry at the audio broadcasts, and I'll tell you, friends, he was asked questions that went far beyond the scope of the Cassiopeia project. Codes," and Dmitry somehow had the will to answer and answer these questions. Therefore, I will also remind you that now you can minimize this video, return to the chat, write your question, and while Dmitry is on the channel, you can take this opportunity and ask a question. He has a very good information channel, he conveys information really well.

Dmitry: Just a second, I'll tell you another interesting point. When the broadcasts take place, I ask the curators to join as phantoms to provide mental support with energies and help answer questions from subscribers. And when I speak, I am essentially in the flow. That is, I hear a question, the curators give me thought packages, thought forms, thought images, and I simply speak like a radio receiver - I broadcast, broadcast the curators' answers to people's questions.

And when the broadcast ended and I moved away from it, I came back to myself, left this stream, returned to ordinary life, then after some time I listen to my broadcasts, and sometimes I really don't believe how I could give such answers. And people, when they wrote reviews, they confirmed that the answers were really deep, the answers were rich. You can feel the energy from them and the flows and goosebumps. People feel all this and, essentially, it is impossible to deceive people.

They feel the informational, energy component. This suggests that the person is truly a contactee. He goes into the flow and conveys all this not only from himself but through the prism of his consciousness and awareness. The most important thing is to convey this contactee, insider information with the least amount of distortion, this deep knowledge that the curators are trying to convey to us through contactees.

50:05 Dmitry about ways to tune in to curators and mentors.

Julia: Lydia writes about gratitude in her soul to Dmitry. Thank you, Lydia!

Dima, please tell me a parting word for those who are setting up their contact with the Higher Self. For example, we had a question today - Natalya asked that she passed the contact of merging with the Higher Self with the master, and also wants advice on how to tune in to the curators How to meet mentors? Can you give some general answer to Natalya and any parting words in general on how to set up your contact yourself?

Dmitry: I will share my experience as it happened to me. When I learned about Irina Podzorova, that she is a contactee and transmits information from many civilizations, from beings of the Spiritual world, phantoms, plasmoid worlds, I, in addition to sending to the Universe the intention to visit the “School of Contactees” when she appeared in “Cassiopeia” also sent intention to all types of contacts. That is, for literally six months, that’s for sure, I walked and constantly, like a mantra, repeated, I, such and such Dmitry Ryabov, send conscious intentions to the Universe for all types of contacts with all light entities, beings, curators of the Earth who help people, humanity , planet, nature in our transformation. I gave consent to any type of contact - mental, astral and physical, including.

But physical contacts are, of course, quite difficult, there are a lot of demands both on health and on various levels. Astral contacts also require a lot of experience, a lot of energy, and they require knowledge of the rules of astral safety and their strict implementation.

The simplest type of contact is mental contact. That is, this is mental contact when curators transmit thought images, thought forms, thought packages inside a person. This is the simplest type of contact, and it, in principle, is suitable for any person, for any contactee, for anyone who hears the Higher Self. Theoretically, we each, in addition to the Higher Self, have Guardian Angels, a certain number of Guardian Angels. That is, we, at least through the Higher Self, can contact the Guardian Angels and make mental contact.

We, as contactees, can make mental contacts with our curators. Surely every person has curators from the Spiritual world, there are curators from some extraterrestrial civilizations, curators from subtle-material civilizations, that is, Spirits of nature, places, cosmic plasmoids. And if a person sends a conscious intention to the Universe for those contacts that he needs, and if this is part of the plan of incarnation, that is, also through the Higher Self, you can find out all this, if it will benefit the person spiritually and benefit people, then then the curators will come to contact you and will try to convey this whole matter.

But in order for there to be contact, in order to learn this, so that there is purity of contact, there is the “School of Contactees” and “Cassiopeia” retreats. I don’t yet know the best places and the best opportunities to set up all contacts for those who want to purchase this and live by it and help themselves and people. That is, you either need to plan a trip to the “School of Contactees”, or plan a trip to one of the “Cassiopeia” retreats, meet with Irina, Maxim and the masters who carry out all this at the “School of Contactees”, set up, teach, show, how it works. And then, after such training, a person will no longer have any doubts about who he is in contact with, why he is in contact, and how contacts differ.

54:15 Differences in contacts with curators.

After all, all contacts with all beings differ in energy, in sensations inside. Let's say Archangel Metatron - he gives such deep insights, wave flows from top to bottom and bottom to top that give goosebumps. The phantoms of Christ and the Virgin Mary communicate with me through the Ray of Christ Consciousness through an etheric copy, and this is felt like pressure in the chest. I mean, when this happens, I had felt them before before Project Cassiopeia, but I thought I had breast cancer, to be honest. I thought I needed to go to the hospital and get myself checked. But when I found out about this whole thing, I now perceive it with such joy and gratitude.

Before Cassiopeia, I had a whistling in my ears. I thought that this was work at a factory - because I was sitting in the compressor workshop, and the compressors were working next to me, like two jet planes, and they were buzzing all over my ears. But I learned that, let's say, contact with the phantom of the Virgin Mary feels like a bell ringing in my ears, at least for me.

Yulia: Dmitry, yes, these are indeed very individual feelings. That is, this is how Dmitry feels it. But I, as a guide to the Higher Self, will say that everyone feels individually. But what unites us is that, indeed, contact with the Spiritual world, with such high teachers and curators, is felt through the heart chakra. And so in general, someone sees in images, someone feels differently, someone hears. That is, it may be individual, but Dmitry shares his experience.

55:53 A story about a smile and the rule of energy exchange.

Yulia: Dima, Tatyana and Marina unite in a request to smile. Everyone is very happy to see you, they convey their gratitude to you.

Dmitry: Friends, regarding a smile, I will tell you a story from childhood. In general, since childhood I was a very smiling boy. He smiled throughout his childhood, then in his youth he was the life of the party, jokes, jokes. I loved this whole thing. Then, as the level of awareness increased, the smile did not disappear. The smile disappeared only from the face, but most importantly, the smile remained inside. That is, I show people a smile, but those close to me who are in the know, who, if you give them a smile, they will...

Julia: We are close people to you. Smile, Dmitry!

Dmitry: No, people, when they see me, they say: “Are you so serious? Why are you so gloomy? You’re somehow all evil.” It’s just that I kind of mirror people: each person sees in me what may be their mirror reflection. That is, someone behind the mask of this seriousness will be able to examine the Soul, the inner world and understand, feel the depth.

You know, a smile is also energy, and now I have begun to act a little rationally, as in the Spiritual world. After all, the Spiritual world acts very rationally, it acts according to its own rules and laws. Unfortunately, people do not know many spiritual laws, but ignorance does not exempt us from responsibility. And I try to follow the principles, the rules of energy exchange, which the curators taught me for a very long time and persistently. And when I helped people before, I disrupted energy exchange all my life.

I didn't understand why I couldn't do anything, why I help everyone, but I don't have anything that, so to speak, would give me a feeling of some kind of happiness, bliss inside. There was no wealth, no benefits, nothing like that, although I constantly helped people. The curators simply told me that I was disrupting energy exchange. That is, when I helped people, people said to me: "Dmitry, how can I thank you? Let's give you a bucket of potatoes. How much do we owe you? I always said: "No, what are you talking about? You don't owe me anything." This is the biggest mistake of any master, any person. If a person says: "I don't need anything," then the Universe and the curators hear this, and then they really don't give this person anything.

Julia: Yes, we are learning to accept. And here I will insert a remark that sounds on every broadcast - that we are happy about the harmonious energy exchange. You can express gratitude from your heart, the details are indicated in the broadcast announcement.

58:56 No age restrictions in the use of numeric codes.

Yulia: Dmitry, another question. Does the personal code system apply to children? No age restrictions?

Dmitry: By extension to children. Look, friends, I have a good close friend from childhood and youth. She, being heavily pregnant, learned about the system of personal codes and began to drink coded water, read Burkhadian, Eslerian moods, and through the Higher Self she gave birth so successfully and well - herself, without a maternity hospital, even with her husband, using her own technology. That is, she accepted from the child's Higher Self how the child wants to be incarnated into this world through her. And she did everything as the Spirit of the child said, and everything was generally fantastically successful. That is, there are no age restrictions on the use of the personal code system.

If a person is aware, then he accepts, studies the system himself and interacts with it. If a child, for example, is not yet conscious, does not know how to read, does not know how to charge water, then the task of parents, as spiritual mentors of a person, any person under 14 years of age, is to help the child understand this, help solve problems of spiritual growth (since they zero years old sign up with us) and charge the water, put water on charge for the child.

That is, if he already knows how to listen, you can explain to him that there is a calculation system that transforms the full name and date of birth into a personal code. And the personal code has a number, a spectrum of possibilities - the task of spiritual growth, the energy to fulfill them. And so you have such and such a task in this period. Let us help you implement it, let us charge you with some water! Drink it every day, and it will give you strength, energy, some insights, activation, connection with the Higher Self, with your curators. It can be explained in this way.

I repeat: there are no age restrictions on the use of the personal code system. Just as this whole thing can be applied in early childhood, so in old age, if people are no longer capable, they can also be helped. And study the tasks, since it is never too late to learn, and receive these energies. Because people write about cases of self-healing: both the head goes away and the leg goes away. Of course, people write a lot of interesting things in the chat in reviews. That's why study, take, try and share.

1:01:32 Meanings of repeating numbers. Trinity.

Julia: There are questions about the repetition of numbers on the clock. And Anastasia also writes that she always sees ones on the clock.

You know, friends, before the broadcast, when we discovered that the number 21 appears here today, and now it's already 21 o'clock in our time zone, I asked Dmitry a question. I say: "Can you even explain what this number is?” To which Dmitry answered me: “I’m not a numerologist.” And I understood him very well.

That is, theoretically, we can now answer in the same way - that Dmitry is not a numerologist, he does not give such an interpretation. That is, we have publications where there are characteristics of each number, and we have a numerologist - Elizaveta Kochetkova. She is an expert in this, she also knows about repeating numbers. If she sees these questions, she can answer, and we have already answered similar questions.

Maybe, Dmitry, you can add something, what are these signs?

Dmitry: Look: 21 is two plus one, according to the rules of numerology it’s a three, right? The energy of the three is very good, the three is generally a trinity. When I began to work on Cassiopeia, to engage in these projects and calculations, I really fell in love with the trinity, because it permeates our entire Orthodox religion: Father, Son and Holy Spirit. And wherever I meet the trinity, I understand that this is a sign from above that you are on the right path. And if, again, we got a three here, that’s a trinity.

This suggests that both the direction and this broadcast are supervised by one of the phantoms of Christ and one of the phantoms of the Virgin Mary. Because the trinity is, as it were, their “strong point”, and where it is, God is always present, and Jesus and the one who embodied him on Earth, the Virgin Mary, are always present. A very powerful Spirit, and her phantom solves very big problems.

In our personal codes, task three has its own semantic meaning, the spiritual task is number 3. I already wrote to Yulia about this. Everyone can see in the personal code description file what three means.

When repeating numbers on the clock... Again, when I began to receive information from Cassiopeia about what this meant, I always began to notice these repeating numbers and now taught my five-year-old son the same. He constantly comes running: “Dad, there are some ones on the microwave, go and look, please.” I come up and look: yes, 1111. I say: “Yes, Styopa, you’re great, you noticed it. Your curators give you a sign that you are on the right path.”

Julia: Sergei wrote to us here that 21 is a sevenfold trinity.

Dmitry: Well, yes, 21, if you don’t add it, then 7 times 3 is 21. Seven is also a very good number. And three is a good number when multiplying. Well, numerologists won’t let you lie, and the representative of the Antiverse, Kalachakra, who can generally sort everything out through numbers. But here is the principle - everything consists of energy, everything consists of a single energy - this is the power of Light of unconditional Divine Love. And this energy takes on different forms, becomes denser, and from the fine-material worlds, the plasmoids compact it and create dense-material worlds.

The energy around us - in general, everything that we see, everything visible and invisible around us - is, in fact, the same energy - the power of the Light of God’s unconditional Love. But since this energy needs to acquire different forms, different meanings, this energy is presented around us in different forms, in different types, in different densities. And so that this can be structured, so that these processes can be controlled from the Spiritual world, plans for incarnation can be drawn up, so that these plans coincide with life, so that curators lead according to these plans, all this can be expressed through numbers. Since each number has its own energy component, vibrational component.

Through these characteristics, everything around us can be described by numbers. And the great mathematician - Sidik Afghan - has been calculating all events, all probabilities using formulas (through the laws of mathematics, the laws of numbers of numerology) for many years. That is, there are many such examples, and numbers, repeating numbers are a sign to everyone personally that curators are next to them - curators, mentors, Angels - and they give signs so that a person understands that they are always nearby, always at connections and always give these hints.

1:06:23 About the role of relatives on the path of spiritual development.

Julia: Lena writes a question: “Dmitry and the curators, please tell me how my husband's skeptical or negative attitude can influence my passion for spiritual development and the Cassiopeia Project as a whole? How should we approach this?"

Dmitry: Friends, if the negative attitude of someone next to you affects you, then you have not yet achieved the unconditionality of Love. The task of each of us, we all came here, is to reach a level of unconditional Love that is characteristic of higher beings of the highest order. This is our spiritual elder brother Jesus Christ - both the firstborn son of God and God himself. He and other higher light forces of the 24th level of Spirit and higher, they all reside in the Light of unconditional Love. This is such a degree of awareness of the perception of the world around you when you identify yourself with this unconditional Love, the energy of God.

For example, the fairy tale "About the Fisherman and the Fish" - what is it about? Someone might say that this is a fairy tale about how a grumpy old woman kicked her grandfather, whom she chased across all the seas, and everything was not enough for her, and in the end she was left with nothing, with nothing. But this fairy tale, in essence, is about unconditional Love, since it is easy to love a good husband and a good wife, but you try to love a bad husband, a bad wife, like an old man! He was next to this old woman and never left. He walked obediently, calmly fulfilling all her whims. But the old woman herself was left with nothing, that is, this is her lesson. The spouse will do the same thing - he will receive from the Universe, from his curators, from his mentors such lessons that will allow him to understand that he is doing something wrong. Or, if he cannot realize this in this incarnation, a karmic knot will arise that he will have to unravel in the next incarnation.

And your reaction should be like this. The negativity of others should not in any way affect your unconditional Love, your level of awareness and your path of spiritual development. If a person says that your spiritual development infuriates him or gives rise to some kind of negativity, you can simply show him by example how much brighter, purer, wiser you are becoming. And a person, seeing your transformations, may be drawn to you. If you respond with negativity to negativity, then you will lower your vibrations, your level. And you, by sending this negativity back to your loved one, deprive him of his chances of enlightenment.

And if you mentally or out loud (if it's difficult out loud, then mentally) send him the Light of Love, despite his reaction, then you will give him more and more chances for enlightenment. The more Light there is inside him, received from you and from others around him, the greater his chances of enlightenment. If you send out negativity, you lower your vibration and lower your spiritual level. If you send him the Light of Love, then you raise your vibrations and level and give him a chance for enlightenment.

If a person is uncomfortable with you, it is only his right to choose how to react to your Light. The only way to prevent any kind of war is to accept with unconditional Love. You just say: "I accept with unconditional Love your choice, your right, your negativity, but I send you my Light of Love, since you are my husband, I want to be with you, I don't want to lose my relationship and I don't want to lose my path of spiritual development . Please treat my choice with the same unconditional Love as I treat your negativity, because it is my right to choose."

If a person accepts these arguments, then let him learn to treat you calmly - towards you and your spiritual path. If a person is uncomfortable, then perhaps there are blocks, attachments inside him, which, sensing your enlightenment, begin to burn as if on fire and try to hold on to this person as a source of power for negative energies, and provoke these scandals and conflicts.

In a good way, a husband or wife who is against spiritual growth must be encouraged to reach the Higher Self, so that he can find out the goals of his incarnation and cleanse himself of blocks and attachments. And then a person will have an even greater chance of enlightenment and awareness of his path, of accepting your spiritual growth.

But, unfortunately, this is a very big problem for people in our society in general. I know it from myself. In my last marriage, I also had a very big problem - sharing some conversations with my ex-wife. The first conversations about Love, about God, about something else caused very negative reactions from my ex-wife, which definitely would not have allowed me to develop in my spiritual way. Therefore, fate decreed that I separated from my first wife, found a second wife who helps me in spiritual growth, development and is on the same wavelength. And this gave me very great opportunities for personal spiritual growth.

I don’t urge anyone to get a divorce, I don’t urge anyone to make any hasty conclusions, take any steps, or burn bridges. We all came into these incarnations knowing the probability of these events back in the Spiritual World. Therefore, how to go through these lessons, how to stay in the family, create peace with your husband and wife, but maintain your spirituality, is up to you to figure out. This is your task, this is your lesson.

Julia: In sessions of merging with the Higher Self, we ask the question: “How can I harmonize my relationship with my spouse?” That is, one can also keep this possibility in mind. There are several publications for independent practice, and there are audio and video. If any difficulties arise, our specialists are always ready to help you. Pay according to your heart. There is nothing so scary about this. Choose a master according to your heart, and they will help you feel your Higher Self, receive answers, and establish contact. All this is available.

Dmitry: When I was studying at the “School of Contactees”, Irina always told us that there are a lot of methods, and for everyone it is different. “And in the process of your work as masters after training, you will often come up with your own methods.” To be honest, I didn’t believe that this was possible then, but now that I’m working with codes, when the practices of accessing the Higher Self are transmitted through codes, I know that it works.

1:13:25 Express method of accessing the Higher Self through a numerical code.

We recently launched a weight loss marathon through personal codes. And within the framework of the marathon, our task is also to bring people to the Higher Self, to introduce them to the Higher Self - so that through it people can work through all the reasons for their excess weight and be able to effectively harmonize it. And one day I just wrote a post in a stream: “An express method of accessing the Higher Self for participants in our marathon.” There are two simple practices. They just passed it on, I recorded them, sent them to the channel, and people saw it in the chat, and many then wrote that after trying these practices, they very easily reached the Higher Self and received answers.

For example, one practice is to imagine that you are holding a cell phone. And if a person has a personal code calculation, imagine that he is dialing his personal code on this cell phone, and that there is a dial tone, and then someone picks up the phone, says “Hello,” and you begin to communicate with the voice that is with that sides.

This practice will work for everyone who believes in themselves, who has a personal code in their hands, and who does not question this technique and the answers that will come during this session. Because personal codes always give people energy for something specific - for what people ask for: energy for performing spiritual tasks that these codes reflect, energy for connecting with the Higher Self, for harmonizing the chakras, for self-healing, self-diagnosis, working out spiritual reasons.

That is, even through this system of personal codes, many methods can be developed to access the Higher Self, even personally for each person or for some group.

Julia: When you order a personal code, you will receive instructions. This instruction is on several pages: how to use the codes. These questions have already been answered many times in chats, and there are a lot of instructions for various applications. If anyone is interested, go to the chat of the project “Cassiopeia. Codes”, look at what’s there, look at your code.

1:15:47 Dmitry’s wishes to the audience. Three tips.

Julia: Dmitry, do you want to add something?

Dmitry: Dear friends, I once again thank everyone who was able to join our broadcast, and everyone who watched us in the recording. I thank each of you for your interest in the Cassiopeia Project, for your interest in the methods and practices of accessing the Higher Self, for your interest in the system of personal codes. I wish each of you three things. The first is to calculate your spiritual level, that is, the level of the Spirit with which you came here for this incarnation. After calculating your spiritual level, reading the description of all levels, knowing your biography, your destiny, your heart and Soul will tell you what your current level is. That is, you can understand how you developed.

If your spiritual level has increased from birth, then you are on the right path, continue in the same spirit, in the same vein. If your spiritual level has frozen or is going down, I recommend everyone to urgently adjust their life, their principles, and level of awareness. Study information about spirituality, esotericism, ufology, extraterrestrial civilizations - in order to increase your level of awareness and level of spiritual vibrations (spiritual level), since we all came here for this. No one comes here to mark time, no one comes to lower their spiritual level, so this is very important.

Secondly, I recommend everyone to find a way to access the Higher Self: either on their own, or with the help of “Cassiopeia” practices, or with the help of masters, of whom there are already many in the “Cassiopeia” Project, or through personal codes try to use our practices. I recommend it to everyone, because it gives you answers to the main questions - who you are and why you came into this world. That is, only your Higher Self knows the main goal of incarnation, and all the tools that are given through calculations and practices are tools of spiritual growth, using which in your life, you more harmoniously and fully fulfill your goal of incarnation.

And I wish each of you to love yourself and love everyone around you without any conditions. That is, with the Love with which God loves us all - unconditional Love. These three things, three steps, which now seem very simple to me, were the main thing for me in my spiritual path after I found the Cassiopeia Project.

If everyone starts doing this and also reading the settings of the planets Burkhad and Esler to increase vibrations, at least 21 days... I also always teach this to everyone, because I did it myself. Because after reading these settings for 21 days, you will see how your life will begin to change, and then, in months and years, you simply will not recognize yourself and your life. I now know that it works, so I always try to teach it to everyone.

And I thank everyone for our broadcast, for your questions, and I hope that this broadcast is the first, but not the last. See you again! See you soon!

Julia: Yes, Dmitry, we thank you for being with us today and sharing your amazing life path. And thank you for existing, for helping the Project develop!

Dmitry: Julia, I also say a big thank you to you, as the head of the “Cassiopeia. Publications". I also recommend it to everyone, because, friends, Yulia has a magical channel! When a question arises inside, the necessary publication immediately arrives on the “Cassiopeia” channel. Publications". It’s like a lifesaver, I always go in and look through the articles and remember.

Julia: Today we have 5,000 subscribers, can you imagine! Today is our anniversary.

Dmitry: Julia, I congratulate you and your channel, and all your projects and directions! I wish you great success in the development of projects, in harmonization with all egregors! And I sincerely thank all the curators and the Cassiopeia Project! Low bow to everyone! It was very nice.

Julia: Thank you, Dmitry! Thanks to all the viewers! We thank the curators who created the field for us, and those who will watch this in the recording. We say goodbye to you in this chat, on this broadcast, but we will continue to communicate in writing. If you still have any questions, write. Dmitry, please take some time to review the remaining questions. And of course, everything related to codes can be found out if you go to the chat with Dmitry. We will leave a link, and your questions will probably already be answered there.

Dmitry: Write questions in a personal message. I always deal with personal requests at night and always answer everyone. So don't hesitate to write in private messages. We will always help everyone in everything.

Julia: Thank you everyone! Friends, goodbye! See you again! Dmitry, also until new contacts.

Dmitry: Goodbye! Bye everyone.

#482 Health care system on the planets of the Interstellar Union. Memory erasing technology.

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=DLBU5vaWg-8

00:00 Start of video.

00:20 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today our curators are present with us: MidgasKaus - from the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations, and Pierre Shuniir - a representative of the planet Burkhad.

Irina: (Pier Shuniir) - I am one of the leaders of the medical service on our planet and also head the Department of Medical Security in our sector of the Galaxy.

He is a doctor and also controls robots that can perform surgeries.

Interlocutor: I welcome everyone! I convey greetings to everyone from Elena Tkach. She asked me to say a big hello to everyone.

01:50 Health care structure in the Interstellar Union.

Question: How is the healthcare structure structured on your planet and in the Interstellar Union?

Irina: (Pier Shuniir) The healthcare system built on the planets of the Interstellar Union is one with the healthcare system in the Interstellar Union as a whole. It consists of the Office of Medical Safety, where I work, and the branches on the planets. The government of each planet issues a special decree - a law according to which the individual medical institutions needed on this planet are built. This is individual and depends on the race, on its needs, on specific diseases. The decrees are different everywhere. All health departments on planets follow the orders of the Interstellar Union Medical Directorate. This department is not controlled by politicians, but by medical scientists who decide how to use laws to help humanoids.

Question: What is the main function of health officials?

Irina: We don’t have special officials who study like politicians, only on a smaller scale. This is done by scientists who, with the help of computers and calculations, manage this structure themselves without political interference. This, one might say, is a guild of medical scientists, like an Order, a community of scientists from different planets.

Question: How is the functioning of the healthcare system monitored?

Irina: Control is carried out by the medical department. Doctors are accountable to the medical department. They study there, there are educational institutions that belong to this department. There they are dedicated to the position, it is like a solemn holiday. They are responsible to this institution. If you mean control by Interstellar Union politicians who run other things, we don't need that. Here, a coalition of medical specialists, along with other structures that manage other aspects of life, participate in the management of society. It's like your Ministry. Only there are not politicians, not officials, but specialists. We believe that a person or humanoid who does not have a specialized education and is engaged in something else cannot fully manage a medical organization. He simply does not know the criteria for distinguishing true treatment from false. For us, this is always managed by practitioners.

Question: Do you have levels of medical care, for example, district, city?

Irina: (Pier Shuniir) It all depends on the planet on which the medical safety department operates. There are different cities, and in each city there is a primary department, like a clinic. In order for a humanoid to come, he is examined there, and then he is sent to certain hospitals. They may be on another planet altogether or on the same planet, but only very far away. It is sent by special transport. We have helicopters that belong to the medical service department.

I heard that you have a so-called ambulance. And in our country, specially trained medical biorobots are engaged in this work, in which they examine on the streets and in the homes of various patients injured on different planets. Their task is to examine, make a primary diagnosis, and, if necessary, bring to the hospital. It could be on another planet.

Hospitals are not designed like yours. We pay great attention to spiritual work. There are doctors who work with the physical body, and there are special doctors who themselves are in contact with their curators, with their Higher Self. They always help everyone who has been admitted with any disease or injury to determine the spiritual cause of the disease and eliminate it. Also, every hospital must have a department for energy diagnostics and therapy. We have quite a few chemicals. We mainly use devices for treatment. A person sits down or lies down in the apparatus and is affected by various energies.

09:55 Training of doctors in the Interstellar Union.

Question: Thank you. How are doctors trained?

Irina: (Pier Shuniir) In special educational institutions under the medical service department. There are medical schools on every planet. The schools themselves, where children of the Interstellar Union study, are already arranged so that in the last 3-4 grades, depending on the planet, children are divided according to their abilities, capabilities and interests.

There is a class that is interested in natural science biology. There are special psychologists in the school itself, who in the graduating class talk with each student and ask where he wants to direct his path in adulthood. And if the answer is that in medicine, they conduct special tests on knowledge of primary information, which are taken on this topic at school. If the student passes this, he is given a special training warrant. It is given by the school and confirms that the student passed the test in a science biology class and that a psychologist spoke with him.

And now he is ready to enter the first year. We don't have any entrance exams in the institution itself, because school work is enough. He has already confirmed the seriousness of his intentions by taking this test at school and talking with a psychologist. A psychologist who helps you choose the right profession, a psychologist-educator.

I know that your institute has entrance exams. I believe that the school knows its students better who is ready for this. Because they studied there for many years. There is also a psychological and spiritual component. A person can know all the material, but be psychologically and spiritually unprepared for it.

The psychologist advises to talk with your Higher Self - is this profession going to allow you to complete the task of your incarnation or not? And if the Higher Self confirmed, the student says: yes, I talked, everything is fine. And plus he passed the test, then he is given a warrant, he is enrolled without any exams, absolutely free. We do not have such an understanding - payment for knowledge. This is information for the development of the Spirit. We believe that paying for information that develops a Spirit may limit access to it to those Spirits who have directed these funds to something else.

Question: How many years does it take to study and train as a doctor?

Irina: For such anthropomorphic humanoids as the Burkhadians, Disaru from the first year to the last 12 earthly years.

Question: Is this a general part or with specialization?

Irina: For the last year, they undergo special practice in some institution under the guidance of the doctors who work there. There is an agreement between this medical treatment institution and the educational institution regarding how many graduates they will hire. This is so that the specialist can immediately go to work from the threshold of the educational institution, so that he receives a salary next month and can support himself.

Question: Do you have a concept of “gaining experience”? This takes us a certain number of years. Conventionally, in surgery 10-12 years after completion. Do they have such a concept, or are they completely ready after completion?

Irina: Of course, it is impossible to foresee all cases. Every year new humanoids arrive and, moreover, humanoids from completely different planets can arrive at each medical institution. There is a specialization, but anyone with a similar structure, but from another planet, can be brought there.

16:06 Responsibilities of a space doctor and biorobots.

Irina: (Pier Shuniir) If this is the specialization of a space doctor, then he flies with different crews in outer space, discovers different planets on expeditions. He is also called an expedition doctor. Absolutely any humanoid and reptilian, and insectoid, and anthropomorphs can join the expedition, but there is only one doctor, and he must know the specifics of all these organisms and work with them. Naturally, the doctor has the right to take robotic assistants with him - biorobots. Usually they take two or three. They obey the doctor, like assistants, like orderlies, only not people, but robots. These robots have all the medical information, they can provide assistance, they can talk. Only they cannot make decisions on their own in situations that deviate from their program.

Question: Thank you. If there is one doctor on a space flight, and there is a need to operate, does the doctor who flies operate, or the robots?

Irina: If this operation is included in the program of robots (usually they have quite a lot of functions, that is, a sequence of actions), then they can operate, but under the supervision of the doctor himself, because there are emergency situations in which robots will not be able to make decisions. They have a set of programs that switch between each other quite quickly. In one millisecond, 250 programs can change.

Their brain consists of special silicon wool, chains of silicon molecules on which information is recorded by transmitting certain data by increasing or decreasing the electric field strength in each atom.

Robots do not need sleep, and their energy source is star radiation from the walls of the ship in space, they can put their hand on it and charge it. And on the planets they have something like a solar battery on their back, on their neck, on their head, disguised as skin. And they get energy.

20:20 Work of a doctor, scientist, administrator in medicine on the planets of the Interstellar Union.

Question: Let's try to combine practical healthcare with science. For us, this is a dissertation defense. How do they do this? Or is every practicing doctor engaged in scientific activities?

Irina: No, not everyone! Do you call science the study of something new or the details of what is known? Proposing hypotheses and defending them? In general, anyone can do it, but it depends on the desire.

Question: Do his scientific activities somehow affect his work as a practical doctor? Financially, for example?

Irina: Well, of course! In our country, for working as a doctor, the government of the planet to which this doctor or expedition is assigned gives them a salary for a certain amount of time of actual work. The composition of doctors may be different. Ashtar, for example, has many doctors on the ship. Some civilizations have special laws that regulate wages not just for time, but also for the complexity of the work. Certain coefficients. Most often, those doctors who take patronage over students who have graduated from a medical school, and partially take responsibility for their actions, are paid double the salary. As a doctor and as a teacher.

As for scientists. There are certain alliances of scientists with support from the planetary governments. It depends on how much this discovery is put into practice. The doctor can do this for his own pleasure. And if you defend something, there is a certain bonus.

Question: It turns out that they do not have strict hierarchical training of scientific personnel? They take some scientific problem, deal with it, and this is called doing science?

Irina: They can study on their own or in a group.

Question: Is there such a thing as a research institute?

Irina: Your research institute is like an association of certain scientists who are working on some problem. They may be allocated a laboratory, but it depends on the problem they are working on and the results they show.

But we have many citizens on any planet who have not even been trained, but simply engage in science as a hobby. They are researching something, various processes on their planets. This is accepted here, i.e. is nurtured in our children to explore the world around them. Every child who goes to school can do their academic work at their own level.

He may come up and say - I want to start researching the growth rate of plantain depending on what kind of energy is directed at it. I want to write it all down. How it will grow under infrared light, and how it will grow under ultraviolet light. I want to reveal a pattern that under ultraviolet it grows two and a half times faster, which will then bring a certain profit to those companies that are engaged in the preparation of plantain leaves. Please!

His parents and teachers will create conditions for him to carry out this scientific work and will take it quite seriously. It's quite normal.

Question: If doctors have received medical education, do they only practice medicine? Or is their functionality more extensive?

Irina: He can be a biologist at the same time. Like MidgasKaus - he is a biologist, a psychologist. (Mead speaking) My first major was Esler Biology, I studied certain plants that grew in the ocean, marine organisms. And I became a psychologist in xenopsychology, i.e. on the psychology of alien intelligent organisms, specifically Earth ones. Xenopsychology is considered to be the psychology of aliens. It is a science that studies the psychological profiles of different races. I stopped specifically on Earth, studied how various spiritual energies, feelings, desires, instincts, emotions, etc. manifest themselves through their brains, and how they differ from the Eslerites. I studied not long ago. I was born when the year was 1932 on Earth. I remember very well how I studied. I first studied to be a biologist, and when I was already a biologist, I went to study to become a psychologist. We offer several professions. And it's all absolutely free. I just had to pass a certain test. It was not only a test of general knowledge in psychology, which we studied, it was also a psychological test. I answered the questions: why do I need this, what goals do I set for myself? I spoke with a psychologist who gave me a warrant. Only for the second education the warrant is no longer given by the school, but by special institutions at the institutes themselves. Students come there. These are institutions of second education.

Question: Do they study more deeply or can they get a completely different profession this way?

Irina: (MidgasKaus) - we consider this a different profession. If I now want, for example, to study to become an engineer and get a third education, then this is also possible. Our life is long enough. To do this, I need to be interested in what metallurgy is? I must study the characteristics of metals myself, first myself. In literature, in the information space. It's like your Internet, only it covers the entire Galaxy. You could say it’s a universal library. I will have to find time, if I want to do this, to learn what metals are, what chemistry is. At least have an idea of what it is.

I have to think about what I need this for after the two professions I already have! For example, I will say that I have already completed my tasks in these professions, and now I want to open up the possibility of creating new alloys, more advanced ones, that can fly close to the stars.

Question: At birth there is a plan that needs to be fulfilled! I wonder if the implementation of the plan depends on the recruitment of these professions? He can fulfill this life plan 100%, working as a doctor, how is this perceived by them? Those. He worked as a doctor for 20 years. And then he decided to become a biologist or psychologist! So, does he need to study for 12 years again?

Irina: People enter medicine for 12 years, but for different professions there are different training periods!

Question: Hierarchically, who is the medical worker according to the concepts of the Interstellar Union?

Irina: In an administrative position in every medical institution, in any case, the head is a practicing doctor. He may have secretaries and assistants, but these are biorobots. Because no one will go to keep any documentation or cards. Like a record of who came and who left.

Our humanoids do more interesting work; they don't consider it development!

Question: How many years have you worked in the same profession? What does this depend on?

Irina: It depends on the desire of the humanoid itself. If this is a Burkhadian who lives 10,000 years. During these 10,000 earthly years, he can go through 100 professions. This will indicate that the memory of his perfect brain can accommodate large amounts of memory. The structure of the brain is determined by genetics. But if he changes professions often, he will have a problem when he learns a new profession, then the experience that he already has can influence this. This may disturb him and he may not learn the material well.

33:40 Reasons for erasing memory.

Irina: (Pier Shuniir) - on Earth there are stories about how memory is erased. We have devices that can remove a certain segment of information from the brain of a person or a Burkhadian. But this is removed only from brain cells, partial cellular memory, which is determined by the special state of the structural proteins of the membrane of these cells. Membrane proteins are changed in such a way that the memory becomes clear. There is even such a thing that they voluntarily go and ask that information be removed within a certain period or on a certain topic. There are special such institutions at clinics, hospitals, medical institutions or at some biological institutes.

Question: To free up space?

Irina: He may even have enough space, but he feels that his past experience as a doctor influences the receipt of information if he wants to be, for example, an oceanographer. And he feels that when he studies fish, marine organisms, he begins to look at them as people. Through the prism of your experience. Moreover, if he has been practicing for a long time, he looks for illnesses in them. This is starting to affect his learning.

35:35 Disease prevention in the Interstellar Union.

Question: We have a structure of morbidity and mortality that is characteristic of our country or the world as a whole. Do you have such a structure?

Irina: (Pier Shuniir) We have prevention. We have a law on fairly strong prevention of various diseases that begin not even from the moment of birth, but from the moment of conception. Our children leave school absolutely prepared for the moment of conception and birth of their children. They are told how to correctly structure their thoughts, their moods in such a way that the Soul, which comes to incarnate into the body that will be born, can enter this body, correctly forming its etheric matrices, on which the formation of physical structures already depends. So that there are no distortions at the genetic level.

When the soul enters the body, it reads certain information from the chromosomes and builds its etheric matrices from the etheric energy that exists. And what to fill the etheric matrices with, what type of physical matter, what organs to build, how exactly, this is already decided by the Soul. She is also influenced by the energies of her parents. She can take some specific information from DNA, but not take some.

For example, for a person, out of all the information recorded on DNA about the structure of the body, the various structural proteins that make up the tissues, the Soul takes only 3-5%. Everything else is in a dormant state.

Question: It turns out they don't have such troubles.

Irina: We are doing prevention in childhood. We have a special subject at school, starting from the first grade, which is called, as you have, "Fundamentals of Life Safety," and we have it, "Fundamentals of Life Safety in the Physical Body." There they study what the physical body consists of, how to keep it in a state of health and harmony, how to talk with organs, how to harmonize with microorganisms. We have certain techniques, practices of a meditative nature that trigger the control of reality.

But, as you know, all humanoids have free will to use it or not to use it. And those who don't use it sometimes get sick. It is for them that the medical service has been built and for those who have received any injuries. For example, while on expeditions or on their planets. Basically, we have those diseases that were a big problem before joining the Interstellar Union, they have been defeated.

And therefore, we know what diseases there are on Earth. MidgasKaus also told us that he studied your illnesses using testing - astral diagnostics. He watched many people and then made special reports to a commission in the society of scientists of the Interstellar Union who study the Earth. He talked about the state of the organisms of earthly people, their energy. (MidgasKaus speaking) I said that a big problem for people is a cardiovascular problem, a metabolic problem, a hormonal problem, as well as infections, helminth infections, as well as mental diseases, i.e. brain We call mental illness certain states of the brain that prevent the full manifestation of certain abilities and qualities of the Spirit.

Question: We say that if a person has some kind of mental illness, then the Spirit must pass this test. It turns out that such diseases occur only on Earth?

Irina: We had similar illnesses, such as depression, before joining the Interstellar Union. But then, when we joined, we took up prevention related to the mental sphere. If we had not done this for prevention, such lessons would have appeared in our country. These lessons appear for a reason, that a person must go through it, because it is impossible without it. But because he himself behaves in a certain way with his emotions. Therefore, he forces himself to undergo this lesson.

Every child in the first grade of our school is already taught how to keep an emotional diary, how to write down various emotions there so that they do not collect in blocks, and how to work on them. And when the Spirit, being in the body, had already accumulated some kind of block, and the amount of Divine Light in his Soul had already decreased, and he felt like a body, and not a Spirit, then he began to lower his vibrations. Everything began to irritate him, he began to become despondent, to not believe in anything - this is already a far advanced process.

It needs to be stopped at the initial stages. Work with your emotions before they obscure the Divine Light. And when they obscured the Divine Light, and a person begins to live in these blocks, then his brain also changes, his hormonal system adapts to his stressful state. Serotonin begins to decrease, cortisol and everything else begins to increase. This is only in response to the mood of the Spirit.

43:20 MidgasKaus about the problems of earthly medicine.

Irina: I believe that the problem of your medicine is that they do not deal enough with spiritual causes and their identification. They simply look at illness as a human condition that needs to be eliminated by any means. But they don’t look at the reasons that led to this. They just look at the body. But the Spirit is the reason for what happens to the body. Every child here knows this. Injuries and physical illnesses that are received have not only physical causes, but also spiritual ones.

For example, a person walked in the cold without a hat, became hypothermic, and developed otitis media. There was a wind blow, local hypothermia, and his own microflora became active. You already know that human blood is not sterile. There are many different organisms there, and the microflora is activated under certain conditions. It would seem that otitis media, hypothermia - what spiritual reason could there be? Purely physical. It needs to be removed. But no! The spiritual reason is that he saw the weather, he saw it as a danger to the health of his body. But he neglected this - this is a lack of care for the body. This is already a spiritual reason - his attitude towards the body! If this spiritual cause is not eliminated, he will find himself in these and similar situations many times, undermining the health of his body. The capabilities of the immune system and the body's ability to adapt are very great, but not endless. And that’s why we don’t have problems with addiction to various substances.

We absolutely do not need this, because every Spirit, every child, we teach him, can enter a meditative state and communicate with the Higher Self. He can exchange energies with him, enter the Light, merge with the Light, leave the body, communicate with plasmoids, communicate with Angels. You don't need to take anything to do this. This is all in the person himself. To be in a good mood, to feel the energies, to see different beings. All this can be done without any interference in the body at the chemical level.

46:20 Recommendations from aliens for the development of medicine on Earth.

Question: Thank you. Having assessed the state of our healthcare, what specific areas could we work on now to reduce the negative impacts?

Irina: Firstly, make medicine completely free, as far as possible. For the existence of hospitals, for the salaries of doctors, for all medicines, technologies and operations, subsidies must be allocated from the state itself. This will immediately confront a person with the fact that they care about him, about his life, that someone needs him. It is not his money that is needed, but himself. This will increase confidence in medicine, and the doctors themselves will want to work with greater compassion, empathy, and a desire to help.

Secondly, if it is free, this does not mean that the state cannot but make other efforts to ensure that there are fewer sick people. This means that free medical care must be combined with preventive work. With preventive work against all the most common physical and mental diseases, starting from birth. Especially with preventive work among those women who want to give birth to a child.

It is necessary to educate, to introduce into the school curriculum certain knowledge not just about biology, but also certain knowledge about the prevention of various diseases with mandatory practical exercises. For example, by watching various videos that will show the consequences of various diseases that people cause to themselves. It is not necessary to take them to hospitals; it will be enough to show a certain educational film. Not to scare them, but so they can make choices. They need to know what and what they are choosing between.

Be sure to explain how important it is to lead a healthy lifestyle.

Physical activity, proper nutrition. Correct means varied. And naturally, the absence of those habits that destroy the body. This cannot be forced, but this needs to be talked about more on television and in school. Those. encourage a healthy lifestyle.

To the extent possible, reduce the availability of those substances that cause harm. They cannot be completely banned - this is freedom of choice. But they can be made available only in special stores that will be open a certain number of hours. Make it hard to get, or raise the price. From the profits that the producers of these substances, which cause health problems for many people, receive, they can be made to pay more taxes, and the difference in taxes can be used for the development of medicine. After all, this is their contribution to the fact that many people are sick.

Another recommendation for doctors and scientists who are involved in scientific medicine is to study the influence of feelings, thoughts, emotions, and characters of patients on certain diseases. Conduct more psychological tests among patients with various diseases, study the influence of their emotions on recovery and on the deterioration of their condition. Accumulate factual material. Start studying energy treatment methods, study homeopathy in more detail, because the energy of the substance operates there.

Also study Cosmoenergetics, Reiki, all energy techniques that are considered esoteric or occult. You can make a selection of how they act, and this will all be widely covered in the public press. It is recommended to devote more time to the development and study of special devices that perform energy diagnostics of the body based on vibrations. We have had such devices for a long time. And you have them, but so far your medical officials are not interested in checking them. Diagnostics can reveal pathologies at a very early level, when there are still cellular disorders.

I recommend that every medical institution create a position such as a spiritual psychologist. He will take care of the patients who are there. It will help them connect with the Higher Self and find out the spiritual cause of the disease. This is very important because, for example, a person is admitted to the hospital with a heart attack, stroke, or exacerbation of angina. He was brought out of the acute state, he was given medications that improve the activity of the heart, dilate blood vessels, remove blood clots, etc. This is a chemical effect.

But after discharge, this patient will return to the environment from which he came. But the situation that led him to the emergence of this bloc will not go away. Therefore, when he is in the hospital, he will dissolve this block of the heart chakra, forgive the person with whom he is offended, and when he returns home, he will look at this situation differently. Dissolving blocks already changes the perception of the situation. It doesn't change the situation itself, it changes the attitude towards it. And this means that the likelihood of relapse in the first couple of months is reduced by about 30%.

It is also good for your scientists to conduct research into how meditation affects a person and the space of a city. For example, when 10 people meditate every day, mentally directing the Light of Love to the city, and record how many reports of crimes and accidents were reported this week, and compare with the same period when this was not done. A very interesting pattern can be identified.

In psychiatric hospitals, where people end up with unharmonized contact, with blocks, a spiritual psychologist is even more necessary. He will help the patients who are there to connect with their Higher Self, dissolve blocks and correctly establish contact with the essence that they have. Finding out who it is, why it came, and harmonizing contact with it means controlling this contact. And this also needs to be taught to these unconscious or semi-conscious contactees who end up there, don't know what's happening, and are in panic, fear or aggression. The essence itself, with whom contact, whom he attracted by vibrations - you need to work with it.

57:10 The relationship between the level of development of medicine and awareness.

Question: If we defeat these mental illnesses, will we not disrupt the general plan for the development of Souls?

Irina: Just take the lesson, this will be the plan for the development of your civilization. Your lesson now is that you go through with it. If this stops, it will show the Spiritual World that you have completed this lesson. And there is no need to repeat it.

Question: In order to carry out all this, the spiritual level on our planet must be higher. How many such people, in your opinion, should there be for the universal spiritual level to become higher, so that we could do many things this way?

Irina: That is. consciously?

Question: Yes!

Irina: For changes to happen quickly, within 3-5 years, it is necessary for at least 60% of the adult population to be conscious. Those. with such convictions that they are not bodies, but Spirits! The remaining 40% will not be able to resist them.

Question: This is very difficult, of course. What is this percentage today?

Irina: If you look at the planet in general, at egregors, today this percentage is around 11%. Just 10 years ago this was 7%.

Interlocutor: About 4% over 10 years of growth.

Irina: The more spiritual knowledge spreads, the more people awaken, communicating with their Higher Self, the more they will pass this on to others, including their children, and the faster it will grow - exponentially.

Interlocutor: We need approximately 50 years, it turns out.

Irina: Then mass wars and a large number of crimes will no longer be possible.

Question: Is it possible to artificially advance the acceleration process?

Working like Project Cassiopeia, creating diverse communities?

Irina: There are many contactees who create their own spiritual projects. And there they work with people and carry this information. Perhaps through the awareness of another contactee, but it has in common that God is Light, God is love. Of course, this will be in the terminology of another contactee. Through his level of awareness and through his vocabulary.

This is not considered interference in the path of your civilization, because the listeners have no contactees without physical evidence! This is decided by the people themselves. There must be a non-violent way here. Civilization itself must make a free choice.

Question: When can we reach an acceptable level of interest?

Irina: I think it's faster than in 50 years. For 25-30 years. The future has many options. If information about this spreads quickly enough, if many people believe it to be true. And they will want not only to believe in the truth, but will want to check and talk with their Higher Self. They will feel this Light and be convinced of it. Because their lives will improve, their relationships with others will improve, there will be more meaning in life, a higher level of happiness. They will realize that this is what they were looking for. As many have already understood.

1:02:42 Creation of artificial memory.

Question: How is information stored in embryos that determines professional skills and future life?

Irina: On the planet Daraal there is such a device at the level of transmitting information to the child's brain. Creation of artificial memory. An information wave at a certain frequency of the electromagnetic field is transmitted to the brain and there encodes certain proteins that are arranged in such a structure, as if he himself studied it.

Question: Is this only on the planet Daraal?

Irina: It is possible to make such a device for almost all civilizations, but they do not use it. The Daraals take advantage of this for the reason that, until recently, they had a ban on natural reproduction in order to maintain a certain population number - 150 million. Now the law has changed. They discovered another planet.

1:04.12. Mental perception in the Astral.

Interlocutor: In England, in the intensive care unit, a study was carried out in order to understand whether the Soul exists or not. In the wards of patients who were in a state of clinical death, drawings and records were installed at a height above human height. And when these people returned to life, they conducted a survey, and people saw what was there, what was written there. When the soul leaves the body, it loses its sense of perception of reality; there are no visual receptors. How do they see?

Irina: Perhaps they saw it in the thoughts of these people, i.e. mental transmission. They know what they put there. Mental transmission of images. Especially if people have similar vibrations. When the Soul leaves the body, it has no physical vision; the Soul's eyes cannot register photons that are reflected from various objects, including drawings. Therefore, everyone who goes to the Astral, like us, sees this room in different energies. Those. in thought forms. For example, (MidgasKaus says) Irina knows in her thoughts that there is a table in this place, and we see it. But this is how she imagines him, how she sees him.

Interlocutor: It works through you, right?

Irina: Yes. For example, if we look at the other side, and she thought that this chair should be there, she just thinks so. And this thought form will appear in this place, but the physical chair will not be there.

Interlocutor: Thank you! I have completed my questions.

Irina: Thank you, dear friends! For being with us, for listening to this conference. I hope it was interesting to learn about how the healthcare system works on other planets! See you again!

August 20, 2022.

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms;

Pierre Shunyir is a representative of the planet Burhad, one of the heads of the medical service and the Department of Medical Safety.

#625 Viral diseases on the planet.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/virusnye-zabolevaniya-na-planete https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=e9_qGaE69O0

00:00 Start of broadcast.

00:03 Introduction. Project News.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone! And again we are on the air. And every Sunday we conduct live broadcasts on different, very interesting and relevant topics.

My name is Rusan Maxim, I am the head of the CASSIOPEIA Project, and today's broadcast will be dedicated to viruses, diseases, their spread across the planet, where viruses come from, and how they are formed.

As always, I have a lot of interesting news. The first most important news is that from December 19 to 23 we will be holding a retreat in Moscow on the science of imagery and astral travel. I'll briefly tell you what the science of imagery is. This is the science of creating mental images in order to create and control objects in the material world. What is astral travel? This is the exit of consciousness beyond the physical brain for the conscious perception of reality outside the physical body.

This entire seminar will take place over 5 days from December 19 to 23 in Moscow. By the way, we will not hold it in our Domodedovo Center, we will hold it practically in the center of Moscow, one minute walk from the metro. That is, if you have not yet managed to get to this seminar with us, we still have free places there. Therefore, if suddenly you cannot press the "go" button to sign up, write down the phone number that you can call and find out all the additional information you information about this retreat is +7 988 910 20 40. Her name is Elena.

In general, what will be included in these 5 days of training according to the program that was provided to us by representatives of our Interstellar Union. There will be theoretical knowledge about the structure of the human energy field, about the nature of consciousness going beyond the physical brain. There you will determine your type of thinking, perception, learn to manage, create your own reality, learn to consciously distinguish astral travel from sleep and transfer astral experience here to us in the material world.

Plus, you will expand your spiritual horizons there and through the astral plane you will be able to interact with the spiritual world and other representatives of extraterrestrial civilizations. At the seminar there, you will be able to ask absolutely any questions about astral travel and what energies are, how they are formed, how reality is formed, how you form reality.

And at this seminar, Irina will personally teach classes together with Ilya Alexandrov. You all know Irina, you don’t need to introduce her, she is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. And Ilya Alexandrov is a high profile specialist, a highly qualified psychologist. He is the rector of the Institute of Transpersonal Psychology, which we opened. Accordingly, he leads a large number of various projects.

Plus, what other news do we have? We decided to give you a gift for the New Year, and we decided to give you discounts using a promotional code in our online store, where you can purchase any of our products with a link using a promotional code. There are really very good discounts now before the New Year, because we are happy to give you the quality products that we have. Accordingly, we expect mutual assistance from you for the development and growth of our project.

What's in our store? It’s probably better for you to go there, because there are probiotic microorganisms there, for example, the same Immunofidum, our latest development, which increases immunity, which cleanses the blood, which cleanses the lymph. Plus there are lactobacilli, bifidobacteria, and Bulgarian bacillus. And all this was done using special technologies of leophilic freezing, when the bacteria do not dry out, but are put to sleep.

In general, the CASSOPEA Project was created in order to give something new to people on this planet. Of course, aliens do not provide technology. Of course, it’s a shame that they don’t provide these technologies, but at least they at least fully explain the structure and spiritual structure of the body, and the physical structure of the body. That is, they help us grow in our awareness, in our perception. Therefore, you can go to the website, by the way, there is a discount using a promotional code.

We also have very good news. Many people asked us when we will finally do some kind of online training. We did it online. At least we tried to do this. We have given you an online course that consists of 10 lessons, called “The Fundamentals of the Universe and the Secrets of the Human Spirit.” This is a unique practical video seminar by Irina Podzorova about the structure of the universe, the secrets of the human spirit, karmic laws and rules of communication with representatives of other civilizations. The seminar was created specifically for those who want to increase their level of awareness, live in happiness, abundance and joy. It was created for you. I won't tell you what's in this seminar. This seminar contains a huge amount of very interesting information, after which you will be able to understand perfectly who you are, where you are, why you are, and what is happening around you.

Of course, there is another very cool news. We are slowly expanding our Center for Spiritual and Physical Development. And this year we are celebrating the New Year in the Center, in our Center in the city of Voronezh. These will be 6 unforgettable days, because the program that is being formed is still being finalized, but for example, I can already say that we will do all these 6 days. We will relax, take care of our body, engage in consciousness, meditate, do breathing practices, breathe fresh air, walk barefoot in the snow, take a steam bath, swim in a warm outdoor pool. In general, we have prepared a simply bomb program. A whole theater is coming to us as a speaker, which will organize a theatrical performance every day that you are here. That is, we will have New Year not for one day, we will have it for all 6 days. And in addition to everything that we will have an entertainment program, we have a very cool educational program there, which includes all the masters of the Project. Every day you will have a master of some kind show some classes, conduct some practices. In general, the New Year's program will be simply bomb. There will even be an alien Santa Claus, and aliens have promised to visit us. I don't know what it will look like or what it means to "visit us," but at least they said: "We will come to you for the New Year." So now I will wait for aliens this New Year.

What other interesting things do we have? By the way, in order to get to the New Year, you can go down, there are absolutely all the links below under this video that I just talked about. And plus, once again I want to give you a phone number where you can make an appointment. By the way, the number of people for the New Year is limited; we have not yet built the third building with a large conference room. Therefore, for the New Year we can accept only 40 people. I don't even know how many have already signed up; I don't keep track of this moment. I'll tell you honestly, today I spent the whole day making the third house with my own hands, arranging it, cutting paths, laying carpets, hanging pictures. I am preparing for your arrival at our center for the New Year.

We have more news. But this, I think, is one of the most interesting news for the CASSIOPEA Project. Once again I want to remind you, last time I said it, and this time I'll probably say it more confidently: we are definitely uniting with the project of the Association of Specialists in Metaphysical Practices under the President of the Russian Federation. Guys, I have been working towards this for a very long time, as the head of the Project, I tried to create an atmosphere in which absolutely all legal norms will be observed, and at the same time, in this atmosphere we can engage in spiritual growth and development. Therefore, I think that there will soon be news about our Moscow Center, but for now I will not predict events. I will tell you that in 2024 we are reaching a completely new level, and, of course, this is a great merit of the huge project team, specialists who devote themselves to the project and to you, respectively. Therefore, the next year 2024 will be very busy. In 2024, I am going to complete the third building with a children's development center, I have planned a large building for a health center and I want to thank you all for your faith and for your support that you are providing to the project. Guys, thank you all so much. In reality, when a person is alone, he cannot do what you and I are doing now. And I will say that the task of my incarnation is to come out of this incarnation, look down at everything and say: "Have we really done all this?” Can you imagine, the task of incarnation is to come out of incarnation, look up, and ask: “Did we really do this?!”

Plus, by the way, I completely forgot, we have a “Cassiopeia Dating” project. At the great request of our admirers, fans, and those who participate in the life of the CASSIOPEIA Project family, we have created a small cozy nest so that specialists of esoteric and metaphysical practices can meet there. We have been around for about a month, and during this month we already have results. We have formed our first couple. Guys, there will be a link under this video, go to the Cassiopeia Dating website. By the way, there is now a drawing for valuable prizes and gifts. And the first place in this drawing is a reception with Irina Podzorova, a sentry, she will gladly pay attention to you. He will especially pay attention if it concerns some family issues. And, accordingly, through the Higher Self you will be able to solve all the moments, blocks, and many other things together with Irina. Plus, of course, there are prizes, there are many prizes, including probiotic microorganisms and something else. Enter the giveaway. There we exhibited almost all of the Project's products as a raffle. In order to hold this draw and attract all of you unmarried, unmarried esotericists to the opportunity to unite and create not just a big family, like the CASSIOPEIA Project, but your own little nest. Therefore, follow the link and look for “Cassiopeia dating” on VKontakte. By the way, Irina’s profile is there, and my profile is there too. Therefore, we will be happy to wait for you there in the “Dating” project.

In principle, that's probably all. We don't have any more news like this. I would like to invite you further for our wonderful broadcast. Irishenka, have a seat.

13:04 Introduction of participants.

Maxim: Irish, what are you like today! You have such a brooch, in general, Irina is very interesting.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and today we have with us a specialist in biology and medicine of the International Union from the planet Burkhad, this is Cityrum. He studies our body, is a biologist and medical specialist. And, of course, with us is MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, who is a biologist, psychologist and also studies our planet, the human body, as well as other living beings on our planet, since he is also an astrobiologist.

Maxim: That is, today we have Cityroom and MidgasCaus. Sithiraum from the planet Burkhad and MidgasKaus from the planet Esler.

Irina: Yes. Cityrum studies the human body, and MidgasCaus studies the human body and microorganisms, plants, and animals. That is, he is like a biologist.

Maxim: Great, I welcome Sithiraum, I welcome my dear, beloved MidgasCaus. I am sure that today's broadcast will be very interesting and eventful.

14:37 Cityrum on the origin and structure of viruses.

Maxim: And I would like, of course, first of all to find out where viruses came from. What is a virus? Where did he come from? How and why is this different virus walking around the planet?

Irina: Sithiraum says. I propose to define the concept. Because many people may confuse the concepts of virus, bacteria and microorganism.

Maxim: I agree, let's decide.

Irina: How do viruses differ from bacteria? Naturally, I will speak on the representation of science in the International Union. Because, as far as I have studied the understanding of earthly science about this, they differ.

Maxim: Do we have different ideas?

Irina: There are many different theories about what a virus is and what it is. Therefore, we will first define what a virus is from our point of view. A virus is a simple organism, there are many types of it. This is a living organism that lives inside, which can live, reproduce and take energy for itself only while inside a living cell. But it can be outside a living cell simply as a carrier of its genetic information.

There are many different types of viruses, and each is tailored to the type of cell in which it lives. That is, in essence, the virus is an intracellular parasite. That is, a parasite that uses the resources of the cell.

This is, naturally, a living organism, that is, a special type of soul is embodied in viruses. Where does it come from? Like any living creature, it is created by plasma. All of them are created by plasmoid civilizations. Their bodies are collected separately, and each viral particle embodies a part of the group soul. But they can be very small and they can be larger, but they are united by the fact that they do not have their own metabolism and do not reproduce and feed outside the cell.

That is, what is a cell? This is a more complex structure that can provide itself with material for its construction, for its energy. For example, there are such metachondria, like the nucleus, there are such organelles as metachondria, the nucleus, the ribosome, and so on. The virus lacks all this; it has a simpler structure.

Maxim: Basically, the virus is very simple, right?

Irina: It’s simply designed compared to a cage, again.

Maxim: When did the first virus appear on planet Earth?

Irina: Together with the appearance of the first cells. This happened, according to our ideas, about 5 billion Earth years ago.

Maxim: 5 billion, that is, the emergence of life in general. That is, viruses were the first on this planet?

Irina: But they were not the first, because they cannot live and reproduce, maintain their vital functions without a structure that will nourish them. First, single-celled, one might say the simplest, bacteria appeared. And immediately after this, viruses appeared, which at that time had the function of influencing the rapid mutation, the rapid evolution of these bacteria through gene transfer. That is, by influencing the mutation process. That is, plasmoids were not invented by chance, but for specific purposes.

Maxim: What was the purpose of inventing viruses?

Irina: Cause rapid evolution by mixing genes inside the cell.

Maxim: So, it turns out that the virus accelerates our evolution by mixing the cell?

Irina: No, this did not apply to multicellular creatures, it applied to single-celled creatures then. Now they have different functions, each virus has its own. Because now many multicellular organisms already exist.

Maxim: In general, in principle, I heard a theory that when they created one of the types of earthlings, they experimented, they say that some kind of virus appeared that killed a huge number of our previous earthlings who were created. Was this really the situation? Do you know about this situation?

Irina: Which previous earthlings?

Maxim: Homo sapiens, Homo erectus, I heard from scientists that when there was one species of some kind, some kind of virus came and completely wiped out one of the species of earthlings that was here.

Irina: There is no evidence that one of the species has been completely wiped out. Firstly, we do not divide earthlings into species. It’s more likely that your archeology does this. Finding different remains, different bones that belong to the same species, Homo sapiens. They judge by individual differences in the structure of these bones and call them different types.

20:52 Cityroom about epidemics on planet Earth and their causes.

Maxim: In your memory, please tell me, how long ago was there a really terrible epidemic on Earth? The Spanish flu, a virus, went around and killed a huge number of people.

Do you remember? Were you alive then?

Irina: He lived, yes. Now Sithiraum says that he lived. It was the beginning of the 20th century. Yes, he lived.

Maxim: How did this happen? Why did this virus come to kill so many people?

Irina: Why did this virus come to kill a large number of people?

Maxim: Yes, a huge number of people were simply killed by this virus. Is this some kind of cleansing?

Irina: Do I understand the question correctly now that, for what reason, a virus appeared that could take many people out of incarnation? It is a virus, not bacteria, nothing else. Because the reasons for the pathogenicity of viruses and bacteria are very similar, that is, they are identical to each other. I'll just explain now. There are also bacteria that cause serious damage in humans. For example, plague and so on. These are bacteria.

For what reason do many pathogenic microorganisms appear that can damage the human body until it is taken out of incarnation?

Maxim: Yes, that's right, absolutely.

Irina: For the reason that those plasmoid civilizations that are engaged in the manufacture of souls and their bodies, that is, how they collect them, they put certain instinctive programs into the souls of microorganisms. If plasmoid civilizations, which have more high vibrations, do this, then they do not pose a danger to living cells up to their destruction. The function of these viruses is rather to help the cell adapt to a certain environment with the help of certain targeted mutations. That is, the virus will live in the cell, but it will not harm it. She will be his bearer. They will enter into symbiosis.

And if viruses are created by plasmoid civilizations of a destructive type, they can put into their souls, into the souls of microorganisms, the instinct to feed on cells, cell materials, not only of humans, but also of other living beings. But it also depends on what kind of virus it is, because it all depends on what species this virus is aimed at. But if we are talking specifically about a person, then destructive plasmoid civilizations can put into the soul, into the group soul of this virus or any other microorganism, a destructive program that damages, which causes such behavior in these viruses that they damage human cells or cause excessive immune reaction. And the immune system itself is already beginning to damage human cells in order to remove them.

What is the reason for the epidemic? Because these viruses are spreading. This is the reaction of plasmoid civilizations to the negative vibrations that come from the Earth from people. That is, this is how the vibration of plasmoid civilizations decreases. In this way they show people that the vibrations of the Earth need to be raised. But it's not just epidemics. This also includes other natural disasters, such as floods, volcanic eruptions, fires, earthquakes, and so on. These are all things of the same order, in fact. That is, this is the reaction of plasmoid civilizations to a decrease in the vibrations of those spirits who live at the third level of density. And the more negativity there is from the Earth, that is, destructive thoughts, feelings and emotions, the more pathogenic microorganisms and viruses among them there will be.

Maxim: That's how it turns out! Interestingly, that is, we, by forming certain mental images, forming certain behavioral motives, sometimes create for destructive plasmoids those energies in which it is good and easy for them to create viruses. It turns out that they create these viruses when they feel that there is a similar kind of destructive atmosphere around them?

Irina: They themselves lower their vibrations because they begin to perceive negative energies, that is, the energies of people's life force, which contain the idea of destruction, one might say so.

And those plasmoids that have switched to feeding on this energy, so to speak, distort their minds and begin to create destructive souls. And not only among microorganisms. For example, they can create a destructive soul of insects, which will then incarnate, and these insects will undergo a mutation, and they will also switch to a parasitic lifestyle. As happened, for example, with helminths or with the same mosquitoes.

Maxim: And that helminths weren't parasitic before?

Irina: They were free-living. Yes I remember. Reminds me of MidgasCaus now.

Maxim: Were helminths previously free-living?

Irina: Yes, and gradually they switched to life inside a person, a human body, or animals, and so on. Or is this typical for those parasites that do not live permanently in humans. But, for example, now he is showing me a mosquito and other blood-sucking insects that have also switched to the type of food that they need for reproduction precisely because a mutation has occurred there.

For example, female mosquitoes initially fed on plant pollen in the same way as males. And this was enough for them to reproduce. Then a mutation occurred that they needed blood protein. That is, it's all because of destructive plasmoids.

Maxim: That is, by changing our level of awareness of perception, by changing our vibrations, we change the ability of plasmoids to create destructive moments for us so that there are no major diseases on the planet?

Irina: Yes, that's right. Indicators of infectious diseases on any planet will increase with increasing levels of negativity in the planet’s noosphere. And vice versa, with a decrease in the level of negativity, the indicator of infectious diseases and the degree of their danger will decrease.

Maxim: That is, think well, and the mosquitoes will stop sucking, right?

Irina: This must be observed not only by individuals, but also by the majority on the planet.

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: At least 70 percent.

Maxim: We still need to get to that point, to 70 percent. Here we are only getting off with 5 percent for now. And that's probably the maximum.

Irina: When 70 percent of the adult population of the Earth live in love and light, then plasmoid civilizations will begin to calm down and create more perfect harmonious souls for insects and microorganisms. But this will not happen immediately either, but will take several years to cleanse the subtle structures of the Earth.

29:55 Cityrum about immunity and its structure, mechanism and evolution.

Maxim: I understand. Tell me, please, that the virus is a carrier of genetics. How is immunity developed in a person infected with a virus?

Irina: If in the most general terms...

Maxim: How possible.

Irina: In the most general terms, firstly, immunity is not always effective. That is, depending on what kind of virus it is. If we are talking about the rabies virus, for example, here, or about similar viruses there, or, for example, even about viruses of the “herpes” group, immunity is not effective here, because viral particles, “virions”, the so-called, very quickly come from one cell into another, respectively, bypassing when they are inside the cell, they are protected from immune attacks, including through antibodies.

Naturally, if we are talking about viruses, such as influenza virus, rotavirus and other viruses, then how does the immune response to them occur? The immune response occurs in such a way that those types of leukocytes, which are called lymphocytes, read information from cells killed by the virus about which virus, with what kinetic information caused it, and they produce special substances called antibodies. These antibodies, when they reach those viruses that have not yet entered the cells, cause them (he is now showing) to be neutralized and stick together into one large ball, which is then absorbed by those cells called monocytes or macrophages, if they live in tissues.

That is, the task of antibodies is to bind them, like catching one in a net...

Maxim: Like fish?

Irina: Because viruses are very small so that leukocytes or nitrophils, or the same monocytes, can digest them, like other bacteria. They are very small. In addition, many of them can live in the white blood cells themselves.

Maxim: Got it, very interesting. So it turns out, did I understand correctly, that when a virus enters a person’s body, it causes it to mutate?

Irina: Yes, that type of fabric. A person is made up of many types of tissue. The type of tissue that is affected by the virus, and it is always strictly specific. That is, one virus cannot infect the entire body or enter every cell. Because all cells have a different composition, for example, of the surface membrane proteins with which the virus comes into contact in order to get there.

And accordingly, in those cells into which it has already entered, it integrates its genetic information into the genome of the cell.

Maxim: Is it possible, with the help of viruses, to plan the creation of some kind of virus that will reprogram human DNA in the required order?

Irina: It's possible. But this needs to be done specifically with the cells not of the entire body, but with those cells that are used during conception. That is, the set of genes can be changed, including with the help of viruses.

Maxim: That is, if a cell is in the process of conception, then the virus that gets into this cell can create mutations?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: And here's another question. Do you know that on our planet viruses are generally created artificially?

Irina: Yes, you have such experiments. I know of several such experiments where people assemble virus genomes and certain proteins in a certain genetic sequence. Just as, for example, during cloning, the souls of viruses are also sent there, that is, they are created in this way.

35:05 Cityrum on the influence of blood type on the immune response. Viruses in reptilians. The influence of the Sun on viruses.

Maxim: In general, does a person's blood type affect how the virus will affect him?

Irina: No, she doesn't influence that. It affects the immune response.

Maxim: Which blood type has the strongest immune response?

Irina: The first one.

Maxim: The first one, right?

Irina: Why the first? Because there are carriers of the first blood group, they are so superficial, they have such an action of antigens that they have inherited the most ancient mechanisms of protection against the virus. That is, it's like the oldest blood group, that's exactly the first group.

Maxim: I understand. That is, then other groups already appeared as a result of mutation?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Other groups?

Irina: Yes, first the first, then the second, third, fourth. And if you also look at the fact that there is also what you call a negative Rh factor, then, accordingly, each of these blood groups can be positive or negative. But there are other factors that also make blood different, besides these groups.

Maxim: Is it true that we have a negative Rh factor - this is not an earthly Rh factor? Is it brought in with DNA from outside? Here are the primates that were on Earth; they only had a positive Rh factor. Rh negative appeared when mutations began to appear.

Irina: Yes, a negative Rh factor is the absence of this Rh factor in a person's blood. It appeared as a result of mutations. And by the way, there are various theories. This factor was natural in primates, it was not present in those aliens who gave you their genes, that is, in the carriers. That is, neither the representatives of Burkhad, nor the representatives of Tumisout, nor the representatives of Selbet had this factor.

Maxim: Tell me, do reptilians have viruses that affect their physical body?

Irina: In general, among reptilians?

Maxim: The reptilian race that participated in our creation.

Irina: Of course there is. They are members of the Interstellar Union, and everything is in order with their plasmoid civilizations, then their viruses are not pathogenic for them. That is, they help their cells adapt to the environment and develop. For example, absorb nutrients, perform energy exchange more efficiently, and so on.

Maxim: Does the sun have a destructive effect on our viruses?

Irina: For some - yes, for others - no. In general, not even the Sun, the stay outside the cells of the body is limited for the virus, because, depending on how much time passes, they cannot stay in the external environment for a long time and make spores, like bacteria. They can't do this. But the sun reduces the lifespan of many viruses. This surface protein that surrounds them denatures and is destroyed by sunlight.

39:00 Cityrum about different types of viruses and their effects on DNA and RNA. Immunity.

Maxim: But I also want to ask. People often ask what is the herpes virus? In general, how is this virus formed? They say that all viruses are in the person himself, they are already embedded there, they are simply held back by the immune system.

Irina: There are such viruses. For example, you asked about the herpes virus. Some of its species have already integrated their genetic material into the cells of the human race. And you have such cells. For example, we can find parts of gene fragments of these viruses in nerve cells. That is, they have already built it in.

Maxim: Built into our DNA already?

Irina: Yes, both in DNA and RNA, that is, in different structures. But the point here is that the parts themselves, these fragments of viral, genetic structures cannot be the virus itself, but simply a part of them. That is, they no longer live there themselves. It's just that they passed on their genetic information, and then the cell develops.

Maxim: What are the factors to trigger the development of this virus, which is already built into human DNA? What factors will influence this virus to begin to grow?

Irina: Now I will explain again. Imagine, for example, DNA, which consists of a chain, and each link in the chain is a specific nucleotide. This chain is surrounded by a protein shell, like a shell, such as an egg. Moreover, this shell can be of different colors: yellow, orange, green, depending on the composition of the protein.

If the virus itself lives in a cell, then it is the same as if this organism in the form of an egg entered, for example, a house, because it is very small compared to the cell. So he came to the house, and he needs the cage to prepare, instead of its own dishes, some of the dishes that the hostess prepares there, these shells. And the virus takes it and integrates it into one of these links in its chain, one might say, into the structure that prepares food.

Maxim: How interesting.

Irina: Because its preparation depends on the program, and this cell stops minding its own business and starts, because its program was rewritten, and it begins to prepare instead of the three dishes that are there for a person's lunch, it prepares only for the virus.

Maxim: I'm on my way.

Irina: Only its protein and only its genetic structures. And then new viruses gather there. That is, each of these chains is built into its own shell, and then, depending on what kind of viruses they are, if they are peaceful viruses, in symbiosis, they will carefully leave the cell so as not to destroy it. But if they are destructive, then they will either take a lot of resources from her, and she herself will die, that is, how she will collapse, or they will direct her work in such a way that her own lysosomes, which digest various structures inside, they will simply dissolve the outer shell cells, and they will come out of it, that is, they will destroy it completely.

So, if the virus has become embedded and is passed on from generation to generation, then this simply means that only a few links of the virus remain in the cell, and the rest are no longer there. Nothing will be built there anymore. This is simply an already transferred quality that the virus transferred to the cell, but it itself is not there, there are no other links that could, having been activated in this cell, build for it everything that I said. This makes it clearer, I hope?

Maxim: Yes, it's clearer. Tell me, please, the human papillomavirus, these are things that grow on the skin. What kind of virus is this? And why does he act like this?

Irina: It also causes mutations, and the cell begins to divide incorrectly, which means it is no longer in harmony with its programs. That is, what is papilloma? It's not made up of a virus, but the cells of the skin or mucous membranes themselves, which simply begin to divide in the wrong direction. This is a program change.

Maxim: Is this the same change in the program, only manifested in mutations on the skin itself?

Irina: Yes, or, for example, the virus that causes various warts does the same thing.

Maxim: I see, but how to deal with such viruses?

Irina: You see, as for the fight, that is, the destruction of the virus, there is a problem. As I already said, from immunity. While viruses are in the cell and control it, they are not accessible to the immune system, because it does not secrete anything such that the immune cells would suspect this cell of something. And how it divides there is not visible to leukocytes. If suddenly a cell begins to release some unusual proteins, which is typical for some viruses, the immune system can attack it, but, having destroyed the virus, it will destroy the cell itself. Otherwise you won't be able to get them out of there. They are there, inside.

Maxim: Got it, like “Moscow burned by fire,” right? It was impossible to get it from Moscow, it was necessary to burn all of Moscow.

Irina: Here again, imagine that this house is a cage, these small structures that resemble chicken eggs, inside of which there is such a chain, have entered. And even if the immune system guesses, these immune cells, if they guess that something wrong is happening, knocking on a window or door, they will not call these viruses from there, they will not come out.

They are hiding from the immune system. The cell itself cannot release them and drive them out, because it is completely subordinate to their program. So what remains?

Maxim: Destroy the cage.

Irina: Yes, this concerns the functioning of the immune system. So immunity can work against viruses only when they are outside the cells, at the moment when they leave it to move into others.

This is what characterizes viral diseases caused by viruses. This is a very fast spread of viruses. Because a pathogenic virus, once inside a cell, copies itself thousands of times. And he has enough cell resources for this. And the copied virus can leave the cell and enter the next one.

And just imagine, if from one cell, for example, a thousand came out. How many did they infect?

Maxim: Millions.

Irina: So, until they enter the cells, immunity can act on them. There are ways to increase immunity, namely the cells themselves, so that they do not let in these viruses. But this again depends on the virus itself, because some viruses have an outer protein shell, we will call it “capsule”. You call it capsitis, which is already close to the word “capsule”. And in this capsule there may be different proteins, there may be more than one protein. Some proteins are necessary for the cell as food. That is, they attach to the cell membrane and show with this protein that I belong. And the cell itself takes him to itself.

Maxim: That is, they adapt to the protein composition of the cell so that the cell can accept it, right?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Like a Trojan horse, do I understand correctly?

Irina: Yes, so the immune system can, with the help of antibodies, as I already said, neutralize viruses when they have already left the cells, but did not enter, did not have time to enter others. And that is why viral diseases usually occur quite acutely. But again, it depends on what viruses. If we talk in detail, for example, the influenza virus or rhinovirus, which causes diseases of the nose and throat. But it’s not as hard to bear as the flu, which is so mild.

There are 115 species of rhinoviruses alone.

Maxim: Wow, 115 types of rhinoviruses?

Irina: Serotypes, so-called, we call them species, that is, with different proteins. Just imagine that there is one virus (he is now showing), if one virus has entered a cell, into the human body. One virus. And it affects the cells of the mucous membrane, namely the upper respiratory tract, nose, larynx, and so on. Accordingly, there are cells there that are targets for it. A target means one that he can enter, but cannot enter others. Accordingly, just imagine, if one virus gets into a person and attaches itself to his cell, after 8 hours there are a thousand of these viruses. Imagine the speed.

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: And if, of course, it is just one rhinovirus, and the influenza virus also multiplies at the same speed. So, its spread by airborne droplets occurs through talking, coughing, sneezing, of course.

So in every particle of mucus that comes from a person who is already a carrier of these viruses, there is not just one virus, there are thousands of them. Of course, he can't breathe alone anymore. A healthy person, naturally, cannot inhale one virus; this is impossible. Now imagine if he inhaled a thousand, after 8 hours he could have 30 thousand. And the incubation period, that is, the latent period of the disease, namely rhinovirus, usually ranges from one to three days. How many of them will accumulate there?

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: And the symptoms will begin... At first it was a hidden period. And the symptoms will begin, that is, this is usually for the flu and ARVI, everything associated with a runny nose, fever, this is just the start of immunity. How many of them are there already, when will the immune system notice them?

Maxim: Yes, mobs.

Irina: That’s when the immunity begins. What is a rise in temperature? It begins to react (he is showing me now, yes, I remember, MidgasCaus) in such a way that the temperature in the body rises, because at elevated temperatures the progress of the viruses themselves slows down. This is an unfavorable environment for them, and they begin to move more slowly. That is, by raising the temperature to a certain threshold, the body makes it easier for leukocytes to work so that they have time to bind these viruses with antibodies before they get into other cells.

Therefore, dear friends, regarding protection against viruses. The first thing we can say here is that if it increases from a viral infection, this also applies to bacteria, it’s just that the mechanism is slightly different, but similar, so, if you lower your body temperature below 38.5 degrees, you make it difficult for your white blood cells to neutralize these viruses . They again begin to penetrate cells faster.

Maxim: So a person’s temperature is a reaction to the actions of leukocytes?

Irina: It’s not the temperature itself, it’s the reaction of the immune system as a whole, but it makes the work of leukocytes easier.

Maxim: Yes, I understand.

Irina: Why is she being promoted? That is, it is not the viruses themselves who do this; on the contrary, they are interested in normal body temperature, they multiply faster this way. Of course, if the temperature is above 38.5, a person can no longer tolerate it, then you can take antipyretic drugs. It won't do any harm. But if the temperature is lower, and the person took these drugs and brought it down, (that is, he is now showing me) how everything came back again, and they (the viruses) again begin to move quickly. And the activity of antibodies at a temperature of 37.5–38 degrees increases 3 times.

That is, exactly at this temperature. This is the first. Secondly, if a person in whom this immune fight is going on, with these viruses that have already occupied certain tissues, not the entire body, but certain tissues, if the person somehow begins to move, actively work, spend energy on something, he also reduces his immune defense by this, because he prevents him from directing energy to destroy them if he does not remain calm.

Maxim: Actually, how interesting. That is, it turns out that viruses have existed on the planet since the formation of life, relatively speaking. And they are the factor that changes this life by changing the structure of DNA. That is, it turns out that the virus affects the entire civilization.

Irina: Yes, and many viruses that live in people have special proteins that, at the moment when they move from cell to cell, seem to mask them and even suppress, sometimes, human immunity, so that these lymphocytes themselves , when they got into their midst, they died so as not to prevent them from spreading.

Maxim: What cunning viruses.

Irina: Reasonable, right? It’s just that their programs are so genetically established.

Maxim: It turns out that this one, we can’t name it on the Internet, is the last type of virus that was or is on our planet, which is slowly mutating, it has a very strong defense against our immunity, as I understand it?

Irina: He has immunity protection, but it is not the strongest. The strongest protection against immunity is found in the same rabies viruses, the herpes virus, the smallpox virus, as well as the virus, as it is called, human immunodeficiency, and the virus that you call the hepatitis C virus.

57:47 Cityrum about immunodeficiency. Bioresonance method.

Maxim: This is where you have now approached the topic of the human immunodeficiency virus.

Irina: Yes, it suppresses the immune system.

Maxim: Our scientists, at least that’s what they tell us, that they still can’t figure out what kind of virus causes human immunodeficiency. Could you tell us what the human immunodeficiency virus is? They say that this is generally some kind of comprehensive program that reduces both viruses and bacteria.

Irina: It's a virus. (He's showing me now).

Maxim: Why can’t they identify this virus?

Irina: Why can't they? There is also the sequence of his genetic program, which is determined by you.

Maxim: In general, can the human immunodeficiency virus be treated?

Irina: Now I will explain. Yes, about the treatment. The point here is that I talked about immunity. Now, as for the treatment of the human immunodeficiency virus and everyone else. Naturally, you will have a question about whether it is possible to use some kind of medication. Because people are accustomed to treating bacterial infections with an antibiotic. And, accordingly, this antibiotic kills bacteria more or less successfully, and that's all.

Viruses are more difficult here. Again, as with immunity, it is necessary for this drug to penetrate the cell. Most often, drugs of this kind, which can destroy viruses, are also toxic to the cell itself. They are destroying it.

Maxim: Interesting. It turns out that we take antiviral drugs, destroying our own cells.

Irina: There are antiviral drugs that act on viruses, specifically when they are outside the cells. And there are also antiviral drugs that kill viruses in the cells themselves, but from this they also either die or are damaged, because it is possible to completely (MidgasKaus says) destroy the virus in the cell itself without destroying or damaging it, for example, with the help of more targeted treatment methods, such as bioresonance, which operate according to frequencies.

Maxim: Oh, how interesting, that is, it turns out that one of the most effective methods of influencing viruses is the bioresonance method?

Irina: Yes, because there according to frequencies, that is (he is showing me now) each virus has frequencies, but a cell has a different frequency, these require tables. You have them.

Maxim: Yes, our scientists have. And it is precisely this organization, NASMP, the association of specialists in metaphysical practices, as well as the CASSIOPEIA Project, that use the bioresonance method, that is, we not only change the frequencies of exposure to viruses, we also restore organs and magnetic resonance structures we influence.

Irina: Yes, and if the cell and the virus have different frequencies, then by directing the frequency that can, but we don't know, destroy, but it suppresses, that is, reduces the activity of these viruses that are in the cell. And, accordingly, the virus, so to speak, goes into an inactive phase in it, when it does not destroy it. He is present there, but does not destroy it. And in the future, this cell does not transmit these viruses to other cells, since they do not leave it.

That is, (he is showing me now) like oppression. This is not how the antibiotic works, but how it inhibits its life program.

Maxim: What is more effective: using antibiotics or bioresonance?

Irina: Antibiotics are not effective against the virus at all.

Maxim: Very interesting. Okay, I get it. That is, we have so far determined that...

Irina: Yes. Now Raom Thiam, Sithiraum, Ram Thiam I wanted to call you, it's just very similar, so to speak, a little. Yes, I know him. Yes, we are similar. We know each other very well.

Indeed, (Cityraum says), perhaps Maxim wanted to ask what is more effective: antiviral or bioresonance. So you wanted to ask?

Maxim: Yes, antiviral or bioresonance? How nice it is to communicate with smart aliens. They can even correct you. Direct questions correctly.

In general, they say that our antiviral drugs that are sold are practically useless. That is, you can drink antiviral drugs and be cured in a week, or you can drink nothing and be cured in a week. Is this really true?

Irina: If you ask the question of how your antiviral drugs destroy cells, and bioresonance, which does not destroy, but gradually inhibits. Gradually, this does not happen immediately, gradually over several sessions it depresses the genetic program of the virus, and one might say, it is already losing its passion for reproduction. That is, he becomes, as oppressed as he is, half asleep. Because the frequency doesn't match. The frequency that is directed at him is the opposite of him. And it throws him off balance.

Maxim: Can I tell the secret to our audience? Dear friends, our scientists and I have now approached our own development of bioresonance structures that will work in small boxes that will affect the body, the body and, accordingly, restore some moments and suppress other destructive ones.

I will announce this soon, we already have experimental samples, and accordingly, we will use this bioresonance equipment in our Wellness Center.

Irina: Naturally, if we take what is more effective, then again depending on what virus. For example, if we take the same human immunodeficiency virus, it lives separately in the form of a lymphocyte.

Maxim: Where does the human immunodeficiency virus live?

Irina: In lymphocytes. That is, they are also divided into types there. In lymphocytes, that is, the immune cells themselves, which are actually designed to neutralize all these viruses.

Maxim: Does this virus live in lymphocytes, which are neutralized?

Irina: And it goes right into them, because (as I already said) this surface protein coincides with the protein that this lymphocyte feeds on, it kind of takes it into itself.

Maxim: A settler, is it something like that?

Irina: Demon. (Laughs).

Maxim: No, it really turns out to be a settler. It takes it, gets into the immune system and feeds there, it turns out?

Irina: And the lymphocyte, by the way, is responsible for many functions. That is, it controls other leukocytes. And when he is distracted, that is, he is distracted by this immunodeficiency virus from his tasks, he ceases to adequately and normally control other immune cells, and they no longer begin to notice those microbes and viruses. Both cancer cells and other pathogens that exist in the body begin to accumulate. And the leukocytes simply pass by them, as if their work is disrupted.

Maxim: So, why the human immunodeficiency virus? Because those cells that should be responsible for human immunity become pathogenic for the body itself.

Irina: They simply do not pay attention to pathogens. And when a microorganism begins to damage the body, they do not destroy them. And it turns out that a person...

Maxim: The immune system stops working.

Irina: Yes, and it turns out that a person can die from any scratch where these microbes get.

Maxim: How then can we influence it if this HIV affects human immune cells? How then to influence him?

Irina: It also has its own frequencies, which differ from the frequencies of the lymphocyte itself. And you can influence him with bioresonance in such a way that he... This will again happen gradually, naturally, with the removal of spiritual causes there and so on.

Maxim: Yes, without spiritual reasons here...

Irina: It is no coincidence that every person finds himself, so to speak, on the path of a carrier of this disease. This will also need to be clarified from the Higher Self. In any case, through bioresonance, a mild inhibition of human immunodeficiency viruses will occur in the lymphocyte, and they will gradually lose interest, so to speak, in controlling this lymphocyte, and it will return to its functions.

(Now he is showing me). For now, they will seem to be there, but they will not pay attention to them. For him it will just be a program that means nothing. This will all happen gradually.

Maxim: Very cool. That is, it turns out that the cure for AIDS that all people are looking for is now embedded in the structure of bioresonance.

Irina: It's not even a medicine...

Maxim: And the ability to extinguish this virus in a person.

1:08:39 Cityrum on the effect of prayer on the virus. Mental conversation with viruses.

Irina: Yes, also with any virus, including the human immunodeficiency virus, you can work energetically, rebuilding your etheric matrices of the cells where it lives, and turning to the virus itself, with a request to reduce its danger to the cell, and argue for this that when the cell is destroyed, they can be destroyed themselves. That is, he now shows how to talk.

Maxim: Irin, I remember your recent meditation, specifically aimed at the microbiome. Communication is precisely with these structures.

Irina: Only this must be done more than once if a person has it, but it has already been done many times.

Maxim: That is, we have come to the point that it turns out that viruses and bacteria can be influenced with the help of prayer. Is it possible to influence them through prayer?

Irina: If a person believes in this, he can protect himself, of course, with the help of prayer. That is, this is how faith protects, as well as from any disease. But here we propose a more directed mental process - conversation with microorganisms and harmonization, because they contain instinctive programs created by intelligent Spirits, plasmoids. And with these bright thoughts, a person can change these instinctive programs and transfer them in his body to the non-pathogenic section. And you contain very, very many non-pathogenic microorganisms, including viruses.

1:10:29 Cityrum about the emergence and spread of viruses on Earth. Specificity of viruses. Plant viruses.

Maxim: Please tell me, this HIV virus that we are talking about now, when did it appear on the planet? Did this happen recently or has it always existed?

Irina: It was discovered recently, but it existed around the period of the fifteenth century. That is, it was created by mutation from another virus.

Maxim: That is, since the fifteenth century it could have spread.

Irina: Only it was discovered recently, relatively recently on Earth.

Irina: I also want to tell you that not all viruses have been discovered by you; many of them have not been detected.

Maxim: Judging by what is happening, yes.

Irina: I'll say now that there are approximately 120 million types of viruses on Earth.

Maxim: How much?

Irina: If you take them all, bacteriophages, viruses that act on bacteria. They also have their own viruses. You know about this, right?

Maxim: I'll find out now. I just wasn't very good with biology.

Irina: You know, every cell, almost every cell, be it a plant cell, be it a cell of a protozoan such as an amoeba, that is, the simplest single-celled animal, be it a fungal cell, be it an animal or human cell, practically has its own viruses. Do you understand what I mean now?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: That is, the amoeba...

Maxim: Any building material that contains a nutrient medium has viruses.

Irina: Yes, which can only reproduce in her, not in others. That is, we call them strictly specific to a particular species. For example, E. coli has its own viruses that enter it and destroy it. Staphylococcus aureus has its own viruses that do not affect E. coli, but only act on Staphylococcus aureus. Do you know what I mean?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Vibrio cholerae has its own viruses. Vibrio is the name of a microbe. And in the same way, plants have viruses. For example, you know that the first virus that you discovered was generally described as a virus, as something that can infect, but is not a bacterium; it did not belong to human viruses, but specifically to plant viruses.

Maxim: I didn't know that. This is some news for me. So the first virus that was discovered was a plant virus?

Irina: Yes, and it was called the tobacco mosaic virus. A very large virus that caused the leaves of tobacco, which was grown industrially at that time, to develop a disease (he is showing me now) that manifested itself first as spots, and then as drying of the leaves, and so on. Naturally, this was not profitable for tobacco manufacturers, and they sent many scientists to identify that this was happening to them. And scientists began to look for what lives there in these leaves. And thus, we found the first virus that you identified, the tobacco mosaic virus. It does not pose any danger to humans, but it can infect other plant species (he is showing me now), like the nightshade family.

Maxim: I understand, very interesting.

Irina: I think it's interesting.

1:14:34 Cityroom about virus mutations.

Maxim: But the question they asked was this. Could, for example, a mutation of the virus appear in the Yeti, and then this virus spread to us, to people?

Irina: Yes, of course. You have one gene pool, one genetics.

Maxim: And it turns out that the virus can be transmitted from monkeys.

Irina: There must already be a stronger mutation there, because you still differ more than from the Yeti.

Maxim: Sithiraum, please tell me, there is just an assumption that the HIV virus actually appeared in humans from monkeys. This is true?

Irina: There are similar viruses in the monkeys themselves (he’s showing me now), that is, which also cause immunodeficiency in them. And they are indeed related to the human immunodeficiency virus, but there is no direct evolutionary connection. That is, it evolved from other viruses, which (he’s showing me now) previously lived not in animals or people, but in general in some protozoa, such as ciliates. This is not an amoeba, I just don't know their name (he's just showing the image now).

Maxim: He says that this image is not in the contactee's memory.

Irina: There is an image. No, this is not a slipper ciliate, Mead is telling me now, because it is a certain species. I'll just say now that the species of protozoa, which belong to the flagellates, is a close relative of the human Trichomonas. Only this is very similar to a species such as intestinal Trichomonas. He now shows that there are three types of them in humans: oral, intestinal and vaginal.

Maxim: Oral, genital and intestinal.

Irina: That's what it's called. Where she was found, that's what she was called. Everything is simple there. And these protozoa, which are this close relative of the intestinal Trichomonas, that is, a very close species, they simply lived (he now shows) initially, these protozoan organisms lived in the intestines of rodents. And this virus mutated from them, which later became the immunodeficiency virus, according to our data.

Maxim: I see, everything is very interesting, in fact.

Irina: One slightly mutates into the other.

Maxim: Yes, one mutates into the other. But tell me, please, it turns out that we will never get rid of viruses. They will always mutate. They will always be with us, it turns out. Or do we, humanity, have the opportunity to get rid of viruses?

Irina: Just like from bacteria, no. This is your biosphere.

Maxim: Our biosphere in which we are located, right?

Irina: Your earthly biosphere. And I want to say what I said, that there are about 120 million types of viruses. As far as I know, according to your scientific data, your scientists have described somewhere around 6 thousand of them.

Maxim: 120 million, and our scientists have described only 6000?

Irina: Yes, what percentage?

Maxim: In general, it turns out that it's not that we are not yet able to study the Universe, we haven't even studied the inner microcosm yet.

Irina: Yes, and you have studied no more than five percent of all bacteria.

1:18:31 Cityrum about the appearance of bacteria. Viruses on the planet Burhad.

Maxim: How did bacteria appear in general?

Irina: Different bacteria appeared through evolution. By evolutionary means, that is, different species appeared as if from one. And then through mutations they diverged more and more.

Maxim: That is, they got from one place of the animal to another place of the animal, right?

Irina: Yes, in different ways.

Maxim: In different ways, right? Someone ate someone, someone pooped on someone. I understand. Tell me, please, but you, Sithiraum, on the planet Burkhad, do you currently have viruses that you are suffering from?

Irina: No, we do not have pathogenic bacteria or viruses. We had similar diseases before, in the early period on our planet, but as we cleared our noosphere, they became less and less, and during the period when they existed, we also used various methods, medicines, preventive medicine and so on. And now that we have harmonized relations with plasmoid civilizations, all the microorganisms of our planet serve the benefit of the intelligent beings of Burkhad.

Maxim: Wow. Everything is serious there. We're just playing around here, it turns out we're not friends with viruses, right?

Irina: I believe that (he is telling me now) in our educational institutions, in schools, they always talk in biology classes, as you would say, about the role of the microworld, how to work with it, how to communicate, how to harmonize them, and , accordingly, it is imperative to work with your body, because it is all connected. And, accordingly, those microbes and viruses that exist in our biosphere are different in structure than on Earth, they do not harm us. They are created for different purposes, including those that regulate the number of plants and animals.

Maxim: So, viruses still have a regulatory function to control and regulate something?

Irina: Their numbers, yes. Just as predators have a function to control the population of certain animals that they feed on, so do viruses and bacteria.

1:21:18 Cityrum about the role of viruses in the occurrence of cancer. Papilloma virus.

Maxim: Cityrum, please tell us, but what we call cancer, our scientists call cancer... There was a conference on cancer. And there you explained everything very well, explained what cancer is. Can viruses cause further cancer?

Irina: Precancerous. They can cause mutations, which, when added to them, also have spiritual causes. That is, if it's just a virus, but there are no spiritual reasons, then they can't. And if there is already a virus, then these are spiritual causes... and there are spiritual causes of cancer, then the presence of some viruses will accelerate the appearance of this tumor.

Maxim: I see.

Irina: For example, this is typical for the same papilloma viruses.

Maxim: So the human papillomavirus is one of the possible variations where cancer can form?

Irina: They cause such mutations in the cells where they live, which, if there are also spiritual reasons, can lead to the imbalance of these cells and their transformation into cancer, and only then to their growth and nutrition with the nutrients a person eats, and, accordingly, to tumor growth.

Maxim: Dear friends, if you like our live broadcasts, please like and subscribe to the channel. Why? Because you are helping. And if anyone wants to help me, as the project manager, build a children's center, you can take a screenshot from the screen, there is a QR code, and with this you will help me quickly build our children's development center "CASSIOPEIA" in Voronezh. Tell me, please, Cityrum, are there any microorganisms that help in the fight against the virus?

Irina: I understand what you are asking. There are rather viruses that help in the fight against bacteria. But bacteria are not dangerous for viruses.

Maxim: For viruses, I don’t understand, again.

Irina: For the viruses themselves, they are very small, bacteria do not pose any danger to them, they are invisible to them. But for some bacteria, the viruses that live in them pose a danger.

Maxim: So bacteria can also become infected with viruses?

Irina: Yes, and pass it on to each other. For example, phages, bacteriophages up to the same Vibrio cholerae can transmit this bacteriophage to each other, and their entire colony will die. The same is true for Staphylococcus aureus, Proteus vulgaris, Pseudomonas aeruginosa and many other bacteria.

1:24:17 Cityrum about the effect of aromatherapy on viruses.

Maxim: I see, in our project MidgasCaus gave a certain group of essential oils that can be used to restore the integrity of the chakra structure and etheric fields of the body. Please tell me, is it possible to fight viruses with aromatic oils?

Irina: You can prevent it from entering the body. For example, there is the respiratory tract. Are you inhaling?

Maxim: Well, yes.

Irina: That is, it’s like, rather, it’s like prevention, so as not to get sick, not to become infected, especially with those viruses that are transmitted by airborne droplets.

Maxim: So aroma oils can be used as a preventive measure?

Irina: Yes. For example, from influenza viruses, other acute respiratory viral infections, the same rhinovirus, adenovirus, and so on. Yes, he's just saying now that...

Maxim: Is there any...

Irina: Yes, essential oils, for example, fir, eucalyptus, basil, cloves and so on, pine, incense is very good. He is now simply listing the list: lavender, tea tree, very well, these essential oils destroy the virus that has entered and has not yet entered the cell.

Maxim: We practically have everything in the set: lavender, eucalyptus, we don’t have eucalyptus there.

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Yes, there is, for sure, there is also eucalyptus.

Irina: Very good, by the way, I have a very good smell, I want to say that in terms of smell, action, and vibration, it’s not at all comparable to pharmaceutical oils, because I compared it.

Maxim: Yes, guys, by the way, we have elite essential oils, they are absolutely natural and with an absolutely affordable price tag so that you can use them.

Irina: I even have some that I bought at the pharmacy, and which are here, you can compare...

Maxim: You can try and compare, yes.

1:26:34 Cityrum on the prevention of diseases, including seasonal ones.

Maxim: So, then we move on, we move on regarding viruses. What, what should you use, or what should you do in order to carry out prevention against, say, seasonal viral diseases?

Irina: It depends.

Maxim: I have such a task, I don’t want to get sick with any viruses. What should I do for this?

Irina: For example, if we take rhinovirus, as I already said, there are 115 species, that enter a person and cause mild viral diseases. It’s not like the flu, which is pain in the muscles, there’s something else, but specifically the upper respiratory tract: cough, sore throat, runny nose and very often lacrimation, that is, like tears. This is considered a common virus. They are the most common among people. How

The more crowds there are, the more people walk around.

He is now telling me that a person can get several of them from different people at once, several rhinoviruses at once. And when they enter cells, they can exchange identical information with each other, and a new mutation is obtained.

Maxim: Wow, like a viral mess. But please tell me another question.

Irina: For example, there is no such measure against them as preventive vaccinations. You don't use them against rhinoviruses. It makes no sense to get 115 vaccinations.

Maxim: Yes, against every rhinovirus.

Irina: Yes, you can come up with some ten or fifteen, but no one will waste the production of pharmaceutical companies, understanding that the rhinovirus can be anything that gets into a person. It won't be effective. Therefore, prevention here is to increase your immunity. This means that your immune system, if it is healthy, reacts to the introduction of this virus before there is major damage to your respiratory tract. And it depends on the strength of your immune system. What is the degree of immunity strength? This is the ability to quickly recognize danger.

Maxim: How should one train the immune system so that it recognizes viruses? Breathe these viruses?

Irina: General training of the immune system is a proper varied diet, a sufficient amount of sleep, a lack of stress, physical movements too, hardening, but it must be competent so that the person does not become hypothermic, so that he gets a kind of shake-up in the body.

That is, all this strengthens the immune system, and this is a natural use of vitamins. Vitamin D strengthens the immune system, vitamin A, vitamin C. (He is showing me now). And of course, this also means working with bacteria in your own intestines, because 50 percent of your immune system depends on the work of the microbiome that is created in your intestines.

1:30:24 Cityrum about the Cassiopeia Energy complex and its effect on human immunity.

Maxim: Cityraum, can I ask you a question through Irina? We have such a product, called “Cassiopeia Energy”. Tell me, please, can Cassiopeia Energy improve immunity?

Irina: Now he counts vibrations through me.

Maxim: Yes, I’m even interested.

Irina: So, it contains a complex of carbohydrates, proteins, minerals, vitamins, as well as etheric vibrations, plants. Here he is showing it to me now. Yes, this is really dried juice, so this complex affects...

Maxim: It’s not just dried, it’s freeze-dried, that is, it’s cryo-frozen.

Irina: I want to say that these are not dried leaves, for example. Because dried leaves are just leaves, and this is like an extract of a plant, but only it is dry.

Maxim: In one small bottle there is a bucket of these squeezed leaves.

Irina: Yes, that is, this is an extract, it’s not just taking a leaf and making it. It's juice, but in dry form. Yes, dry juice.

Maxim: Yes, yes.

Irina: I imagined this as a child, when they told me what dry was. Yes, I imagined this as a child, when I heard the expression dry wine, I thought it was powder. And this is dry juice.

Maxim: Yes, so what is he?

Irina: How does it affect the body? Yes, it nourishes the immune cells and makes them stronger.

Maxim: Oh, guys, it also increases libido and potency.

Irina: By the way, these things are also related to immunity.

Maxim: Yes, for example, I drink “Cassiopeia Energy”, I understand that everything increases very strongly, I even thought a little, maybe I should stop drinking it already. So, people are interested in the question, this is the virus that now, you can’t call it, but which has really swept across the planet in a big wave, which has already acquired repeated mutations. Now there is already some fourth or fifth mutation in this virus. Is it really a virus or is it a bacteria?

Irina: Virus.

Maxim: Virus, that is, it’s real...

Irina: Intracellular virus, yes.

Maxim: Great, so that’s why, guys, those who asked, the answer came quickly.

And besides hardening, besides prevention, are there any other...? Bioresonance, we have now found out that it has a very good effect on the immune system.

Irina: Working with mental meditations aimed at...

Maxim: That is, increasing the level of awareness and perception, raising one's vibrations so that one can prevent viruses from being in the fields of the person himself.

Irina: Yes, by the way, at the suggestion of MidgasCaus, I did a meditation this Friday on the topic of the live broadcast, so to speak, which was called "Harmonization with the microbiome." Those who have not gone through it, you can go through it, there we agreed with the microbes and viruses in our body and sent them the light of love, and asked them to switch to exchanges that were more harmonious for our body.

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: Maxim was just going through meditation.

Maxim: Yes, yes.

Irina: What do you say?

Maxim: Well, what can I say, I came to an agreement with all my viruses. There is still some small, small, slightly nasal congestion left. And that's all they are already.

Irina: And this cleaning is underway.

Maxim: Did our specialists just come along with the head of NASMTU? And they supplied me with such things. They gave me some needles, by the way.

Irina: So I say, cleansing.

Maxim: They put some different sticks with wormwood on different points for me. In fact, everything works very well, everything is very effective, so I highly, highly recommend it. And in general, you know, having become acquainted with the NASMTU organization, I realized that it has gathered a huge number of very cool, cool, smart people who have been studying esotericism and our science for a long time and have been combining esotericism and science for a long time. That is, I, as the head of the Project, had a dream to unite esotericism and science, but it turns out that they have been uniting for a long time, we just didn't know each other well yet.

1:35:43 Cityrum about su-joku and immunity. Hepatitis C virus and its rapid mutation.

Maxim: I probably interrupted Sithiraum. Was there something he wanted to say?

Irina: What did you want to say? He wanted to say that you started talking about su-jok.

Maxim: Yes, it's called su-jok.

Irina: Su-jok is an effect on points on the palm, on a person's feet, (he is now showing me) some on the ears. There are such bioactive points, they are affected by a variety of things, either massage, or, as you say, wormwood sticks.

Maxim: Yes, sticks, they are interesting, like rivets.

Irina: Yes, this is an effect on bioactive points, just like acupuncture still exists. All these methods also increase immunity.

Maxim: This is the first time in my life that I do acupuncture. Such a big needle, and he inserted it right into my arm.

Irina: Yes, I don't.

Maxim: Yes, at some very necessary point they inserted this needle into my arm, and then I walked for about 45 minutes, probably with it. A very, very interesting procedure.

So, about viruses, bacteria and everything else. That is, it turns out, hardening, proper nutrition, vitamins.

Irina: Rest.

Maxim: Rest. Basically, everything you need for spiritual development.

Irina: No stress.

Maxim: No stress. Generally wonderful. Also, what would our interstellar friends recommend? They didn't even recommend anything; we didn't agree on ours regarding the virus. Is there a possibility that the existing virus began to mutate and stopped half of the planet? Could it be that a new outbreak of this disease will appear?

Irina: Yes, of course, a new outbreak of influenza may appear, for example. He mutates quickly, like anyone else. But there are viruses that mutate even faster. If we take, for example, human viruses, the record holder for mutation is the hepatitis C virus. It mutates very quickly, and the immune system does not have time to develop any antibodies against it.

Maxim: So, he is constantly in mutations? That is, he escapes immunity.

Irina: Each copy he released is somehow different from its progenitor.

Maxim: How interesting. She sews different outfits for herself.

So, it turns out that viruses...And against bacteria, we have specialized drugs that fight bacteria.

Irina: There are antimicrobial drugs, if we take drugs. There are antibiotics and there are phages, bacteriophages. These are just viruses, a large number of viruses contained in a liquid against a specific bacterium.

Maxim: Here's a question about bioresonance. We have already talked about bioresonance. Is it possible to cure diabetes mellitus with bioresonance?

Irina: You can support the body. It depends on what type it is, depending on how much damage there is to all organs, not just the pancreas (gland), such as the liver, kidneys, eyes, skin. Everything needs to be restored. Accordingly, it is necessary to look (he tells me) what the composition of the blood is, how much iron is there, how thick it is, this all depends on many factors (depends). But in principle, it can support the human body, provided it is properly nourished, again lacks stress and removes the spiritual causes of this disease.

1:39:35 Cityrum about the role of hirudotherapy, bell ringing, and Bulgarian stick in the fight against viruses and bacteria.

Maxim: Guys, I thank you. In fact, I am not an expert in these matters, and, of course, broadcasting is very interesting. Why? Because I probably asked the questions that most ordinary people can ask. And there are now a huge number of people on our broadcast who asked their questions.

Irina: Which ones?

Maxim: Now, two seconds, I'll look now.

Does hirudotherapy help against viruses and bacteria?

Irina: It removes... Rather, it removes toxins. That is, already dead from toxins, that is, decay products, bacteria, viruses and dead cells.

Maxim: Does ringing a bell affect viruses? They say that in the past, during epidemics, bells were specially rung.

Irina: No, it doesn't affect the viruses themselves, it can affect the plasmoids that they create. That is, create a more favorable energy environment in this place. And this can reduce the intensity of the spread of pathogenic viruses.

Maxim: So now we influence, it turns out, through the bell on the dad, and not on the children, right?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: The one who created them.

Irina: Yes, especially if this bell ringing is not just a bell ringing, but is connected with prayer, for people, for peace on planet Earth, for the cleansing of the noosphere. And if this prayer, the ringing of bells is accompanied by a change in people's behavior, if they stop carrying negativity.

Maxim: Got it. In principle, everything about viruses and bacteria is clear to me.

I also wanted to ask, let's say we have this drug called Bulgarium," this is a Bulgarian stick. Does the Bulgarian bacillus help in working with viruses?

Irina: Yes, it works exactly, it restores the bacterial balance in the intestines, which properly adjusts the immune system, that is, these leukocytes, lymphocytes. There are many lymph nodes around the intestines. And there is contact between the intestinal flora and lymphocytes. And there they learn how to properly produce antibodies. And it's the bacteria that help them do this.

Maxim: I understand. Cityrum, MidgasCaus, it's always a pleasure to see, hear, and feel you.

Guys, if you liked the broadcast, give it a like. The most important thing, I want to remind you again, is that literally in a week from the 19th to the 23rd we will be in Moscow with Irina and Ilya Alexandrov. We have a five-day retreat - The Science of Imagery, Astral Travel. I want to tell you a secret that later, after this seminar, Irina, if you are a real contactee, will take you to an appointment. So come, we will be very glad to see you. I'll get to know you better there together. Therefore, see you again on live broadcasts. Thank you all very much. Goodbye everyone.

Irina: Thank you all. Until next time.

December 10, 2023

Conference participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Maxim Rusan – head of the CASSIOPEIA Project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien life forms and space civilizations;

Sithiraum is a representative of the planet Burhad, a healer, a biologist, and is responsible for healing sessions.

00:38 MidgasKaus about the mental processing of people before the war.

Maria: Irochka, good afternoon! We greet you from Germany. Very glad to hear you.

Irina: Thank you very much, I am very glad to hear from you and congratulate you on the Dormition of the Blessed Virgin Mary!

Maria: Thank you very much!

Lyudmila: Thank you!

Maria: I have a question for our curators: Mead and LiScioni as scientists. At one time they underwent specialized training for contact with earthlings, with us, and I would like to know about the features of this training. What, for example, about us was unexpected or difficult for them to perceive? What did they learn about our civilization that makes us very different?

Irina: This is a question for which of them?

Maria: I think to Mead, because he is more familiar with us.

Irina: To Mid? (MidgasCaus) Yes, I recently studied. Relatively recently - LiSioni is older than me. And I recently studied, in the twentieth century, let’s say so, because I was born in 1932, and already at that time I was studying. What surprised me, you ask, about training to become an Earth contactee curator?

Maria: Yes.

Irina (MidgasKaus): I was surprised by the presence of brutal wars, just that. When I was studying, World War II had recently ended on Earth. In our Galaxy, including our teachers, they talked a lot about this. They talked a lot about how this war began, under what pretext it began, who supported it, for what purpose. What images were built before the war in order to turn against their brothers and sisters of Divine origin in such a way that they could forget about this Divine origin of everyone and begin to lead them out of incarnation. That is, as part of the Science of Imagery, I studied how this could be done, but I was surprised that it was relatively easy to do.

I also studied the history of the Russian Revolution. And I was also surprised how the image created by the creator of the revolution attracted the minds of many, many people who were ready to sacrifice their lives and others without fulfilling the tasks of their incarnation, I tried to figure out what lowered their vibrations to such an extent that they stopped hearing the voice of conscience as the Higher Self inside your heart. And then I was very surprised by how easily many people went for it.

04:17 The connection between the human brain and spiritual energies.

Maria: What forced them, why was it possible?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Image. Faith in the image. You people have a very strong faith, a very strong faith that overrides not only conscience as the Higher Self, but also your own instinct of self-preservation. This suggests that your brain is structured in such a way that through it you can be very strongly influenced by spiritual energies, for example, the energy of faith, it’s just a matter of where and how to turn this influence: towards development or towards degradation, that is vibration reduction.

Maria: So the representatives of the Interstellar Union are not so easy to convince with images?

Irina (MidgasKaus): The fact is that here (he smiles) everyone studies the Science of Imagery from childhood. If either our government or some private company shows us some kind of bright image and, with the help of this bright image, calls for the violation of Divine universal laws, then we will immediately have doubts that this image leads to the Light, fortunately. All our children learn that with the help of images you can create both a true picture of events and the Universe, and a false, illusory picture. And I was even more surprised when I arrived on Earth that in your schools children are not taught the Science of Imagery in this vein.

Maria: I see. At that time we were at a different stage in the development of our civilization, at which, as we now know, many civilizations of the Interstellar Union were.

06:38 LiSioni about the Code of Civilizations, government and laws of the Interstellar Union.

Irina: LiShioni says: “Can I say why I was surprised?”

Maria: Yes, of course.

Irina (LiShioni): I listened to MidgasKaus. Yes, I studied before and witnessed the First World War, the Second World War, and the Cold War between the USSR and the USA. All this caused a decrease in vibrations, fear among many peoples, and anger. Many blocks were formed, including from childhood among different nations, because of this. I was surprised that your system, I wouldn’t even say the system of government, (the system of government did not surprise me at all), I was surprised by the absence of any effective law of public control over the laws adopted in your society, if you understand what I’m talking about .

Maria: Of course we understand. We, too, have, one might say, survived several systems in our short life.

Irina (LiShioni): Our system is clear. The Interstellar Union has existed for 15 million years. Shimor, where I come from, was just one of the firstborn of the Interstellar Union, which created this Interstellar Union, when there were no other civilizations, very many civilizations, yet in it. We (not me specifically, but our ancestors, together with the ancestors of the Tumesoutians, Burkhadians and other races, including one race that originated from Sirius, and one race that originated precisely from the Lyra Constellation), we all together created a common code. Not even a code, but a set of codes on the interaction of civilizations in the Interstellar Union. And each planet that entered into it, in turn, accepted these laws and brought its planetary laws into conformity with ours - this was one of the conditions for entry.

We have a clear understanding of the role of the ruler. It is always a Spirit that is endowed with special powers by God himself, the Creator through the Consulting Angels who brought him into incarnation so that he would achieve power and rule this society. To lead him to perfection by creating progressive light high-vibration laws that reduce stress from any negative manifestation of either low-vibration people, criminals, or the world around him. These laws in every possible way contribute to the development of spiritual qualities in the hearts of all Spirits that are embodied in the territory governed by this ruler. All this is written down in the special Code of the Ruler, which he accepts voluntarily when he is elevated to his post.

The same Code states that if he adopts a law, he first puts it forward for public discussion. If the majority of his wards approve it, so to speak, he then introduces it, carefully introduces it, constantly receiving feedback locally, in regions and regions about the reaction of society to the introduction of this law and about all the problems. If something goes wrong, society has the right to cancel the introduction of this law or some of its individual articles.

Maria: Thank you, very interesting.

Irina: Well, how do you like this kind of government?

Maria: The government, of course, is very wise and ideal by our standards, but, as you know, there are many different countries on our planet with different systems and with different interests and ambitions.

Irina: He now says that some civilizations of the Interstellar Union have only one country, and some also have many states.

Maria: But you understand perfectly well that all countries are interdependent and interact with each other, so you have to go not only your own way, but also adapt, somehow interact and work together with other countries, and this is not always easy.

12:28 Maria Sokalskaya about the image of the future of the majority of earthlings.

Irina (LiShioni): For example, on the planet Shimor, where I live, all my friends, my relatives and also my students (I have students there whom I teach to be more conscious in the Astral and self-healing in the Astral, I am a teacher there on this subject) are asked about the Earth. I tell them about how I contact you. I get asked a lot of questions about why earthlings do not have a single image of a happy future, when everyone lives in peace, harmony and love, rationally and lovingly using natural resources for the benefit of everyone. This will also increase your overall level of happiness.

Maria: I think the members of Cassiopeia would be very happy for everyone to have such a unified image throughout the entire planet, so we are working on this.

Irina (LiShioni): But why isn't it accepted? This image exists in your media space and interests many Shimorians: why few, relatively few, accept it.

Maria: I can answer this question for them.

Irina: Yes, I will tell them your answer.

Maria: LiShioni, you know, the fact is that the Spirits who incarnate on our planet, finding themselves in very harsh material conditions, are forced not only to think about their spiritual development. They must somehow interact here, find opportunities for survival and interaction with other Spirits, who also sometimes find themselves in very difficult circumstances and forget about their spiritual origin. Therefore, we have especially difficult conditions for development here, because we are not isolated from each other, but must interact and react to the circumstances and conditions that other Spirits create for us.

Irina (LiScioni): Yes, I told them this, and to this they asked me a counter question: “If these Spirits live in such cramped difficult conditions to achieve personal happiness, then according to the logic of things and the law of the desire for happiness, which is inherent in every a rational being, they, on the contrary, should be more attracted to this bright idea that I spoke about.”

Maria: The fact is that the development of an individual largely depends on the development of the ideals and attitudes of the society in which he is located, respectively, parents, small cells in which a person begins his incarnation and development. Therefore, if over a long period of time the majority of incarnated Spirits have chosen a negative path of development or negative attitudes for their development, then by inertia the majority of Spirits create for themselves precisely such negative mental images according to which their happiness should and can be achieved through the misfortune of other Spirits. This, unfortunately, is a misconception of so many people on our planet, so this is again the same long process of learning to realize.

Irina: What is your level of responsible empathy?

Maria: Very low.

Irina: I (laughs) now I don’t quite understand either the question or the answer, but I hope Masha understands.

17:10 Representatives of the Interstellar Union about the level of development of Earth's civilization.

Maria: Yes, I understand him perfectly. As you know, our civilization is much younger in its development. We only really started to evolve again 12,000 years ago. We can say that we are quickly catching up on what we have lost. I'm interested to hear from our friends: how do the Interstellar Union and those curators who lead us and watch us evaluate our civilization, its development, taking into account the conditions and circumstances that have set us back in comparison with other similar civilizations?

Irina (LiShioni): MidgasKaus and I regularly attend meetings of the Interstellar Union, especially those dedicated to young races and Earth in particular. We go there as representatives of the Space Administration for contacts with alien races that are not included in the Interstellar Union. Indeed, the question you just asked comes from some civilizations, from the same Lyrans, for example, who do not interact with you as closely at the present time as the civilizations of Shimor, Esler and Burkhad.

When answering this question, and I also answered it at the meeting of the Interstellar Union, I always emphasize that your civilization is moving at an accelerated pace along the path of evolution that it should have taken in three million years. The civilization that existed at the time of the war had some problems associated with contacts with negative plasmoids, with a reluctance to follow the path of technical development, there was some resistance to the development of technology, that is, some such dissolution in nature, but these problems were completely surmountable at that time time. But those events that you already know under the name "War with Selbet" were not just a war of star powers equal to each other or comparable in strength. In a sense, it was precisely, one might say figuratively, the beating of infants, if you understand this image.

Maria: Yes, this image is clear to us.

Irina: And this threw your civilization back, one might say, into a primitive system. And not only was it thrown back into the primitive system in the material sense, in the sense of resources, in the sense of the use of various technical devices, most of all it was thrown back into the primitive system in the field of consciousness and in the field of trust of earthly people in interstellar friends, in contacts with them. But this is understandable, many tens of millions of people died in this war, when some of the best friends of the people who had previously stood next to them and showed them how to use, one might say, agricultural tools, held a hoe together, and then suddenly they attacked. Do you understand how stressful it was?

Maria: This is not only stress, one might say, the entire paradigm and worldview, the trust in one's once gods, have been destroyed.

Irina: Yes, these are gods. (LiScioni) So it didn't just impact the generation that was there. This was also included in the egregor, in the egregors of the noosphere, which were included as an integral part of the noosphere of the planet. This egregor was strengthened over time by the fact that other people, as the descendants of these people, began to trust the aliens themselves, interstellar friends, much less, and also very often began to have a negative attitude towards those earthly contactees who still found the strength to make contact with representatives humanoid civilizations. This is all, of course, understandable, all of this was healed over time, overcome to a greater extent, but even now it has an impact, for example, on the general understanding of aliens and their role in the Universe, which you can see by the creation of a negative image of aliens.

Maria: Yes, our science fiction films, unfortunately, mostly portray aliens in a negative light, although there are also positive ones.

Irina (LiScioni): The authors of science fiction film scripts and science fiction writers who describe negative scenarios of some kind of attack on the Earth are realizing either their internal memory of the conflict in which they participated, for example, in a past life, or they take it from egregors of the planet. They can also take it from contacts with plasmoid civilizations, who also observed this whole picture of the destruction of some dense material civilizations by others. For them it was the arrival of a stream, one might say, of flesh being burned alive. And because it burns alive, a large amount of negative energy is released into the plasmoid worlds. They also had a negative experience.

Despite this, your civilization still overcame some negative aspects, mainly such as the slave system, lack of care for children and the elderly, and so on, which were only a few hundred years ago on Earth, I mean the lack of public care, but now it's in the past.

But there are still those problems that I mentioned in connection with wars, with the creation of negative images and so on, with the death penalty. Planet Burkhad, planet Shimor, Esler, everyone who works with you feels very great compassion and sympathy for you. To those who turned out to be, one might say, with a 12 thousand-year history. We (especially the representatives of the planet Burkhad and the Ashtar civilization) also feel our personal responsibility, because in time, as they believe, they were not able to convince the Selbetites with any counterarguments. Give them more reasonable arguments that would reach their hearts, and so that this does not happen. And that's why they care about you, about the development of your civilization, about finding contactees, often even forgetting about themselves.

Maria: Thank you very much, we feel it, especially in the project.

26:13 Consequences of the war with Selbet.

Maria: And this is a question for our friends. If the war with Selbet had not occurred, our civilization would probably already be in the Interstellar Union? Or is this a longer process?

Irina (LiShioni): Perhaps there would be, such an option was being looked at. But there were other options. In any case, as I already said, after all this happened, those people who survived on Earth, and then the rescued ones were brought back from the lunar bases by representatives of the Interstellar Union, they had to start all over again. Also in dramatically changed conditions, and not just a different climate, but an unstable climate, because the Moon, which became the Earth's satellite, initially had an unstable orbit, and it often caused large ebbs and flows, volcanic eruptions and so on, all this is still stabilized for some time and caused natural disasters.

Maria: Thank you very much. I give the floor to Luda for one more question.

27:48 The cyclical nature of the development of civilization.

Lyudmila: Since one of my professions is a historian, I am very interested in the question. Our friends are considering, after the war everything is clear there, the development of our civilization, the historical process of planet Earth should be linear from worse to progress, or is it still some more complex, structural process? Because in the history of the Earth, as I studied, there were different periods, different types of culture: Antiquity, the Middle Ages, the Renaissance. Unfortunately, then, somewhere in the middle of the 18th century, a period of developing and strengthening materialism began.

I have the impression that our friends studied our history mainly from such a materialistic period, but both Antiquity and the Middle Ages brought a lot of fruits of thought and culture in the history of mankind. And these were different stages of development, despite, say, slavery in Antiquity, but thanks to this method of production, Antiquity gave wonderful examples of its culture, its art, which still delight people. In the Middle Ages, spirituality and ideality were developed more, ideal images were created. But, unfortunately, I repeat, in the 19th century somehow materialism began to take over, how do they think about themselves?

Irina (MidgasKaus): You see, in Antiquity there was a time when, on the one hand, beautiful sculptures, paintings, as well as literary works, poems, and various plays that were very beautiful were created. At that time, people lived completely differently. They had very developed imaginative thinking.

At present, although there are more people on Earth, and they live in easier physical, material conditions than there were several thousand years ago in the territory of Ancient Hellas, now many people are content with searching for some ready-made images. They can be found, one might say, on any TV, any computer, and this reduces the desire and ability to create something yourself in the form of sculpture or in the fine arts, this is a decrease in imaginative thinking, and even more so, this is facilitated by your education, which is more focused on the verbal-logical component than on images.

Maria: So now we still have a cyclical path of development? There are ups and downs again for some reason, downturns in development.

Irina (MidgasKaus): They happen, yes. In general, according to the teachings of the Interstellar Union, any path of development of civilization or the Universe is cyclical. And it's not just cyclical, but exists in the form of a spiral (shows the turns).

Maria: Are our turns still going up?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, I have already said that even over the last few hundred years, your civilization has gotten rid of many negative phenomena that were common in the past and also caused a decrease in the vibrations of society and egregors.

Maria: I see, okay, thank you very much. Next question.

32:00 Immortality of the Spirit. The meaning of the multiple incarnation of the Spirit.

Lyudmila: Irochka, a question about the Soul and the cycles of incarnation. I don't know, maybe this question has been asked before, I'm just curious, I'll ask it again. Does the cycle of incarnation of the Soul end with the end of Manvantara? Or is the Soul immortal, like a spark generated by God?

Irina: What does the cycle of incarnation mean?

Lyudmila: How many times can the Spirit incarnate?

Irina: As much as he wants.

Lyudmila: And is this an endless process or is there still some kind of completion?

Irina: At the end of Manvantara there will no longer be a material world. The spirit itself remains, but it can begin to incarnate, if it wants, only in the next Manvantara, when material worlds will again appear in one or another level of density. They may not be the same as they are now, for example, because in each new Manvantara the worlds differ in the degree of density, in the number of density levels and in many other parameters.

Lyudmila: I see. That is, the Spirit is immortal, like God.

Irina: Of course, he is immortal. It is God who gives him immortality, he is also a part of God, a child of God, so if the Spirit dies, that is, ceases to exist, then this will cause the cessation of the existence of God as a whole.

Lyudmila: And the meaning of incarnation, the tasks are different from incarnation to incarnation, but the final meaning of the incarnation of the Spirit into material or subtle worlds?

Irina: If it's easier for you to understand: to realize your bright nature in matter. The meaning of embodiment is precisely in implementation. Because when you are in the Spiritual world, you can simply dream about something or feel something, but you cannot do something. To, for example, raise your vibrations and to be another level or several levels closer to God, to the Primordial Light, to His vibrations, and even when you are already at the 24th level, then you feel the desire to incarnate in order to bring others there .

Lyudmila: The meaning is to bring the Light of God into dense worlds.

Irina: Yes, but many Archangels, even Archangel Michael, also incarnated many times in the material world. Literally, his last incarnation was quite recently by the standards of the Universe. He was embodied in Seraphim of Sarov.

So far he does not plan to incarnate, but he has taken the position of Spiritual Curator of planet Earth, that is, he observes all incarnations, precisely from the Spiritual world.

Maria: Thank you. Thank you.

35:12 Raising vibrations is part of the plan of every incarnation.

Maria: When the Spirit plans its incarnation in the material worlds, are these goals and plans always aimed at increasing spiritual vibrations, or can they be plans that obviously lead to a decrease in vibrations?

Irina (MidgasKaus): When the Spirit is in the Spiritual World, he feels there at the level where he is. Feels this or that amount of Divine Light.

In general, the amount of Light in the entire Spiritual World, the amount of Divine Light is the same, it's just that the Spirit feels this or that amount of Spiritual Light depending on its vibrations, on how much it has prepared itself to perceive this Light. And here there is already a difference, the more the Spirit feels the Divine Light at its level, the more happy it is from love and from understanding and awareness that it exists. The higher the level, the more causeless happiness, simply from the fact that you exist, and the greater the desire to share this happiness.

Therefore, if the Spirit is at some level, it always strives to increase it in order to experience more love and show more love in itself. Because when you are in the Spiritual world, you cannot think of lowering your level only for the reason that lowering the level is understood in the Spiritual world as a decrease in the happiness and love in which you are at the moment.

Maria: That is, we can briefly summarize that the Spirit, which plans its incarnation, always intends to raise vibrations and increase its spiritual level.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes. Moreover, he chooses incarnation together with his Angel Consultants, who will not agree to him lowering him, they will simply refuse him incarnation, since such a goal will bring disharmony to the material world, the purpose of which is to help the Spirit rise to God, and not the other way around.

Maria: Thank you very much! Our guys are very worried about you, love you very much, appreciate you very much, and convey their heartfelt greetings!

Irina: Thank you!

Maria: We really, really appreciate all your work, what you do for the project and for all people, and in general for our entire civilization, so they care and worry about you very much, and we wish you much, much more strength, motivation, and health!

Irina: Thank you! And I wish you health, all of you, and you, Mashenka, and you, all the participants in our conversation. MidgasKaus and LiShioni transmit (show) a large flow of Light. They wish, and I join these wishes, happiness in your personal life, family life, success in work, the health of your body and Soul, and the full implementation of the tasks of your incarnations.

Maria: Thank you, friends, Irochka! Thank you very much, see you again! Hello everyone. Goodbye!

Irina: Thank you! Goodbye!

00:21 Natural elements involved in creating the outer shell of the atom.

Irina: So, as soon as the main nucleus of the atom has been formed, I will say it in your way, it remains to form the outer energy circuit - that's what it's called, or the outer energy shell. But the shell is a very conventional name.

Mikhail: This is what we call an electron cloud.

Irina: Yes. But it is not in the form of a cloud... (He shows.) Representatives of the elements of fire and the elements of air participate in this. Moreover, their ratio, if we take it from 100 percent, is 60 percent - fire energy and 40 percent - air energy. That is, the energy of fire will prevail there.

Mikhail: I see. The energy of fire prevails.

Irina: Yes. I will now tell you that this is exactly how an atom is formed. And then I'll tell you why these plus and minus are connected with each other.

This means that these representatives of the elements of fire and the elements of air...

He shows that discharges like lightning emanate from their hands, from their bodies. There should be at least two plasmoids, maybe more - depending on their experience and their vitality. They direct lightning at what they have done. These lightning bolts come into contact with the core, and a network of lightning bolts is formed. It is blue-blue in color, but closer to purple. White lights run along this mesh.

That is, they, figuratively speaking, take a breath, but not of air, but of the energy that is at their input, and direct another energy into the atom. And a spiral is formed in this mesh. It's color... I don't know what color it is. To you, it's like infrared, closer to dark red. It subsequently generates heat energy. That is, the color of the energy that is on the external level. And we get a hydrogen atom.

Why did you call it plus-minus, nucleus, electron? Because, as I already said, in the outer shell there is an uneven balance of elements. It must be uneven, otherwise the atom will not be able to exchange energy with the external environment. This unevenness is left as a window for the release of energy.

Mikhail: It’s approximately clear. If the structure of the hydrogen atom itself, in principle, is full... That is, it turns out that the hydrogen atom itself is completely filled inside, that is, it is more or less uniform from the center to the outer shell, that is, it has no voids. Because we are accustomed to the planetary model of the atom - and this is wrong. And we assumed that, in fact, it was all empty. An electron runs from the outer shell, and a nucleus inside. And the atom is practically spatially hollow. Actually this is not true. And if we consider the inner part of the nucleus, which is responsible for the interaction of the gravitational component, then further the energy of the atomic nucleus... we are talking about being responsible for thermonuclear processes, and then the outer shell. Can this be described in percentage terms as a dimension? What percentage is the inner part, the middle part, relative to the outer shell? Exactly the dimension in percentage can be indicated approximately? Is there such information?

Irina: The percentages that he named are if you subtract 12 from 100 percent. That is, I think that it will be 88. And these 88 make up the nucleus, again from the atom.

Mikhail: From an atom? 88 percent is the core?

Irina: Yes. And 12 is the outer shell, which is from its mass. These 12 percent are the waves he has now shown.

Mikhail: So the size of the nucleus is quite large, if you look at the entire size of the atom? That is, if you take the size of an atom as one hundred percent, physically measure it with a ruler - this is one hundred percent of its diameter. What is the percentage of the core itself?

Irina: 88.

Mikhail: 88. That is, in our view, the nucleus is much smaller relative to the very size of the atom in the planetary model.

Irina: You need to look where the boundary of this atom ends.

Mikhail: Yes, it is accepted among us that the size of the nucleus of an atom is very small compared to the size of the atom itself.

Irina: Then how do you postulate the size of an atom, according to what criteria?

Mikhail: Regarding the immediate size of the electron itself, it also implies the size of the component of the atomic nucleus. That is, in science we have determined and measured that these quantities are very small compared to the volume and the very size of the atom. But this, as I understand it, is a misconception.

Irina: He now says that the nucleus generally makes up the main part of the atom.

Mikhail: Yes, this is so in our understanding. But, we are precisely in size...

Irina: But there is no emptiness, no unfilledness. There are still energies there. But again, you call an electron only energies that manifest themselves through electricity, magnetism and radio waves... light, but this is already a photon. But he is an electron, as I understand it.

For example, you do not perceive heat energy as separate from all others.

Mikhail: No, of course.

Irina: Therefore, they also occupy a certain place. That is, the general state of aggregation of a substance depends on the quantity and vibration of heat energy.

Mikhail: The structure of the atom as a whole, and how it is formed, its dimension is more or less clear.

Now the following question immediately arises: do subtle worlds directly participate in the creation and destruction of atoms, and can they destroy these atoms? Are there any restrictions? For example, certain plasmoids gathered and decided: let us destroy this or that atom at our discretion. And this entails some consequences in the physical world.

Irina: He hasn’t finished yet, why, plus or minus. So, this unevenness of the charge that you see is the unevenness of the element, that is, the predominance of the element of fire in the outer side, and in the core there will be a predominance of the energy of water. There is also 42 percent or how much water energy. There will be sixty percent fire there. Water and fire are considered opposite elements. What we describe in terms of plus or minus, they describe in terms of the opposition of the elements that participate in the creation of this atom.

Mikhail: That's understandable.

Irina: They’re the ones who collect it, right?

11:08 Is it possible and how to destroy an atom?

Mikhail: But the process is interesting, of course.

And the process is precisely destruction. Are they also involved in the process of destruction of the atom?

Irina: Of course they can. If they have such a task. Plasmoids do not act on their own at all, they act as if at work, on assignment.

Mikhail: But is this their job, or is this their creativity, or is this their responsibility?

Irina: These are their tasks of implementation.

Mikhail: But not everyone will be able to follow this task? Someone, for example, will decide that I will only destroy! Could this be possible?

Irina: To destroy an atom, it is necessary to remove all energies, all quanta from it. But not just pull them out, otherwise he will gather himself again, but take them back into himself. And for this it is necessary...

The atom that exists in the world has already undergone changes, that is, it has already exchanged with others. And to do this, you must first translate it into its original form, and then disassemble it into its components. Moreover, not just one plasmoid should participate in this, but plasmoids of those elements that provided energy.

Mikhail: That is, the process is also quite complex to go in the opposite direction and destroy.

Irina: It’s not so easy to destroy it. But, since the energies that make up the atom are initially taken from the Spiritual world - I once explained, then as soon as the frequency of vibration of the oscillations of the Spiritual Light increases, the frequency of vibration of the material from which the atoms are built naturally increases.

And since the energy of the Divine Light still maintains all atoms in their stable state, because it is located everywhere in space, then when the vibration of this Spiritual Light increases, it gradually increases the vibration of all the quantum that enters the atoms. This is now called a quantum transition. That is, an increase in the vibrations of quanta, which are included in all atoms of a particular space.

And at the end of this cycle of the Universe, the vibrations of all quanta will increase so much that they themselves will lose their dense material form and go into their elements.

13:45 The end of the cycle of the Universe. How would this happen?

Mikhail: And the destruction of matter will occur, right?

Irina: Yes, she will release all the energies from herself, that is, first it will start with heavy elements that have more quanta. It is simply easier for them to collapse, they will lose their energies more easily. Then - more and more lighter elements. And at the end of this cycle of the Universe, only hydrogen will remain in a rarefied gaseous state. That is, all the stars will burn out and the elements from which it consists will no longer form planets or anything else, they will disintegrate.

The fact is that the vacuum of Space is never completely empty and homogeneous. In any case, it contains hydrogen atoms, which make up the very tenuous interstellar gas.

Mikhail: Well, that's understandable. Logical.

Irina: It is between the stars and even galaxies. And this will be the last thing left of the Universe. And then the quanta will come out of them and return to their levels from where they came, and only the subtle material world will remain. Then the vibrations will increase so much in these subtle worlds that the fourth level of density will go back to the fifth, sixth, seventh. And they will seem to curl up. And then the spirits will be able to incarnate during this period no longer in the dense world, but only in the subtle worlds, as they incarnated before the emergence of the dense Universe.

16:10 About the period of non-manifestation of the Universe.

Michael: But, as I understand it, this is an approximate process, the opposite of how energies penetrate from the Spiritual world to the dense material world, before its formation.

Irina: When the Universe comes to the end of the cycle of its existence - this is cyclical, that is, this has already happened before, we will be able to incarnate: you, me, Irina, MidgasCaus only in the subtle worlds. And we will not incarnate in order to form the dense world. We will already have other tasks.

And then the vibrations of the subtle material world will increase so much that everything will move higher and higher in vibration, their matter will disappear. But it will disappear just for appearances; in reality it will not disappear, but the energies will move to a higher level of density. And this will happen until there is nothing left at all. Even level 59. Only the Spiritual world will remain. And those spirits that will be there will no longer be able to incarnate. This is a period of non-manifestation.

That is, we will be at those levels of the Spiritual world that we achieved in the last incarnation. They will remain the same from 1 to 24. And since there is no time there, it is very difficult to calculate how much time should pass through the material world. This could be one second or several million years.

Then, when God as a rational being, the Supreme Mind, the Absolute Mind, which is in the Divine world, outside the world of non-embodied spirits - this is also a type of the Spiritual world - will give a signal about the emergence of the material world, and those who are on the eighteenth level - angels nature, since there is no matter, will receive instructions to form the 59th level of density themselves. That is, they will leave the Spiritual World, to the Astral. From the world of the disembodied Spirit to the astral. The astral world will remain. This is a part of the Spiritual World, which used to be a world for communication.

So, they will mentally form the 59th density level from their spiritual energies. Then those who want to incarnate, while already there, will receive tasks so that they can condense this energy, and the result will be level 58. Well, and so on, descending, until the entire subtle-material world is there again.

But no one knows what the next Universe will be like. It may be completely different from our real world. There may be, for example, a completely different number in the level of density, there may be completely different characteristics of matter, and so on.

Mikhail: This is fundamentally clear - what processes occur specifically in the formation of the Universe.

Irina: He’s speaking now, so you, Mikhail, like any of us, have definitely passed that level when you incarnated in plasmoid worlds and took part in the formation of entire galaxies.

Mikhail: It’s hard to realize, but it’s quite possible, yes, it happened.

20:46 Problems of scientific explanations of observed phenomena.

Mikhail: I have one more question. It is clear that scientists, exploring the dense material world, master certain technologies in order to advance science forward, and hence the question: is there some level of knowledge of the interaction of processes specifically through the measuring instruments of the dense material world, deeper than which they can no longer understand, and it is necessary communicate with the subtle world, namely with plasmoids. Is there a distinction to which science has reached a level and then stopped, and only communication with the subtle material world, with plasmoids, helped further understand the process? Is there this barrier?

Irina: I think your devices are quite sensitive, but not to all energies, of course. Your problem is not in the instruments, but in explaining the observed phenomena.

For example, I am very surprised why in your modern physics... As far as I understood it, as far as I studied it, and this is also a question I have for earthlings, for you as a physicist - for what reason was the measured force separated from energy?

Mikhail: Force was separated from energy... But this was mostly during the experiment, convenience. Terminology was introduced, and it was convenient to separate energy from force, begin to describe the experiment with these quantities and describe it all in the form of patterns and formulas.

Irina: Your scientists did an interesting job. Energy was separated from force in measurable quantities and formulas, and at the same time completely different states of nature and matter, like a wave and a particle, were combined by describing a photon, for example.

Mikhail: Yes, we have an approach that a photon turns into a particle, a particle turns into a photon. That is, they made identical concepts out of them, energy turns into a particle, and a particle can turn into energy.

Irina: You made particle and wave identical concepts. And the energy and strength are different for some reason.

Mikhail: Probably, historically it came from an experiment, they divided it into concepts, into separate processes and divided the force and energy, naturally.

Irina: From our point of view, I will tell you what it is. Force is the internal energy of atoms in the entirety of its quantum states, quantum portions, quantum flows, quantum fields. And what you call energy is already that force that manifests itself over time, in a certain place in space, vector-directed and dynamically changing in its power potential, if you haven’t understood yet.

Mikhail: I roughly understand. Force is like a vector quantity that characterizes the impact of one object on another, so to speak

Irina: Isn’t this energy?

Mikhail: And the energy from this process was separated, measured separately, separately designated with a separate term and letter expression. Accordingly, energy is perceived separately from force, so it is easier to perceive processes and describe them.

Irina: So that they don’t measure what comes out there and what is contained inside - it’s still some kind of single structure?

Mikhail: Yes, if you approach it from the point of view of energy, this is a single structure, undoubtedly. But, explain precisely from the point of view of the model and describe the forms of interaction, for example, of specific objects of matter. That is, these concepts have been divided and continue to be perceived and described as divided. Although everything can be fundamentally reconsidered.

Irina: Yes. Or, for example, as with a photon. If you observe that this wave has the characteristics of a wave, then you could conclude that it is a certain wave of energy, a frequency. You have a spectral scale.

Mikhail: Yes, we have a spectral scale, it’s a fairly convenient tool.

Irina: That is, in this spectral scale it is not written that this is the frequency of some particles, it is written “waves,” as far as I know.

Mikhail: We have waves – these are waves. For us, they are not particles, and the scale describes the characteristics of waves.

Irina: Photon, which, among other things, is a quantum that is responsible for the manifestation of light, and light is also included in your spectral scale...

Mikhail: Yes, that's right.

Irina: That is, there are different colors, depending on how you perceive it all, it’s clear. The frequencies are indicated there.

Mikhail: Frequency scale, yes.

Irina: At the same time, while you recognize it as a wave, at the same time you recognize it as a particle. I say again, I already told Irina, that this is the same as saying that waves suddenly appeared on a frozen river or lake, where it is all covered with ice. Or, for example, the waves that roll onto the shore suddenly froze in an instant, turning into frozen waves. But if they are frozen, they will no longer be waves, they will already lose their wave-like nature. They will simply leave their form, but they will lose their nature—the frequencies—and will not be able to roll ashore.

And at the same time, you call a particle a photon. If you say that this is also a wave and a particle. Why? Because you say that there are some properties that a photon exhibits not as a wave, but as a particle. Yes, there is, but it all comes from the fact that when a photon, like a wave, comes into contact with surrounding atoms, and you see the result of this contact.

Mikhail: That's right. We have fundamental misconceptions. They come only from the fact that we cannot explain many phenomena and we begin to come up with different models that fit the explanation.

Irina: So, in order for these models to correspond to the reality of the observed phenomena, it is still necessary to discuss them with those who create matter.

Mikhail: It turns out that your scientists, at a certain stage of the level of development, began or initially interacted with the one who creates it and began to understand the processes more and better. That is, not everything was clear to a certain level.

Irina: Everything was clear to us, for example, that a wave cannot be a particle at the same time: either one thing or something else. I have already explained using the example of waves that if they suddenly become particles... A particle is some denser structure.

Mikhail: Our scientists are building hypotheses. What they cannot understand, they build certain models, run into certain barriers and do not understand what happens next. I am now discussing with you, and there is more understanding, as it were, beyond our possible perception; we are already beginning to receive some information.

The conclusion is that in order to delve deeper into the process, a scientist needs to interact with plasmoids - is this how it works?

29:50 How many plasmoids are there now per person?

Irina: Yes, he needs to establish contact with plasmoid civilizations. By the way, they will be happy to make this contact. Let me remind you that for every person in another space there are approximately eight plasmoids. These are also those who form atoms, that is, those who monitor the formed atoms, the process of transition from one body to another. You know that nothing disappears, it just passes from one state to another - this is also observed by certain plasmoids. And in each of its elements these are elemental plasmoids. There are also plasmoids of natural places, which are responsible for monitoring elemental plasmoids, and also control those plasmoids that are on the task of another formation of the biosphere. That is, in addition to those substances that we have already talked about, how they were created and how they are still monitored there, how they should move through the lithosphere and atmosphere. magnetosphere and hydrosphere - this is monitored by certain plasmoids. And then there is the biosphere, which also needs to be filled.

But in the biosphere - this is the sphere of life - there are not only substances of an organic nature that consist of atoms. These substances without a created Soul, which they infuse into this body, it is just a dead body.

Your learned biologists, and Mead also studied your biology, believe that life in some microorganisms, insects, plants, and so on, is taken, as it were, simply by itself from those internal structures of organic molecules that it contains. But you know very well that if an apple hangs on a tree, then it is alive. You also know that if you pick it and put it next to it, what will happen to it, for example, in a month. It will already lose its life. We will also take, for example, a fly. If it is alive, then there is life in it, and if it is deprived of life, then it will consist of the same substances, but the Soul will no longer be there. That is, we also need energy, which you call Soul. And here, too, a lot of plasmoids are busy forming the souls of the plant, what you call the plant kingdom, the kingdom of viruses, bacteria, insects, animals, plant souls. And they fill all this with souls and control the process of reincarnation, evolution and dispersion into separate energies. This is also a lot of work.

Mikhail: Everything is clear. And I would like to ask the next question.

Irina: And that's why they want to communicate. That is, plasmoids are located in space and those that monitor the elements and the biosphere. And they are also in earthly space, they are considered full-fledged earthlings and really want to communicate in love. And therefore, those scientists who want to increase their sensitivity specifically to contacts with the Higher Self and call on them to help in their research will happily respond and tell them everything.

34:00 How can an earthly scientist become a contactee with plasmoids?

Mikhail: I see. Then a successful, young scientist who wants to develop in this direction needs to master astral travel in order to make contact?

Irina: Not necessarily. You can ask questions while in the body. But to do this, you first need to establish contact with your Higher Self and find out the goals of your incarnation, whether this includes, for example, contacting. That is, it must meet his life goals, otherwise the Higher Self will block the contact. If, for example, he does not bring benefits for spiritual development, if he has the wrong idea.

That is, first we establish contact with the Higher Self, cleanse ourselves of negative blocks, if there are any, so that the chakras are clean for the correct reception of information. We must harmonize emotionally inside, so that we do not have negative emotions, so that they immediately turn into Light. This is also necessary work to cleanse your spiritual heart, that is, your essence, increasing vibrations. And then it will be very easy to communicate with the Higher Self.

Mikhail: You are already describing the mechanism. I have a question of a slightly different nature. You described the technique itself in many videos earlier, discussed it, I would like to ask slightly different questions.

It turns out that the scientist can interact with plasmoids, but if this is not part of his tasks, then he will not be able to do this, as I understand it?

Irina: But he will be able to process the information that will be received by other scientists who, based on their life tasks and their knowledge, will be able to become contactees with plasmoids. And it may also be that if the Higher Self approves contact with us, with the Interstellar Union, we will also be happy to contact.

Mikhail: So, it turns out that on his own initiative, any scientist cannot take and receive information from any plasmoid with which he wants to contact?

Irina: You know, I will answer positively, because by the word “own” we mean the entire Spirit. That is, the Higher Self is part of the Spirit. And on “one’s own initiative” this means on the initiative of the Higher Self too.

36:52 The importance of combining science and esotericism into a single whole for further study of the laws of the Universe.

Mikhail: Got it. Everything is clear here. Next question. Do earthlings, in order to successfully develop in the field of science and obtain a more correct scientific approach to the study of the processes of the universe and physical processes, need to, in principle, combine esoteric science and religion into a single whole?

Irina: Of course, we can only welcome this, because we have all this unified knowledge, and all this contributed to the fact that we discovered such laws of the Universe that allowed us to create our entire scientific and technical base. This influenced our development, our civilization, the discovery of many worlds, and also our medicine, life expectancy, and, ultimately, spiritual development. That is, all this in totality, we did not divide all knowledge about the Universe into religion, science, esotericism. We divided the sciences among ourselves, but not like physics, chemistry, mathematics, but according to practical activities. For example, the description of the Universe - we called it... let it be natural history. And it included several of your sciences that describe physicochemical and biological processes. And this natural science included knowledge and information obtained from our senses and our instruments, and from representatives of subtle civilizations, and also from the Spiritual world. All this together constituted a system that we synthesized to explain the reality where we find ourselves and to influence it.

They can only welcome this approach.

Mikhail: That is, this approach is correct, and it needs to be developed. As I understand it, we need to raise a new generation of scientists on Earth from childhood, changing the education system.

Irina: Yes, or call on those scientists or esotericists who exist, and religious leaders who exist, not for mutual attacks, but for mutual dialogue, getting them interested in some common benefit for the Earth, for them.

Mikhail: We have quite conservative representatives of these structures.

Irina: I just imagined a room, a priest, some academician of higher magic and a physicist are sitting at the table. We should probably remove all sharp and cutting objects from here... (laughs)

Mikhail: They will not agree, a person must feel and grow up with this immediately, understanding all the processes from childhood.

One more question, tell me, there is an astral world. It is radically different from dense material. There, time flows in a special way, perception is different, and these worlds cannot be measured with instruments of the physical world. Hence the question: is there in the Astral world itself, in the knowledge of the Interstellar Union, and do they use certain standard values, which they took as a basis, in order to measure processes in the astral world, compare them, what is good, what is bad and How would they come up with certain devices? Do they even exist? Is it possible to make some measurements and comparisons there? Or does this all happen only on a spiritual level?

Irina: Mid, do you have a love thermometer? (laughs)

Mikhail: Are there any quantities at all? Or even a love thermometer?

Irina: Yes, I set the thermometer... I don't know where, really (laughs), and measured how much love there is (laughs). Now I'll think about where to put it (laughs)

Mikhail: Is there a certain standard? Or not? Which can be used to measure something in the Astral. Or is everything so relative and everyone has their own?

Irina: Measurement - from the word measure. You can only measure space and time and what is in it. Measuring some energies and forces is just a speculative measurement of some processes that occur per unit of time. For example, when you measure current with an ammeter, you are not measuring the current itself, but the amount of energy that comes out of a certain conductor per unit time.

Mikhail: I know, we measure changes in any process per unit of time and have come up with standards for this.

Irina: Of course, I know what you call it, that it is named after the scientist who invented these measuring instruments or in honor of the one who discovered this energy. And in the same way, for example, if we look at the same thermometer, what does it measure? Temperature is a certain amount of heat released per unit of time.

Mikhail: This is the principle of all devices to rely on some unit of time and changes in matter and record them.

Irina: And then what else can be measured? You can measure extent, you can measure time, mass. But measuring mass is already measuring a certain amount of energy that is in a given space. It comes from the scale where there is some kind of standard.

Mikhail: I see. Which accepted everything and agreed.

Irina: Yes, and the influence on the device that measures mass most often occurs either from gravity or from pressure.

Mikhail: Are there standard processes in the Astral that someone has agreed on with someone and with which something can be measured? It is clear that this is not a thermometer, not some kind of jackal, but standard processes that are felt and visible.

Irina: Not to measure, but to define energy. The astral world, relatively speaking, is measured, for example, on Earth in earthly space there are seven floors, not 70. There are exactly seven floors of the astral world, and these are also certain dimensions.

How did they appear? They appeared not because someone measured the length of one floor with a ruler, but because the space occupied by the earthly Astral is heterogeneous and has seven regions. The boundaries between these areas are noticeable to those who travel there, and so they divided it into seven floors.

Why exactly seven? I'll explain now. Because the Spirit, when it manifests through the earthly body, manifests through the body of the seven chakras in that part of the Spirit that is embodied. What you call seven chakras on the body, they are not on the physical, but on the etheric plane. What you call aura shells are the result of the influence of Spirit structures on the body. That is, these are energy fields invested with vital force, which are given for the time of incarnation. And since your physical body consists of such a number of organs and in such a ratio that through them the Spirit can manifest itself in a seven-frequency manner, that is, creating an aura of seven fields and seven chakras, then each of these chakras and fields forms its own energy, but no longer a material field, but an energetic astral field. That's why you have seven floors.

Mikhail: I see. That is, there are patterns there, they are described, felt, and for everyone these patterns are the same.

Irina: Yes. And if this is another planet, let's take Esler, for example. There the Spirit manifests itself in such a way that 12 chakras and 12 aura fields are formed, they have their own names. The astral space is superimposed on Esler himself, on his physical space. Otherwise you will understand that the Astral seems to be far above, no, it is everywhere.

Mikhail: This is not a layer cake, this is an all-pervasive parallel world.

Irina: Yes, exactly. People once asked me how far from the surface of the Earth the first floor of the Astral is, how many kilometers - it was very strange for me to hear.

Mikhail: This is probably due to a misunderstanding of the basic concepts of what the Astral is.

Irina: And I want to say that the Astral permeates both the physical world and all subtle worlds. That is, access to the Astral is available from the physical plane and from any plasmoid world. And moreover, the Astral is a connecting link, a world through which representatives of different density levels can communicate.

Mikhail: Got it. Another question, probably the last one. Much time has already passed.

Irina: Yes. More than an hour and a half has passed. There was nothing there in these questions, but again without these questions we would not have understood the ones that you wanted to ask, because we had to first tell how the atom is formed.

49:03 Factors influencing life expectancy on different planets.

Mikhail: Yes. My last question has an asterisk. Here we have an earthly civilization, we are people, we live about, roughly, 100 earthly years. And in our 100 earthly years, in comparison with civilizations that live more than 500 earthly years, I think we are not able to compete and generally master science, develop skills such as, for example, a humanoid who lives more than 500 earthly years. And does it make sense that our civilization is trying to compete, develop and try to develop to that level in terms of the skills of the same inhabitants in Burkhad? Because, by definition, in a losing situation we do not live for so long and cannot develop our skills, abilities, knowledge for so long, our body is already wearing out, and we are leaving our incarnation. What do you say to this?

Irina: Yes, the lifespan on each planet is determined by the genetics of the race that lives there. Genetics is influenced by a variety of factors from the physical, spiritual and energetic worlds. Life expectancy depends on many factors, but the main ones are spiritual. That is, the life expectancy on a particular planet will correspond to the vibrations of its noosphere.

Typically, the higher the vibration of the noosphere, the higher the life expectancy of the creatures that live there. When the vibration of the planet’s noosphere increases, it moves towards the Light. Now I will tell you why this ratio is, there is a reason for this.

So, when the vibration of the planet increases, when it moves towards the Light, such spirits are born that can bring discoveries to science, how to change one’s genetics, how to change one’s physical nature so that the body lives longer. That is, until the Earth's noosphere matches this life expectancy, these discoveries cannot be made or they will simply be forgotten.

Mikhail: I understand. Then it turns out that on the same Burkhad there were also few people living before these technologies?

Irina: We lived much less. After joining the Interstellar Union, we already had a discovery in our medicine when we can extend our life span to fifteen to twenty thousand years. But this is using our medical technologies. There are Burkhadians who do not use them, but leave incarnation earlier, for example, at 600, 700 years - they want to move on.

And those who want to linger use certain energy fields and substances that not only slow down aging, but stop the process of degradation in intracellular structures, which is always present in certain atomic structures of which cells are composed. Because atoms, transmitting and receiving energy, do not lose energy, but go out of balance. This is why cells age, that is, when they begin to divide and renew themselves in the general population of cells, it weakens and loses energy. And that is why the new cell emerges from the old one full of strength, but it no longer emerges the same as the original one, that is, already changed. And we have means that can greatly slow down this process, but it is impossible to completely stop it, because here there will already be a violation of the Spiritual Law, according to which the incarnation must end, and the Spirit must go into the next incarnation.

And we first agreed with the Spiritual world until how long we can extend our existence. And only then our ancestors were given the opportunity to do this. This is the first.

Second. Why does it depend on the noosphere?

If there is a lot of negativity and low vibrations in the noosphere, then existence for a long time in this noosphere and on this planet is quite difficult for the Spirit. He sees a lot of destruction and injustice around him and can greatly lower his vibrations. That is why spiritual teachers, spiritual mentors from the highest angelic structures, from the highest hierarchies of Light regulated the Spiritual Law in such a way that on such a low-vibration planet, where there is a lot of such destruction, wars, social injustice, the Spirit spends less time in this body.

And the body will have such genetics that will be ready for this noosphere. And he will not be able to live too long, because this can greatly reduce the vibrations, especially a person who has already lived a sufficient amount of life on Earth, for example, during this sufficient amount of life he had children, grandchildren, he retired and is already begins to observe more of the life around him than when he worked somewhere, was busy building his material circumstances. And when he has already built them and left the work process, he has a period of time when he must engage in self-contemplation, improvement, and prepare himself for leaving the incarnation.

And if this period stretches out, then, firstly, he will observe such changes on Earth and compare them with his life, and this can reduce his vibrations, that is, injustice. This is if we extend his old age. If you extend his period of blooming youth and adolescence, that is, so that he does not grow old for a long time. For example, 500 years and only in a hundred years he has only grown old, then this will contradict the noosphere of the planet, because during these 500 years of productive period he will want to enter into close relationships with his spouse many times and give birth to many children. You have a very developed reproductive instinct. And since if they live for a long time, then your infrastructure is not ready to accommodate such a number of people or those living and being born at the same time.

Now do you understand what I'm talking about?

Mikhail: Yes. And they are not ready to control these processes.

Irina: This will lead to chaos.

Mikhail: This is all clear. Quite a comprehensive answer.

Irina: That is, there are two such components, very interesting.

Mikhail: And the most interesting thing is that we are not ready to control all these processes. Although, in theory, if you prolong your life, then the birth rate must be controlled.

Irina: To control the birth rate, you first need to take control of the reproductive instinct of most peoples.

Mikhail: This is a very complex process, we need to develop to such a level in order to control such processes, naturally, we are very far away.

Irina: If the government of the planet controls this moment in some artificial way, it will only cause a decrease in the vibration of people.

Mikhail: Yes, this is not a humane method.

Irina: Yes, and this will cause a decrease in vibrations in all people and can lead to revolutionary explosions, which again will lead to murders, robbery... To the fact that your planet has already passed through, which greatly reduces the vibration of the noosphere, and therefore life expectancy for next generations. That is, it will lead to nothing.

Mikhail: It turns out that the revolutionary stage of development of a young civilization is forcedly limited in terms of the life span of each of its representatives. Otherwise, further development and existence is impossible, right?

Irina: In order for your life expectancy to increase on Earth, you first need to raise your vibrations. This is called first giving the energy of your love and trust to the credit of the Universe. And then the Universe will pay you back for your loans, and people will appear among scientists who will discover the possibility of influencing DNA in order to turn off the gene for old age and death. Switching off, slowing down.

But in order for these Spirits to be born and be able to come to this science with the help of their curators, their Higher Self, this requires certain circumstances on Earth.

Mikhail: Everything is quite clear here. The answer to the question is fully revealed. Thank you very much for your answers, everything was very interesting. Many questions, of course, immediately disappeared along the way; I hope this will be interesting to the general public.

Irina: Yes, dear friends, I thank you for being with us, I thank you for supporting the Cassiopeia project, I thank all my curators for the answers, I thank my Higher Self, I thank the Heavenly Father, who gave all this to you convey, and thank, of course, Mikhail for the interesting questions.

Mikhail: Thank you, thank you too, very useful and interesting information. Thank you, Irina, you are doing a great job!

Irina: See you again, friends!

Mikhail: Goodbye!

01:50 Introduction of meeting participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have with us: the curator of our Cassiopeia Project, MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations. The conference will be moderated by Maria from Germany. Hi Masha!

Maria: Good evening, friends, our viewers! Good afternoon, MidgasCaus! Hello, Irochka! Today I am leading a conference from Georgia, from the wonderful city of Tbilisi. I will ask questions and clarify hypotheses on the topic “On the possible mechanisms of action of homeopathic medicines in the human body” from an already well-known guest of our conferences from Uzbekistan, a neurologist of the highest category, Candidate of Medical Sciences Naily Dzhumaeva. She had technical problems, so I took this task upon myself.

Irina: (MidgasKaus) Thank you for agreeing to ask these questions, because Niley has communication problems. She is in another country or in a place where the Internet does not work well. Irina asked her to pass the questions on to you, Maria.

03:33 Properties and structure, essential energy of a homeopathic medicine.

Maria: A homeopathic medicine is a certain substance. As a rule, these are natural remedies: plants and other substances that are repeatedly diluted in water or ground if milk sugar is used. Repeated dilution leads to the fact that in the manufactured drug there is ultimately not a single molecule of the original substance left - the one from which this drug was created. What structures are formed in water or milk sugar during the long process of preparing a homeopathic medicine?

Irina: A molecule, as a structure consisting of atoms, is always surrounded by a very thin ethereal membrane. Each atom is surrounded by an ethereal membrane, a subtle material structure. The structure, consisting of atoms, is also surrounded by an ethereal membrane. This is present in all molecules: water molecules, milk sugar molecules and, naturally, in the molecules of the substances of those plants that are used to make homeopathic medicines.

What happens when you mix a part of a plant with milk sugar powder by shaking or diluting it? All molecules of active ingredients come out of a liquid solvent or a large amount of milk sugar. But even when all the molecules leave there, traces of the etheric matrices of those molecules that were there remain in the etheric structure of water or milk sugar. Because water, as a liquid crystal structure, can remember ethereal information about molecules for a long time and transfer it, including to people, to living organisms. Also, milk sugar and salt, any crystalline substances, can retain etheric energy due to the condensation of this energy on the faces of the crystals. In homeopathic medicines, etheric energy works.

06:55 The principle of the influence of homeopathic remedies on the human body.

Maria: Many different hypotheses have been expressed regarding the effects of homeopathic remedies on the human body. According to Niley, homeopathic medicines act exclusively on intracellular water. All cell organelles float in water, which is what the cell cytoplasm is essentially made of, including DNA, RNA, mitochondria and other cell organelles. Moreover, the closer the water molecule is located to the cellular organelle, the more rigid the hydration structure they form.

Speaking about intracellular water as applied to homeopathy, we are talking about this very water, firmly associated with various cellular organelles. For example, for a DNA molecule there are about 50 water molecules for each link. Due to this, the diameter of a DNA molecule is 29 angstroms. If you remove the water molecules surrounding the DNA, its diameter is 20 angstroms. But the DNA molecules lose their activity. Is Nailya right that homeopathic medicines act exclusively on water tightly bound to intracellular organelles?

Irina: As I already said, only etheric energy acts in a homeopathic medicine. The impact is made on the etheric matrices of cells, organs and organ systems. Those. a homeopathic medicine acts not on a specific organ, but on the entire body, restoring, healing it, bringing it to a state of integrity of all etheric matrices of the biofield. It is on the basis of the etheric matrices of the biofield that physical cells are built. Because the records that are in the human genome are not all activated during protein synthesis, but only a few percent that a person received from his parents and more distant ancestors.

Which sections of DNA are included for the synthesis of proteins in a particular organism is written in the etheric matrix. In that matrix, which, firstly, in the pranic shell, brought the Soul with it for incarnation. Secondly, the construction of this matrix is influenced by the biofield of the mother, who has her own etheric matrices. Thirdly, this is influenced by plasmoids of the four elements, which help the Spirit during the conception and development of a body from one cell, help it form connections with nature, with the biosphere, with all the elements, etc. The human etheric body is a complex multidimensional structure that uses etheric energies of 11 types.

Maria: As far as I understand, Nailya wants to understand the influence on the physical level, about tightly bound water.

Irina: As a biologist, I studied homeopathic medicines. I became acquainted with the research of other scientists in this field who studied earthly homeopathy, earthly medicine. Experience of use in various diseases shows that the effect occurs at the etheric level. Then from the etheric level it is transferred to the physical. It is transmitted immediately in the cytoplasm of cells, in the nucleus of the cell, and in the organelles of the cell. It’s like tuning a musical instrument—everything is being tuned at once.

Maria: That is. does it affect all structures of the physical body at once?

Irina: Yes. Because the etheric matrix is the etheric original according to which the physical body will be built. The physical body is a copy of the ethereal. With the help of homeopathic medicines, changes are made to this original depending on which plant is taken in what quantity, and what effect it has on the body in terms of vibrations.

Maria: The theme of tightly bound human intracellular water is repeated. What can you say about this structure? Is it given at the birth of a person, as a reflection of that original on the etheric plane?

Irina: I wouldn't call it water. Cytoplasm is a colloidal state of water with proteins, lipoproteins, vitamins, enzyme proteins, and fats dissolved in it as a source of energy. It's like jellied meat, only more liquid. Is it hereditarily predetermined? Yes. During cell division, the number and location of water molecules, including water molecules, vary. Depends on the number of mitochondria, their size, the number of ribosomes, how many transport RNAs are there, how they move. It will not be the same in every cell.

For example, hepatocytes - cells on the surface of the liver are large in size and close to round in shape. The cells that are located deep in the liver are small, like points, and their shape is close to a cone. Each cone is a structural element of a specific hepatic lobule, which is involved in cleansing the blood of harmful substances, creating new proteins, creating bile, etc. This water is structured differently in all cells.

Maria: Got it! Each person has his own individual, ideal structure at birth, to which they then try to bring it through etheric matrices using homeopathic means.

15:15 Manifestation of the disease.

Irina: Every person has an ideal state of their organs. And there is a violation of the ideal, a violation of harmony, which first causes a dysfunction of this organ, and if this problem is ignored, it already causes illness, disease. Disease, disease is a dysfunction of an organ that affects the entire body.

Maria: Can we say that the disease is the result of changes in the structure of this cytoplasm or tightly bound water inside the organ cell, as Nailya calls it?

Irina: Yes, these are primary cellular changes that a person does not feel yet, but they are already there.

16:27 Cases of use of homeopathic medicines.

Maria: The basic principle of homeopathy is “Similia similibus curentur” (Latin) - “Like is cured by like.” Homeopathic medicines restore the configuration of the structure of tightly bound intracellular water or cytoplasm, disturbed as a result of one or another pathological process. This leads to the disappearance of certain symptoms of the disease in the patient. According to Naili, normalization of the structure of tightly bound intracellular water or cytoplasm under the influence of a homeopathic drug leads to the restoration of biophysical processes inside the cell. Naturally, if by that time no irreversible morphological changes had occurred. Is it so?

Irina: Yes, indeed. If these disorders are only functional, they can be easily corrected with homeopathic medicines, naturally, after eliminating the spiritual cause of the disease. Homeopathy is like support.

In the case of organic tissue damage, it may be necessary to chemically influence not the etheric body, but the physical body with various substances that will change the ratio of substances in the cells themselves, in the intercellular fluid, in the blood, etc. And this will cause systemic changes in the functioning of organs. After using these medicines, you can support a person with homeopathy, transfer him from treatment with chemicals to homeopathic treatment. Transfer from physical impact to etheric impact. Is it possible.

Maria: Are traditional medicinal pharmacological preparations also necessary?

Irina: There are various clinical cases. If a person has dysbiosis or dysentery, these are completely different clinical cases, although the symptoms may be somewhat similar.

Maria: That is. Is it possible to exclude the use of classical medications? Can it be treated only with homeopathic remedies?

Irina: Impossible in all cases! There are organic lesions or cases when physical surgery is required.

19:25 Complex homeopathic preparations, their types. Impact on viruses.

Maria: Recently, so-called complex homeopathic preparations, which contain both traditional homeopathic substances in various dilutions, as well as nasodes and organ preparations, have become increasingly used.

Nasods are drugs made from various microbes, viruses and bacteria. In the process of their synthesis, the same principles of homeopathy were used - repeated dilution, as a result of which they lose their pathogenicity.

Organic preparations are homeopathic preparations made from various internal organs of animals. A number of German companies are developing these drugs. And, as practice has shown, a properly formulated complex homeopathic remedy can act on the virus that is inside the cell and destroy it. What mechanism do you think underlies this effect?

Is it possible to assume that in a patient with viral pathology, when changing complex homeopathic medicines, the exposure of the structure of tightly bound water creates for the virus an integrated genetic apparatus of the host and conditions under which the virus can no longer be in the cell, and it simply leaves it. How does the drug work against viral diseases?

Irina: If you take a virus preparation and dilute it in water, as is done with plants, so that there is not a single molecule of the proteins of this virus in the water, then the water will receive the charge of vibration of this virus. Any microbe, any virus has its own vibration. If this water is given to a person who has this virus in his cell, then, firstly, it stimulates the immune system against this pathogen (ether matrices pass with water into the blood and there charge white blood cells to search for and destroy cells infected with the virus); secondly, they affect the virus itself, but in such a way that it is suppressed. Because it is shaken off, and because it does not contain molecules, the water acquires a charge opposite to this virus. Water enters the physical body, and the etheric matrices of viruses enter the etheric body. In the etheric body, they disperse as a flow of energy throughout the body, and each cell receives information about their presence. And when a cell infected with a virus receives information from a homeopathic medicine with energies opposite to the virus, the group Soul of the virus loses its instinct, the desire to multiply. And vice versa, it donates its proteins to the cell, i.e. integrates into it and dissolves itself forever.

Maria: Thank you, Mid! Thank you, Irochka! For very interesting answers! I hope this helps Nyla and other doctors who use homeopathic remedies. Thank you, friends, for your attention! Until next time!

Irina: Dear friends, I hope the video was interesting. If you are interested in homeopathy, perhaps we can talk about this more. See you again!

00:20 Excerpts from the conversation.

“...Meditation in a broad sense can be called any internal reflection...”

“...These practices were given to people in very ancient times, when humanity was just emerging on Earth...”

“...Wanting is very important for getting results, but not enough. In addition to desires, visualizations and fantasies, there must be real actions..."

“...And meditation also helps with this. They help calm the mind - exactly the same thinking where various information is constantly processed, including from memory ... "

“...Your spiritual development in the form of fulfilling the goal of incarnation. Always be honest with yourself, and then you will automatically be honest with others..."

01:29 Introduction of participants.

Alexander: Hello! My name is Alexander Larionov, I am a student and instructor of the retreat center “School of Givin”, which is located in Russia, in the city of Sochi, and I have several questions about meditation - about such states called “awakening” and “enlightenment”: what kind of they are where we are all heading. And in the process, I think, other related questions will arise.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and today my curator is present with us - a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien forms of life - MidgasCaus from the planet Esler. A biologist and psychologist, he studied various meditative practices from both a psychological and biological point of view. Since a person is both a spiritual and a physical being, such states affect both his Spirit and his body. He is now here in the astral body, that is, in part of his Spirit, and is ready to answer questions. Greeting you.

02:51 Why and when was meditation given to people?

Alexander: Why was meditation given to people in general, and how to use it correctly, how to meditate correctly? Are there any criteria or tips? What to look for?

Irina: Meditation in a general sense or something specific?

Alexander: For example, meditative techniques associated with concentration, for example, on breathing. Anything that allows you to focus on the state of presence or the present moment.

Irina (MidgasKaus): These practices were given to people in very ancient times, when humanity was just emerging on Earth. And this was given from the Spiritual world by that part of the Spirit, which we call the Higher Self. That is, the disembodied part of the Spirit sends directly to its embodied part, located in the body, those practices that are needed to communicate with it.

Now in modern Russian there is a word “meditation”, which originally translated from Latin means reflection. But the state of meditation itself is more likely not like thinking about an everyday or scientific problem, but rather like self-contemplation. Here it would be more accurate to use the Sanskrit term “dhyana”, which means looking inside oneself. And these practices have always been known to mankind.

Initially, when creating your race, alien scientists transmitted spiritual practices to the first people (they did not call them meditative) so that each person could adapt to the world where he lives, be a harmonious, happy and purposeful Spirit in this body.

05:13 What is meditation. The meaning of visualization practice.

Alexander: Now there are various meditation techniques, and one of them is called “visualization,” that is, meditation on a happy life, on some imagined image and immersing oneself in a state where everything is good and beautiful. Is this meditation and does it distract from the true meaning of this practice?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Meditation in a broad sense can be called any internal reflection, that is, internal work in your subjective personal spiritual world, which appears before the “eyes of consciousness” when you close the eyes of the physical body and immerse yourself. Any work on your mind, on your feelings, emotions in the broad sense of the word is already meditation - like the work of consciousness on itself, the work of the mind. We call the mind that part of the mind that is in charge of thinking and processes information.

As for visualization. The visualization process is entirely induced, initiated and controlled by the imagination. Imagination is that part of the mind that is the ability to be creative, to create images and ideas. And if a person imagines the desired future, he uses his imagination. If he believes that he will achieve the desired future, he fills these images with his life energy. About the same thing happens as during the creation of egregors, only not by many people, but by one person.

The visualized image remains in the Spiritual world, more specifically, it remains in the mental field of this person, and this image begins to influence the Timeline, bringing closer to materialization exactly the version of the future that he imagined. But of course, if he believes in it. Moreover, this is how hidden desires and dreams of both a positive nature, which bring happiness, and a negative nature, which bring suffering, are realized.

This mechanism is fully revealed in the words of Jesus Christ: “According to your faith it will be done for you.” Why did He say that? Because faith is a feeling that something invisible, which does not exist in the physical world, already exists. And faith itself changes a person’s perception, changes a person’s will, and he begins to see the possibilities that are necessary to implement the plan he dreamed of. In addition, his dreams, his fantasies are visible to his Guardian Angels, Consulting Angels, and his curators. They are visible in the mental field as images. And if these dreams lead a person to the Light, to enlightenment, to awakening, to the realization of his tasks of embodiment, then his curators, Guardian Angels and Consulting Angels will create for him those events that will allow him to achieve this.

That is, what you call visualization is such an open way of declaring to the Universe that I want this future. But, as everyone understands perfectly well, wanting is very important for getting results, but not enough. In addition to desires, visualization and fantasy, there must be real actions. But daily visualization can be especially useful for those people who have not yet recognized their true desires.

There are many people who themselves do not know what kind of future they want and why. It’s useful for them to learn to dream, to ask themselves: “What do I want? How do I see this future? This will allow them to mobilize willpower and the vitality of the etheric field to realize their desires. After all, every person has desires, only some are directed towards the Light, towards enlightenment, while others can be directed towards degradation. But this is only if there are blocks that distort the Divine Light coming from the Higher Self through the spiritual channel into the heart of the human Soul.

Alexander: Thank you!

11:26 How to distinguish your desires. What does it mean to calm the mind.

Alexander: How to distinguish desires that lead you to spiritual awakening from desires that lead to degradation?

Irina (MidgasKaus): To distinguish, you must first know the purpose of your incarnation and compare desires with the purpose of incarnation: how much this or that desire contributes or hinders the achievement of the goal of incarnation.

Since a person is both a physical and spiritual being, he has physical and spiritual desires that reflect his existence in the physical and spiritual worlds at the same time. After all, you live in the world of things, in the world of your body, and at the same time - in the world of your thoughts, feelings and experiences. Both are real to you, and that's why you have desires.

Desire is a conscious need. A person is not aware of all his needs. Unconscious needs are located in his subconscious, or, as we say, in the causal body. These are those programs, including karmic, instinctive, etc., that are stored, perhaps, from past incarnations or from birth (if we are talking about instinctive programs, they are perceived during incarnation). But in needs there is a certain trigger that turns on and makes this need conscious, and we already call it desire. A conscious need as a desire includes the will as its energy in order to make a choice that corresponds to this desire.

As I already said, all desires can be divided into physical and spiritual. Of course, there is a gradation: physical and spiritual desires are different. Physical desires reflect physical needs, such as water, food, sleep, air, and so on. Naturally, they give rise to desires, for example, to satisfy hunger, thirst, and to enter into sleep.

These desires are positive, but only if they do not completely replace spiritual desires, if a person does not live only by them. If a person fulfills only the needs of the physical body, as well as instinctive needs, including the need for self-preservation, reproduction, power, herd life and pleasure, but does not go to the realization of spiritual needs, ignoring them, then he degrades, lowers his vibrations, because which does not fulfill the purpose of its incarnation. And once he lowers his vibrations, his mentors from the Spiritual world begin to create those conditions for his life or send him to meet those people who will encourage him to remember his spiritual task. This is called “learning the lessons of the material world.”

By its structure, a person very easily forms habits at the brain level. We call this “creating neural circuits.” And for every occasion in life, including the fulfillment of one’s desires, a person already has a ready-made automatic form of behavior, which in terms of the speed and accuracy of its operation approaches instinctive programs. When a person realizes that he needs to change something, the instinct of self-preservation turns on in order to maintain the same way of life. That is why, when these lessons begin, it can be difficult to begin your spiritual path, that is, to begin to fulfill the tasks of embodiment, to realize your spiritual needs.

It manifests itself this way. For example, a person fulfilled only physical needs for a third of his life: he worked to feed his body, created a family to realize the possibility of reproduction, etc. And he also had a spiritual need, for example, knowledge of the world, or the development of Love, or the desire to enjoy life. Spiritual needs differ from physical needs in that they are not based on the achievement of something material. And when a person learns about this, he may not understand how to develop these spiritual qualities if he is already accustomed to working only in the physical world.

Take, for example, a person who has received a higher education. If he is accustomed to only counting numbers, adding them and doing this 8 hours a day, then coming home, then waiting for the day off, he cannot understand how the Spirit requires him to develop Love or joy under these conditions. To understand this, he needs to look at himself with different eyes, the eyes of the Spirit. Meditation also helps with this. They help calm the mind - exactly the same thinking where various information is constantly processed, including from memory.

What does it mean to “calm the mind”? This means making it not a “stormy sea”, where “waves” of thoughts about completely extraneous things constantly arise, but a “smooth water mirror” in which a person will see a reflection of his needs, including his spiritual tasks. The answer from the Spiritual world, from the Higher Self, can come in mental silence, and this is facilitated by meditation, relaxation of the body, autogenic training, various physical and breathing exercises, if, of course, they are performed with concentration on them. These are all auxiliary methods for a person to get used to a state of self-contemplation.

Alexander: Thank you! Several questions were answered at once.

Irina: I understood that he had already answered in advance.

19:46 How to stop the flow of thoughts.

Alexander: I would like to clarify a small detail: how to make a “mirror surface” from a “stormy sea”. In my experience and others, this happens due to the fact that we stop creating “waves”, stop denying reality or creating oscillatory processes that create these “waves”.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, this happens. But it also happens that “waves” come from memory.

The mind consists of thinking, imagination and memory. Moreover, thinking is the center and source of energy of consciousness, which allows us to perceive the surrounding reality, in this case, through the senses of the physical body. Thinking is also the source of self-awareness, the feeling that you exist and are different from other people. This energy is formed in thinking, because the perception of the world and oneself in people, as intelligent beings, is carried out with the help of thoughts. You think: “I am... I am different... What is standing in front of me is a computer.” These are all thoughts that arise due to consciousness.

When people want to meditate, they redirect the energy of consciousness into the inner world. In simple terms, they collect the single energy, which is divided into two streams - consciousness and self-awareness, - simply into the stream of self-awareness by abstracting from the material world. After all, it is consciousness that is directed towards the material world.

When a person closes his eyes and begins to listen to himself, he can concentrate so much that he will not hear sounds or even feel his body: the position of his arms, legs, etc. This happens quite often and is a good sign that a person is distracted from the body's receptors. Of course, if a person has already meditated long enough and has a lot of experience, then he can concentrate on himself, on his self-awareness, not only when his eyes are open, but even when he is doing something. For example, he can go somewhere or do some work and at the same time meditate.

But first it is necessary to go through a stage when a person understands what this condition is. For him to understand this, he needs to enter the stream of self-awareness. Self-consciousness, when it remains an object of contemplation of itself, begins to note the individual thoughts that arise. If a person himself no longer uses thinking, that is, does not consciously think about anything, then certain thoughts that will come to him may come from memory. For example, he can remember what happened this morning, or what he didn't have time to do, or what he has to do tomorrow. That is, certain thoughts can come from that array of data, that information that is stored in memory.

Also, thoughts can come to him from the Spiritual Channel - from the Higher Self and from its curators. On Earth this is called intuition, intuitive thoughts. A person can feel the presence of the Higher Self, can feel the presence of Light, certain thoughts will come to him, for example: "You are the Light" or "Believe in yourself." They usually reflect not memory settings, but higher spiritual states that can be clothed in thoughts or images. This happens differently for each person: some have more of a verbal type of thinking, while others have a more figurative type of thinking, but nevertheless thoughts come.

When a person himself calms his "ocean," at the initial stage he calms only his thinking. He himself, for example, does not think: "Where am I? What is happening to me? What I feel?" Or something else. He simply observes himself, and thoughts begin to appear involuntarily. If some thought comes in order to calm it down (not to drive it away, we don't call it the word "drive it away", we call it "calm it down so as to feel the silence of the mind, the silence of thinking"), we do not continue to follow it, we do not think it over, why did she come, but we just let her pass through us and go back. We become, as Esler calls it, “transparent” to thoughts, just as glass is transparent to the light of the Sun.

Alexander: Thank you. A whole series of questions were answered.

Irina: (laughs).

25:55 Freedom of choice in the intelligent Spirit.

Alexander: Then maybe I’ll go back a little and ask a question about free will, or choice. There is an opinion, and even to some extent it has been proven by scientists, that there is no freedom of choice in humans. A signal simply comes to the brain, and after some time a reaction occurs - some idea, or thought, desire arises. As a result, action is activated to implement it, or resistance and doubt that “this is mine.” But all this is already a consequence of the influence of something from the outside on a person.

Is there such a thing as free will? If so, at what level is it?

Irina (MidgasKaus): It all depends on the understanding of the word “freedom”. How do you understand this word?

Alexander: Personally, I understand the word “freedom” as the ability to control attention, to put it in a nutshell. Depending on this, programs are launched to sell this or that energy.

Irina (MidgasKaus): That’s what it’s called – “free will”, that is, opportunity and ability. It is both the possibility and the ability of the energy of the will to perform certain actions. The immediate moment of directing the will towards one action or another is called “choice”. For this reason, free will is also called free choice. What does this mean? “Free choice” means that the decision about where to direct one’s will energy is made by the person (entity, being) who possesses this will energy. That is, this choice is not imposed from the outside, it is not written into some mechanisms of his brain. The Spirit itself, which is in this body, from the many impulses leading it to this or that choice, and, accordingly, to behavior as a series of choices, completely freely (meaning, without the influence of other beings) chooses one of the impulses.

From your life experience, you know well that you can have two or more desires at the same time. And except for God (the Absolute, Heavenly Father), who knows all the options for the future, no one knows, not even you yourself, what choice you will make, because the choice you make may come as a surprise even to you. But nevertheless you will do it freely. What does free mean? This means that no one will do it for you, but you will do it yourself.

Who makes the choice in a person? The choice is made by the mind, more specifically, by its thinking, which we have already discussed. In addition to the function of processing information according to certain logical laws, thinking also has the function of making decisions. Desires, as I already said, are conscious needs. They exist in the heart, which is why in Russian they say: “You can’t order the heart... The heart desires.” But the mind, although it cannot command the heart, can choose which of the desires needs to be realized right now, and which to postpone until later or even forever.

I am often asked the question: “How does a person live - with his mind or with his heart?” He lives both at the same time, but if you look at the source of desires, then of course it is the spiritual heart. But the mind helps the heart realize the desire and turn it into a conscious goal. And freedom of choice presupposes the possibility of responsibility or what we call “creating karma.” If there is no freedom of choice, it means that the creature does not have karma, it does not accumulate karma for itself as a result of all the vibrations it experienced during its incarnation. For example, this is how animals act; they have no karma.

31:38 The instinctive mind of the animal soul.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Animal souls are a special type of souls.

(Irina): Now he’s also showing me plants.

(MidgasCaus): But now we will not talk about plants, microorganisms, which also have their own type of souls. We are talking about those closer to awareness, in the understanding that a person has it. Although the consciousness of animals is, of course, completely different, it works differently, but nevertheless it is more understandable to you than the consciousness (perception) of plants, the souls of plants.

It is precisely freedom of choice in the sense in which humans have it - as a result of the work of thinking - that animals do not have. How then do they choose what to do? By automatically following the instinct that was the strongest at that moment in time. This is called the "instinctive mind." Any animal soul has an instinctive mind, an instinctive memory that controls the behavior of this animal, which is why animals lack abstract thinking, that is, thinking abstracted from its body, from its immediate habitat, etc. All this happens because animals do not have thinking, but simply an instinctive mind; they do not have freedom of choice, which means that animals are not responsible for their actions. People, that is, intelligent beings, are responsible for their actions, but animals have no responsibility and do not have karma.

For example, if a person has lowered his vibrations, accumulated anger, pride and other negativity in his heart, he has accumulated a certain negative karma. This negative karma will attract him to one or another level of the Spiritual world. And if this level is low, he will feel dissatisfied, and in order to get out of this level, he will need to incarnate again in order to go through again, to dissolve these blocks that have already turned into karmic knots.

This doesn't happen in animals. Those cycles of incarnations that exist among animal souls are completely independent of what the animal did during life. The only thing is that there are different types of animal souls, which approximately coincide with the concept of a biological family. For example, the soul of a dog may well incarnate into a cat (this happens), but it cannot incarnate into animals that already have a slightly different instinctive mind, for example, into a hare, into a cow, etc., since they have different types of souls . But nevertheless, their conditions of incarnation do not depend on the previous incarnation. The cycle of incarnation of animal souls is under the jurisdiction of the subtle-material civilizations of the planet where these animals exist. By animals I now mean the entire animal world, starting from single-celled animals, arthropods, insects, birds, mammals and so on.

Alexander: Thank you!

Irina: He’s a biologist, so he explained the differences.

Alexander: Yes. We also learned about animals.

Irina: He now says that they do not have freedom of choice, but we do, because they have an instinctive mind, and we have a thinking that makes a choice: “This is what I want now, but this is what I don’t want right now.” or “I want this now, but this is what I need.” Although I don’t want it, I need it.” And thinking makes a conscious choice - to suppress your desire and do what you need, even if you don’t want to, for the sake of some of your goals. A reasonable person has this property.

Alexander: Thank you, we’ve summed it up.

36:22 The essence and meaning of collective meditation.

Alexander: I have a question about collective practices, collective meditations. This is practiced and there is even information that in the 21st century, meditation and spiritual practices in general, carried out alone, either do not work at all or have a significantly lower efficiency. What happens during collective practice? Are they an accelerator of spiritual development, or can you still carry them out alone, as convenient, and is it all individual?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, individual meditation, individual spiritual practice differs from collective spiritual practice in its energy. And there are even differences when people gather, as you say now, in the online space and do some kind of meditation, or physically gather in the same room. The fact is that when many people think simultaneously on the same topic or perform the same practice, they create a common spiritual space, which with its vibrations enhances the spiritual sensations (not physical, but spiritual!) and the feelings of each participant in the meditation , which means it enhances the effect according to the law of resonance of the energy shells of the aura.

Simply put, for a person who has just begun his spiritual path with meditation, with knowing himself, his Light inside, it will be easier to feel this Light, these energies in collective meditations, because there everyone will be tuned to the same “wave”, and the space itself will help his aura resonate with this state. Individual practices, of course, can be carried out, and they also help a person on the path of spiritual development. If he feels merging with his Higher Light, the inner Light in individual practice, then in collective practice this will be even easier, again, due to the resonance of energy vibrations transmitted from one aura to another.

39:11 How to discern the true Light.

Alexander: Feels the spiritual Light... I have more than once encountered experiences when a person at some point suddenly realized that something spiritual, filling, which he felt until that moment turned out to be some kind of reaction to imagination or illusion, and immersed himself even more deeper, experiencing a new range of sensations. How not to be deceived and fall into the illusion that you have already achieved something, and that what you are now experiencing or experienced in meditation is the Absolute? How to distinguish the true Light?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Everyone experiences contact with the Absolute or with the Absolute in themselves, with God in themselves at their own level, that is, at the level of those vibrations for which they are ready at the moment. Of course, if a person purifies his spiritual heart, his aura, harmonizes his chakras, he can feel the same Light in a different way. But this is not a reason to call the previous experience illusory; a person was simply able to become more sensitive to the Absolute and get closer to Him in his vibrations. That is, he can first feel to a small degree, and then feel to a much deeper degree, experience the same experience.

It depends on how harmonious the chakras are, how many blocks there are, and so on, it even depends on the state of the physical body. If there is some kind of disharmony in it, for example, for some reason a person’s certain number of neuroregulatory hormones in the brain are disrupted, he will no longer be up to high spiritual states, his brain energy simply will not reach them. This also happens.

41:16 How to survive depression after contact with the Light.

Alexander: There are cases when, after experiencing deep states, opposite states suddenly occur, sometimes quite long. Why is this happening?

Irina (MidgasKaus): This really happens, because, as I already said, a person is a part of the Spirit, that is, a Soul embodied in a physical body. And when the Soul reaches these high states, certain changes occur in the body associated with the release of certain hormones, which you call “pleasure hormones.” You called them that because they stand out in a certain spiritual state. They are needed in order to renew and harmonize all cells of the physical body, including increasing immunity, cleansing toxins, etc., in order to heal the physical body.

But it happens that a person, having experienced this bright sensation of Light, returns to his normal state, and in his subjective perception it already seems like despondency, depression in comparison with the Light that he experienced, because often the human body, his brain needs to replenish reserves of these substances, these hormones, which are already doing their work. There is no need to worry here, you need to remain calm, wait, remember this Light and understand that the body must adapt to these changes. And you will definitely experience this feeling even longer, even more fully, if you are calm and do not lower your vibrations with doubts and blaming yourself that you are not spiritual enough.

Alexander: That is, you need to accept yourself as you are.

Irina (MidgasKaus): This is a physiological reason plus a person’s subjective perception of his usual mood as decreased and vitality as low compared to the state in which he was in contact with the Light.

Alexander: Yes, this is very resonating, familiar, thank you.

43:43 The path of humanity. How to let go of fear.

Alexander: A more global question. They have been prophesying almost the end of the world for a long time, and everything is presented in such a way that we are getting closer and closer to it. Is this really true? Is humanity on the verge of destruction, or is this all an exaggeration? And what will help us get out of the steep dive towards death, if it exists, and what should we become at a new level of consciousness? Where are we going?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Again, I will tell you my opinion. At the moment, humanity is not exactly on the path of its destruction. There are, of course, some collective choices of peoples that have made such an outcome more likely than it was, for example, a few years ago. But the likelihood that there will be some mass loss of life is small.

What can you change? A specific person who is in a country or territory where many people believe in destruction, in the creative power of their own aggression, must understand that the aggression of some people creates fear not only in other people, but also in the aggressors themselves.

Fear is a natural consequence, a natural emotion that manifests itself as protection from danger. If a person feels aggression, he tells his brain, his instinct (that part of the brain that is responsible for the manifestation of instincts) that he lives in a dangerous world. And since he lives in a dangerous world, his fears awaken in order to protect him, the instinct of self-preservation awakens, so that he remains alive, healthy, so that his physical body lives as long as possible, since this is the task of the instinct of self-preservation. But aggression from yourself or others interferes with this, because it is associated with an increased risk of injury and physical death.

Therefore, it is necessary to explain to people: “If you experience resentment, anger, rage, revenge, anger, you will provoke fears and anxieties in yourself. And all this will not help you protect yourself from danger, because its source is in yourself.”

To calm down, you must first find out the goals of your incarnation in this world, in this place, at this time, when aggressive actions occur. After all, you incarnated at a certain time after viewing the most likely events in this current period of time, in this space. And if you have incarnated right here and now, it means you need it for something.

It is necessary to move to a new level of thinking: stop thinking of yourself as a victim of circumstances and take responsibility for creating your reality into your own hands. What does this mean? That you realize yourself as Divine consciousness, which itself creates its own reality. And if you realize this, it will be easy for you to let go of fear and aggression as emotions that are no longer relevant for you, to be filled with faith, Love, hope even in the most terrible circumstances for the instincts of the body, even if the instinct of self-preservation sends thoughts to you. And he can also send thoughts in the form of certain fears, that is, thought forms invested with the energy of fear.

Even if he sends you thoughts that your body will perish because of some weapon, and this is scary, and so on, if you already know how to enter the Light of your heart, as soon as this instinctive thought penetrates your consciousness, you can immediately simply put her in front of you, like a person who brought you some kind of message. It's like opening the door to the postman, greeting her and asking: "Can this fear that you brought me really protect me from these weapons? Can it protect me from death, for example, in combat?

Naturally, if these actions depend on the will of other people, and you are there simply as a Spirit who decided to incarnate there, then no fear can protect you. It simply lowers your vibrations, because you begin to move away from the Light that is in you, from the awareness that you are an immortal Spirit, into the perception of yourself as a body. This gives rise to a problem called "disappointment in the spiritual path." Because when a person who has previously walked the spiritual path begins to feel like a body out of fear, he can look at his previous spiritual activities with a critical mind and tell himself that they did not give anything to him as a body. This can cause a withdrawal from these spiritual practices and immersion in material life completely, rather than partially (work, eating, etc.).

To prevent this from happening, you need to talk to yourself very truly, honestly - ask yourself sincere questions and answer them honestly. You can deceive someone, you can deceive yourself. But if you deceive yourself, you thereby delay your spiritual development in the form of fulfilling the goal of incarnation. Always be honest with yourself, and then you will automatically be honest with others.

How can you help other people avoid negativity? You can only be an example for them of how you live in these circumstances: treat this situation with calmness and acceptance, and in relation to enemies - without fear, anger, any curses, with understanding, forgiveness, Love. And you will be that “beacon” of Light that is visible far away, and you will be an example for others, because in you they will see the “ocean” of calm that they lack.

Alexander: Thank you.

Irina: I hope everything is clear?

Alexander: Absolutely. The main thing is that it is very accessible, laid out on shelves.

52:56 Is absolute happiness possible?

Alexander: I would like to clarify one more detail. Where are we heading as humanity? Is absolute happiness possible on Earth, or is it just a simulator for going through an experience, usually painful, maybe even suffering in some places?

Irina (MidgasKaus): Absolute happiness is possible only for the Absolute. We, His children, can approach this happiness, we can merge with it, we can experience it, but its limits are endless, like the Absolute itself. You can say there are no limits, you can say the limits are infinite, which actually means their absence, just like the Absolute itself.

How can we endlessly increase our level of happiness? Firstly, the realization that true happiness is found only in the Source, which is called on Earth God, or the Absolute, or the Source of everything. And in order to discover the source of this happiness in ourselves, we need to understand that it is always present in us and is revealed through the development of unconditional Love.

54:22 MidgasKaus about unconditional Love.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Why exactly unconditional Love? Because there are many forms of love on Earth, and all people have some of them simply as the ability to feel attraction to someone or something, attraction. And the feeling of unconditional Love is a feeling of unity regardless of conditions. All forms of love that a person has are manifestations of this eternal, absolute Love.

But a manifestation or part is not the whole itself, it is only a manifestation. Therefore, if a person loves only pleasant things, pleasant people, relatives, friends, this is so-called egoistic love. The love of the ego (the ego as an embodied part of the Spirit, from the word “ego” - I) is by no means bad, but here you need to understand that this is partial love. And since this is partial love, it means that it gives only partial happiness.

If you want more complete Love, then you need to develop more complete, or, as we call it, absolute, unconditional Love. What is the difference between selfish love and unconditional love? Selfish love exists between people, for example, between a parent and a child, between spouses, between friends, as with unconditional Love, but with selfish love, a person loves and accepts another only as long as he meets his expectations. And unconditional love always loves, regardless of the mental or mental attitudes of the mind. Even if one person violates some rules and norms in the mind of another person, the latter still continues to love him, send him Light, wish goodness, happiness and help him, including in physical needs and in spiritual development.

I want to emphasize here a very important point that “helping him” does not mean doing everything for him, it is precisely helping, assisting, accompanying him. The desire to do everything for another person is not Love, because it contributes to shifting responsibility onto the helper and can subsequently push the recipient of such help to laziness, irresponsibility, and, ultimately, to abandon his development and degradation.

57:43 MidgasKaus about the pace of spiritual development.

Alexander: Many Teachers that I know or have read about, always hurried their students with the idea that time is short, that they need to awaken faster, faster, faster, faster to move to a new level of consciousness. Is this rush really making you increase your speed? Is it worth rushing at all, or is everything going as usual?

Irina: What exactly is the rush?

Alexander: Bust around, quickly search for where this awakening is, travel from continent to continent, constantly be in a state of reaching or running after awakening.

Irina: So the question is: should we rush to awaken?

Alexander: Yes, to achieve it, to strive for it, to lust after it, to wait for it endlessly, to fuss for it.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, I understood the question.

In order to truly achieve awakening as the full realization of yourself, your Spirit on Earth, the fulfillment of your tasks, you need to communicate with your Higher Self and find out from him the goals of incarnation, how much you are fulfilling them, and what is stopping you from doing so.

Striving for spiritual development is a very good thing, but it should not be accompanied by constant dissatisfaction with oneself. It's better to be in a calmer, more introspective state, which people don't do well with in a rush. From what I have observed of people, it is difficult for people to relax their body and mind if they are in a hurry to get somewhere, because it makes them anxious, afraid of the thought that they will not have time, that they will not achieve something. And fear itself causes the release of certain hormones, which also affect the brain and block the release of those hormones that allow you to prepare for that very quiet, meditative state.

So each person must, of course, move at his own pace if he wants to succeed in this, despite the achievements of others. This is not the case when you are in competition. This is a very subtle structure, this is a very subtle spiritual Light that can be felt by you in the silence of your heart, and haste is inappropriate here. Therefore, if you see that someone is ahead of you in their spiritual achievements, you do not need to scold yourself and try at all costs to achieve their results. You need to ask yourself (go inside yourself and ask): “What exactly do I need to do to achieve my specific task?”

To put it figuratively, there is Light in the spiritual heart of a person, and this Light is covered by certain mental coverings, just as a beautiful bright flower is covered by a bud. And if it is not yet open, it is very dangerous to try to open it artificially, to hack it. This can damage the flower and cause it to never bloom again. Remember that you are God’s beloved children, and in the heart of each of you there is a “flower” of your talents, abilities and high spiritual feelings. But to reveal them, you need silence, you need respect, you need Love for this Light and for each other’s Light.

(Irina): Is he clear? What do you feel?

Alexander: Yes, very clear. What is this feeling? This is what you practice every day. This is what we do at our School, and we strive to at least do it regularly.

Irina: Are there contactees there too?

Alexander: No, I would not say that they are contactees, that is, there is no communication with the individual, but there is communication with the field. It is so silent, the answer comes at the level of impulses. And someone specific who conveyed this to you or said this is missing, at least with us. There is a teacher who speaks in words.

I think I've run out of questions.

Irina: Okay. Thank you.

1:03:19 Parting words from MidgasCaus.

Alexander: If only you have some parting words, a wish.

Irina (MidgasKaus): Yes, I would like to say some parting words.

Dear divine Souls! Remember that you are Light, and precisely the Light of Love! If you always keep this in your consciousness and memory, you will be able to track against this light background any dark points as dark images that may enter your aura, for example, from egregors or from other people, and send Light to them. And this will not have any effect on you - no one can scare you, make you angry, make you feel guilty, and so on. Remember that you are Light and always live in the Light! Remember that the space where you live is filled with Divine Light, only it manifests itself in the form of physical matter. Remember that your bodies are given to you temporarily to complete your task. Remember that the tasks of your life lie outside of it. I send you the Light of my Love!

Alexander: Thank you.

Irina: Thank you, dear friends! Mead answered very interestingly and sent energy, I feel it. Thank you for watching this video. I hope you found it interesting. I also thank Alexander for the interesting questions, and I thank MidgasKaus for the interesting answers. I love you too, see you again!

Alexander: Thank you, Irina! Thank you, MidgasKaus! Goodbye!

00:40 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. Good evening. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today my curator is present with me - a biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, already well known to you. Tatyana will broadcast. Hello Tatiana.

Tatyana: Hello. My name is Karpenko Tatyana. I am a psychologist. I work with injuries, blocks (as they say in esoteric language). On this broadcast I want to ask the questions that interest me: about blocks. Blocks associated with violence, blocks when the child is small, preverbal blocks. I will ask questions that interest me.

Irina: He says: “We are waiting.”

Tatyana: So, my question is: why do preverbal traumas have a stronger impact than traumas received at an older age? That is, an injury or block that the child received in infancy or at 6 years old. They seem to be different in strength. Why is that?

02:11 Psychological trauma in childhood.

Irina: (He speaks) Thank you for the question. Indeed, this happens. Not always, but often. It depends on the psychotype of the individual, speaking in the language of psychology. According to esoteric teaching, this depends on the type of vibration of the Soul that came into incarnation. From her spiritual level and her parents, from the ancestral egregor. Many components. If trauma occurred at an earlier age, why does it have a greater impact?

Because psychotrauma at the moment of experience is not perceived as psychotrauma, it is perceived as information about the world. At an earlier age, this information passes into the memory of the embodied Soul, which, in turn, is reflected in the physical tissues of the brain, as well as into the memory of the disembodied part of the Soul, that is, to the place that is not yet occupied, empty, in the cell memory. Memory is like a computer matrix, board.

There is a matrix in the Spirit where various memories are recorded. They are recorded not just on some days, but according to the emotions experienced. A person's leading memory is emotional. Thanks to the energy of emotions, which mixes with the energy of consciousness in the stream of perception, all images, all words and body states, muscle spasms, etc. are recorded. This state is written to a memory cell.

If we are talking about blocks, if this experience was very painful and caused great suffering, a great negative experience, then it takes up a lot of space in the memory and nothing is recorded there. It is erased from the stream of perception: from the operational part of memory and remains in its unconscious part, and at the energy level an energy block is formed that does not allow it to manifest itself in consciousness.

What happens then to consciousness? Consciousness begins to perceive reality through the prism of this block.

At a younger age, the place is often unoccupied, let's say it's like a blank slate.

Tatyana: It seemed to me that at a younger age the feelings are more intense.

Irina: It doesn't even depend on the intensity of feelings, but on something else: the younger the child, the higher his ability to store information in the subconscious part of his memory, as a guide to action. This is an adaptation mechanism for quickly adapting to the surrounding world. It turns on in early childhood.

Do you understand what this is about?

Tatyana: Yes, it's clear, but, unfortunately, there is little such information in modern psychological books. This is valuable to me.

Next question. What is forgiveness as a process? I asked my friends about what forgiveness is, if they know. People have all sorts of fantasies. Forgiveness is important for working through trauma (I know about this from theory) and for working through blocks from the information of your Project. As a process, tell us what it is.

07:03 The process of forgiveness.

Irina: Forgiveness is a process of turning on awareness. Understanding that a person had the right and opportunity to commit an act thanks to his freedom of choice and understanding why he did so. If we say: "I forgive you," and say why, we let go of this act, we let go of the feeling of guilt. But we do not let go of it automatically, but consciously. You can forgive yourself, you can forgive someone.

I really like it: now he says the Russian words “forgive”, “forgiveness”. Even in the composition of this word, its true meaning can be traced. The verb “to forgive” comes from the verb “to simplify,” that is, to treat more simply, to let go.

Let go of what? Resentment, guilt (if they forgive themselves), anger, irritation. We stop fighting with the world, within ourselves, with this person, so that he becomes what we want him to be. We accept him for who he is and at the same time understand why he did it. This is understanding, acceptance and forgiveness, like feelings, only it all happens at the same time.

Tatyana: Can such a process help forgiveness (I’ll give an example): a girl comes who was beaten by her father as a child. If the father beat (he is a violent figure), can it help if the girl accepts the rapist within herself? This is the Jungian theme of the “shadow”: if I accept the rapist in me, I can accept. This doesn't mean she should do the same to other people...

09:29 The role of parents in a child’s life.

Irina: I understand: we are talking about accepting your energy of anger. I know this theory. We use a simpler method: appealing to the individual in the Spiritual world through the Higher Self of the person against whom we have a block of resentment, in this case.

If the father beat, then there will still be a block of irritation, rejection and, possibly, hatred for “betrayal”. There will be such a complex. Disgust and, very possibly, fear. Fear, plus resentment that he did this.

Parents with small children (up to 5-6 years old) are perceived with almost religious reverence. It is not for nothing that the image of the father is reflected in archetypes, like the image of God - the father. What kind of relationship a child has with his father before the age of five is how he will then relate to the religious image of God. This is a well-known rule in psychology.

If there was no father, then any male figure. If there was no such figure, then a person (boy or girl) will have to work through the absence of a father, the absence of male energy next to him, the energy of confidence, and, either be unsure of himself, or become his own father, find support in himself.

Mom has feminine energies, and dad has masculine energies. They have different family roles, different behavior and different energies that they give to the child. For a small child, the image of a father is the image of a protector, a person who is “one of his own”, as a part of himself. And, at the same time, the child understands that this is part of him. He may leave home temporarily, be absent, but when he comes, the child perceives him organically, as part of the environment. When a child wants to communicate with his father, he perceives him with great love, and this love is so great that the child himself can recognize it as an attraction.

But if the father begins to cause pain, psychological or physical, the first time he does this, the child experiences a psychological shock because his picture of the world is broken. The one who was perceived as a protector, as the most reliable friend, almost a deity, hurt him. There may be disappointment in the world, fear of human aggression, fear of cruelty. Such a person may be afraid of some aggressive people, who later, in adulthood, will show aggression, not even towards him, but he will be afraid of this.

Processing comes through the father's forgiveness. A very important point: whether the father is alive at the time the girl or young man asks for help.

14:17 Working with necrotic bindings.

Irina: It matters greatly whether the person who caused the offense is alive, be it father, mother or any other person. If he is not in the world of the living, and a person had a grudge against him, when he comes out of incarnation, falls on a low or medium level, from a living person who has a block in relation to the deceased, the formation of a necrotic attachment is possible.

Such bindings need to be removed through the Higher Self. There is a special session. If you dissolve the block, but do not remove the binding, it will continue to take away the person's vitality and send him to the world of the dead. This leads to mental and physical illnesses and a decrease in spiritual vibrations.

If a person has a necrotic connection, then first he breaks it off with forgiveness. He calls the Spirit, mentally forgives him. First she forgives him, mentally sends him the Light of Love, speaks it out loud, and then with the power of her Spirit she breaks the binding and necessarily returns the vital energies that went through this binding into her etheric field. Then the person becomes free and can live without this block.

If the offender is alive, you can imagine his image. Through the presented image there will be a connection with his Higher Self. Then forgive him, that is, say out loud: "I forgive you." A word spoken out loud becomes reality for the person himself.

Is the answer clear?

Tatyana: Yes, the answer is clear. I'll listen again later, there's a lot of information.

16:38 Emotions of the rapist and the victim.

Tatyana: So, next question. Why, during sexual trauma, does the victim have the feeling that she is to blame, that the victim did something, that's why the rapist attacked. Why does it feel like it's dirty? If a woman has experienced rape, then for some reason such a phenomenon occurs as a feeling of being dirty and a feeling that it was she who did something. The rapist made this choice himself.

Irina: This feeling arises in a woman if in her spiritual heart there is a mental attitude that any sexual contact occurs only with attractive women who themselves prepare themselves for men in some way in order to be desired by them. That is, it is a passive sexual role. When violence against her occurs, she will look within herself for the reasons why and how exactly she attracted him.

Speaking about rape, I can say that it, like any other action in the material world, is not accidental. There are a complex of reasons.

Two Spirits who met for some reason were attracted to each other. The one who committed the violence could not and did not want to cope with his instinctive nature. Sexual desire is mostly an instinctive desire. This contact is not about spiritual love. Here we are talking about satisfying the desires of the body or satisfying one's egoistic aspirations, but not about spiritual love for this woman as a Spirit. It's about attraction to her body. Often, a man who has raped a woman, after the violence, immediately develops hostility towards this woman, anger, even hatred.

In the beginning he had an attraction. He, wanting to make contact, is refused, and this begins to anger him. He wants to get what he wants and is angry that she is preventing him. The rapist has an attitude in sex that he is a consumer. Obliged to provide. I'm speaking in the most general terms now, of course. She refuses, and this angers him.

After the violence, the anger may increase to the point that he does not want to see her, and sometimes even wants to destroy her. Many rapists hate the victim who did not resist more. They can explain that the woman herself attracted him and deceived him, that she did not want to make contact, and made him guilty. If she didn't resist, she might make him even more furious. Such a submissive woman.

21:27 Responsibility of the parties in case of rape.

Irina: Do you want to know how responsible a woman herself is? We don't use the word "guilty" because guilt is a feeling that seeks punishment. And responsibility is a feeling that seeks not punishment, but the possibility of circumventing similar situations.

In our psychology, a feeling of guilt is not used, as if a woman is to blame for something, but a feeling of responsibility is used. The word "guilty" is also not used to refer to a rapist. If he committed violence, what could be his punishment? Punishment for violence is revenge against it.

It will not help raise his vibration. He needs help so that he can dissolve his block of fear, anger, which is closely intertwined with his sexual desire, with instincts. Otherwise, he will repeat this if he is not helped. Here we use the word “responsibility”. He is responsible for this, but how responsible is she? It all depends on the circumstances.

If the rape happened in some place where she could attract people's attention, and he attacked her and she did not try to resist, then her responsibility increases. With active resistance, it is very difficult for a man to carry out his plans, of course, if he does not hit her or tie her up. If he holds it, it will be very difficult to accomplish his plans.

With active resistance and struggle, a man in a state of sexual arousal is very vulnerable, and it is very easy to interrupt his arousal. Of course, if there is active resistance.

If there were circumstances such as threats to use weapons, then, of course, the responsibility lies more with the man, because under the fear of death, her instinct of self-preservation was activated, and she went for it.

24:25 The birth of a child after rape.

Irina: It is also very important to mention that a woman can become pregnant as a result of rape. There are such cases. It is as a result of rape, from a man whom she sees for the first time and who will later be sent to prison. Many women have a question: what to do with pregnancy, what to do with the child?

The answer in the Interstellar Union is clear. This is a living Spirit and, firstly, he is not responsible for the actions of his father, and secondly, as I already said, any Spirit chooses its parents. This means that he chose, based on vibrations, precisely these two parents through whom he can incarnate: dad and mom.

If he no longer had the opportunity to incarnate, he can bring them together, arrange a meeting for them in just this way. The conception of a living Soul is not accidental. At any conception, the Spirit is present, waiting for the female and male cells to merge. Only then does he introduce the energy of his Soul into the first cell of his body.

He could incarnate through this mother, but he could not through her man, who did not match the vibrations. This could happen. In the Spiritual world, he is looking for mentors, curators of that person, his father, from whom he can incarnate and somehow builds a chain of events in the material world. By influencing people's thoughts, etc., he brings them both to the meeting place. This is a perennial combination. It has been waiting for its implementation for many years.

26:58 Attitudes and emotions of a victim of violence.

Irina: Why does she feel guilty and dirty? Because this woman has a mental attitude in her mind, in her Spiritual Heart, in her mental field (not everyone has it) that if a man had sexual intercourse with her and left her, then another man may not need her . It was important for the rapist to take the body; he would not live with her as with a woman, as with a wife. And if she has such an attitude that another man will not need her after contact with one of the men. Such attitudes are acquired in childhood, by birth, from grandmothers, from mothers, etc.

Tatyana: Interesting.

28:07 Blocks in children after sexual abuse.

Tatyana: Next question. You mentioned on air, and you, Mead, mentioned children's sexual integrity. What block occurs in a child if he has been sexually abused, for example, by a parent. A boy or girl about five years old.

Irina: This is a block consisting of fear, disgust and guilt. There is also disgust for oneself, for this person who committed a crime. Blocks are formed in this way. The earlier the experience is gained, the more traumatic circumstances there can be in a child’s life due to the fact that he is afraid. It’s scary because he doesn’t understand what’s happening, because a small child feels a person’s energy.

He has a very well developed intuition, he reads a person's energy by his eyes and movements. Feels cruelty from the person who commits violent acts with him. This causes fear and it closes.

If he does not dissolve the block, he will create protection from people, that is, not trust anyone. He may not remember it or remember it vaguely, he does not want to return to these memories. They can be unpleasant for him because they carry the pain of those feelings that he has not dissolved.

30:08 Formation and dissolution of a bloc after violence.

Irina: A sign of the dissolution of a block on this or another topic is that a person remembers it completely calmly, without negative emotions. Takes it as experience. Yes, this happened in my life.

If he doesn't have a desire to push it aside, don't think about it, if he talks completely calmly about these or similar topics with other people, and he doesn't have a desire to avoid the conversation, resentment and anger at that person, at the parent. When you remember the image, it will be bright; you will want to send it love. This is a sign of the block dissolving.

Tatyana: Got it. I thought that when a person is in childhood, he has a divine destiny for sex, for sexual energies. Is there something like that?

Irina: He doesn't realize at that level. He realizes this as cruelty, pain and fear coming from an adult, through energy. He doesn't realize that his body is not ready. He may not even understand what it is, what they are doing to him. He can feel the energy and be afraid of it. At the same time, if you hurt him, he will feel resentful.

The child's Higher Self sees everything through his eyes, but the Higher Self in the Spiritual world is not capable of forming a block. It sees and records, as an event, an experience that can negatively affect the child's vibrations and make it difficult for him to complete life tasks in the future. If he does not dissolve the block, it may lower his vibration and he may not recognize or want to fulfill his spiritual tasks.

32:44 Family and sexual energy.

Tatyana: Mid, you just talked about elaboration. That was the next question.

I want to ask one more question. Kirchiton said that a person mishandles sexual energy. To be honest, I saw it on video in your notebook. I stopped the video. What did Kirchiton mean? Maybe you, Irina, remember, or MidgasCaus?

Irina: Yes, I remember. Kirchiton explained it to me. I was 13 years old then. I want to say that aliens can quite calmly talk about these topics with their children. For them, the word “sex”, the name of any sexual organ, is a name. They don't have any special relationship. Yes, this phenomenon exists, this is an exchange of energies. They talk about it neutrally. It surprised me then: with children.

Incorrect use of sexual energy indicates that the concept of “family” is devalued. Kirchiton believed that sexual energy, as a manifestation of Divine Love through the body, should be directed at the only husband or wife in the family egregor. In order to build a happy family, to not only give birth to children, but also to receive pleasure in this relationship. But without negative energies: suspicion, jealousy, resentment and betrayal. Pure love.

He believed that leaving the family and betraying each other lower the vibrations of the entire society. He said that there is a humiliation of love, the energy of love for a person. He does not respect Divine Love, which means he does not love, first of all, himself.

(Mead says), I will add: “That person who leaves the family without a good reason, without a reason that causes danger, or the partner did not like him outwardly, did not like some character trait, and the person does not want to adapt to it, tolerate it , he’ll find someone better for himself.” It turns out that he pulls the image of his beloved out of his heart and tramples it, or (now he shows) tears up the photograph and throws it away.

An image in which, during the period of falling in love, the quintessence of everything bright and desirable, the ideal of love, was contained. At the moment of disappointment in love, a person accumulates a block in himself that love is not valuable. It will be more difficult for him to truly love for the second time, and even more so for the third. You can, of course, but first you need to dissolve the blocks that led to the breakdown of the family in order to release this energy.

Kirchiton meant that there are people who do not set out to raise a family at all. They meet each other, change partners. As he told me, there are many of them compared to a century earlier. He flew to Earth a hundred years ago.

Now Mead tells me that there are such people, and they, first of all, do not love themselves, their body. If they begin to connect their body with the bodies of many people and begin to exchange energy with many partners, this leads to a distortion of their energy. This suggests that they do not love their body, and through pleasure from many partners they are trying to love themselves. But they won't succeed until they accept themselves.

When they accept themselves, love themselves completely, they will desire one partner. It is in human nature, and, moreover, this is written down as a moral rule in the egregors of your planet, more specifically, in the egregors of your people.

Tatyana: Interesting, of course. Yes, this is not about modern times.

38:25 Energy blocks after violence and their consequences.

Tatyana: Next question. Why, if a person has experienced violence, does he become or can become a sadist or a masochist, or both at the same time? This means physical violence.

Irina: Because he did not dissolve the block of resentment and hatred towards this person. When he grows up, the block will try to get out of him, like aggression. The aggression is the same as they did to him, like a repetition in memory.

This is revenge, but it is expressed to another person. He can no longer find the culprit. If he is a sadist, someone who has been raped before, he will mentally imagine that he is committing these acts with the person who did this to him, imagining him helpless, small, tied up. It depends on what a sadist he is. It will look like a release of aggressive energy.

For some time after this, the person becomes psychologically better. But this does not mean that the block is gone. New energies of anger have been added, because at the moment of committing a crime, the criminal becomes angry, and the block is strengthened. The energy, the outer shell of the block, comes out of the person and it becomes easier for him. But what has entered and strengthened the bloc is gradually growing, increasing, and expanding. Then he will have a need, a desire to do it again in order to again experience temporary relief.

Because of this, he lowers his vibrations every time, more and more. If he cannot dissolve his blocks before physical death, he will not be able to fulfill his life task. He can accumulate a block that will take him to a very low level.

40:46 Pedophilia, causes, types. Elimination of pathology through the Higher Self.

Tatyana: Here’s a question: what blocks can cause perverse behavior? Now I will explain what it is. What could happen to a person that he behaves this way, for example, pedophilia? What could happen to this person, why is he doing this?

Irina: Pedophilia has several reasons. This is a pathology, a psychological deviation. Pedophilia can be real, true, and it can be situational in people who are sociopaths. How are they different from each other? (The sociopath rejects society, has a negative attitude towards it, does not accept something) How are two pedophiles different?

A true pedophile will not experience sexual attraction to an adult. He can experience sexual desire only at the sight of a naked child's body.

Examining a child’s body or performing sexual acts with it, or any actions or movements that replace it.

Many pedophiles have a fear of being caught, recognized, and they try not to leave traces (let alone injuries) on the child, which could result in them going to jail. True pedophiles cannot have sexual desire, for example, for their own wife. Even if they are married, they experience impotence or delayed erection. Only at the moment when they can mentally imagine that a child of a certain age is lying in their wife’s place is attraction possible.

You can imagine, of course, but when he looks, he sees an adult woman. This will be difficult to do. Therefore, most often such people are not limited to ideas and fantasies. They have a strong sexual constitution, a lot of sexual energy, and they may try to commit a crime. They are very rarely limited to their fantasies.

There are times when he understands that this is bad, that he will not only go to prison, but can cripple a person’s life, ruin it, cause psychological or physical trauma. Because of this, they may fight with themselves. In life they will have a desire and they will try to suppress it.

What it is? Most often, pedophilia is a consequence of a block that arose in childhood and was associated with fear of sexual relations. It could have formed at the moment when someone attacked it for such a purpose. As he grew up, he began to subconsciously experience fear of connecting with an adult. With a child he has no fear because the child cannot harm him, be it a girl or a boy. The child's sexual image cannot harm him, so he is attracted to it. There is such an option for forming blocks.

The second is the reverse type of formation of a pathological attraction to children. When a child experienced sexual arousal at a certain age and was caught in this state by parents or other authoritative adults. In this case, he develops shame, rejection of his body and a feeling of guilt. When he grows up, he may experience attraction not to an adult, but only to a child’s body, to the body of another child, he projects his body onto him. There is this type of true pedophilia.

With regard to sociopathy, which manifests itself as pedophilia, such a pedophile may experience arousal when in contact with adult women and may not experience arousal when seeing children. But in situations caused by alcohol, drugs, or pathological intoxication, brain injuries, psychological trauma, blocks, anger, even towards the wife, etc., situational moments, agitation may occur.

A psychotype such as a sociopath who grumbles about God and the world, seeing a child, may want to take out his anger on him. This is reminiscent of sadism. They differ. If a true pedophile tries not to harm the child, but, on the contrary, to win him over so that he himself may experience desire and excitement. A child can feel this; he has sexual energy, a sexual instinct.

Sexual instinct, like others, is present in people from birth to death, only it manifests itself differently at different ages. A sociopath, a so-called sadist, will not win over a child, because his goal is different - not to obtain sexual satisfaction, but to cause torture. He attacks, beats and rapes, enjoying the torment of the victim and imagining that he is doing this to his offender. By the way, he may imagine this subconsciously, not remember who offended him.

All the pathologies that I have listed can be easily eliminated in contact with a person's Higher Self and if he wishes to work with it. You can connect it with the Higher Self and find out the reason for the attraction. The Higher Self will talk about this, return him to that moment in life when it was formed, what happened then.

You need to untie this knot, untie the situation, forgive, let go, fill it with Light and, of course, accept your body as it is, recognize it as the divine Temple of Love, which brings harmony, purity, love and happiness, and not destruction. They need to forgive themselves, make peace with themselves, because they have a feeling of guilt and it lowers the vibration.

After the session, when he dissolves all the blocks, his original sexual desire is restored, as intended by God, for a woman, without any sadistic inclinations.

How do you like this answer?

Tatyana: I really liked how detailed the reasons for the occurrence of such perversion were explained.

50:26 Causes of physical violence in the family.

Tatyana: Question: should a person who has experienced some kind of violence, not necessarily sexual, continue to communicate with the rapist if the victim has forgiven the rapist, but the rapist continues to behave the same way?

Irina: Also, how is that?

Tatyana: Why am I asking this? This often happens to people, for example, a husband regularly beats his wife and says: “Forgive me,” as if by this “Forgive me” is meant: pretend that this did not happen, and then, when I beat you, be patient , pretend this isn't happening.

Irina: If he did it again, he canceled the request for forgiveness. He again returned to this act, for which he asked for forgiveness, which means he returned to the previous vibrations, he did not change. He did not change in himself that mental attitude and that emotion, that feeling that led him to violence, to beatings.

He has a block against his wife, whom he beats. This means that he has not forgiven her for something in the past. Perhaps he has not forgiven his mother for something, for beatings, and is now beating his wife, as if taking revenge on the entire female sex, female energy. If a daughter is born, he can beat the daughter too. If they ask him: “Why are you doing this?” - if you talk to him seriously, it is quite possible that he will say: “I don’t know. Well, she annoys me.” "What does she do that annoys you?" “Well, I don’t know: she walked by, sat down wrong, dropped a baby on the floor.”

You can find any reason. It's not about her. The point is his block, which he does not want to dissolve. If he said: “I’m sorry,” the wife needs to ask: “Have you forgiven me for that action that you didn’t like then? And in general, have you forgiven me for everything, for all my mistakes? Have you forgiven your mother?”

You definitely need to take an interest in your relationship with your mother, because the use of physical force by a man against a woman often speaks specifically about childhood traumas, when a woman used force on him, because he was weaker. Or perhaps with an older sister. Such cases also happen.

It happens, but less often, when a father hits him, he accumulates a block, but he is afraid to hit a man, so he takes out his anger on the woman. If he hits, if he easily breaks into a fight, you need to ask him: “I’ll forgive you, but then you couldn’t cope with your irritation?” He will say: “Well, yes, I couldn’t cope.” “Have you forgiven me for all my mistakes that led you to this irritation? Do you still have any grudges against me? Did you forgive your mother if she beat you?” You need to talk to him.

If you don’t talk to him, he will say: “I’m sorry,” - in order to save this relationship, maybe he is afraid to be alone, without a wife. But if he didn't dissolve the block, it will happen again. And, moreover, if she forgives him, he will simply tell himself that she values him so much, loves him so much, that she herself is afraid to live without him, no matter how he treats her. Then he will have no incentive to change himself at all. Changing yourself is always stressful. It is almost always painful, psychologically painful. We need to go back to the past, remember all this. I don't want to do this. I want to walk along a well-trodden track.

But if a woman endures physical beatings from any person, this indicates that she does not love herself. She remains in a relationship with a man who damages her physical body. This suggests that she does not love her body. And if she does not love herself, she cannot show true love for this man, that is, she does not love him either, because by remaining close to him, she contributes to his even greater degradation, an even greater decrease in his vibrations and his departure. into the darkness. This is not love.

What do you think of this answer?

Tatyana: To me, this, to some extent, sounds like permission not to stay in such a toxic relationship.

Irina: Of course, this is not love. This contributes to its degradation. It is already clear that he does not want to change himself. How much to forgive, how much to endure and when it will be clear: after the first time, after the tenth time, it’s up to the woman herself to decide. This is her responsibility, this is her life and her body. I'm saying that if she stays in this relationship for long, she doesn't love herself. She needs to work with herself, with establishing her psychological boundaries, with self-love.

Tatyana: For me personally, this answer is important.

Irina: Even if she leaves him, she needs to talk to her Higher Self. Ask what brought her together with this person when she leaves him. Forgive him from a distance, send him the Light of Love so that there are no blocks in it. Then ask the Higher Self why they met this person, what attracted them to each other, what lesson they took together, what lesson she took, what lesson he took, whether they passed the lesson, especially whether she passed this lesson.

If the answer is “no,” ask: “Why didn’t I pass?”, “What should I do so as not to meet such a person again, to practice this lesson?” It is necessary to talk to your Higher Self in great detail, otherwise this relationship may repeat itself.

Tatyana: Cool. This is great for me, this is a very important question.

57:47 The meaning of parental love for a child.

Tatyana: Freudians and psychoanalysts have a theory that every child knows when he is born how his parents should love him. That is, it’s as if a block arises every time if some kind of dislike occurs: they beat him, don’t give him food. It’s as if we have a program inside of us, how he should develop, how he should be treated.

Irina: There is such a program - a karmic program. A spirit comes to incarnation that has already had many lives. That part of the Spirit comes whose memory is blocked. But the cumulative experience of past lives is still there in the form of character.

If his parents do not correspond to his psychotype of personality, his formed character, then yes, he may develop blocks. But all this can be harmonized if, from the moment of pregnancy, you start talking to him, with this Soul, inviting him into the earthly world, calling him by name or simply “My baby”, or “Intelligent Spirit”, if you have not yet chosen a name. His Soul hears. She is nearby, this is an intelligent Spirit. “I thank you for choosing me to come into this world. I thank you for your trust. I promise you to do everything to teach you love in this world, to adapt you to adulthood.”

What do you feel?

Tatyana: I wish that when my mother was pregnant with me, she would have said that.

Irina: You should have felt it. When a child is born, he will not remember, but his Spirit, his Soul will remember. She will reach out to her mother.

Tatyana: It’s as if the right to “be” is given. There is such a block, pre-verbal, as the right to “be” when the mother did not want the child. As if I don't have the right to be in this world.

Irina: Yes, if you didn’t want a child, he feels reluctance, may be scared, may feel offended.

For all children to be desired, it is necessary to understand that when a woman and a man have sexual intercourse, potentially any sexual contact can result in conception. Approach this more responsibly, that is, understanding that after an explosion of emotions and pleasure, a new life may appear in this world, for which you will be responsible.

1:01:15 Negative feelings in a person’s life.

Tatyana: This is a question: often in esotericism people's feelings are divided into good and bad. Supposedly bad feelings reduce vibrations. I want to ask Mead, is there any benefit to negative feelings? For example, what could be the benefit for a person in a feeling of anger, in a feeling of fear, shame, envy? I can list them one by one.

Irina: All these feelings and emotions that you named are also a manifestation of the Divine Light. Only they are directed through the human ego, through the human personality, in such a way that he does not perceive them as Love, as Light.

Some part of Divine Love, divine energies, is felt as a feeling or emotion. The words "good" and "bad" are subjective. What is good for one is bad for another. Something is good at one level, but for the same person it may later be bad and vice versa.

There is a concept of high and low vibrations. These are spiritual vibrations, which are a manifestation of the vibrational quality of the Spirit, one or another energy, one or another frequency. Moreover, the highest spiritual vibration is the energy of unconditional Divine Love. The closer to unconditional Divine Love this feeling or emotion that a person experiences, the higher the vibration.

The opposite of love is causeless, unconditional hatred. A person wants to destroy everything in his path, kill and see nothing around him. Such hatred is the lowest vibration. All other feelings and emotions are on a scale.

Can low vibrations be beneficial? They can, but only if they lead to the awareness of the Light. Experiencing this negative experience will lead a person to rethink his life, his place before God and his tasks.

Tatyana: The questions are over. It was very interesting. Thank you very much MidgasCaus.

Irina: Thank you. Dear friends, thank you too. There was a very interesting, controversial topic, more psychological. Dear friends, I thank you for being with us, I send you the Light of my Love. Until next time.

#502 Live broadcast. Urgent news from Ashtar Sheran!!!

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pryamoj-ehfir-srochnaya-novost-ot-ashtar-sherana https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RB9VW0c1olc

00:00 Start of broadcast.

00:03 List of those present.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone! We will have a very interesting broadcast today. Tell me please, how can you hear me? The most basic question is how can I be heard? Why? Because today we will listen for a very long time, we will ask a lot of questions. I think that you will have a lot of questions on today's broadcast. You know, if they told me 5-7 years ago that I would be broadcasting a live performance of Ashtar Sheran, I would not have believed it. I would probably wonder what this person is doing.

Therefore, today is a very interesting broadcast. Today Ashtar Sheran himself is personally present here! Yes, Irish, is Ashtar here?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: I greet Ashtar Sheran! Is he alone or not? He's not alone.

Irina: Not just one, there are several of them.

Maxim: Who else is present?

Irina: Burkhad. Bergaster is here.

Maxim: Bergastr is the head of the Security Service.

Irina: By the way, here is the patron of our Russian egregor, Sergius of Radonezh.

Maxim: (reads the chat) “Why sad?” Guys, we have a rather serious situation in general - both in the country, and in the world, and in the Project in general. It’s quite difficult to be in the Project, which many consider a schizoteric project. I understand perfectly well how the state views us. And as the leader of this Project, I try, of course, to harmonize all the information that comes from the mouths of our interstellar friends and that enters the Project.

Irina: And LiShioni is here too.

Maxim: Yes, there’s a whole gathering today!

I want to start with some good news. The first good news is that our Cosmoenergy Project, which is located under the Cassiopeia Project, the Gikhor School, is holding the first All-Russian Congress of Cosmoenergetics “Looking into the Future.” And although Ivan Yonten already has a huge number of students and followers of his School of Cosmoenergy, he invites absolutely all cosmoenergy specialists, absolutely all Schools of Cosmoenergetics, students, masters to this forum, who will be able to give their report, with their research work.

This is really progress for us: the Gikhor School of Cosmoenergetics is organizing an All-Russian event - the First All-Russian Congress of Cosmoenergetics “Looking into the Future”! There is a link under this video. You can follow this link, register and get to this grandiose, wonderful event, which will be held by our wonderful Gihor School.

I have one more good news. Our website has been updated, where you can now easily and accessible find any information, any articles, any of our outdoor events. Soon we will have an automated appointment with specialists there on a donation basis. Soon the Multiverse of the Cassiopeia Project will appear there, where you can meet people and communicate. There will be a forum, a chat, a dating site, which we made for our esotericists, so that people with the same direction can get to know each other in one place. Because in “Cassiopeia” we already have the fourth marriage that took place after our retreats. That is, at our events, at our retreats, people meet, communicate, find each other, find their soul mates. Therefore, come to our retreats - you will definitely find your soulmate, too, if you don’t have one.

We had slight delays in the supply of Om tea due to sanctions. Yes, and we also fell under these sanctions. We are manufacturers, and some plastic caps and components are subject to these sanctions. We had to quickly look for new suppliers, we adjusted everything, found everything. Now you can safely order “Om tea” “Cassiopeia” on the website, the link is below.

And we have just received a fresh batch of our probiotic microorganisms - these are “Bulgarium”, “Biofidum” and “Biolactum”. You can safely place your order, there are no more delays in deliveries. We restarted production and adjusted deliveries. Therefore, you can order, you can enjoy and get healthy with the products that we can provide you with Love. And you and Love can help us develop our Project further. So that we have more schools, more health centers. The Moscow Wellness Center will soon also be put into operation; it will open sometime after the New Year.

This news information is not all. I have allocated time for myself - the first ten minutes of the broadcast - to introduce you to everything that is happening in the Cassiopeia Project. I'm done with advertising, I see: enough advertising. But I can’t help but talk about it. Why? Because this is how the entire Project is supported. And I am very grateful to all of you who really support the Project with donations and purchases of goods that we produce. We do not just produce goods, we do it with Love - so that you can get healthier on a physical level. We carry spiritual information that will improve your spiritual plans.

And further not very good information. I get the impression that the world has gone crazy, and all the events and actions that are happening now are a certain kind of obscurantism. Why? Firstly, because our Project is accused of lying. And secondly, that we do not communicate with any aliens, but communicate with representatives of the special services who supervise us. On this occasion, I would like to say a lot to our subscribers, our viewers and everyone who believes and trusts us.

I have been living with aliens for three years now, and during these three years I have never seen any inconsistencies or disagreements in the information they convey. They convey all information in the conscious form of Love. For us, for people on this planet, so that we finally grow up and understand what Love for each other is, what respect for each other is, what understanding each other is, what respect is not only for ourselves, but and even to what we do not understand.

I personally love my Russia very much, I love the people in this Russia very much, I respect the policies of our state, I respect its laws. And if I respect his laws, and that’s why people think that I belong to the special services, then think so. The only main intelligence agency that exists in this Project is me as the leader. And I won’t let this schizoteric project turn into the schizoterica that I see on our YouTube channels, Internet channels, and Internet sites.

I want this Project to truly bring benefit to people - both spiritually and physically. I want all people who have touched information about this Project, even if they do not believe in aliens, to at least just read what they are talking about. For me personally, it changed my whole life, changed all my inner qualities, changed me as a person. And I never thought that I would become the leader of such a Project that would transmit information from our Creators, from extraterrestrial friends, from the Spiritual world, from subtle worlds.

Honestly, I didn't think about it. And even if the intelligence services came to me and said that I should convey only the information that they want to give, I would completely refuse, in general, in principle, from transmitting it to you. It's not in my best interest. My inner sense of why all this is needed has changed so much that it is impossible to influence me from the outside.

I agree to abide by the laws, I agree to support them. I don’t even agree, I want to support the laws, I want to support the policies of our state, I respect our president. And if you call Love for the country, Love for the president, betrayal, then you need to think about what you are, what you are betraying then.

The most important thing is that we do not convince anyone of anything with the information we convey. We give this information completely with an open heart and with the Love with which our interstellar friends and all those entities who come and can transmit information communicate with us through our beloved Irina Podzorova.

The most interesting thing is that I understand for sure that many contactees, receiving certain knowledge by contacting various civilizations, are simply engaged in making money from it. I will not condemn them in any way if they have no other way.

(reads the chat) “How many excuses can you make? Those who need it will stay.” Guys, we don't make excuses. I just want to convey to you. Because the world has gone crazy. And many people who graduated from our Project, who took the names of our interstellar friends, are now using these names and trying to slander our Project, accusing it of lying. Anyone who wants to do this - do it, guys! When you kill someone who taught you, you kill yourself.

"In Belarus?" The Center will open in Belarus. By the way, we are going to the opening of the Center in Belarus. This information is still secret, but I am sure that next week we will publish this information. We will have a retreat in Belarus, and it will be dedicated to the opening of the Center there. Yes, this is also good news.

So this is what I would like to say to everyone who thinks that we are under the control of the special services. The most important intelligence agency in this Project is now broadcasting to you - it is me. And everything that is removed, such as video; everything that is adjusted; everything that is adjusted to our legislation is done by me personally as the head of the Project. In order to somehow harmonize this schizoterism with psychology and with those sciences that are recognized by our state.

“Let's talk about the news! Enough talking!" (laughs) And one last thing. Of course, you have the right to choose what information to listen to. Of course, it’s your right to decide who to believe and who not. We don't convince anyone of anything. Our Project will carry all this with Love until the moment we can carry this information. Therefore, once again I will say a huge thank you to everyone - everyone who is with us, everyone who supports us! Many thanks to our volunteers! Many thanks to those who stayed in our Project, develop it and develop their Projects within this Project!

Irina: Mid has arrived.

Maxim: That's all we have here today. And I'm moving.

(reads) “It’s already 14 minutes, not 10.” I agree, I will extend this broadcast until we reveal all the necessary circumstances. Because there have definitely never been such broadcasts before. They started dragging us into politics again, but nothing can be done. Irisha, sit down, I’ll sit next to you. Yes, I want to wish everyone peace, happiness, Love!

Irina: Good evening everyone! Hello, dear friends, good evening! My name is Irina Podzorova.

(reads) “Maxim was not allowed to finish.”

Maxim: There is a lot more to say, but I don’t want to take up such a cool broadcast. Moreover, I am the only one speaking out here, and there are already at least 5-6 of our interstellar friends nearby who definitely want to speak out now.

16:16 Introduction of participants.

Irina: They greeted. Thank you!

My name is Irina Podzorova, I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. And today Ashtar Sheran, the commander of the fleet of the Galactic Federation of Light, is present here. He appears to be both the Sirius civilization and the Pleiades civilization because he is from the planet that orbited the star Sirius B and was destroyed as a result of the war with the Selbetians 12,000 years ago. As he now says, this planet was destroyed, but the Sirian civilization remained. And now it belongs to the Pleiades, because the capital of the Galactic Federation of Light is located in the Pleiades - the planet Futissa. And Ashtar Sheran now works in the fleet of the Galactic Federation of Light.

Also present here is Bergastre, a representative of the planet Burhad. He is a specialist of the Galaxy Security Service in the 36th sector of the Milky Way - our Galaxy. Also present here is LiShioni, a specialist in astral interactions, from the planet Shimor, who also has many contactees. And MidgasCaus is present here - the curator of our Project, biologist, psychologist, specialist in the study of alien civilizations, planet Esler. And also, and this is actually unexpected for me, the disembodied Spirit wanted to be present here, he said that he would observe. The disembodied Spirit, who is the patron of the state egregor of the Russian Federation, and in Russia he is known as Sergius of Radonezh. His Spirit will also be present with us.

That is, we have here today a meeting of not only aliens, but also the presence of a disembodied Spirit. They welcome everyone. And as always, traditionally, he says that we would like to start with Galactic news. Moreover, the title of this broadcast is “Breaking News”.

19:10 Aliens about the impact of events on Earth in the fall of 2022 on processes in the Galaxy.

Irina: What is this breaking news? Ashtar says.

(Ashtar Sheran) Most recently, the Galactic Federation of Light and the Interstellar Union held a joint meeting of specialists: political scientists, sociologists, crisis psychologists and historians - to consider the spiritual, social, economic, political and ideological causes of the political and energy crisis on planet Earth, which is caused by recent events .

I want to tell you, as I have already conveyed through Irina along with my friends, this crisis is affecting the state of the Earth’s noosphere. Because of this, the spiritual vibrations of the Earth’s noosphere decreased by 18% compared to what they were a year ago. This interferes and poses obstacles to the passage of the Earth's Quantum Transition. It slows down the passage of the Quantum Transition by the entire Galaxy. Because the Earth is an integral part of the Galaxy. I have already conveyed this.

And the news is that while discussing this problem and expressing different opinions (we had some discussion) there were completely different opinions about how to solve this problem. In the end, everyone came to the same conclusion - that direct interference in your internal political relations between states can only harm you as a civilization at this moment. Because a large percentage of the Earth's population is at such low vibrations that they are ready to suspect even an earthling like himself, who simply speaks a different language or has a different skin color, that he is harming him. And even more so alien creatures.

Therefore, we decided to give recommendations, which I, together with my friends, conveyed through the contactee Irina. And also to give recommendations not only through Irina, but also through other contactees - both mine and contactees Burkhad, Esler, Tashig - all contactees of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light who wished to convey this information to people in their environment. Through them, we conveyed information about the plan to harmonize this situation and overcome the crisis. I hope everyone here has read it?

Maxim: They might not have read it. It will be necessary to repeat all this live now.

Irina: It's news that they got together and that they developed such a plan.

Maxim: I realized that the State Fiscal Service and the MS got together and developed some kind of policy.

Irina: Plan.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly that you are now transmitting exactly the same information through your contactees on planet Earth?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, naturally. And each contactee conveys this at his own level of awareness. But I want to say that not all contactees agreed to transmit this at all. There were those who refused.

Maxim: So even the contactees are not ready to convey this?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Some said that they were not interested. Some feared certain complications in relations with their state.

Maxim: Now it has become even more interesting - for those who really haven't read it.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): I think these were fears of simply instinctive fear. Because there was nothing in these proposals that could harm any state - neither the Russian Federation, nor Ukraine, nor the United States of America. These proposals were developed taking into account the interests of all states as completely equal partners.

Maxim: I remember Irina and I tried to find some option, but we didn't find it. Seriously, we searched for a very long time, but did not find any compromise option. We only have some complex military operations involving the seizure of other territories.

22:45 Ashtar Sheran on the impact of the military conflict in Eastern Europe on the life of the Earth as a whole.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): We examined the reason for the already quite intense fighting that has already begun, about which the media, using the global Internet, are telling the population of all other countries that are even very far from the place of the direct conflict. And thanks to the media and the global Internet, many people know about this conflict and live by it. That is, they no longer live their lives, they live in this conflict - they do not fulfill their tasks, get involved in disputes, defend the rightness of one side or the other.

And this causes the vibrations of the noosphere to decrease even more. Because all emotions go to the noosphere, and the subtle-material civilizations of the Earth, through which energy passes from the dense plane to the Spiritual world - vital energy charged with your thoughts, feelings, emotions, desires - they, too, have already begun to switch to a parasitic image on a more massive scale life. They become dependent on negative energies. If a year ago the share of parasitic plasmoid civilizations of the terrestrial type was 37% of all density levels, now it is 48%.

Maxim: So the number of parasitic civilizations increased by 10% in one year?

Irina: By 11%, and this can lead to the fact that plasmoid entities of all density levels, which have already become destructive, will forget about fulfilling their life tasks at the density level at which they are located, and will begin to be dependent on the negativity of people, that is, Spirits , embodied at the third level of density on Earth. This can lead to natural disasters, floods, fires, volcanic eruptions, earthquakes, various epidemics, etc. on Earth. That is, other natural disasters and disasters that can lead to destruction and disembodiment of many people for even many decades after the actual incident.

(Ashtar Sheran): To avoid this, it is necessary to begin to increase the vibrations of the Earth's noosphere and those plasmoid civilizations that are located there. Only you can do this yourself. Those representatives of alien civilizations who are located directly at the Earth's bases have less ability to integrate with the biosphere and noosphere of the planet and feed plasmoid civilizations with the Light of Love, goodness and peace. They have their own energy shells, which are tuned to the noospheres and biospheres of their planets. Therefore, only you yourself, the people who directly created it, can correct the situation.

But in order to correct this, you first need to remove the cause of the decrease in vibrations of the Earth's noosphere. And the immediate cause is, as I already conveyed, the military conflict in Eastern Europe. We also named his reasons. There are economic, there are political, spiritual, ideological reasons. Of course, the leading ones here are spiritual reasons, and all the other three types of reasons - biological, political and economic - are only manifestations of spiritual ones.

I can repeat the sentences that were given, or go straight to the questions.

Maxim: Let’s probably repeat live the proposal that was developed by the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light. Because many people didn't read the article.

30:23 Proposals from aliens to harmonize the situation on planet Earth.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): To harmonize this situation, we proposed to implement several points, and our proposals were mainly to the international community. At the third level of density on your planet it is represented by an organization such as the United Nations. According to our data, this is an international community that monitors compliance with the law and law in relations between states on Earth. According to our data, this is the structure that can make decisions on negotiations and monitor their conduct and implementation of international treaties.

The fact is that on a planet where there are many states, for example, like on your planet, there must be international law, or international treaties that regulate relations at the interstate level. Therefore, these harmonization proposals were addressed primarily to the United Nations. I want to tell you that during these days, through contactees who have access to the UN, they have been informed of almost every member of this earthly organization, everyone has been informed.

We decided to announce them through contactees and to the entire people, because it is clear to us that, as we have already said, the thoughts, feelings and beliefs of the people materialize one or another line of probability in the Timeline. Therefore, knowing about these proposals, you can, by agreeing with them or disagreeing with them, massively contribute to their implementation.

The first stage of harmonization should consist of a meeting of political leaders of the Russian Federation, Ukraine, the United States of America and several other UN states, at the choice of the organization itself. This meeting must be public. And at this meeting an international law should be developed that those people who live in a particular territory have the right to determine their territorial and state affiliation. This is so that there are no controversial areas.

Those people who permanently reside there have every right to determine their territorial and state affiliation through universal suffrage. And this vote must be universal, which means that there must be an expression of the will of 70% of the adult population of these regions.

Second stage. It is necessary in the disputed areas of Eastern Europe (these are the areas for which hostilities are currently taking place between Russia and Ukraine, and other countries, because there are more participants in the conflict), when holding a general vote there, announce that the United Nations will consider these voting results and change the international state borders if necessary. After such a general announcement, all countries directly involved in this conflict must agree to it. This especially applies to the Russian Federation, Ukraine and the United States of America. As soon as they all agree with this and announce it to the people, we need to begin the third stage of the plan.

Third stage. Simultaneous cessation of hostilities by all armies located there. Providing the opportunity for free expression of will to people who live there and are registered for at least three years, without the presence of the army and military of any state. Only then, so that any interested country does not falsify any results, it is necessary to send observers from the international commission, which will necessarily include representatives of Russia, Ukraine, the European Union and the United States of America. They will jointly create such a commission.

This must be done so that the United Nations, by its verdict, recognizes as correct the result of the vote, which will be conducted there accordingly. The political, economic and social management of processes in disputed areas until the results of the vote should be entrusted entirely to the international commission.

I will repeat that now, at the moment, these disputed regions, the borders of which are subject to a dispute that leads to conflict, include: Donetsk region, Lugansk region, Republic of Crimea, Zaporozhye region, Kherson region. These are the areas that have already held referendums both in 2014 and now, and the results of these referendums were not recognized by the United Nations. In order for the results to be recognized, it is necessary to first agree on the right to conduct such voting, which you call “referendums,” not by the entire state, but specifically by the population of those disputed regions, territories whose population wants to somehow change their territorial affiliation.

And even if this law of the United Nations contradicts the Constitution of a particular state, in the event of a military conflict of this kind or the threat of its occurrence, the law of the United Nations must take precedence.

After this general vote is held and the internationally recognized borders of states are revised, if necessary, it is necessary to restore the destroyed cities and the destroyed infrastructure. And in this, in our collective opinion of specialists of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light, not only those countries that directly participated in the conflict and destroyed all this with their armies, but also all countries that are members of the United Nations should take part. Because working together to restore the affected country and affected regions will contribute to greater mutual understanding between countries and the establishment of interstate relations.

And the last stage, which must be carried out immediately after the cessation of hostilities, is the lifting of political and economic sanctions and counter-sanctions of states against each other in order to establish dialogue at all levels as quickly as possible.

He just repeated what was written in the article. Now you can ask questions.

Maxim: I collected questions. Ashtar, please tell me what will happen if what you just said is not put into action?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): This was our proposal in order to end the armed conflict. If this proposal is not put into effect, then there are several options for the development of events. There is an option for a peace treaty to unfold without this vote being recognized by the United Nations. There is a possibility of such a peace treaty, but the consequences of hostilities that will continue until this peace treaty are very different, depending on the lines of probability: it can be with more extensive destruction and casualties, or with less extensive ones.

But we believe that this option is quite democratic, and the rights of all states are taken into account. And it will make it possible to quickly stop the murder, that is, the disembodiment of Spirits from each other, the withdrawal from incarnation, the destruction of infrastructure. This is the first point. And the second point: it will allow us to begin to restore what was destroyed. The third point: it will allow the removal of sanctions and counter-sanctions that are destroying the social policy and economy of many countries, which further reduces the vibrations of people. And the fourth point: this agreement, which will be in the United Nations, we believe, will allow your civilization to reach a new level of understanding of the universe.

44:57 Ashtar Sheran on identifying his phantoms.

Maxim: Ashtar, please tell me, are you here as your phantom?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes.

Maxim: How many phantoms can you have, in principle, when transmitting information? Are you somewhere on the ship now?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes.

Maxim: How many phantoms can you give to transmit information?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): At the same time?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Up to 520 of your phantoms. Only it will be quite difficult for me to hold them. Because multidimensional consciousness is needed.

Maxim: Please tell me how to clearly determine - is this your phantom, or someone adjusted to you? Here's how you can do this?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Who knows my energy, vibration, will determine. Can you feel my vibration now?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): You remember my vibration when I came?

Maxim: Yes, yes.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Is this the same vibration?

Maxim: Yes, it's the same vibration.

Irina: Now, you have already decided.

Maxim: I knew you back when I didn’t understand who Ashtar was. I remember this for sure. A tall (for me) bald man of golden color, as I saw it, came to me. But it turned out that it was I who saw the helmet.

46:08 Ashtar Sheran on options for the development of the Ukraine-Russia conflict.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): It was just a proposal. Naturally, any attempt to force you to accept this course of action will already be an intervention. We in no way deprive you of freedom of choice, free will. If you do not want to use it, let the intelligent Spirits themselves determine which state they should belong to. If the United Nations does not recognize this right for the residents of certain regions and regions of any state. In this case, military conflicts over disputed territories, resources and people in these territories (including the restoration of historical reality) will continue for many years. Because this has already been going on, one might say, all 12,000 years after the war.

Maxim: Tell me, please, if the UN is not an independent organization, it is dependent on those who govern it, how can we come to mutual understanding and agreement?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): The UN consists of those people, of those intelligent Spirits who are, I would not say, under direct control, but under the influence of various financial, as I have already conveyed, functionaries who, through their financial investments, promote their representative to the United Nations to protect their interests. Am I speaking clearly enough now?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: Because I don’t quite understand. I hope it's clear.

(Ashtar Sheran) They can get out of this influence. Because it is not so tough that if they do not listen to their financial curators, they will somehow be eliminated and so on. The influence here is rather in the form of a recommendation, but if they wish, they can get out from under it. Because we investigated this too.

Maxim: Guys, you write “Ashtar, goodbye!” Many people write this here. Please don’t write “goodbye”, but take it and put forward your proposal - namely, a peaceful resolution of this conflict! And I'll see how you do it.

(reads) “The UN will never recognize”, come on guys!

By the way, we only ended with a good development of the conflict, when there will be a peace treaty between Russia and Ukraine.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): But this could still lead to great casualties before this peace treaty is drawn up.

We looked through the Time Tape, the Spirit of Sergius of Radonezh, who is in the Spiritual World, one of the spiritual curators of the Russian Federation, helped us - by coming into contact with us, he conveyed to us a clear picture of the state of the Time Tape on Earth. And there was a peace treaty, as Sergei of Radonezh already told us. And the Mother of God - the one who gave birth to Christ - conveyed to you that there is a high probability of concluding a peace treaty in March 2023. Did you have such information?

Maxim: Yes, it was.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): This probability remains at the moment. But before this peace treaty is reached, there is the possibility of intense military action and heavy casualties on both sides. As well as strengthening sanctions, counter-sanctions, economic pressure of countries on each other and an even greater reduction in the vibrations of the Earth. And, as I already said, this also affects plasmoid civilizations, etc. I won't repeat myself.

Maxim: (answers a question from the chat) Belgorod, Kursk, and Voronezh regions do not want to be independent yet.

Irina: Are you going to vote?

Maxim: I will go to vote, but obviously for staying on the territory of the Russian Federation!

Irina: Yes, if the Voronezh region votes, I will also vote for it to remain in the Russian Federation.

Maxim: Because, in principle, I consider all these satanic European statements here and in general to be spiritual schizophrenia.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Viewing the Time Tape shows: at the present moment - with the state of the army as it is now, with the mood of the population of the Earth and of different states in general - a peace treaty is possible only after the complete victory of one side and the surrender of the other. Or the threat of such capitulation and the complete defeat of the army.

Maxim: So this is the second option?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, this is the second option. Which side will win and which army will be defeated is no longer so important. In the sense that there will be a lot of victims in any case if you follow this path.

There is also a third option - to draw up a peace treaty immediately, but on other terms, not on the terms of voting. On terms without the surrender of any one country and without the victory of one country over another. Just a compromise and withdrawal of troops.

But our analysts, crisis psychologists and sociologists, who have long studied earthly civilization, have come to the conclusion (naturally, this is their opinion) that the option of a compromise with mutual concessions by the warring states is unlikely for a long time. Because energy, which is read in the egregors of states, does not imply the possibility of compromise on either side. Everyone wants to win and avenge their killed warriors. It's like revenge.

Maxim: “Wonderful.”

Irina: This is what happens in egregors.

54:19 Ashtar Sheran and the Spirit of Sergius of Radonezh about the likelihood of using nuclear weapons.

Maxim: Please tell me, Ashtar, if suddenly one of the parties decides to use nuclear weapons? It doesn’t matter who it will be - Russia, America, Ukraine. Or there will be a provocation from countries unfriendly to us with a nuclear explosion.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, we considered this option.

(Spirit of Sergius of Radonezh) I greet you! You were given information for the next year that the probability of using any type of nuclear weapon, even the smallest charge, was 47%. Do you remember this information?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Spirit of Sergius of Radonezh): Over the time that has passed, this probability has now decreased to 43%. And this is largely due to the high vibrations that entered the egregors through the meditative states of the participants in your Project.

That is, we raised the vibrations. So let's meditate every day and get it down to zero!

Maxim: Every Friday we have a meditation on harmonization. So join us in our meditation. There are links below this video. You can find a meditation chat there and join in! Further?

Irina: It was 47%.

Maxim: Has the probability percentage decreased?

Irina: Yes, but the percentage of probability of the use of nuclear weapons by any country, for any purpose, is not equal to the percentage of a full-scale nuclear war, which could lead to a global catastrophe. And in the case of which such intervention of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light will be required, such as mass contact to save people and their evacuation to bases under the soil of the Moon and under the soil of Mars.

Maxim: Wait! Will you allow these nuclear strikes to be carried out?!

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): The fact is that all strategic, large nuclear charges are monitored using special means. Observation is carried out at alien bases, and if they are launched, all measures will be taken to stop and neutralize them, as was already the case in 1958. But there are types of nuclear weapons that are very small compared to nuclear missiles, and they can even be transported in cars - put in trucks (shows not missiles, but small-sized military projectiles). And they may already have this nuclear charge embedded in them.

Naturally, there will be less destruction and consequences there than from a huge rocket. Nevertheless, there will be radioactive contamination, which will then need to be cleaned up, as was the case after an explosion, for example, at a nuclear power plant. But the intervention of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light - such as mass contact - can only be, as I already said, in case of danger for the existence of civilization. Because intervention before that time will cause a military conflict between the forces of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation of Light with your troops, which is not what we want. This could set your civilization back from the Interstellar Union for another few thousand years. That is, in general, you may even have to stop contacts later.

Maxim: Physical?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): All physical, and leave only astral contactees. And then they will be under the constant repressive attention of the state.

59:50 Ashtar Sheran about contactees in state governments.

Maxim: Please tell me, people are asking. Why don’t you, like in 1977, appear on television screens around the world and make this statement?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): This is not necessary. This information is communicated to the authorities of all states through contactors.

Maxim: Brought information?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes. Among them there are contactees who receive information, and not only astral ones, there are also physical ones.

Maxim: How? Do the countries themselves have presidents?

Irina: He says it's just in governments.

Maxim: Do the governments of countries know that they are contactees, and are they really perceived as contactors or what?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): They will give information not in the form that they received it from us, but in the form that it is their idea. Because if the contactee works in a high-ranking position, he most often does not talk about his contacts to his colleagues. Although we do not prohibit this, this is his decision: he is afraid that he will be persecuted.

Maxim: Ashtar, please tell me, does President Zelensky have contactees to whom information is transmitted?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): They exist - either on the astral, or on the mental, or on the physical levels in all countries. Maybe all at once. With different civilizations, of course - with different civilizations, with different curators.

Maxim: Dear Ukrainians, what about you?! (reads) "Putin tore up the Minsk agreements." Nobody tore up the Minsk agreements. What are you carrying?! You say that we were brainwashed, and at the same time he openly told the whole world...

Irina: Bergastr welcomes you and speaks now.

(Bergastre) I was also present at the meeting that Ashtar speaks of. I am a representative of Burkhad and am ready to confirm: everything that Ashtar says really happened. We really worked out these points. And, my dear friends, dear earthlings, if you do not agree with any of these points, you have every right to disagree with them.

Please write constructive criticism here: for what reason do you think this is impossible? And please give me your version of a peaceful settlement and harmonization of the situation, a way out of the crisis and reconciliation of all the peoples that now exist on Earth. But this option of yours should not be associated with the continuation of hostilities by any country. What's your option?

Maxim: “Negotiations.”

Irina: About what?

Maxim: We need to write down what the point of the negotiations is, what needs to be done at these negotiations.

Irina: There have already been negotiations. What should we talk about next?

1:03:19 Ashtar Sheran o gavahe.

Maxim: (reading) “These reptilian guys are slippery. These are their connections to humanity that rock the woof.”

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): The fact is that what you call gavakh is the negative energy of people. They can indeed feed on it, but not reptilian entities. Reptilian entities have other, denser food - the same as yours, simply consisting of the substances of their planets. And plasmoid creatures can feed on negative energy, as I have already mentioned. That the percentage of subtle-material civilizations of the earthly type at all 56 density levels, feeding on negative energy, or gavakh, as you wrote, has increased over the last year from 37% to 48%.

And if hostilities are not stopped soon and people are not calmed down, this process will only grow. After all, negative emotions are experienced not only by soldiers on the battlefield on any side of this front, but also by relatives who are waiting for him at home. They also worry about him and hate his enemies. This is all going like hawah.

Therefore, I offer you the plan that was developed by the commission that considered your crisis. Precisely in order to reduce the production of havaha, and therefore help plasmoid civilizations transition to Light, Love, and Goodness. So that they begin to help you build nature on Earth. Together with you, create the biosphere of the Earth in space in the development of perfection, Love, wisdom - for your spiritual development and material security.

Maxim: Here they write: “Why can’t you remove these destructive plasmoid civilizations so that they don’t interfere with us?”

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Because these are incarnate Spirits. They are embodied.

Now Bergastre asks: “Don’t they teach in your schools at what density levels Spirits incarnate?”

Maxim: No, they don’t teach in our schools.

Irina: No, Bergastr. MidgasCaus, explain to him what they teach in our schools, you already know.

(reads the chat) There are already offers. Here is a proposal from Olesya: “Russia must return all cities illegally occupied to Ukraine, withdraw from the territory completely, to the last soldier.”

Okay, Olesya, thank you for the offer. Russia should return it, okay. What will happen if the Russian Federation, specifically its government and army, do not agree that they should do this? They may not agree with you. What option do you see then if they do not agree to this debt?

Vlad writes: “Give back the stolen territories to Ukraine, and everything will stop.” And if they don’t consider the territories stolen, then what will we do?

Maxim: And the people in these territories.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): You are now looking from the position of one egregor - Ukraine. I ask you to take your mind off the fact that you are a citizen of Ukraine and remember that you are an immortal Spirit. And look at this situation from the outside - what two people say about a certain territory, that it should belong to different states, giving some of their own arguments. And one side gives reasons, and the other side gives reasons. The arguments of one side are true for her, and the arguments of the other side are true for her.

There is a problem here with your earthly dual thinking. The arguments that each side gives are true for themselves, but for each other they are lies. That is, for you, dear residents of Ukraine, the arguments of the Russians are a lie, and for you, dear residents of Russia, the arguments of the Ukrainians are a lie. This is yours, this is a natural consequence of the duality of earthly thinking.

Maxim: Here they write: “I thought it would be an interesting broadcast. Again this war and politics. Do you think this is an increase in vibrations?

Irina: Let's keep quiet about the fact that our vibrations are decreasing and people are suffering! Will this be an increase in vibration? How do you think?

Maxim: Irina, do you think this will increase vibrations, that we will remain silent and not talk about it?

Irina: Yes, people suffer and, as has already been written here, they emit havah.

(reads) Sentence from Elena: “If because of earthlings there is a threat to the entire Galaxy, then both the MS and the State Fiscal Service already have the right to deactivate nuclear weapons.” Wow, what a proposal!

Maxim: I wonder what Ashtar and Bergastre will say to this.

Irina: (continues reading) “Because earthlings do not think about either the Earth or the Galaxy.”

They looked now: “Yes, such a proposal was put forward.”

Maxim: This was written by some contactee, probably who is involved in the State Fiscal Service and the MS.

Irina: She is a contactee, I know her. By the way, the contactee is Ashtara and Burkhada. (laughs)

Maxim: Great! So, what is next?

Why do you giggle often, Irina? This is so inconsistent with the situation, people write.

Irina: Yes, it doesn’t correspond to the situation, I just remembered this person who wrote. I love her so much. I remembered what a pleasant meeting I had with her, so I’m happy.

Maxim: Guys, at least somehow we need to raise the vibrations! At least with laughter, or a little something else. Because the topic is really very serious, very complex. If we broadcast rudely and vilely, it will turn out to be very interesting!

Irina: I am actually very sorry for all the victims of this terrible fratricidal war. And no matter what side they are on, I don’t care at all. I don't laugh because that's what makes me laugh. I’m just really happy that a person suggested this, and that this is a contactee. So I laughed.

1:10:58 Ashtar Sheran on the deactivation of nuclear weapons.

Maxim: And what proposals does Ashtar really have? Indeed, earthlings do not think about either the Earth or the Galaxy. Why not just take and deactivate nuclear weapons?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes, we thought about it. To do this, you need to use a special type of ethereal energy in those spatial fields where this weapon is located. But we believe that, despite all our data on locations, there are places that are unknown to us. You hide them from each other. We don't know about all of them - this is the first problem of its kind.

Our source of information is contactees, egregors of the Earth, but they do not reflect the exact location, the energy is simply reflected there. And those small nuclear charges that you call tactical, they are generally scattered throughout the territory of various countries, and it will be very difficult to deactivate them all. Because this will cause ethereal vortices that can disrupt the existence and functions of plasmoid worlds.

This will all affect them too. And a stepwise chain of changes will begin, which will burst out onto the physical plane again in the form of the same cataclysms. Everything affects everything there. One can act only limitedly with such energies. We have already discussed this.

Maxim: (reading) Oleg Kriushin writes: “Who invented this circus? What a madhouse! It’s disgusting to listen to!” Oleg, don't listen, please. Find yourself a channel where you don't mind listening.

Irina: Now he will answer, “who invented this circus.”

(Ashtar Sheran) This circus was invented by those earthlings who are on Earth.

“Some kind of madhouse, it’s disgusting to listen to.” If something disgusts you, this is your block. Please talk to your Higher Self about how to dissolve it so that it does not destroy your physical body and does not take away energy to achieve your luck.

Maxim: Good luck to you! Go into the Light! Here they write: “Dear aliens, we ask you to turn off everyone’s brains and regulate the situation.”

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): This will already be interference and deprivation of free will. We are not on the planet of the Order of the Six.

Maxim: But what's the problem - should we turn off our brains? They erase their memory when they make contact. Why not go ahead and erase the entire Earth's memory at once, definitely? This obscurantism.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Because if you erase everyone's memory and control everyone, then this will be exactly the planet of the "Order of Six". And we are against it. You will go through the experience that you want.

And I have already said that these proposals have been communicated to the governments of all states through contactees. They were not called proposals from alien civilizations due to the lack of proof for your science of the existence of us as some kind of living entities in the Universe. But we exist, we are alive, we have spiritual hearts that love you. And Love cannot remain indifferent when a loved one suffers. Therefore, we send you the Light of our Love, we wish you awareness, the ability to forgive, love and accept people even with beliefs opposite to your own.

Maxim: Ashtar, thank you.

1:15:30 Ashtar Sheran about light pillars in cities.

Maxim: There are a lot of questions. Tell me, please, at night some kind of light pillars from space are observed in different cities, in different countries. What is it?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): These could be ships of the Interstellar Union and the Galactic Federation. But not the ships themselves, but their energy fields, which change the gravitational field around the Earth, and the light twists not into a column, but as if into an elongated rainbow.

These could also be representatives of plasmoid civilizations, who are shown to you, to your eyes, so that you understand that you are not alone on this planet. Although it is quite difficult for them to lower the vibrations of their subtle bodies so much that they are accessible to your physical eyes. It's difficult for them to do this, and it takes a lot of energy to show it to you. But they can show it.

It could also be any types of your weapons. This needs to be looked at specifically in what area.

Any other suggestions? (reads) “Maxim helps raise the vibrations of even low vibration messages.”

Maxim: Do you know how to be in such a Project? And if you react to all low vibrations, then it’s easier to close the Project. Therefore, somewhere you need to react, raising these vibrations at least a little.

Irina: Gulnar writes: “Sit down at the negotiating table. Let Ukraine recognize Crimea as Russian.” This is the same thing that was offered before, only from the other side. If they do not agree to recognize Crimea as Russian, what do you propose to do then?

(reads) “Take the G8 Presidents to the Moon.” Good offer.

(Ashtar Sheran) The presidents of the countries you are talking about are not ready for physical contact. Their Higher Self will not approve.

Maxim: (responds to a comment from the chat) What is a quantum leap, guys? We are experiencing a quantum rebound now, not a leap! There is no talk of a jump.

Irina: (reading) “Let them provide the documents for the property.” Good offer. Property documents of what?

“Into the Astral Plane of Putin and Biden!” But they already go to the Astral every night.

Maxim: “Take me to your planet,” they write. “Why don’t they talk about the secret space programs of earthlings?”

But really, Ashtar, there’s something you’re not telling us about the secret space programs of earthlings! How do you contact earthlings, transfer technology to them? Why do others tell, but you don't?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Technology is prohibited from being transferred to earthlings. It is precisely because of such cases that this has been happening on Earth in the last year.

Maxim: Why then do they say that there are secret space programs where you and the oligarchs are making settlements almost on Mars?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): There are representatives of Disaru on Mars, they are very similar to you. Maybe they are seen there and mistaken for earthlings?

Maxim: I see.

1:19:22 Ashtar Sheran about the spiritual lessons of the teacher and student.

Maxim: Tell me also, please. You know, what an interesting trend: at first there was a simple person, then he comes to the Project and becomes a contactee. And then he leaves the Project and starts throwing mud at him and saying that now we are wrong, we have the wrong contact. We are in contact with the wrong people, and in general we have no aliens.

Here you are, Ashtar, as an experienced person who has seen earthlings in various monkey replicas. Tell me, please, why is this happening? Is this our lesson, or is this his lesson, this man?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): This is a lesson for both him and yours. It's general.

Maxim: What is our lesson: accept him as he is?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Your lesson is to test your self-confidence. If you are confident in yourself, you will not doubt your contacts, despite the fact that he did not acknowledge them. And at the same time, this is a lesson in Love. If you love him, then you recognize his right to think the way he thinks. And his lesson too is to accept you as you are.

Maxim: In principle, I thought so. This is such an interesting moment.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): And if indeed this contactee came from you, then his lesson is to be grateful to those teachers who allowed him to set up his spiritual channel for contacts with his curators - with us or with other spiritual curators.

And if a student is grateful to his teacher, and if he believes that the teacher is mistaken in something, he will tell him this in Love and in the Light of Truth in a personal conversation, but will not bring it out into society.

Maxim: That is, if a contactee brings this out into society, then he is just a gossip, right?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): If the contactee brings this out into society, then he tries to elevate himself at the expense of the teacher, humiliating him, saying that he is in contact with the wrong people. Although he himself came from him, which means he accepted his energies, accepted his teaching and agreed with his worldview.

If, having left the teacher, the student begins to somehow discredit this teacher or humiliate him, this speaks, firstly, of his lack of self-confidence. And secondly, about the desire to humiliate the teacher in order to appear superior against his background. A man has a lesson in pride.

And the teacher who is humiliated has a lesson in acceptance, in unconditional Love. If he still accepts and loves the former student for who he is, then he will pass his lesson.

Maxim: Do you accept and love such people? Tell me honestly, Irish?

Irina: Yes, of course.

Maxim: Exactly, you’re not lying, do you accept it? Isn’t there a worm inside to send into the Light?

Irina: If my former students or former employees and administrators of our Project speak about me, whoever it is, even if they say about me that I am communicating with the wrong people, I, of course, do not agree with them. But my disagreement does not imply anger or resentment towards them. I still treat them with Love and wish them development, good luck, happiness, health, Love. And I, for example, do not refuse to communicate with them, I am ready to answer their questions in the spirit of Love. I am ready, I repeat once again, to meet with them, call on the curators and see who conveys the information in what way, to find some kind of compromise. I'm always open to this. My heart is open to each of you.

Maxim: Unfortunately, they have it closed.

Irina: That's their right. But their right will not close my heart. I also have the right.

Maxim: Great!

Guys, we invite everyone to the First All-Russian Congress of Cosmoenergetics “Looking into the Future.” This will be a grandiose event where absolutely all cosmoenergetics can be present with their reports, scientific works, research, and proposals for harmonizing cooperation.

Guys, the link is under this video. Please take a look and don’t miss this grand event under the auspices of the Cassiopeia Project. The Gikhor school provides an opportunity to speak out, take part and show oneself at this First All-Russian Congress. If you are a cosmoenergeticist, you simply must attend this event.

Irina: (reads the chat) “The proposal is to admit Ashtar Sheran to the UN!” Good offer! Will you go?

Maxim: Ashtar, will you go to the UN?

Irina: Smiles and speaks.

(Ashtar Sheran) For me to go to the UN, we first need mass contact with the Earth. And so, I thank you for such trust, for such an honor shown to me. I would love to participate and dedicate my service to a planet like yours.

Maxim: Thank you, Ashtar, good answer!

1:25:39 Ashtar Sheran about the contact of Ilona Maska.

Maxim: Please tell me, many people ask, I know what the answer will be: Is Elon Musk a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations?

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): Yes.

Maxim: That's it! I thought there would be a different answer now.

Irina (Ashtar Sheran): In general, I can say: she is a contactee. And with whom - you need to talk to him.

Maxim: Thank you all so much for this broadcast - Ashtar Sheran, Bergastre, MidgasKaus, the disembodied Spirits who were present nearby!

Guys, we are waiting for you on Friday at our general meditation. There were about 750 people at the last meditation. Please join this meditation, which will lead to peace, to Love, to harmony and mutual agreement, mutual assistance and respect. Happy everyone! A huge hello to everyone who sees us, everyone who watches us, everyone who helps us!

Everyone was hugged. Until new broadcasts!

October 9, 2022

Conference participants:

Maxim Rusan - head of the CASSIOPEA Project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

Irina Podzorova is a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, subtle-material civilizations and the Spiritual world;

Ashtar Sheran - head of the space fleet of the Galactic Federation of Light;

Bergastre is a representative of the planet Burkhad, a specialist of the Security Service in the 36th sector of the Milky Way Galaxy;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world;

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, microbiologist, specialist in alien life forms;

Sergius of Radonezh is the disembodied Spirit, the patron saint of the egregor of the Russian Federation.

#503 Alien technologies for converting energy from renewable sources. Antigravity.

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/inoplanetnye-tekhnologii-preobrazovaniya-ehnergij https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w1SS5IYGk98

00:00 Start of broadcast.

00:58 Introduction of the participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and today there are representatives of the planet Burhad here: Raom Tiyan, a specialist in energy interactions in the environment, and Tahir Naikri, who is an industrial engineer and cyberneticist, a specialist in developing programs for creating various devices.

(Tahir Naikri): In your opinion, this is a process engineer. I work in a fully automated factory producing various devices and studying the implementation of new technologies. He is in orbit of the planet Burhad, on a space station. I can go into the astral space and transmit information to contactees, although I have not consciously contacted earthlings before.

(Irina): Raom Tiyan invited him.

(Raom Tiyan): To answer the questions that Irina gave me, I thought that I needed such a specialist.

(Irina): The two of them will answer your questions. Please introduce yourself.

Victor: Hello, my name is Victor. I am a radio engineering specialist, so I have questions about your technologies that we can understand and apply in conjunction with our technologies. That is, to remake our technologies to suit your technologies, based at least on your knowledge that you can transfer to us.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Okay, I'm waiting for the question.

03:36 Features of lighting in alien premises.

Victor: My first question is: what is the source of light in your premises? In our premises the source is an incandescent lamp.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, I know.

Victor: And in yours, as I understand it, you somehow excite the energy of light in space. How does this happen?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Do you mean indoor light or a directed beam outdoors?

Victor: No, exactly indoors. How do you light the rooms?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): On each planet there are different solutions to this issue, but the basic principles are the same everywhere. In the inner area of the room (by which I mean the walls, floor and ceiling) there are 12 nanotubules (shows it to Irina). They can be found in any room and are arranged in such a way that…

(Irina): He shows me the diagram. Now, I'll get ready. You take turns speaking: first words, then images. He simply did not communicate with earthlings.

Victor: I see.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): I want to emphasize that all these engineering communications are done by biorobots. I just know about these circuits from my textbooks. Engineers don't even do this, this is the work of robots.

When a particular room is created, special nanotubes are placed in its walls, floor and ceiling, at a certain distance from each other. And through these nanotubes, when you need to automatically turn on the light (for example, if a person enters the room), then sensors by changing the fields in this room read that a person (humanoid) has appeared there.

Victor: Like capacitive sensors? Changing the capacity, volume of the room, is it possible?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): The energy just changes, the energy. When they go there, a source of biological energy appears there. The sensors are usually located in the floor. When a person enters, his energy spreads. After all, the physical body also has certain energies. The tubes are triggered, that is, the energy that is already in this room - the walls themselves, the materials from which these walls are made - influences these tubes in such a way that they begin to emit spirally directed radio waves, 1.4 millimeters long, into the air. They spread spirally with a certain order and a certain power.

The air in a room is made up of gases, and the atoms of these gases react to these spiraling diverging radio waves in such a way that they begin to emit light energy. Moreover, the energy of light that comes out of these atoms (as you know, the energy of light is the energy of the first level), reflected from objects, again returns, one might say, into atoms (let’s put it more simply), and gradually, through conversion into radio waves, again comes to its level, to the type of energy that corresponded to the energy of light. This process can be said to be endless, that is, there are quite a lot of atoms, and they are gradually restored after this emission of light, and the light there can burn for a very long time.

Victor: As I understand it, these nanotubules are both a receiver and a transmitter?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): They are a transmitter, and the radio waves themselves arise from the action of the energy that already exists in the walls. These are magnetic fields that are directed from the outside to the walls, ceiling and floor from the energy generator of the room to which it belongs - be it a house, a spaceship, or some room at the base, they still have some kind of energy generator.

(Irina): It looks like a white box, and inside it first comes some kind of liquid, like a gel, and then some disks.

(Tahir Naikri): This is an ordinary generator that is capable of emitting a lot of energy and can convert one energy into another. We call it a “converter”. It usually either stores some kind of energy reserve, or, most often, it is converted from space energy, for example, or from the same light energy, from heat energy - it happens in different ways.

Victor: As I understand it, this generator is capable of receiving different types of energy from space, that is, heat, light, radio waves, and converting it into other types of energy?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, it can simultaneously store energies and transform them. It's something like your battery, but at the same time capable of converting one type of energy into another.

Of course, energy installations are different. The one I described most often occurs in residential areas. In spaceships, the power plant is somewhat different. It is already focused not only on heating rooms, ventilation and light, but also on starting engines. It is more complicated: it is designed to receive, for example, energy coming from stars, and at a fairly large distance from them. It is also configured to receive energy through the ship's hull. It's more complicated.

11:17 Composition and dimensions of lighting nanotubes.

Victor: Let's go back to those nanotubes that you have in the room. Are they made from some special material or from the same chemical elements that we have on our planet?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): They are made of a special iridium-magnesium alloy. Inside are bubbles that consist of a single layer of sulfur atoms of an allotropic modification that forms a bubble when they adhere to each other. Thus, passing radio waves through themselves, they twist them.

(Irina): At least, I now see such a diagram and captions for it.

Victor: How do they get these nanotubes?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Usually they are already built into the materials that are used for the construction of premises. But they also happen separately, in some way.

(Irina): He's showing me now... It's not a tube, but some kind of block, like our brick, only it's dark yellow, square, and looks more like plastic.

(Tahir Naikri): This is such a built-in block. And separately, they are very small, their size is less than a millimeter. The length is maybe half a millimeter, and the width is generally hundredths of a millimeter - 0.01, that is, sort of "nano".

13:28 Location and control of lighting tubes.

Victor: Yes, I understand. So these 12 tubes are all in one brick, or...

Irina (Tahir Naikri): No, not all. They should be dispersed throughout parts of the room and should be opposite each other. But the impulses of these radio waves do not arise simultaneously from there: firstly, they arise rhythmically, and secondly, with a certain order. Two tubes turn on, which are not opposite each other, but diagonally, crosswise.

Victor: It turns out that they turn on diagonally?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, and they turn on in order, this is regulated by microcircuits, which are usually behind the wall. Microcircuits automatically control these tubes, these radio waves, their strength and sequence. They are built into the walls themselves, and not only control the light, they have many functions. For example, as I already said, the function of turning on the light and recognizing incoming traffic is also embedded in the microcircuits. The chips are usually silicon-carbon, but there are other solutions, depending on the type of room.

Victor: Is there a separate control unit for this system, for ignition?

Irina: The control unit, if we are talking about a home, is located in the home computer and at the same time is a means of communication. It is in every residential building, in every institution. On a spaceship, this is the ship's computer.

15:34 Transmitting a signal to turn on the lights.

Victor: From this control unit directly to these nanotubules, what signal is transmitted - an electrical or radio wave pulse, is it somehow supplied to them by wires or through the air?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Nothing is transmitted by wires or through the air, everything is transmitted along the walls.

Victor: It turns out that their wall itself conducts electricity?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): This is not electricity in itself. The order is given by magnetic fields. This is an electromagnetic field for you, but we can obtain this separately.

Victor: As I understand it, there is an induction coil that transmits this signal, like our radio receiver?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Not an induction coil, our magnetic fields are born from the atoms themselves and are transmitted to one or another modulation, direction and shape. That is, our magnetic field can be given shape and density. For example, this is how various shieldings are created, also from certain types of magnetic fields. Plus certain radio waves, they are embedded in each other using special devices (Irina sees them as some kind of oblique rods). There is no such name in your language. This very vaguely resembles electrodes, only they have nothing to do with electricity. Magnetrodes.

Victor: Magnetrodes?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes. They are also made from special materials, including alloys, which contain not only metals, but may also contain other elements, which, with the help of nanotechnology, are arranged in such a way that when energies are passed through them, they convert them into other energies or create fields that we need shape, density, direction, rotation. The purpose of these fields is different.

As for the light, it's all automated: the microcircuits themselves control turning the light on and off. When a person, for example, leaves the room, they turn off the light. But the one located in the room, using, for example, special buttons, can turn it on itself. There is also voice control. It's like a "smart home" system, that is, like robotic houses. You could say that the house itself will communicate with you.

18:40 Frequency of launching nanotubes.

Victor: How often are these 12 nanotubes launched? At what frequency do they pulsate?

Irina: He is now showing me the number 0.48 seconds. This is the time after which a pair of handsets turns on.

Victor: And the tube itself, which emits this radio wave energy, pulsates at what frequency?

Irina: Listen, you still have a lot of questions?

Victor: Yes, but I agree to several conferences. I want to thoroughly reveal at least this issue so that we can begin...

Irina (Tahir Naikri): It doesn’t pulsate on its own. A field just forms there.

Victor: It doesn’t pulsate, but, as I understand it, there was a magnetic effect on the tube, right?

Irina (Tair Naikri): Yes.

Victor: Magnetic influence, and this tube begins to emit a radio wave, which excites light energy in the room.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, she, one might say, knocks out what you call light quanta from atoms. But these quanta of light do not disappear anywhere. They are reflected from objects, thanks to which a person can see everything he needs. Nothing screens them, it’s a light field (we also call it a “controlled light field”). Nothing shields it from returning to atoms, so, naturally, light energy returns to atoms. And since these are gas atoms, it returns through the energy of radio waves, and then the energy of radio waves flows to the level of light energy.

Victor: Once again I would like to clarify at what frequency, in what range is this light excited?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): These are radio waves of 1.4 millimeters. And the light itself is white, it is seen as white (shows it to Irina). It's indoors. If some other beam is needed, then other technologies are used that change the vibration frequency of this beam.

21:35 Purpose of the field generator.

Victor: I see. Now for the control unit. You said there are magnetic electrodes there that begin to transmit radiation.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): This is in a field generator that generates various fields: magnetic, electric, radio waves, thermal, light. Less often, fields of second-level energies are needed - what you call radioactivity and thermonuclear energy. They are sometimes used for certain jobs. But more often, energies of the first level are in demand. As for the third level - gravitational fields, they are also needed, for example, in gravitational engines, in various anti-gravitators.

22:45 Chemical composition of magnetoelectrodes in a field generator.

Victor: How are these rods, magnetoelectrodes excited? And what alloy is there? You said they contain some kind of metal.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): There are different types. For example, the most universal ones contain zirconium, and for some reason it shows me hydrogen. He says that hydrogen, under certain conditions, can have the properties of a metal.

Victor: How do they connect it? Do they fuse hydrogen, or is it somehow under pressure that the formation of these rods occurs?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Zirconium, hydrogen, calcium and carbon.

Victor: Can you tell me the percentage of these metals?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Hydrogen – 14%, zirconium about 28%, calcium – 7%. You can even make it out of these three, it will also be quite stable, especially for those who are just starting to receive these fields.

Victor: Now what method? By fusion method?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): If you take three of them, then you can take, for example, hydrogen - 12%, and divide the rest in half.

24:39 Manufacturing technology of magnetoelectrodes.

Victor: Are these chemical elements fused under pressure, or under normal conditions?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): No.

Victor: What conditions must be met?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): This must be molecular soldering. These elements must be divided into molecules, and then they must enter a certain chamber in certain proportions and be soldered together using a computer with artificial intelligence - it directs the fields, controls them, namely the magnetic field.

We need a person who knows the technology to convey it through terms.

Victor: I understand. It’s just that now, at least at this level, we can understand that we can continue to find people who can work in this area. At least this will give us some impetus to start making this kind of material. We simply don’t have specialists now who think differently, differently...

Irina (Tahir Naikri): You tell me what kind of energy you need to receive, because I told you in general. What energies do you need to receive and from what? I'll give you something more specific.

26:21 Operating principles of alien engines.

Victor: Okay, then let's move on to the next question. Nowadays, the accumulation of electrical energy is important on Earth. This is something like a battery in which you could store a lot and use it for a long time. We use batteries in our phones and in our cars (electric vehicles are now popular in our country). We need cutting-edge, high-capacity solid-state batteries. Do you use such technologies?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Electricity is not. We have other types of transport. They are almost all on magnetic principles. If planetary is a magnetic field engine, if intra-atmospheric, then it is an engine that can suppress gravity. Not like a gravitational jump, but simply to control the gravitational field, decreasing and increasing it.

As for electricity. How and from what can it be obtained? For example, there is a way to obtain electrical energy, even if not all of it turns into electrical energy, from radioactivity, if there is some kind of background radiation. If there is any radiation, even radiation from the sun, there is light energy, and the energy of radioactivity is necessarily embedded in the light energy of the sun. Not all of it passes through the atmosphere, but, nevertheless, energy can be obtained. As for the battery. Is this an object that traps electrical energy?

Victor: Yes.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): As I understand it, it should be DC?

Victor: Yes, permanent.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): It should not just be made of certain metals, with certain electrodes - anode and cathode, and be compatible with your devices.

I am not so familiar with your devices; I have never been to Earth at all. I need to see what they should be adapted to. Because it is possible to obtain electrical energy, for example, from the same magnesium alloy that contains molybdenum, magnesium, carbon and tellurium. There is such an alloy, plates are made from it in a certain way, and they convert radiation into electricity. It can be stored, for example, in a gel battery, which consists of intertwined silicon threads, and they will be suspended, for example, in a solution of copper chloride of a certain concentration.

30:00 Construction of an alien battery of electrical energy.

Victor: Can you tell me more about this battery?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): A suspension of copper chloride is made, and so-called silicon wool is placed in it.

Victor: What are the electrodes, plus and minus?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): It can hold electrical energy if it is made with a shell of at least the same titanium-tungsten-aluminum alloy available to you. Titanium is a minimum, in principle only for internal protection of the battery. And aluminum and tungsten must be on the outside so as not to allow energy to pass through. Even if you make such a battery with such a shell... How do you measure electrical energy, in watts?

Victor: In volts. We measure electrical energy in volts, from one to a million volts. On average, we have 12 volt batteries. I don't know how to express this in your units.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, you need to look at what your volt is. I can say that such batteries can hold energy for 8 months. To create more energy-intensive ones, to spend it more efficiently with high efficiency, you already need to make other alloys, as I already said. Weave ions of other elements into a metal ionic lattice. There you already need to act in such a way that every atom, or every ion, or every molecule is in its place and serves a certain control of energy flows.

Victor: Let's go back to the battery that you just described. You said the shell alloy is titanium, magnesium, aluminum, so I understand?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes. The outer shell should also be made of tungsten, it will retain energy. And the inner shell is made of titanium. They should be layer by layer.

Victor: Each chemical element separately, or is it alloyed, or is it sprayed?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Do you have such a concept as “metal suspension”? It’s like foam, he shows me, and it covers it like a film.

Victor: Like powder coating, as I understand it?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): I don’t know. How thick a film can it create?

Victor: Nanometers can be created. If it is the type of ion deposition, then very thin films can be created.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, just such a thin film of titanium should be inside, and it should be an oval vessel. Previously, when we needed to move certain electric cars on wheels (we had such a period in our history), there were just such batteries that could work for a long time. I have already said that with a constant supply of solar energy, they could work for up to 8 months without additional recharging. This is again with the radiation of the sun, which we have in Burkhad. The specifications of your light may vary.

Victor: Were these batteries rechargeable or disposable?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): They were installed for 8 months, and the humanoid traveled every day as long as he wanted. And only after 8 months he returned this battery back to the factory and received a new one. They recharged it there: they took out this cotton wool from there, washed it with something, and put in a new one. Since it has already exhausted its resource.

Victor: Let's go layer by layer. What metal was the outer layer of this flask?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Wolfram. Also some kind of paint, white. But that’s okay, you can leave the natural tungsten.

Victor: Next layer?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Next is magnesium with carbon: 25% carbon, the rest is magnesium. And they come in layers. Usually carbon first, then magnesium, then carbon again…. It was a shell that ensured a constant flow of electrical energy to the machine parts. But this is how we did it. Your machines, I don’t know what it needs to be connected to.

Victor: We connect to copper conductors. A long copper conductor is made, and we connect plus and minus to it. Magnetic energy arises in this copper conductor, in a copper coil, and we direct this magnetic energy to a metal blank, which begins to mechanically move forward or backward. Due to this, we convert electrical energy into mechanical energy.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): You need to use a completely different solution, because we had all this battery in its own battery compartment, and it supplied energy to the walls of this compartment, and then through certain parallel frames made of silver. Through these parallel frames, energy was transferred to the engine in the middle of the car. Under the seat there was something like a propeller, only with “broken” blades. And they already began to rotate from electrical energy, and this could be at different speeds and in different directions, and was also controlled from the cabin. And accordingly the car could go back, forward, stop, turn. These were the decisions.

38:17 Electric field, movement of energies.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): You have a division of energy into plus and minus, we simply have one electrical energy.

Victor: We also have this concept of “electrostatics”, this is when a comb is rubbed against the hair, and a kind of electrified field is obtained. Is this understood in your system?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): So you understand electrical energy as flowing only through a conductor?

Victor: In our opinion, yes. In our earthly concept, this is a kind of electron that flows through a wire.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): The fact is that through this silver frame (shows white metal that looks like silver) electrical energy also flowed. But we didn’t call it “plus”, “minus”, or anything else. It was electrical energy. We call it “electric field”, and we do not separate it, it is located in something, it is an electric field, or in space. This is a certain amount of energy of the first type, which moves either in space or by transferring its quanta from one atom to another.

This is usually achieved by releasing this energy from the atoms themselves. That is, it is clear that by itself, in space, it does not exist, it is all in atoms, and in order to get a flow, you need to “knock it out” from there, let’s say so. And when we knock out of some material, for example, from a conductor, as you say, it begins to flow in one direction or the other with a certain frequency, it can be constantly, or it can be periodic: it either flows or does not flow. And these quanta can leave the conductor and move without them, one might say, between other atoms.

Victor: It turns out that when a quantum leaves a conductor, it can travel through the air?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): By air - it will already be among the gas atoms. The fact is that certain electric fields can generally move in a vacuum. Such fields, they are already, as it were, freed from atoms.

Victor: I understand.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): You have, for example, an understanding that gravity extends in space. Similarly, any energy can spread. Energies do not need intermediaries in the form of atoms through which they move. They can also move independently. But to do this, you need to spend other energy, vector-directed specifically at these atoms in order for it to be released from there. And usually you need some kind of field that screens it so that it doesn’t return there, and then the field moves to where you need it.

42:02 Energy shielding as understood by aliens.

Victor: In principle, we need to understand how this happens - shielding one energy relative to another, so that the properties of the second energy appear. For example, to shield from the energy of light, the energy of heat... That is, 4 types of energy were shielded, and we now have energy, for example, electricity. Or they screened the other 4 types of energy of the first level - for example, we now have magnetic energy. How is all this achieved?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): How is shielding achieved?

Victor: Yes, the very principle of this shielding. With the help of chemical elements, or with the help of... I don't know. We simply don't have such a concept on Earth yet.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Do you have a concept of a specific field? Do you have an understanding of field and matter? This field can be created in any shape, and as you probably call "density," we call "saturation," that is, a certain number of quanta of the energy that creates the field in every cubic millimeter of space. That is, a certain saturation, and when it is achieved, a screen is created. For example, this can be done from a combination of thermal and magnetic energy. But before you can escape something, you need to first learn how to isolate it in isolation.

Victor: How to do this?

43:52 The operating principle of the simplest field converter.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): To isolate it in isolation, you need to create a converter. The simplest converter distinguishes five types of energy of the first level: heat, light, electricity, radio waves, magnetism. Thus, a substance placed in a chamber, usually in powder form, begins to release energy from atoms under the influence of certain fields. In order to create this field converter, you will need microcircuits. Alloys alone, without microcircuits that will control this process, will not work. Here we need to develop cybernetics in order to be able to assemble such a converter.

Victor: I realized that here we need software that will set certain control modes.

Irina (Tair Naikri): Yes.

Victor: But in order to set certain control modes, we must first know, for example, what this “converter” is. This is a kind of metal barrel, in which...

Irina (Tahir Naikri): You could say, a barrel into which, for example, heat and light come. Using certain software, they influence the atoms of the substance that is inside it. To make it easier for these energies to react with a given substance, it is usually in a vacuum, in atomized form. In a vacuum, this means there should be no gases, but there should be the substance itself in atomized form. A stream of heat and light enters this chamber, enters the vacuum and affects this powder.

The easiest way, of course, is to extract energy from tetravalent atoms. Take carbon: it is easiest to extract various energies from it. His atom is structured in such a way that this will be easy to do. Again, we have a setting. For example, you need to obtain light energy (no one does this anymore), and for example, there is a special chamber there, like a window, and light begins to be emitted from there. But it is emitted for a fairly short time, depending on how much powder there is, and then it goes out, and then this portion of carbon contains other types of energy. In the atom itself they are transformed there.

Victor: One portion of energy, let’s say light energy, is gone, but matter still has four types left...

Irina (Tahir Naikri): They begin to transform in such a way that other types of energy turn into light energy. But it changes so much there that it is no longer possible to knock it out in this way. You need to put in more energy.

Victor: It turns out that the number of quanta has left the atom, so what do you understand?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, the number of quanta that makes up light, heat or electricity is gone. But if you, for example, receive light, of course you will see it. If you don’t shield it into anything and don’t collect it, it will simply go away. Under certain conditions, it can return back to atoms. But usually, if they have already been knocked out, there is such a window there, and he goes through it. And if this is electricity, then there will simply be an electric field, which, one might say, will go into those atoms that...

Victor: Were you standing nearby?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): There's a vacuum there. It will go into those atoms that make up the shell of this barrel. If, of course, it is covered with something insulating, it will be possible to assemble it. But, again, this requires a certain unit in which electrical energy is collected and stored.

49:30 Silicon wool.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): You need to look at what technological solutions you have in this regard. Because, as I said, we have silicon wool there in a copper chloride solution, usually below a 35% solution. And there is such a suspension - fibers, they are even visible, white. And electrical energy is stored there.

Victor: Silicon wool, is it like our glass wool?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): I am not familiar with its composition.

Silicon wool is strands of silicon without oxygen, just like you have carbon strands. You have these materials that are made by drawing out a graphite rod. The result is a thread that is thin and long. It consists of carbon atoms that come either one after another or in a structure such as a honeycomb. And they are located in a circle. It could be different there. The same goes for silicon. It can also be made from carbon, but the point is that silicon stores energy longer.

51:18 The process of producing silicon wool.

Victor: How do they get this silicon wool?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): By pulling out silicon.

Victor: They heat it up?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): It is heated, subjected to pressure, and it comes into a state where a long pipe is pulled out of it by something similar to a pump, upward, like a strip. And then some other chemical reaction occurs, and the substance begins to take shape when one atom clings to another. This is a fairly strong connection, which, one might say, can no longer be broken by conventional methods, for example, using chemical action. It is quite durable.

Victor: Is this thread somehow pulled out in a vacuum or by a flow of air?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): There is no vacuum there. It's just like a pump, and it draws in this silicon, which is under pressure and high temperature. Silicon is in a form where it already becomes like a liquid, but at the same time it is thick.

Victor: I understand. The molten mass of silicon under pressure is fed into a chamber in which an air vacuum is created, right?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, it is pulled up, and those tubes where it is pulled in, there are a lot of them, they are like a sieve, like a shower. And they are made of some white material that resembles your porcelain in composition.

Victor: Ceramics?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, and inside them there are also compounds of silicon, sulfur, and ferrosilicate molecules can be built in.

53:54 Design of a powder battery for electrical energy.

Victor: Everything is clear. Now my question is: what other types of batteries are there? For example, carbon based?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): There are powder batteries. This is a plate, and like some kind of soot, black powder is poured into it.

Victor: Can you tell us more about him?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): A plate usually consisting of a magnesium-sodium alloy. These used to be batteries for some small devices.

Victor: Great, tell me in detail.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): They are not for cars. There is little energy stored there. And they can be charged by an electric field. They were placed in special recesses of some device, and it charged them.

Victor: What was he like constructively? Can you describe it layer by layer?

Irina (Tair Naikri): Usually magnesium-sodium shell: 33% sodium, the rest magnesium. And inside there is powder made of carbon, from such a modification of carbon, I don't know how to explain it in your language, but it's like dust.

Victor: Like graphene? We call single-layer carbon "graphene."

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Is this dust?

Victor: Yes, carbon dust.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): We need to look at how the atoms are arranged there. The one I'm talking about, in it the atoms are usually arranged in groups of 8: two atoms are here (Irina shows with her hands), and they are connected to the others by covalent bonds. There are two here, two here, and one more there. This is how they are located.

Victor: In one plane or in volume? So it turns out to be plates, this carbon?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): He is powder.

Victor: Okay. Understood.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): I just said how they are located in one speck of dust.

Victor: Everything is clear. You need to put this dust on the magnesium plate, right?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Inside the magnesium-sodium plate (it is shiny, white) there is this powder, and it is located on one side. For example, let it be this size (Irina shows on her smartphone), and on one side there is a plate made of some material that conducts the electric field well. For example, gold, platinum.

Victor: Copper, aluminum maybe?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): We didn't use this. We used materials that quickly transmit electricity. And such a plate on this side (for example, from the bottom side of the smartphone screen) was inserted into the device, and the energy began to be gradually transferred. There was also software in the device itself, which regulated the speed of energy transfer for certain needs of the device.

Victor: Did energy begin to flow out of this one electrode?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): From such a plate, which was an intermediary between the electrical energy that was stored in the atoms of this carbon and the device. Therefore, it was powdered to store energy, and at the same time it had characteristics that allowed it, so to speak, to take excess electrical energy on board.

Victor: And the second electrode? Our battery consists of two electrodes. And here, I understand, there is only one?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, one plate, which is an intermediary. And when you insert it into the device - the wall of the device against which the plate was leaning also consisted of platinum or gold - it gave a signal, or rather not it, but the microcircuit under it gave a signal to the processor (as you say) of this device that there there is energy. And on the orders of this processor, the plate, which is also in the device, began to take energy from there. One way flow. This is direct current.

Victor: For some reason, we do it all differently. For us, when direct current flows, the circuit must be constantly closed. If energy flows, begins to flow from one substance, flows into another, it must necessarily connect with the first substance through a certain number of conductors. Isn't that how it works for you?

Irina: No. He shows me one plate. There is no separation.

(Tahir Naikri) Do you get energy in the battery itself through some kind of chemical reaction?

Victor: Yes.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): And we have a battery that contains energy that has already been obtained somewhere.

Victor: It turns out that the energy flows in one direction, the circuits do not close. Our entire technology is reduced to the fact that you need to close the circuit. That is, energy is used in such a way that in a chemical source we get two different directions - plus and minus. It's like different pressures. And we, roughly speaking, close these two pressures in the conductor. Under this condition we obtain "electromotive force", as we call it. We obtain a magnetic field.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): I understand that you use various chemical reactions, for example, the reaction of an acid with an active metal. I am aware of these decisions. But the fact that electricity moves there is because a substitution reaction is taking place: certain metal ions combine with a certain part of the acid molecule. If it is hydrogen - with a part, and if it is oxygen-free, then accordingly - with the acid itself.

There are different solutions. And in fact, when an atom or, as you say, an ion of a certain metal combines with an acid or part of it, then from these two atoms...

Victor: Yes, yes. As a result of this chemical reaction we get electricity.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Where does electrical energy come from? I'll explain now. The fact is that it appears from the atoms themselves, because when combined, one might say, it does not coincide, as you call it...

Victor: The number of quanta, as I understand it. The number of quanta does not match.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): This is the effect of the microgravity of some atoms on the microgravity of others. They begin to combine into a fairly strong molecule, and electrical energy is released from this molecule. Sometimes there is thermal energy. The fact is that these quanta are no longer retained in the atoms, because they are a little incompatible, let’s put it that way. And so energy begins to be released.

Victor: It is these quanta that we use in our closed-loop converters.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): We would call it not a battery, but a chemical generator.

Victor: Oh, that’s it, I see. Now I understand what you call it. You call it a “chemical generator”.

Irina (Tair Naikri): Yes.

Victor: Then we connect this energy, which we took from the chemical generator, to a conductor. And this conductor emits magnetic energy, which we again convert with the help of another conductor into electrical energy, and so transmit it along the chain. Our entire technology is built on this principle.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): The fact is that the flow of electrical energy that flows through a conductor affects it, and can influence its atoms in such a way that even magnetic energy begins to be released from there, this is also known. It also depends on what the conductor is made of, and what percentage of magnetic energy quanta it contains, and in what place it is.

1:05:01Solar converter device. Recommendations for earthlings.

Victor: All our conductors are made mainly of a metal such as copper. Mainly copper and aluminum are used; there may be some admixtures of gold and silver. But in most cases it is copper. All electronics, all microcircuits - everything is built mainly on copper. And semiconductor systems are already built on silicon.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): We have a different principle. Electrical energy was then accumulated from light. The light hit the plates, and electrical energy was generated there, which could be used to charge the batteries containing the powder.

Victor: What kind of converters were these, what did they look like? When the light fell, they released energy. We currently call something like this a “solar battery.” This is a silicon wafer that converts light energy into electrical energy. Maybe you can suggest something more effective?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): We used carbon sputtering, for example, on an aluminum plate, silicon sputtering, and there was also powder of an element such as germanium. But again, this was used for the sun of Burhad. As for a sun like yours, there is a different spectrum, and you need to look at what percentage of solar energy and what type of hard cosmic radiation, along with light, reaches the surface of the earth, because you have your own atmospheric composition, etc. You need to make allowances for this and see what works for you.

Victor: Can you at least roughly suggest what might be suitable for us?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Germanium can be added to silicon. It is usually very actively used to convert the energy of light and those energies of cosmic radiation that enters through the atmosphere into the energy of electricity, heat, and magnetic energy. The sources of these energies will be the molecules of this plate with which the light interacted. And you need to select atoms that easily give up their energy when in contact with light and, as you call it, x-rays, gamma radiation, ultraviolet. But some part still ends up on the ground, albeit small. We need to see what percentage.

Victor: What metals could these be: active, intermediate or semimetals?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): For our converters, we used, as I already said, germanium, a semimetal.

Victor: Yes, it's a semi-metal. It turns out that they have radiation energy - 40%, thermal energy - 30%, light energy - 20%, magnetic energy - 6%, and electrical energy - 4%. So do I understand?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, but the electric one is in such a position that germanium easily gives it away.

Victor: But there on the last layer, that is, the electrical energy is only 4%?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): The process there is more complicated. First, certain quanta, which consist of light, are filled, and only then the electric one is displaced.

Victor: Now I understand the principle of how this happens!

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, you still need to look not at the percentage, but at the ease of pushing out these percentages.

Victor: I have another question. When quanta in a chemical element form an atom, what do they represent? Some kind of figure, a hexagon, a dodecahedron or something else? What kind of figure do you get if you look at it with imaginative thinking?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): (Irina laughs) You could say that. This is what our plasmoid civilizations do. What does it look like in thin forms? It looks like tornadoes: one spins in one direction, the other in the other, and they are nested inside each other. They are dark in color - one is dark brown, the other is dark brown with some golden grains. This is how a humanoid can see through its perception. And they see it, one might say, as putting together some kind of cubes.

Victor: Do we still have time, or is it all already?

Irina: It would be advisable to finish this already. They came for an hour.

01:11:39 Design of an intra-atmospheric engine.

Victor: Then I have one last question. We looked at the intra-atmospheric engine. You started talking about him. You say it emits magnetic fields. How does it produce these radiations?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): This is not an intra-atmospheric, but a planetary engine that produces magnetic fields.

Victor: And intra-atmospheric? So that now, for example, we can use it so that our cars do not drive on wheels, but fly over the planet.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): You mean not for spaceships?

Victor: Yes, for cars.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): For cars this is called a “magnetic cushion”. This is a certain magnetic radiation, a magnetic field that shields from gravity.

Victor: How does this happen, what processes are going on there? I understand that magnetic energy is released, which blocks the planet's gravity?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, and the car is hanging in the air. You know, for example, magnetic levitation.

Victor: Yes, but in our case this magnetic levitation occurs over some metal plate, and we have not yet achieved any further results. This all levitates due to the fact that our magnetic coil repels the metal magnet.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): If it repels, then where does the gravitational energy go?

Victor: In any case, we are tied to some place. We cannot, for example, tear ourselves away from the rail. We have trains that levitate on a magnetic levitation, are tied to this rail and cannot move to the side.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): We need a magnetic field source powerful enough. But it is in your magnetrons (shows the magnetron to Irina). And the field from this source must be directed downward, and it must rotate, and thus shielding from gravity is achieved. Due to the rotation of this field, the gravity that attracts the car is shielded.

Victor: How does this magnetic field emit? Some kind of coils, rods? What kind of converters emit this energy, and how many of them are there, in what order?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Usually this substance is white and soft.

Victor: Can I have the chemical composition?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): There are hydrogen atoms, oxygen atoms, calcium atoms, and iridium, but it is also in the form of atoms, not a solution. And all this together is dissolved in water and is in a gel state. And a magnetic field passes through it.

Victor: And a magnetic field begins to be driven through this composition?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Yes, the magnetic field is generated by a certain motor, which, as I already said, is the same converter.

Victor: The field that passes through this gel. Describe the device that produces it. You said some kind of engine.

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Transformer.

Victor: What does he look like?

Irina: The white box that he showed me at the beginning of the broadcast. A white box into which light enters from the atmosphere and is transformed there by these oblique rods into a magnetic field.

(Tahir Naikri) And this magnetic field, since the liquid rotates there and passes through it, also begins to rotate. Gravity is suppressed due to the fact that the macrogravity field that exists around this machine collides with this magnetic field and goes to the side, moving forward, and down.

Victor: As I understand it, this gel liquid somehow unwinds? Mechanically?

Irina (Tahir Naikri): Under the influence of the same field.

Victor: Under the influence of the field, does this liquid begin to unwind?

Irina: Yes, he is now showing me that it rotates, and in one direction. Not fast, just slow enough.

Victor: Is it enclosed in some kind of torus or shell?

Irina: Some kind of disk that is at the bottom of the cabin. It's like a plate, only it's flat.

Victor: What material is this plate made of?

Irina: Silicon, that is, silicon oxide, oxygen, carbon. As I understand it, they do not allow electricity to pass through.

Victor: It turns out that the bowl is made of dielectric material that does not allow electrical energy to pass through?

Irina: If it feels like it, as he shows me, I would call it porcelain, because it’s like a porcelain cup. Only, he says, it’s stronger, you can’t break it.

Victor: Okay. Thank you very much! Of course, we stopped at the most interesting part; we could continue this topic.

Irina: We agreed with them for an hour.

Victor: Okay. Thank you very much, very grateful to you!

Irina: Yes, good.

Victor: It was an interesting conference, I learned a lot of interesting things. What you told us is what a global leap our industry can take.

Irina: Okay. We wish you success!

Dear friends, thank you for watching our video. Very interesting. I'm not a technician, I'm a little confused with the images, but ok. I hope you found it interesting and useful. See you again!

#509 Conference with Archangel Gabriel. How the Islamic egregor was created. Sacrifice of Isaac.

00:00 Start of video.

00:17 Irina Podzorova is a universal contactee.

00:54 Introduction of the participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today we have another conference on the Islamic religion. Present here is Apshetarim, a representative of the planet Tumesout, a specialist in the creation of religious and philosophical egregors in worlds not included in the interstellar union, a sociologist, psychologist, and religious scholar. In the Islamic egregor he is known under the name of Archangel Gabriel.

So, dear friends, hello!

Anar: Salaam alaikum!

Galina: Good evening! Salaam Alaikum!

Hamid: Hello everyone!

Galina: My name is Galina. I am a Muslim, a Russian Muslim.

Hamid: Hello! I salute Apshetarim! I am very glad that I had the opportunity to communicate with him again. I'm Khamid Dadaev from Grozny.

Irina: Yes, he says, we know each other, we have already communicated.

Anar: My name is Anar, I am from Azerbaijan. I say hello to Apshetarim.

Irina: Are you a Muslim too?

Anar: Yes, I am a Muslim. And we have a brother in faith, Nazim, also from Azerbaijan. He asked me to say hello to Irina, Apshetarim and everyone at Cassiopeia.

Irina (Apshetarim): Hello to him too. Yes, I remember him, of course.

Anar: Thank you!

Irina: Dear friends! We have three presenters today. And, as I understand it, you have five questions each, or as many as we can ask. Anyway, let's probably start. Let's start with Galina. I'm listening to you.

Galina: Apshetarim (of course, the name Dzhabrail is closer to me), we are very, very glad to meet you!

Irina (Apshetarim): Jabrail is my spiritual name. And Apshetarim is my name on the planet. You can call me this or that.

Galina: Is it possible?

Irina: Yes.

03:02 Apshetarim about the spiritual reasons and chronology of the emergence of Islam on Earth.

Galina: Great! I wanted to say that our entire team has been waiting for you and are always very happy to see you. We are very grateful that you contacted us! I would like to ask not my question, but our brother Nazim's. He really asked me to ask this question. During his lifetime, did the prophet Jesus tell anyone (disciples, apostles or people) about the coming of the prophet Muhammad? If so, why is this information not in the Bible?

Irina (Apshetarim): No, I didn't. I didn't say these specific words, because at the time when Jesus lived, there was no plan to create the Islamic religion in the Arabian Peninsula. It is clear that this happened later. And only after, as you probably already know, the spread of Christianity throughout the countries of Asia Minor and the countries of South-West Asia, there were also Christian missionaries on the Arabian Peninsula.

They tried to preach Christian preaching. Some Arabs accepted Christianity, but this matter could not develop for the reasons that they were isolated tribes, and there were very strong egregors of pagan religions, which you call polytheism. Naturally, they fought for their place in the Souls and minds of people. And, naturally, the priests of the gods understood that the adoption of Christianity would immediately place them in the category of simple believers and remove from them the aura of intermediaries between gods and people. And, accordingly, it will reduce the flow of sacrifices. None of them needed this, and they turned believers in their gods against Christianity.

And already by the seventh century of the Christian (new, after Christ) era, it became clear what was needed on the Arabian Peninsula in order to increase the vibrations of these countries, these egregors, to form a single people from many tribes that were at war with each other. And it was decided to send a contactee who would convey new information and create a religion specifically for the Arabs (at first it was only for the Arabs, but as a result of preaching it became global for other peoples).

This was the first solution. This decision was very similar to the decision of Yahweh, who made it in contact with Abraham, creating from many tribes and tribal communities a single Jewish people with a single God. Only this happened, of course, earlier, even before Christianity.

Galina: Thank you.

06:37 Apshetarim about information about the emergence of Islam.

Hamid: Okay. I have the next question. Short. At this stage, since the religion of Islam is very young, is it not premature to announce by whom the religion was given? Because the Muslim world is still very cruel, and this information is very difficult to accept. Most likely, it will not be accepted. And even with close friends, discussing this topic is beyond my strength.

Irina (Apshetarim): It happens that even the representatives of egregors themselves, the same Christian egregor, information about the origin of Christianity and other religions, which is given, for example, about Jesus Christ, about the Mother of God (about Mary the Mother of God), is also not accepted by Christians. But this is not a reason to suppress the truth. Because now the peoples of the Earth are ready to accept it. And those people who begin to quarrel with the people who convey this information, they have forgotten the main commandment of God - that it is necessary to look after yourself, your life and correct yourself, your path in the eyes of Allah, but not the paths of other people. And this is where they sin.

Hamid: Very good answer. Thank you, Apshetarim!

08:24 Apshetarim about the concept of “sin”.

Irina (Apshetarim): What does it mean to sin? They deviate from the Truth. What does it mean to deviate from the Truth? Deviation from the Truth is a deviation from true Light, Love and practical good deeds. If you see a person, my dear Muslims, who contradicts your religion and does not believe in Allah, this is not a reason to be hostile against him. By doing this you will only push him further away from the true faith. You must show Love to him and do a good deed for him.

Hamid: Thank you! Thank you very much!

Anar: Now me?

Irina: Yes.

09:05 Apshetarim about the role of imams in Islam.

Anar: There are 12 imams revered in the Shia world. I wanted to ask respected Apshetarim, what is the role of the 12 imams in spreading the true meaning of the religion of Islam?

Irina (Apshetarim): In the original teaching that I transmitted and that other Angels and Archangels of the Spiritual World carry, there is no difference in the responsibilities for spreading the knowledge of Islam among believers. For us, imams are like apostles (shows 12 apostles - disciples of Jesus Christ). But this does not mean that others should not carry this religion.

Their role was that they were an example for other Muslims of true faith, good deeds and preaching to others. Sermons in the Light of Love. Examples of pure life according to the laws of Islam, according to the laws of the Spiritual world. Be an example for others in spiritual life as a teacher.

But they are also compared with the apostles. But the apostles were sent to preach Christianity, as we know, to all nations. And 12 imams set an example in everyday life among their relatives, loved ones, in the place where they live.

An imam is a spiritual teacher. This is not just some administrative function in a mosque or anywhere else. This is precisely the spiritual teacher who leads his student along the path of spiritual knowledge, revealing to him knowledge about God, about himself and his place before God.

11:25 Apshetarim about the spiritual levels of the wives of the Prophet Muhammad.

Galina: Can I ask if the wives of the Prophet Muhammad, Aisha and Khadija, are now incarnated?

Irina (Apshetarim): No, they are not embodied. At the moment they are in the Spiritual World.

Galina: Thank you.

Irina (Apshetarim): We can say that one of them is currently on the 14th level - Khadija, and Aisha is on the 18th.

Hamid: Good level.

Galina: Yes, interesting. It is impossible to know where they are going to incarnate next time?

Irina (Apshetarim): I didn't talk to them about this (smiles).

Galina: I see.

Irina (Apshetarim): They have their own Consulting Angels, I am not one of them. I am an Archangel from level 24, and I have my own tasks to develop and protect the Islamic egregor.

12:22 Apshetarim about the Muslim clergy and information from contactees.

Galina: Great! Then I have this question. Are there any Russian-speaking contactees with the Islamic Spiritual World? And if there is, then why don't we see these channelings on the Internet?

Irina (Apshetarim): There are contactees. They receive information. But they are engaged in healing. There are Russian Muslims, that is, there are Muslims among Russians. And not only among representatives of other nationalities within Russia, but also among ethnic Russians too. Just like among the Arabs, for example, there are Christians, or Buddhists, or any other believers.

Among Russian Muslims, in turn, there are contactees with the Spiritual World and with plasmoid civilizations, and there are contactees with me. But they do not show their contact as informational; they do not have such a task. They have a healing task. And they have a task, besides healing - spiritual teaching. That is, they give spiritual recommendations, spiritual advice on improving their lives to those who come to them for some needs. This is also contacting. But it is not on social networks, because such people do not consider it necessary to tell a large number of people about it, because they do not have such a task. They sometimes work in secular jobs. They sometimes live in a family, in an environment that would not approve of such activities as Irina conducts.

Galina: It turns out that we won't see public communication with the Islamic egregor in the near future?

Irina (Apshetarim): It depends on you. That is, it depends on them, these contactees. For example, you, Galina, are also a contactee. I know that you put your contacts on YouTube.

Galina: Yes.

Irina (Apshetarim): You, and Anar, and Hamid, and Irina - you can publicly address these contactees and urge them not to be afraid of public opinion, condemnation, even if they are in Muslim families. This may not be easy, it may come down to a conversation with a mullah, an imam, etc. Encourage them to boldly testify to the Truth even before these people. And say: "Yes, I am a contactee with Dzhabrail." Or with other Angels. And I will pass this information on to people.

Even if you tell the imam this, he will not do anything to you for it. They, naturally, have the right to disagree with you, because among the Muslim clergy there are many people who came there simply as a job. They perform rituals, teach people simply from recorded sermons, but for some reason they have no contact with the Spiritual world, with the Higher Self. There are such people among the Christian clergy and among other religions. And they may not believe that this person is in contact with the Spiritual world or in contact with the Angels of the Spiritual world, and not with someone else.

Why might they not believe it? Because if a person himself has some kind of hidden feeling, for example, a feeling of guilt, a feeling of his sinfulness before God, a feeling of his inferiority - if he has had it since childhood, and this block has not been dissolved - then it will be difficult for him to believe that Angels made contact with someone.

Galina: I understand, thank you. The word of transmission is Hamidou.

16:40 Apshetarim about funeral rites.

Hamid: We were already in the group about dhikr - and we included you there - we talked. The burial of a person, as soon as he was buried, immediately on the spot people stand in a circle and, like a dance, the dhikr ritual takes place. Many modern movements argue that this ritual is not necessary. This allegedly happened before the appearance of the Koran. And that there is no need for a ritual now. And here there are very big disputes between the currents of Islam. So, in this regard, I have a question: is there a need for this ritual, and does it help the Spirit return to the Spiritual world?

Irina (Apshetarim): As you know, funeral rites exist in different religions.

Hamid: Yes.

Irina (Apshetarim): They are arranged a little differently: from burial in the ground to burning in fire, etc. Depending on the traditions of a particular people, which were very ancient, even pre-religious, when people simply communicated with the Spirits of nature and lived almost directly among nature. And they had already formed some traditions, which were then passed on from generation to generation, but, naturally, changed. And now, in the 21st century, these rituals have changed even more under the influence of new knowledge, new technologies, new scientific knowledge about the world around us, etc.

But their meaning, no matter what religion they belong to, the meaning of the so-called funeral rituals, or rites of seeing off the deceased to the Spiritual world, lies in two main things.

The first is a consolation for the relatives and friends of the deceased. When this ritual is performed, they understand that the human Soul is alive. That is, a reminder of the Spiritual world. And their sadness, grief, melancholy decreases.

And the second meaning is helping the Soul that has left incarnation. Help with what? With your energies of Love, with your energies of wishes of Light. That is, this help is like support.

Naturally, any Soul is met by Guide Angels. Even if this ritual is not carried out, if a person, even a Muslim, died somewhere far away from people, alone, this does not mean that he will not end up in the Spiritual world. They will still meet him and see him off. But during this ritual, at the moment of transition, he feels a surge of Light, feels less fear, feels that he is supported. He does not see these people as physical bodies, but he feels from them a flow of Light and support, a wish for a happy life in the future world. This is help.

But there is no such necessity that without this ritual he would not have entered the Spiritual World. Just support.

Hamid: I'm very pleased with the answer.

Irina (Apshetarim): For those who remained in the material world and for those who left incarnation, from life, this is just help, it is not necessary. But it can be carried out as support.

Hamid: Very grateful, pleased. Now I give the floor to Anar.

20:51 Apshetarim about the meaning of the legend about the Queen of Sheba and Solomon.

Anar: Thank you. Irina, or rather Apshetarim, dear Apshetarim, what knowledge did he possess who delivered the throne of the Queen of Sheba to King Solomon in an instant?

Irina (Apshetarim): The event that is described in the Koran was told to Muhammad in contact with the Spirit of Solomon himself. They met in the Astral and communicated. He left his body and they communicated.

Solomon told him that the Queen of Sheba was a people who lived (I'll get my bearings now, he shows a map) - yes, to the southeast of Israel. In practice, this is almost Egypt; somewhere in that direction lived a people whose city was called Safa, or Saafa. And the queen was, one might say, the daughter of the ruler of this city. That's what she was called, his daughter.

Then the city could have a very large territory, and its ruler could well be called a king. Then each tribe could own a city. That is, he was not a king in the modern sense, that he owns an entire empire, an entire country. The fact is that “queen” is already a Russian word. And there was a slightly different word written there: daughter of the ruler, which was actually translated into Russian. None of this matters.

When Muhammad returned from an astral journey and wrote that the throne was moved in an instant, he said that Solomon told him that the power of this - it would be even more accurate to call it - Princess of Sheba spread to Israel too. Because she came to Solomon herself, and she was very wise, she studied various sciences of that time: astrology, astronomy, etc. She and Solomon talked a lot. Even she lived in his palace at one time.

When she began to tell everyone about this, many Israelis liked her speech, and they began to be influenced by her, this queen, princess. Therefore he said this: “Her throne was transferred in an instant.” The throne means power, influence over minds. Not political power, but over minds.

Anar: Thank you.

24:31 Apshetarim on the development of the Islamic egregor.

Galina: How long, in your opinion and in the opinion of those who control the Islamic egregor at the moment, will our Islamic egregor for the most part remain at the same stage of spiritual development at which it is now? How can we help this process speed up?

Irina (Apshetarim): Now the Islamic egregor is actively developing, relations with the public, with the scientific community, social projects to help people, various acts of mercy (alms, construction of orphanages, hospitals, etc.) are intensifying. This is happening all over the world.

Now there is a tendency in the Islamic egregor to demonstrate itself to the rest of the world as a peace-loving religion. Those wars that took place at the time of the formation of religion, religious wars at the time this religion defended its right to exist, are now explained from the position of peace. On the contrary, Muslims and their leaders explain to the whole world: “We are not dangerous. We are no longer guided by medieval calls to fight with someone, to destroy someone, this was in wartime. And now we are ready to help the world, we are ready to give our philosophy, we are ready to give our religion, our understanding and, naturally, works of Love, as social service.”

And the ties between the Islamic egregor and the scientific community are also strengthening. Many Muslims come to science and try to explain Islam from a scientific point of view. Now there is an active development of the Islamic egregor. Also, the Islamic egregor is ready for contact with all other religious egregors and their servants for the common goal of peace throughout the Earth.

Galina: Thank you. How can we help?

Irina (Apshetarim): If we are not talking about individual believers, but about the egregor as a whole, the energies there are such that the majority of Muslim believers in all countries are ready for dialogue with other religions, ready to cooperate, but in order to establish peace in all over the Earth.

27:35 Apshetarim about the perception of information about aliens.

Galina: How long will it take our egregor to start accepting information about aliens, about some esoteric things?

Irina (Apshetarim): Until there is mass contact of alien representatives with earthlings, each person can believe in them or not believe in them based on the desire of his heart. And no matter what religion he is in.

If he has such an experience, for example, meeting aliens, or he feels in his Soul that they exist, if he looks at the stars, for example, and feels that someone lives there - this is not just like that, this indicates that that the memory of past incarnations is strong in him. Those incarnations where he lived. And he feels that he lived among the stars. It can't be expressed in words, but that's exactly how it is. And I'm sure you all felt it to some extent.

There is such a concept here as a feeling of oneness with all the star peoples. You look at the stars and realize that the same loving eyes are looking at the Earth from the stars. Did you feel it?

Galina: Yes.

Irina (Apshetarim): This suggests that you feel that there are alien civilizations. But in order for all people to be convinced of this not just at the level of faith, but at the level of knowledge, at the level of evidence, this requires contact. We need mass contact, for which the Earth is not yet ready.

So here it is necessary when contacting Muslims, if you tell them about aliens, for example, that I, Dzhabrail, am an inhabitant of another planet - you can say this, naturally, but you need to immediately explain that this information is given simply faith, no evidence will be given. And if you don’t feel that way, then listen to yourself. Your heart will not deceive you. What do you mean he won't deceive you? It will always tell you the truth for which you are ready.

30:00 Apshetarim about his life and activities on the planet Tumesout.

Galina: Thank you. Can I have another quick question? You may have already said this once, but it is on this broadcast that I think Muslims will be interested to know what you are doing now, what functions do you have on that planet?

Irina (Apshetarim): I go out into the Spiritual world. I am observing the development of the Islamic egregor. I am in contact with various of its representatives. Also on my planet I am a sociologist, political scientist, and religious psychologist. I write scientific articles, books, and conduct educational activities. I teach other Tumesoutians how to create religious egregors. I teach them the science of imagery from this perspective: how a religious image affects the consciousness of people who make up an unconscious people, how it affects their egregors, their ancestral egregors. How to construct religious images correctly so that they can raise the vibrations of people or other humanoids if they are mired in materialism.

Galina: Great! It is this topic that we really need, it is this topic. It's you we need. Just a second. How do you look there? Can you tell me if you have a family?

Irina (Apshetarim): Yes, I have a family. I have 14 children. Yes, I have a wife Altsiyara. And this is what I look like. My height is just over 9 meters.

Galina: Wow! Wow! In general, what do you look like? How are all the Tumesout people?

Irina (Apshetarim): I look like a person (shows, by the way, a person about 50 years old), but I am a little less than 5000 years old.

Galina: Wow!

Irina (Apshetarim): (shows numbers) If we take earthly ones, it’s about 40 years old for you.

Galina: Great! You and I are about the same age (laughs). Thank you, I'll pass on the question.

Irina: Yes, only he is 5000 years old! (everyone laughs)

Galina: Thank you.

32:57 Apshetarim about the episode of the Koran with the companion of Moses who killed the child.

Anar: It is written in the Koran that one day Moses was sent to meet with a man who, according to scientists, was also a prophet. He had to go some way with it. And along the way this prophet did some things. One of the things was that he killed the child, but it is explained that for good purposes. This prophet is supposed to be called Hitram or Khizram. My question is, being a prophet, how could this man kill a child?

Irina (Apshetarim): I see. Yes, I know what you're talking about. The fact is that Moses (Moishe, if we take the Hebrew name) is a very ambiguous person, a very experienced and bright Spirit, but in the life of Moses specifically there were several stages. The one you are talking about was right between the flight from Egypt and the calling of Yahweh to lead the Jewish people out of Egypt. This was just during the period of his life in the country (shows - a desert country) not so far from the shores of the Red Sea.

The man you are asking about is a prophet. The word “prophet” is again a Russian word. There was a word mentioned in Arabic (in Cretan) that means a person who receives information. That is, such a person - he could be, for example, someone who tells fortunes by the flight of birds, or fortunes by the entrails of animals. Foreteller, a person who interprets omens. Here it is.

As for - he killed a child. There, yes, there was such a situation. But he didn't just kill the child. And, as you know, in the desert where this tribe lived, there were other tribes, and they sometimes carried out various military campaigns and fought among themselves. And it happened that in these campaigns, that is, raids of some kind, some tribes who lived in the desert and were nomads used a very simple way to earn a living: not plant anything and not raise any livestock, but simply raid those who is already doing this.

Previously, this was quite common in the Ancient World. Not all tribes, of course, lived like this, but some left - usually it was an ancestor, some person who was expelled from the city for some crime - and he went with his family to the steppe, desert, forest and there he created a new clan, a new tribe. Of course, they lived in harsh conditions, many died, but from the survivors a detachment was formed that began to raid.

As in this case, the tribe where Moses lived before he was awarded contact with Yahweh was raided by another such detachment on horseback. The fact is that Moses and the rest of the tribe where he lived had cattle breeding. And this detachment galloped up for the next portion of rams and sheep for their meat. At the same time, they did not care that it was not their property. They believed that their property was all they could take away.

Even their religion - polytheism - too, their gods were so warlike and harsh that they justified such behavior. And they took children with them, boys, even from the age of ten, and taught them such raids: they taught them to hold a bow, a knife, and taught them to live like this from an early age.

In the raid in question, this prophet whom you just named, he killed (shows a short dagger like a weapon, all men then carried it) precisely a child of eleven years old. The boy who was in this detachment and attacked him with a spear. Not even a spear, but like some kind of dart. He killed him and then saw that it was a child. In the heat of battle, he perceived him as an enemy. And when he saw that it was a small child, he later regretted it.

But then children were not the same children as you see now. For example, it was quite normal for a seven-year-old boy to ride a horse on his own to hunt for some non-dangerous animals. He was released into the steppe to graze sheep, catch some gophers, etc. A seven year old child. And at the age of 11–12, he already picked up a weapon and began to help adult men in this matter. They had special ceremonies for initiating a boy into a man; he was taken from the female half (shows) of some camp to the male half. And he was further raised by men. And already at the age of 14 he was considered a full-fledged warrior.

Anar: Can you clarify the question?

Irina (Apshetarim): Yes.

Anar: Then what was Moses' role here? Why was such a verse conveyed that Moses had to travel a certain distance with this man who killed the child? For educational purposes for Moses, let's say so.

Irina (Apshetarim): Not for educational purposes. A verse was conveyed there to show the believers that such an episode occurred. Yes, Moses, when he lived in this tribe, he communicated with them. Moses himself was raised in Egypt, as you know, and he himself knew a lot about all sorts of priestly sciences (at that time he was taught as the son of Pharaoh). Including, one might say, theories of prophecy: how to make contact and prophesy. He mastered meditative techniques, if translated into modern language. But then it wasn't called that, it was called sacred rituals that were hidden from people. However, he knew all this because the priests had given them to him when he was still a child.

And when he got into this tribe, in which he, by the way, married and gave birth to two sons, he communicated with their prophets, but not only with the one you named, there were others there.

This meant "to walk the path with him." The path of life that Moses traversed was divided into several segments. The segment you are talking about should have passed in this particular tribe. This is the answer I will give.

And once again: the more specific the question, the more specific the answer.

Anar: I pass the baton.

42:26 Apshetarim about the influence of ideas and mental images on people.

Hamid: I have a question about the karma of the people.

Irina (Apshetarim): Yes.

Hamid: Is the karma of a people tied to a place? And why are some peoples brutally aggressive when an external enemy comes? And at the same time they abandon their families, leave their children and go to their deaths. They don't even look for a compromise, but rather go to their death.

Irina (Apshetarim): Because they have ideas, human ideas. Man is a rational being. A person, having believed in some idea, any idea, can suppress his instinct of self-preservation. He can remove it and die for the sake of this idea. A person can go to his death without even defending someone, his people, but simply because of an idea, believing that this idea is correct.

Only a person is capable of this. Animals are not able to give their lives for some idea, because they do not have an abstract part of the mind, which only the Spirit, the immortal Spirit, has, which is capable of suppressing the instinct of self-preservation. And the instinct of self-preservation, when violated, causes fear of death, damage to the physical body and the desire to avoid this death, and, accordingly, not to fight. But a person, as a rational being, can go to war not even for property, not for territory (not only for property and territory), but simply for some idea.

For example, if a person believes in some idea. I, as a teacher of the science of imagery in a religious sense, can say that for a person of the earthly type, if he does not have contact with his Higher Self, it is very easy to create an image in which he will believe, and thus incite him to murder. Because he will replace his contact with God, his contact with the Higher Self with faith in the image.

For example, someone will create an image of people who have their own farm, livestock, and large fields. They do not have time to do everything themselves and hire workers for some kind of payment, which the workers themselves agree to. If you create an image in front of people that these people are called kulaks, and they are bad, they need to be destroyed for a happier life, then a person, if he believes in this, he will go kill them. And he will even sacrifice his life for the sake of this idea that they are bad. Only a person is capable of this.

Not only man specifically, as a rational Spirit. But on Earth, of all life forms, only humans are capable of this. Of course, any other humanoid is also capable of this, and therefore, in the Interstellar Union, we have been teaching the science of imagery since childhood, so that if some Spirit comes into society and wants to manipulate images and call the people, society to something - they could figure it out. If this humanoid has knowledge of the science of imagery since childhood, he will already know where these images lead him: to a decrease in vibrations, to a decrease in vibrations, etc.

And since this knowledge is not taught on Earth, it is very easy for a person who knows how to manipulate images to encourage another person, with the help of his own faith, to violate the Divine commandments, to lower vibrations and to destroy the world.

47:20 Apshetarim about the food of the people.

Hamid: Irina, I have a component to this question. I belong to a small people. But the fact is that we fight every 50 years. And every war takes away 30 percent of this nation. But very tall, bright people are leaving.

Irina: He says, ask yourself: what are they fighting for?

Hamid: So I ask, what are they fighting for? I asked a question about the karma of the people. Is it localized? How to stop this?

Irina (Apshetarim): The karma of the people, what you called the karma of the people, are certain attitudes that are included in the egregor of nationality. He is tied to the area only as long as this people lives there. But the bearer of the people’s karma itself is a specific person, a specific incarnate Spirit. Each Spirit, when it comes to incarnation, it passes through the egregor of the people and only then through the tribal egregor.

Hamid: We were even deported, and still this quality did not go away. That's why I asked.

Irina (Apshetarim): Of course, karma itself is not absorbed into the area. It is in the minds and hearts of people.

Hamid: I thought they added extra reptilian genes to us (laughs).

Irina (Apshetarim): No, these are not reptilian genes. This, as I already said, is the ability of people to take other people's lives and give their own because of belief in some idea. All people have this; every person, without exception, can suppress his instinct of self-preservation and suppress the feeling of mercy for others for the sake of some idea. But this effect cannot be caused in all people, although everyone potentially has it. It can be called into action only in people without contact with their Higher Self. Only they can believe in the idea that it is correct, that if you kill someone, and if you fight for something and give your life, then This will make someone feel better.

In fact, no matter what slogans and images motivate certain people, certain rulers or oligarchic circles, sheikhs, etc., no matter what ideas they are guided by, they will almost never fight with someone for their own good with their own hands. It is clear that a person who has achieved power will use the hands and blood of other people to achieve this. And he will build his power on the bones of those who laid down their lives for him.

But if he does this, this does not mean that he alone is guilty of this, that he is so bad, and everyone else is his victim. No. His victims - they themselves put themselves in such a state that they did not maintain contact with their Higher Self and allowed themselves to believe in this idea, lower their vibrations in order to bring someone fame, power or new territories, or simply even a name for their country, as more powerful than neighboring countries.

If you are ready to give your life and take the life of your spiritual brother or sister (the same children of the One God) just for the sake of the idea that your country will become more famous, so that the ruler of your country will erect a monument not made by hands on your bones, if you agree to this - it means you have no contact with the Higher Self.

Hamid: Thank you, I understand.

Galina: It’s possible, right? What serious topics, I listened to them. I'll dilute it a little.

Irina: Did you like his answer?

Galina: Yes to me. It is very interesting to me.

Irina: Hamid, what about you?

Hamid: I'm very pleased.

52:22 Apshetarim about their contacts in different spaces.

Galina: Can I dilute it a little? As I listen to the answers now and observe, it seems to me that many will also be interested in this question. Are you both in the Spiritual world and in the incarnate, correct, physical body? How does this contact process occur? Where are you now?

Irina (Apshetarim): I am now in the astral body.

Galina: So you are lying somewhere now, right, at home?

Irina (Apshetarim): Yes, my body is on Tumesout. It is in a special chair. This is a chair for astral travel. It completely relaxes the body, its muscles and allows you to quickly go to the Astral (there is a special mood - such waves are coming), and helps to maintain consciousness. With the help of a special effect on the brain, it helps to maintain consciousness in the Astral world and transmit information so that I do not completely go into an unconscious dream. But, of course, this requires special training. I trained when I was young.

I specifically went to study first as a sociopsychologist on Tumesout, and only then became interested in the problem of integrating young races into the Interstellar Union. And I began to study this problem, began to look at the register of civilizations; Naturally, I found the Earth, which was discovered by our ancestors, representatives of our planet. And he became interested in what was happening there, and wanted to help earthlings, such a beautiful planet, join the Interstellar Union.

I knew that we are all Spirits of a single Spiritual world, I recognized my brothers and sisters in earthlings and wanted to help them. And then I went to study again - this time to become a specialist in contacts with earthlings. And there I was just studying astral travel.

Galina: How do you understand at what point you need to go into the Spiritual world in order to communicate through spirituality?

Irina (Apshetarim): Through my Higher Self. My Higher Self always maintains contact with the Islamic egregor. And my Higher Self, as I already said, has a spiritual name - Archangel Gabriel. Why Archangel? Because I'm at level 24, according to you. And my part is embodied in a physical body - Apshetarim, and my Spirit in general, my spiritual name - Jabrail. But again this is as much as can be conveyed by your sounds.

Galina: Thank you. It turns out that you can do this at any moment - switch, as it were, from physical contact, from your physical body to your spiritual?

Irina (Apshetarim): I'll tell you now. The fact is that if any Spirit who has contactees incarnates, then its Higher Self continues to contact, sending phantoms for contact. For example, if you were incarnated somewhere in some person who reached the angelic level, and then, when you were in the Spiritual world, you had contactees, you incarnated again, then your Higher Self continues to remain with them in contact. Because his memory is not blocked.

But if you yourself do not communicate with the Higher Self consciously, and especially if you are not constantly in contact with it, then you may not know anything about these contacts of the Higher Self. It may not tell you this so that you can deal with the affairs of your incarnation. And I am constantly in contact with my Higher Self, and we are generally united.

Galina: Great! Can I ask a question? Do you have direct contact or communication with anyone from our team?

Irina (Apshetarim): Yes, I am in contact. To some extent, I am in contact with all three of you, because when you pray to Allah, you seem to call me (shows). There is such a call, and I hear it and send you Light, Love, information. You can contact me and call me by name, spiritual name, and I will give you information.

Galina: What can you say about our group, which is on Telegram, about our team?

Irina (Apshetarim): Yes, Irina told me about her.

Hamid: That's very good to hear.

Irina (Apshetarim): You probably read the article that I passed on - about the interpretation of several verses of the Koran?

Hamid: Yes. I would be surprised about the three presence of the embryo in the womb.

Irina: Galina, what do you think of the interpretation of the verses of the Koran from Apshetarim?

Galina: Generally super, great! Everything responds to me!

Irina: He’s asking me now: should we continue this format of interpreting other passages?

Galina: Very, very! I just wanted to ask about this. If possible.

Irina: (laughs) He read your thought!

Galina: Thank you very much! Will wait.

Irina (Apshetarim): Because through Irina they give interpretations of passages from the Bible, and I suggest that she also interpret passages from the Koran, and also ask Krishna to give an interpretation of some passages from the Bhavad Gita.

Galina: Thank you! I'm passing on a question. Who's next?

58:38 Apshetarim about the harmonization of the Earth after the war with Selbet.

Anar: I do, I think. Does the Interstellar Union have technologies to change the orbits and rotation axes of planets?

Irina (Apshetarim): Yes.

Anar: How long ago?

Irina (Apshetarim): About 10 million years.

Anar: Then the question arises. After the war 12 thousand years ago, when as a result of these, say, nuclear bombs, the Earth changed its orbit and the axis of rotation tilted, why didn't the Interstellar Union correct this?

Irina (Apshetarim): Because it was necessary not only to move the Earth to its new place, but it was necessary to remake, so to speak, the entire solar system again. Moreover, taking into account that the planet you call Phaethon no longer existed there. All orbits had to be changed. And taking into account the fact that on Earth, already due to the fact that it moved from the orbit that was familiar to it, there were cataclysms, disturbances in the magnetic field, and the planet's core. Further interference in its movement and in the movement of other planets could cause even greater, irreparable consequences for the Earth. It could have completely collapsed at that moment.

And then you need to understand that then it was necessary to change the orbits of all, all the planets, especially since the Interstellar Union was engaged in the fact that on the Earth itself it was removing the consequences of using those weapons: excessive radiation, the release of various radioactive elements from the earth's crust, harmonizing the planet's core, etc. .d. And then, after harmonizing all these processes, it was decided to leave it as it is, so as not to change the orbits of all the planets again, which could lead to their further damage.

Pomegranate: Sure, thank you.

Irina (Apshetarim): That is, changing the orbit of planets is a very difficult and responsible matter, even with our technologies, because it can lead to consequences that will in the long term affect the stability of the planet, its core, etc.

Anar: I see.

Irina: We need to constantly stabilize.

Anar: I thank Apshetarim and you!

1:01:27 Apshetarim about the forgiveness of the murderer by the relatives of his victim.

Hamid: The baton has been passed. Next question. For us, for our people, forgiving a murderer is a whole process. Does the forgiveness of a murderer by relatives have any influence on the Spirit emerging from incarnation or not?

Irina (Apshetarim): It depends on the Spiritual level where the Spirit of the murdered person came out. He learns about the murderer's forgiveness from the vibrations of his relatives. If he has reached a high Spiritual level, he will rejoice in the fact that they do not accumulate blocks of resentment and anger within themselves.

Hamid: What if it's low?

Irina (Apshetarim): After all, if the relatives are angry with the killer (it is clear that the Soul and the body will not be reunited again, what happened happened). The killer was led to this act by a certain amount of negative energy, blocks that he could not dissolve in himself, he did not work on himself, lowered his vibrations until he had such hatred and anger that he wanted to kill someone for some reason.

For what reasons? Of course, there could be a lot of reasons. But sometimes a person uses these reasons to justify his reluctance to work on himself. Instead of somehow harmonizing the situation, he killed. But there are different circumstances: he killed in defense, sometimes he killed while defending someone, sometimes he killed for profit or because of some kind of resentment. There are different situations.

But if the Spirit has reached a high level, the angelic level, then he will rejoice that his relatives' vibrations have increased. He will be happy for them. And he will pray to God for us, so that they will raise their vibrations even more and not be offended by anyone, but only watch their spiritual development.

If the Spirit has reached the middle level, he will be neutral about forgiving his murderer, but will still want this murderer to be isolated from society in some way, because he will believe that he can bring harm to society.

Hamid: Can repeat it.

Irina (Apshetarim): Yes, he can repeat it, seeing his impunity, for example. But the disembodied Spirit will (if this is the average level) experience indignation, injustice, resentment that he was killed. But the relatives will understand early that they have forgiven them and will take it calmly.

But if the Spirit of the murdered person has reached a demonic, low level, he may, since he himself is already filled with negativity, have a negative attitude towards this forgiveness, because he may consider it a betrayal of interests. And he will not be interested in the fact that negative vibrations, negative emotions - anger, malice - lower the vibrations of his relatives. He will not be interested in this, he will only be interested in avenging him. All.

1:05:22 Apshetarim about the relationship between the structure of humanoid DNA and murder. DNA purification practice.

Hamid: I remember an article that said that at the moment of murder, the DNA matrix of the killer is disrupted, and this is passed on to the offspring, grandchildren, etc. And when there is an unintentional murder, that is, he had no intent, but some kind of fight or situation, it so happened that the Spirit left the incarnation. In this case, is there a violation of the structure of the DNA matrix?

Irina (Apshetarim): The fact is that the structure of the DNA matrix is violated by the very etheric energy that was released from the body of a rational being at the moment when the rational, that is, immortal Spirit came out of incarnation in a violent manner. What does violently mean? When someone intervened in his life and interrupted it.

For this reason, there are even special practices that cleanse the etheric matrices of DNA and cleanse DNA on the physical level from the influence of these energies if such a murder has occurred. This is done through contact with the Higher Self, and this is done even in cases where, for example, a woman has had an abortion.

She not only asks for forgiveness from the Spirit of the child and sends Light to him. She calls this Spirit, asks him for forgiveness, wishes him bright, favorable incarnations. And accordingly, he then asks the Heavenly Father (Heavenly Father - this is more in Christian terminology, asks the Absolute, God). In any case, she asks Heavenly Father to send the Holy Spirit, to send light energy, asks Him for forgiveness for depriving His child of incarnation. And he also asks Him to direct the bright ray of His consciousness - the Holy Spirit - to the physical body and cleanse the DNA of every cell at the physical level from the energy of bloodshed, from the energy of murder. This is what women who have had an abortion do.

This is also done by doctors, for example, who used to perform abortions, but now want to get clean. In addition, an abortion, that is, an unborn body, it already has a certain etheric field, which also damages the DNA of both the mother and the doctor. And then, if purification is not done, this damage is transmitted through energy at the etheric level to subsequent generations, which will complicate the spiritual evolution of the Spirit that will incarnate from such parents.

Will it be difficult in what way? It will be difficult for them, for example, to harmonize their anger, they will be prone to depression, and perhaps even develop physical illnesses and developmental defects.

1:09:06 Apshetarim about the spiritual practices of humanoid warriors after wars.

Hamid: This practice can be applied to any person who finds himself in such a situation?

Irina (Apshetarim): Yes, this practice was used, for example, during the war 12 thousand years ago by the Burkhadians and representatives of the Ashtar civilization, as well as the Tumesoutians, who fought with the Selbetians in order to preserve the Earth, and in order to then exclude Selbet from Interstellar Union. Despite the aggression, Selbet did not want to leave the Interstellar Union, so after Earth this war continued in the Galaxy. It took the forces of the Interstellar Union to close the Selbetians' exit into the Galaxy and, in fact, exclude them from the Interstellar Union.

This, naturally, required certain military actions. They weren't always robots. There are robots that can perform military functions. But among the tactical decisions of certain star space squads, sometimes such decisions were made that the Selbet fleet could enter into battle with peaceful ships of the Interstellar Union, and they already had to defend themselves and call the Galaxy Security Service, which included living humanoids who also died in this war.

Accordingly, those who survived defended the Earth and then isolated Selbet in the Galaxy and removed intelligent Spirits from embodiment. They then, naturally, went through special work with their Higher Self and with special spiritual leaders and mentors-psychologists. When they called these Spirits, who were taken out of incarnation, and asked them for forgiveness, and forgave them for aggression, and then asked God to cleanse their body at the genetic level from all the consequences of killing intelligent beings.

Even, let's say, warriors did this. No warrior in the Interstellar Union who has brought a rational being out of incarnation, even if forced, will give birth to children or marry until he undergoes this procedure. Because in our schools they teach biology lessons, not even biology, but spiritual psychology and the structure of the physical body, what this entails.

Hamid: Very interesting!

Irina: How do you like this subject at school?

Hamid: Very interesting, but we don't have it yet.

Irina: What if they tell you at school: if you kill, you can pass on the distorted etheric matrix to your generations?

Hamid: I only started studying genetics at the institute; I didn’t even have a clue about it at school.

Irina: I say, how do you like this subject at school?!

Hamid: I now think it would be great!

Irina (Apshetarim): Even Ashtar, who took the Selbet people out of their incarnation with the help of weapons on the ship (he, for example, blew up the ship and doesn’t even know exactly how many humanoids died there, the Selbet people on that ship) was well aware that each such humanoid had a Selbete may have parents, children, wives. And immediately after the battle, he went into meditation and sent the Light of Love to the relatives of the soldiers he killed himself and always prayed for their well-being, immediately contacted the Spirits of those whom he had disembodied, sent them the Light of Love and even then wished them bright, favorable incarnations.

And after the war, he underwent a special practice with a spiritual psychologist from his planet, where he called all the Spirits that he had disembodied, sent them the Light of Love, released them, and made sure that there were no necrotic attachments. He watched over his Spirit so that he himself would completely forgive them, so that there would not be a single dark part in his Spiritual heart, so that there would be only Light there. And with such a mood, he then asked God to erase from his body the traces of all the numerous disincarnations and murders that he committed when he was at war.

Hamid: Very extensive answer. I am very glad.

Irina: (laughs) How do you like this practice, Galina?

Galina: Actually great! I say, if we had such training, we would have been in the Interstellar Union a long time ago, a long time ago.

1:14:36 Apshetarim about the essence of the Creator and knowledge of it.

Anar: Okay. In the Spiritual World, do Angels fully realize the entire essence of the Creator, or is everything approximately?

Irina (Apshetarim): Only the Creator himself is fully aware of the entire essence of the Creator.

Anar: I see. I thought so.

Irina (Apshetarim): He has such an extensive superconsciousness, so multidimensional, that any Angel, even the highest – 24th level, can comprehend only some part of Him, and the very knowledge of the Creator is endless.

Pomegranate: Sure. Thank you.

1:15:08 Apshetarim about the history of sacrifices and their spiritual meaning.

Hamid: What is the significance of sacrifice in Islam today?

Irina (Apshetarim): Good question. As you well know, dear friends, Allah Himself created, that is, from His energy all the diversity of animals was created.

Hamid: Yes.

Irina (Apshetarim): All animals, all their lives belong to Allah, because Allah gives life energy to all living Souls. Therefore, animal sacrifices to Allah that now exist occur as a sign of remembrance of the replacement of human sacrifices. It was performed by Abraham, or, as you call it, Ibrahim, who lived a little more than 4 thousand years ago.

He came into contact with Yahweh, who was also from Tumesout. Then He was incarnated on Tumesout. This, I remind you, is Jesus. The Spirit who is now known as Jesus Christ. Then He was incarnated on Tumesout and was a specialist in contacts with earthlings. He flew to Earth and looked for contactees. He decided to replace human sacrifices with animals.

Why were there human sacrifices? As I already mentioned, there were many gods, who most often were deified plasmoids, that is, Spirits of Nature (in your opinion - Jinns). Jinns are different in character, different in vibration, in the degree of purity of their Spirit. They also have an embodied Spirit, it is simply embodied in a subtle body. And, accordingly, among them were those who were pleased with the sacrifices.

They feed on energies, for example, the energy of light, the energy of fire, the energy of human emotions. Different. If these are light Spirits, if they are light Genies, they feed on the energy of Love. But if among them there are those who have lowered their vibrations, they begin to feed on the lower energies of fear, hopelessness, and cruelty. They feed on such low vibrations; they are acceptable to them. That is, they become stronger from them.

Coming into contact with ancient people, such plasmoids prompted them to sacrifice any living beings. Often these were animals. The vital force that came out of the animal at the moment of sacrifice fell, charged with the already certain emotions of this animal, into the Astral and was absorbed there by plasmoids. For this, the plasmoids shaped events in a certain way, for example, they treated people, predicted the future, protected them from enemies in various ways (they lived among nature) or sent new prey on the hunt, etc.

And some plasmoids would not be satisfied with animals, because when killing a person, more negative energies are released due to the fact that people are intelligent and understand what is happening to them. In addition, the relatives of the murdered person also emit negative emotions for a long time, which plasmoids can also feed on. Therefore, some plasmoids began to ask the priests, their servants, to sacrifice people. In special cases: some kind of epidemic, cataclysm, fire or something else - they began to ask to sacrifice people as payment to these gods, these plasmoids, so that they would change the situation for the better.

Naturally, people agreed, because they absolutely believed in these gods then, because there was no science yet, and they depended on these gods. And when people were sacrificed, the relatives of this person for a long time experienced despondency, anger, resentment, and these same plasmoids also fed on these emotions, which ate the life force of their killed relative.

This was especially true for children, because there was such a practice of sacrificing children in particularly difficult life situations. And usually, the slower the child died, the more physical suffering, the more energy needed for these plasmoids was released into the Astral. They just don’t feel pain themselves; you need to understand that for them it’s just an energetic process. They do not feel physical pain because they do not have a physical body. Therefore, they asked the priests to arrange such cults as, for example, placing a metal copper platform over a fire and placing a living child on it so that it would be roasted alive.

Hamid: Wow!

Irina (Apshetarim): Yes, that happened. I see you are outraged, but for the ancients this was normal. Now we need to understand that we already live in the 21st century and cannot approach those peoples with our moral standards. Because our civilization has already been formed under the influence of other religions, not those that existed then.

So, when Yahweh flew to Earth, he saw it all. Naturally, he wanted to change this cruelty, so as not to lower the vibrations of the Earth, to animal sacrifices, just animals alone, without people. Well, of course, one can ask why he didn't remove them at all? At that time people would not believe it because it was part of their life, part of these religions. Moreover, this was in those tribes where they kept livestock and hunted animals; for them, the killing of animals did not mean anything like a tragedy.

He had a desire to replace human sacrifices with animal sacrifices. This was progress back then. This would not give rise to such cruelty in people, would not lower their vibration and would not make them responsible for killing a person, priests and everyone who helped them.

He contacted Abraham and told him to sacrifice his son (famous story). Abraham agreed. Naturally, he agreed, because for him it was normal: any god he knew could say: "Sacrifice your son to me. Prove your loyalty to me this way." Plasmoids told many people this, so he was not surprised: "Yes, good." Because he knew that his life was in the hands of God, and if he did not sacrifice his son now, it means that he did not love Him. So prove your loyalty.

He took his son, who was not yet 15 years old at the time (shows: 12-13 years old) to the mountain. What sacrifice should I make? It was not just necessary to kill him, but it was necessary to burn his body so that all the vital energy that is in the cells would be released along with the fire and enter the subtle worlds. That was the rule.

Abraham asked his son to collect firewood, which he then carried up the mountain. The son picked up this wood and carried it, because Abraham was already old. The son noticed that his father was walking with a knife next to a mountain of firewood, and - it was Isaac by the biblical name - asked: “Where is our ram for sacrifice?” Naturally, his father could not tell him that he would sacrifice him: he would immediately run away. And he said: “God will find a ram for himself.”

When they climbed the mountain, made a fire, Abraham took his son by the hand, a rope, tied him up and put him on the fire. Then, naturally, he understood everything. Imagine when the child is 15-16 years old, and in the Soul of the father there really was a determination to do this. So he took (shows) a large knife and raised his hand. He really wanted to sacrifice him, he wouldn't stop. And at that moment Yahweh came into contact with him through the spiritual channel: “Stop! Don't do anything to this boy! Look around! Look back!"

These bushes grew behind him (shows). The fact is that even before Abraham and his son climbed this mountain, a Burkhadian ship flew there and brought a ram. I hid it there. It was a whole operation. I hid it there in a certain way. And when Abraham went into these bushes, he saw a ram. For him it was a miracle that the ram got to the mountain, although he was not there. And he was brought even before that on a flying saucer.

Then Yahweh said: “Untie your son, bring this ram.” Then He told him: “You should always do this! When you have gods (Yahweh knew very well that other people can have many gods), when any of the gods tells you to sacrifice a person, remember what I showed you! What the gods now want (it is also written “elohim” - gods, in the plural) is that you always replace people with animals! I showed you an example."

Hamid: This served as a reason-proof for him, right?

Irina: Not only for him. He began, as they show me now, to tell others. He began to tell others that Yahweh showed him a miracle: at first he himself asked to sacrifice his son, and when he already wanted to do this, God showed a miracle and asked him to sacrifice a ram instead of his son. And he said that now we must always do this. He began to tell this to others.

1:28:32 Apshetarim on sacrifice in Islam today.

Hamid: Another small addition. Before the sacrifice, do you need to forgive relatives and neighbors?

Irina (Apshetarim): I just told the story of the holiday. It is this transition from human to animal sacrifice that is celebrated on the Day of Sacrifice.

Is this holiday necessary now, you asked. It is needed to maintain the traditions of egregor. It is only necessary to remember that at the moment when an animal is sacrificed, it is not offered to Allah himself (he already owns everything), but to the Spirits of nature, the Jinn.

They also gather - Spirits of the area, and can also feed on these energies. Moreover, the energies that are released from the animal differ in their vibrations from the energies of people, and therefore this is not such a decrease in vibrations either for plasmoids or for people. In the absence of cruelty on the part of people. If animals are not beaten, they are not treated cruelly (this is how people themselves reduce vibrations), if it is simply done with prayer, with reverence and with love.

Hamid: Irina, the sacrifice, the energy that is released from there is used by the Jinns and then used for good deeds, right?

Irina (Apshetarim): Different Jinns can assimilate it, but, in principle, higher vibrational Jinns can feed on this energy than those who could feed on the energy of human sacrifices. There is a difference. They use this energy for a certain creation of their affairs, for example, maintaining nature, creating the Souls of other animals.

Hamid: Thank you, Apshetarim!

Galina: We thank Apshetarim.

Anar: Thank you.

Irina: Apshetarim also says: “Thank you, very interesting.”

Galina: We really want to meet more often.

Anar: And physical contact.

Irina: Dear friends! I thank you for watching this video. These are the interesting answers. See you again!

Galina: Thank you very much! See you again!

00:00 Start of video.

00:04 List of those present.

Maxim: Dear friends, hello everyone. As always, I start the live broadcasts - Rusan Maxim, head of the Cassiopeia Project, head of the autonomous non-profit organization "Cassiopeia Health Center for Spiritual and Physical Development".

Can you hear me okay? Amazing. “Mida and LiShioni not so much.” Jokers. I realized that Mid and LiShioni were not very audible. In fact, I can’t hear anyone except LiShioni. I am not a universal contactee. Therefore, I am the Project Manager. And, thank God, that at least sometimes you can hear LiShioni.

We recently, literally 25 minutes ago, ended a wonderful giveaway. We raffled off T-shirts, badges, bracelets, bifidobacteria, Cassiopeia Om tea, our new product, a wonderful thing. Therefore, I congratulate everyone who participated in the drawing and who won prizes and gifts. I recommend everyone to subscribe to the Info Cassiopeia channel. On this channel we always inform you about our various events, sweepstakes, gifts, and prizes. And we will hold these giveaways very often. This is our gratitude to you, our listeners, subscribers, those people who are simply interested in everything unknown and support our Project. Therefore, thank you very much and great gratitude to you.

What's our news? The biggest news is that we are starting our retreat in Krasnodar on Tuesday. We are heading there tomorrow morning. Starting from Tuesday we will have a simply wonderful retreat program, where Ilya Alexandrov will be with his project “Mental Healing”. He has very cool new practices, he has cool, structured information from esoteric psychology. Irina Podzorova will be there. You will have her for three days: two days she will conduct training, and one day there will be a grand conference with those structures, with those Spirits, plasmoids or humanoids that you yourself invite, and you will be able to communicate directly with them. Waiting for you.

We have 2 spaces available in Krasnodar. These are two men. I hope they are doing well, wonderful. They vacated seats not according to the agenda that might have come to them. If you would like to join the retreat in Krasnodar, you can call: +7 (988) 910-00-40. Lena will answer you, and she will sign you up for these two free places. I'm sure these two places didn't just become vacant.

Thank you all so much for supporting us and for watching us.

Today the Blessed Virgin Mary will be on our broadcast. Yes that's right. The phantom of the Blessed Virgin Mary, which was specially formed by her for this live broadcast. She is here. I've already had time to chat.

I haven't received the summons yet. But if he comes, and it is necessary to repay the debt to the Motherland, I will repay it. I am not afraid of anything in this life - not death, not the devil, not anyone else. If we need to go to defend our mothers, children, sons, wives, I, as a patriot of my country in which I live, which is closer to my heart, will go to defend my country. The summons has not arrived yet. I won't run away from all of this. As God wills, so it will happen.

I would like to give the floor to our wonderful Irishka with the phantom of the Virgin Mary, who is present nearby. Irisha, have a seat. Today will be a very interesting broadcast, as I understand it. There will be a lot of questions regarding various egregorial topics.

05:23 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! Good evening. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with subtle material civilizations and with the Spiritual world.

Today here is the phantom of that person who is one of the guardians of the Christian religious egregor and the egregor of such a country as the Russian Federation. This is the person who was known in her last incarnation on Earth as the Mother of God Mary, the Most Holy Theotokos. She and I have already had two conferences. But we invited her to the live broadcast for the first time so that you could ask her questions on YouTube. And She greets you.

Maxim: Guys, we have a chat called “Q&A.” Live broadcast", you can find it at the link below. Therefore, I will try to ask both from YouTube and from this chat. But I will pay more attention to the chat, there are already 155 questions there.

Irina: Great. Mary the Mother of God says: “I greet you all, my children. I will be glad to answer your questions and give you more understanding of the spiritual meaning of current events both in public life and in your personal life.”

07:55 Theotokos about the restoration of the world at a specific point in time and space.

Maxim: This is the question. Mother, please tell me, what words should we pray in this difficult time, so that peace will come to our lands, so that the war will end?

Irina: So that, as I understand it, all wars end?

Maxim: Most likely, probably yes.

Irina: So that there is peace throughout the entire Earth?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Virgin Mary): Thank you for your question. Peace in any world. Spiritual peace in any material world, including on Earth, in the physical world of planet Earth comes only when the Light of Divine Love settles in the Spiritual hearts of the absolute majority of incarnated Spirits in this place, time, at this point in time and space. Because the Earth in other planes of existence is seen simply as a point in time and space. And when the majority of Souls embodied at this point in time and space have the Light of unconditional Love in their Soul, this Light will be embodied in the material plane in the form of peace between peoples and between families, and between people in a separate family, that is, there will be universal peace.

How to pray for this world? You can ask Heavenly Father in your own words to send more of His messengers, prophets, healers, contactees and other messengers of His Light of Love through incarnations into your World. They will be able, speaking in different languages, preaching in different terminologies of various religious and philosophical teachings and scientific communities, and social movements, to convey to every person the importance of purification, enlightenment and complete likening of their Spirit to God, who loves everyone absolutely, regardless of skin color, language , attitude towards religion and political movements.

11:13 Theotokos about the energies of the egregor of Russia for September 2022.

Maxim: Is the spiritual upliftment of Souls, their enlightenment visible on the egregor of Russia, or, conversely, is the spiritual fall of Souls visible?

Irina: The egregor of Russia is very heterogeneous. This is a very large egregor. It contains many different energies. The energy of feelings, thoughts and emotions of every person who identifies himself with a country like Russia. Even if he is not necessarily located on the territory of this country, he mentally calls himself Russian, not Russian by nationality, but a Russian. Such a person, feeling like a representative of this country, invests his spiritual energies in the construction, in the creation and development of this egregor. At the present moment in time in which I am now, I can say what the state of this egregor is in general. But I need that time period in which I can compare this state. Over what period of time, because it changes?

Maxim: For a year.

Irina: In relation to what happened a year ago and is happening now, there was an increase in the share of low-vibration energies in the egregor of Russia by approximately 18 percent (the numbers show: by 18%). These are the energies of fear, anger, envy, condemnation, hatred and disgust, rejection - this concerns the energies of feelings and emotions. These are the energies of mental constructs that do not accept the mental constructs and beliefs of other people. I just spoke in general about egregor. This is exactly for the last year.

Maxim: They ask: please tell me, are you familiar with the Spirit of our President Vladimir? He has an incredibly difficult task in this life.

Irina: Familiar from past incarnations.

Maxim: Is he fulfilling his spiritual mission?

Irina: I can only answer this question myself.

Maxim: Interesting. I understand.

Irina: Because this is his task, and only he can ask about the extent of its completion, because this is his appearance before God.

Maxim: I understand.

14:58 Theotokos about the reason for Jesus' lack of physical children.

Maxim: They ask the question: how can you find out whether it is true or not that Jesus said on air with Irina that he did not have children?

Irina: Question again.

Maxim: How do you know if it's true that Jesus spoke on air with Irina about the fact that he didn't have children?

Irina: How do you know if Irina was telling the truth? Or how to find out if Jesus had children?

Maxim: Did Christ have children?

Irina: No. No physical ones, he had spiritual children.

Maxim: Could he have had children in principle?

Irina: Of course they could. He was not married. Did not marry according to the rites of Judaism. He took upon himself the ordination of a Nazarite when he was quite young, at 15 years old, even earlier than was customary for a Nazarite. And an exception was made for him for his Spiritual Light and wisdom, which he expressed in communication with more senior teachers of the Jewish law of the Torah, and its interpretation. And the Nazarenes took a vow of celibacy so that their whole life and all their ministry would be aimed at preaching and helping people. This was necessary so that there was no concentration on family matters, and so that the woman who could be his wife, and those children who could appear in their marriage, were not deprived of the attention of the husband and father. There was care for all sides of the family and all spouses.

Maxim: Thank you.

17:12 Our Lady about her contactees.

Maxim: Are you a mentor to people on this planet?

Irina: Yes. I have many contacts. I am present here now in the form of my phantom. But my other phantoms are now communicating, including with other people, giving them information, giving them the energy of consolation and healing, and protection. I have contactees not only on Earth. There are contactees on Earth not only at the third density level. Contactees are those individuals who communicate with me in one form or another.

Maxim: I have a question: do you have contactors in dense material form?

Irina: Yes.

Maxim: Do you have contactees in subtle material form?

Irina: Yes, of course, there are contactees in subtle material form who contact me, because I myself am in the Spiritual world, I am not in incarnation.

Maxim: And who is more?

Irina: Since there are many more Spirits embodied in the subtle worlds, then, naturally, I have more contactees there.

The dense material world makes up 7% of the entire material world. The Physical Universe that you see is seven percent of all types of matter that is manifested from Spiritual Light. And even in this world, which occupies 7% of the material world, there are many planets on which intelligent beings live in dense bodies, many galaxies, many star systems. Imagine how many worlds exist in 93% of the material world?

Maxim: I understand. Thank you.

19:34 Our Lady on the concept of “happiness.”

Maxim: Holy Mother of God, what is happiness? Were you happy on Earth?

Irina: Happiness is energy. The same energy of unconditional Love, manifested in the form of absolute harmony and peace with oneself, with God and with every person in the world, which is felt as an attitude towards oneself, towards the World and towards God with feelings of the greatest gratitude, acceptance and the state in which you are in every moment of time.

Yes, I was happy because I was always in contact with my Higher Self, with the Light within me.

Maxim: Thank you.

20:35 Our Lady about the likelihood of a third world war and nuclear war.

Maxim: Please tell me that the third world war was described according to many scriptures and predictions. What is the probability of a third world war now?

Irina: By the third world war, do you mean the entry into military conflict of more than 50% of the states on this planet?

Maxim: More than 25.

Irina: Probability for what period?

Maxim: For the next two to three years.

Irina: Two or three years?

Maxim: Two.

Irina: If you look at the next two years, the probability of more than 25% of countries entering into conflict is currently 23%.

Maxim: What if I said 15 percent of countries?

Irina: If by the third world war we mean a war, for example, of four or more countries together with each other, not just scattered on the planet, but together with each other?

Maxim: But either three against one country.

Irina: Which are in conflict with each other, but not just scattered on the planet? Do I get it right? Because disparate countries on the planet are now fighting a lot.

Maxim: I'll ask the question differently. I mean a third world war, when more than two or three countries can unite against one country and declare war on it.

Irina: For what time?

Maxim: For the next two years.

Irina: Currently this probability is 38%.

Maxim: I understand.

Irina: At this moment. But this can be changed by the choices of those Spirits who are embodied in these countries, by a cumulative choice in any direction, both in the direction of decrease and in the direction of increase.

Maxim: I understand. Another question. What is the likelihood of the use of nuclear or nuclear tactical weapons in the next year on the territory of Russia or Ukraine?

Irina: Precisely in these two countries, on the territory or?

Maxim: On the territories of Russia or Ukraine?

Irina: In the territories now occupied by Russia and Ukraine, what is the likelihood of using any (just using)?

Maxim: Any nuclear tactical...

Irina: Any nuclear tactical weapons? So this question does not imply nuclear war, but simply application? Do I get it right?

Maxim: Yes, just the use of nuclear weapons.

Irina: I am now looking at the probability line for the coming year. Yes, the probability of the use of any nuclear weapons in the territories currently occupied by Russia and Ukraine is 47%.

Maxim: Wow.

Irina: This is, if we talk about application.

Maxim: Application, yes. What is the probability of a nuclear war?

Irina: At the moment, the probability of a nuclear war is 18%. That is, there is such a possibility that it may not lead to a nuclear war.

Maxim: I understand. I heard. Thank you. So, let's look further. Ira, maybe you can help me?

Irina: Should I choose there or there? Because I don't have Telegram chat right now. Let's choose now. I will select questions that were not included in the conferences.

25:22 Theotokos on the awareness of the divinity of her son.

Irina: The question of when you realized that your son Jesus is the Son of God has been addressed.

(Virgin Mary) Okay, I'll remind you of this. I always realized that he was given to me from God and is Moshiach, from the moment when Mirah Count told me about this, when he came into contact with me, and this was two weeks before his conception.

In fact, this question has already been asked. I will ask questions that were not included in the conference so as not to waste time.

26:00 Theotokos on the spiritual reasons for the emergence and cessation of wars.

Maxim: Is it possible to stop a war through mass prayer?

Irina: No. Mass prayer cannot stop a war. Just by prayer alone. There must be conscious actions on the material level.

War is a manifestation on the material level of those energies that were invested in egregors that are involved in this war for many years, or even decades. The more energy of aggression, anger, rejection, and fear was invested in the egregors of the warring countries, the more destructive and long the war will be.

Yes, there is a chance to stop this before all the accumulated energy spills out. And there is always such a chance. This will happen not even in the case of prayer, but in general meditations that will be combined with prayer, and in which peace between peoples will be imagined and visualized.

But the condition for the success of this practice is that the peoples of the warring states must unite their efforts for a truce. And this means that they must fill their egregors with the energies of their love, forgiveness, mercy and confidence that God loves everyone.

These peoples, I now mean by the people of those people who are not directly on the battlefield, but are at home, that is, those who are not involved in the conflict on the physical level. They don't risk their lives like warriors. These people are at home, and their fathers, brothers, husbands and, naturally, sons and relatives are at the front. Sometimes mothers, wives, sisters, daughters. These are the people who are waiting for their relatives alive from the war on any side of the conflict. Everyone is waiting. And this means that they are waiting alive only for those who are their relatives and are fighting against others, against the warriors of the other side.

If people on both sides can realize that in another nation there live the same people whom God loves, and look at them through the eyes of God, they can forgive, send the Light of Love not only to their relatives, whom they expect alive, but also to those who are fighting against them, they will be able to overcome the egregorial view of this situation and will meditate on peace between their peoples, gradually the egregor will be cleansed. Because this people who are at war will go through their lessons of acceptance, love, patience and mercy, despite the feeling of attachment to their relatives as to Souls.

Remember that those soldiers, those warriors who are now fighting against your brothers, sons and all other relatives, are also someone's brothers, sons and other relatives, they are also expected. When you remember this and meditate in this mood, send the same Light of your Love to everyone without exception, and at least 60% of the people join in, then you can very quickly cleanse the egregor. And the governments of the warring countries will feel mercy in their hearts towards each other and will be reconciled.

Maxim: Here Irina writes: "Maxim, I have no questions, but I ask you to thank the Mother of God for her unconditional Love on my behalf personally. I grew up without my mother. I love the Mother of God like a mother. Thank you for everything sincerely and with all my heart. Irina, Astrakhan region."

Irina: Thank you Irina. I send her the Light of my Love and acceptance.

I have now named 60% of the people with this mood. By 60% I meant the majority of conscious adults who understand their place in the world and responsibility for their condition and behavior, that is, these are adults. If the percentage of such people among the peoples of warring countries is smaller, the egregor will accordingly take longer to clear. And if there are more of those who send anger, hatred, curses, and rejection to the enemy people and enemy soldiers, then the situation will worsen. More energy will accumulate in this egregor, and the war will last longer. It will take longer for all this to come out. This is a test of awareness. Not just a test, but a lesson.

Your task, as conscious people, is to explain this spiritual truth, which is known to all high civilizations of the Cosmos, to everyone around you, to conduct educational activities.

Because so far on both sides of the conflict, if you ask me about the conflict between Russia and Ukraine, there are not even 10% of those who wish each other well and happiness.

Maxim: At this point in time, there aren't even these 10% on both sides?

Irina: Up to 60, but not even 10.

Maxim: Not even 10?

Irina: Yes. Now at the moment it is 8 percent, and in fact this is more than it was, for example, a week ago, but it is still very little.

34:13 Theotokos about people interested in war.

Maxim: My question is this. Are there countries that are interested in continuing this war?

Irina: Countries in general or representatives of countries?

Maxim: Representatives of countries and the country in general.

Irina: Very different people live in countries.

Maxim: Then representatives of countries, meaning their leaders.

Irina: Are there any managers who are interested in continuing? Not leaders, but there is a separate large group. I would call them “merchant entrepreneurs” who are closely connected with the financial egregor. They are far from the conflict zone itself, and are safe. They do not believe that there is any possibility of a nuclear conflict, which means there is danger for them personally and their families. And they are interested not only in war, but specifically in this one, but in the fact that there is more disorder, destruction, and so that they can take advantage of it for their own purposes. Some for the production of weapons, some for the production of nuclear and other fillers for these weapons, and some so that, taking advantage of the destruction and economic structure of the warring countries, they can profitably acquire the resources of these countries. But I wouldn’t call them rulers; they are more of an oligarchic elite. It's not directly from the government. They have their representatives in the government, of course, but they do not directly rule. And moreover, they are in different countries, but not in warring ones. They have their own representatives among the warring parties, but this is just like agents of influence, in your opinion.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you.

Irina: Those who defend their interests, such a society of people. And they do not support their views in everything, but for some reason they still believe them.

37:11 Our Lady about the conditions for maximum effectiveness of meditation.

Maxim: Irina, dear Mother of God, Most Holy Theotokos, I propose that the next three meditations on the Meditations channel, which we run on Fridays, be for peace and for ending all wars on the planet.

Irina: Yes, good. I am ready in your common spiritual space, which you will create for meditation practice, to be present in the form of a phantom with you. Through the awareness and mental field of contactee Irina, I will transmit to you those images that will help you quickly stabilize the situation, cleanse egregors and reconcile with everyone.

But I want to remind you once again about the conditions for the maximum effectiveness of this meditation - this is your complete peace in the Soul, with yourself, with people close to you and with God, while you live an ordinary life. When you finish your meditation, keep peace within yourself and do not wish harm to anyone. I understand that this is difficult. At a time when certain media are whipping up fear and anger towards the opposing side. I understand that it is difficult to keep yourself in harmony and in love. To do this, always remember, no matter what information you receive, that you are immortal Spirits, and those people about whom this is written or shown are also immortal Spirits who are going through their lessons.

See everything through the eyes of my son Jesus Christ. See everything through my eyes. We love everyone equally. We do not divide people by beliefs, by languages, by nations; every person is dear to us, no matter what his name is, no matter what position he holds. Even those who caused and now support this conflict on the physical level are dear to us, like Spirits who go through these lessons. And we want them to come into awareness, into the Light of Love, and raise their vibrations. They are not the culprits in this situation. They only manifested on the physical plane, as I already said, everything that had been accumulated over many decades by those people who live in these countries.

But I want to emphasize that at this moment in time there are more than two participants in the conflict between Russia and Ukraine. Every country that is the owner of financial means and material weapons of destruction of manpower, every country whose financial means and material weapons of destruction are located in the conflict zone and are used for direct military purposes to destroy the physical bodies of people and infrastructure, are parties to the conflict. This means that those Spirits who were embodied in those countries also accumulated a certain negative in their egregors, and it is now manifesting itself in this way.

Maxim: Thank you very much. Every Friday on the “Cassiopeia Meditations” channel we will conduct meditations for peace and an end to war. This is the next 3-4 weeks, there will be just 3-4 broadcasts.

We are now leaving for a retreat in Krasnodar. There we will not be able to do these meditations. But when we arrive from there, we will definitely start seeing them off.

42:33 Our Lady about the most likely date for ending the Ukraine-Russia conflict is September 2022.

Maxim: I have a question. When will this conflict between Russia and Ukraine end?

Irina: The most likely?

Maxim: Most likely.

Irina: For now?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: By cessation, do you mean complete cessation?

Maxim: All military operations.

Irina: And the signing of a peace treaty?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: At the moment, I see the most likely date for the signing of a peace treaty between Russia and Ukraine and approved by the world community - the end of March 2023. This probability is currently 67%.

Maxim: End of March 2023?

Irina: Yes. This is precisely the probability. This line of probability has absorbed 67% of the energy for embodiment on the material plane. Every second before this date, the energy ratio of this probability will change in any direction. It's up to you. And whether this will be embodied in the material world depends on you.

I can only name the conditions under which incarnation can be accelerated, slowed down, or even canceled. And I have already named these conditions.

44:37 Our Lady about the consequences of a person's negative thoughts and emotions.

Irina: If you want to speed up, then at the present moment in time, if you cannot love your enemies, just seek peace with yourself, contact with your Higher Self, cleanse yourself of blocks, of hatred, of anger, of condemnation in relation to any actions, and even this will contribute to the Peace Treaty.

If you see people around you who condemn another nation, its rulers, and even more so curse and wish for death, explain in a gentle form that this leads to an even greater continuation of the conflict. Because these are not just words, these are energies that remain in space and then manifest themselves in gun shots and bomb explosions. Every rude word you say to a child can turn into bomb explosions decades later. Every thought of a curse, every cursing thought sent after a more successful colleague whom you envy, can manifest itself decades later in the form of a bullet that takes your great-grandson or great-great-grandson out of incarnation. Always remember this.

46:34 Theotokos about the salvation of soldiers on the line of contact.

Maxim: Irina Bellington asks: "What should women read to protect their husbands who went to war?"

Irina: Don't read. You need to imagine his image and send him the Light of your Love, be sure to combine this with the conditions that I have already mentioned. Send the Light of Love to everyone, including those with whom he is at war.

What about “save”? Just trust God. If in none of the lines of probability of its incarnation there is such an event as withdrawal from incarnation due to war, it will not happen. Trust God that everything that happens will be for good. Send the Light of Love to everyone. And most importantly, believe yourself that all Spirits are immortal, both you, and he, and everyone in general. And that everyone is now going through a very difficult lesson of acceptance, forgiveness and love, transforming the energy of fear, hatred and aggression towards a belief different from yours. This applies not only to Russia and not only to Ukraine, but in general to all countries involved in the conflict, as I already said, these are not two countries.

Maxim: I understand. Thank you.

48:34 Our Lady about probable scenarios for the development of Crimea for September 2022.

Maxim: What will happen to Crimea in the near future? Will it remain part of the territory of the Russian Federation? And what is the likelihood of fighting there?

Irina: If by combat we mean shell explosions, they are there. Occur in this space. Or do you mean by combat operations the deployment of troops?

Maxim: Deployment of troops.

Irina: For what period?

Maxim: For the next year.

Irina: Probability for the next year at the moment?

I'm looking at the Timeline now. The probability in the next year that Crimea will remain part of Russia is 87%.

The probability of sending troops for military operations, not just sending troops for exercises, but for military operations in the next year is 25%.

These percentages are different, because the deployment of troops and military operations on the territory of Crimea do not necessarily mean the return of Crimea to the control of Ukraine. These could be different scenarios.

Maxim: What is the likelihood of Crimea being returned to Ukraine?

Irina: Accordingly, around 10%. The remaining 3% is the probability that it will become an independent state, that is, independent from everyone.

Maxim: Interesting. Is it even possible for Crimea to become independent?

Irina: Yes. Like Abkhazia.

51:37 Our Lady about the state of the quantum transition for September 2022.

Maxim: Please tell me what are the current stages of the quantum transition? And who is overseeing this quantum transition?

Irina: At the moment there is still a period of calm, although it should have ended. The reason is that the energies obtained in the previous stage of the quantum transition, which Sergius of Radonezh spoke about, have not yet been harmonized and fully adapted. The phantom of Archangel Michael, who takes on the image of Seraphim of Sarov, took part in the deployment of it. These are his energies (the image of Seraphim of Sarov is also shown by Sergius of Radonezh).

The new stage of the quantum transition has not yet begun. Because those energies that were received during the last period of the quantum transition have not yet been stabilized. There are still processes going on. This is due to the fact that the decrease in vibrations of the egregors of the Earth's noosphere interferes with this, impedes the process.

Maxim: Who is now overseeing this quantum transition?

Irina: Now there is a period of calm, and there is no separate curator for the next one. It will be clear who will be the curator when the distribution of energies at the beginning of a new stage of the quantum transition is clear.

Maxim: Thank you. I understand.

53:33 Message of the Mother of God to Ukrainians.

Maxim: What wish can you convey to the Russians and Ukrainians who are now going to war?

Irina: I will convey to them absolutely the same wish. And I will address them as my children.

I love you very much, dear Ukrainians, dear Russians. You are Orthodox peoples, but for me you are one people. I do not divide by borders, by beliefs or by language. I feel the Soul of each of you when you partake of the body and blood of my son, and when you pray to me. These actions are being done both in Russia and Ukraine. And I send each of you the Light of my Love every time you do this. For me, the tears of a Ukrainian mother who is waiting for her son to come home, and the tears of a Russian mother who is also waiting for her son to come home, are absolutely energetically the same, no matter what armies they served in. And I send consolation to both equally.

Spiritual advice, or rather even, as in Russian in the memory of the contactee, the spiritual guidance that I can give you in this situation.

To the people of Ukraine. Please, let every person who is watching me now, on the territory of Ukraine, look into his heart, listen to the words that I am saying now through the contactee and ask himself how true they are for you. Because you are divine light Spirits who came into this incarnation to increase this Light in yourself using different methods, by performing different tasks. Please, I am writing to you with a request. By the power of your Spirit, control the instinctive fear of death and the instinctive fear of losing your children and relatives and remember that you are spiritual beings. To increase your spiritual level, it is necessary to develop unconditional Love.

56:57 Mother of God about unconditional Love.

Irina: Unconditional Love is the one that does not judge, which leaves all judgment to God. Judgment of those people who are responsible for your suffering. Please, every day, make contact with your Higher Self, with your Spirit, cleanse yourself of energy blocks, communicate with me and with my son Jesus Christ, and send the Light of unconditional Love every day, while in the meditation that I said. You can even meditate yourself, but, if possible, by participating in the meditation to restore peace throughout the Earth, which Irina Podzorova will do. Also participate in those meditations that other masters of the Cassiopeia Project do, which I love very much, as an opportunity to raise their vibrations for many people and connect with their Light.

I ask you to forgive yourself, forgive all your loved ones and forgive all your enemies. Send them the Light of your Love and not think about the earthly end of your journey, but think about where you will be in eternity. And after leaving the physical body, you will find yourself at the level to which your Spiritual heart will lead you. Fill your Spiritual heart with your Love for everyone without exception. By doing this you will help peace in your country, peace within yourself and the Divine presence around you and in your space.

Please, my dear children, be aware and wise. Be wise with Divine wisdom. Throw away all attempts to frighten or anger you through the media, the purpose of which is to sow discord and enmity between my beloved peoples. I send you the Light of my Love and support in this difficult situation.

Maxim: Thank you.

1:00:03 Spiritual instruction of the Mother of God to Russians.

Irina: Dear Russians. I love you. I thank you for your prayers for peace.

I ask you all. Leave actions through which the energy of condemnation and gloating towards the Ukrainian people and others is manifested. They are now in a very difficult, complex, life-threatening situation. Please forgive my children from Ukraine who offended you in some way, with some harsh words or accusations. Many of them are in a state of instinctive fear, anger and other instinctive emotions. Please do not show gloating towards the defeats of the Ukrainian army. Schadenfreude is at low vibrational levels and prolongs war. Everyone fights in this war as best they can and as best they can, and as their strength and awareness allow them in the situation in which they find themselves. Remember that in the place of every Ukrainian warrior, a warrior of your country or even your family may appear at any moment.

Send the Light of your Love not only to Ukraine, but to all nations, your people and all the peoples of the Earth and wish for a speedy restoration of peace. Just like the Ukrainians, I ask you to talk to your Higher Self every day, to dissolve the negative blocks of fear, anger, irritation and other destructive emotions and feelings.

I ask you not to condemn your government. Send them the Light of your Love. Condemnation and anger against your rulers will only lead to an increase in the manifestation of negative qualities in them, and therefore to the prolongation of everything that is happening now. Send them the Light of your Love and wish your rulers, the rulers of Ukraine and other countries of the Earthly world to fulfill their life tasks.

I ask you to treat your neighbors with love and forgive them all offenses. Make peace with your children, relatives, colleagues, parents. Accept them for who they are.

And, of course, meditate every day, mentally filling the Earth with the Light of Love, as I recommended to the Ukrainians. And if possible, participate in the general meditations of Irina Podzorova and other masters of the Cassiopeia Project.

Be in peace and harmony, and remember that you are immortal Spirits. Everything that is happening now is caused by the reasons that Archangel Michael, a Spirit well known to me, spoke about through Irina at the very beginning of the conflict. I confirm every word he says. Therefore, regardless of the fact that you receive some other information from your friends, neighbors, colleagues or from the media, that information that causes you negative feelings, lowers your vibration, simply send the Light of your Love to everyone involved in the situation you are reading, watching or listening about. Look without judgment, simply through the eyes of my son Jesus Christ and my eyes.

I do not urge you not to monitor the situation at all, not to watch the news - this is impossible. This is around you, this is your life, this is your reality. Just treat everyone with love: yourself, your rulers, your warriors, and equally the warriors and rulers and people of the other side.

Treat this situation not as someone's fault, but as your common misfortune. This is your common misfortune, the common illness of your egregors led to such an event as the withdrawal of many Souls from incarnation, as well as the mutilation and injury of the bodies of many people, and the destruction of a large amount of infrastructure that was built over years, long decades. All this destruction is manifested in the world only because this kind of energy has accumulated in the world in egregors. Treat this as a cleansing and a lesson: cleansing the entire Earth, not only for your countries, cleansing from pride, selfishness, love of money and arrogance towards each other.

And then, as one of my contactees said, I remember, of course, his verse, he conveyed it in the form of a poem, based on which he then sang a song, it is known to many. There are such words there. And they were transmitted even to the Spiritual World by the Archangels, its Angels, and I can only repeat them:

"When the war is over,

With a single faith in mercy,

Love will remain alone

The last religion for everyone." (Sergey Trofimov)

And for this religion to truly be true for you, love must settle in every heart. And then you will understand that in fact you were fighting with your reflections, with yourself. But you are all beloved children of God and one with Him in His Light. When you kill another, you kill yourself. By insulting another, you insult yourself. By appropriating something from another, stealing from another, you are stealing it from yourself, from that Spirit, which is part of God, which gives you life. I wish you the awareness that manifests itself in the constant memory of this. I send you the Light of my Love.

I also appeal to representatives of other nations who are watching this broadcast now. Despite the fact that I addressed the residents of Ukraine and Russia, everything said here equally applies to you too.

I also ask those people, regardless of their nationality, who are true Christian believers, who believe in Christianity as the truth, to turn to the sacrament of confession and communion as often as possible. This will help you connect with the energies of my son Jesus Christ, which are now aimed at restoring all etheric matrices, astral and mental fields from what is happening, from these destructive energies. Now it is very difficult for him, He passes through everything that happens on Earth in your Souls. But He does it and constantly raises His vibrations. And I convey to you greetings from Him, I am now in contact with Him. And I send you the Light of His Love and my Love, we have one.

Maxim: Thank you. Guys, the broadcast just flew by.

Irina: Yes, very unnoticed. Thank you too.

Maxim: I spent the whole time in images.

1:11:00 Our Lady about payment for the contactee’s services.

Maxim: I will ask one more question to our Blessed Virgin Mary.

Please tell me, some of your contactees say that you indicate to them how much money to charge for the reception, and for the information that you convey. Is this true?

Irina: For what purpose?

Maxim: In order to communicate with You through a contactee.

Irina: Smiling. (Virgin Mary) I have never given any of my contactees information that communicating with me or any other Spirit costs any specific money. This should be left at the discretion of the person who wants to support the contactee in his material life. And any fixed price will discourage many people from receiving the necessary help, not even because people do not have money, but simply because the person is condemned as materialistic. A mercantile money-lover who uses spiritual gifts for material enrichment. Because of this judgment, many people will not receive help.

My dear contactees, I am turning to you. Please do not create temptation among those you serve with unconditional love. By doing this, you reduce your vibrations, your ability to hear and correctly transmit information from me and other high entities. Thank you.

Maxim: Thank you.

1:13:20 Our Lady about alternative service in war.

Maxim: So, probably, the last question is very relevant. Please tell me what to do for a soldier who goes to war, but does not want to shoot at the enemy? What should he do?

Irina: He goes to fight, but not to shoot at the enemy?

Maxim: No. There are people who do not want to kill other people, but there is a Charter that obliges them to do this.

Irina: According to the laws of any country, they can switch to alternative military service and do something to help those who shoot on the battlefield, but not take up arms themselves. To do this, you must notify the military commanders that your convictions do not allow taking people's lives. Notify in writing that your beliefs, whether religious, or esoteric, or any spiritual, do not allow you to kill other people, and you will not be guilty in your conscience if you do so. But at the same time, you do not want to evade service and ask to be assigned an alternative one. This is possible, many people in the world use it. Alternative service may not involve the use of weapons, but rather some kind of work in a military unit that does not require killing people. But how does it not require it? No attacks.

Maxim: Okay. And the last question. Some Stonik here wants to ask you for the tenth time: “Is it true that every morning, Mother, you walk along the Kanavka in Diveevo?”

Irina: Not like me. In fact, this issue was covered in detail in the first live broadcast, in the first conference with me. Please have a look. These answers are there.

Maxim: In the first conference with the Mother of God.

1:15:51 Search engine and time codes for Cassiopeia broadcasts.

Irina: Yes. By the way, if you don’t even want to watch the entire conference, you can open the YouTube channel: #Conference, #First Conference of the Virgin Mary. Irina Podzorova. Type YouTube in the Search window. When you open it, it will say "Description", it will say "More". Click on the “More” button, “Time Codes” open there. You will see where Diveevo is discussed. Our dear volunteers made time codes for almost all videos.

Maxim: I want to thank the large volunteer staff on my own behalf for the work they do. Because they do a tremendous amount of work. They prepare videos for you, they prepare time codes, they help prepare projects. And everything that the Cassiopeia Project has now is due to the fact that there are volunteer people who do this from the Heart, due to the fact that there is your opportunity to help the Project. And to the best of my ability, I always help both volunteers and those who help the Project, if they really need help and need it.

Irina: I thank you too.

Maxim: Guys, the time is already 1 hour 17 minutes, thank you all.

Irina: Thank you.

Maxim: Mother, thank you. For providing your phantom for communication. For the information you gave. For the goodness that You bring to this world. And for the veils with which You covered our Center.

Irina: Thank you.

Maxim: I know about it. Therefore I thank You.

Irina: Yes, that's true.

She says: “I thank everyone who asked questions. It is very difficult for you in this material world, which is undergoing purification with the energies that you yourself have accumulated, you and your ancestors - previous generations - have accumulated. However, this pain is not forever. Remember that you are only guests in this world. And every moment of yours either brings you closer to the Light of God, or moves you away. I send you the Light of my Love.”

Maxim: Guys, see you again. Thank you very much for being with us and helping our Project. We'll meet in Krasnodar on Tuesday the 27th. We will have a wonderful 4-day retreat there.

I’ll tell you the phone number again, if you want to get in, there were two free places, +7 (988) 910-00-40

See you in Krasnodar. Everyone was hugged. Have a nice evening everyone.

00:00 Start of video.

00:03 Irina Podzorova’s book “Diary of a Contactee”.

Maxim: Hello everyone! I’m with you, my name is Maxim, last name is Rusan. I am the director of the Cassiopeia Project. I am very glad to see you all here. As always, we have a Sunday live broadcast. As always, it will be very interesting in terms of information. We have a lot of cool, simply gorgeous news. I do not even know where to start.

Of course, the most important news is that Irina Podzorova’s book “The Diary of a Contactee” has finally been published. This is wonderful work. He compiled a huge amount of information that was transmitted from various sources through Irina Podzorova. You can learn about the structure of the Universe, about how we appeared on this planet. The book includes part of the entire egregor, and even its small destructive part that is there. But it's okay. We are all human, and we all have our own little destructive parts that we work with. Accordingly, this work raises our vibrations, our love for everything that happens and our respect for the fact that everything happens as it actually happens to us now.

In addition to the fact that Irina’s book was published, our website was updated. There is a link to it under this video. On our website you can now find absolutely everything. There is a news channel, a forum will open there soon. There will be a huge amount of information: news, videos, programs, masters.

We have come to the point where we have begun to create the “Multiverse Cassiopeia” project. This is thanks to each of you who help us grow and develop, and we try to do everything for you. We recently had an idea, I’ll tell you honestly, I won’t hide anything from you.

Guys, how can I not inform you about the wonderful achievements of our Project that have occurred this week? Imagine, we had a whole life, a whole week to create something new for you, attract new masters, give new useful information, release new videos, conduct new meditations. And I simply do not have the right, as the head of the Project, not to talk about what is new in our Project before the Sunday broadcast.

Due to the fact that there were a lot of questions, our administrators suggested introducing a paid question. I'll tell you honestly, at first I thought that this was a very good moment to really come across very interesting questions that people who were ready to support the Project could ask. Then a situation arose in my Higher Self when I clearly understood why we were creating this Project.

We want nothing to be paid, or rather, nothing that distinguishes you - whether you have money or not - there is nothing. I want every person who touches the Cassiopeia Project to feel confident in it, regardless of whether they have money or not. Therefore, we have eliminated any ability to manipulate the information we provide. There will never be paid questions in our structure. You can ask all your questions on our YouTube channel and in the "Q&A" chat. Live broadcast" (this is in the event that our YouTube channel is closed). Link to chat "Question and answer. Live broadcast" is below this video. And here, with a short interval, we also moderate here. This is very good news for us.

I also want to please you all with the fact that our Gikhor project has grown into a huge school, which is organizing the First All-Russian Congress of Russian Cosmoenergetics. Cosmoenergeticists who are involved in cosmoenergetics not just to make money, but to bring goodness, Light, and development to people, we are waiting for you at this congress! I am sure that there will be very interesting reports, studies, and programs. And you, as a cosmoenergetics researcher who works with people, can also submit your application to give a report and talk about what cosmoenergetics gives to every person on this planet. Therefore, see you at the congress of cosmoenergetics.

Further. Of course, our Moscow Domodedovo Center will soon open and operate. Therefore, we are planning an offsite event in Moscow from November 5th to 11th. The registration link is also under this video.

How will the event take place? Many will ask the question whether it will be at the Domodedovo Center or somewhere else. Training sessions will be held somewhere in the center of Moscow so that you can get there conveniently. There will be four days of training. Program on contacting, connection, contacts with the Higher Self, work with Curators, Mentors. Working with psychosomatic and energy blocks. Introduction to Regression Research; astral travel. All this information will be given.

Therefore, from November 5th to 11th we will be in Moscow with the entire Voronezh Center. At the Domodedovo Center from the 5th to the 11th we will host our specialists using Oberon and Crownoscope equipment, Aurobook, Light Cameras, we will bring with us, and we will bring other interesting equipment to our Center. Therefore, we are also waiting for you in our Moscow Center from November 5th to 11th.

But from the 5th to the 9th there will be training in the center of Moscow. Groups will be recruited. And we will conduct training not in our Center, but for convenience and communication - in the city center. And in the evening we can move to our Center, or then, after Irina and Ilya have trained the first stage of the journey to the Higher Self, from the 9th to the 11th we will all hold personal receptions at the Domodedovo Center.

There is a link under this video. Don't hesitate to sign up! Limited number of seats. The hall can accommodate a maximum of 100 people. So hurry up. We will be glad to see you, and some of you again, because repetition is the mother of learning.

How long have I been talking? I still have a minute and a half: I, as a leader, booked the first 10 minutes of this live broadcast so that those who do not want to watch me can tune in and watch Irina after 10 minutes.

There is one secret news, guys. But I didn’t tell you about this, this is very secret news. The New Year is coming, we talked with our schools, with our masters, with friends from other schools, masters from other projects. Our New Year will be held in Abkhazia. We are planning to make a “Multiverse “Cassiopeia”” there. This is a new program that will include a lot of things. I want you all to be able to participate in this program.

I hope that we will formulate and announce the conditions for participation in all programs of this multi-retreat, “Multiverse “Cassiopeia””, in the near future. When recruitment starts, don’t forget to fill out the application and sign up for this unique New Year. New Year in the field of esotericism - this has definitely never happened before! I would like to give you all this holiday the absolute maximum of what the Cassiopeia Project has.

Once again, thank you all so much! My broadcast time ran out very quickly. I want to invite the gold of the party that I found as the head of the Project. Irisha, sit down so that you can be seen better.

11:06 Introduction of participants.

Irina: Hello, dear friends! Good evening. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, with plasmoid subtle-material beings and with the Spiritual world. I am a universal contactee. This is the task of my incarnation. I am also a guide to the Higher Self, to the Divine part of man. And I am a master of meditation.

Today our curators are present with us: MidgasKaus from the planet Esler - biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien civilizations; LiShioni from the planet Shimor is a specialist in astral interactions. Also, due to your numerous requests, we decided to invite the phantom of Jesus Christ. He is with us now. He congratulates us all. He listened carefully through me to Maxim's entire speech as the head of the Center, and congratulated Maxim, me and all of us on the release of our book. Thank you. LiSioni and MidgasKaus also congratulate us. We have been waiting for this event for a long time.

I also congratulate the students of the 32nd stream who completed their studies and received certificates yesterday. I congratulate you all. Already the 32nd cohort has completed training. Each of you, I remind you, can already begin to lead you to the Higher Self, in regression, on astral travel. We told you, showed you, conveyed everything that was necessary, now everything depends on you.

13:29 Jesus Christ about himself and his phantom.

Maxim: Dear Jesus Christ, I would like to ask you: how does Your personal coming differ from the coming of Your phantom?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Dear Maxim, hello.

I must be in my body at the same time in order to continue to raise the vibrations of those people who connect with me in the sacrament of communion. I also must be in the body to support my other numerous phantoms, who are located in many worlds, with their contactees. Therefore, I always send my phantom, or the Ray of Christ Consciousness.

Maxim: Thank you. You know, we had Ashtar on our last live broadcast - this is the commander of Starfleet, who conveyed very interesting information and the conditions for this information to come into action.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes. MidgasCaus and LiSioni told me about this. I also spoke with Ashtar himself and with Bergastre, who lives on Burkhad, about this. I am aware of this message.

Maxim: Please tell me, there are many people who say that now, at this moment in time, we are not communicating with the phantom of Jesus Christ. What can you say about this? Are we communicating with a phantom of the real Jesus Christ or are we communicating with someone else?

Irina (Jesus Christ): I am the Firstborn Son of God, the Logos of His creation and that original impulse of the Light of Love that was generated before your birth in the Spirit of God. Before your birth is a conditional concept, because in the world of the Divine Kingdom, just like in the Spiritual world, there is no flow of time. There is only subjective time. According to subjective time, the time of perception, I appeared when none of you had yet realized themselves as independent individual self-consciousness.

How can I tell if it's me or someone else? 24% of my energy is present here now, 24% of the energy of my astral field. And anyone who is spiritually sensitive can now ask themselves, is this really my energy that you feel? If you do not have the proper sensitivity, determine by the information that I will give when answering your questions. You can also ask your Higher Self, your heart about this.

Maxim: Thank you, dear Jesus.

17:08 Jesus Christ about the plan of Ashtar Sheran.

Maxim: I wanted to ask you about what Ashtar gave us point by point, how we can resolve the current situation. What is the first point there, Irina?

Irina (Jesus Christ): The first point there is a meeting of representatives of the international community. First, they gather among themselves and decide to announce to the world community that if the will of the indigenous inhabitants of the disputed areas, because of which there is now bloodshed, is expressed, in the event of any expression of will, their will will be carried out. The international community will be enshrined in a new legislative act that allows for this possibility. This was the first point.

That is, representatives of the United Nations (UN), as you call it, get together and first agree among themselves. Because those armies that are in a state of battle, they are there on the orders of their political leaders. Until political leaders find a common paradigm, a goal toward which they will move together, and agree among themselves, they will not be able to order their servants, their soldiers, to leave the battlefield.

First there must be negotiations (shows a round table and negotiations at it).

Maxim: And if one of the sides of this community says that the problem should only be solved on the battlefield, then how should we respond to what they say?

Irina (Jesus Christ): The message that was transmitted through Irina is not only from Ashtar, but also from representatives of the planet Burkhad.

Maxim: I'm not talking about their message. I'm talking about the fact that the other side tells us that the problem can only be solved on the battlefield. How can highly spiritual people or a highly spiritual country solve a problem differently?

Irina (Jesus Christ): The alien interstellar communities that offered this to you see a way out of this situation for you - your United Nations, that is, the united peoples. That's what it's called – the United Nations. And a nation is a people.

They offer it to everyone, and everyone can either accept or not accept it. This is your choice. If someone has made a choice that does not involve contracts of this kind, then these people are making a choice to defeat their opponent on the battlefield. But they forget that there is a victory that is equal to a loss. That is, it is an illusion. You were offered to come to an agreement among yourself, to draw up a peace treaty that would take into account the interests of all people, all Spirits who are embodied and live in that territory.

I, in turn, fully support this proposal, this message for only one very simple reason. The fact is that those disputed territories that were indicated in this message, and which you know very well, in fact, although there are bloody battles for them, do not belong to any country. They do not belong to the state of Ukraine, even if international documents say otherwise. They do not belong to the Russian state, no matter how much someone thinks otherwise. These territories and all the resources located on them, down to the last blade of grass, belong only to our common Heavenly Father. And I assure you, Heavenly Father gave these spaces, gave the opportunity to live and be happy in them, not so that you would disincarnate each other.

And the first who should understand this should be the leaders of your states. Just because they are entrusted with this place by God does not mean that they own the lands they rule. They are only temporarily placed in this place and will lose this right after leaving incarnation.

23:21 Jesus Christ about organizing elections in disputed territories.

Irina: He calls to remember this.

Maxim: That's understandable. The second point of this message states that the political leaders of the United Nations and the European Union are making a joint public statement about their readiness to change the internationally recognized borders of states based on the results of a general vote of the population of the disputed territories, if necessary.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Before making this statement, they must first agree among themselves about it.

Maxim: What if they cannot agree on this at a meeting of the UN Security Council? They do not recognize elections and do not recognize the freedom of these elections.

Irina: Then what is the question?

Maxim: How to fulfill the second point?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Who should do it? The second point cannot be fulfilled, because it is already addressed to those peoples who live in the disputed territories. For free expression of will, it is necessary that all those people who fled from hostilities return to these lands. It is necessary that this vote be carried out only by those people who, according to your administrative and legal documents, have been registered in these territories for at least three years.

It is not difficult for your earthly statistics agencies to get acquainted with the population of these areas according to the legal lists of people registered in these areas. Select from them 70% of the adult population. It is this 70% of the adult population that is the minimum that should vote for one of the three options. Not two, but three.

The first option assumes the status of this region as part of Ukraine.

The second option assumes the status of this region as part of the Russian Federation.

The third option assumes the status of this region as an independent state entity that will build relations with its neighbors on equal terms.

There should be three options. And the option should not be provided: I abstain from voting, or I am against everyone. If a person abstains from voting or is against everyone, he should not take part in this choice at all. Must choose one of three options. And in the future, the fate of these territories should be determined by the desire of those people who live there for at least three years.

Why them, and not the rulers? Because it is no coincidence that those people who live there are in that space. God, our common Heavenly Father, created the condition for the incarnation of certain Spirits in a certain territory or for moving to this territory and living there for three years. And if so, then our Heavenly Father has given the people themselves the opportunity to dispose of this part of space where these people live. And it is they who must determine the state system and the state, language, religion, etc., to which they should belong.

Why them? Because it is their responsibility. After all, if we remember the tasks of the government, rulers and their administrative apparatus before their Spiritual Mentors and before God the Father, then we will remember that it is not governments, according to the Law of God, who must distribute who lives where, and accordingly depict borders on maps. The government's job is to help the people, to help the people define these boundaries and mark them accordingly. Publish in your countries such laws and legislative acts that will most perfectly lead people to Love, harmony, happiness, and to raising their vibrations.

This is the task of the rulers and the entire government apparatus. And if some country is not coping with this as successfully as its neighbor, then any people who are in this area have the right from God to move towards a more perfect society, leaving the country whose government lowers their vibrations and does not give them develop. This is the Law of God.

29:46 Jesus Christ about the Constitution of the Interstellar Union.

Irina: And why did interstellar friends suggest this? Because I live on Burkhad, as I already said, on an island, and I can testify that this law has existed in the Interstellar Union for 15 million years. You have a “Constitution”, and this document can be translated into Russian as the “Constitution of the Interstellar Union”.

There is an article that everyone accepts. If the population of any country or region of the country of any planet included in the Interstellar Union (of course, if this planet is divided into countries, because this is not the case for everyone, but there are such planets), wishes to move to another country, they create an initiative group that submits a corresponding application to the control center of this country. In your opinion - to the capital. And those who accepted this request, within a maximum of a few local months on this planet, are obliged to arrange a general vote on this territory. There can be no talk of any return of these territories to this country by military means. This is contrary to the free will of humanoids.

This law has existed in the Interstellar Union for 15 million years. Then is it surprising that they offered you the same option on Earth? For them this is the absolute norm. For them, it is a violation of the norm when such simple issues as territorial affiliation are not resolved. It is very strange for them when people give their lives and take the lives of other people for a certain piece of land, a certain piece of territory.

Each soldier not only attacks or defends himself, not only disincarnates other Spirits. Every second he himself is in danger of leaving his incarnation. If every soldier on each side (on opposite sides of a military conflict) is in danger of leaving embodiment, it means that they are all equal in the war, in the battle, in equal conditions.

When the Spirit comes out of incarnation, it already loses belonging to its egregor, belonging to its people and goes into the Spiritual world. And if this happened before the fulfillment of his life task for which he came, then he lowers his level of the Spiritual world. His body remains on Earth, and he needs a few square meters of the territory for which he fought and gave his life to bury his body. He no longer needs it.

(MidgasCaus) This is understood very well on Burkhad, and on Esler, and in the Galactic Federation of Light, it has been understood very well for millions of years. Therefore, they could not give you any other spiritual advice and guidance. They gave it to you according to their vibrations, according to their understanding. They sincerely believe that your United Nations is composed of those rulers who are aware of their spiritual responsibility for the governance of society.

34:41 Jesus Christ about the way to end the war at the political level.

Maxim: Do you think they realize this? Jesus, this is indeed a very interesting question. What should we, ordinary people, do? They have the UN, Security Councils, meetings there. What should ordinary people do, who are sitting here and do not fully understand what is happening? They give us one information, the Ukrainians a second, and the Western peoples a third.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, I know.

Maxim: How can we help in ending all this obscurantism that is happening? Murder has never been good.

Irina (Jesus Christ): I will answer this question.

Dear friends, the whole point is that when hostilities are already taking place with numerous destructions and casualties both among the military and among the civilian population, then only a peace treaty between the rulers of two or more countries can stop this action (not just hush it up, but stop it) . More than thirty countries are involved in this conflict, as Ashtar Sheran has already said, and I fully confirm this information.

The fact is that in the event of such a war, the cessation of hostilities by only one side is not effective; this will only cause the continuation of these actions by the other side. Because being in combat changes a person’s psyche, his vibrations, and he will perceive any retreat as the enemy’s weakness and the possibility of his complete victory. Therefore, troops of any side will behave in a certain way. That is why, well understanding the consequences, military leaders of both sides do not agree to a truce unless it is approved at the highest political level.

That is, no guarantees were given to each of the parties that military actions would not continue if one party stopped them.

37:44 Jesus Christ about the role of ordinary people in the conflict between Russia and Ukraine.

Irina: (Jesus Christ): You asked the question, what should you, the people who are in these territories, do?

Maxim: Of course.

Irina (Jesus Christ): In this case, you are not responsible for the decisions of your political leaders, but you can keep peace among yourself, between two peoples simply at the level of communication, continuing communication, stopping blaming each other for various negative phenomena, for various sins. Believe me, dear friends, none of you is without sin. In everyone one can find the sin of aggression, the sin of neglecting another nationality, humiliating another nationality. This is present in all nations. And you need to find strength within yourself, in every nation, so that first the people are reconciled among themselves.

As I already said in my conferences with Irina Podzorova, “any war on the physical level is a manifestation of the war of minds that has existed between the two countries for many decades on the Spiritual level.” This means that your peoples did not accept each other’s egregors, first on the Spiritual level, and then it came to the physical level. What can you do to stop this? What can you do to stop this? Continue to maintain relations with the people on the other side of the front. Not with their fighters and soldiers, but with the people.

I am addressing you. You are both Christian, Orthodox peoples - both the people of Ukraine and the people of the Russian Federation. Both peoples are building numerous temples on their territory, dedicated to me and the saints who glorified my name on Earth. Moreover, over the past few months, both in the churches of the Ukrainian Christian churches and Russian Christian churches, divine services have been held by your priests, aimed at victory over each other. The people themselves, both Ukrainian and Russian, are praying to defeat each other. This will not bring peace to your peoples. This will lead to an increase in the aggressive policies of your various military leaders and other responsible people against each other.

I ask you, dear friends, everyone who watches this video, to ask yourself a simple question. But before you ask this question, get in touch with me in your heart. You all partake of my Holy Mysteries, my flesh and blood. And you connect with me regardless of citizenship and nationality. I pass through my heart the feeling of each of you. Connect with my consciousness - the Christ consciousness - in your heart and see what is happening through my eyes.

Imagine that you are a Spirit who loves everyone, in whose honor you built temples, and cruelly deprive each other of embodiment, kill each other. At the same time, in different temples they pray to kill as many of you as possible, to kill as many of their opponents as possible, who in turn also pray for the same to you. How will you feel? How will you feel if such prayers are completely sincere, because both sides consider what is happening to be fair? How would you feel in my place?

And when you look at it through my eyes, you will stop hating the people who are on the other side of the front. They are the same as you. They are also scared and in pain. And they also fear for their fathers, sons, husbands who are now fighting with your soldiers. See yourself in them, and yourself in them. After you have learned this lesson, the hearts of your rulers will soften, and they will find contact with each other, regardless of the influence of any other countries on them. Because the influence of other countries on them was caused only by their choice. If their choice is different, they will change everything themselves.

Maxim: Thank you, Jesus. There are, of course, a huge number of questions for you. Honestly, I even want to move away from this question, but I'll continue anyway. So what should we, ordinary people, do?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Just be friends with the people who are on the other side of the front, pray, meditate, send the Light of Love and reduce hatred, anger, irritation and fears in your hearts. All. Just change spiritually. But this not only needs to be done, you need to tell others about it - about this position. And tell without aggression, just testify. If you do this within yourself, and the majority of people think and act differently, then such changes will drag on for a long time, and if the majority of people do this, you will quickly learn this lesson.

46:15 Jesus Christ about the opportunity to hug him.

Maxim: Can I hug you, Jesus?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, of course.

Maxim: How can this be done?

Irina (Jesus Christ): You can hug me in the Spiritual world when you come into contact with me. You can do this if you contact me, after asking your Higher Self to invite me. You can also mentally imagine my image and send me Light, and you will see that I will feel it and hug you. Energetically (he says).

47:00 Jesus Christ about supporting loved ones in war.

Maxim: Igor Blinkov asks. How to treat a child’s participation in a special operation if he was drafted into the army? That is, he was taken for this special operation.

Irina: What does it mean how to relate to a child’s choice?

Maxim: How to behave, how to support your child who went to war, that is, to a special operation? What to think about, what to do? How to help loved ones who went to war?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Send him the Light of your Love. But at the same time, do not forget to send the Light of Love to those people who are on the opposite side, those soldiers, because they are also someone’s sons. Treat equally, without discrimination. These are all God's beloved children. Send Light with this.

47:56 Jesus Christ about his incarnations.

Maxim: There is such a provocative question in the “Question and Answer” chat. Live". Have you had any other earthly incarnations?

Irina (Jesus Christ): No.

Maxim: Probably, the person who asked the question simply does not understand that now you are alive and immortal.

Irina: In fact, our answers have already been about this.

Maxim: Have you never incarnated into a human before?

Irina: No. He already answered these questions in the first conference.

Maxim: You're lucky: right the first time, immediately and forever!

Guys, you write: “Did Adam have a first wife named Lilith?” Please watch one of the previous conferences. We answer there when we were created, how we were created and by what group of people. There was more than one wife there.

Irina: By the way, I want to tell you that we have a dictionary. It was specially created. Not a dictionary, but a table of time codes.

Maxim: It will definitely appear on our website soon.

Irina: She is in chats, I saw her.

Maxim: We will transfer it to the website. Assistant Evgeniy is sitting here, he will deal with this issue. Yes, Evgeniy, will you work on time codes? (Evgeniy agrees).

Great! You see, it’s also convenient to quickly resolve issues right on the spot.

49:25 Jesus Christ about the practices of “Jesus Prayer” and “Life-Creating Cross”.

Maxim: Can Jesus tell you about the practices of the “Jesus Prayer” and the “Life-Creating Cross”? Jesus, do You know such practices?

Irina: He says: “I know.”

(Jesus Christ) I know what they call it. “The Jesus Prayer” is the practice of hesychasm, a type of meditation when a person repeats a prayer to me or my name with a feeling of Love and concentrates on his heart center, on his heart, as you say, chakra. And he doesn't think about anything else. This is a type of meditation. And from this there is a purification of his Spiritual Heart, an increase in vibrations, and he sees my Light and connects with the Christ Consciousness.

As for the practice “Life-Giving Cross” (shows), this is the idea that the cross on which I was crucified brings life. That is, it is like a prayer. And when a person mentally looks at the cross where my body was, he mentally connects with me and feels it as a flow of life.

Maxim: Guys, Jesus is not a collective image, He is now on the planet Burkhad. You can buy Irina Podzorova’s book, read it, and everything will be clear.

51:05 Jesus Christ about meeting him in the Astral Plane.

Maxim: (reads a question from the chat) “How can I fly to visit Jesus, with his permission, of course?”

Irina (Jesus Christ): You can always fly to me in an astral body, that is, it's like astral travel. When you go to the Astral, when you leave your body using any method that is available to you, you can give the installation to come to my island. This will be the astral space of the island, but I will definitely feel you.

51:38 Jesus Christ about vampirism.

Maxim: Dear Jesus, we even have such questions: do vampires exist? Do human vampires exist?

Irina: Physical?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina (Jesus Christ): They do not exist in the form in which it is described in legends. This is how legends used to portray people who were in negative contact with destructive plasmoid civilizations, and the destructive plasmoid civilizations themselves, upon contact with a person who was afraid of them, took away negative energy, the energy of fear, from him. It was believed that this is how life force, that is, blood, is taken away. This is a figurative image of such people.

Maxim: Thank you.

52:46 Jesus Christ about maintaining faith and hope for peace through trust in God.

Maxim: Dear Jesus, please tell me how not to lose hope for the speedy restoration of peace between Russia and Ukraine, if at the moment the egregors of the countries are filled with hatred and lack of acceptance of each other? How not to lose this faith and hope?

Irina (Jesus Christ): How not to lose faith and hope? Just trust God. If you and all the people incarnated at this particular time and in this particular place, it was not a random choice. You knew about the possibility of the events that are now taking place. They were in the Probability Line. Of course, there could be different degrees of probability, but in any case you knew that this was possible.

I can tell you that for 12 thousand years of the existence of earthly civilization after the great destruction from the aggressive actions of Selbet, during these 12 thousand years there were not five years in a row without military conflicts. And the 20th century was no exception, and the 21st century was no exception.

Just know that what is happening now is a natural stage in the development of your society, the result of a lack of spiritual awareness of the majority of the planet's population. Wars are only a reflection on the physical level of the general low spiritual development of the entire earthly community as a civilization. And until your Earth civilization raises its Spiritual level and you begin to become responsible for yourself, this will not stop. How fast will it be? It depends only on you, on the total choice of each of you.

55:13 Jesus Christ about repeating the lessons unlearned by humanity.

Maxim: Here's a question. Every 100 years, the same matrix program is observed, when some kind of commotion occurs, or some kind of big war, or some kind of epidemic. We observe that this all repeats itself almost every 100 years. Why is this happening again?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Not even after 100 years, but more often. Local conflicts break out more often.

Maxim: Similar situations arise once every 100 years - some very similar local situation of some kind of conflict that already happened 100 years ago.

Irina (Jesus Christ): This indicates that the people who are again entering into these destructive relationships have not learned the lessons that their ancestors learned. That is, the descendants of these people did not accept these lessons and again begin to go through the same stages.

In order to stop going through them, as suggested by Ashtar Sheran and representatives of the Galactic Federation of Light and the Interstellar Union (I absolutely agree with them), it is necessary in the international community itself, in the United Nations, to develop simple, brief, absolutely fair postulates for everyone that will make all peoples, all countries, the distribution of benefits among each other is truly equal. This will make possible the elections that I spoke about at the beginning. Only such a renewed United Nations will contribute to ending military conflicts, fair distribution of resources and increasing the vibrations of every people of the Earth, every egregor, and the speedy entry into the Interstellar Union or the Galactic Federation of Light.

Maxim: Thank you.

57:28 Jesus Christ on the way to accelerate spiritual evolution on Earth.

Maxim: Tell me, please, will there be a landing on Earth of high-vibration Spirits who will incarnate into babies and help the Earth change the course of history? That's it in a nutshell. Some kind of landing, someone from high vibrational Spirits, is waiting. Jesus, what will you say when this landing arrives, and when finally high-vibration Spirits come here in droves and defeat all the devilry and demons?

Irina (Jesus Christ): High vibrational Spirits regularly incarnate on Earth. They were embodied in my time, when I was still living on Earth in an earthly body. They were incarnated before me, before my birth on Earth, and they are incarnating now. The problem is not that there are few of them. The problem is that there are already created low-vibration egregors. Those social norms have already been created that presuppose such a way of life as selfish materialism and non-recognition of one’s Light. All this is reflected in the laws of different states.

To change this, you need to start with yourself: completely cleanse yourself of all destructiveness in yourself and help your immediate environment in this great undertaking. Because when you become the Light, the people around you in your area will see it because your way of life will change. It will be impossible not to see it. And they will come to you asking you to teach them to be loving, happy and loved people. And you will give them this knowledge. Become teachers for yourself first. Become Spiritual Guides for yourself first, and then help others do the same. And in this case, the spiritual evolution of society will take place tens of times faster than now.

Look at Project Cassiopeia. “Cassiopeia” is not just a Project for the transfer of interesting information for the mind, not just a Project for the transfer of technologies for which earthlings are not ready with their consciousness, not just a Project where they tell interesting stories about flights to other planets. This is a Project in which each person can connect with his Higher Self, with the essence that is you in the Spiritual world, and cleanse your Spiritual heart of everything that prevents you from constantly being in a state of connection with the Kingdom of Heaven, with the Heavenly Father, with His Peace.

1:01:31 Jesus Christ about the meaning of human life.

Irina: I said 2000 years ago: “Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God.” These words say that you cannot see God anywhere until you see him in your heart. Until you find Peace, Love, Happiness within yourself, you will look for it in the outside world. But the outside world cannot give you this. Matter cannot give you Spirit. It is you who must give Spirit to matter. Matter cannot give you Happiness, Love, Harmony and Peace. It is you who must bring these states of consciousness and states of Spirit into matter.

Blessed are the pure in heart, for they will see God. What prevents you from seeing God? God has not left you anywhere, He is still in your heart. He is still in everyone's heart. But if your heart is not cleansed of those energies, feelings, emotions, desires and thoughts that are not compatible with love, truth, purity, peace, mercy, wisdom and other Divine qualities, you cannot see God, which means you cannot be blessed. A blessed person is a person who is in the flow of a continuous feeling of Happiness, Love and the meaning of his life, as an opportunity to spread the perfection of his Spirit around.

1:03:49 Jesus Christ about pillars of light.

Maxim: Strong, deep! I really felt it.

Dear Jesus, now people in many countries, in many cities all over the planet are seeing some pillars of light coming from the sky. This mostly happens at night. Tell me please, what could it be?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Most often you see the work of subtle-material plasmoid civilizations located in your atmosphere: Sylphs, Spirits of the air, as well as plasmoids of the Earth's magnetosphere, which appear in front of you in the form of pillars, show their existence next to you to remind you that everything that happens in the physical world affects them.

1:04:36 Jesus Christ about the number of negative plasmoids on Earth.

Irina: Dear friends, when my body was crucified on the cross, the cross was not a random form of execution. The cross denoted dedication to the four elements, which I already spoke about, the four elements of the plasmoid worlds: water, earth, air, fire. And my crucifixion on the Cross meant that I filled not only the noosphere of the Earth with my pure energies of Love. Because I have never fallen below the 24th spiritual level, I am always in unity with the Father, I recognize myself as God, your Father and at the same time your Brother.

So, when I voluntarily gave up my life, allowed my body to be crucified on the cross, although I could defeat them, these people, I could call on the Angels, I could call on representatives of the planet Burkhad who would save me, but then I would not have completed this mission. I allowed them to crucify me, and in your earthly language this is called a sacrifice. But this is an imperfect name, because when they sacrifice, they are deprived of something, but I did not lose anything. I have not lost the Love of my Heavenly Father. But for your earthly eyes it is a sacrifice. At that moment, there were 38% of negatively-minded plasmoid civilizations on Earth, in terrestrial plasmoid civilizations at all levels of Earth density. After I cleansed them through my crucifixion with my Light of Love, thanks to the fact that it was on the Cross, as a symbol of the four elements, negatively minded civilizations became 12%.

Maxim: When was this? When were they crucified on the cross?

Irina: Yes, when they crucified.

Maxim: So we need to crucify someone, or what?

Irina (Jesus Christ): But in 2000 years you have already surpassed the result, your earthly civilization has already surpassed the figure of 38%. Now 49% of Earth's plasmoid civilizations have a destructive orientation. It's almost half already.

My dear brothers and sisters! You and I are absolutely equal before Heavenly Father. I ask each of you to think about it! After all, the consequences of reducing the vibrations of the subtle worlds can reverberate with negative phenomena in nature for many decades to come, if you and I together do not raise these vibrations again. Now I can only do this by raising your vibrations, helping you to do this. But, if, after talking with me, after praying to me, after communion of my blood and my body, you begin to be offended, hate, fear and lower your vibrations, here I am powerless before your choice. Of course, I will accept this choice of yours.

1:08:12 Jesus Christ about the eternity of people's feelings and thoughts and their actions.

Irina: You say to God: "Why don't you stop the war?" Of course, God will accept your choice to destroy each other. This is your complete right. But because of my Love, Mercy and Compassion, I urge you to remember that every thought and every feeling you have will not disappear anywhere, they will remain in the noosphere of the Earth forever. Every thought you have is a manifestation of your mind, every feeling you have is a manifestation of your heart. And you forever leave a memory of yourself in the noosphere of the Earth, and these energies will influence all subsequent generations.

Please be sowers of good, be sowers of Love, like the sower of Truth whom I spoke about in my parable, which is contained in the Gospel. Think about the fact that your every thought affects not only you, but also the entire society, as well as all the generations that will come after. The load of negative energies and vibrations that already exists in the noosphere cannot disappear on its own; it can only be transformed into Light. But only you, who are embodied at the level of density that caused the decrease in vibrations of the noosphere, can transform it. Of course, all civilizations can help you with this. But only you can cleanse. We can help, direct our energies towards this, but only you yourself can effectively cleanse and transform into Light.

Therefore, I call on every contactee, every esotericist, every Christian to raise the vibrations of the Earth's noosphere and help others in this. I call on every contactee and esotericist, no matter what country he lives in, no matter what language he speaks and no matter what political position he adheres to. All this is temporary. I ask you, if you have access to an audience of people through your communication channels, to regularly conduct meditative classes for your followers to cleanse the Earth's noosphere.

I also ask you, if possible, to join forces with each other, regardless of temporary differences in opinions and contacts. This will set a good example to all your followers in reconciliation, in Love.

I ask all Christians to pray for peace between nations and for the softening of Spiritual hearts by rulers.

I ask everyone to pray for the health and preservation of the lives of all soldiers who are in danger, regardless of their nationality, language and other temporary circumstances.

I ask you to stop the flow of insults, curses and wishes of harm to each other, which I see every day in the noosphere of the Earth. I ask you to remember that you are intelligent and immortal Spirits, and that you are called to learn to love not only your own kind, but also those who are sharply different from you. This is the true meaning of Love, acceptance, forgiveness, filling with the Light of Love and help in spiritual development.

I ask the peoples of all countries of the Earth to unite and remember the common origin of their bodies from the 18 first people and the common origin of your Spirits from the Spiritual world and from our Source - Heavenly Father.

I wish everyone who hears my words now to remember this unity and manifest this memory in every word, deed and action in the material world in your incarnation.

1:14:13 Jesus about everyone’s responsibility before the heavenly Father.

Maxim: Thank you, Jesus! Thank you (reads messages in the chat) Here they write to Irina that the speech was delivered by both Putin and Irina, apparently, written by the same person.

Irina: Let's ask Putin now.

Maxim: Irina, I want to ask you to invite the person who writes all this to you to invite Vladimir Vladimirovich to our New Year in Abkhazia. And, please, personally with Vladimir Vladimirovich! We will be very glad to see him there.

Irina: Okay. I ask this person, who writes that I am saying the same thing that Putin is saying, to attend our retreat in Abkhazia. And I would also like to ask you personally: How should Jesus, in your opinion, answer so that in your understanding it would not be like Putin? And who? How are you? How about someone else?

Maxim: By the way, Vladimir Vladimirovich alone cannot end the war in one day. To do this, everything must be completed.

Irina: Everyone should, but he can’t do it alone.

Maxim: It is an illusion of your perception that someone can end the war in one day.

Irina: Jesus will answer this question.

(Jesus Christ) For me, Jesus Christ, as well as for Heavenly Father, the Spirit of Vladimir Putin, the Spirit of Vladimir Zelensky, Biden and all other people, and yours are absolutely equal. All these are Spirits who go through their lessons in one way or another. And they are not responsible for their actions before you, just as you are not before them, but before your Mentors, Consultant Angels and before Heavenly Father. You, too, are responsible for your choice not before them, but before that eternal Light that allowed you to see the Light of this sun on Earth.

Every time you wake up in the morning, you see the sun. Think about how many people on Earth did not see the sun that morning. They have already seen the Spiritual Light, the one from which they came. And since you still see the earthly light, then you were left in incarnation on this day so that you could increase your Spiritual level, and this is impossible without the help of others.

Maxim: Dear friends, if you like watching our channel, please like it. This will allow our channel to advance and be seen by other people. So subscribe to us and like us.

And let's move on. There are a huge number of questions.

1:18:04 Jesus about the path of Selbet’s return to the Interstellar Union.

Maxim: Jesus, please tell me, how did it even become possible, when the reptilians attacked us, to come to an agreement with them? How were the agreements negotiated? They actually destroyed entire planets. They, as terrorists, as I understand it, came and attacked all the planets. How did you manage to come to an agreement with the reptilians? What forces were involved? What actions have been taken? What subtle and spiritual structures were connected to this?

Irina (Jesus Christ): The Selbet civilization's cumulative choices after being expelled from the Interstellar Union allowed them to appreciate the state their civilization was in when they were part of the Interstellar Union. And after that they realized - not individuals on Selbet, but the entire people, almost all the inhabitants of this planet realized that they wanted to return to the Interstellar Union. And those rulers who built for them the image of an enemy in the person of earthlings and Burkhad only pursued their own goals and did not fulfill their tasks.

There was a change of power, that is, the majority of the people chose their representatives. And they took power (shows) not by military means, but peacefully removed those who were in power, because no one protected those former rulers who organized this war, and they ended up, in the end, on the planet of criminals of the Interstellar Union. And the new representatives of Selbet turned to Burkhad, as the capital of the Interstellar Union, with a request to annex them back. After a series of checks on the sincerity of changes in this society, this was done. That is, it was the choice of the residents.

1:20:39 Jesus Christ about periods of significant decrease in Earth vibrations.

Maxim: Another question. During these 2000 years, when was the highest level of destructive subtle-material civilizations found on planet Earth? And when was the lowest? The lowest, You have already said, was at Your crucifixion.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes, 12%.

Maxim: And when was the highest level of presence of subtle destructive civilizations on planet Earth over these 2000 years?

Irina: He is now looking at the Time Tape. During these 2000 years?

Maxim: Yes.

Irina: The highest level of negative plasmoid civilizations was (shows numbers) at the end of the eleventh - at the beginning (first quarter) of the twelfth century. On Earth there were 67% of them.

Maxim: Late 11th - early 12th century?

Irina (Jesus Christ): Because there was a lot of hatred, anger, because of this the crusades and the Inquisition began.

Maxim: I understand, this is the time of the Crusades and the Inquisition. Then everything was very strict: they executed people - they didn't ask.

Irina (Jesus Christ): Yes. There was also a decrease in vibrations when many immigrants from Portugal, Great Britain, and France began to move to the American continent and began to fight with the peoples living there. There was also a decrease in vibrations.

Maxim: Is this when the Americans began to capture Indians?

Irina: They fought and executed, as he shows me now, they even set villages on fire.

Maxim: They burned out the Indians. I understand.

Irina (Jesus Christ): And this also caused a decrease in vibrations, because, in your opinion, this was the destruction of nations. Since those peoples who lived there did not agree that their land was being seized, that is, there was a territorial dispute, and they were destroyed because they were weaker. And those who agreed to come under their state, under their power, were not even trusted, but were allocated plots of land inconvenient for livestock farming, hunting, for those forms of life to which these peoples were accustomed. They were not trusted and did not even want to be accepted into their society. Those who surrendered did not want to fight, even they, despite the fact that they surrendered to the mercy of the victors, humbled themselves before them, were still not accepted, rejected. There was such superiority.

And then there was a decrease in vibrations, when regions of the African continent were discovered one after another, and slaves began to be traded in large quantities (shows Irina the ships).

By the way, dear friends, I want to say that many of the founders of modern banks were the very same slave owners for whom these Africans worked for free, and they did not pay them anything. That is, their fortune was earned from the suffering of other peoples.

Maxim: (reads chat messages) On December 21, 2022, someone will move to 4D.

Irina, what can we, together with Jesus Christ, wish for that person who will definitely move to 4D on December 21, 2022?

Irina: In the 4th dimension?

Maxim: He simply writes: “We will move everything to 4D.”

Irina: Jesus smiles and speaks.

(Jesus Christ) To those who move to the 4th level of density, I wish bright incarnations in plasmoid worlds. But this is if the 4th level of density.

Maxim: Thank you all so much again!

Irina: Yes, thank you.

Maxim: Guys, I remind you: Irina Podzorova’s book “Diary of a Contactee” has been published. Order from Read-Gorod and visit our new website. You can also find this book in the “News” section of our website. We have a completely new website, we are preparing the “Multiverse “Cassiopeia””, where there will be a dating site, a forum, chats, exchanges, information, videos, and articles. The new site “Multiverse “Cassiopeia”” will be ready soon, but in the meantime you can watch its release “The Beginning”.

Don’t forget that we are hosting the First All-Russian Congress of Cosmoenergetics, where you can not only appear, but also establish yourself: with your programs, with your schools and students, come there and demonstrate your work. I am sure that the Gihor School of Cosmoenergy will be happy to register you so that new schools can also show themselves.

And, accordingly, from November 5th to 11th there will be a visiting event in Moscow, at our new Center in Domodedovo, where we will host from the 9th to the 11th in person. All other masters will be accepted from the 5th to the 11th with equipment, and training will take place from the 5th to the 9th in the very center of Moscow. All the links are under this video below, go and look, everything is there.

And as I haven't told anyone yet, New Year is in Abkhazia! But we will give information about this a little later. Therefore, everyone who is with us: the New Year's program will be simply crazy! This has definitely never happened in the sphere of esotericism. And it will not be like any retreat that the Cassiopeia Project has conducted.

Irina: There will be mainly practices there. A lot of practice.

Maxim: Practice, practice, practice, practice.

Irina: Minimum theory.

Maxim: Minimum theory, basically there will be many different masters, different healers. And I want to make it "all inclusive" so that you don't bother yourself with any extras. That's why I hugged everyone, guys!

Irina: Bye everyone. Thank you everyone.

Maxim: Bye everyone! Until the new Year! And see you in Moscow on November 5!

Ilya: Good afternoon, dear friends. My name is Ilya Alexandrov, I am a psychologist. Today I want to talk with Irina about such a pressing problem as addiction.

01:02 What does addiction mean from the point of view of our extraterrestrial friends?

Irina: Dependence is a state of a person's Spirit when he is unable to receive satisfaction from life and be happy without any factor (chemical, physical or psychological). At the same time, a person's inner gaze is usually directed at one thing in the material world and ignores all other opportunities for gaining experience.

02:10 How is addiction acquired? Does the Soul choose it before incarnation, or is it some kind of trauma?

Irina: When Spirits come into incarnation, they hope that they will complete all the lessons and rise in their spiritual level. But due to various environmental factors (genetic, social, family, etc.), a person can acquire various psychological problems. This is where addiction arises.

I want to immediately emphasize that a happy, self-sufficient person is not capable of falling into this state. Hereditary factors do not play a decisive role. With proper upbringing, addiction is not acquired.

This is a problem, first of all, in a person's worldview. He loses the feeling of inner Light. That is, this is a spiritual problem, not a psychological one.

04:23 Basic trust in life eliminates the possibility of addiction.

Irina: Trust in life is a consequence of feeling the inner Light within yourself. A person cannot trust life if he does not feel safe. And he cannot feel safe if he believes that he is a mortal body. Only if a person feels that he is an immortal Spirit, that God loves him and accepts him in any condition, then he feels safe, and he has no need to seek thrills in various substances or activities.

05:14 If addiction arises from a lack, for example, of love, then how is love expressed in ordinary life?

Irina: Love in a person's ordinary life is expressed in the fact that his environment, and especially parents when raising a child, treat him with love, accept him for who he is, and do not rigidly insist on their opinion, do not suppress the child's personality.

Suppression of personality in childhood, suppression of inner Light, freedom of choice is the main cause of addiction.

When a child grows up, when he has his own means of living, he seeks freedom in various substances. During the first experience of using a particular substance, a person remembers the pleasant sensations that he had. And if there is not enough happiness in ordinary life, he begins to desire this substance. Desire is primary. With frequent use of this substance, dependence is gradually acquired at the physical level, because the metabolism is rebuilt. The period of acquisition of addiction is very individual.

Despite the availability of psychoactive substances, not all people are addicted to them, although the majority of the population has experience using them. This fact suggests that the category of “dependent” includes people who have a special structure of character and Soul.

08:37 Are there differences between types of addictions?

Irina: The mechanism for the formation of various types of dependencies is similar in many cases. But there are individual differences, of course. The common thing in the formation mechanism is that a person sees the meaning of his life in one thing, although this contradicts the task of the Spirit in gaining life experience from all spheres of life. That is, addiction never meets the desires of the Spirit, the Higher Self.

09:54 Does addiction lower vibrations and destroy the Spirit?

Irina: Yes, of course. Any form of addiction requires time and money. Restrictions cause negative emotions in a dependent person, which does not contribute to either the preservation of his health or the development of the Spirit. This leads to degradation.

We must always remember that the world is diverse. To become dependent on any factor is completely wrong and does not lead to development.

11:00 Why are we dependent on our parents in the first year of life?

Irina: This is biologically determined. Because you have a lot of primate genes in your genes. Their cubs are also born in a helpless state. Unlike, for example, artiodactyls, whose cubs after birth are completely independent, except for feeding. Those genes that extraterrestrial civilizations added to your race do not affect faster adaptation to the physical world, since this did not meet the goals and objectives of the creation of man. It was believed that raising a rational Spirit in a family with a caring father and mother contributed to the growth of love and intimacy between them.

12:50 Did other civilizations have similar problems with addictions?

Irina: Yes, of course. There are civilizations with similar biology that can use various substances that change consciousness or the state of the physical body, for example, improving memory, etc. And such civilizations have similar problems.

Their governments handled this issue differently. Some - complete bans on certain substances, others - for the sake of replenishing the treasury from funds from the sale of psychoactive substances, allowed their partial use. The civilization of the Earth is following this path. If people did not have the right to change consciousness in this way, then this problem would be less. But this does not mean that other problems would not arise.

14:23 How do they cope with the problem of addiction on other planets? How can we treat this disease?

Irina: First, you need to understand whether the Spirit even realizes that it has such a problem. Maybe he considers his behavior to be the norm, that this brings him closer to happiness, and not to suffering. Then no form of violence will help or will help only temporarily. Depending on the character of the Spirit, this can only make him even more embittered. Even if you intimidate him, forbid him to take this or that substance on pain of death, this can lead to depression and cause addiction to something else.

Secondly, it is necessary to find the cause of the addiction. Which is impossible without contact with the Higher Self, and repeatedly, and over the course of several weeks. When a person begins to dissolve in the light of his Higher Self and receive advice from him, he will no longer need other forms of pleasure, especially those that destroy the body. He will begin to realize that the meaning of life is development. And if he destroys the physical body for the sake of pleasure, then he will not have time to do what he incarnated for. He will have a clear understanding of responsibility for his life.

I believe that the causes of addiction on Earth are materialism in the education system. When a child is not told from childhood who he is and where he came from. And they say that he lives to work, to have a family, and then... no one knows what then. And also the reason is insufficient responsibility for oneself and for those around. Responsibility is one of the forms of manifestations of love.

Your government is fully capable of adopting laws that will introduce appropriate subjects in schools, and in states an appropriate ideology that could be promoted through the media and books, about what true life values are, responsibility, about a person's way of life, who does not bring anything for the development of society and himself, but only consumes, he does not meet his spiritual goals. If we talk about this a lot, through different media, then, in the end, in a few years the situation will change for the better, even if psychoactive substances remain on sale. That is, in many ways it is a matter of education.

19:16 Do addicts have their own egregor?

Irina: Any group of people who are busy with the same thing and have more or less similar thought forms and desires have an egregor. Starting from sports societies to scientific, religious, etc. They have certain meetings during which they release energy by thinking about the same thing. This energy goes towards the formation of this society.

The egregor of addictions is located on the lower floors of the astral world, and its Guardian Spirits come from the demonic levels of the world of disembodied Spirits. Often these Spirits themselves had such a problem when they lived in the material world.

20:45 Does a person's psychological development stop when he systematically begins to take psychoactive substances?

Irina: This is a very individual question. It also depends on the conditions of the surrounding world. For example, if a 15-year-old teenager begins to use psychoactive substances, and at the same time he is supported by older people and is not responsible for his life, then continuing to remain in the support of his parents at a later age, he naturally will not acquire any significant responsibility and psychological development. If he leads an independent life, then in the process of adapting to real life he will have to grow up. Maybe not in the forms that people without this "disease" will have, but, nevertheless, he will be more developed and more independent than his peers who remained in the care of adults.

No matter how much this person strives to use these substances, the real difficulties that he will encounter will force him to overcome them.

23:01 Does psychology help in recovery from addiction?

Irina: Of course, psychological methods are one of the most basic in treatment. They are even more important than chemical methods of exposure. For example, causing unpleasant sensations from use, cleansing the body, which is carried out with medical means, is not as important as carrying out psychological work. But such a person should not be treated as inferior. We must always remember that if a person is already dependent, then he will not be able to cope on his own, willpower may not be enough, it may be suppressed during upbringing, in childhood. When parents do not allow the child to develop in his activity. If a child is required to obey in every detail, then this is a direct path to his future dependence on other people's opinions, on another person and, as the highest point of damage to the Soul, dependence on chemicals. Suppression of will helps this person control other people. All parents should remember that those people who will come across their child's life path may have different characters and beliefs. And if you have not taught your child to defend his opinion, even in an argument with you, then he may be easily suggestible from the people around him. The main task in education is to prepare a person for independent life without the presence of parents.

26:28 What happens to the Spirit when a psychoactive substance is introduced into the body? Are hallucinations real when using LSD?

Irina: Taking hallucinogens causes a sleep-like state in the brain. Only it is not accompanied by the body falling asleep. At the same time, the observed images resemble images from dreams.

What is the difference? Sleep is the separation of the astral body from the physical. And images in a dream are a vision in the astral world. Astral matter, substance has very plastic forms. And the Spirit, going out into the Astral, consciously or unconsciously, with its thought forms, often creates an environment around itself. And with its vibrations it attracts various creatures to itself. That is, if he thinks about someone, he can first create a thought form and then see him in a dream. And, attracted by his vibrations, entities can approach him in the Astral and interact with the Spirit under the images that he came up with.

When taking hallucinogens, the same thing happens, but without leaving the physical body. That is, a person temporarily acquires the ability to see the astral world, and at the same time, he also has the ability to create thought forms. The contents of his memory and subconscious become clear. Those things that he has long forgotten, but which remain in his subconscious, can be manifested in this case. However, he will not be able to remember where he saw or heard it. Beings attracted to its vibrations also interact with it in the Astral. It is very difficult to distinguish between the image created by your thoughts and external entities. This ability to differentiate comes with experience. Each entity has its own vibration.

As for the special sensations in the body of those who have taken a hallucinogen (expansion, contraction, sensations of several bodies, heads, etc.), this is a change in the perception of the body.

To obtain true knowledge about the Spiritual world, such experiments are meaningless. In this altered state, a person does not control this process, and his operational part of memory decreases, fixation amnesia begins, and all forms of mental activity are disrupted.

32:38 What effect do cannabinoids have on the Spirit? Does the state of euphoria when taking them bring you closer to the inner Light?

Irina: These substances change a person's hormonal levels. When the pleasure hormone is released, a person can feel a surge of joy and love. This does not always happen; everyone has a different structure of the nervous system and type of temperament. It may even depend on what the person ate before, or whether they ate at all.

Such effects on hormonal levels are also meaningless. The state of love for the world in these experiments is not natural, since it is not caused by its spiritual development.

In the absence of this substance, a person not only does not love the whole world, he is not even in an even and calm state, everything irritates him, thoughts of persecution appear, etc. All this does not lead to the spiritual evolution of man.

34:22 How much love should a child be given when raising him so that addiction does not arise in the future?

Irina: Love is not a measurable quantity. This is a feeling that releases the energy of life. Love should be sincere, not feigned. A loving person does not demand love or obedience in return for his love. Only then can it change a person's personality. The soul of a child, forming under these conditions, itself acquires the ability to love itself, others, the whole world, and God. She learns to enjoy her life.

If you taught this to your child, then you have fulfilled your task in that he will be protected from any kind of addictions and other problems.

36:32 If a child had psychological trauma in childhood, domestic violence, for example, are psychological methods enough to strengthen a sense of security? Or should we add sports, martial arts, etc.

Irina: The first need in this case is to forgive yourself and forgive the one who caused this injury. Feeling resentful leads to a loss of joy in life and the formation of addictions.

Sometimes psychology alone is enough, sometimes you need to add religion or sports. Everything is individual.

But a person must always remember that by accumulating grievances in himself, he takes the path of degradation. The task of a psychologist is to teach you to let go of your past and live in the present.

The global task is how to restore a person's lost sense of security. Without establishing contact with your Higher Self, this is impossible. After establishing such contact, a person realizes himself as an immortal Spirit. And no matter what happens to his body, he will believe that he will not die or disappear. This is the main guarantee of psychological well-being.

39:06 Dependency is not transferred from incarnation to incarnation?

Irina: Prerequisites can be transferred. Any dependence forms certain qualities in the human Spirit. For example, indifference to loved ones. A dependent person no longer pays attention to the problems his illness brings to others. He thinks only about himself and what is bad for him. The formation of selfishness, depression and a pessimistic attitude towards others has been identified in addicts by all psychologists. If at first a person was an optimist, then when addiction arises he develops suspicion, fears, etc. Importantly, under the influence of chemicals that suppress the will, the functioning of the mind is temporarily changed in such a way that the ability to self-criticize is reduced. And then, instead of a person's suppressed will, his instinctive programs begin to work to a greater extent. This tendency can be transmitted to the Spirit in subsequent incarnations. But this may not necessarily cause further dependence, but create prerequisites. And a person will be able to fight this. This depends on upbringing, on the ideology of society, and on the amount of Light and Love that he is able to feel in himself and give to others. The Light of Love cannot be contained within when it is there. The more a person gives it, the more he enjoys this process.

42:04 Working with teenagers. Most parents will say that they loved their child as a child. But some children still acquire various forms of addiction. What should parents pay attention to?

Irina: Of course, parents can feel love for their child, but each person understands this love differently.

The very first thing parents should pay attention to in order to understand whether their child will become dependent is his desire to understand the world, to work, and to improve himself. And not for simple entertainment to take up time that has nowhere to go. If there is such a desire to understand the world, it means that the Spirit feels the inner Light. If such processes are boring for a teenager, this means that his energy system, structure, is already configured to receive pleasure through the body. In the future, if there are no adjustments in upbringing, this can lead to addiction.

Adjusting parenting means having fairly frequent conversations with a teenager about the meaning of life, his future profession, interests and life, and plans for the future. Ideally, parents should teach their child to connect with the Higher Self. Then the child would be able to ask the Higher Self about his goals and objectives and receive the strength and energy to accomplish these tasks. Then nothing can lead him astray from this path, no external temptations of this world.

If parents suppress the child's will (so-called tough love, education), it will be difficult for him to fight addictions in the future. But to prepare a child for independent life, school is not enough. The child receives knowledge about practical life from the family, from friends, from relatives and from the media.

Any parent wants to teach his child his love and wishes him happiness in life. And the happiness of a child in his later life depends on how much he can love himself and those around him. When a child grows, he absorbs information about norms of behavior from the world around him, adapts, and adapts to the world. And if parents want their child to adopt their experience and attitude to life, it is they who should have the most conversations with the child. If communication with a child is limited only to school matters, without talking about the future, without explaining to him all the nuances of adult life, he will be faced with aspects of life unknown to him. If not from parents, then the child will receive experience from friends and the media.

50:00 Are there stages of a child's formation and development at which parents need to pay special attention to him so that he does not become dependent?

Irina: The human psyche is very plastic. It can change. This is a feature of the incarnate Spirit as opposed to the disembodied one.

Of course, it is better to develop trust in life in a child as early as possible. From this trust other beliefs will be formed.

But if this did not happen in early childhood, there is always time for improvement while we are alive in this body. Even if an adult does not love anyone, his work on himself can change everything. We know of such cases when a drug addicted person who regularly uses opiates, when the addiction was on a psychological, physical, and spiritual level, being surrounded by people who believe in God, hearing a sermon or chant, in an instant sees his inner Light, enlightenment is coming. And from that day on, he no longer uses any substances. He no longer considers it necessary to relieve the physical suffering that arises in him from stopping use with drugs, perceiving them as something he deserves and must endure. It develops aversion to drugs, even to the point of disgust. That is, a person's life can change very quickly.

53:23 Dependency on a spiritual level - what is it?

Irina: This means that a person does not experience happiness in ordinary life, and happiness is a spiritual feeling.

#51 Representatives of the Esler civilization about art on their planet, questions from the Cassiopeia group

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/predstaviteli-civilizacii-ehsler-ob-iskusstve https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sRhjhdWjsdg

00:10 Introduction of participants.

Olga: Good afternoon, dear friends. My name is Olga. I am the moderator of the Cassiopeia group. Today I am glad to see Irina, Larisa, Maxim and our alien friends. We have gathered to talk, and I would like to ask questions from our regular participants about culture. Questions not only about our earthly culture, but also about the culture of other planets.

Maxim: Hello everyone, my name is Maxim, I am helping Irina.

Irina: My name is Irina Podzorova. I have been a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations for 20 years.

Aunika: My name is Larisa Nazarova. I didn't know that I was a contactee. I write music. My spiritual name is Aunika, given to me by initiation, which emits healing vibrations, attunes subtle structures. Music comes to me from the subtle plane of another civilization. I came to visit and met my supervisor personally. His name is PiosNior. He began to answer my questions. In recent days I have been in close contact with him and am learning to keep in touch.

Maxim: I would like to add. PiosNior from the planet Esler. He and MidgasCaus know each other. PiosNior began his contacts with Blavatsky and the Roerichs.

Olga: Very interesting. Thanks for the introduction. Our alien friends, greetings.

Maxim: Today PiosNior will answer your questions about art. On his planet he is an art critic. Through Larisa, he transmits high sound vibrations to Earth in the form of music to purify and harmonize space, so that human civilization reaches a new level of awareness.

Aunika: He says that sound in our space has a quick relationship and works directly with space. I have a very high speed of interaction with space through sound, through sound vibration. We are in attunement through high music. I didn't know what a contactee was. I just hear the music and try to convey how I hear it with the instruments I hear. This is a violin, cello, flute. This is exactly the sound to convey as I hear it.

I think that many people here are conduits of high art, be it poetry, poetry, paintings or music. This all comes from different planes, we are the conductors who carry this vibration to the Earth, and it takes form.

Maxim: We are not just guides, but implementers of this art and, through ourselves cognizing this art, we bring it to the world.

04:12 Types of art, music on Esler. The role of the vocal processor in creating sounds. Attunement through streaming singing.

Olga: Can I address PiosNior as “you”?

Irina: Yes, of course.

Olga: Thank you. Question from our group “Cassiopeia”. Are there any types of art on your planet? If so, which ones?

Irina: On planet Esler there are several types of art that are also known to you. These are literature, painting, architecture, music and what you call “image-building.” I am an imagery specialist. We consider it the most important art form from which all others emerge. In your language this will be called something between philosophy and rhetoric.

Olga: Thank you. Is there music on Esler? Does it look like the one on earth? Is it possible to listen to her?

Irina: Yes, we have similar types of music, types of musical sounds. A variety of Spirits incarnate on your planet, including those from Esler, Shimor and Burkhad. Humanoids who occupied the place of artists on our planet. They bring images from their planets into their subconscious memory and embody them in possible ways.

Most similar to Esler's is vibrating and slow music such as oriental or Turkish. (He shows me).

Aunika: I use partly a vocal processor for vocals, because our vocal apparatus does not allow us to create the sounds and smoothness of sound that a computer smoothes it out. Therefore, by tuning the vocal processor, I can convey with my voice those overtones that I hear in the sound of the voice that is leading me, and I hear myself singing there. It is impossible to convey with an earthly voice the structure of the voice, how it flows and vibrates, the transitions. There are practically no breaths, and when I sing, it will be inhalation and exhalation, which means there will be a stop. The vocal processor allows you to most accurately and subtly convey that singing, that pattern of harmony and sound vibrations that are repeated through syllabic singing. Those sounds and that pattern of harmony convey light “keys”, matrices that convey images.

PiosNior is a specialist in image transmission, that is, how an image can be transmitted through music, through sound. And then an attuned, high-vibration person can receive through music thought forms, thought images of precisely this space, these attunements. I see them in the form of geometry, in color geometry. And, both in geometry and in color, each time there is a key repetition of seemingly the same words, similar to harmonies, but they are different in their interpretation and improvisation. Therefore, there is not a single similar key. If there is a square of four harmonies, then there is never a stream of singing that is repeated in the same way, and then I cannot repeat it. There is a very subtle attunement through streaming singing. If I manage to record it right away in the studio, I won’t be able to pick up and copy the keys later. This will be improvisation and new keys to these harmonies.

Irina: The Cassiopeia group already has recordings of Larisa’s songs.

Maxim: We will definitely post it.

Aunika: Messages are coming now. If these images are filled with music, a relationship of figurative acceptance is obtained, and there is dense communication for two days. We received instructions to convey the message, make music along with the video, and Irina will translate these texts and keys into Russian. We have a visualization plan, one that would translate this music into language so that people can read what the music is about, what the message is, and what is being conveyed to us.

11:04 The difference between the sounds of Esler's music and earthly music. Musical instruments on Esler. Hearing organs and vocal apparatus of Eslerites. Filter for the perception of music by contactees.

Olga: Is there music on your planet like we have: instrumental, choral, vocal. Violins, flutes, cellos. Do you have something similar?

Aunika: I got distracted by the keys. But I hear more classical music. These are cellos and violins. Very beautiful harmonies. In the database of musical sounds, sometimes I cannot select or find those violins and cellos that play in space there, because they are more flighty, lighter, more beautiful. Drum violins, which sound in sound banks, are much heavier and rougher. If I need to pick up a violin that has a light, delicate, subtle flying sound, it takes me a lot of time to flip through the sound bank to find even a similar violin.

There it sounds more voluminous, more beautiful, but here there are created instruments, violins, cellos, wind instruments that are able to somehow convey the subtle plan.

Olga: Thank you. I understood. That our instruments cannot reproduce the light flight sound you hear. Are there instruments on Esler that we have on Earth? Or do they have a computer or electronic one?

Maxim: Do they have technical tools for transmitting music?

Olga: Somewhat reminiscent of our earthly ones. For example, violin, cello, flute, because it is a very easy flying sound.

Irina: Most of the instruments you know are divided into strings, keyboards, winds, percussion and other forms. We have almost no percussion instruments.

Aunika: I almost never hear drums, they immediately carry a different vibration.

Irina: They don’t look like drums, more like...

Aunica: Percussion. Very easy rhythm. Shaker.

Irina: Percussion. They are cracking. We rarely use them. We mainly have strings and wind instruments. There is a combination of them.

There are devices that imitate the sounds of singing...

Aunika: That's why I immediately got a vocal processor.

Irina: Not only Eslerites. Why do we have music, and there are no exact analogs of your instruments, because our organ of hearing is structured differently, it perceives higher vibrations of sound, which are inaccessible to you. More than 25 thousand hertz are inaccessible to you, but we can hear about 75 thousand hertz.

Aunika: Tell me about the voice apparatus.

Irina: Our performers who sing songs have a different body structure. That is, our vocal cords are designed a little differently. Those notes that you know will sound different if an Esler player tries to reproduce them. It won't repeat your sounds. Your singer will not repeat ours.

Aunika: It is impossible to convey smooth singing. It's like a tool.

Irina: And ours won’t repeat it.

Aunika: Here on the earthly plane, I have to use a vocal processor. It came to me along with the microphone. At first I didn’t understand why. But over time I understood.

Maxim: That is, to harmonize sound, you need a sound processor that increases vibrations and energy to transmit this sound.

Aunika: There are certain overtones that the vocal processor gives. For us they turn out “tasty” to the ear. When I sing through a vocal processor to add overtones and just with my voice, it's different vibrationally.

Irina: The matter is complicated by the fact that we need to study your music, sound, if they don’t bring samples of your music to the Interstellar Union, physical recordings, then we can do this through contactees. There is no air in the Astral and the sounds made by a person or a musical instrument cannot be heard. Being next to a contactee who has a chip installed, and he listens to your earthly music, mentally contacting, we can perceive not the sounds, but how he perceives them, and passes through his consciousness. Therefore, the same music, a song that will be listened to by two different contactees, will be read by us differently, since it passes through the filter of their perception and depends on the contactee's attitude to this music.

18:30 Music notation on Esler and its difference from the earthly one. Choral music and opera art, profession "singer" on Esler. Theatre, cinema and dance, painting, drawing and sculpture at Esler.

Olga: From the answer I understood that your musical notation is different from the earthly one **.

Irina: We have symbols for recording music and sounds, but it bears little resemblance to yours. I have already said that we have the ability to perceive sounds, both towards high and towards low. Greater range of perception. What you call notes, we have 27 such icons. Instead of seven. And they combine with each other.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. A question. Do you have choral music, like we have opera on Earth?

Irina: Do you sing in choir and do you sing without musical accompaniment? We have such forms. Opera art is sounds that stretch and vibrate more developed than ordinary singing. We sing in chorus. When any beings sing in chorus, the resonance of their voice increases, and everyone can transmit their energy.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Tell me, PiosNior, is there such a thing on your planet as concerts when people gather? This is very popular with us. Classical or opera music. Is there something similar?

Irina: I have a profession as a singer. Anyone can come to it. He himself can visit other planets of the Interstellar Union, representing Esler.

Olga: Are there theaters on your planet?

Irina: Role-playing and stage games, cinema and theater are not as developed here as you are. It is very difficult for an Eslerite to play the role. He plunges into it due to his sensitivity and finds it difficult to get out.

Olga: I see. This means that this is only our earthly prerogative, because theaters and cinema are developed. Does such an art as ballet exist on your planet?

Irina: This is a type of dance. For us, dance is movement to music that conveys a state of feelings and energy. We don't have such a form as ballet. We have forms of movement to music. Group or single. The music is different.

Olga: Do you know art painting?

Irina: Yes, of course. This is directly related to images, to the visual perception of reality. We believe that through painting one can convey information about the Spiritual world and its laws. Painting can cultivate a moral sense, just like music. One of the main tasks of art in Esler is not just the entertainment of the viewer, but the spiritual development of the viewer.

Olga: Do you also have painting on Esler?

Irina: Yes, too. This is what children are taught. Those. Who wishes.

Olga: Do you teach children, just like we do, in schools and colleges? Do they draw with paints or pencils? On canvas? Or do you have similar tools?

Irina: There are analogs of your chemicals. They paint with paints. But this is becoming a thing of the past. Nowadays they draw more on... (he shows the screen in space) They change colors. Like a computer. (He says that this screen is separated by an electromagnetic field). It can contain rays of different colors, which are obtained by changing the spectrum of the beam. Translated into earthly language - a spectrograph. Draw with a spectrum.

Aunika: We now have such boards for children.

Irina: They don't have a board. It is created in space. Glows with a bluish light.

Aunika: Like a hologram.

Irina: They can be big and small.

Aunika: Also our own new technologies.

Olga: Very interesting. Thank you for your reply. Do you have a concept of sculpture?

Irina: Yes, this is a form of fine art, but it is in the past. Now the paintings are more developed. Rarely does anyone engage in sculpture these days. It is believed that sculpture is a frozen form and most modern inhabitants of Esler are interested in changing form. I was talking about a holographic drawing device. It allows you to make changes at any time by opening the screen.

Maxim: 3D graphics, 3D modeling defeated sculpture (laughter is heard).

26:30 Fashion, clothes and shoes on Esler.

Olga: Tell me, is there such a thing as "fashion" on your planet?

Irina: How do you understand?

Olga: This refers to the outerwear that people wear. They change it constantly. There is always something new: new colors, new patterns. Every season.

Irina: Is fashion a specific movement in your culture?

Olga: Yes.

Irina: I don't remember similar forms. With us, each person is individual and chooses what she likes in terms of clothes, music, books. Do you have fashion not only for clothes, but also for cultural phenomena?

Maxim: Where do you buy clothes or sew them?

Irina: Robots do it.

Maxim: Do robots make clothes in a factory?

Irina: Yes. This is done automatically. Automatic machines deliver materials.

Maxim: Who makes the patterns for them? Each Eslerite orders his own clothes separately, which are made by robots or you have...

Irina: Yes. Can be ordered individually.

Aunika: So they don't attach much importance to fashion?

Irina: What one person likes does not necessarily have to please another. If someone appears in society wearing clothes that the whole society does not like, no one will think of saying anything, because that is his right. I have been studying your culture for a long time, so your question does not seem strange to me. Most Eslerites would not understand what we are talking about without studying the Earth.

Olga: What does clothing look like on planet Esler? T-shirts, jeans, dresses. Could you describe it in more detail?

Irina: Our clothes cover the whole body and fall down. Something similar to your robes, with badges, without buttons. Like capes, robes with wide sleeves, hoods, collars. Loose fit. To make it convenient to move.

Maxim: So that everything is ventilated.

(Laughter)

Olga: I see. PiosNior, do you have shoes like we have on Earth? What do you wear on your feet?

Irina: Yes, but it is more monotonous than yours. We don't have sudden climate changes like you do on the planet. We had such differences. After we entered the Interstellar Union, with the help of its technologies, we moved our planet a little closer to the star and placed it in a stationary orbit. This allows us to have a mild and warm climate in almost all corners of our planet, except for the poles, where researchers or those interested look.

Most live in warm climates, so we don't have a variety of warm and lightweight shoes. The only variety is in shoes for men, women, children, and the elderly. In color and shape it resembles (he shows me) high boots without heels. Light boot.

Olga: Women on Esler don't wear heels like on Earth?

Irina: (he says) This is uncomfortable and harmful for a person, because all the bones of the skeleton occupy an unnatural position, although the feet should be straight. Because they are raised constantly, and not for one or two hours, the spine begins to deform. (He's showing me now). The higher the heel, the longer a woman walks, the blood circulation and conduction of nerve channels are disrupted. We do not see the advisability of using this type of shoe.

Olga: Are the shoes made from animal skin or is it a synthetic material? Like clothing: do you use synthetic material or are they natural plant fibers?

Irina: We don't use animal skin for shoes, there's no need. We have a mild and warm climate. Shoes and clothing are made from synthetic materials and plant fibers, including those brought from other planets. We can exchange materials, clothing and shoes with other planets of the Interstellar Union. We can fly to neighboring planets and acquire all this there and bring it to Esler. We have an open area. This is not prohibited.

Olga: Thank you for your answer. Any natural fiber fabrics you like? What we produce.

Irina: In what sense do you like it?

Olga: Silk fabrics from the silkworm and linen fabrics are very popular here on Earth. Unfortunately, the recipe for making fabrics from hemp fibers and nettles has been lost, but this was the case three hundred years ago.

Irina: We do not attach importance to the material from which the clothes are made. This is a matter for specialists and historians. The manner of dressing can show the historical period in which people or Eslerites lived.

34:49 Applied arts and home decoration, books on Esler.

Olga: I understand. Are there any types of applied art on the planet? Do you make anything with your own hands? On Earth, girls love to knit, sew, and make things from natural materials. Do you have something similar?

Irina: Clothes, sewing, knitting are all done by automatic machines. Maybe someone is doing this at home, but I don't know that women or men are doing this on a broad level.

But everyone can draw something, write or sing, study literature, but we don't make things with our hands. Maybe for myself from materials from other planets. I studied the assortment, there are not even such materials.

Olga: Do you decorate your home on Esler? Here on Earth it is customary to do this: vases, paintings, napkins.

Irina: At home we have paintings of views of nature, space, other planets, portraits of family members. Walls and furniture can be painted in different colors, figurines made of stones, metals, alloys. But it is rather like a memory of some significant event.

Olga: Interesting. Thank you. Are there any novelists, science fiction writers or other writers on your planet? Do you like reading books?

Irina: Our books are similar to yours, but smaller, and have a different shape, longer. They fold up (now showing). There are writers. There is scientific literature, philosophical literature about the Spiritual world (you would call it religious), fiction in the genre of realism (in your opinion).

Description of life on Esler or travel to other planets. There is a genre you call "imagination." Something that a writer can take from the experience of his past lives or a description of his astral travels to other worlds. Something that others have not seen on Esler, but he describes his experience. What you call fantasy on Earth reflects not only dreams and fantasies, but some past experience of the writer, either a real incident, or a past one, or his travels in the Astral.

We do not distinguish this from reality. What a humanoid or a person wrote is real for him, which means it has ever taken place. The Reasonable Spirit cannot invent something that has not happened to it. He describes his experience.

Maxim: Everything we can imagine exists. What we cannot imagine does not exist for us.

Olga: Got it. Thank you for your reply. PiosNior, are you familiar with the work of Russian poets? Pushkin, Blok, Nekrasov?

Irina: When I was studying to become an art historian and specialist in contacts with earthlings, I studied culture, history and your form of literature. I don't remember these names, but I got acquainted with your poetry.

Olga: How do you evaluate our poetry? Like?

Irina: Yes. What I studied was translated into Eslerian. There were not just poems, but explanations from our linguists and psychologists about why this image was created. Your poetry is connected to the perception of your reality. Poetry is a very individual art form. Depends on the feelings and emotions of the poet himself. I realized that the images described in the book of this or that poet or prose writer on Earth are very individual for him. This happens to all writers, no matter where they live.

42:16 Physical exercise, swimming on Esler.

Olga: Does sport exist on Esler like on Earth?

Irina: We have classes for physical development of the body, maintaining muscles, immunity, and health. There are no competitive competitions; they distract from the spiritual work for which every Eslerite incarnated. In case of victory or loss, it does not cause the highest vibrations in the winner or loser.

Olga: If your planet is warm, are skates and skis unfamiliar to you?

Irina: We have a warm climate, this is not developed here. We have physical exercises (shows a group of earthly people, they perform inhalation and exhalation movements).

Aunika: Taijiquan. Chinese.

Irina: Can be combined with dancing.

Aunika: Dancing movements. More related to energy and statics.

Irina: This is accompanied by breathing and imagining images. We believe that when a person moves and breathes, and is accompanied by images of his healthy and full body, then this image connects with the physical body on the etheric level. And causes changes in vibrations.

Aunika: That is, work at all levels.

Olga: I saw smooth flowing movements in taijiquan classes associated with breathing. This is already their way of life.

Are there lakes or oceans on your planet? Is swimming developed in your country?

Irina: We have reservoirs, both artificial and natural, in cities and other populated areas. Large bases have artificial ponds. We go swimming, it improves health and strengthens the body. We are used to warm water.

46:48 Metabolism of Eslerites. Communication with animals on Esler. Communication between earthlings and animals.

Olga: Are there fish in your reservoirs, and do Eslerites have a love of fishing, like our men?

Irina: We evolved through natural evolution from those animals that ate exclusively dairy and plant foods and only occasionally found bird eggs. We do not have an enzymatic system that can digest animal proteins into the form of amino acids. You didn't have it in the first place either. The Tumesoutians and Burkhadians changed after the war in order to adapt your body to the changed conditions on the planet.

Representatives of Burhad have a metabolism similar to ours. 5% of the genes of the inhabitants of Tumesout were added to you so that you could digest animal protein and became omnivores. Before this, all people except the experimental groups ate milk and plants. In the experimental groups, a gene was introduced that was responsible for enzymes.

Since we cannot digest animal protein, hunting, fishing, and animal husbandry are not developed in our country. Doing it for fun is a waste of time. We live in harmony with animals, domestic and wild, and can communicate with them at the level of thought forms. Many residents of Esler are sensitive to this. Animal Souls embodied in bodies are able to communicate at their own level.

There is no need to catch them. Approaching a pond and sending a mental impulse, fish swim. Children feed fish (sent an image of a child feeding pigeons).

Aunika: There is a subtle connection. The animals are safe and out.

Irina: Their genotype does not contain fear of representatives of an intelligent species.

Olga: On Earth, the military conducted an experiment with dolphins. They communicated on a telepathic level and asked to carry out commands. My teacher was on this team.

Irina: Before the war, you had such an era, people lived in nature and communicated with animals. Consciousness was dissolved in nature. People often communicated with plasmoid civilizations - Spirits of Nature. People had a keen sense of animals and birds. When they switched to modern food and began to hunt, some hunters sent birds to hunt.

Olga: Hawk hunting is still popular here.

Irina: The one who sent the hawk was in mental communication. In the mind of a human hunter there are pictures of a bird flying.

52:58 Disconnection from the image in an actor's performance. Energy of classical music of the Earth. Composers are conductors of Light. Group plant Soul.

Olga: PiosNior, what would you like to transfer from our art and culture to your planet?

Irina: I'm still interested in your experience in cinema and theater. That is, due to the fact that your brain is structured differently, and the structure of the rational Spirit manifests itself differently, you are able to play many roles and disconnect from the image. We had attempts to perform a production based on the book, but we have a different brain and different energies, our Eslerite begins to believe in this and live this role, and in his personal life he begins to consider himself the hero of the production. If he doesn't believe it, it's difficult for him to play. I consider it useful to introduce this experience into our art. Teach Esler children so that they too can disconnect.

I submitted this proposal to our art meeting. We have a state body for culture. Department of government among earthlings. They do not have a government, but a community.

Olga: It's nice that you would like to adopt this type of art from earthlings. Do you like classical composers: Shostakovich, Mozart, Bach, Verdi, Puccini, Rossini? Their music has remained for centuries. She is loved.

Irina: I don't remember the last name, but from what I heard, I liked a lot. In terms of energy, they are similar to the music of the Eslerites, Shimorians, and Burkhadians. That is, different civilizations. The smooth sounds and images that came were light. They, too, were conductors of Light, like our composers.

Classical music has high vibrations.

Aunika: Classical music has very high vibrations.

Olga: These high vibrations, as I understand it, affect your structure?

Irina: What enters consciousness through the organs of hearing affects perception and attitude towards the world. If music awakens bright feelings in a person or an Eslerite, then he tunes in to high vibrations and in life sees more Light and Love in himself and in others.

Olga: Our scientists are conducting experiments on the influence of high vibrations of classical music, in particular Mozart, on plants. Are such experiments being carried out at Esler?

Irina: We do not need to do such experiments, we know that the group plant Soul is embodied in plants. All living things respond to increased vibrations by accelerating their metabolism. For plants - an increase in green mass, increased immunity to various diseases, increased aroma of flowers. The weight of the fruit and its nutrient content increases.

Aunika: Everything smells fragrant from these vibrations.

Olga: I sing when I work in the garden, which means I'm doing it right.

Irina: Through the contactee, I see your great experience on other planets. Your subconscious part knows this.

59:05 Reading information from the subtle plane. The attitude of an Eslerite towards earthly films and cartoons. The spiritual world in Esler's education is the fundamental basis of the material. Training in astral travel at Esler schools.

Aunika: Many techniques are transmitted to us from the subtle plane. Contactees read physical laws from the subtle plane, which they are able to understand and convey, materialize, transform and explain. It's the same in art: the artist depicts some kind of abstraction, he draws a subtle plan. Also in music: it comes from different vibrational planes. More classical high-vibrational music comes from the higher spheres. We accept and conduct, materialize. People associated with art of various kinds are guides to the physical world, to our planet of what already exists.

Olga: PiosNior, do you like any of our films or actors? How do you perceive this type of art?

Irina: I am familiar with films through contactees who watch these films. So I'm watching too. I like your good science fiction without scenes of violence. I like the film that was released in the USA, E.T. About a boy who, secretly from his parents, saved an alien who was in a catastrophe. A very good film. ("E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial" is a 1982 science fiction film directed and co-produced by Steven Spielberg)

Olga: Are there cartoons for children on your planet?

Irina: (Drawn pictures. I handed them over) No, we don't have that, just like we don't have films. Children will not watch these cartoons. They're not used to it. Children learn about nature and human communication through books. When they go to school, they are taught that they are incarnate Spirits. They learn to go to the Astral.

Olga: They don't teach this in our schools.

Irina: I already know about this. It was difficult for me to imagine what they teach in your schools. What is your concept of education? For us, the Spiritual world runs like a "red thread" through all training, and it is the fundamental basis of the material. At school and in the family they teach that every child is an incarnate Spirit who came with a specific task. To show children that they are Spirits and not bodies, teachers teach to perform astral travel. If a child is interested, he goes to a society where they teach this more thoroughly. At school, children acquire primary skills. They won't be interested in cartoons. It is important for the Incarnate Spirit to show that it can separate from the body.

Once the incarnate Spirit has this experience, he will approach life differently. He will set spiritual priorities in life.

Olga: Our main thing is to teach reading, writing, and counting. And then various sciences: chemistry, physics, biology.

1:04:21 Training in “energy security” on Esler. Understanding the artist's energetic state on Esler. The priority of Eslerites is spiritual development. Figurative perception on Esler. Differences between images in books and films.

Irina: We have training in writing, reading, science. We place emphasis on natural sciences rather than technical and mathematical ones. Mathematical calculations are done by automatic machines. There is no need to teach this to children. We focus on the development of the arts, creative thinking in children, and energy sensitivity. We explain to the child that around him there are different forms of energy beings, including plasmoids. They often begin to communicate with children, just like with your children. Due to children's perception, they are heard better.

We are surprised why your authorities do not introduce such a subject as “Energy Security” into education. When you raise your vibrations, you will communicate with good kind plasmoids, Spirits of nature, who will teach you goodness. Lowering vibrations with fear, irritation, anger, resentment towards parents and other children will attract angry low-vibration beings who will provoke you to release negative energy, because they feed on it. These are the basics and they are explained to children.

Olga: We don’t want to admit that alien civilizations exist. Education is based only on material development.

Irina: For us, materialism is a passed stage. Emphasis on spiritual development. Including in schools.

Olga: I would be glad if my child studied at Esler. Knowing my own experience as a child, I understand what it means to communicate with plasmoids. Hear and see them.

Irina: Art is also studied at school from the point of view of the Spiritual world. When looking at a painting, we try to feel the energetic state of the person who painted it. His picture of the world. And so, studying any work, literature. All this is woven into the educational program. The study of art cannot be without studying the Spiritual world. Every Eslerite knows about this.

Maxim: When we open the Center for Spiritual Development, we will create a program that will correspond to Esler's. We do not have the opportunity to teach the Spiritual world and spiritual art in schools, because our world is material. The maximum that churches have done is that they at least somehow convey religion and the Spiritual world. We have a society of consumers and materialists. Until everyone understands that the Spiritual world exists, we will not be able to build another society.

Olga: Does hairdressing exist on Esler? Do you do anything to your hair or not? Makeup? Do women wear any type of makeup? Eyelashes or lips?

Irina: Like the issue with fashion. The way you dress and decorate yourself is individual. Cosmetics are mainly brought from other planets. Historically, such an area has not developed in our country. For centuries, while developing their spiritual qualities, the inhabitants of Esler, for the most part, did not have such a consciousness as to direct attention to the physical body. This is a different level of vibration, a different level of awareness.

If an earthly person begins to devote more time to his spiritual development: love, patience, humility, spiritual and energetic feeling, the material world and the material body become less significant for him. His attention is focused on another world. This is a natural ability of consciousness wherever the Spirit is embodied. Everyone decorates themselves the way they want. Basically, all the products that Eslerites can use for their hair are brought from other planets.

As MidgasKaus said, you do not have the subject “Imaginal Perception” in your schools. MidgasKaus and I were surprised. We teach our children when they see a visual image or an image described in a book, what kind of image it is, who created it, and what it leads to: Light or darkness, raising or lowering their vibrations. The highest vibration in this world that Spirit can feel is the vibration of Love.

By the word “Love” we mean not what is called “eros” in Greek culture, but what is called “agape”, that is, unconditional pure Love.

Olga: When we read a text and a certain image arises in a child, in Soviet schools they asked us to retell the image that arises in us. This is not currently in the program. Nowadays children don't read books. According to the literature, people are asked to watch this film. Then you will write an essay on it. Images do not come to the child's mind. He has already been given images through video.

Irina: (He speaks) The images of films differ from what is given in books. The child in the film will see not the image given in the book, but the one that passed through the consciousness of the director and actors. Several actors will play the same role in different ways. He will let you pass through the prism of his perception and attitude to life, his vibrations and energy. All this will influence the child’s perception. A child from a film may not understand the image that the writer intended.

Olga: I sincerely thank the contactees, our friends, who talked to me and gave amazing, voluminous answers. Our group will be very interested in learning and listening to all this. Many thanks to MidgasKaus and PiosNior.

Irina: I thank you too, and we convey greetings to you from our Cassiopeia group and from the Interstellar Union.

Pop-up comment: And, as always, a little interesting at the end...

Maxim: On Esler, women don't need to attract men. Everything they do is out of love. When they find couples, I talked to MidgasCaus, they don't understand what it's like to just have sex. They can only have sex out of love: when two people find each other and connect on an energetic level.

They don't understand us: how can we have sex without love.

Aunika: I hear him say, "For us it is more an energetic act of connection than physical contact."

Maxim: Heels are not needed there. Heels make your legs look slender so that someone will pay attention to them.

Pop-up comment: And now the answer to the most asked question in the group...

Olga: What do I need to do to be a contactee? On a mental level.

Maxim: It's more convenient for them to land in their heads.

Irina: If there is a request for contacting, you need to communicate with the Higher Self and test yourself for energy sensitivity. I will mentally carry out energy manipulations. Let's see how you feel. Is your sensitivity enough without a chip? If not, they will check your energy structure to see if it can be supplied. If you don't go to the Astral.

If you go out, everything becomes easier. Come out and get the information you write down. This is astral contact.

For astral, telepathic contacts, permission from the Interstellar Union is not required. The person and specialist who will be in contact decides. You must match their vibrations.

#52 Bindings, portals, connections, regressions, contacts: conversation with ufologist Erekle Shonia

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/privyazki-portaly-podklyuchki-regressii-kontakty https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sWLB5l-1KDc

00:00

Erekle: I am a ufologist from Georgia, I have been involved in anomalous cases since childhood. I welcome you to this meeting. Greetings Larisa. Is she with you for the first time?

Maxim: Yes, Larisa came to us from Moscow. As soon as we determined that she was a contactee, we immediately decided to connect in order to build and set up our interactions and further contact.

00:41 Is it necessary to artificially interfere with a person's thoughts, in his psyche, to interrupt any contact, to put a person into regression?

Erekle: I wanted to ask Irina. What idea do your friends have: should a person artificially interfere with a person's brains, thoughts, or the potential that is invested and waiting for its time?

Irina: Greetings to everyone, dear friends. My position on the issue under discussion is that one really needs to be very careful in interfering in the human psyche without knowing the laws of the work of the Spirit. For your earthly materialistic science, the norm is that consciousness is generated by the brain, by neural connections in the brain. But the eternal Spirit does not exist, since its existence has not been proven. If so, then its goals and objectives during incarnation are not taken into account.

Therefore, you need to be very careful, not knowing the laws of the life of the Spirit, and try to interrupt some kind of contact with a person. If this is a regressologist, then try to break some kind of binding, without even knowing why it was formed. Even if this is a destructive civilization, in the sense that it takes more energy than it gives to a person, we must always remember that perhaps not only civilization itself is to blame for this. Perhaps the reason is that the person himself does not perceive the energy that is given to him due to the difference in vibrations. Therefore, without trying to somehow balance this contact, for example, with a plasmoid civilization, there is no need to try to break off anything. Because, as Maxim correctly noted, this is temporary. If you do not close the portals, the bindings will return again. To close portals, you need to be able to detect and close them. Not everyone even knows that they exist. Even if the portals are closed and the bindings are broken, but the person does not change his negative vibrations, because of which these bindings were formed, then there is no guarantee that the negative energy he releases into space will not attract creatures from the world of disembodied Spirits. No longer plasmoids, but disembodied Spirits of the first six levels. They act much more harshly, because there will be not only pumping out energy, but direct control if they can influence a person.

Maxim: That is, the problem is that, having cut off some kind of connection from a destructive plasmoid-type civilization and even closed the portal into which all the negativity that a person projects merged, it is possible for a low-vibration spiritual entity to come to this closed outflow. It [will be] much tougher than the attachment that this person had.

Irina: Yes. This is about breaking off the bindings. Regarding regression, my opinion is that regression, as a memory of past lives, can be carried out, but with caution. We also tell Irina that when people appear who want her to perform regression on them, not to do this without the permission of the Higher Self of this person - the part of his spiritual structure that is not embodied. That is, do not try to do this without asking the Higher Self: is it possible to do this. Even if permission is received, then ask the Higher Self to show you the life that will be useful for development.

Erekle: I also think that you need to look at a person whether he is ready or not for change. If he is really kind on the outside, but internally is not ready for the experiment, even then you shouldn't do it. If a person, as Irina said, does not change all this for good or, for example, is not ready to do this, then you should not do this and give knowledge to this person.

Irina: He also asks to say that if this is a binding of plasmoids that are negatively disposed towards people, it can be interrupted only if it could not be balanced with a person. If a person feels that he cannot be harmonious with it, then it will be possible, by asking permission from the Higher Self and asking about the reasons for such a connection to this civilization, only then will it be possible to break it off. Or even just ask your Higher Self to do it. The Higher Self from the Spiritual World can send such energy that can burn these attachments. It is imperative [to] check the apartment or house for the presence of portals. It is advisable to do everything in one day - both the binding and the portal, so that he does not spend the night there with the binding disabled, if it was not possible to harmonize the person.

06:51 About disabling chips and specialist scammers.

Maxim: I have a big request to everyone who can hear us. If someone told you that it is possible to turn off your chips and the energy structure that was installed by much more highly developed civilizations, please do not believe these people. You'll just be wasting your money. Chips installed in people can be disabled and removed only by those who installed them.

(text) And I would like to add... Chips are different - real, ethereal, mental, astral... Chips can block other highly developed civilizations of the plasmoid and humanoid types, with which you have established contact and interaction through the harmonization of your structures.

Erekle: My dears, who are watching us, do not believe people who tell you that they will cleanse you. No one will cleanse you if you yourself do not change internally, if you do not change the vector of your thinking and behavior that you have. Because these situations, “I will take it upon myself, I will cleanse you,” are a real bluff. It’s just that the subtle world in which people exist is not easily verified, it is not felt so easily. You can fall into the hands of scammers who will promise you to clear your karma for a certain amount, etc. This does not exist if the person himself does not change.

Maxim: Yes. I also want to add a very serious thing. In order to get more money out of you, they must scare you so much that you yourself want to give it away. That is, when you come to supposedly a specialist who detects bindings, chips, problems in your energy structure, immediately think about what kind of specialist he is and why he identifies only negative things.

When people come to Irina, we are very careful about all the connections and all the moments that supposedly bother the person. Because you absolutely correctly said, no one except a person can help him to rid him of his mental images, behavior, actions that he produces in space. Only after realizing that this problem exists in the person himself can one apply the help of a specialist at the energy level. But, most importantly, you need to understand that you need to change yourself. If you yourself do not change, if you do not change your attitude towards life, towards people, if you do not change your negative attitude towards space, then no specialist with a magic pill will help you.

Irina: MidgasKaus, Raom Tiyan and Pios Nior just arrived.

We all ask you to be very careful with professionals who charge prices for services. Precisely with specialists who work with the Spiritual world. The very fact of assigning a certain fee for services related to the Spiritual world may indicate that this person does not trust God himself, the Spiritual world. That is, he puts a price on his Spirit, his light, which he sends to people. He confuses two concepts - material and spiritual. When you hear about this, be extremely careful about what this person says to you. If a person does not prioritize the spiritual over the material, ask yourself questions: what will he see from me? How interested will he be in seeing the good?

(text) We have nothing against specialists in the field of psychology, regression and other fields earning money from their sessions. We urge everyone to be careful about those specialists whose task is to intimidate people, allegedly through working with the Higher Spiritual Worlds, promising a magic pill for all problems and diseases.

Maxim: This is what we will “bomb” now if we post this video, Erekle. Now all the regressologists of all Rus' and all Georgia will take up arms against Erekle Shonia, Maxim Sergeevich, Irina and Larisa. They will say: “You’ve all gone crazy there.” They will now anathematize you. All those who make money by intimidating people. They try to save them [from their problems] by giving them a magic pill, without explaining to people that the whole problem is in the people themselves.

Erekle: There will have to be some kind of compromise, that, say, you can pay for a visit or for time. And those price lists that “clean karma” and so on [are not acceptable].

12:04 About payment for work with the Spiritual world. Is it possible to evaluate Light in monetary terms?

Maxim: I absolutely agree that you should really charge for the time you spend. The time is not with working with the Spiritual world, but with working on the physical level with a person. Massage, acupressure practices, consultations with a psychologist - this, I believe, is work on the physical level. And here we mean that the question is about those who will work on your spiritual level: to deliver you from demons, to enlighten you in relation to different structures, to give you the opportunity to walk into past moments of incarnations. No, I agree that a person spends time in order to lower a person into this structure and do everything. But here the specific question is to be more careful with those people who work with the Spiritual world and charge some kind of payment for this work.

Konstantin: Eight thousand rubles minimum in Moscow. Usually 200 dollars, 12 thousand rubles per hour of regression. From one to two hours, this is the price list.

Erekle: The worst thing is when they don't know what they're dealing with. When the so-called client has a request to stop contact with various forces of the universe. Some people promise to stop contact and interfere with the connections of the universe. They interfere with some kind of responsibility that sometimes lies with a person not only in this life, but also in past lives or in the life of that spiritual entity, that spiritual chain that he represents. Nobody knows why and how you can take all this and cut it off. You can't cut it off. For the wages they earn, they cut it off and block it. Nobody has the right to interfere.

(text) Only the person himself can correct KARMA (acquired action), having realized what the reason for this KARMA is. And this is part of the tasks of the incarnate Spirit in this incarnation. KARMA is being accumulated even now!!! Only charlatans and those who do not understand the meaning of this program can fix it (work it out) for you.

Irina: MidgasCaus will speak now. Now I will explain a little about our position regarding fees for spiritual services. The point here is not that a person takes money for the time spent, but something else. When a person sets his own price, and not people give him as much as they see fit. When people give themselves, by this fact of his work he shows that he completely trusts God with his material support. If he trusts God completely, his vibration rises. They allow him to see what those who do not trust God do not see. And if he already decides with his mind how much a person should pay for this light, which he received from another Spirit, [then he is wrong]. The spiritual world, Spirit, Light cannot be material. It cannot be assessed by the person himself in monetary terms. It can only be appreciated by those who received it. Because the one who gave it can give it in a certain vibration that he himself feels. And the one who received it, how much he felt it, depends on him too. How pure he himself is. Therefore, the one who begins to evaluate his purity, light, his divinity, divine nature by any material things and, saying that: “For this amount, during this time, I will give this much Light,” is to confuse two different concepts.

Support from people is considered absolutely normal, because, naturally, everyone understands that this person also needs to live in the material world. Here he did not evaluate it himself, but left it to God’s discretion, so that God would send people to this man who could support him.

And if a person says that “I will communicate” and “give you light” - this is not just the work of a psychologist, as was said, but work with the Spiritual world. For example, viewing the aura, various sessions of communication with the Higher Self, astral travel, etc. Everything that is connected with the Spiritual world is not recognized by your science as a fact. This is all that esotericism and religion recognize, but not science or psychology. That is, two points need to be separated.

If a person sets a certain price for answers, for questions, for the Higher Self, or for anything else, without saying: “At your discretion,” this fact suggests that he simply does not distinguish between the concepts of spiritual and material. For him, Light is the same product as in the store that he came and bought. And if he is not able to distinguish between these two concepts, just think about what he can see in your Soul. Is it the same as what you have or what is in yourself?

Erekle: What is he focused on?

Maxim: Here. I call it: relay (translate - translate) through the awareness of the one who presents it all.

Aunika: This information is needed for everyone.

Maxim: Kostya, ask a question. Sorry for interrupting you.

18:59 Is there a civilization of hermaphrodites?

Konstantin: Irina, what will your friends say about the civilization of hermaphrodites? Is there really such a thing?

Irina: Only in the form of hybrids (drawing on the screen). There are various experimental forms in the Galaxy, and not only in ours. Indeed, there have been such experiments when two sexes were combined in one creature. But they crossed with such a form of living beings as insects, in earthly terms. They most often have developed hermaphrodite. Again, they crossed genes. They took genes that were responsible for having two types of reproductive organs in one body. There were such experiments.

19:56 Physical, astral and mental contacts of civilizations with earthlings, including with military structures.

Konstantin: I know that civilizations are also making physical contact with military structures. What are these forces? What do they call these forces?

Irina: Any physical contact cannot occur according to the rules of the Interstellar Union without its permission. Therefore, no matter what position a person is in your society, there will be physical contact only if he matches the vibrations and agrees to it. If he is interesting to the Interstellar Union, for example, for his character, psychology, etc., then we contact him, wherever he is, whatever rank, rank or position he has in your society.

Following the rules of the Interstellar Union, we do not send the image of other contactees to our contactees without the consent of contactees, because they may not agree with the dissemination of this information. For many, contacts occur secretly.

Konstantin: So, basically, these are telepathic contacts, or astral ones, right?

Irina: There are also physical contacts, but there is a more strict approach to them. In the sense that permission from the Interstellar Union is needed. And, for example, for astral or mental contact, permission from the Interstellar Union is not required. All that is necessary is the person's consent, his ability to perceive these vibrations, go to the Astral, for example, or mentally receive information. Also the consent of a specialist from the Interstellar Union who will work with him. And the consent of the Interstellar Union is not required, because it is not physically necessary to take a person. You don't need to send a spaceship to it, you don't need to put a radar detector there to avoid detection by your military, etc.

22:14 How does plasma knock out gravitons?

Konstantin: Question from a subscriber. How does plasma knock out gravitons? Raom Tiyan had a question.

Irina: It won't be easy to knock plasma out of gravitons. It needs to be heated to a certain temperature under a certain pressure. It is necessary to create a vacuum in the graviton chamber and place not just any substance there. To do this, you need to take a tetravalent element, most often carbon or silicon. In the form of a jump. Place it in the graviton chamber of the engine, in which a vacuum must be created. The closer it is to absolute vacuum, the better gravitons will be knocked out. Then a plasma field will need to be directed into this graviton chamber. Plasma is on the physical level, and energies are also created there. We call all this a plasma field. To create it, you need to take certain proportions of hydrogen and helium, 70 and 30%, respectively, mix them, heat them to a temperature of 7 thousand degrees Kelvin. Under a pressure of 15 earth atmospheres, direct this into a graviton chamber. Only then will the process of releasing gravitons begin.

Another important condition: if you do it on Earth, without isolating yourself from the Earth's gravitational field, then nothing will come out of you. Or whatever comes out will just immediately connect with the Earth's gravitational field and you won't achieve anything. Such an engine is turned on already in outer space, I mean, in free space. The minimum distance from a planet with a mass similar to Earth is at least about 80 thousand kilometers. Otherwise, the gravitational field of the planet will prevent these gravitons from being released. On our ships we fly away from the planet with the help of special engines, which are called planetary engines. They work on the principle of repulsion from the magnetic fields of a planet and attraction to the magnetic fields of other planets. They do not reach speeds greater than ⅛ of light speed. Therefore, naturally, interstellar flights on them are practically impossible, because it takes a very long time. We use them only within star systems for travel between planets. And we don't even turn on planetary ones right away, because it can be harmful to the magnetic field of this planet where we are located. Moreover, if there are living beings there that will be affected, for example, by magnetic storms, etc.

We take off from the planet using a third type of engine, called atmospheric. It works on the principle of shielding from the gravitational field of the planet. An electromagnetic field of a special configuration is created, which shields our ship from the gravitational field, and it takes off vertically upward. Then we begin to lower or increase the intensity of the gravitational field, and at the same time surround our ship with a protective plasma field. You usually see this as large glowing orbs around our ships. We surround it with a field because, firstly, it protects the ship from collisions with various small objects in the air or with birds, etc. And, secondly, and even more important, since we have an intra-atmospheric engine turned on, the gravitational field in the ship should be the same and not change during sharp turns, even though we are quickly flying up or down. So that the gravitational field does not change, there is no inertia, no overloads, nothing like that, we store a uniform gravitational field in the plasma field.

27:01 Is the residual field at spacecraft landing sites harmful to humans?

Erekle: We noticed that at the landing sites there is no radioactive radiation that is familiar to us. We noticed that gravity and time change there. In these places, pulse and metabolism increase. How do they themselves understand, know, imagine this residual field in the seats? Is it harmful to humans or not? How to interact with him?

Irina: Yes. Really. It also depends on the power of the ship's engine. Therefore, we are sending a small ship to contactees, to whom workers of the Interstellar Union fly on a permanent basis. We usually don't give specialists who constantly fly in for physical contact, like Irina, a powerful ship so that it doesn't change anything. A small ship is easier to shield from radars and is more maneuverable. If it was a large ship, then it could have really powerful gravitational radiation, as I already said, which could change [certain] energies. Between our material world and the Spiritual there are energies that separate these worlds from each other.

Erekle: Some kind of layer of energy.

Maxim: Something like an astral veil, this type of energy.

Irina: Approximately, as you call it, more approximately, a torsion field. Shielding from the planet's gravitational field can change it and influence this layer. Then gravitational and time processes that are familiar to this space may occur differently there. This is only if the ship was powerful. But if a person is at the landing site of any physical ship from another planet, he there feels the influence of not only gravitational changed conditions. The fact is that we, aliens, in your opinion aliens, have a different energy of the etheric, astral bodies, etc. We visit [Earth], go to the surface. A person arriving at a landing site feels the residual effects of our vibrations. Therefore, I repeat that we approach physical contacts with earthlings with caution. Because even the residual vibrations of our physical and etheric bodies are unbearable for some people. They feel unwell because people are simply not ready for these vibrations. They are not that higher or lower than yours, they are just different. We are from another planet, we have a different sun, different food, etc., we just have different vibrations. Gravity is different, magnetic fields are different, and so on. Then the whole energy of our body is different. Therefore, we cannot physically take everyone on board the ship, just so as not to harm them.

31:23 Prospects for answers to questions from ufologists.

Erekle: Irina, we can then, say, collaborate with you and your friends on some technological solutions, their technologies, or on the creatures that walked in our space. Who they are, what function they perform (shows the picture). Here is one creature that walked among us during contact. Here is another creature, which is a military type (next picture), which carries out some orders. Now, about the satellite (third picture). Let's say, it will then be possible to decipher some technical drawings, data from there, or the same life forms for which there is an identikit.

Maxim: Erekle, you can ask any questions. We've already done some decoding. There is a point: they will give us the information that we can accept according to our level of awareness. In order not to disrupt our evolutionary processes and understanding of what technologies we can now use. Some of the creatures we see there are actually in the etheric, astral or holographic planes. Many, even thin-material plasmoid civilizations, can take on any form that will be associated with the person himself.

Erekle: Of course. I'm just not looking for a view of who it is, but full functionality.

Maxim: It will be possible to ask, and we will receive the answers that we can get.

33:38 Music by Aunika. Impact on human vibrations.

Erekle: Irina, you can ask what internal function does Larisa have?

Larisa: This is to Pios Nior or Raom Tiyan.

Irina: To transmit to Earth our idea of art in the form that she writes music and sings songs. She conveys what I convey to her, because she has such an energy structure specifically for the song. As I have said many times, our art is not aimed at entertaining those who watch it, but for spiritual development. So any music she writes raises a person's vibration and puts him in touch with his Higher Self.

Larisa: Among other things, this translates into high vibrations, demolishes those filters that exist in the vibration of this space. By and large, this is a very large, high-vibration work being carried out. It's like a quantum transition, from one vibration to another. If you listen to this music, it contains keys and transitions. It has not only a color scheme, but also geometry. Each key is non-repeating when singing a stream chant. On the same harmonies, the combination of sounds that are keys is presented differently. These keys are not the same when repeated.

Erekle: Is that you singing? Are they singing through you?

Larisa: Yes. I hear this female voice, for me it is a female voice, a little ahead of me and it seems to me that I am singing like that. Just at the moment of transmission, this vibration can be transferred to the human meridional system. Representatives of earthly civilization have a system of meridians through which, as a structure, an energy current flows. In this flow, precisely in this channel, they say that it is possible to transmit exactly this vibration to the water. Its cells transmit vibration, and one cell is structured with another cell. There is a vibrational transition to increase, to high vibrations. Human perception even for food becomes different. Not only the perception of consciousness, but even the taste buds change in high vibration.

Erekle: Larisochka, you have contact with aliens. The aliens came because even before that you [had the ability] to communicate with the angelic world. Sometimes, if your speech or intonation changes, you should not be surprised. The truth speaks through you. You need to communicate more with people, free yourself, turn off logic more often and give the Higher powers the right to act through you.

Larisa: And I had a few déjà vu several times throughout the broadcast. Some moments seemed to make their way into the program. That I already clearly know how you sit, your face - this is what I have already seen. I have been shown more than once how I take this music to the mountains and sing there. I see mountainous terrain. How sound travels in this area, travels very far, so we make it so big. At this moment something happens with activation. I don't know if I can say such things on camera.

Maxim: Yes, everything is already possible. After what we have said here, we can already say everything (laughs).

Larisa: (laughs). Yes. With the activation of these places to increase vibrations. The Earth itself is like a living organism. Now the time has come that she needs to raise her vibrations point by point through the channels. She, as a living organism, is also having a hard time now; she is in transition. We must help each other. This sound also gives such attunement, that is, it is a connection between the physical and the metaphysical, subtle. I see myself singing somewhere in the mountainous area. I hear how this sound diverges, how it all interacts and works. I'm holding my head now because I received this information five years ago. They tell me that they will be participants in this process and observers, including what will happen at this moment with those people who will be present with that miracle. For some, this will be a completely extraordinary sensation of energy processes and global change. This is an expansion of consciousness. Miracles, like physical phenomena, that will happen there before their eyes. Hang in there. This is for surprise.

39:21 Georgia is a place of power.

Erekle: I want to say, not because I am Georgian, or not because I advertise something, but Georgia is the same place of power, or maybe even more so, than Tibet. She's just not properly promoted. And even now, when we are trying to drill something in development and so on, so on. We don’t know the price of Georgia, we make facades, roads, etc., but the true price is the spiritual and energy information part. These are shrines. And therefore, who, let’s say, will go on this tour, right?

(text) We are planning to organize a very interesting “contactee conference” in Georgia with visits to places of power and UFO landings. You will be able to communicate directly with our interstellar friends and other contactees. The planned time is from May 1 to May 7. Look out for more detailed information in the VK group in April.

Not only good wine, people, facades, roads, sea, etc. The main thing here is to feel the energy. Georgia will give a powerful charge of some kind of energy to these people, that this is a contact that occurs on a subconscious level. It will begin to develop little by little. Therefore, I wish all our friends that they can go with us to the mountains, to holy places, to places of energy. To places of power, where people have gone since ancient times, where later women who did not have children experienced an internal change, and they became fertile. Or places where people recovered their health, places where people met with some unearthly races. You can see, feel, touch and listen to all this. If there is an opportunity for you there, Larisa, to sing and resonate with your fields. Or bring people there who perform polyphonic Georgian music. And there you, the person who feels it, can sing with them. It will, of course, be very interesting to listen to all this.

Such streaming singing is spontaneous singing that will occur, be carried out at the moment.

Maxim: In general, I, Erekle, have a great desire to climb a big mountain and still show off my vocal cords. Do it like this: “Ege - ge - geeeey! Forget your ego!” (laugh)

Erekle: This is our national pastime.

Konstantin: Erekle, please tell me this legend you told me about.

Erekle: We have an anecdote, a story, that when God was giving away the Earth, the Georgians, as always, were late and came last. Because they were partying and didn’t run to this distribution. God thinks: “Well, what should I give them?” And they invited him to the table, said a toast, drank, sang well, and philosophized. God thought: “I will give them the most secret things.” And he gave a piece of the Earth that belonged to him. This is our belief.

True, whoever goes to the mountains with us, lives in the mountains, feels this closeness, this holiness, incomparable to anything.

43:29 Some interesting moments while recording this video...

Maxim: We found a friend of MidgasCaus here.

Larisa: Hello!

Maxim: Name is Larisa. Her curator is Pios Nior, one of Irina's curators, from the planet Esler. And Larisa has a friend of our curator Pios Nior, he is an art critic. She is engaged in art with us, writes very interesting music and, accordingly, conveys vibrations in the Eslerian language with her voice, already growing old in contact, in the channel. We have added art critics to our team.

Raom Tiyan is with us today, Pios Nior is Esler, LiShioni is with us today - this is Shimor. MidgasCaus will come later.

Konstantin: Do you know what questions can be asked? Erekle studied at a theological seminary to study the Spiritual world. His father recommended it to him.

Maxim: Did Erekle graduate from theological seminary?

Erekle: The Pedagogical Institute, we had such a faculty.

Maxim: What faculty?

Erekle: Faculty of History. My specialty: history, religion and Christian culture.

Irina: Wow.

Maxim: Wow, that's cool.

45:08 About a sense of humor and ease of perception of information.

Erekle: Do you know what I want to tell you? I have accumulated over the years. I used to try to be such a dry scientific worm. Here we need absolute freedom, we need calm. This matter doesn't need any serious face, we need to enjoy life. A scientist [should be] more humorous and light. No heavy phrases or words are needed in reality. In reality, in what we do - communicating with other worlds, studying them - we are convinced every time that other worlds also have a very strong presence of humor.

Larisa: Yes. We just caught this now when we talked with Pios Nior. Before this video, we all laughed very hard. He even said that this is a very interesting vibration for me too. I'm catching it now, and these days I'm saturated with it. She is quite unfamiliar to me, but I, being a pedantic, serious creature, I, he says, am also learning to easily perceive information and communicate with you. We just talked about this, and now this information is duplicated.

Erekle: And, plus, I also want to say that when contacting other worlds, with something Divine, something good happens. A feeling of inner love, happiness, calmness, humor. This is a feeling that cannot stand serious thoughts, faces, these indicators, some tests, etc. Whoever you communicate with, both on YouTube and on channels, my personal request is that you smile and be free, as you always are. In some of your [videos], you sit there like pioneers because of something. Be more relaxed. Whoever should accept from you some piece of knowledge or something good, he will accept it anyway. Therefore, to you personally, Max, thank you from me, from Georgian ufologists.

Because such a tandem, when the contactee is very vulnerable, pure, like a child - such a person needs a second, understanding person who can, first of all, protect such a person from some attacks and from serious mentors.

Maxim: Yes. A small, clean contactee can be protected by a big, dirty man. (laugh)

Check out all our latest videos. At the end I lay out all the ins and outs, how we laugh, how we make fun of these crazy people who write to us in the comments: “What are you smoking? What are you drinking? What are you injecting? Where is your earphone? Where will they put it?” We're just laughing at them already, you know?

Erekle: That's right, keep going.

Maxim: Yes. It’s hard to explain to a person who has an earphone in his butt that we don’t have earphones (laughs).

48:47 About the role and objectives of the Cassiopeia project.

Erekle: You are now saying something new, offering people something new. You offer how you experienced the world, you show the truth. Because of this, you are now taking the entire blow upon yourself. Not only you, but also other contactees, who sometimes also appear on YouTube or on TV. Therefore, it must be protected. This is Light, this is a property, this is something that if a person applies this, then any country will be head and shoulders above other countries that do not have this entire understanding. If this knowledge is applied in medicine, in science, in education, in agriculture, it will be wonderful.

The point is that if they exist (and they exist, we already know) different worlds, then they will have the same thing: science, religious ideas, agriculture, and applied art - everything is there. There are industries that are ahead of us, let's say. We can learn something from them.

Maxim: I want to tell everyone. We are not a sect for people to understand. We don’t demand money from anyone, we don’t take it, we don’t write any programs. We, in fact, carry that knowledge, that Light, which is already given in any other books. We simply, uniquely, now harmonize and systematize this knowledge, because it is scattered everywhere: somewhere in religious literature, somewhere in esoteric literature, somewhere even in fantasy literature. We are now harmonizing it all, uniting it and letting people understand that this is already a completely interesting, conscious world. And this is all real.

Erekle: Of course. Well done!

50:47 About the transformation of negativity.

Maxim: The information that is given is more or less structured, it can be accepted. And when you give people pure information, especially when in contacts and everything else, they have so much anger, resentment, hatred. Especially lately, people think that someone is capturing them, enslaving them, that is, there are some problems. I tell them all the time: “Guys, in order to capture us, extraterrestrial civilizations would not have to make any effort to do this. With their technologies, with their capabilities, we are for them like an anthill that can be dug out with a shovel.”

Erekle, I’ll tell you honestly, for me this is a kind of specific learning process. Previously, I would have responded to so much negativity with negativity. Now, when I hear negativity addressed to me, or negative comments, it even makes me smile a little. For me, this is also a process of correctly restructuring myself in relation to the correct perception of the world. Because, indeed, 80-90% of people live in negativity. In order for me or Irina, or Larisa to somehow carry this positive, we need, despite any negativity that is pouring in our direction, to continue with a smile and pleasure, to tell and carry what we do. Therefore, for me this is also like a school, a definite lesson. I’m learning to rebuild it correctly, learning to make positive moments out of negativity, I’m learning to protect myself from this negativity in such quantities. That is, for me this is a good school, when we came out, they saw us, and we begin to more or less somehow protect and build ourselves up.

Erekle: Therefore, in such a period, Max, not only prayer is sometimes needed, but here we need awareness of the same Christianity, in our case. In another case, say, among Muslims in Buddhism, etc. Awareness and use of this as instructions: how to act, how to think, what choices to make in order to be in harmony with yourself, the Divine and the environment.

53:11 About the possibility of uniting religions.

Maxim: As I understand it, the problem even in understanding what is happening is the inability of religious confessions to unite, structure themselves and provide all the information in the form in which it really exists. I understand perfectly well that religion is built in interconnection and harmonization with the state system. But, I understand for sure that in order for the process of awareness to take place on the entire planet, all religions need to harmonize and make it clear that all religions are talking about the same thing. Everything else that happens is, accordingly, the development of the physical world. But there is also the Spiritual world. Each religion may have different terms, different concepts, different attitudes towards this, but everyone talks about the same thing.

Konstantin: In Erekle's homeland there was King David the Builder, if I'm not mistaken, who went to church and to mosque, that is, he supported everyone, everyone loved him. This is during the 12th century, if I'm not mistaken. He was truly a unique person of that time. Nowadays, unfortunately, there are only a few such people.

Maxim: We come here, we have the task of growing and developing our Soul and Spirit. And it cannot be said that these billion people believe incorrectly, and we, 450 million, believe correctly. This is also not possible. If a million people belong to a certain religion, if they understand it, get along and are happy, then it means that this religion definitely exists so that they can be happy there.

Konstantin: Yes, that's right.

54:54 About the meaning of life and love as energy.

Maxim: That is, all the information that now exists is carried mainly through the construction of negativity. I understand perfectly well that 80% of people are embittered, they lack something. They really don't have enough love. Many people don't even understand what love is. Some perceive love as sexual relations between a man and a woman. That is, some do not understand that this energy builds many moments in our lives. This is the total energy of joy, happiness, pleasure, enjoyment of life and much more. Many people don't even understand what the meaning of life is. It is about accepting everything that happens around you. And the more you accept this, the more love you bring into what surrounds you, the more you, accordingly, build the place in which you feel good, in which you will be happy.

Absolutely right, I agree with Maxim. Indeed, everyone is telling us, according to the training manual, 60% of true information along with 40% of false information. All this discredits any question.

What's most interesting is that you understand that those who carry this 40% of supposedly untrue information are confident that it is true in their opinion. Through the prism of one's perception, even having reliably received information in contact from those higher powers that conveyed it, 40% of distortions are added by oneself. And they believe in this distortion because they have no other idea, because they are distorted inside. They do not have that pure love, joy, happiness that is really necessary to carry this information. Why do they say that a person must be light? In order to transmit through themselves the Light that they carry. Those we come into contact with; those who try to present us with the truth; those who bring us religions here; those that truly bring us that Light of Divine Love, which absolutely all religions talk about, but in different ways.

Look at the number of regressologists on the Internet who find ties and try to cut them off. They do not think at all that these bindings can be energetically built channels from past incarnations. These could be channels that saturate people and help them build exactly this contact, which, for example, Irina has. That is, we can say through regressologists that a very large number of contactees have attachments. And for some reason, regressologists are trying to cut off all the connections. They do not understand at all that a person whose connection has been cut off has a portal at home due to his connection with these civilizations. And the fact that they took money for what was cut off, and left the portal at home, and they left the opportunity to continue making this connection after exiting to the Astral.

Irina: And that means working again and adapting to it again. And it will be even worse for him.

Maxim: Yes. That is, they cut it off, and the binding begins to adapt to it again. The person starts to feel sick again for a week or two or three.

Lately we have been faced with a really huge number of contactees who sit at home, don't tell anyone anything and think that they are slowly going crazy. In all seriousness, people call, and, what's most interesting, they have contacts not with just one civilization, but with plasmoids, humanoids, and the Spiritual World. Just today Irina was holding a reception, and today one contactee was already leaving. Yesterday one contactee, the day before yesterday one contactee...

Erekle, please tell me, is Georgia already waiting for us to visit? We have already adjusted our fins to Georgia.

Konstantin: We are waiting for the video to come out. In principle, I am ready to advise everyone on Telegram on how to travel, what tickets to take. A low-cost airline flies there, I found out everything. We need to ask people who is ready to travel by bus for 24 hours or who is ready, relatively speaking, to take tickets through Prague, through Minsk. We need to clarify the information. And maybe from May 3 to 4 go to the mountains to this hotel. And the rest of the places, who sent them there, are old buildings of alien civilizations. We can visit these megaliths.

March 08, 2020

Participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Maxim Rusan - head of the Cassiopeia project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

Erekle Shonia - ufologist;

Aunika (Larisa Nazarova) - contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Konstantin - organizer of the meeting;

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist, specialist in alien life forms;

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interactions with the material world;

Raom Tiyan – representative of the planet Burhad, specialist in energy interactions in the environment;

PiosNior is a representative of the planet Esler, an art critic, a psychologist, a specialist in the transmission of sound vibrations for the purification and harmonization of space.

#55 Aliens from the Interstellar Union about coronavirus (2019-nCoV)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/inoplanetyane-iz-mezhzvezdnogo-soyuza-o-koronaviru https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wRPn5rpFUFc

00:11 Greetings.

Irina: Greetings, dear friends! Today, our interstellar friends and I decided to give you information about the emergence of a new strain of coronavirus, because this issue worries the whole world. We decided to give our assessment and indicate our position on this issue.

00:36 Greetings.

Maxim: Great. As always, I'm with you, behind the camera. My name is Maxim, and I will ask questions. Irina, who is with us today?

00:44 Presentation.

Irina: MidgasKaus from the planet Esler, as a biologist, psychologist and researcher of alien life forms. He specializes in the study of intelligent alien life forms, but as a biologist, he also studies microbiological life forms. That is, he underwent specialization training, including in microbiology, because this is part of the ecosystem of the planet where he works. In this case, it is planet Earth.

LiSioni is present here as a specialist in the astral world and energy interactions. He, too, can tell a lot about his position regarding the spiritual root causes of this epidemic, since what is happening on the physical plane of planet Earth is only a reflection of the processes occurring in the Spiritual world.

01:40 How does coronavirus affect humans?

Irina: MidgasCaus answers. I will say from the point of view of the physical body. Its effect is very similar to that of the influenza virus, parainfluenza, adenoviruses and other forms of coronaviruses, since it belongs to the family of coronaviruses, which are found among humans and animals. Its action is similar to these viruses, that is, it causes symptoms of damage to the upper and lower respiratory tract. Myocarditis and the addition of a secondary bacterial infection are also possible. This is especially true for people with reduced immunity, which include the elderly, children, and patients with chronic diseases, especially the respiratory and cardiovascular systems. This includes those suffering from bronchial asthma, angina pectoris, and those who have had a myocardial infarction. Also at risk are people with various chemical dependencies: alcohol, drugs, nicotine. Especially those forms that affect the respiratory system, as they weaken local immunity.

The more weakened the immune system, the easier it is for the virus to break through the natural defenses in the respiratory tract, consisting of mucus. Therefore, I urge you not to rinse your nasopharynx often, especially with saline solutions. If you're healthy, this washes away natural mucus and makes it easier for the virus to travel deeper into your respiratory tract. There is no point in doing this if you are still healthy. This preventive measure will not help. Having washed away the viruses present in the nasopharynx, you are left without the natural protection of mucus, which contains lysozyme, which kills many microbes and viruses. It takes time for this film to form again, and you can easily catch a new virus right away.

We'll talk about prevention methods a little later. I told you how it affects the body and who is at particular risk. Also, these are people with cancer; people who have recently undergone surgery; recently had radiation exposure; all types of immunodeficiency conditions, including AIDS; other infectious diseases - tuberculosis, syphilis, etc. These people are at risk.

05:11 Why did his appearance cause such panic?

Irina: LiShioni, we are interested in knowing your opinion.

Several factors were at work here. The first is the factor of surprise, that is, the new virus appeared suddenly and began to spread quickly. The properties of this virus have not yet been studied. When scientists isolated it from patients, they realized that they were dealing with a new virus, which was unclear how it would behave in the future. Any virus has the ability to mutate due to very rapid reproduction in an infected cell. The faster the division, the more copies of the virus with altered RNA. With rapid copying, errors in the transmission of RNA information are inevitable. Those errors that are fixed in subsequent offspring are called mutations.

06:45 What is the incubation period for this virus?

Irina: Just the next factor in the emergence of panic that you mentioned is a long incubation period, during which the symptoms are completely invisible. On average, it can be 14 days; an even longer incubation period has been recorded. A person, suspecting nothing, walks among people and releases [the virus] when talking, breathing, or touching mucous membranes. But the survival of the virus in the external environment, like any virus, cannot exceed several hours, provided that it is an external environment. That is, until the mucus containing the virus dries. The hotter the weather, the more [unviable]. Ultraviolet radiation from the sun kills it, for example. If the weather is such that the discharge remains wet for a long time, then it will last longer. In any case, according to research, this virus cannot survive longer than a day in the external environment. Thus, one factor is the long asymptomatic incubation period and the high rate of spread from this. Humans spread this virus, and one person can infect many. It is transmitted along an ever-expanding chain. The mortality rate from it is slightly higher than the usual figures for other forms of the influenza virus. But the risk of dying is higher in those groups of the population that MidgasKaus spoke about.

Another factor in the emergence of this panic is the understanding that if the epidemic continues to develop, then difficult days will come in your economy. The authorities will make every effort to prevent the spread of the virus, including closing establishments, including food establishments, etc. People think it might come to this. Many fear a repeat of the Spanish flu epidemic of 1918, which killed millions of people. According to the assumptions of many Interstellar Union specialists, this will not happen. This virus does not affect humans as severely as the Spanish flu virus.

10:35 LiShioni, please tell me what are the spiritual reasons for its occurrence?

Irina: [Here] is my personal opinion. First, I will explain my concept of world order so that you understand what I am talking about. In addition to the visible material world on any planet in another dimension, there is the Spiritual world, from which the material world comes. At the spiritual level, all those processes arise that later manifest themselves in matter.

In the case of any worldwide epidemics (not just outbreaks of disease that quickly stop), the reason lies in the fact that the world consciousness (what you call the noosphere) itself is infected with viruses of anger, aggression, rejection of other people's beliefs and other forms of spiritual ignorance. This spiritual virus, spiritual epidemic is breaking through to the physical plane. It is embodied in him in this way: either through the hands of the creators of biological weapons, or in another way. In any case, an epidemic in the physical world is a reflection of low vibrations in the noosphere of the planet. Since this happens according to the assumption of the Divine will, it is a test, an examination of your entire civilization, for example, on the attitude of your majority towards those sick with this virus, what feelings it will experience towards them - bright, positive or, conversely, destructive. What will your civilization, for the most part, put in the foreground - its instinct of self-preservation, like bodies or spiritual values?

13:36 Prevention methods and first aid when detecting symptoms of the virus.

Irina: Prevention, Mid.

Methods of preventing the incidence of coronavirus in general do not differ from methods of preventing other acute respiratory viral infections. Since the main organ affected in this case is the respiratory tract (the organ of infection), prevention methods are related to, firstly, strengthening your immunity. To do this, you need to eat a varied diet, not experience stress or fears about the virus. Fear only lowers your defense against it. Perhaps you have heard the expression of your spiritual teachers: “What you fear is attracted to you.” It reflects the spiritual law, which also manifests itself in material reality. Second, strengthen your physical body. Physical inactivity reduces immunity, you need to remember this. Do not abuse psychoactive substances, which also reduce immunity; try not to experience stress: fears, resentments, anger, envy and other destructive feelings that lower the vibrations of your astral body. Any disease of the physical [body] can arise from this.

When visiting public places, especially in those cities where there are already many cases of the disease, and taking into account what LiScioni said about the long ignorance of the sick person and his spread of the virus, we can assume that it is already present on those streets and in transport where you moving around. But, as I already said, there is no need to be afraid of this, there is no need to lock yourself at home. This will lead to nothing, sooner or later you will still leave the house, you will not be able to lock yourself in for a long time. There is no need to stay at home; fresh air is healthier for the respiratory system than the air in apartments. If you go to a public place in a city with many cases of the disease, you can protect yourself with a medical mask. For her, a simple gauze, folded once, with ties, completely covering the nose and mouth is sufficient. For greater effectiveness, you can moisten it with a solution of 100% essential oil of eucalyptus, cedar, juniper, pine, fir in a proportion of 15 drops per 500 ml of water. Enough in high proportion. You can wet these masks, and they will work much more effectively, because essential oils, absorbed into the fabric, will inhibit the penetration of any viral infections, not just coronavirus, since there are many other strains of viruses circulating in Russia.

Do preventive measures at home, especially if you often receive guests or go somewhere often, do not forget that you can bring viruses on your clothes. The best prevention is to spray the smoke of special plants into the air, which, when suspended, effectively fight viruses and microbes. For thousands of years, in religious rituals of temples of various religions, the effectiveness of the following plants has been proven: sandalwood, incense, juniper, etc. You can burn incense, sandalwood, or set fire to juniper sticks. All this will effectively fight viruses that may be in the air of your apartment.

Naturally, wash your hands before every meal, after every time you go outside, especially after visiting stores, vehicles and other [places] where you had to handle door handles, etc. When you get home, undress, wash your hands with soap. Do the same before each meal and after visiting the toilet. These are natural methods of preventing not only coronavirus, but also rotaviruses and others that can spread especially in crowded places. Make it a habit, without washing your hands, not to touch open mucous areas of the eyes, nose, mouth and other open places, since the likelihood of introducing the virus there with your hands is much higher than through the sneezing and coughing of a patient.

And, as I already said, live in positive emotions, try to enjoy what you have more. In order to rejoice in the situation in which you find yourself, you must realize that your life is in the hands of God, and not in the hands of some virus. Thank Him for every day you spend here. Try to love, do good, etc. Always be in high vibrations.

21:14 Mid, thank you very much. I have a question for you as a biologist. How long do you think the coronavirus epidemic with its long incubation period can last in our society, in Russia?

Irina: I believe that over the last two weeks people have begun to develop immunity. Because the virus, which is transmitted from person to person, is already weakened by the immunity of these sick people. And when, for example, in Russia, the warm season, summer, arrives, the incidence will decrease, because in direct sunlight this virus survives less in the external environment. By autumn, a slight rise is possible, as I predict. But I believe that by this time they will have time to make a vaccine, since work on it has already begun and the first tests are underway.

22:22 Great. Another interesting question is: does the Interstellar Union plan to intervene if the situation worsens? How will they do this?

Irina: Good question. We don't even know how to answer for the Interstellar Union. The decision to intervene will be made, in any case, by the Council of the Interstellar Union for contacts with young races, young civilizations. But if the situation deteriorates so much that it poses a danger to your race, contact will take place in [a certain] form, if it is safe for your people and our specialists to help you and transfer those funds that are available in the Interstellar Union. But mass contact will only happen as a last resort. There may be another form of contact. This is a hidden contact with your scientists who are responsible for developing drugs or a vaccine for the virus. But this will only happen if the vibrations of someone coincide with the vibrations of [someone] from the Interstellar Union. And if the other side is interested in this contact and in taking our experience.

24:05 Do I understand correctly that the Interstellar Union will prevent a huge epidemic from breaking out?

Irina: Yes. I, of course, speak only my opinion, because I do not know the point of view of the Interstellar Union on this. We will have our next meeting of the Interstellar Union in April. If you want, Esler and Shimor will raise this issue there. I believe that the Council for Contact with Young Races will not remain indifferent to this situation and will intervene in any case. Most likely, he will do this secretly, since open mass contact at your level of consciousness development can lead to even more disastrous consequences for you than an epidemic.

25:00 Thank you very much, MidgasCaus. Thank you very much, LiSioni. We say goodbye to everyone and see you again, hopefully without coronavirus.

Irina: I love you all and see you again.

#56 PLEIADIANS from the planet FUTISSA (representatives of the Galactic Federation of Light) - Part 1

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/pleyadeancy-s-planety-futissa-chast-1 https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=K1LpklAuJh4

00:00

Irina: Today we are talking about a very interesting topic. Representatives of civilization who are not members of the Interstellar Union agreed to answer our questions. This topic interests everyone - what happened, why do they have disagreements at the galactic level?

03:43 Dear Oalmaraums, please tell me why you agreed to this conversation in the first place, and your expectations from it. What results would you like to get after it, what would you like?

Irina: I agreed to this conversation when representatives of the Interstellar Union informed me that Earth contactees wanted to talk with representatives of our world. I want to convey to earthlings the point of view of the government of our planet and mine personally on the events that took place earlier and are happening in the galaxy and on Earth now. My expectation from this conversation is that we will understand each other and recognize each other as brothers in reason and common goals.

04:53 Please tell me more precisely where your planet is located, its main physical characteristics, distance from the Sun, from your star, distance from us, its diameter, mass. What do you look like, how old are you personally on earth, and how long do your inhabitants live on average?

Irina: Futissa is located in that part of the Pleiades cluster, which is further from the earthly observer than the outer part that you see as a bright star - Alcyone, if you look into the projection deep into this Pleiades cluster. As you know, there are more than a thousand stars there. Our planet rotates in the orbit of a triple star system, i.e. we have three suns. The distance from the nearest one, in earthly measures, is approximately 350 million km. The mass is approximately 80% of the earth's, the diameter is slightly larger than your earth, by 12-13 percent.

07:40 What is the distance to the solar system? Or to Earth?

Irina : 820 light years.

07:53 How old are you personally on Earth, and how long do you live on the planet on average?

Irina : I am 224 of your years, if a year is considered - one revolution of the Earth around the Sun. They live on our planet for about 10-12 thousand years, just like on Burkhad. 224 years is considered average for us.

08:54 What is your profession?

Irina: Scientist, researcher, linguist, historian who studies the customs of different planets. Mainly the Pleiades cluster. But I was interested in the history of your Earth and was here physically.

09:19 Please describe what you look like in your physical body.

Irina: He just showed the image. They look approximately like Burkhadians. Only the Burkhadians have white skin, while theirs is silver-golden, it even glows. They look like us, taller than us, more than two meters tall. White hair, big eyes, blue, greenish mostly. Like the Burkhadians, only their skin color is something between white and yellow, like golden, I don’t know that color.

10:03 As we understand, you are a colony of Burkhad, that is, your planet was inhabited by Burkhad some time ago. This is true?

Irina: Yes. Our ancestors arrived on Futissa 1950 of your years ago. We explored the Pleiades cluster, and this planet suited the parameters for us to live on. The group that originally flew to Futissa had a conflict with the Burkhad government. Therefore, they decided to find another planet.

11:26 Please tell me, are there any potential issues today that for some reason you do not have the right to discuss?

Irina: These are, as always, technical details of the structure of our ships and our technologies in general. This is prohibited by the rules of the Interstellar Union. Before coming here, representatives of the Interstellar Union had a conversation with us so as not to disclose this information.

13:08 What is your social system now, is it different from Burkhad? How does reproduction occur? What do you eat? And is there a fundamental difference here from the same elements in Burkhad?

Irina: Our social system is practically no different from Burkhad. There are no analogues on Earth, but the closest one is something like your democracy. Just not in the sense in which you now understand, but in the fact that power really belongs to the population of the planet. Those whom we elect for positions only perform management functions. And the laws are made by the whole people.

In terms of reproduction and nutrition, we are genetically and biologically no different from the Burkhadians. Since we are their colony, we did not interbreed with others.

14:41 What is your religion, so to speak, or science about the Spiritual world? What does the concept of God mean to you?

Irina: The concept of religion does not make sense for us, because we do not see the need for some kind of artificial creation of control over the spiritual side of life. This was one of the reasons for the disagreement with the Burhad government. We do not see the need for external control over the spiritual side of life. We are for the free choice of action for everyone in their own way, not centralized.

15:32 Your civilization is about two thousand years old. Could you list, in your opinion, some of the literally most basic milestones of this story that can be summarized in a minute? The most important thing during this time.

Irina: Some of the young ones who flew to Futissa are still alive. Then there were about three thousand Burkhadians.

The first stage of our history was the exploration of the planet. It was located too close to the stars. We changed its orbit, slightly changed the atmosphere, and created conditions suitable for ourselves. Then, having available spaceships and starships, for some period we established contacts with those civilizations that were already in the Pleiades cluster. Everything happened differently. There were conflicts, but, fortunately, they did not reach the armed stage.

Futissa did not immediately leave the Interstellar Union. We remained in it for several dozen earthly years after the resettlement. After about another 600-700 years, a group formed among Futissa scientists that wanted to return to the Interstellar Union again, and posed this question to the entire planet. But the majority opposed this, and we remained outside the Interstellar Union. About 300-350 years ago we joined the Union of Civilizations of the Pleiades, which is also called the Galactic Federation. It includes not only the Pleiades, but also some other civilizations, incl. not included in the Interstellar Union. There is a law in the Galaxy according to which one civilization can be part of several communities or not part of any of them. In the Pleiades, rich in the accumulation of stars, in addition to humanoids - creatures of flesh and blood, there are many other civilizations, intelligent light creatures (plasmoids, in your opinion). Some plasmoids, the positive results of which were noted on many planets, are also included in the Galactic Federation on an equal footing. The Interstellar Union does not include thin-material (plasmoid) civilizations.

20:15 How many civilizations, biological and light, are included in the Galactic Federation? What do you mean by "worlds"? Are there non-anthropomorphic species in the GFS?

Irina: The Federation includes only 17 biological worlds and about 690 light ones. Can be constantly replenished. Peace is one of the concepts of civilization. In the GFS, in addition to anthropomorphs, there are other types of civilizations. They show me like a reptilian on Thision, with wings, only smaller in stature. Another image, like birds. The next one is like a crayfish or a crab, only big and on two legs. These are probably insectoids, but different from those on Sho-Hariki, which are like praying mantises. And the cat people are from another galaxy, which you call the Magellanic Cloud.

22:53 How many civilizations, of those that are in the Galactic Federation, are simultaneously included in the Interstellar Union? Can you name them?

Irina: Three. This is Saama. Their skin is white, they are small, like Tashigans, only their heads are round and they have two black eyes, like coals. They are 1.2 -1.3 m tall, they have thin arms and legs, like sticks. This is Lyastruam (Lyatruams). They show him tall with greenish skin, darker than Gihor's, and an elongated head. It doesn't have large scales, but rather humps. His head is forward, in a triangle, and his eyes are like an animal's muzzle (shows and laughs). This is Plix (Blix). They are very similar to the Tashigans, only smaller and thin.

25:11 What is your personal idea of God, what or who is God in your personal understanding? Is he himself a person?

Irina: All that is and all that can be is God. Any experience that a living being has is a Divine experience. God invents this world in order to experience [experience], to know himself in its different sides. Very roughly we can say that he is a person, because this is a simplification. It's like saying "huge star" to a candle.

26:38 Do I understand correctly that in these global ideas about God you do not have a fundamental difference in the concept between your root planet Burhad and you? Representative Burhad (Bergastre) would like to comment?

Irina: As far as I understand them, they present him as more anthropomorphic. In the sense that the consciousness of God is more like for them the consciousness of a rational being or Spirit, which they know as a person or a Burkhadian.

(Irina laughs) MidgasKaus says that Futissa and Burkhad are now arguing about religion. They say that you gathered them here to convince Futissa to join the Interstellar Union.

Bergastre says that for us on Burkhad, for our consciousness of the rational Spirit, it is easier to perceive God in this way, as a person more familiar to us, like the Father, for example. Because we are still in this body, in this Universe, in this dimension. Therefore, we operate in terms that are understandable to us. And excessive philosophizing in religion, in our opinion, does not help much in improvement.

28:55 Please tell me what you personally like and what you personally don't really like about your planet?

Irina: I like the climate, the nature, which we not only brought from Burkhad, but also created through our many genetic experiments, incl. brought from other planets of the Pleiades. I like people, people. I like the freedom to have and defend my opinion. I like the politics of our planet. I like that I live there and conduct my research freely.

On my planet, here and now, I do not like the excessive attention of our military structures to the life of society. In the sense that we talk a lot about security from the influence of different civilizations that pursue policies that are criticized by our people. This is not so much Burkhad as it is Tashig. Basically we had disagreements about him and his actions on many planets, including Earth. Selbet is a little less, especially some of its colonies.

Now there is a dispute between Bergastra and Futissa about the colonies of Selbet about their acceptance or non-acceptance into the Interstellar Union, if the colonies fulfill certain conditions.

31:45 How do you manage to keep all this from fighting in serious conflicts? After all, there is peace in the galaxy. This question is for both the Burhad Security Service representative and Oalmaraums.

Irina: Why should there be any conflicts? Why should we try to kill someone because of an idea? Just because there will be a war and someone will kill someone, ideas will not stop living in the mental space. We can say that the Security Service protects against the penetration of ideas. Any disintegration of society begins with the introduction of an ideology that is alien to this society. And, on the contrary, the creation of a faithful social system, leading to the prosperity of all its members, begins with the recognition of the ideology of light, love and goodness by at least 80% of the members of this society.

33:42 As far as we know, it was your ancestors of the current Futissa civilization who were among those scientists who created people 3 million years ago on the base that we call Paradise. This is true? When we say "your ancestors," are they one of those 3 thousand who later went to Futissa and stayed there? Someone from this group, right?

Irina: Our ancestors were also there. These are the ancestors of several dozen people from this group.

34:36 We know the history of the creation of people in the form in which it was transmitted to us through Moses by Tumesout in the Torah, in the Bible. We now know her from MidgasKaus and from Saint-Germain. Are there any differences from what happened there, in your point of view, and the information that we now know? For example, in terms of the forbidden fruit, the creation of people, the Fall, or maybe something else.

Irina: Our historical data show that everything was as it was described to Moses. It could not have been otherwise, because the one who came into contact with him was a highly spiritual person. He told what really happened, but, naturally, under the guise of myths.

35:43 We understand that one of those who came into contact with Moses was, in fact, one of the incarnations of Jesus. Right?

Irina: Yes. This was him.

35:56 How do you feel about Jesus, personally?

Irina: Okay.

36:08 Do you also think that the sacrifice he made evokes the deepest respect, reverence, etc.?

Irina: She evokes both respect and reverence. But I also want to tell you that it still causes bewilderment among many representatives of different worlds. Why did he choose Earth for this?

36:31 Why do you personally think Jesus chose Earth?

Irina: Difficult question. Since the freedom of my creative mind allows me to make any assumptions, I believe that he has special plans for your planet. About them he partially explained to his disciples Paul and John, about what you know as the second coming.

37:32 Is this, in your opinion, more connected with the fact that he was also one of those scientists incarnated when people were created?

Irina: Maybe with this. After all, He incarnated not only on Burkhad and Tumesout, but in many worlds, not only in our galaxy. This experiment was far from his first.

37:58 What is your personal attitude, Oalmaraums, to the personality of Lucifer?

Irina: I have a mixed attitude towards him. As I have already said that every experience of a living being, whatever it may be, is a Divine experience according to our beliefs. Therefore, I believe that he is as much a part of God as we all are. Only he has a special experience, created so that God, through him, would know the other side of existence than light and love.

38:56 How do you personally feel about our civilization as a whole? If this attitude is different from your official attitude on the planet, then please give that attitude separately too.

Irina: Yes, it is different. The term “official attitude” on our planet refers to the opinion of the majority. If you, on Earth, have such a concept as notifying the government about the opinion of the majority of citizens, then we have developed such a thing. The official, from this point of view, attitude towards the Earth is tinged with a feeling of pity that you are ruled by representatives of the dark hierarchy. In the sense that they incarnate from low spiritual levels and come to power. That is why you are not accepted into the Interstellar Union and are not given access to its knowledge, technologies that would give you greater prosperity, happiness to every member of your society, no matter what country he lives in, no matter what language he speaks. I am sure of this, as are the majority of my people.

My personal attitude. I admire that, despite such a low social standard of living, and complete disorientation in spiritual matters, so many people strive for the light of knowledge, for the light of God, as you understand it. This has become especially noticeable, maybe in the last 20-25 years. That is, indeed, the Earth is moving to a new stage of existence. The only thing that I, as a scientist, and I think the citizens of my planet will support me in this, would like to invite your planet to pay attention to contacts with us. We could help you enter, if not into the Interstellar Union, but into our Galactic Federation of Light of the Pleiades, in which we are located. In order to enter it, the conditions there are not as strict as those of the Interstellar Union, although an end to wars is also necessary. If the majority of earthlings approve of our intervention, we can fly in and [overthrow, neutralize] the rulers.

42:51 So, are you ready for open mass contact if the Interstellar Union does not prevent this, or what?

Irina: According to the rules of the Interstellar Union, open interference of this level is prohibited. But, if we are given completely official permission from more than 70% of the population of your planet, which is heard by the Interstellar Union, then I believe that it can change its decision. They themselves will not take part in this, and their military and political forces will not suffer.

43:32 Are you saying that earthlings simply have to en masse choose between following the rules for joining the Interstellar Union and joining you? Just choose from these two options, and then if they choose "to you", in a simple way, you will fly, right or not?

Irina: Yes, this should be a very clear expression of will. 70% of the population of your entire world will be enough, excluding children under 14 years of age. Not just one country or one religious group, but the entire planet.

44:21 That is, it was necessary to believe in the Interstellar Union, and now you also need to believe in the Galactic Federation. After that, choose between them. They offer us another option. I would like either Meade or a representative from Interstellar Union Security to comment on this.

Irina: Bergastr says that when the respected representatives of Futissa came here, I expected this proposal, because we know it. I can say I don't agree with him because it won't change anything. We have already explained our position to the representatives of Futissa on the issue of Earth and other similar planets. Such a violent overthrow of power on planets leads to nothing. Even if at first the people greet the aliens as their liberators, then, most often, xenophobia takes over, and they begin to overthrow them.

45:35 You just said that if everyone expresses the will of you to fly, then you will fly and sweep away all existing governments with military force. Who will allow such a thing to be done if all the means for this are in the hands of those who do not benefit from it?

Irina: You have an Internet network. Maybe conduct something like a survey, a vote throughout the entire Earth.

Maxim: As a lawyer, regarding the collection of votes, I won't let you make any plans for one simple reason. We will not be given [the opportunity] to convey any information at all. I mean structures on Earth interested in pursuing a policy of military operations.

47:05 The question will be for Oalmaraums. How, after all, does your personal point of view on earthly civilization differ from the opinion of the majority on your planet?

Irina: The difference is, I believe that it is unnecessary to show pity, because this is your path, and you will go through it as destined and prescribed from above. You will not be able to do anything that is already unknown in the higher Spiritual worlds.

47:52 Then in the higher Spiritual worlds it is known whether such a vote can take place, to which you would respond with a landing if it were positive. Then this is also known.

Irina: In any case, we are not interested in a clash with the forces of the Interstellar Union. There are their military bases on Earth, incl. and those civilizations that treat us much more warily than the Burkhadians. For example, Tashig.

48:25 We understand that if such a vote, despite Maxim's fears, actually took place, and 70% expressed their readiness to come to you, would you then agree with the Interstellar Union or not?

Irina: Bergastr says that this is not for me to decide, but for the Interstellar Union, I am not authorized.

49:00 Dear Oalmaraums, after all, why did you leave the Interstellar Union? How do you feel about him? Please share any differences in your views.

To be continued…

Participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Maxim Rusan - head of the Cassiopeia project and the Center for Spiritual and Physical Development;

Vladimir Goldstein – administrator of the Cassiopeia project;

MidgasKaus - representative of the planet Esler, biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations;

Bergastre is a representative of the planet Burkhad (Pikran), a specialist in contacts with the Earth, a specialist in safety in contact situations, director of the security service for contacts with worlds not included in the MC sector of the Milky Way galaxy;

OalmaRaums and two more representatives of the civilization of Futissa and the Pleiades;

Ngerson and Raamsi Puoltoorsi are representatives of the military space security service of the Pleiades Commonwealth.

00:11 Why did the Pleiades leave the Interstellar Union?

Vladimir : And now we come to the key question: dear OalmaRaums, after all, why did you leave the Interstellar Union? How do you feel about him? Please share any differences in your views.

Irina: I regard the Interstellar Union as a military, political, scientific grouping of many civilizations. There is a military part of the doctrine, a political part of the doctrine, a scientific part of the doctrine and a cultural part. For me this is a completely normal interstellar organization. And when our planet left it, I was not yet born. What I heard was that we had disagreements not only on Earth, but also on the Interstellar Union policy regarding Tashig and Selbet. We believe that the Interstellar Union (hereinafter - IC) allows them to conduct too many experiments on living intelligent beings. We believe that such an experiment as hybridization (crossing intelligent beings, and not just animals with intelligent species, as you were created, in order to obtain a body to embody the intelligent Spirit) with each other, interferes with the development of the being in which the intelligent Spirit is embodied. This is already perfect, why else did it need to be improved? As a result of such experiments, creatures can be obtained that will be inferior in life: diseases, pathologies, inferiority in mental development. The body may turn out to be such that the intelligent Spirit embodied in it will not be able to fully manifest itself.

Vladimir: Earthlings were created thanks to such hybridization, without it there would be no earthly civilization?

Irina: There experiments were carried out on animals, they are unreasonable, that's different. And we are talking about the fact that the Tashigans conduct similar experiments on sentient beings. It would be fine over representatives of their own race who agree, but they do this over other races!

Vladimir: But they conduct these experiments when earthlings give their consent, on the basis of the Charter of the Interstellar Union? They don't have the right to do this without consent?

Irina: We believe that the consent was not obtained entirely correctly. That is, future test subjects are not told all the subtleties of the experiments. For example, how much pain there will be, the consequences of the experiment. At first they are told only good things, and some side effects are kept silent. We believe that the IC rules should clearly provide that before an experiment, all the consequences of this experiment must be told to a reasonable being in an accessible form. Even if they think that he will not understand them, still speak in a form accessible to him. Moreover, all possible painful manifestations must be removed: either put to sleep or administered an anesthetic. Unfortunately, Tashigans do not always do this. It is very difficult to establish control over the forces of the Interstellar Union and Galactic Security in this area. Because you cannot place an observer next to every scientist, and the research remains on his conscience. Therefore, we believe that the experiment on intelligent beings should be carried out under the control and in the presence of a representative of the Galactic Security Service, because scientists are often addicted people.

05:18 Conditions for conducting experiments with grays and reptilians and the difficulty of controlling them.

Vladimir : I have a question for the representative of the Intergalactic Security Service or the representative of Burkhad. Why, really, is there no such strict control over the Tashigans and Selbetites? Why do they, as Oalmaraums says, hide something, sometimes cause pain, bring discomfort to earthlings, and lack proper control? After all, this can certainly be ensured by technical means; in the end, every fence of materials can be removed. What's the problem here?

Irina: Bergastre says that there are very different situations and different experiments. Here you need to talk to the Tashigan biologists themselves, the doctors who conduct them. The fact is that eliminating pain or depriving consciousness can negatively affect the test subject's body, even more negatively than the experiment itself. I'm saying this now not as a biologist, but as far as I've heard about it.

According to MS laws, consent is taken before the experiment begins, and the person must be informed about everything. They should tell him what kind of experiment this is, what it entails, and what will happen. We have such laws, but as for control over laws, as representative Futissa correctly said, it is very difficult to ensure it over every scientist. Because in many ways this is their own creative work and, indeed, there are much fewer representatives of the Security Service in the Solar System than scientists. This is about legitimate experiments, not to mention the kidnappings that MidgasCaus talked about earlier.

07:51 Protecting the Earth from direct interference of other civilizations.

Maxim: Is it true that our Earth is in quarantine from the interference of other races, civilizations and much more? Are you keeping an eye on this?

Irina: You can say so. If open contact is considered interference, then yes. We do not have the authority to openly engage in mass contact with your governments in full view of everyone.

Maxim: I mean other races, civilizations that want to visit Earth that are not part of the Interstellar Union.

Irina: They visit Earth. For example, representatives of Futissa. They have their own contacts here, less than Burkhad, but they also have them. Their scientists who come into contact with earthlings act under the permission of the MS, having completed a special training course and agreeing to abide by the laws.

Maxim: Do I understand correctly that violations of the law regarding non-interference, such as causing pain and everything else, are done by those who have received access here and by those who work on Earth?

Irina: Yes, but in many ways this happens due to the very essence of the experiment, because they are different. Sometimes pain cannot be avoided because general painkillers are, in some cases, inappropriate, since the intervention is not of such a serious level as to have such an impact on the body. Mead knows more about our medicine and says that it's the same as doing something to a person's bad tooth and turning off his consciousness.

10:33 Protecting the Earth from alien invasion.

Vladimir : Question for the representative of the Security Service of Burkhad. If something similar to the situation that happened 12,000 years ago when Selbet attacked unexpectedly happened now, would you be able to prevent a similar attack in today's reality?

Irina: Now there will be no surprise, because, as representatives of Futissa correctly noted, the MS also has military bases on Earth. This is not to mention the bases on the far side of the Moon, about other bases in the Solar System, i.e. we have enough of everything.

Vladimir : So you are sure that you are able to repel any military invasion?

Irina: I cannot be completely sure, since there are different types of civilizations and types of weapons, and I am well aware of this and understand it very well. I am sure of only one thing: it will not be possible for any civilization to destroy the Earth as easily as the Selbet people did 12,000 years ago.

12:04 Weapons that destroyed a single continent of the Earth.

Maxim : What weapon destroyed continental Earth 12,000 years ago? What was it called, what was used?

Irina: In your opinion, these are gravity bombs. They change the Earth's gravitational field and penetrate to the planet's core due to their similarity to its core matter. Bombs are attracted inward, and therefore affect the gravitational field. Because they penetrate, the earth's crust splits in this place. From the splitting and changing gravitational field, the magma heats up and breaks out, and then a massive volcanic eruption occurs.

Maxim: We mine diamonds, and there is such a thing as “diamond pipes.” They are located right in the ground, somewhere in one place there is a diamond tube. Was it formed due to such impacts on the earth by some kind of weapon?

Irina: Diamond is a form of carbon. This includes exposure to high temperature. I wouldn’t say so, because I don’t know the shape and size of the tubes, the depth of their penetration, and other characteristics. It is quite possible that some of them were formed precisely from this.

13:42 Selbet's miscalculation in the war to destroy the human race.

Vladimir: Since we touched on that war, I am interested in the opinion of the representative of the Security Service. In your opinion, what did Selbet miscalculate then? Why, despite all the surprise and power, did they fail to achieve all their goals?

Irina: They wanted to completely complete the destruction of the Earth, Venus, Mars and what you call Phaeton, in a shorter period of time, because they did not count on the resistance of ships that were practically unarmed in comparison with them. Unarmed ships fought not with weapons, but with collisions and ramming. They were able to hold off the Selbet forces until the main MC warships arrived.

14:54 Appearance of the first warship of the Interstellar Union in defense of the Earth.

Vladimir: When did the first warship of the Interstellar Union appear after the first strike on Phaeton? After the first manifestation of power in the solar system? In how many hours of Earth time?

Irina: Somewhere in a few hours. This is a very long time for space combat.

Vladimir: And a lot has already happened there. Did that first ship that showed up stay or die? Then the main forces arrived?

Irina: He didn't stay, he died. Yes, we've arrived.

16:00 Worldview differences in the religious sphere of the Pleiadians and representatives of the MS.

Vladimir: Dear OalmaRaums, please tell me, on what other fundamental issues do you disagree with the Interstellar Union? What, in general, are the main contradictions between the Galactic Federation and the Interstellar Union?

Irina: On the main issues, as I already said: this is curbing the experiments of the Tashigans and some races of reptilians. This is the first. The second question is disagreement on ideological issues in the religious sphere, as you call it. This also served, albeit a small one, as an impetus for the separation and autonomous existence of our world. We also have differences, again, on issues of interference in the affairs of young races, including yours. In the place of the MC, in the general opinion of the majority of the inhabitants of Futissa and many other civilizations of the Pleiades, it was necessary to intervene in this process, as I suggested about the governments.

17:46 Pleiades about interfering in the affairs of Earthlings to end military conflicts.

Vladimir: That is, you would intervene like this: you would simply land ships here and remove the existing governments by military force, and install key figures who you consider necessary, right?

Irina: No, that's not how we would have started to act. We would start by stopping military conflicts on your planet. If the MS were on our side in this matter, we would send MS ships there and order through communications to end the war. Bergastre says that if they had not listened, we would have directed the beam at several military vehicles to show our capabilities and power.

18:57 Burkhad's point of view on non-interference in the affairs of Earthlings.

Vladimir: I just want to hear Burkhad's point of view on this. Why don't they do this? Here comes the key moment.

Irina: Because intervention of this kind does not contribute to the goals of evolution, it will lead nowhere. Even if we stop one war, but don't install our own rulers, after a while another will begin. You still have a warlike consciousness, you even fight with each other in your own families. How can you not fight at the state level? Or should we also stop the war in every family: between husband and wife, child and father? This is impossible.

19:47 OalmaRaums about contacts with earthlings.

Vladimir: I am clear about the difference of opinion now between the Galactic Federation and the Interstellar Union, between Futissa and Burkhad. In general, I understood everything on the key issue. Let's move on to specifics: You, OalmaRaums, mentioned that you incarnated on Earth. Tell us more. Have you incarnated as an earthling, and were you here in a physical body, as a representative of Futissa?

Irina: I didn't find out about my incarnations, it doesn't interest me. I spoke about visiting your planet in this life in the physical body, that is, I flew here for contacts.

Vladimir: Who was the contact with, where? You can just do it without a name.

Irina: As Bergastr noted, Futissa has contactees here, I am one of those who contacts earthlings. I had contact with 15 representatives of your world.

Vladimir : In which countries?

Irina: He shows me China, Japan, the Russian Far East, the Caucasus and south of America - between Brazil and America.

Vladimir : How did you contact them: physically, do you know all these languages? Have you contacted astrally?

Irina: I flew in physically, but did not have physical contact with them. Contacted telepathically.

Vladimir : Does your planet have physical contactees?

Irina: The planet, yes, has it. I did not have. This was before my arrival on Earth.

Vladimir: What does it take to become your physical contactee? In the Interstellar Union, for example, his permission is needed. What do you need in your case?

Irina: Any physical contacts with anyone are carried out with the permission of the MS, not only for the person, but also for the civilization that conducts them, if it is not part of the MS.

22:25 OalmaRaums about his impressions of visiting Earth.

Vladimir: Tell us your general impressions of visiting Earth. How long were you here, what shape of ship did you have, when was it?

Irina: A very beautiful planet, nature, very diverse life. There are many different small biological forms, which are actually not very common in the galaxy. There are a lot of beautiful plants, a variety of colors, shades, etc. I was amazed by this diversity of life. I was at the turn of the 80-90s of the twentieth century. I flew here several times, in total there were three visits to Earth in the physical body. I was at various bases: Burkhad, Tashigan (as a representative of the Pleiades, carried out monitoring from the Galactic Federation), on the Moon.

24:30 OalmaRaums about his ship.

Vladimir : Please tell me, what shape was your ship?

Irina: Like a plate, only bigger, more elongated.

Vladimir : What size is it? Diameter?

Irina: Large, about 60 m long. An elongated flattened plate.

25:10 About the Galactic Federation tourist ship shot down by the Earth's military.

Vladimir: We have information that in the Ash-Nazar (She-Nazar) tract, in 1995, a certain broken long object was found (shows a picture with a ship and an inscription). On this ship there is an inscription “moam ria izsaakhsh”, which is translated from the language of Futissa, as far as we know, “ship of the Pleiades community”. Was this really Futissa's ship?

Irina: Now I’ll look to convey the image to him. He says yes, and shows the place. This is Central Asia, some mountains.

Vladimir: Yes, it’s in the mountains. The dimensions of the ship are 620x120 m. It was filmed from a helicopter in 1995.

Irina: He says, if this is the one he thinks about, he was shot down by your military in the early 90s.

Vladimir: It's clear, he was found in '95, but he was shot down earlier. Why was the ship not protected? How could it happen that he was shot down? No military equipment on your ships?

Irina: It is not always possible to foresee and send a ship equipped with military means. If this is what I thought, then it was made on Futissa, but belonged to the entire Galactic Federation, so there was a "Pleiades community" there. It was a tourist ship, there were tourists from several worlds of the Pleiades. Some of them were later taken away by our people. In particular, I want to give honor and sincere gratitude to the representatives of the planet Tashig, as they participated in the rescue operation and took the Pleiades tourists from this place. Some were not found. They were afraid of the explosion and fall, hid, and were never found. But the majority were nevertheless taken out by representatives of the planet Tashig, since their base was closest to this place, and they took direct part in the rescue operation.

Vladimir: So some Pleiadians simply remained on Earth and died somewhere? Or they fell into the hands of the intelligence services, most likely.

Irina: We think they were caught, yes.

Vladimir : Did this happen on Russian territory? Was this a Russian operation?

Irina: He says that this is Asia, some mountains. Shows where Mongolia, Kazakhstan. Are there mountains there? Either Kyrgyzstan, or southern Kazakhstan.

Vladimir: Did this ship ultimately fall into the hands of earthly authorities?

Irina: While the Tashigans were taking out a group of those who remained alive, wounded tourists, the wreckage of the ship that was in this place. They planned to fly for them later, but there were many of your military raids over this place. Therefore, they decided to leave this matter for later, and when they were able to sneak in there unnoticed, they no longer found him.

Vladimir: What dimensions did this ship actually have?

Irina: It was 5 times larger than mine, which I flew on. About 300 m.

Vladimir : Was he simply shot down in the atmosphere by a missile? What happened?

Irina: Your air weapons, which are on airplanes or helicopters.

Vladimir: I see, an air-to-air missile. That is, this ship is clearly at someone's disposal. In your opinion, how many tourists were there? How many of them were taken out?

Irina: More than 600 people (humanoids). 445 were taken out.

Vladimir: That is, more than a hundred representatives of different civilizations hardly walk through the forests. In your assessment, they are really now under the control of the authorities, no matter in which country.

Irina: The Galactic Federation officially contacted the MS to conduct an investigation at the bases, etc. It was found out that almost all of them fell into the hands of the special services and died from...

For certain ethical reasons, we cannot show you the entire further conversation on this topic.

Vladimir: It turns out that you were just before this event?

Irina: I was physically on your planet three times. Twice before this event and once after it. Less than a year has passed.

33:29 Awareness of the world government of Earth about the Interstellar Union, the Galactic Federation of Light and contactees.

Vladimir: It turns out that the main governments of planet Earth are well aware of the existence of aliens, they have artifacts, technical objects and, probably, bodies at their disposal. So they know everything perfectly well?

Irina: Of course, they know that there is an Interstellar Union, contactees. They know that there are many civilizations in the galaxy that are not part of it, for example, they also know about our Galactic Federation.

By the way, I would like to take this opportunity to say a few words about what you called the Galactic Federation of Light. This is exactly the part - 690 civilizations - that I spoke about as “representatives of light beings”. These are mainly plasmoid-type civilizations. They are included in the common Galactic Federation on equal terms. Plasmoid civilizations are not included in the Interstellar Union. MS representatives believe that this is hampered by different body densities. But we believe that the main thing here is the level of consciousness and there is no difference. We gather not only at the dense material level, as representatives of the MS do. They hold their meetings in Burkhad. Of course, it is possible for humanoid types to be present at the meeting there. And we gather at the astral level, as you call it, different densities of bodies would not hurt there.

Vladimir: Do you hold your conferences on the astral level?

Irina: Yes, you can say so, because we leave our physical bodies and spend time in a specially created astral space, protected from thought forms and egregors that can interfere with our exchange of thought forms. It’s even more convenient to conduct it there, because in the astral plane it’s impossible to hide false attitudes from each other. The energy will be visible immediately.

36:35 Adolf Hitler, his friend's contact with the Pleiades and Tashig.

Vladimir: Was Adolf Hitler or someone from his circle a contactee of your civilization? Or do you know a civilization in the Pleiades, the contactee of which was someone from the Fuhrer's entourage or himself.

Irina: Yes, there was a contactee, but not him. Next to him was our contactee, who was also Tashiga's contactee. This is a rather rare case when your person combined contacts from several different civilizations. He was able to combine suitable vibrations within himself.

Vladimir : What was Hitler trying to achieve when this action was organized with wars and other matters? Do you have any responsibility if the person close to him was your contact?

Irina: Our civilization, like me, is against any military action to seize territories. Those who were in contact with Adolf Hitler's friend, they did not tell him about the start of hostilities against any people on Earth. I want to emphasize that Tashig's representatives did not tell him this either. This was already a personal decision of the contactee himself and Hitler. I do not personally know those who had contact with this person, either from Tashig or from Futissa. But I am sure that they made some attempts to somehow dissuade them from influencing the contactee. But this is sometimes not so simple, because we are limited in free will here.

39:03 Ideological differences between the Galactic Federation and the Interstellar Union, preventing their unification.

Vladimir: We have found out that, in my opinion, you have no fundamental antagonistic differences at all. Why don't you, while remaining in the Galactic Federation, also become a member of the Interstellar Union? And not be both here and there, like those three civilizations? It would help everyone, including us.

Irina: Because in order to enter the Interstellar Union, we are obliged to share its ideology, which is that there is a policy of non-interference in the affairs of young races, even when they destroy each other on this planet. It is believed that as long as they cause harm to a large number of the Earth's population, they must go their way. Burhad, Tumesout and Selbet, i.e. the three civilizations included in the MS created your race, raised and are raising it, including through religious forms. We believe that this form of delivering spiritual light is not effective. Representatives of Burkhad saw very well that their bright ideas, which they carried through contactees, only became a new reason for contention. In any case, watching your children destroy each other with weapons in their hands and not trying to separate them is somewhat strange for parents, for older brothers, I think so.

41:04 Representative Burkhad's opinion on direct interference in the lives of Earthlings and the consequences of these actions.

Maxim: I think Bergastr should definitely give a comment, because there is a very subtle point here. Please, Bergastre, comment.

Irina: Yes, I understand OalmaRaums that some representatives of the MS witnessed your major battles and wars, incl. in antiquity and World War II. They still sent their ships to at least appear in the eyes of earthlings, without directly interfering with their weapons. Experience shows that if this battle stopped, and all people looked at the sky, it was not for long. This did not eliminate the very cause of wars, so the ICJ believes that artificially ending military conflicts between armed adults is not quite the same as separating children. When you separate children using force, you can explain to them that they cannot fight. After all, the adult controls them, has power over them, provides for them, etc. For us, your civilization is a child only in a conditional sense, but as individuals, you are completely independent adults. In order to separate you like children, you must then be controlled. Because in a few years you will still have a war for a different reason.

OalmaRaums himself noted that the bright ideas of the MC turned into a reason for contention. We simply see the same situation from a different angle. In criticizing MS, he sees the possibility that we are conveying nothing to humanity except bright ideas. And I see in this that even if you turn bright ideas into a bone of discord, then if there is our direct intervention, as the Futissians want, then it will necessarily be associated with an armed clash with your armed forces and the death of your people. You have weapons other than a bow and a spear. Then your power structures, which will remain on your planet, will find a way to convince all the people that it was an invasion, and earthlings died at the hands of aliens. This will be the main driving force in opposing the MS. A striking example of this is Hitler, who has already been mentioned here. He convinced a large number of the German people that killing was for good and brought closer to God.

35:40 About the significance of holding such a meeting between representatives of the MS and the Global Fund.

Vladimir: I see, thank you. I have one last question for OalmaRaums. Do you want to ask me, Irina, or Maxim something? Please, do you want to tell us something on your own behalf, convey everything you consider necessary, or on behalf of your civilization as a whole.

Irina: I would like to ask all three earthlings. Why did you decide to make this particular contact with a civilization that is not part of the MS, what motivated you? The opinion of each of you.

Vladimir: This is more for me, I wrote the questions, the initiative is mine. Maxim, if he wants, can add. I believe that we need to know the full extent of the situation and opinions in the Universe, in particular in our galaxy. If there are some alternative opinions and we don't know them, then we don't know the whole picture of the world, we are losing something. Then we may not behave quite correctly, since some part of the truth leaves us. This is one of the reasons why I asked you about Lucifer, because there is a part of reality there too. If we reject it too, then we do not recognize the part of God. That is, we remove some part of the action, and this prevents us from moving on the path of development.

47:17 About the unconditional benefits of such meetings for achieving mutual understanding.

Irina: Thank you for your answer. Now I really want to ask you three. How do you rate this contact and what I said? Did it live up to your expectations?

Vladimir: I will start first, and my colleagues will complement me. He completely met my expectations. I received a lot of interesting and useful information. I am sincerely grateful to everyone present here. And of course, many thanks to the representative of the planet Futissa and Burkhad, and Esler, and, of course, Maxim and Irina. The main thing is that I am sure that this will be very useful for those listeners to whom we will present the video version.

But, besides, it seems to me that it was useful, dear gentlemen, aliens, and for you (smiles). Because you talked to each other in front of your hybrid children. When fathers communicate in the presence of children, maybe... In this regard, the truth speaks through the mouth of a baby. I said that maybe you should join the MS. Let me give you an analogy: when a child whose parents are divorced tries to reconcile them. He so wants his parents to be together again, dad and mom. To some extent, the analogy works here. In my opinion, if you also have some kind of association, it will greatly help us. Perhaps you will find some kind of consensus by collecting these two points of view, which will allow us to organize deeper our contacts here. To a greater extent, not only theoretically, but in some other way, within reasonable limits. I perfectly understand the point of view that it is better not to interfere. Maybe there is some kind of harmonious compromise that will allow us to take the good from both sides. It's good for us and ultimately good for everyone.

Irina: This is a very good answer that is useful for us. Moreover, for representatives of all four civilizations who gathered here.

Maxim: Yes, I would like to add. I would like to thank the Futissa civilization, thank Bergastra from the Burhad civilization and everyone who is present here. But on the issue of non-interference, I will still take the side of Representative Burkhad. For one simple reason: I am a psychologist by training and very often work with people, plus, I am a professional athlete who was a captain in different teams, national teams and everything else. I would like to personally convey to the representative of the Futissa Federation now: the more you interfere in the affairs of earthlings, the more earthlings will then demand that you interfere further. This is, in fact, what happens. I clearly understand that the more I give useful knowledge, useful things, the more I deal with solving issues for people, the more people later make claims against me that I owe them something.

Irina: Yes. I will convey these words to the representatives of my planet. They will become known.

Maxim: Yes. I'll say more. They won't appreciate it at all. They will only appreciate it for the moment when you intervene, and then, when you do not give them what they want, they will begin to fight with you, or rather, against you. And they will demand from you that you give them what they already want.

Vladimir : I basically agree with Maxim. The only thing is that I still think that, probably, some useful things can be implemented, applied to some extent, but this needs to be specifically discussed. You can also take Futissa's opinion.

Maxim : In general, in fact, I am for the harmonization of any things. There is some truth among the Burkhadians, and there is some truth among the Futissians. That is, there may be some moments of control, but they should not be in such a direct form. So that these moments are decided for people. It is the right that they make an informed choice, or not deprive people of making the wrong choice in order to understand it later.

Vladimir : I can say more specifically and quickly that those experiments that Tashig and Selbet conduct, in which people experience discomfort and pain, their will is violated out of "good intentions." They pour water onto the back of the mill. This is exactly what will be used and is being used by power circles to show aggressive aliens, and continue to work on the theme of invasion, etc. Therefore, here, in my opinion, the Futissian is absolutely right. You need to be very careful with this.

52:31 New Age as new knowledge from representatives of the Galactic Federation.

Vladimir : I have one last question for Futissa's representative. Did you participate in the creation of any religion on Earth?

Irina: There is no religion. But we influence the New Age (New Era, a symbiosis of all spiritual movements). We bring the light of this knowledge to our contactees. If we talk about commandments, about dogmas, then the main dogma of our religion is freedom from all dogmas and responsibility before oneself, as before God.

Maxim: I absolutely support this, because I believe that all religions should understand that there is a God, and He is one. Everyone just talks about it in different languages.

Irina: Yes, but the limited consciousness of a being enclosed in a body is limited to the three-dimensional world. Therefore, it begins to involuntarily impose on spiritual laws, those restrictions that exist in its body, in its world. Although there are no restrictions. This is the cause of all religious differences.

54:02 OalmaRaums' appeal to the inhabitants of the Earth.

Irina: What do you want to say on behalf of the representatives of your Futissa civilization and on your own behalf?

I like your sense of humor. It says that, even despite your social, military, political and climatic conditions that exist on your planet, despite all the limitations of your bodies, which live much less than ours, you are still able to feel happy. My personal appeal, I think that all citizens of my planet will support me, is that no matter what choice you, earthlings, make, you need to remember that each of you is the God to whom you pray. This means that each of you is responsible for your own destiny. As Maxim told me, you don't need to blame someone else for your happiness or unhappiness. This only causes your degradation, both as an individual and as your entire civilization as a whole. In any case, I will be glad if you join the MS or the Galactic Federation. Or to these two organizations at once. All efforts of both the MS civilization, and the GFS, and our dense material civilizations are to help you follow the path of realizing yourself as God, the eternal Spirit. In this our goal is united, and throughout the galaxy we are united with you.

56:28 Invitation to earthlings.

Vladimir: Thank you again. You know our sense of humor, but without it I invite you to visit, come over for tea, I have a nice clearing. For you personally, OalmaRaums has 60 meters in inches. And for the rest too. (Everyone laughs). I mean it sincerely, really, I'm not kidding.

Irina: Okay, thank you for the invitation. I would be glad to visit you, the contactee, and Maxim.

I also want to say that I know whose contactee Irina is Daraal, I know their visit program. I will be glad when the study and physical visit to the worlds, planets of the MC is over, I will be glad to see her on Futissa, like any of you.

Bergastre, MidgasKaus and everyone who is here for the representatives of the Interstellar Union also thank the representatives of Futissa, thank us all for the fact that we have all gathered here and conveyed to the people the point of view of Futissa and the point of view of the Interstellar Union on Futissa. We believe that this contact will be useful to all of us.

Vladimir : I completely share this opinion, as I have already said.

58:17

And, as always, a little personal and interesting after filming... (excerpt)

Maxim (to his cat): Get out of here **!

Vladimir: Plasmoids rule.

Maxim: Two from Futissa's Security Service, along the way, examine her, and she goes crazy there (laughs).

Irina: They're playing with her or something (laughs). They're probably studying it.

Maxim: Yes, they are studying.

Vladimir: So as not to waste time.

Irina: Your cat has become famous on many planets.

Maxim: The cat is the star of the Interstellar Union.

Vladimir: It will be embodied later on Burkhad.

Maxim: Unfortunately, she needs to go through very interesting transformations for this.

It turns out that the Pleiadians come into contact with our contactees, tell them about MS violations, namely the grays and reptilians. Therefore, not knowing that there are literate reptilians and grays, those contactees who listen to this carry information that grays and reptilians are bad.

Irina: OalmaRaums says: was the contact useful for earthlings?

Maxim: Yes, very much. I think it's not that useful. This information will now blow up the Internet to some extent.

Because there is a Galactic Federation of Light, there is simply a Galactic Federation, and I have seen a lot of channelings with the Galactic Federation.

Irina: Yes? I'll have to watch it, it's interesting. Was there something similar there?

Maxim: Yes. Very helpful. Now again another puzzle has fallen into place for me.

Irina: Mead says, if you want, you can visit Futissa in the astral plane. I say, okay, definitely, just not now.

Maxim: Mid, Bergastre, thank you. I didn't remember the name of the Futissa civilization, thank you all so much. We will, in any case, transmit all these channelings. Moreover, the form of transmission of this channeling is completely off the charts.

Irina: What does "form of transmission" mean?

Maxim: This is about the fact that you can just go and communicate through contactee Irina with any civilization.

#58 Interview with Irina Podzorova after a real flight on a flying saucer to the planet of insectoids

Vladimir: Maybe we can make a joke now? It's called reportage photography. Hot on the heels of an interview with a contactee who had just arrived - this has never happened before. Want? Seriously, let’s do something impromptu now, it’ll be great.

Irina: An hour and a half ago, about two hours ago, I was in the constellation Pegasus, which is about 620 light years from Earth. One leg here, the other there.

Vladimir: How long did the flight last?

Irina: I don’t know. I had my phone with me, I would have made a video report, but it wouldn’t turn on.

Vladimir: I see. Otherwise you would have filmed there, of course.

Irina: And so I flew twice a week, and now they transferred me to at least once a month.

00:55 The principle and trajectory of the flight of an alien ship, the time in flight to the planet Sho-Hariki. Irina's feelings while flying on an alien ship.

Vladimir: So, planet Sho-Hariki. We've arrived. How long did it feel like to fly?

Irina: Well, two or three minutes.

Vladimir: And what next?

Irina: First, the saucer takes off on an atmospheric engine, to about an altitude of three hundred kilometers, he told me. Then he turns on the planetary planets, which are repelled by the magnetic field.

Vladimir: Did you feel something inside, some changes when the planetary engines were turned on?

Irina: No, you just sit normally, it turns on the plasma field around the plate and when it takes off quickly, you don't feel like you're being pressed down, because there's a gravitational field there.

Vladimir: That is, there is no overload, I understand.

Irina: All the energy of the plasma field is used to turn on the planetary engine, so the gravitational field disappears, and since artificial gravity is not installed there, weightlessness begins. The first feeling is that you are falling through somewhere. And now it feels like I'm being lifted up, as if I'm on the waves, but I'm holding on to my hands.

Vladimir: How long does it work on the planetary engine?

Irina: It flies at about one-tenth the speed of light, and it picks up this speed in about ten seconds.

Vladimir: And how long does it fly at this speed?

Irina: Until it flies away from a planet with such a mass as the Earth, to a distance of approximately 80,000 km - this distance is necessary to turn off the gravitational field and turn on gravity.

Vladimir: In which direction does it fly from the Earth, towards the orbit of which planet within the Solar System?

Irina: It doesn't fly in a plane.

Vladimir: Not in the ecliptic plane, of course. How long does this flight last on a planetary engine?

Irina: So, if it gains thirty thousand kilometers per second in ten seconds, then to fly 80,000 km... What is the speed of light? 300,000 km per second? How much is one tenth?

Vladimir: Of course, I am well acquainted with mathematics, but not that much.

Irina: 300,000 divided by 10 is 30,000, which means it flies at a speed of 30,000 km per second, and in general planetary ships can accelerate to speeds of up to one-eighth the speed of light, but they do not fly more than one-tenth of the speed of light.

Vladimir: And then, when he switches to the gravitational engine, do the sensations inside somehow change?

Irina: This is not noticeable, because the movement itself occurs instantly, look: in two or three seconds it flies 60,000 km.

Vladimir: Does he do anything to switch from an atmospheric engine to a planetary engine and from a planetary engine to a gravitational engine, or does this happen automatically?

Irina: He can install a program that automatically switches, but usually he stands there and does it himself.

Vladimir: Do you see this moment? Do you understand when he switches?

Irina: If I'm next to the remote control, I'll see, but I'm sitting on the other side.

Vladimir: Aren't there any portholes there? Are the walls opaque?

Irina: There are portholes, but they are located above me.

Vladimir: How much time has passed according to your feelings?

Irina: It takes a minute or two for the gravitational engine to pick up gravitons. Only then does the leap occur.

Vladimir: How much time has passed since the moment you entered the ship and left it on that planet, approximately? Ten minutes?

Irina: Yes, about ten minutes.

Vladimir: Okay, here you are, Sho-Hariki. How was it?

Irina: We flew, talked, I said hi to him. He stood facing the control panel, with his back to me. To turn around, he needs to turn his whole body. The first thing I felt was that I was sitting and gravity appeared. According to my feelings, it was larger than on Earth.

07:50 Atmosphere, gravity on the planet Ho-Shariki. Protective suit for safe visiting of the planet Sho-Hariki.

Vladimir: The force of gravity there is greater than on Earth, probably, right?

Irina: Not much. Kirchiton told me that there is approximately one point twenty-three hundredths of the earth's gravity, which is not much. The first thing I felt was that there was no weightlessness, about another minute passed, and the plate did not hang, but sat on the supports. Kirchiton said: “Let's go!” - he turned and walked along the corridor, after two or three steps there was a semicircular room, in the floor there was a hatch. It was open, and from it you go straight down to the ground.

Vladimir: Was it day or night there?

Irina: Day, there was one sun, high, almost at the zenith, so bright, more than we see on Earth, and a completely white sky. I didn’t say: they immediately put protective suits on us, because there is a high methane content there, somewhere around eight percent. The radiation is such that if a person goes out there without a suit, he will live no more than fifteen minutes.

Vladimir: Cool protective suit that shields radiation in such a way.

Irina: You can use it even in the center of the Galaxy, where there are black holes.

Vladimir: What is it made of?

Irina: He told me that the most important thing is not the material from which it is made, from an organic silicon compound, it contains some kind of germanium, cobalt. Their molecular lattice is intertwined in such a way that they have some kind of microdevices built into them, like nanochips, which can create different fields.

11:05 Landscape, vegetation on the planet Sho-Hariki. Houses, language, appearance, group mind of insectoids.

Vladimir: So, we went out into the radiation, it was a bright day. What is the landscape, vegetation, clouds, sun?

Irina: There is no vegetation there, just gray stones, a flat surface, like on Daraal, and somewhere in the distance on the right there are rocky mountains, later it turned out that this is a ledge, and below is an abyss. When I looked up, and there was a window in the suit, I looked through it, and I saw the sun and three or four moons. They were illuminated by the sun and were visible, one lower, the other higher. In total, Sho-Hariki has eighteen moons and two suns. There is practically no darkness there. Their houses are in the form of a sphere or two connected cones, only the angle of the cones is not acute, and these houses seem to be suspended in the air.

Vladimir: Were these their settlements in the air?

Irina: These are like houses, and the inhabitants themselves fly between them - they have wings. Kirchiton was also in a protective suit. He told me about 18 moons, that the planet's orbit is around a double star, but it is stable, because... is located at a great distance.

When we left the plate, a whole flock of residents, about ten of them, came down to us. Kirchiton said something in Daraal, and I heard a creaking and crackling sound from the box on his chest.

Vladimir: So he speaks Daraal, and the box translates into Sho-Khar?

Irina: Then they all started crackling and hissing. I asked Kirchiton why I could hear the inhabitants well in a protective suit, he answered me in Russian that they were talking so loudly that if I were without a suit, my ears could not stand it. Their atmosphere is rarefied, and evolution has taught their organisms to make loud sounds.

Vladimir: How tall are they?

Irina: Adults are approximately 2.40 to 2.80 m.

Vladimir: And of our insects, which one do they resemble most? On praying mantises?

Irina: They are similar to praying mantises only in that they are long, but not green, but brown. And I didn't notice any resemblance to our clothes on them. By the way, I was amazed that they have a rather small head compared to their body, I was even surprised: "Where are their brains?" And she even asked Kirchiton: "How can the brain of an intelligent creature fit in such a head?" He said, "That's because they have a hive mind."

Vladimir: That is, like ants and bees?

Irina: I say: "Is it that the group Soul incarnates there?" He says: "No, each being is embodied by a separate intelligent Spirit, like us, but due to the fact that they have a group mind, the neural network of their brain, their nervous system is connected at the electromagnetic level with the noosphere of the planet and with the mind of each creature. Due to this, their Spirits, although separately incarnated, also unite in the Spiritual World into a conditionally group Soul and exist as long as they exist in this incarnation."

Vladimir: It's like in "Avatar", this film had the same idea, these inhabitants had a single Soul through the mother tree.

17:52 Insectoid dwellings. The structure of the limbs of insectoids.

Vladimir: Did they know about your arrival? And who came down to you? Were these some local scientists?

Irina: He said that it was an ordinary city, a settlement. I was surprised that their houses hang at different heights.

Vladimir: So these were individual houses? Each inhabitant separately? Or does each house have many inhabitants?

Irina: It happens that each inhabitant has a separate house, but there are larger houses where many of them live. So, they chattered something else there, hissed among themselves, gathered around us, and one approached me and extended his hand, so to speak. And I noticed that they are different from our insects, they have some kind of fingers at the end of their paws, and there are clearly more than ten of them. They can even pick up small objects with them.

Vladimir: And you shook his hand?

Irina: Yes, I touched it, but they seemed to me not like hands and fingers, but like wire.

Vladimir: Is the fabric in this protective suit so thin that you could feel something, is it thin, not rough?

Irina: You could feel whether you were taking it hard or soft.

Vladimir: How thin is the glove?

Irina: When you take a stone, you don't feel its temperature, but you feel that you have touched something.

19:56 Growth, method of movement of insectoids.

Vladimir: Was he taller than you? Much?

Irina: Yes, he was taller than me. He had a small head, two small antennae.

Vladimir: Did he just want to greet you?

Irina: Yes. I touched him, took his hand. He placed his second hand on top of the first. He stood on his two hind legs and rested on something that extends from their wings, like a tail, but it's not a tail, it's like the end of the wings. He can lean or rise a little and walk.

Vladimir: Did he say what his name is?

Irina: I didn't ask, probably also some Shpaashi or Shpuushi.

Vladimir: Who exactly was it, some high-ranking representative, or is it unknown?

Irina: Here, he stands on two legs, he has an elongated body, he stands, four arms and two more wings stick out, but he can fold them, and then he unfolds them, they are dark in color and some kind of double, that is, two the wings rise, and from under them there are two more wings.

Vladimir: So, what does it stand on? On two more limbs?

Irina: Yes, he has six limbs, his head can turn in different directions and generally throw back, when I looked closely at his eyes, I told him in Russian: "Lean over to me," and he looked at me. His head can turn and even throw back. At first there were three people standing next to us, five more a little further away, and when I looked at them, they were about five meters away from us, they were chattering something, turning their heads and touching each other.

Vladimir: And when you speak Russian, does the suit immediately translate into his language or what?

Irina: No, when I told him in Russian, he didn't answer me, and Kirchiton said that he wouldn't understand me, because there was no translator built into this suit. For contactees, this is not built into the suit, because it also needs to be translated from the contactee's language. I say: "Did he understand me?" Kirkhiton said that they hear sounds very well.

Vladimir: Can they read the emotional state or energy?

Irina: Probably they can, I don't know for sure. When Kirchiton said something to him, he leaned towards me: their body bends slightly below the head, the head can tilt, and the eyes can move out a little.

Vladimir: And did you look at his eyes? What are they?

Irina: Yes, I looked him in the eye. He has such a brown face, his nose is practically invisible, his mouth has two plates on top that move apart and crack.

Vladimir: Do they have their own ships? Are they in space or on Earth?

Irina: Yes, they have ships, they build them, because, despite such paws, they can hold very small objects.

Vladimir: Do you know why I asked? Because I'm also ready to be their contactee.

Irina: Did you like them?

Vladimir: Well, good guys, I have a calm attitude towards insects. You said that this is not the most important thing, but what is the most important thing?

Irina: I looked into the eyes, their color was light brown with a greenish tint, and there was like fire inside, like sparks.

Vladimir: What did you feel for them when you looked into their eyes, sympathy or a neutral feeling, your feeling?

Irina: Interesting. I wondered how such creatures could have evolved. Their eyes consist of many points.

Vladimir: But this communication was not unpleasant?

Irina: No, I was very interested, I wanted to talk to them, but I understood that it was very difficult for them to learn our language, we have completely different sounds.

Vladimir: But you could have asked Kirchiton to translate?

25:17 Internal structure of insectoid houses. Method of communication of insectoids. Insectoids can make asteroids controllable.

Irina: I told him: “Let’s ask them how they live, what’s inside their houses.” He says: “Do you want to see what’s inside their houses?” That's not the most interesting part. He told them something, they took off on wings, four of them lifted Kirchiton with their paws, and two took me by the hands and carried me to the largest house, just through the air.

Vladimir: So they flapped their wings around you like flying insects and lifted you up?

Irina: They took me with four lower paws, and two limbs were free.

Vladimir: Did you hear the noise from the wings?

Irina: I didn’t feel any wind, I heard something spinning in the air. When they lifted us up, I saw that the plate stood below the cliff, and the surface of the planet was somewhere far below, and most importantly, behind this cliff their homes were still hanging in the air. When rising, they somehow swayed and flew at different levels, and did not interfere with each other’s flight. Then we flew up to a double cone that was hanging in the air. Imagine: a light gray wall glitters in the sun, a round window forms in it and opens like a whirlpool.

Vladimir: And you fly there?

Irina: Yes, first they brought me in, then Kirchiton, and they put us inside. It feels as if there is a net lying there, you walk on it and fall through it, like on a hammock, but at the same time there are no holes visible.

Vladimir: A springy floor, more like a trampoline?

Irina: Yes. Light gray walls, the room is bright, the light is diffused, yellowish. Kirchiton said that this room is responsible for receiving information about space, that is, scientists there are engaged in space flights.

Vladimir: Was it some kind of scientific institution, something like an observatory?

Irina: Yes. I asked: “Where are the devices?” - he answered me that there are devices built into the walls, which they touch with their heads, and the signal from their brain goes to the ships that are in space near Sho-Hariki. Then I saw that they could fold their wings and crawl freely along the walls.

Vladimir: What was the height in the middle?

Irina: The height was about six meters. Below we were placed, as it were, on the lower peak of a cone; to the sides of us the walls rose slightly, and all the inhabitants sat on the walls.

Vladimir: Were there many of them there?

Irina: I counted, there were ten or fifteen of them. I looked at the one closest to me. They touched the wall with their limbs and, bending over, also leaned their heads. Some of those who brought us flew back. When they talked to Kirchiton and hissed again, it seemed to me that the sound intensified.

Vladimir: Because it was in a closed room, it is now clear that these were scientists who turned on these devices with their heads.

Irina: Those who were sitting there did not come down to us.

Vladimir: Of course, they were on shift, on duty, working.

Irina: Yes, and then one said something to me, and the second joined him. It hisses, and I have the feeling that these sounds seem to vibrate in my head. I ask: “What are they doing?” Kirkhiton says: “They talk to those in space, exchange information with those in space, it’s like an observation post for them. Do you know that in addition to ordinary ships that they can purchase in the Interstellar Union, they can land on a large asteroid, which can be two kilometers in diameter, make a cavity inside it, place devices for movement in it, stay inside it and control it like a ship."

Vladimir: I understand: turn an asteroid into a controllable ship.

Irina: Yes, that’s exactly what they can do, they can be without protective suits, if the atmosphere is suitable, and even in a large amount of radiation. He said that Sho-Hariki is an insectoid civilization that is part of the Interstellar Union, and there are other insectoid civilizations like them in the Galaxy, but among them there are those that do not fly.

35:53 The difference between insectoids and other civilizations. Exchange of messages between insectoids in electromagnetic form.

Vladimir: It turns out they are cold-blooded?

Irina : They don’t have blood, they don’t have blood vessels, but some kind of common liquid. I also asked, how do insectoids differ from other intelligent species? Kirkhiton said that they have a skeleton not inside, but outside, this solid base prevents them from dying from radiation and allows them to withstand greater atmospheric pressure, and so on. They have a completely different metabolism, although they feed on other living beings, i.e. predators.

Vladimir: And what happened next?

Irina: Kirchiton spoke about asteroids and offered to see how scientists work. I look up and see that sparks like lightning are running along the walls between the sitting insectoids. I asked: “What is this?” - and he explained that this is an exchange of messages in electromagnetic form. Your eyes perceive this only because there is a device in the window of your protective suit that perceives this radiation, without it a person will not see it, it is like ultraviolet. I also asked: “Why is this device built into the suit?” He said that this protective suit is intended not only for protection in space flights, but also for planetary exploration. As long as we were there, someone kept flying in and out, while something in the wall began to spin and move apart, I walked up to the wall and touched it with my hand, it felt hard to the touch, but was pressed through. I say: “Is this really metal?” Kirchiton replied that it was a type of liquid metal; in fact, the temperature in the room was very high - about +180 degrees.

Vladimir: So all the water there has evaporated long ago?

Irina: I don’t think they have oceans there.

Vladimir: There may be methane lakes there.

Irina: We then talked a little about evolution, I asked how they turned out, evolutionarily or are they hybrids. No, they turned out naturally: there were such large insects that, through natural evolution, developed their nervous system, albeit a group one, so that intelligent Spirits could incarnate in them.

40:29 How old is the insectoid civilization from the planet Sho-Hariki? The cause of schizophrenia in contactees with insectoids.

Vladimir: How old is this civilization?

Irina: He said that this is a very old civilization, about two hundred million years old. Then we also talked about contactees, that Sho-

Harika has contactees, but due to the group mind, these contactees have a high percentage of schizophrenia. Why schizophrenia? Because with schizophrenia, one person seems to have many personalities. The Sho-Khariks have such a disease, but our psychiatrists are not there.

Vladimir: Are contactees who have schizophrenia astral?

Irina: They also have physical contactors, but less often.

Vladimir: Physical people have schizophrenia because they have contact with specific representatives. And what happened next?

Irina: Kirchiton said that it was time to return, and as we walked, I noticed that there were no stones lying under our feet, like we have on Earth, just a surface like a rock.

42:20 Time spent traveling to the planet Sho-Hariki.

Vladimir: How long did the whole trip take? From the moment you entered the plate to the moment you left the plate on Earth?

Irina: I didn't look at my watch, but Maxim was waiting for me for about an hour.

Vladimir: How long does it take to walk to the car from this clearing?

Irina: About fifteen minutes.

Vladimir: So, the journey there and back took you half an hour, and the flight itself took about fifteen minutes.

Irina: That's how it happens with us. The road can be long when we go far. For example, like in Shimora, while they brought me back, when I made contact in Povorino, it was four kilometers from home, almost an hour's walk.

44:00 Origin and development of insectoid civilization. Gifts from earthlings to MidgasKaus.

Vladimir: And they didn't tell you anything through Kirchiton, let's say they didn't convey anything by voice, didn't communicate?

Irina: They were simply warned. When we arrived at their mission control station, I asked: "Why did we fly there?" He said that it is located in the center of the city, and for you it is no different from other houses. Then I asked: "Why are they hanging in the air?" He replied: "Because they were created that way under the planet's soil. Previously, they were generally insects that lived in the ground, and then, when they became intelligent, and representatives of the Interstellar Union came into contact with them and then included them in the Interstellar Union, shared with them their technologies, artificial antigravity, they established planets under the ground devices that suppress gravity. It's just convenient for them to build houses in the air so they can fly from one to another." Kirchiton also said that he was not the first to bring me there, and that there were contactees who reacted negatively to them.

Vladimir: That's what I was trying to understand: were you afraid or not. It's clear: You're not afraid of anything.

Irina: Some were not that afraid, they simply hid their reaction of non-acceptance.

Vladimir: They were simply disgusted. It's clear. With a cockroach on two legs, flying... Everything is clear here.

Irina: One woman actually sent me a parcel, and another simply brought it, and all these are gifts for Mid.

Vladimir: Well, it's clear, as the President, and then you will send it to the Vladimir region by mail, I understand.

Irina: No, I gave them to Kirchiton.

Vladimir: What will he do about it?

Irina: He said that he won't fly to Esler now, I say: "Or maybe we'll stop at Mid on the way?" He says: "Wow on the way! If you look at the projection of the earth's sky now, we are now in the constellation Pegasus, and Esler is in the constellation Bootes, look at the star map - this is generally the other end of the Galaxy, one might say." But he said to tie these bags so that things wouldn't fly around his cabin, he would hand them over later.

Vladimir: You have a "Field of Miracles" there, like Yakubovich, they brought mushrooms from the village for Kirkhiton.

Irina: There are toys for Mead's child and even a scarf for his wife.

Vladimir: He probably already has a museum of earthly relics there.

Irina: Yes. He says: "I'll pass it on. Now I'm bringing one more contactee, and then I'll fly to the lunar base, leave it there to Esler's specialists who are at the lunar base, and they will already send it to the base in the Vladimir region, where Mid visits."

48:43 The importance of accepting any form of life is one of the conditions for subsequent incarnations.

Vladimir: Didn't the topic of the virus come up between you and Kirchiton?

Irina: Not today.

Vladimir: Well, great, if this is all in general terms, then I want you to at least sleep, rest, I don't want to mock you at all.

Irina: No, ask the questions you prepared for the article.

Vladimir: Well, for the article I would ask you: were you there, in your opinion, in your feelings, how would your visit there be useful for all earthlings? What would you like to share with earthlings, if you could now tell it to all the inhabitants of the planet, if the whole Earth was looking at you on the Internet?

Irina: I would like to say that such unusual forms of bodies for us, which resemble earthly insects, and which some people are completely incomprehensibly afraid of, simply because they are unfamiliar, incomprehensible, even in such forms the same Spirit can be embodied , as in ours. I also want to say that if we, earthlings, do not accept any form of life: animals, insects, birds, and we reject it, then for the development of our Spirit, the mentors of the Spiritual world can then specifically direct our Spirit into such a body so that we become accustomed to patience with everyone.

Vladimir: As I understand it, if a person on Earth does not accept some nation or nationality, then he then incarnates in the next life precisely there and among those whom he did not love and did not accept.

Irina: Yes, that's why, if there is a war against some people, and those who fight are very often embodied in the very people they hated, therefore, before you hate or reject some form of life that you do not understand, think about how you yourself look for this form of life.

#60 Message of the Planet Esler. Healing energies of Life and Love

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/iscelyayushchie-ehnergii-zhizni-i-lyubvi https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=jnZDvNo3P2o

The purpose of art at Esler is to educate new generations in the spirit of the Light of love of our heavenly Father. What you have divided into religions, sciences and esotericism is for us a single knowledge, the essence of faith in yourself, as a part of God, endowed with all his qualities, for managing the reality of the material world, for greater and greater improvement in love, without which true happiness is impossible in the light of God.

The purpose of our art is also to explain to the embodied Spirits the meaning of freedom and the meaning of suffering in the material world.

Often this is an opportunity to teach empathy and helping others as necessary attributes of love for those individuals who are innocently present with those suffering. There is no guilt here. There is no need to look for it here. Look only for the opportunity to develop love as an invaluable energy that gives you the opportunity to join the source of eternal life, wisdom and grace.

#61 Message from the Council of Communities of the planet Esler (Interstellar Union) about the coronavirus pandemic (COVID-19)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/o-pandemii-koronavirusa-covid-19
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=12I_5OGy9k8

The Council of Communities of the planet Esler and the entire Interstellar Union appeal to all residents of planet Earth, especially to citizens of countries where panic has arisen due to the spread of a new infectious viral disease that affects the respiratory, cardiovascular and immune systems of the human body.

This worldwide epidemic and your civilization's response to it are clear indicators of the spiritual, moral and political-economic consciousness and state of earthly society. With regret, I am forced to state that at this time the absolute majority of representatives of the Earth do not pass this test with honor and dignity decent for intelligent Spirits embodied in physical bodies.

The Interstellar Union records a complete lack of understanding of what is happening on the part of both the power structures of your world and its individual representatives. This gives rise to unfounded panic, chaos in the economy and undermines the authority of management structures among the absolute majority of the population.

The Interstellar Union and the Council of Communities of the planet Esler appeal to every earthling with a call to suppress the animal fear of death, through which it is very easy to control you and activate contact with your Inner Light, which is always in the Spiritual world in absolute knowledge, absolute harmony and absolute happiness.

Turn to your highest part, to the image of God in yourself, to the spark of the boundless Cosmic Mind, which is always with you and in you with a request - to dissolve in all layers of your aura all negative vibrational, low vibrational states of fear, demands, resentment, condemnation and others destructive forms of energy states of your consciousnesses.

Only one practice in this difficult time for you can bring the maximum effect in quickly clearing the material virus and restoring the usual rhythm of life. This is the practice of absolute Love. Every morning, greet the Sun with words of greeting and release from your inner sun in the heart energy center a ray of your love to meet it. When meeting people, continuously mentally direct the Light at them, and it will protect you from the penetration of low-vibration material viruses.

Remember that Spirit is primary, and matter is secondary, and that your body will only take into itself those viruses whose power over it your consciousness recognizes.

Every evening, see the Sun off to rest, sending it the Light of your love, as you did in the morning. Don't go to sleep without turning to God with gratitude for the past day, no matter how it turned out for you. God sent it to you for your development. Before going to bed, forgive everyone who offended you, caused you harm, or in any way interfered with the implementation of your plans. Remember that you have no enemies in the world, but only teachers of love.

The Interstellar Union cannot directly intervene in the situation on Earth, because this is your lesson. You are passing the next exam before spiritual mentors and arhats of the Earth, before moving to a new level of vibrational settings of the planet's noosphere. Without passing such tests, it is impossible to identify the problems of society and individuals, and therefore eliminate them. Despite the impossibility of direct intervention, remember that your friends and mentors from the Spiritual world are always present with each of you. And the Interstellar Union is closely monitoring the situation and is ready to intervene if the existence of your species is threatened.

We are with you with all our hearts, our earthly friends and collaborators in the spiritual evolution of all intelligent Spirits. We are one with you in the divine Light of Love.

Remember!

#64 Conversation with Tolik about God. Supreme Mind, Absolute, Creator, Creator, Source, Light, Love

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/razgovor-s-tolikom-o-boge
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FEVx67Af6G8

0:00 Opening speech by Anatoly.

Tolik: Hello, my name is Anatoly. I am a simple spiritual teacher who has had spiritual experience, from the city of Izhevsk. My spiritual name is Tolik. My student Alexey is with me. And we want to talk about God. I want to thank the organizers for giving me the opportunity to communicate with more highly developed civilizations and the opportunity to learn and learn something from them. Also, I admire that you don't charge for this event. For example, we tried to contact another contact with just one question, but the prices there were such that we were unable to do so. You are doing a noble cause. I wish you good luck in this right endeavor. The last videos had good sound and it was pleasant to listen to you. And soon, I think, your listeners will be added. I'm not going to argue with anyone or prove anything to anyone. I want to find out in our conversation what you think about God. Compare with your earthly knowledge. And, in the end, come to some kind of truth.

01:25 Knowledge about God and the Divine Light as the main knowledge of the existence of the material world.

Tolik: Do you think that knowledge about God is the most important knowledge for the entire civilization and, first of all, for spiritual seekers, believers and scientists?

Irina : Hello everyone, my name is Irina Podzorova, and I am a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today, the questions of our respected listeners Anatoly and Alexey are answered by MidgasKaus from the planet Esler and LiShioni from the planet Shimor. They are united on these issues, since MidgasCaus and LiSioni both represent the Interstellar Union.

We have already said that science is inseparable from religion, but not in the sense of rituals, but in the sense of spiritual knowledge. Therefore, knowledge about God, about the Divine Light is the most important knowledge in general about the meaning of the existence of the material world. As soon as this knowledge leaves science, its place is taken by materialism, which obscures the truth about God and sets a person or another incarnate Spirit to the fact that there is only one life, that after the death of the body there is nothing more. Such knowledge, such beliefs prevent the penetration of the Divine Light into oneself. Then the incarnate Spirit forgets its divine nature and begins to consider the meaning of its life only the knowledge of any pleasures in its material body, material accumulations, or the protection of its homeland or its family. All these goals do not go beyond the current incarnation.

04:00 Who is God.

Tolik: Do you know who God is? Describe Him in as much detail as possible.

Irina: God is everything you can imagine and much more. It is called differently in different religions, in different languages and on different planets. Everything that you can imagine is absolute, perfect, bright, good in the outside world or in yourself - this will be God. We understand it as the Source of everything that exists, which created this world and continues to support it. Because He is outside of time, and if you look from His point of view, the creation of the world continues endlessly. Also, from his point of view, the birth of us as Spirits continues endlessly. For him, the past, present and future are at the same time. As for the character of God, in your earthly terms, it can be described as absolute, bright, selfless Love. Because Love is the highest, strongest and brightest energy of the universe that can be cognized. Only she is capable of creating worlds, only she is capable of giving birth to life, only she is capable of giving birth to intelligence in living beings. Love is experienced by us, as intelligent Spirits, as inner Light. When I say the word Light, I do not mean a stream of photons. I mean that mental spiritual Light that everyone who entered into the presence of God in himself experienced. God is Spirit. What does Spirit mean? This means that he is beyond the material world. And, at the same time, it fills every atom of the material world with its power. He is everywhere. What does it mean: he is omnipresent? You have heard the expression of your earthly religion that God is the Holy Spirit. The word holy, as I have repeatedly said, means the Spirit of Light, the Light Spirit. And again we return to the fact that the Light of Divine Love is the Source of everything and it is He who we call God.

7:00 Stages of creating the material Universe from Divine energies and levels of material worlds.

Tolik: The description is very weak, superficial. Our knowledge of God is very detailed and thorough, and I have studied God very carefully and thoroughly.

What did God create the worlds from? How did He create worlds?

Irina : What you called knowledge, and who has it weak and who has it strong, is a meaningless judgment. Because there cannot be weak or strong knowledge about God. Because this is a direct experience that is experienced by the Spirit itself, as a part of God in connection with its Source. I have shared my experience with you. I, MidgasKaus, have conveyed my experience to you. LiScioni shared his experience with you. If your experience suggests otherwise, then we will listen with pleasure and interest to you and your experience. Even if we hear something that does not correspond to our experience, we will in no way characterize these words of yours, because everyone's experience in knowing God is strictly individual. Judgments from outsiders about the degree of knowledge of God may be biased. How did God create the worlds and what did He do it from? Esler and Shimora adhere to the theory of the cyclical existence of the material Universe. The cyclical nature of existence lies in the fact that the material Universe is created from Divine energies. God created worlds from a part of Himself. Since God and his divine energies have the highest frequency of vibrations, it (the energy) is inaccessible to any material devices, it is not accessible to the subtle-material civilizations that exist now. But gradually, lowering the vibrations, this Divine Light, one of the vibrations of the waves of Divine Light begins to become denser and produces the first subtle-material level. The material world consists of 59 levels of density. You and I, as earthlings, as Eslerians, as Shimorians, are at the third level of density, which designates the solid, liquid, gaseous state of matter. Another 56 levels of densities make up thin-material worlds or, as they are called on Earth, plasmoid worlds. There, too, there are their own worlds, which their inhabitants call planets. They consist of the type of matter that your physicists, biophysicists, astrophysicists call different energies. And the same intelligent Spirits who are no different from us are embodied in these energy bodies. This means that each of us can incarnate in a plasmoid, subtle-material world, just as any inhabitant of a plasmoid world, after the destruction of his subtle-material body, can incarnate in a dense-material world. So the Divine Light, or rather, one of His waves begins to lower its vibrations according to His will, and first the 56th level of the subtle-material world is obtained, then the 55th and so on, until the entire subtle-material world unfolds, which consists of 56 levels of density . There are no atoms there yet, there are no molecules, etc., there are only energies there, but in those worlds we can already incarnate, live our lives, gain our experience. There are a great many subtle civilizations. In Russian they are usually called Nature Spirits. For Russians, any invisible being is a Spirit. But for us the word Spirit has meaning only as an immaterial being. My contactees and I speak their language, and when we talk about the Spirit of Nature, we mean plasmoid civilizations. There are ten times more of them,than dense material civilizations in our Galaxy and in the Universe in general. After God, by His will, from Divine energy creates the last subtle material level before the dense material level, the energy waves of the subtle material level begin to condense, also by His will, and the first atoms are created. We don't divide atoms into particles like you do, and we have a different concept about it. We believe that they consist of energy of three levels of density, those energies that make up the plasmoid world, they make up atoms and in the future, from these atoms everything that you see in the material world is made up according to the laws that were established by the Divine Mind.

Alexey: Can we say that God made everything from Himself?

Irina : From a part of Myself. If you compare the entire material Universe, which is accessible to knowledge: all the material beings embodied in it, the Galaxies known and unknown to you, all the plasmoid worlds known and unknown to you, then this Universe, compared to the size of God, so to speak (because you can’t say about sizes outside the material world) - it's like comparing one hair of a person and himself.

14:21 Knowledge about the Astral world and astral travel.

Tolik: How do you get this knowledge? Those. do you go to the astral plane? And what is your method of entering the astral plane?

Irina : This knowledge is available to any Spirit, both embodied and non-incarnate: it is in itself. The difference between our societies is that we do not develop a materialistic perception of the world. How does this happen? In the families where our children are raised, and subsequently in our schools where they study, they constantly talk about Divine energies that affect the material world. The children are told that each of them is not only a child, but also an eternal Spirit who lives one of his many lives. We have special training that teaches you to dive into yourself and connect with your inner Light. Astral travel is also taught at school, but not for connecting with your inner Light, since this is not necessary, but for knowledge of the astral world, for communicating with plasmoids, for obtaining information from what you call the Akashic Chronicles, etc., that is, we can say that in order to travel to those worlds that are usually closed to those who do not make conscious astral travel. We believe that astral travel strengthens the incarnate intelligent Spirit in that state of consciousness that it is not only a body. As soon as he remains fully aware that he is not the body, he begins to connect more quickly and permanently with his inner light. Because disidentifying yourself with the body gives a faster effect of meditation. By meditation we do not mean thinking, as you understand it. We understand some detached observation of the state of our consciousness, with the goal of finding the inner Light within ourselves and connecting with it.

17:33 Conditions for carrying out the technique of connecting with your Higher Self.

Irina : There are quite a few techniques for this. I understand that you want me to say one of them. In order to connect with your inner Light, a person of your race must first believe that it is possible. Believe that this Light, this Spiritual world exists. Here it will not work out in such a way that you first receive evidence of the existence of the Spiritual World, and then enter it. Because it will not be possible to obtain this evidence if you deny the Spiritual world. The person simply won't feel anything. He will put a block on himself in order to connect with his inner Light. The second condition: understanding that the inner Light is a part of yourself. This is not some higher being, but you yourself in the Spiritual world. On Earth, the usual term for this part of your consciousness is superconsciousness, Higher Self or cosmic consciousness. It has a lot of names. Here you need to clearly understand that you are connecting with yourself. If these two conditions exist, then in order to independently connect with the Light, a person must, firstly, if possible, completely relax physically and mentally. What does it mean to relax physically? This means taking a comfortable position so that one is not disturbed by sensations from the physical body.

Alexey: When you say relax, does it mean lying down or can you sit?

Irina : This is exactly what doesn't matter. The main thing is that you feel comfortable in this position to the extent that you can temporarily forget that you are either sitting or lying down. You need to forget about the existence of the body. The second condition is, preferably, to be alone, so that no one is distracted. Dim the lights, remove sounds, etc. If some music in your world helps you tune into a state of detached consciousness, then you can turn it on, but not loudly. The main thing here is an individual approach. There can be no specific advice. You should try for yourself what is closer to you, what position to take. Once you have found this position and started this practice, it can also be recommended to materialists who cannot connect with their inner Light, but want to gain experience of what the Spiritual world is.

20:40 Technique for connecting with your Higher Self.

Irina : The very first simple practice is meditation on the question: "Who am I?" You need to sit down and in this position ask the question who you are. First ask: "Am I the body?" If the answer is: "Yes, the body," then you need to ask: "Who am I in the body: arm, leg, back, stomach, head?" And so on until you concentrate where you are. And it will be somewhere around the head. You need to throw away the thought that you have the rest of your body, that is, temporarily not think about it. And if extraneous thoughts come to you on a distracting topic, then you just need to throw them away and not continue to think further, otherwise you will be distracted and not feel anything. This practice usually takes from 15 minutes to half an hour to enter this state. Next, when you have focused on your head, when you realize that this is where you are, then again start asking yourself: “Where am I in my head? Am I the eye? Am I the nose? That is, list all the organs that are in the head until you understand that you are not the head or any part. Any person, if he concentrates and asks himself these questions, he will clearly feel that he is not the body. This is the simplest practice that we teach in primary school. When you realize that you are not the head, but somewhere inside, then begin to study yourself, as if a little from the outside. Ask yourself: “Then what am I? Right now this thought that I’m thinking is who I am?” You will clearly feel that the thought that comes from you is not you. So, then ask the question: “What am I then?” So gradually, asking yourself these questions, you will clearly feel that you are the source from which thoughts, feelings, and emotions emanate, and even your body came from this source. And already, being in this state, you will ask: “Where is my real source? I want to see him. I want to connect with my Higher Self, with my Superconsciousness, with my Inner Light.” And in any case, this contact will happen. If it doesn’t work out the first time, then if you continue this practice, at least for two or three weeks, this contact will definitely happen. If a person believes in success, believes in the expediency of this contact for himself, believes that he needs it, is important for his life, and not just for entertainment, then any person will achieve success in connecting with his inner Light.

23:50 About leaving the body, contact with the Spiritual world and connection with God.

Alexey: Is there a way out of the body with such meditation?

Irina : I answered your question about connecting with your inner Light, about knowing that you are not a body. The goal here is not to leave the body. There is a slightly different method for leaving the body. If a person wants to leave the body, then he should try to do this only after he has gained the experience that he is not only the body. If he hasn't had that experience, then it's just a waste of time. He will not believe that he will leave his body. He will block himself.

How to leave the body: there is also an individual technique for everyone. The most general thing is that when you are in a state of connection with your Source, you can begin to experience the Light, you can begin to talk to yourself. And then, if you want to leave the body, mentally imagine that you are leaving the body, seeing your body from the outside. In the astral world, where you go out, everything is controlled by thought. There you cannot physically move your leg or arm. Only the energy of your thoughts moves you there. For it to start moving you, you must apply your energy, will and imagination. Those. imagination, in this case, starts the process of separation, because imagination is the production of those images that will give the command to separate from the physical body and begin an astral journey. How will you feel it? Everything here is individual. Some feel leaving the body as a slight trembling in the body, a shudder, and immediately see themselves from the outside. Some do not see their body, but immediately find themselves in space or in the place they dreamed of. Both are the norm. But you must clearly understand why you need these astral travels. If you do not understand this, then your Higher Self, your subconscious will block your exit from the body. It will not understand why it needs to waste energy.

Tolik: It's nice to hear that on your planet children are already receiving spiritual knowledge at school. We are only dreaming about this for now. We don't need to tell you all this in detail: how to meditate, how to leave the body, because we spend a lot of time. For example, the technique: "Who am I?" we strongly criticize it as an incorrect technique. For us, meditation begins from the moment a person leaves the body. Everything up to this point is a waste of time, just rest.

Maxim : Who are we?

Tolik: We are our school. This is me, as a teacher, and my students.

Irina : Firstly, you can't even criticize the "Who am I?" meditation itself. I don't know what your approach to this meditation is: the same as I said or another. I emphasize that this is for those who are still materialists, but want to try to feel the Spiritual world. This is the simplest way, without which it is difficult. It is suitable for almost anyone who is serious about it. Of course, if a materialist treats believers and esotericists with a degree of irony and ridicule, he will even block himself from meditating: "Who am I?" There is not necessarily complete trust, just open interest in new experiences and that is enough. And I would like to hear all sides of your criticism of this meditation. In most cases, it is effective in obtaining the first understanding that a person is not only a body.

Tolik: There's no need to talk about criticism now. We want to know details about God. And this will be a distraction from the topic. I am interested in more details, for example, you went to the Astral. How do you then connect with God? Do you receive any information about Him?

Irina : To connect with God, it is not necessary to go to the Astral. Just like access to the Astral plane itself is not a guarantee of connection with God. These are slightly different things. They are similar in that something else is contact with the Spiritual world. But to put it simply, this is a connection with different areas of the Spiritual world, with different vibrations that are at different vibrational levels of these areas. The astral world is closest to the material world. And the world of Divine energies is even higher than the world of disembodied Spirits. A few words about the structure of the Spiritual World from the point of view of the spiritual teachers of the Interstellar Union. The spiritual world, spiritual reality consists of three large areas. The world of Divine energies, the world of disembodied Spirits and the Astral world.

Alexey: We watched all the episodes and know about spiritual levels and the division of the Spiritual world.

Irina : I'm saying that conscious access to the Astral is not a guarantee of meeting God and connecting with the inner Light. The Inner Light exists in us both in the state when we are in the physical body and in the state when we are in the astral body. And in order to feel this Light and connect with it, it is not at all necessary to leave the body. There is an even simpler way to connect with your inner Light than the "Who am I?" meditation: simply start raising your vibrations without engaging in any spiritual meditative practices, without reading mantras, without falling into a state of meditation. And just start developing Love in yourself. This path is the most complex, the most difficult, because the development of love in oneself cannot occur without some sacrifices on the part of the one who is developing. You will have to sacrifice your time and your energy, and your pride, and much more. But this path, although the most difficult, the most thorny, is also the most direct, since an increase in vibrations will lead to an automatic connection with God. In Christianity, this is well called the acquisition of the Holy Spirit: when we develop Love in ourselves, we attract Divine energies. And you need to learn to be in them constantly. Then no meditations or exits to the Astral are needed: a person automatically falls into this state upon reaching a certain level of increase in his personal vibrations.

33:30 Anatoly's story about his understanding of comprehending God.

Tolik: I heard your words about God, about meditation. You call it Light, Love. These are words that we do not use at all to describe God. Firstly, we criticize these teachers who say God is Light, God is Love, we strongly criticize them, because this is the level of religion. I'll tell you a little about how I meditated. For example, as you say, if you don't leave the body, but raise vibrations through Love, then there will be no point. But it will only make sense when the Soul leaves the body and is completely free from the body, and then the Soul acquires the highest speed. And speed is the main method that leads to merging with God. And no Love, no Light, but only speed should increase to the limit.

Tolik believes that in the Spiritual world there is such a material concept as speed, and in order for the Soul to reach the level of God, it must gain maximum speed.

Tolik: We consider this speed to be the main secret of our meditation, because it gives access directly to God. Why none of our spiritual teachers ever spoke about the speed of the Soul. We are talking about this for the first time and we say that this is the only method to know God and merge with him. Because when the Soul left the body, it is still at the level of vibration of our material world. When it comes out, it acquires a speed billions of times faster than the speed of light.

Tolik believes that in the Spiritual world there is such a material concept as the speed of light, which must be exceeded at least billions of times.

Tolik: The speed of exit from the body should be billions of times higher than the speed of light. At this time, I felt that in 5 minutes I flew out of the universe, beyond all the worlds that exist. When you fly beyond everything, you find yourself in absolute emptiness. This emptiness is the house of God, his dwelling. God is the source. And the first feeling that arises is absolute peace. Because speed ceases to be felt, because absolute emptiness arises. You are in a state of extreme speed, but you don't feel it there, because everywhere there is extreme emptiness. I call it the most empty emptiness. And when you get home to God, then all these qualities of God are revealed to you: omnipresence, omnipotence, omniscience, eternity, infinity. There are thousands of all these qualities. At our school we talk about about 70 of these qualities. Moreover, not a single spiritual teacher ever spoke about these qualities. When I entered the state of God, I began to explore it. A very important understanding was that God consists on a subtle level of the finest vibration. This vibration, of course, is in many ways superior in purity to all existing vibrations that are accessible to scientists or any kind of knowledge. This purity cannot be achieved by any devices. It is only the Soul that can comprehend this purity, which is only comprehended at a speed higher than the speed of light. Then I realized that God continuously fills all infinite space. God has no voids or gaps. God is infinitely dense. Tesla said about the ether that it is dense. And we say that God is something very dense, continuous and motionless. We compare God like a crystal. I call it a liquid crystal that vibrates at a huge frequency. And this purity is, as it were, the basic purity from which everything else consists. Why did I ask, "What is this world made of?" The world consists of vibrations. The purity of God is, as it were, the initial vibration. We call this God the source. We call lower vibrations God the creator. The lowest vibration is God - creation. Those. everything material was created by God from himself and with the help of his super-imagination.

Irina : My interstellar friends and I listened carefully to you through me. They heard the same thing in your words that they said. In any case, the peace that you experience when connecting with God - they felt this feeling through you, as a feeling of absolute security, since peace cannot exist without protection from all external influences, that is, this feeling of absolute security. This is what creates peace. But MidgasCaus wants to emphasize that peace and security are manifestations of that Love and Light that they spoke about. So we are one in the Divine Light with you. And in no case do we want to divide our teachings. In any case, we look at the same subject from different angles. And I urge you not to be like those blind sages who argued with each other what an elephant is, feeling one ear and the other tail.

Tolik: I don't want to argue, of course, I'm just talking about what I know about God and comparing it with what you said. For example, take the word Light. We say that in no way is God comparable to the word Light. The main word that approaches God is bliss. Those. this subtlest vibration. The only one who spoke about this was Kashmir Shaivism. And to the Shaivites this subtlest vibration was given as the word spanda during sleep, and not during meditation. In a dream, one teacher was given this concept that there is a vibration from which everything consists. But I comprehended this subtlest vibration during 10 exits to the Astral in the state of God. And she was in this vibration for 10 hours. That's why I studied it in great detail. I studied a lot of the qualities of God that he has. For example, how He creates worlds. And He creates these worlds with the help of super-imagination. When they say that man is created in the image and likeness of God, then it is precisely this imagination that a person has in his consciousness that is the main image and likeness of God. But God's consciousness and imagination are billions of times higher and more powerful. It is with the help of imagination that God creates all worlds.

Maxim : Let me also explain to you a little, so that we understand each other. Our task is the harmonization of any contactees, the harmonization of any healers, the harmonization of any energies that we are talking about. In fact, you were told one simple truth. Let us not be like the blind sages who talk about an elephant when one feels the ear and the other the tail. We mean Light, not like the light that comes from the sun. And we are talking about that Light, which can be presented as a high vibration, which you spoke about. We are talking about the same thing. I repeat once again, what you imagine as the stages of lowering vibration. We tell this as stages of lowering the level. There are 56 levels of density of the subtle-material world and three levels of density of the dense-material world. In principle, what you say is absolutely true and correct. If we translate you into our language, then we are talking about the same thing. But for some reason you don't want to hear that we are talking about the same thing. I have a question for you: why?

Irina: I also have a question: why?

Tolik: We will continue to communicate, and you will understand why.

Irina : We want to know now.

Maxim : We were talking about the same thing now, but we told it in completely different words. You drew a crystal. You pictured the speed of light billions of times faster. We say this is Light. Love is also energy. It cannot be said that the love of a man and a woman, love for the Motherland, love for a mother, these are the feelings and sensations that you can experience while in this state. This is the closest understanding of the state you are in - the state of Love. Therefore, God is Love. Therefore, God is Light.

Irina : Therefore, your criticism is surprising. We see behind your words the same thing that we are telling, but only in different terms. Therefore, what you called: God is bliss, I heard it. If I am in a state of bliss when I am in Light and Love, then I have every right to call this bliss Light and Love and Spirit.

47:00 About access to the Astral, bliss and Love.

Tolik: When you entered the Astral, did you increase this speed? Did you comprehend all this Light and Love on low vibrations?

Irina : Light and Love are no longer low vibrations. These are the vibrations that created this Universe in which we now find ourselves. This is the bliss that you experience. This is the peace that you achieve by breaking the speed of light billions of times. I can tell you one thing: the speed of the astral body can be very small and can even be infinite, since it does not depend on the material world. What is speed anyway? Speed in the material world is the change in the movement of an object over time. In our material world, it is very dependent, for example, on gravity, attraction, friction and other forces of the material world. The astral body is the spiritual body. It is not subject to any gravity or friction. It can accelerate only mentally. And nothing can stop him except the same thought.

48:30 Sathya Sai Baba and his philosophical teaching Advaita Vedanta.

Tolik: Tell me, do you know who Sai Baba is?

Irina : We don't know each other personally, but we have heard about it.

Tolik: Well, how can you hear so easily when this is the last avatar who came to the planet to raise our spiritual level? He could wield a huge number of abilities, materialize anything and perform many other miracles. He has a lot of different followers.

Irina : And he was just talking about the Light of Love.

Tolik: He gave his main philosophical teaching. It is called Advaita Vedanta. We want to talk about this teaching. Is it a true teaching on your planet? And do you recognize it as the basis of spirituality?

Irina : I hear that you are the one who loves this incarnation, this Spirit, which manifested itself as Sathya Sai Baba. It is clear from your words that you love him and you recognize him. Then it is surprising that you criticize those who call God Light, Love, since he did not use any other words regarding God. And then it's surprising to me that you don't criticize him for these words, since you've heard him say it many times, because there are thousands of witnesses. Then, perhaps, you should ask yourself the question, what if such a great Spirit for you, like Sathya Sai Baba, spoke about the Light of Love, that he is God, Divine Energy, he knew about this a little more than you and had more experience .

Alexey: Can I clarify. We also criticize Sathya Sai Baba for his religion of love. Anatoly just wanted to tell you about this. We agree with him that he said that everything is God and you are God and there is only God. Criticism comes for his teaching about Love.

Maxim : How can you accept part of a teaching, but not accept another part of the same teaching from the same teacher? Either accept everything, or don't accept everything.

Alexey: This is where the cream of the crop is selected, so to speak. If you start with one teaching, study it, and then the path to the next teaching opens up for you, you move further along the spiritual path. I started with transurfing and switched to another teaching. You accept one teaching, you feel in your heart that something harmonizes with you, but something does not harmonize. You ask yourself the following questions and try to find answers to them in this teaching. So, for example, transurfing says that there is a Soul, that listen to your Soul and that's it. A logical question arose: what is the Soul. Transurfing speaks only a little about this. Then you look for the next teaching. I came across Michael Newton where he describes the Spiritual World well and completely. And you understand that you are not a person, but a Soul, and you have a spiritual path that the Soul goes through. And it turns out that there is also information that the Soul incarnates many times, thereby gaining experience through its incarnation. And the books say that then comes merging with God. The last stage is merging with God. And you begin to search for what God is. You look for it in teachings and you look for it in books. And you go out into conversations with God, where God is described as the Absolute, as the beginning of beginnings. And so you jump from teaching to teaching and feel whether it harmonizes with you or not.

Irina : The fact is that Anatoly called Sathya Sai Baba not one of the spiritual teachers he read, but he called him one of the great avatars. We heard it all very well. The word Great Avatar already speaks of his attitude towards this person as something more than just a spiritual teacher. That is, he considers him one of those close to God. More close than non-avatars. That is, a certain hierarchy has developed in his mind. And he named precisely this person, not another, but precisely this one. After all, the question about Sathya Sai Baba was the first, and it stands high in the hierarchy of his value system. Here we see some incomprehensibility in the presentation of information by you, Anatoly. Because if this person stands so high in your value system, only that person who stands above you on the conventional ladder of spiritual development can be called a Great Avatar. You, in your words, revere him. You realize it by your spiritual teacher, i.e. that person who has achieved greater realization in union with God than you. Otherwise you would not call him with the great word "avatar". Moreover, you mentioned the materialization of vibhuti and other things that, from your point of view, are a manifestation of divinity. If you mentioned these two phenomena, combining them, then for you this is like a divine being. And if you realize him this way, then the point of your criticism of him as a person, about his teaching about God as the Light of Love remains unclear. After all, from your point of view, he knew much more about it. Otherwise he would not be a Great Avatar for you. I ask you to reveal this point in more detail for listeners.

56:58 Anatoly about his spiritual path and criticism of duality in consciousness.

Tolik: I am in my spiritual search, which I have been doing all my life, more precisely since I was 14 years old, now I am 65 years old. And I came to my teaching. I am a programmer by profession, and I wanted to come to a mathematically accurate teaching, because all spiritual teachers are engaged in chatter when they do not present any teaching. Even the same Sathya Sai Baba, he does not have teachings, so that in a few words he can specifically voice the final conclusions. We describe our teaching in three sentences. Everything is God. God does everything. And God does everything perfectly.

These three sentences mathematically accurately describe our world and God. And speaking specifically, everything that we see around us is God himself, not some kind of manifestation of him. They say that every atom is filled with God. Each atom is not filled with God, it is this God, i.e. everything is God. All matter is God himself. And we are God and we see only God around us. This is the ultimate understanding. We bring this to an understanding and say that this is enlightenment. When a person understands that everything is God, and there is no other understanding in his head. This is a simple and clear understanding. And there are no personalities in this world, i.e. there is no free will in any being in the entire universe. There is only one single will of God. Apart from this will of God there is no other will. The whole Universe is just a movie in which everything is predetermined. When we talk about these specific clear understandings of the structure of the whole world, we see that all other teachings they never talked about this. And the same Sathya Sai Baba spoke very little about this. He spoke of true knowledge of only 2%. And, in the end, he slipped into the religion of Love. In fact, it is a continuation of the conventional religion of Christianity. All religions strive for love of God and they are on the level of duality. Those. no one religion says that everything is God, and you yourself are God too. And we criticize all teachers who are at the level of duality as false teachers.

Irina : The very word criticism in this understanding is already duality in your mind. Since you accept the teaching that everything is God, it means that any spiritual teacher, even Sathya Sai Baba, even you, even Alexey, even Irina the contactee, even Maxim, even us, in this case, is God for you. How then, being a part of God, can you criticize us as another part of God? This means that duality is already in your consciousness, and you have not yet overcome it even according to the teachings of Advaita Vedanta.

Maxim : You said that in three sentences you characterize God, from a mathematical point of view. But, in three sentences I did not hear a single mathematical formula, not a single mathematical definition. And say that in three sentences, mathematically explain the concept of God.

1:01:00 About true and false knowledge.

Tolik: First of all, we call God - Nameless. And we say that everyone who calls God by some name is false Gods, these are not Gods at all.

Maxim : What does false teaching mean? If you imagine everything as a form of God, then any teaching that tries to explain it through its own terminology of understanding is this God.

Irina : Of course. If there is nothing but God.

Tolik: This is the usual excuse of those who do not want to perceive the truth.

Maxim : Do you want to say that everyone who is not subject to your truth is a false truth?

Irina : Naturally.

Maxim: It's called pride.

Tolik: Let me explain the mathematical side. Firstly, the word God is omnipresent. We call God Nameless and Omnipresent. Omnipresent means that everything is God and there is nothing that is not God. The absoluteness of this understanding means mathematical precision that there is one God, and there is no one and there is nothing.

Maxim : You said that it is impossible to explain God from the point of view of the material world. And then you yourself explain it from a mathematical point of view. You said that God is energy that cannot be defined by anything. Now I hear from you that you define God from a material point of view. How shoud I understand this?

Tolik: We are just saying that we need to comprehend God through our meditation. Every child can achieve the state of God. To master and comprehend this meditation, to find out who God really is and to see that everything is God.

Irina : If everything is God, then those teachers who call God Love are God. No other conclusion is possible here.

Tolik: This is the usual excuse of those who do not want to admit the truth.

Irina : Even if someone does not want to admit the truth, he is God in your understanding if you follow the path of Advaita Vedanta.

Tolik: Yes, all false teachers are God, but they speak false knowledge. We precisely separate false knowledge from true knowledge **.

Irina : Where does false knowledge come from in God if He is the truth?

This question turned my mind upside down: Where does God have false knowledge if He is the Truth? I thought about it for a couple more days. Try to answer this question for yourself, and you will understand a lot.

Tolik: In the process of development, man was first a monkey, then he received false knowledge.

Irina : From God? Did God receive false knowledge from God? Did I understand you correctly?

Tolik: It is God, in the process of his development, who himself comprehends the truth, through false knowledge to an understanding of the truth.

Anatoly is a very interesting person, and you can talk with him for a long time. I had to shorten this conversation a little....

Maxim : Anatoly, we are very interested in communicating with you. You have truly comprehended within yourself that feeling that you call God. But, my personal opinion is that condemning others in this feeling, which they call Love, Light, energy, speed, is, in principle, not acceptable for those teachers who carry the truth of this God. Any condemnation is not acceptance, and God cannot but accept. God can give.

Tolik: There are many seekers. They are searching. Everyone wants to come to God. This is our ultimate goal. When we see others and what they explain. Even atheists want enlightenment. They don't get the point across, they don't get people to understand. You yourself came to knowledge and experienced everything. And you explain to people: "People, please: I experienced, I was, I merged - this is the teaching." How else can you tell a person when he is looking for this in grief, trying to come to this and with a feeling of bitterness says that he has tried everything, and there is no result.

Maxim : The feeling of others not understanding what you understood is very familiar to me. Do you know what I wanted to do as soon as I met Irina and realized that I believed in all this? I wanted to say: "People, well, don't you see, this really exists, and there is such an opportunity, this form of communication, they gave us a gift so that we could communicate on different levels." I understand exactly what u mean.

Tolik: Therefore, we are very glad that you came to the meeting and gave us the opportunity. There was good dialogue in places.

Maxim : I think it turned out to be a wonderful dialogue.

Tolik: The truth is always very simple. We have reduced our teaching to as simple as possible. This knowledge - everything is God, God does everything and does everything perfectly, I walked along three floors. If you just say that everything is God, and everyone says that everything is God, everything is molecules, and everything is atoms. And you begin to connect yourself more with it, immerse yourself, understand, and then you will see it and put all the knowledge, this stage, into these three simple words.

Maxim : I wish your school prosperity. The only thing is that we remove destructive ones as criticism.

1:09:30 Jesus about Love and Truth.

Irina : In any case, this is advaita in consciousness and duality, when you understand the spiritual truth in any teaching that you come across and seeing it, you recognize everything.

As Jesus Christ said when He came to the Spiritual world after He ascended and spoke with spiritual teachers. He said: “The truth is one and it is everywhere. If a person is full of Love, then he does not need any commandments.”

Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova, and I am a contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations. Today my guest is Vlad from the PULSAR channel. He is also a contactee and came to harmonize our contacts and to agree on further interaction.

Vlad. Yes, we became great friends with both the Cassiopeia team and Irina. Of course, we exchanged experiences. More, of course, Ira exchanged her experience and contacts with me. And, overall, it turned out great. Everything is in love, in joy, in light and, most importantly, in the awareness that the world is really small, and in this world there is always a place for magical meetings, miracles that can happen in the life of every person.

Irina . Today we will talk about how I work with contactees who come to me, how I determine Curators. Vlad, tell us about your impressions. How did you come, what we talked about and your feelings about the work.

02:02 Vlad's story about working with Irina.

Vlad: Firstly, true knowledge, true contact, true interactions are always felt as unconditional love, joy and a state of belonging to the universal consciousness, to the universal Universe. Therefore, all these indicators were fully met. All our contacts were accompanied by a state of joy and love, and an immense state of happiness. Which for me is an indicator of the height of the channel, the height of vibration and how beautifully you can contact, how beautifully you can express your thoughts and thoughts of contact with other developed beings or other minds. Therefore, Irina helped harmonize my channel and build a relationship with those Curators whom I did not realize, but partially transmitted information and energy, and worked with people through me. But after we harmonized and interacted with Irina, the contact, of course, became more conscious, beautiful, bright, and rich. Which I am certainly very happy about. And if you have the opportunity to touch Irina's talent in identifying Curators and harmonizing the fields of conductors, then, of course, I advise you to do this if possible. And from the workload of the guys, of course, it is clear that their work brings invaluable support, an invaluable contribution to the development space for developing people. And all this is felt, all this is in the air. Extraordinary miracles, mutual penetration and those mentors who work with Irina, including.

Therefore, if you are in a state of search or, perhaps, in a state of some kind of choice and do not know which way to go, then this is an ideal option to realize yourself both in the light of God, and in the light of your true mentors, and in a state of harmonious space, in a state of harmonious internal state and its radiation, among other things.

Irina. I thank you for such a review and for your light, for your love that you brought to our common channel, and now I wanted to talk a little about you. Tell us about what you always knew and what you learned today. Who are your Mentors and how do you work with them?

05:17 Vlad's mentors and his work with them.

Vlad: With the help of Irina, her Mentors, her channel, we determined that the interaction in my channel occurs with a group of civilizations and the Spiritual world. And the channel that passes through my state is universal and it is possible to conduct energies, flows, information of completely different levels of consciousness and minds through myself. Which is very interesting and was experienced in practice. And what I learned from the specifics is my curator from Alcyone, from the Pleiades Constellation. His name is Thayer. This is an amazing plasmoid with an absolutely huge field of unconditional love and the light that it transmits in a state of conductivity, flow.

Well, and, of course, those Mentors who, on Irina's part, interacted with me and passed on messages and information. We talked to them. And this is a unique experience for me. Very high quality, very beautiful, noble. And all these Mentors are absolute light, in my opinion, because... a state of joy, purity, fullness, and clarity of consciousness is maintained. Which suggests that all this comes from a state of abundance, a state of well-being, when higher beings or other beings simply have a lot of things that they want to give so that those who follow will develop.

And this is the main misconception of people when they are afraid of Higher powers or are afraid of any contacts, because they have heard a lot of negative stories about how contacts happen, what kind of contacts they happen in general. All this can be solved with consciousness and professionalism. Irina has professionalism, so it was very easy to dot all the i's and go to the axis through which you really want to give, because you have a lot, and not because there are some illusions about contact that is not clear, what it is.

Therefore, all our interactions with Irina's curators came from this abundance, from this source of love. This is MidgasCaus. An absolutely amazing consciousness, an amazing teacher, a Mentor, who revealed a lot for me personally as a person, from the point of view of my internal states, some internal problems, which was resolved through dialogue, through this interaction with Mead. For which I am, of course, very grateful, since it helped, healed, and my main request for a meeting with Irina according to the response of my heart and according to my vibrations that I experienced while listening to Irina's video was some kind of state of centering, balance and healing . Exceeded all my expectations of how much one could heal, how much one could come into balance, into a state of being one's truest self. I am very grateful for this. Thanks a lot!

09:18 Definition of Curators. Vlad's universal channel. Connection with VYa.

Irina: I thank you! Indeed, Vlad arrived, we talked to him, his Curators came. We spoke to his Higher Self, as we do with everyone who comes to me. And it turned out that he can really tune in to contact with various plasmoid civilizations. This is the Alcyone civilization, this is the Altair civilization, and these are civilizations (there are 8 of them in total) from different stars, these are Vega, Sirius, which come somewhat less frequently.

He also interacts quite closely with the Spiritual world, with higher subtle vibrations. From there Archangel Michael comes to him, he contacts him. And his own Guardian Angel. When my Curators came, when MidgasCaus came from the planet Esler, Raom Tiyan from the planet Burkhad, they are humanoids in astral bodies. We made an attempt to have them talk with Vlad, and I was surprised by the purity of the connection that he achieved when interacting with humanoids.

And I conclude that this is a universal contactor. I would like to note that I interact with different civilizations using the chips that were installed for me (I have three of them). Vlad does not have physical chips, he interacts on his consciousness, on his awareness, on the experience that he received while living in the material world, and this is not surprising, because at the session of recognition of his past incarnations (and I can go to the world of disembodied Spirits with the consent of the person). Vlad gave his consent. The Spirit, which is embodied in Vlad's body, has almost 1,800 incarnations in the material world. This is really a lot. Personally, I have 384 incarnations. But despite such a large number of incarnations, he lives on Earth only for the fourth time. He spent all these numerous incarnations outside the Earth. There they showed me his stories of incarnations. He was incarnated not only in our galaxy, but what surprised me was the majority in humanoid worlds. Plasmoid is much smaller. Therefore, thanks to this experience, he interacts even with humanoid civilizations. It interacts very cleanly, conveys the meaning of what was said very well, without physical chips.

And when we talked with his Higher Self, we managed to find out that his task is to get in contact with the Higher Self and teach other people this. His contact is very bright, very clean, and since he himself is very sensitive, he can make a very good and high-quality connection with the VY.

14:30 Awareness of contact. State of the conductor of Light.

Vlad: I have a question. The state of a conductor, a source, it requires from a person the absence of his personality, the absence of his I, often physical. When you realized that some kind of non-return has occurred, after which you clearly understand that your Self is always in the background and the priority is the people you want to help, the information you want to convey, and the Light that you want to broadcast from the higher spheres. And what was that realization like?

Irina: I understood this long before I had my first contact with Kirchiton, before I was taken to Daraal. I understood this at that moment in my life when I first felt like the Light. Not this body, not a girl, not a teenager, but the Light that was, is and will always be. I felt out of time. This happened when I was 12 years old, and this moment of my life, which turned into eternity, I will never forget it, because after it I never left the feeling that everything around me was alive, filled with intelligence, and I was protected the most powerful Creature in the world. Why the most powerful Creature in the world? Because all forces and energies come from its source. And when you feel yourself in it, when you feel like it, a part of it, then the natural desire of the Soul is the happiness that you want to give to everyone, and I understand this happiness as Light. It was then that this priority arose. And this happened on October 12, 1998, 9 months before the first contact with Kirchiton. It happened completely suddenly. I didn’t think about any aliens then. Of course, this was not accidental, and it was God’s opening of my VYa so that during these 9 months I would be in a state of high vibrations, in order to be ready for contact with Kirchiton and in the future for the activities that we are now conducting with Maxim and with our entire Cassiopeia team.

Naturally, we are not doing it just like that. One of our goals is for all contactees, and I know there are many of us, for them to all realize their contacts and carry the same Light as us.

Vlad: Why did I ask about this dedication, because it is such a heartfelt gratitude for this unconditional dedication, when it is possible to dissolve in the conductor completely, without a trace. I've never seen anything like this in my life and I'm amazed. Thank you for this opportunity and it truly is a gift. And I thank God for sending such people into this world.

Irina: I thank you too, Vlad. And over the last year, I realized one more thing from interacting with Maxim, with the entire Cassiopeia team, that the more light you give, the more you feel it in yourself. And the less light you give, the less you feel it in yourself and you begin to look for it in something else. But this is impossible, I realized that.

18:57 Curators and Guardian Angels of Irina and Vlad.

Irina: At the moment, our curators are with us. With me is MidgasCaus from the planet Esler and LiSioni, who has already become our common curator of the Cassiopeia project. Well, and, of course, Vlad's curators are here. These are two representatives of the subtle-material civilization. The first of the Altair civilization. He asked to designate him as Altair, he is a representative of a group of civilizations. And now here is a representative of Alcyone from the Pleiades Cluster, who identified himself as Thayer. And here is also Vlad's personal curator from the Spiritual World, which each of us has, and he is now his Guardian Angel, this is a girl Angel and her name is Layateya. Naturally, my Guardian Angel, who is also a curator from the Spiritual World, but he is a guy, and his name is Rogaim.

20:40 How does contact occur with the curators and the personal contact information of a person who comes to see Irina. Details of perception.

Vlad: We all know that Irina, at the moment of the presence of any person, especially if this person is a guide or whom she helps, feels the presence of the person's mentors and those forces that come into contact to convey something and make some kind of exchange energies, knowledge. Please tell me how this happens, and what you feel, what you see? Many would be interested to know these details.

Irina: I see representatives of civilizations that come to a person not with physical eyes, but on the internal screen, with internal vision as various silhouettes, images. But when I look at them, I first ask my VY, representatives of which civilization? (This happens automatically to me) These are representatives of either a humanoid civilization, or a subtle-material civilization, or a disembodied Spirit. So that I can distinguish the vibrations of these three varieties of different spiritual entities, embodied and non-incarnate. Because the astral body of a living humanoid, which is embodied and which has arrived, its vibrations will be similar to the vibrations of a disembodied Spirit. And the vibrations of a plasmoid, as a representative of a subtle-material civilization, will be different from them. But all the same, if this Spirit is embodied, then its astral body will differ in vibrations from the disembodied Spirit, because it will contain a particle of vital energy that connects it with the body from which it came.

And, for example, when I already recognized a representative of a humanoid civilization, i.e. dense material, I further ask the question, what humanoid civilization? Anthropomorphs or insectoid, or reptilian, or anyone else. The corresponding image immediately comes to me. I can figure out who came within a few seconds. I ask, if this is a humanoid, what planet are you from, and why did you come? If it is a plasmoid, then I roughly determine the level of density. I can communicate from 4th to 56th inclusive. If necessary, I ask again: “Introduce yourself, where are you from? Are you a representative of terrestrial plasmoids, space plasmoids, what star are you from, what density level?” I will say right away that the appearance of plasmoids is distinguished by a wide variety of shapes; they can look like spheres, like pillars, like various crystals, rhombuses, complex figures such as pyramids, circles inscribed in them. But I want to emphasize that these are the images that my consciousness, which is embodied in the body, can perceive. In any case, their form is more complex. These are electromagnetic waves that are in a certain spectrum of vibrations, and their subtle body consists of these waves.

25:30 The difference between a demon and an Angel.

Irina: If this is a disembodied Spirit, I can roughly feel what level it is from. In the world of disembodied Spirits there are 24 levels. The most basic I feel are 1st to 6th; from 7th to 15th-16th and above. From 1st to 6th - this is a low vibrational Spirit, vibrations lower than mine. I feel him on the internal screen as a kind of dark figure (if I am in my body at the same time). I have nothing to compare my sensations with, because they are at the energy level, like a low sound. Only you don't hear it with your ears, but with energy. Those. Each Spirit vibrates at a certain frequency, and these vibrations cannot be faked, you cannot pretend and take vibrations higher than they are. A higher Spirit can temporarily lower its vibrations. But it is difficult for him to maintain himself in such vibrations. The Low Spirit can externally take on any image in the astral plane. For example, the image of an Angel, the image of Jesus, but this low energy sound is like a comparison and sensation at the level of the astral etheric body. The difference between a demon and an Angel is like a low bass and thin sound.

28:27 Dialogue during contact. Working with the human VY. Why is there no contact at low vibrations?

Irina: And after this recognition has occurred, I am already building a dialogue: "Why did you come? Why are you with this person, when you are with him, the purpose of your contact with him?" He answers me. For example: "I want to communicate with him or I have been with him since childhood." How much conscious contact do you have? "I communicate with him in my dreams, or he takes my thoughts for his own." How possible is conscious contact? "His own logical mind interferes with him, he rejects my mental constructions."

And then I already communicate with this person's VY and ask him to set up for conscious contact, if possible. In many cases, VYa answers that this requires the work of the person himself to raise his vibrations, his awareness. Increasing your vibrations is an increase in the share of positive energies in your astral body: love, joy, trust, openness. This immediately sharply increases sensitivity to the astral world. Because according to Divine law, this is the natural protection that a person has from the astral world; it opens up more easily in high-vibration people.

First of all, this is done for our safety. So that a person with his low vibrations does not see those whom he has attracted. Because in many cases it can be dangerous for his psyche and for the people around him later.

30:38 Vlad's path to the Light. Man of New Consciousness.

Maxim: Vlad, please tell us when you came to the idea that you could bring Light to people?

Vlad: All my childhood I didn't understand why people complicate everything, and why we need to do a lot of unnecessary movements, unnecessary words, unnecessary feelings, bypassing straightforwardness, bypassing the truth and maintaining the purity and truth of our own emotions and feelings, and what we experience In fact. And watching this world of roles, the world of masks and shells, as a child it was always incomprehensible to me why all this falseness, why such heaps, because of which the true nature of both the world and the person himself is not visible. And I also had such moments when a very strong longing arises for something beyond, for something very bright, clear, for something that does not exist on Earth, in physical life. And this melancholy, I think, could be traced in the lives of many of our viewers, when it is not explainable from a logical point of view. And looking at the stars, a person sobs or remembers some of his true light, suddenly opens up spontaneously in his feelings, emotions and does not know what to do with it. Where does it come from, why is it given to them. It so happened that the period we are currently living through gives every person the opportunity (to put it simply) to be a better conductor of Light. Because by their nature, man and the Spirit embodied in man are a certain tension of the light wave and energy of God. And when there is a lot of constriction or constraint in a person's structure, or some unlived emotions and feelings, then in this case the Light or energy, or tension, electricity that passes through a person as a natural conductor does not pass through, but is formed into blocks, coma, and how a snowball gives rise to that series of events and experiences that he does not like, which are a black streak or that very negative karma of a person.

And at the moment of this awareness, when the period of childhood passes, of naive misunderstanding, why is this happening, why are people like this? Why do you yourself become like this, because you are in this world, among these people, among rudeness, and gradually your Soul (many have observed by their example) it also becomes coarsened to the state of this mistrust, separating yourself from anything: from others people, from the love of God, from planet Earth. Those. For some reason, the state of separation itself becomes a natural state, although in truth it cannot be called such. And this period, when I lived exactly the same separation as all people, I certainly had it. And in the last 3-4 years, spontaneous states have begun, when there is a certain experience of the light nature of one's essence, one's being, or a huge surge of this light, this love, these crocodile tears, it is unclear where they came from. From the awareness of this purity, from the awareness of this harmony, this volume of the Universe, its rationality, the amount of life that surrounds a person. And, most importantly, her kindness.

And many people are under the illusion that this world is cruel, that it is unfair. Especially now it is a false, illusory and very thin film, which dissolves very intensively and under the influence of those states of vibrations, changes that the planet, the collective human mind, and each person are experiencing. And now a person only needs to open his inner world of this naturalness, which pours out from the higher spheres onto our Earth, and through this naturalness, feel that nature and that essence, which, naturally, is immortal and all-encompassing, and in it there is a huge amount of Love and that The light that nourishes our lives. This is the desire to live, this is the desire that will soon appear in a huge number of people, an unbridled desire, absolutely spontaneous, absolutely free, even in some places daring and unreasonable. And people have been waiting for this for a very long time, hiding it somewhere deep inside in a feeling of anticipation that life needs to be lived. And not to think about it, not to be upset about your limitations, about how far and for a long time this Soul was sent into the rough earthly world. Although everything that happens to a person now, I liked how Alexey said: "That according to a person's Faith, his reality is built." Those. what he believes in is his reality. And not as it was before - a person takes what he sees as his own reality.

And this is the difference between a person of a new consciousness, a new time, in that the perception of reality is built from one's own faith, and not from the fact that we have. And this opportunity to change, synthesize, alchemize the surrounding space, a person has it in the period that we are now experiencing, and it can no longer be hidden, it can no longer be called madness or something that is not the norm, because it is already so obvious , so it is manifested in every second person who at least somehow touches the space of development, in order to realize himself not as an earthly linear program, but as a cosmic being.

And this life that surrounds planet Earth and the human mind, it is also different, each has its own history, its own plans, its own goals, its own tasks. And there is a life that is lower in level of development than a person, there is a life that is much higher than a person and foolishly does not learn from those who have truly achieved with their creative potential, freedom, the joy of merging with God, merging with the naturalness of this Universe.

And therefore, there are many messengers, contactees, guides who, through their energy, through what they conduct, through the thought they express, try to stir up this memory of the Soul of every person, which sleeps somewhere deep, clogged with the rudeness of this world, the rudeness past centuries. And with this very example, with their state, with their flow, they can indeed revive Souls and not do something magical with people, but simply remember their own essence. Go to your Higher Self and remember yourself. And to understand that an intermediary between me and God is not always needed, it is not always necessary to follow some teaching or tradition for a long time and difficultly in order to simply recognize oneself as a part of this universe and to be happy even in a human way, based on those human qualities which are not alien to anyone. In the development space, including.

Those. while remaining human, cultivate those basic moral and ethical norms or canons that were described by the masters who previously came to the planet. Such as nobility, honor, compassion, unconditional love, like merging with God, merging with one's neighbor. And all these human qualities will always be relevant, and this is the power of the integration of God with matter. The power of merging the general consciousness of the Universe with manifested matter. When a person does not run from reality, does not run from problems, does not run from the mistakes that he himself created. And he goes into them headlong through Love, through Light, the daring desire to live, to be happy, to be in development, to be in the evolutionary flow, which, well, really, is already so obvious!

41:41 Irina Podzorova's address to all contactees.

Maxim: Vlad, I can listen to you endlessly! I am very pleased to meet you and chat with you. And in this conversation I would like to ask both of you a question. If you had the opportunity to address contactees around the world, conscious and unconscious, what would you tell them?

Irina: As a person who, since the age of 13, has been following the path of contact with another mind, I want to appeal to everyone who is listening to me now and has experience in some ways similar to mine, in some ways different. But the similarity is that you once realized that in addition to the familiar world that surrounds you, there is a world that is not visible to others. You must understand that when you came into contact with these beings and felt their light, it is very important not to be afraid and accept everything as it is: “Yes, I have contact, yes, I was chosen so that I could tell people about it." The world is changing a lot now, and contactees are no longer perceived as they were 20 years ago.

In any case, even if your loved ones do not understand you, reject your contacts, advise you to turn to psychologists, etc., do not despair, do not argue, do not be angry with them, do not be offended. They want the best for you, they worry about you, and since they do not feel the subtle world, they can be sincerely convinced that this is a pathology of your brain. Or if people are believers, then they will fear that dark forces are coming to you. Especially if they see how your consciousness and awareness of the religion where you are changing. And this will inevitably happen, because the purpose of contacts is to open a person to a broader view of the universe than individual religions offer.

In order not to isolate yourself, you need to look for like-minded people through the Internet, look for groups of contactees. You can always contact me, Maxim, Vlad. We will always help, support and harmonize contacts if necessary.

45:28 Vlad’s address to contactees.

Maxim: Vlad, you now have the opportunity to contact contactees around the world. What would you tell them?

Vlad: The difference that guides are now creating in their vision of the world, in their different views on this world, i.e. from a perspective that the other guide does not have. This difference is actually valuable, and now a period will begin when a lot of these diverse views will appear. And there are many spectra of the kaleidoscope, which only later will merge into a single picture of the understanding of God, the understanding of the universe, which will not be at the level of words, not at the level of symbols or ideological concepts, but at the level of internal sensation, internal contact with the Creator himself.

This systematic increase in the vibrations of consciousness, the expansion of people's worldview is precisely what leads the general mass of developing people and not only developing people to this inner feeling when the picture of a person's values changes. And he doesn't even realize why it suddenly changes into some more conflict-free form, into a more anti-egoistic form, when he wants to do something good for a person, when certain charitable ideas or states of dedication appear, which people enter into for self-development. They feel like a radiance that you just want to carry through this life. Even, perhaps, without transmitting any knowledge or concepts.

And all this difference, as I have already mentioned, in its perspective it will come to this internal, single contact with Creation, with God, with the Absolute. And this contact, it is alive, it is evolutionary, it will never be static, it will never bring a person a state of cessation or satisfaction in some negative format, but will always arouse in him a desire for this knowledge and even greater resonance with the truth .

And to all contactees who currently exist and who may see this message, I would just like to say that you should be yourself and do not forget that what is human in every conductor, it should still prevail over the state of the flow that the person transmits . And when this flow integrates and unfolds through human values, we see examples of amazing dedication, an amazing state of acceptance of a person, unconditional love, in which you really want to drown and blur in this happiness of finding this truth. Such a wish.

Irina: Vlad, I wish you to always remain with the Light that you are. This is my first wish. And secondly, I wish you a more conscious contact, which you felt today, and I wish you more and more development in this contact, in your personal life - success, love, true love, which undoubtedly awaits you.

And I wish you not to confuse it with some other feelings. I am sure that the Light that is in you will not allow this to happen.

The main thing is that you always remain in these vibrations in which I know you.

And I wish you further fruitful cooperation with your curators, and ever greater development in the awareness of being in the Light of the Love in which you are now.

Natalya: Has he tried earthly food? Did you treat him?

Irina: No, I didn't treat him. I wanted to treat Kirchiton to beer. Even the most funny. He took me just to the satellite of Jupiter - Callisto, there is one. And I say: "Would you like a beer?" He says: "I can't, this is a poisonous substance for us." But when you sit, he has weightlessness in his plate when it flies. And I wanted to open a bottle of beer. He says: "We'll arrive now, then you'll open it. Everything will come out of the bottle for you, there will be a bubble here."

Natalya: Did you take a bottle of beer with you to treat him?

Irina: Yes, to treat him, but he refused. I say: "Well, then I'll drink." And I wanted to open it. And he says: "Now we'll fly to Callisto, open it, otherwise now there's weightlessness here, a bubble will come out of the bottle, you'll do it like this..." [blows as if driving away the bubble]

Natalya: Listen, well, this is some kind of fantastic story, of course.

Irina: I won't tell this in my life [laughs].

01:02 Satellite of Jupiter – Callisto.

We arrived at Callisto. There's a chair there. While I was sitting talking to him, I opened a beer. He didn't. He told me so far, I drank it. He says: "Well, put the bottle here." And they put on suits for us. When I told you yesterday how they themselves... And we went to the surface of Callisto to look. Jupiter generally occupies half the sky. I had fun there, I wanted to play in the snow with him. There's snow everywhere. But he doesn't mold. There, with gloves like these, you take them, but it doesn't mold, it's snow... And I say: "Let's build a snowman." And he says: "Well, try it, make it blind." But it doesn't stick, it's dry, and you fall down to your waist. I climbed up to my waist somewhere.

Natalya: Is it hard there? Strong attraction?

Irina: No, you jump out of the snow, you can stand on one hand, and roll over like that. “Come on,” I say, “let’s play in the snow.” And I wanted to put it together like this so I could throw it at him, but it didn’t stick to me. And Kirchiton came up and said: “But here the snow is not made of water, it is made of methane.” It's like powder.

Natalya: From methane?

Irina: The temperature there is minus 200. In a suit.

Natalya: Is this suit heavy?

Irina: No. So okay - 200, we went to Venus, there it’s generally +400 and the pressure is 100 atmospheres.

Natalya: What kind of costumes are they so special that they can withstand.

Irina: Here they are. They can withstand up to 2000 degrees there. They also have it there in Daraal and it costs a lot of money there to buy it. Do you want to buy one?

Natalya: It’s so strange to me that they have money. This is really strange. I thought they were following some other laws...

Irina: Well, yes, but for what reasons?

Natalya: To each according to his needs, remember, like in communist, this very... propaganda...

Irina: They still had money. China is communist, they have the yuan.

Natalya: There they are communists, but they are still building communism, they have not built it.

Irina: How are they built? Communist Republic of China.

Natalya: But in the Soviet Union they believed that to each according to his needs

Irina: There was money anyway. Well, they were. If not money, then these were, as they were called, my grandmother had, she showed me when there was a transition to others, these big ones, as she called them, these kinds of pieces of paper?

Natalya: What about grandma? They didn't build communism. They were going to do it and didn’t build it.

Irina: What is communism?

Natalya: Well, there was one. I had scientific communism back in college.

Irina: I read a little, I remember I took Lenin from the library, but I didn’t understand anything there.

Natalya: Did you take Lenin from the library?

Irina: Yes, I was still in school. It was interesting. In general, I was interested in the history of Russia. I remember that in our library a whole shelf was filled with it, 50 volumes so thick. I think: “I need to read the history of Russia.” What was I there, 12 years old... I said: “Can I take this book?” They allow it, please take it and read it. Anyone can borrow it from the school library. I found the first one there. This is such a big book.

Natalya: In my opinion, it’s completely unrealistic to read Lenin. If I hadn't been forced, I probably wouldn't have read it.

Irina: I don’t remember what was written there. And I remember something was written there about land, that the land needs to be given somewhere, the land needs to be given somewhere...

Natalya: Workers, maybe also peasants?

Irina: There were some articles there. There he expressed himself in some scientific terms. Why, I was 12 years old.

Natalya: And you decided to read Lenin right at 12?

Irina: Yes, I came to the school library. And right there in our school library, where the children went, a whole shelf was filled. And I think: “Oh, Lenin.” I know that this is the history of Russia. And I was interested. I think it is necessary, as a primary source. What kind of revolution was this? I asked, I took the book: “Can I take it?” She said, "Yes." She wrote it down. You can read to children.

Natalya: Of course, you can have Lenina.

Irina: Yes, you can. I then carried her. But I didn't read it all. She then says to me: “Well, have you read it?” I say "No". “Otherwise you can take more.” I say: “No, thank you, no longer necessary.” “Did you understand anything there?”

Natalya: How many pages have you read? I’m even curious?

Irina: I don’t know, I was looking for something there at the beginning, in the middle, maybe I read an article there. I asked my mother something else. She says: "Leave me alone." Before this, I took books about the revolution, simply how collective farms were created. I took this and read it.

Natalya: How were collective farms created?

Irina: Well, yes, how they were dispossessed, such are the stories.

Natalya: You had the makings right away. You were interested.

Irina: I generally loved reading books, always. I still love it. But I don't have time to read now.

Natalya: Please tell me, when did this all happen to you, with whom did you share it?

Irina: With mom.

Natalya: With mom?

Irina: Did your mom believe you?

Natalya: No, she doesn't really believe in aliens at all. Tell me, you studied scientific communism there. Is there really no money there? They thought it wouldn't happen.

Irina: Why?

Natalya: They thought that everything would be equality and brotherhood, people would become honest and would not take money for anything. And they will be given as much as they need, and they will work honestly themselves.

Irina: That's understandable. You say, from each according to his ability, to each...

Natalya: To each according to his needs.

Irina: I understand that. But everyone's needs are different, everyone's abilities are also different, so what? Still, people are different here on Earth. We bought one house, the barn was full of Soviet literature, Marx's Capital... After all, there was an economist, he knew very well that if I work, for example, as a school teacher, I'm giving away my abilities, but I have a need eat a loaf of bread and drink a pack of kefir, and live in a one-room apartment. And if you work as a teacher, it's the same, you are according to your ability, but you have the need to eat a stick of sausage and drink a liter of beer - this is not the same price of the product. Our needs will be different, but the work will be the same.

How can you satisfy your needs if you complete the same amount of work by the hour, for example? You and I have done it by the hour and our needs are different. And to produce these products you also need to invest different amounts of labor. What will happen to us then? This means that you will have some needs, you will acquire this and that, I will have other needs. For example, I want to live in a three-room apartment, and you want to live in a one-room apartment, and you and I completed the same work plan, the state allocated it to us - a three-room apartment for me, a one-room apartment for you. You say: "Why is this so? And I want it too."

Natalya: It was more difficult there. It's not even like that there. It was even worse there. Everyone had to live there as joint families.

Irina: Okay, live together, but what about food?

Natalya: All houses are the same.

Irina: What about food?

Natalya: Food is also probably a leveling factor.

Irina: It's also written there according to the needs, according to the needs of a person. Or did someone determine the needs?

Natalya: Probably, they were somehow cunning there.

Irina: It's already like being in a concentration camp. You do this much, and they will feed you. So what?

10:00 Classification of civilizations.

Natalya: What class do we belong to among the aliens for them? Are we some kind of civilization? Is there some kind of classification?

Irina: They have different classifications. If, according to the technical development index, ITR is translated into Russian, then it will be, there are 30, 30 levels. The 30th level is when such development of technology occurs, when planets can be rearranged, stars can be lit, and the energy of almost the entire Galaxy can be used.

Natalya: What about us?

Irina: Those who have nuclear fuel are already 12th.

Natalya: Is it important how we use it?

Irina: Whoever discovered how to use energies of the second level, which I say are like radiation, whoever discovered its presence is already in our classification of the 12th level. And to use it for evil or good - this already depends on the specific qualities of the individual, i.e. from its moral, ethical, spiritual standards. This does not depend on the state of the art.

11:23 Ether is energy.

Natalya: Ether is the fifth element?

Irina: Yes, he was excluded from the periodic table. Your scientists excluded it because you used a different model of science, a different model of the atom, which, Ernest Rutherford said, does not require the presence of an ether. And what was called ether there are the primary elements from which everything consists.

Natalya: How does the substance itself exist?

Irina: He says they call it energy. They call it that type of energy... I remember Raom Tiyan saying that he is from Burkhad. I have a curator from Burkhad, his name is Raom Tiyan. He deals with energy interactions. And now Mead reminded me that Raom Tiyan spoke about ether, that in the 19th century it was the name of the energy that serves as the border between our material world and the spiritual world. That is, how it delimits. Some of them are generally like high-vibration plasmoid worlds, i.e. they consist, one might say, of ether. But in your modern terminology, these are like torsion fields, because they are spinning.

11:48 Will people learn to manage energy?

Natalya: And people, will they learn to somehow manage this energy, because it can potentially provide a new source of energy?

Irina: Yes, there are many different types of broadcast. Those. not different types of ether, they are at different vibrations. The closest thing to the material world for you, you are already discovering it, your physicists are beginning to study it, you may have heard it, it is called free energy of the vacuum.

Natalya: Probably, yes, we heard.

Irina: But we call it, but you just call it vacuum energy. Your scientists are discovering that even in empty space, free from all substances and fields, material space, you have energy, but it has not yet been studied by your scientists. To study it, it must be extracted. In the Interstellar Union we have devices that, when directed to a limited beam of electromagnetic waves in a certain spectrum and directed to one point, screened from all other fields, can cause the release of vacuum energy. Vacuum energy is not only found in vacuum, it is found throughout all of space. Only it is easier to detect it when there are no molecules, no atoms, or other energies in space.

Natalya: How long will it take humanity to search for this energy?

Irina: Personally, my forecast, given your development of science, is 200 years.

Natalya: I have little chance of seeing it.

Irina: Nothing, in the next incarnation... If you are reincarnated here on Esler or Burkhad, you will see it sooner.

Natalya: I understand that people are now more interested in learning very specific, physical things. They all ask about the coronavirus, yesterday you answered about the coronavirus. I think I'll just paste this piece in and not repeat it.

14:46 Live broadcast the day before. Answers to questions about coronavirus.

Irina: Who created the coronavirus? Representatives of Burkhad are of the same opinion as before, that this is a development of the Chinese intelligence services and the Chinese military. Even if these are not biological weapons themselves, these are experiments to create them. We cannot prove that this was a planned human experiment. It is quite possible that this is like a leak in a laboratory, although we assume that this option is quite possible, that it is not a leak, but a deliberate sabotage against the Chinese people.

15:45 Finance on Esler. Nanochips.

Natalya: I understand that the next question people have is financial solvency. Do you have finance on the planet, and do people in the foreseeable future have a chance to change this situation so as not to depend so much on finance, so that relationships between people are not built on some kind of financial values?

Irina: We have, but we don't have paper money anymore, but on some planets we do. But specifically at Esler there are no longer any of these in circulation - neither metal, nor paper, nor plastic. Our financial system is built on electronic money. Firstly, we do not have documents that you are accustomed to understanding. All data about a person is embedded in special nanotechnology, nanochips, which are located in the body. They are kind of like the neural networks of your brain, but they are distributed throughout the body, and they contain information about who this Eslerite is, where he was born, what city he lives in, etc. etc., all information. How the document replaces. The chip also contains DNA information. Everyone's DNA is unique. Even among close relatives, everyone's DNA is individual, and therefore information about the sequence, as you say, of nucleotides, is already embedded in the electronic circuit of this one. Our hands contain our DNA on the skin, and we can put our hands on special terminals, and payments are made there, money is credited, etc.

Natalya: We also had such an experiment, there was a person who implanted himself and walked around with this chip, but the question essentially concerns me is different, how does energy exchange occur between people?

Irina: We have such a financial system. We don't have any money. There is, like you, a combination of government spheres of work, including in the Interstellar Union and on our planet. There are colonies where we develop and spread in space. And we have what you would call a social order of work, i.e. a society can be founded, and there will be workers, or a private order. I wouldn't call them entrepreneurs, because we don't have such a thing that we can buy something, and then sell it somewhere else at a little higher price, or hold on to this product, and when there is a shortage, sell it. We do not have such schemes. It makes no sense to do this, because it creates an unjustified increase in price, and every Eslerite knows that attracting financial flows in this way destroys the spiritual structure of a person.

Natalya: In the Interstellar Council, it turns out that aliens receive salaries?

Irina: Well, yes. In your earthly way, you can call it that. They perform certain types of public or government work, and they receive certain support from the state or private companies under special rules on which they can live. Esler also has its own families. Also support our families, travel, develop, we also have this. Simply by the fact of birth on this or that planet, if this member of society does not perform a useful function, then he will not have the opportunity to receive benefits. In any case, a person must research, must contribute something to the development of society, and then benefit from it for his development.

20:20 Rod. Family memory.

Natalya: How important is his gender for a person? It so happened that in our country entire generations do not know their ancestors further than their grandparents because we had the Soviet Union, and this revolution, all these wars. To what extent has this deprived us of some roots or foundations? What does family memory give us?

Irina: Every family, every clan has its own family, or as they also call it, ancestral egregor. When spirits incarnate, they incarnate through the egregor of this people, through the egregor of this particular family clan, and they take on a partial participation in the program of this clan. Those. programs that were laid down by the thoughts, emotions, and feelings of these members of the clan. But they do not take all programs, but those that coincide with themselves in vibrations, i.e. The incarnating spirit itself has thoughts and feelings, if it has thoughts and feelings similar to its generic egregor, it attracts them to itself, they seem to intensify in itself. If this spirit has opposite qualities, they can be weakened by opposite generic egregors, with opposite energies. This is in the program for the development of the spirit, which they just talked about as an order. This is a spiritual development program. It is not strictly determined. And in Russian it is a definite plan of action. If the plan of action includes working in this particular family egregor, in this particular family, then it will be so, it will come true. Yes, now you do not have the knowledge of the genealogy, those that were before, but at the moment this does not matter, because those spirits who come now know perfectly well that they are going to a country at a time when these spirits are not there. knowledge. This is also their program.

Natalya: Will this Vedic knowledge be revived?

Irina: Where will they be reborn?

Natalya: Here on Earth.

Irina: This can only be a private initiative of some group of people, because at the state level this does not matter for modern politicians.

Natalya: Will our modern politicians remain in the capacity in which they exist, or will they change?

Irina: I would like to hope not.

23:00 Human development.

Natalya: Is there any predetermination in this development of humanity in the next, say, 10 years or 20?

Irina: You can roughly calculate, but it will be very difficult to say anything in advance, because I will now start making plans for what you should achieve in 10 years. The Interstellar Union has long been waiting for a law to abolish legalized fetal murders, etc. In any case, it is disrespect for life. This law has not yet been adopted for completely understandable political and economic reasons. This is the first. And second, remember, Irina had a video with Saint Germain? Here Saint Germain incarnated as Solomon. Solomon lived 3,000 years ago, he was incarnated on Earth. And then he incarnated in Saint Germain on the planet Disaru, 3,000 years ago this spirit, which was then embodied in Solomon, wrote, as an Israeli king, the following words: “There are many plans in the heart of man, but only what is determined by the Lord will come to pass.” What is “ordained by the Lord”? If a person’s plan does not correspond to the plan of his spiritual development, then the Lord, he knows the thoughts of every person, God, meaning the Creator of the entire Universe, and He will direct his energy to ensure that it does not come true. And if something happened, then it happens according to His will, i.e. according to His desire, or it is in favor of the development of something, if it is good, all good things happen, and if something negative happens, then it happens because He allowed it. And He allowed this so that people, through the example of discernment, would learn to value this goodness that would be given later. To appreciate means to love.

Natalya: Thank you, that’s very good. These are some very clear words and seem simple, but they need to be repeated more often.

25:36 Law of the Twelve.

Natalya: They say there is a law of twelve, when 12 people unite, as it were, in a circle, their souls are somehow together, and they become direct creators...

Irina: 12 apostles?

Natalya: Maybe, including the 12 apostles. Is there such a law of twelve in the Galaxy or in space?

Irina: It depends on faith. Maybe the law of seven, the law of twelve, etc. You are actually talking about creating an egregor.

Natalya: Maybe.

Irina: It can be created by any number, just if a person believes that it is 12 that strengthens his belief in this action, then he will simply release more energy from himself due to this. It depends on the person's faith.

Faith guides ships through the storm,

Caravans move through the desert,

Captivates the prisoners of the Earth

To the distant stars in the blue sky.

Natalya: The same thing. That is, “according to your faith.”

Irina: Yes, yes, if you have faith the size of a mustard seed, say: “Woe to go there,” and it will move. Do you know what a mustard seed is? In fact, this was the smallest grain that was known to the Israelites, to whom Christ spoke this parable. But in fact, this is a huge amount of faith, because faith as a feeling, as a spiritual phenomenon, cannot be measured on a scale.

Natalya: This is very beautiful.

Irina: Thank you.

Natalya: I am the whole gamut of feelings and emotions of the brightest and most blissful. Thank you.

#79 About autonomous energy generators: conversation between Irina Podzorova and representatives of the “Global Wave”

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/ob-avtonomnyh-generatorah-ehnergii

Irina: Hello, dear friends! My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations. And today with us are MidgasCaus from the planet Esler, PiosNior from the planet Esler. Two specialists from the planet Esler and Raom Tiyan - a specialist in energy interactions in the environment from the planet Burkhad. And today two people came to visit us, and now they will tell us about themselves.

Yaroslav: We are looking for air. Ether? We are looking for air. Ether? Earthlings have been zombified for a long time, and I say that knowledge has been castrated. Many of you have watched the movie "The Fifth Element". Fifth Element! And here you can see there are four elements on the facade of the main building of the Russian Academy of Sciences, four elements! So that everyone entering this building does not even think about ether. No broadcast! Ether is excluded from the worldview of modern earthlings. And a breakthrough can be precisely in interdisciplinary areas that allow us to come to a synthesis and place here the fifth element - ether.

We are looking for air. Ether!?

Irina: Tell us who you are and why you came.

Yaroslav: Yaroslav Starukhin “Global Wave”, Ruslan “Isk City”.

Ruslan: Ruslan.

Irina: We are listening to you, if you have questions for Raom Tiyan.

01:48 Transfer of alien technologies to earthlings. Safety first.

Yaroslav: There is information that it is possible to carry out painless social transformations on planet Earth if we can create a technical device that is very simple for ordinary people to repeat. And we'll put it on the Internet. So that people, after looking at the technological map for assembling an electricity generation device, can repeat this. Accordingly, those who now control the planet, control civilization, they can be neutralized in a similar way. We have been searching for this technical device for 12 years and have come to you. Maybe other civilizations will be able to share with us.

Ruslan: Share the technology.

Irina: We have different ways of obtaining energy. You won't repeat them here now.

Ruslan: They are not interested yet. Our. What can really be done on Earth, at our level of development?

Irina: What can be done on Earth at your level of development? Since you have been dealing with this issue for twelve years, you have already studied all possible methods.

Yaroslav: There is a theme that those people who are close to creating this device, or have created it, they suddenly leave this earthly plane. Someone puts their hands to it, a sudden catastrophe occurs, an accident, something else.

Ruslan: Or they just get lost.

Yaroslav: Yes. Accordingly, our task is to broadcast the moment of production live, so that even if after the completion of the experiments the channel is closed and the developers are destroyed, then the information on how to do this will already be disseminated and will be able to be repeated.

Irina: I understand what you are talking about. Specialists of the Interstellar Union also believe that the transfer to earthlings of specific technological devices that can greatly change the life of our society in any direction is dangerous for those who implement them and for those through whom information is transmitted. Moreover, if it is on the Internet and not for your personal use, but for the wider public, then in any case, people who are involved in the security system of large energy networks, you understand what I'm talking about. Each major energy network that produces energy for the population has its own security system.

Ruslan: Yes. We understand all this perfectly well. And they are ready to take risks.

Irina: I understand that you are ready to take risks, but it will be very easy for them to get the information that you were with the contactee, and that it was me, Raom Tiyan, who conveyed to you.

Yaroslav: Moreover, we shoot videos.

Irina: It's clear that you don't have to show it. The fact is that the very fact of your appearance here and conversation with the contactee can be clarified.

Yaroslav: I think we have already been warned.

Irina: When I joined the Interstellar Union, like any specialist working with young races, I read instructions according to which certain things are prohibited with the condition that violation of this prohibition entails a complete ban on activities on this planet. Therefore, we will talk about something that does not violate either the obligations I signed or your safety.

06:14 Results of experiments to obtain alternative energy. Autonomous energy generator.

Irina: In this area, I can talk to you in such a way, what do you understand by the influence of alternative energy? What schemes have already been used?

Ruslan: Getting electricity. Excess or mechanical force, or obtaining electrical energy. Or at least thermal.

Irina: Source from what?

Ruslan: A magnetic circuit, permanent magnets, for example, or an electromagnetic circuit. Those methods that are available to our level of development on Earth, having the ability to technically implement them.

Yaroslav: At the current level of development of civilization.

Ruslan: Yes.

Irina: What have you already applied in twelve years of research?

Yaroslav: The electrical circuits that exist on the network have all been tried.

Irina: What is the result?

Ruslan: The result is not enough.

Yaroslav: There is no understanding of the theory of the environment. You can poke and try to collect cubes countless times, not understanding how the environment works.

Ruslan: There are certain technical capabilities, but there is no knowledge to implement it.

Irina: What result is expected from the power plant that you want to assemble?

Ruslan: To have a miniature autonomous energy generator that can be in every home, in every car.

Irina: What does autonomous mean?

Yaroslav: Autonomous, which does not consume fossil energy sources, but uses the surrounding space as a source.

Irina: It does not use the surrounding space, but uses the energy of the surrounding space. Do I understand you correctly now?

Ruslan: Yes.

Irina: At your level of scientific development, you already know enough about the energies of space.

Yaroslav: There are specialists who know enough, yes.

Irina: They have a slightly different terminology. What we call electricity, electromagnetism, they have different concepts. For example, they separate electromagnetism from each other, that is, electricity and magnetism are separate. We have this together; in fact, we taught it at school. Electromagnetic field.

Yaroslav: There are already advanced ones who share. This is all common at school.

Irina: School is lagging behind as always.

Yaroslav: It's natural.

Irina: To receive from space, we mean airless, cosmic or from the atmosphere.

Ruslan: From the environment.

09:14 There is a difference in the definition of the concept “Ether” among earthlings. The concept of "Ether" among developed civilizations.

Yaroslav: At any point near and close to the Earth, and in space, there is a so-called ether; on Earth it is called ether.

Irina: Just under the word ether, an engineer who had worked on military developments for a long time recently came to Irina, and they also talked about ether. I told him and I will tell you that from my experience working with earthlings, I know that everyone understands something different by this word. Different energies, states of space and time. What exactly do you call ether?

Yaroslav: We can call ether that medium that unites and includes electricity, magnetism, strong and weak nuclear interaction, which are divided among earthlings today.

Irina: You see, you already understand a slightly different thing by ether than he understood. Already here explanations are required. He gave me a different definition of ether. Do you know about the concept of the material structure of matter adopted in the Interstellar Union? So that I can speak the same language with you.

Yaroslav: No, I'm not sure.

Irina: Who watched "Magnetic Field" this morning? Video with Raom Tiyan.

Ruslan: I looked.

Irina: You looked. Do you remember anything?

Ruslan: In a conversation, I can remember.

Irina: What does an atom consist of and so on?

Ruslan: They talked about displacement of energy, when you pump in one energy, another is displaced.

Irina: That their atom does not divide like ours. You remember this, right?

So, in order to be immediately clear, I will now explain. The entire material world receives energy from the outside, from the spiritual world. What our materialistic physics does not recognize, therefore they cannot create a unified field theory. They won't create it because they don't see the source of energy. Because, according to the law of conservation of energy, you think that the electron rotates around the nucleus, but according to the law of conservation of energy, it must fall on it and exhaust its energy.

Yaroslav: This is already an outdated opinion.

Irina: But your scientists, they have not found the source from which the atom is supplied with constant energy.

Yaroslav: Someone didn’t find it, yes. But there was Nikola Tesla, the Interstellar Union should know such an outstanding earthling Nikola Tesla.

Irina: But if you are talking about his atmospheric generator, then I believe that you have already repeated his experiments.

Yaroslav: Not really. He did not leave a legacy in such a way that it could be repeated.

Irina: So we are talking about an atmospheric generator of atmospheric electricity?

Yaroslav: Yes, let's first create on Earth, let's not talk about operating a generator in space yet, but create it on Earth, study the unified field theory, and then we can move to the stars.

Irina: So, all atoms of all elements actually consist of the same energies.

Yaroslav: Yes.

Irina: In physics, this is reflected in the concept that each atom consists of identical particles, only in different proportions.

Yaroslav: Yes.

Irina: But you call it particles, we call it energy.

Yaroslav: If we move on to science, as scientists taught me, then each term needs to be defined.

Irina: We do not define energy as a measure of the movement of matter; rather, on the contrary, we define it as the driving force of matter.

Yaroslav: All the same, you need to give a definition in order to align the conceptual apparatus of what to talk about. If we don't understand what we are talking about, then it will turn out, some in one language, others in another.

13:16 Definition of matter. Types and levels of energies in the definition of the Interstellar Union.

Irina: Okay. Matter is a form of spiritual energy, which is manifested in a form accessible to the perception of the receptors of a particular material body. There is dense matter, there is subtle matter.

Yaroslav: We can admit it, yes.

Irina: Examples of dense matter, even the most diffuse gas, because it consists of atoms.

Yaroslav: Yes.

Irina: Subtle matter is something that does not consist of atoms, but is still located in the material world. For you, this is recorded as various fields of energy, starting from electromagnetism, radio waves and further along the spectrum light, radio waves, hard radiation.

Yaroslav: All the same, it is recorded in photons, neutrons, protons.

Irina: This is recorded, but not through the receptors of your body. Because even what you call light, you capture only a small part of the spectrum that exists. From red to purple. Everything that is lower and higher in vibration, you do not record with your visual organs.

Yaroslav: Yes.

Irina: There are organisms that have a slightly different spectrum, for example, the same visual organs.

Yaroslav: Yes.

Irina: Therefore, a light wave does not have dense matter, because it does not consist of atoms. You say that it consists of photons, of electrons. But I remind you once again that these are not atoms, for us these are energies.

Yaroslav: This is a matter of definition.

Irina: I remind you that according to the teachings of the Interstellar Union, there are three levels of energy in an atom. The first level consists of five types, the second level of two types and the third level also of two types. I'll name them now. The first level consists of heat, electricity, magnetism, light and radio waves. Or rather, what you call these words. The second level consists of what you call radioactive radiation and thermonuclear radiation. These are different things for us, just like electricity and magnetism. I understand that you have them actually combined into one, but this is not the case with us. And the third level is microgravity and macrogravity. Microgravity is what allows atoms to coalesce into dense structures. You can have dense bodies and live in a world in which you can touch it and interact. You most often call this intranuclear interaction. We call it microgravity. Macrogravity is energy. It is also found in atoms, but it allows, accumulating in the atoms of a dense body, the forces of gravity to manifest themselves in the volume of attraction of planets, stars, galaxies, and so on. All our energy systems are based on the transformation of one energy into another. You are also based on this, but you cannot yet convert, for example, in sufficient volumes the same radiation into electricity, into electromagnetism, into light, you can in some volumes, but the radiation still remains.

17:33 Radiation converters. Superconductivity of metals.

Ruslan: Do you have engines that convert radiation into energy?

Irina: We have converters that clear space from radiation; these are microdevices. There are large instruments in our spacecraft, there are special antennas that detect the hard radiation of stars, what you call gamma radiation. It is there from the Sun, from any star, it is there in space, even if you don't detect it with your instruments, it is still there. This is most often used in planetary engines, which are designed for interplanetary travel. They are not effective for interstellar travel, since the maximum speed that can be achieved by releasing energy of this level does not exceed one-eighth of light speed. And then, this is the maximum speed, most often it is turned on no more than one tenth of the light speed. As you understand, this is only effective for interplanetary flights. For interstellar we use gravitational engines.

Yaroslav: In specifics, what then?

Irina: Regarding radiation now?

Yaroslav: There is a copper wire and there is an idea that if the wire is coated with epoxy.

Ruslan: No. If it's just bare copper wire. If you coat it with epoxy and copper powder, it becomes a superconductor. Is it true? We plan to see the result.

Yaroslav: Maybe a copper wire, maybe an aluminum wire coated with epoxy, which contains nanopowder of the same composition.

Ruslan: Does it somehow work or is it nothing?

Irina: He has little idea what epoxy is.

Ruslan: Glue, binder, it doesn't matter, epoxy. Any binder that will hold.

Irina: I don't know the composition. Wait, stop. Is this a dielectric?

Ruslan: Yes, dielectric.

Irina: What kind of image is this? He says it's more effective to take some type of organosilicon compound.

Ruslan: I understand. But will it give results?

Yaroslav: Can I take organosilicon varnish?

Irina: Silicone or what?

Yaroslav: There is an organosilicon varnish. We take the varnish, mix the powder in there and cover this wire. In general, in principle, such a design leads somewhere or not. We just received such information, we are working on it.

Irina: Superconductivity of metals into electricity. He's a little uncomfortable with Ohm's law, so now I'll explain to him what resistance is. Therefore, more energy of the first level, which is called electricity, will be released to the wire, and it will flow there without loss, which is caused by the action of the microgravity energy of the atoms that enter the copper, they also attract these energies back into themselves, so this is electricity, the energy stops there pass by itself, because it returns again to these atoms. So they want to measure this process. Did I explain it to him correctly?

Ruslan: It’s still hard.

Yaroslav: Where will we put this wire, in the coil, and what will we do with it?

Ruslan: First, we will check if there is a result.

Yaroslav: How do we measure this?

Ruslan: We take one simple wire, measure its resistance, take another with insulation made and check it. If there is a difference between them, then there is something.

Yaroslav: We could have already done what we are doing to distract the Interstellar Union.

Irina: Raom Tiyan, I’ll now ask what if we take a copper wire of the same length and the same diameter, which is made of more than ninety percent copper, I don’t know what impurities there will be, but if we take the same ones and if we are one of them than- then we’ll process it in a way that will slow it down.

Yaroslav: Organosilicon varnish containing powder of the same material.

Irina: If we put electrical energy through this wire, will this energy change at the output or not?

Ruslan: Will there be a difference in conductivity between the wires, let’s say so.

Irina: It will, he says, it will, but when covered with an organosilicon substance, it depends on what kind of current it is, constant or not, but depending on this, if it is constant, then I don’t see an increase of more than twenty percent.

23:24 Is civilization on planet Earth an experiment? What is the purpose of the experiment?

Yaroslav: Okay. Is civilization on planet Earth an experiment? Is this a planned experiment of the Interstellar Union?

Irina: You can say so, you are hybrids, that is, your bodies are hybrids, so this was an experiment to populate these types of hybrids on that planet, where there is a lot of not only raw materials, but many other different forms of life. And there was also an experiment in which after the war they did not leave a single race, but made different races so that you could...

Yaroslav: What is the purpose of the experiment?

Irina: Enter the Interstellar Union, gradually getting used to the presence of alien forms of intelligent life on your planet.

Yaroslav: That is, learn to coexist peacefully with other forms of life?

Irina: Yes. Learn to coexist peacefully with other life forms. You see, Yaroslav and Ruslan, if it were possible to provide any form of energy safely for this civilization, then this would have been done long ago. There are actually a lot of databases here, but by law we have the right to explain the operating principle of any of our devices at a level accessible to you, which is what I am doing now. I can suggest that you at least measure this frequency in an experiment with the same Tesla atmospheric generator. Did you make it?

25:27 Tesla atmospheric generator. Results of earthly experiments.

Yaroslav: What is meant by Tesla atmospheric generator?

Irina: Not a metal structure, a very light structure covered with a metal sheet, suspended in the air to capture atmospheric electricity, and, well, grounding.

Yaroslav: Various schemes based on Tesla patents were tried and implemented until no result was obtained.

Irina: But still the energy must come out, it also depends on the altitude.

Ruslan: These exist, they do. They get results, but they are very small, meager. She doesn't justify herself.

Irina: What was the metal material?

Ruslan: I personally haven’t done it, I’ve seen videos on YouTube of what they do and get, where the LEDs are on.

Female voice : The output is very, very little.

Ruslan: Yes.

Irina: Okay, tell us about your results and your, at least approximate diagram of the device, so that I understand what you are talking about. Maybe we really are talking about different things. You are talking about a biogas plant, and I am talking about atmospheric electricity.

Yaroslav: You need to understand the physics of the process. We imagine that there is a certain dense environment around us, and we are in this environment, being in a material body, essentially like air bubbles in water. Is it clear now? That there is a dense environment around.

Irina: Do you mean being anywhere in space, be it in space or on Earth?

Yaroslav: Yes, yes. That we are in a certain environment, and at the electromagnetic level it is possible to create a rarefaction at a local point in space. With a short impulse we create a vacuum, and the train of thought is such that when we create a vacuum, space tends to collapse and fill the vacuum.

Irina: You are talking about obgopiad (a term in the Daraal language) - the free energy of the vacuum.

Yaroslav: Yes.

Irina: So, you are not talking about energy converters now, but about the free energy of the vacuum. Slightly different things.

27:5 0 Free vacuum energy is the border between the spiritual and material worlds.

Yaroslav: But the free energy of the vacuum must be transformed in order for the TV to light up and the lamps to work.

Irina: Before transforming, it must be extracted.

Yaroslav: Naturally, this is what we are talking about.

Irina: Free vacuum energy is found not only in vacuum, but also at any point in space.

Yaroslav: Yes.

Irina: And she is not aimlessly at this point in space. The purpose of its creation, everything around you was created, you already understand this, that nothing just appeared by chance. Your life experience has probably led to the fact that everything has causes and consequences, so the appearance of such a complex formation as the world around you could not possibly have been causeless.

Yaroslav: Yes.

Ruslan: We are interested in a method of obtaining energy from a vacuum.

Irina: This is not a generator, an extractor, how to say in Russian?

Yaroslav: Converter. Extractor-converter.

Irina: The energies that are called free energy of the vacuum are exactly what you call ether, as I understand it. People have such a concept, in our terminology it is called the free energy of the vacuum, and it is precisely, I want to immediately emphasize, the border energy between the spiritual world and the material. But this is the outer part of that very veil of the astral plane. The purpose of its creation is to maintain all the energies of subtle-material civilizations and dense-material formations, galaxies, stars, planets and each meteorite at certain distances from each other, that is, to maintain the normal dimension of space and time.

Yaroslav: We don't argue.

Ruslan: Stabilizer.

Yaroslav: Yes.

Irina: Okay, I'll put it simply, so that the laws of physics are the same at all points in the universe.

Yaroslav: Yes.

Irina: Now I understand. We have installations that use the free energy of vacuum, although they are used less frequently than the same engines on converters. For the reason that, firstly, in order to extract this free energy from the vacuum, you also need to spend energy, and secondly, the gravitational engine is quite enough to move, so there is simply no need to make punctures into the world that can lead to some consequences. Unfortunately, they are not always predictable.

Yaroslav: Naturally. But we have not yet reached the level of gravitational engines, so in kindergarten we need to practice on ether energy.

Ruslan: Vacuum energies.

Yaroslav: Vacuum energy, yes.

Irina: As for kindergarten, I would probably say the opposite. Even for us, this level is somewhat, not that it is more difficult technically, no, but it is more difficult for space and for all the atoms that are located near this installation. I say again that the consequences, unfortunately, may not always be predictable, up to the loss of gravitational energy from all atoms that will, like a black hole, strive to close this puncture.

Ruslan: We need this.

31:39 Gravity. Release of gravitational energy by a plasma field.

Yaroslav: Is there a definition of gravity? It's just that scientists will scold us if we don't ask this question. Nobody knows what gravity is.

Irina: Does anyone know what electricity is?

Yaroslav: No, they don't know that either.

Girl: They joked back.

Irina: Gravity is one of the types of material energies that is located at the third level of any atom, which is divided into microgravity and macrogravity. Gravity itself consists of tiny portions of energy, which in your language of your time are called quanta, and they are called gravitons.

Yaroslav: We can't catch him. The level of humanity is also so insignificant that the equipment does not allow us to detect these gravitons.

Irina: They are inside, to catch them, you need to separate them from there. To isolate them, it is necessary to create conditions for the release of gravitons. These conditions are known. The simplest method, which is used in our gravitational engines, is knocking out by a plasma field. You create a special plasma field, then direct it to a substance that is located in a graviton chamber, in which a deep vacuum must naturally be created so that atoms of different gases do not interfere with the release of gravitons.

Yaroslav: Yes, we are preparing such an experiment in Usov's laboratory. So.

Irina: The tetravalent element is most suitable for isolating gravitons.

Ruslan: For example?

Irina: For example, carbon, which is easiest to isolate from it, or silicon. But silicon needs more energy there.

Ruslan: Carbon, what shape should it be?

Irina: In the form of graphite, only finely dispersed.

Yaroslav: We have the bag. We have a bag.

Irina: Such powder.

Ruslan: The rest of the fullerenes.

Yaroslav: Ether, Efiiiir.

Irina: This is not the free energy of the vacuum.

Yaroslav: We call the ether, we call the ether.

Irina: It's gravitational, it's just the release of gravitons.

Yaroslav: Gravitons also live in the ether.

Ruslan: Using carbon plasma.

Irina: We all live there.

Yaroslav: Yes, we all live there. On the air. And you, dear friends, are also on the air.

Irina: And we are on the air, as they say, we are now on the air.

To direct the plasma field, you need a special condition for its creation. We call the plasma field the energy that is released when plasma is produced. But it is best to obtain plasma not just from various gases, but in a certain ratio. For example, we take seventy percent hydrogen, thirty percent helium. Mix. The minimum temperature is seven thousand Kelvin and the pressure is fifteen earth atmospheres.

Ruslan: This is an affordable thing.

Irina: These are affordable things. And the deep vacuum created in this chamber.

35:04 Conversion of gravitational energy into thermal energy.

Ruslan: With what does it convert, make high-voltage voltage out of this gas, or whatever is supplied there?

Irina: With the help of an energy plant that works to convert gamma radiation in the gamma x-ray range into thermal radiation. We may not convert it into electricity, but directly into heat.

35:47 Direct conversion of cosmic energy.

Ruslan: Using earthly technologies, get an excess of either heat, or magnetic field, or mechanical energy, whatever, get more than you spent on it.

Irina: Using your technologies?

Ruslan: Yes.

Irina: That's what I'm talking about. What kind of energies are you currently converting to produce electricity, and how are you getting it?

Ruslan: We spend oil to run generators.

Irina: But not only oil?

Yaroslav: As a rule, such a transformation is a chemical transformation.

Ruslan: Yes.

Yaroslav: We get oil, we distill it into some kind of fuel, then it is burned, and a gas is released.

Ruslan: And the efficiency is 20-30 percent.

Irina: But you also have the transformation of internal radiation, for example, uranium.

Yaroslav: No. Nuclear power plants are just a pressure cooker. That is, the release of radioactive elements heats the water, the water is formed into steam, the steam rotates the turbine, that is, there is no direct conversion.

Irina: Yes, you have methods of direct transformation.

Yaroslav: They are holding back. They exist, but they are not accessible to the average person. They are hiding from earthlings. This is what we are talking about, that there are certain developments, but...

Irina: The same solar panels using star radiation.

Ruslan: Their capabilities are limited.

Yaroslav: They are low-power. And they don't work at night, although there were developments by Petrik, work at night, just as you rightly say, from the radiation of stars.

Irina: But it's also from the Sun, it's also a star.

Yaroslav: He is hiding, so we are forced to look for a diagram so that any peasant in a machine and tractor station can repeat it.

Irina: What kind of solar panels do you use? On silicone?

Yaroslav: Yes.

Irina: But our converters of hard cosmic radiation into heat, into light, into radio waves, partially, and into electromagnetism, into electricity and magnetism separately, are not based on organosilicon plates. First of all, they rotate. I don't know how much you can repeat this. Plus there is a certain alloy there.

Yaroslav: In general, we need to study it. We need to take lectures.

38: 18 Self-rotating magnetic device for generating electricity.

Yaroslav: Here we have magnets, we have a rotational circuit. Is it possible to create a self-rotating device using existing magnets?

Ruslan: Build a circuit for a self-rotating device.

Irina: But it won't always rotate. Magnetic energy is exhaustible.

Ruslan: Until it runs out, keep it spinning.

Yaroslav: It will be exhausted in hundreds of thousands of years. It's enough for us to spin for a few years.

Ruslan: Spin around for at least a year, it justifies itself.

Irina: Magnetic energy is exhaustible, depending on how much you get from it, how much you convert it into electrical energy. Why hundreds of thousands of years? Under what calculations?

Ruslan: Let her work all day, but let her spin. Is such a scheme possible?

Yaroslav: The point is clear.

Irina: He says this to create a magnetic field that will create electricity in the metal?

Ruslan: No. To begin with, simply create a magnetic circuit so that it spins itself. Is this possible?

Irina: You have similar schemes.

Yaroslav: No.

Irina: Yes.

Yaroslav: For example?

Ruslan: Not generally available. They are classified. We want to post it so that it is accessible to everyone. Although there will be a toy so that she can spin herself.

40:0 6 Who captured the Earth? Scheme of a self-rotating installation and prospects for its development.

Yaroslav: Does the Interstellar Union know that earthlings are captured and enslaved?

Irina: By whom? Earthlings?

Yaroslav: I don't know. We have a suspicion that some earthlings are not earthlings, but reptilians or implanted biorobots.

Irina: So we also have reincarnated earthlings appearing on Burkhad in the Interstellar Union, so what now? You are infiltrating the Interstellar Union. Reincarnated reptilians. So, you are interested in what material to take a magnet from and how to build it?

Ruslan: No. We are interested in a specific working scheme. Conventionally, we have a certain number of permanent magnets. Is it possible to get a diagram to make them so that they rotate? It doesn't matter what time it is. Just to keep them spinning. Specifics. For this circuit to work, and for it to spin.

Irina: To spin right away or to apply energy there first?

Ruslan: No. Arranged in a certain way so that they immediately spin.

Irina: The fact is that what you call permanent magnets is magnetic energy, one of the types of these atoms, and it is contained in them. For it to start moving along these magnets even without transformation, in any case, something is needed that will move it.

Ruslan: Mechanically we will move it. Let's say we accelerate it to the required speed. There is no problem with this.

Irina: Well, I'll understand now. Drawing is not my favorite subject. So. Wait. Stop. And to explain in words... I don't understand these images. Some balls and rollers on top of each other. It will probably be easier for you to draw what you have already done. What experiences. He will now look through me and say.

Ruslan: Yes.

Irina: I'm at least a little used to diagnostics, but with this.

Ruslan: This is just an example.

Irina: Okay.

Ruslan: Magnets of a certain polarity are located in a circle at a certain angle. Let's say north, south.

Irina: This is just a schematic diagram so that he can see, because he shows me a slightly different diagram.

Ruslan: There is a rotating part inside the stator-rotor. Let's say it rotates clockwise. How to position magnets so that they create rotation.

Irina: Are these also magnets? These ones?

Ruslan: Yes.

Irina: Are they the same?

Ruslan: No. It does not matter. Are there any circuits to make them spin? They just spun around on their own.

Irina: Is this part all rotating?

Ruslan: You can rotate this one, you can rotate this one. Any scheme is workable, specifically...

NO SOUND (wireless microphone battery is dead)

Irina: Raom Tiyan, this is a specific question. If it is possible, then tell us how, if it is not possible, then it is impossible.

Ruslan: I am not specifically interested in this particular arrangement. Anything, a combination, anything, so that she can at least twist herself.

Irina: They don’t use this. He has no data on magnetic energy.

Ruslan: Or a similar inertial scheme. Maybe mechanical devices due to gravity or some other energy. Simple toys.

Irina: Only with electricity. He says that in any case, the released magnetic energy will be released less than will be spent on overcoming the friction force.

Ruslan: So it doesn’t exist?

Irina: Moreover, there is a gravitational field on Earth. Magnetic energy at each turn, no matter whether a smaller part or a larger part will rotate, will be influenced by gravity, which will pull it down. And this also requires energy. When it turns, here it will fall, accelerate itself, and here it will slow down again, plus the friction force.

46:47 The influence of the force of attraction and gravity on the operation of a pendulum.

Ruslan: Yes, that's what we're talking about. Are there any schemes that can overcome all this?

Irina: Without replenishing energy from the outside in any magnets, no matter what material they are assembled from, because there are many magnetic materials, in any case, the energy that is in the magnetic circuit, not the electric one, will not be able to pull two attractive forces at once, constantly accelerating, plus friction force. There really isn't enough of it in these atoms. There isn't that much of it.

Ruslan: There seems to be a working scheme. Due to lack of detailed information, I did not do it. Can gravity engines...? I'll explain now. The video should be shown to make it easier to explain.

Irina: Tell me in your own words, I hope he will understand. Briefly, no more than ten minutes. So that there is a point.

Ruslan: Okay, I'll try. There are pendulums that constantly swing. Can they provide a diagram so that this pendulum swings without stopping?

Irina: It stops on the clock. I know why because the spring pumps it.

Ruslan: Specifically, can they give some kind of analogy?

Irina: Why does the pendulum stop?

Ruslan: Because there is resistance from air and everything else, gravity and whatever.

Irina: So it needs to be fed from the outside?

Yaroslav: He strives to occupy a point of rest, naturally.

Irina: Why?

Yaroslav: How why?

Irina: If there is no gravity of the Earth, he will not strive for peace at all, he will continue to move until he is stopped. Gravity slows down.

48:53 Perpetual motion technology from the Interstellar Union.

Ruslan: That's understandable. We are wondering if they will provide some technology to make it spin itself?

Yaroslav: No, they won't. They can not. At the beginning of the conversation it was said that they would not give it.

Irina: I can't say that our installations spin themselves. In any case, we use energy.

Ruslan: Yes. But by using little energy or just one energy, you get another that can be closed into the system.

Irina: I said that such schemes are even less effective than the same atmospheric generator. Because if you make Tesla's atmospheric generator not from aluminum foil, but from more energy-intensive materials, then you will get more energy.

49:45 Efficient atmospheric generator circuit. Characteristics of tellurium. Options for obtaining electricity.

Ruslan: Okay. You can learn about the atmospheric generator and its effective design circuit.

Irina: Which one should I take?

Ruslan: And what can you get without special alloys?

Irina: Without alloys?

Ruslan: Without special alloys. Ordinary: copper, aluminum, not gold, probably. Something else.

Irina: Silver. It is also the most energy-intensive.

Ruslan: I know.

Irina: No, not energy-intensive. Which release more electricity from their atoms and electrons.

Yaroslav: We have a lot of silver, you say.

Ruslan: Yes, silver can still be found.

Irina: Do you have silver foil?

Ruslan: Yes.

Yaroslav: Let's do it.

Ruslan: Yes, yes.

Irina: You need to stick it on a light thin wooden base, if it’s silver foil, then it should be approximately thick, preferably at least three and a half millimeters. It must be applied or glued to a wooden base and raised above the area. For you it is fiftieth degree north latitude. In general, the further north you go, the more effective it will be, because at the north pole there is a smaller layer of atmosphere. This means that as the pole approaches, there is a lower layer of the troposphere and more of the stratosphere, where high-energy particles are.

Ruslan: The airship needs to be tall.

Irina: It must be raised to a height of at least thirty meters.

Ruslan: It's available.

Irina: But it’s not just easy to raise it, you need to connect it with something, I don’t know what it is.

Ruslan: Ground?

Irina: Such a thing, there should be these on both sides in order to catch it. Yes, and so that it captures it more efficiently, so that the appearance is no matter how even. Like some kind of wavy thing. And the conductive system, which will conduct it as far as possible without energy loss, will lead to the battery in which you will assemble it. Such things are connected to the ground so that they are not taken from the ground, but so that it goes into the battery. There is electricity in the earth too. If there is no connection, then she will not come here.

Yaroslav: Why are we asking these questions? Planet Earth moves in space and rotates. We are talking about the use of nature-like laws and forces that work with large masses, with large bodies, with cosmic bodies. It's about something like this.

Irina: The fact is that even those very subtle energy civilizations that live in the atmosphere are powered by the energy of atmospheric electricity. They have plenty of energy because the sun is actually charging your air particles. This is not to mention thunderstorms. They also charge. They not only discharge, but also charge these air particles that are around.

Yaroslav: Okay, we have to thank the Interstellar Union. I can't help but ask a question about coronavirus. What kind of military weapon is this, who used it?

Irina: Now. And the same reaction between nickel and hydrogen, electrical energy is also released there. But first it is spent, then it is allocated.

Yaroslav: Warm. Heat is generated there.

Irina: But it can be transformed. Fine. At the same biogas plants, from one cubic meter of biogas can be produced, up to one and a half kilowatts can be obtained.

Yaroslav: But we are talking about scaling so that it can be from one kilowatt to several megawatts. Biogas will not reach megawatts.

Irina: The same installation that we use to extract energy from light, from particles of hard radiation, will reach megawatts, but for this you need to create an energy installation, at least in the smallest form. To do this, firstly, you need an alloy that consists of vanadium, tellurium and magnesium. Because without tellurium these particles will not be captured. Vanadium keeps them in a stable state.

Ruslan: Tellurium converts thermal energy into electrical energy.

Irina: Not only thermal. It also transforms cosmic energy. The most effective way is to make records. And they should be... For example, if we take our devices, about forty percent vanadium, ten as an additive goes.

Yaroslav: Tellurium?

Irina: And sixty, what is that?

Ruslan: There is one question left for the contactee.

Yaroslav: We'll record it now.

Ruslan: If, for example, you don’t go out yourself, it’s hard.

Yaroslav: Oh, come on, great, good.

Irina: Then we get 25 percent, and nickel is better. It's about the same composition because it's easier for you to get nickel than to use molybdenum.

Yaroslav: I will voice it for the audience. So, forty percent vanadium, ten percent tellurium, twenty-five percent magnesium and twenty-five percent nickel.

Irina: Yes. An alloy is created, from which plates are then made, about 2.5 cm in length, and approximately 2.5x3.8 cm, let’s say 4.0 cm, such rectangles. And there should be at least ten of them. This is how they should be positioned on this thing, what is it called, I don't know, that will rotate. And they will have to follow her like this.

Ruslan: They must be on the move.

Irina: And it’s better to make them not straight, but slightly curved and turned. The corner should be turned thirty degrees and the other way thirty degrees. That is, they must be curved.

Ruslan: So that vortices pass through it.

Irina: And the others, accordingly, are turned in different directions by thirty degrees. Then it will rotate more efficiently in the places where you will collect this energy, depending on the flow of energy. But if you take energy from your Sun, then the plates should be located closer to it, in a special way.

Ruslan: There is one last question left.

Yaroslav: Two, yours and about the coronavirus.

Irina: The plates must rotate at a speed of about ten revolutions per second in order for them to keep up. There must be a conductor inside the tube that will transfer the received energy to the battery. And it is desirable that it is not made of copper, but at least has silver inside, so that there are no losses. Then part of it can rotate itself, the rest wherever you want. Without vanadium there will be no conversion of infrared waves, infrared radiation from stars, it gives the highest radiation in this range. With hard radiation without tellurium there will be energy losses; without magnesium and without nickel there will be no stability of this energy. This is how our solar converters are designed. And if you have hand-held converters, then while maintaining the proportions, make the plates ten times smaller and place them in a hand-held device with increased radiation. This will do double duty, reducing radiation in the external environment where it is harmful to your body and storing energy in removable batteries. Our specialists who visit radiation zones have something like this. For example, when the reactor exploded in Chernobyl, they collected dirt there with instruments that were on plates, with a similar circuit, only larger. The Burkhadians were the first to arrive there; their base is not far in Crimea.

Yaroslav: And the last question from Ruslan.

0 1:01:04 Conditions for the future contactee. Connection with the Higher Self.

Ruslan: Yes, I would like to communicate directly, and what kind of training is needed to be a contactee?

Irina: Firstly, it must correspond to your life goals. Contacting should not interfere with the task of developing you as a spiritual being, that is, it should correspond to your life task.

Ruslan: How to find out your life task?

Irina: This is a question about contacting. We teach Irina to reach the higher part of consciousness, that is, anyone who wants to become a contactee can turn to her. First, find out the question: is this contact possible? Your higher part of consciousness, which is located in the spiritual world and which here on Earth is usually called either the Super Self, from a psychological point of view, or the Higher Self, which is a more esoteric name, will answer everything for you. Basically, it's the same thing. You already have a contact, I don't think you don't know about it. You have contact with a civilization that is not part of the Interstellar Union.

Ruslan: But I don’t consciously feel it.

Irina: Some streams of mental images come to you, which you eighty percent clearly understand that they are not yours. You may not always control this process, but if you desire conscious contact with this being, they usually do not mind conscious contact if you are willing to acknowledge it.

Ruslan: How to translate it into conscious contact?

Irina: Through the Higher Self. When you come into contact with him, first ask whose contactee you are. You will find out when the contact began, why, whether it was physical, and so on, clarify all these details with the Higher Self. Even if there was no physical contact, still ask whether it is even possible to gain awareness. If he says no, then what’s stopping me? Such questions.

Ruslan: I understand.

Irina: If she says yes, then ask to speak with the curator. Basically, the connection goes through the Higher Self, and you will begin to consciously talk to it. It is not enough to talk only once or twice, there must be constant practice, otherwise you will forget it.

Ruslan: Yes. How to start this process? What is needed at the moment.

Irina: I speak with the Supreme.

Ruslan: Through you?

Irina: Yes, either through me or through another specialist who deals with the Higher Self.

Ruslan: Now, at the moment, is this possible?

Irina: After the end of the conversation, of course, it’s possible. We'll finish now.

Ruslan: We have no more questions. I'm wondering where to start to communicate with my Higher Self.

Irina: First, start by asking the question: why do you need contact? The second question is how aware you are.

Ruslan: For the variety of life.

Irina: Isn’t it diverse?

Ruslan: I would like even more variety.

Irina: Why do you want to diversify it?

Ruslan: I’m so interested, I want to learn something from different sides.

Irina: You have contact in order to explore the world, do I understand you correctly?

Ruslan: Yes.

Irina: Here, for understanding the world.

Ruslan: Yourself first.

Irina: There are Eslerites, Shimorians, Burkhadians here, but in terms of vibrations you are not yet suitable for them even for astral contact. With whom you have contact, this planet is located in the constellation Ursa Major, it is not part of the Interstellar Union. Its representatives are not nearby now, but its energy trace is felt in your aura, that is, it can be read who it is, what kind of civilization it is. I don't know him personally, he says, but we have a lot of them. Even on Earth alone you have seven billion people, and there are many more in the galaxy; it is impossible to know everyone.

Ruslan: So, I'll try to formulate the question again. When communicating with you, there are no specifics, where to go, steps, how to move further in order to achieve something, at least this contact, awareness, all that. Can this be made clear somehow?

Irina: Of course, if you have a desire, then you were specifically told to communicate with the Higher Self and, based on his answers, act. No one will give you better advice for your contact than your Higher Self, because it is your best teacher. We can only guess, and we are all creatures, but it knows exactly what you need.

Ruslan: There are no more questions.

Irina: Who else has a question? You?

Yaroslav: No, we need to thank the Interstellar Union, you.

Ruslan: I am now interested in the opportunity to communicate with the Higher Self at the moment.

Irina: Of course, as soon as we finish filming, take a little rest, we will start talking with the Higher Self.

Yaroslav: Dear friends, we are finishing filming, the rest remains behind the scenes. Yes?

Ruslan: Yes.

Yaroslav: We are looking for air. Ether!? We are looking for air. Ether?!

04:29

Maxim: Will a meteorite fall on Earth in 2060?

Irina : No, a meteorite will not fall to Earth in 2060. After all, there are many alien bases on Earth and in the solar system.

06:50

Maxim: How to understand what your soul wants?

Irina: Interesting, you are the soul. What you want is what she wants, her soul asks.

07:04

Maxim: Is it true that coronavirus vaccinations kill a person's immune system?

Irina : They haven't been created yet, as far as I remember. Yes, Mead, you already answered this question. It is better to use antibodies that are isolated from the serum of those who have recovered; in any case, it will be more effective.

Maxim: Is it possible to destroy a soul?

Irina : No, the soul is a spirit connected with life force for incarnation into a body. Spirit is an immortal intelligent energy essence, that is, part of the energy of God's light; it cannot be destroyed. In any case, no matter how much he lowers his vibrations, he will still live, that is, exist. Another thing is that some people, reading the words "The spirit has died," see in this not the meaning of spiritual death, which was originally intended, but the meaning of the destruction of existence. In fact, there is spiritual death, as separation from the source of life, but the cessation of existence does not occur. The spirit simply lives in a state of low vibrations, not feeling the light.

Maxim: Irina, who are brownies?

Irina : This is a type of subtle-material civilizations, which in the language of esotericists are called plasmoids. There are many types, types and levels of density. The total density levels in the universe are 59. We live at the third density level. Everything else from 4 to 59 is occupied by plasmoid civilizations, that is, another 56 levels of plasmoids only. And brownies are one of them. There is a division among plasmoids - for example, they are responsible for different elements, for different places in nature and in human society, so to speak, for example, on Earth they are usually called nature spirits. So the spirits of houses are plasmoids, they are usually from the 5th to 8th density level, there are others, but less often. These are plasmoid civilizations, representatives, by the way, one house may have more than one brownie, there may be several of them, there may even be a family. Or maybe not, it depends on how attractive the inhabitants of this house are in terms of their energies for plasmoids.

11:59

Maxim: Irina, what are dolmens?

Irina : These are stone buildings that were built by the ancient peoples inhabiting the south of Russia (Southern steppes). They built both with the help of alien civilizations, that is, there were such dolmens, and independently with the help of people and animals, moving heavy blocks. Their goals were also different, for example, materials of this shape and from such stone that screened various radiations in the environment, various energies were collected in these dolmens. The purposes are therapeutic, so that they can be treated there. The goals are for communication with subtle-material civilizations, that is, when a person was placed there, he was covered with such a stone, he was there, as if in a silent chamber, cut off from all types of perception - light, sound, and so on, from this he came into contact.

Maxim: Under what conditions can the Tikht civilization help in restoring our planet?

Irina : Currently, the Tikhtians can only help by telling contactees, without directly interfering, about plans to restore your ecology. They are developing programs to do this. They are trying to find contacts among those who can really influence the political situation, because your environmental situation depends on the political situation. The Tikhtians are developing entire schemes for how to restore the ecology, at least partially, of a civilization that is not yet a member of the Interstellar Union. They don't just pass on this information to contactees, they try to find contactees among those who can really influence the environmental situation, this is among your legislators. But, unfortunately, so far they have achieved very little success in this search and restoration of contact, since according to the vibration among those in power, very few people are suitable, they do not want to make contact.

Maxim: Irina, tell us about the Scandinavian and Slavic gods.

Irina : There are a lot of differences between Scandinavian and Slavic mythology, it is very diverse. As in any polytheistic system that was developed in the bosom of nature, when people lived in agreement and harmony with it, in fact, merging, that is, they constantly communicated with plasmoids, humanoids. Then in ancient times these were all gods from the sky. But the process of creating mythology can go back many millennia. And the most interesting thing is that over time the images of these gods change. Because most often mythology is written down very late, when researchers of this mythology already come and write it down. And for centuries, millennia, stories about the gods have been transmitted simply orally. You know, oral transmission from father to son, from grandmother to granddaughter. It can be very diverse - a grandmother can tell her granddaughter, say, at dinner, about this God and may not talk about it anymore, and a granddaughter, when she grows up, can tell her children something a little different. And this is how mythology is formed. So, what gods are there? Firstly, in different nations - Scandinavian, Slavic, Indian, Egyptian, representatives of plasmoid civilizations were most often deified, people often mistook them for gods, these luminous creatures, this was preserved even in Zoroastrianism, for example. Then some were accepted, to whom aliens flew for contact, then it was often from different planets. They also deified them, that is, humanoids and plasmoids. They also deified people, usually these were the rulers of the tribe, leaders and priests of this tribe. Also, over time, after 5-6 generations, stories about some priest, who was very wise, could already talk about him as a God who appeared. Then there is also the deified war hero, who fought and then became the god of war. After 5-6 generations, people endowed him with the traits that he was very strong, that he defeated everyone, that he was a god - this is such a mythological component in people's stories. But I won't say that they invented all this there. Because all these stories about the deification of people, in any case, in the egregor formed such a concept among these people. These people who told this story felt in this, even in a seemingly simple person, a high, embodied spirit. Either way, it could be a high level spirit. Well, naturally they deified also non-incarnate spirits, that is, the same angels who came to contact, guardian angels, patron angels, mentors, and so on, and their dead, those who died in body. The cult of ancestors was very developed, that is, various sacrifices were made to them, so to speak, and they were also deified. To talk about a specific god, you need to ask who they are interested in.

Maxim: Can Mead give you some advice on how to quit smoking?

Irina : Yes, a hot topic, Meade. Yes, I can advise how to quit smoking, as a biologist and as a psychologist. He says that many people start smoking, following not just some fashion, but a trend that is not something that is useful, and it does not look respectable, but raises their importance in the eyes of friends. And they may start just out of curiosity, to seem like they too follow friends and so on. They can start, but not everyone continues to do this, because people can become dependent on it only if they are in a state where smoking - this manipulation of a cigarette, inhaling smoke, replaces communication with oneself, that is with your soul. When a person feels that he is either too happy, or sad, or too happy, he resorts to calming, harmonizing, and balancing these emotions by smoking smoke. Because he is already getting used to this process of smoking smoke, first on a psychological level, and then he already experiences changes on a physical level. If you are already accustomed to this, you are accustomed to it not only with your body, but also with your entire emotional apparatus, mental body, that is, you already have such a thought form in your aura. There is a thought form that this helps you. In any case, you realize some of the benefits of this action. Because if you continue to smoke, then some part of your consciousness, your mind understands why you need it. And if you have already decided that this is more harmful to you, and you want to quit, the first thing you should do, I advise you now, is to just take a piece of paper and just write why I want to quit, and what it gives me. First, realize whether you really want this or is someone telling you about it? In any case, if some relatives or friends are talking about it, but you yourself don't want to quit, then you won't succeed for a long time. And if it works, it will be through stress. Because you don't need it yourself. To part with this habit, which, undoubtedly, really harms both the body and energy, because it clogs, for example, the alveolar channel in the lungs, it also clogs the etheric channels that go to the heart, which convert oxygen into vital force, that is it is already affecting the energy sector. This smoke, yes. Moreover, a person who usually smokes does not smoke from time to time, he smokes more or less on an ongoing basis. And this chronic exposure does cause harm. Well, of course, it depends on the body. That is, it happens that if a person's body is strong, if he is healthy, if he eats well, is a little nervous, has good genetic inheritance, then he can, of course, smoke, then it will cause him less harm, but it will still happen. At least a little, but it will be. Therefore, a person must decide, to put it simply, what is more valuable - the free life of an independent person without a cigarette and with a healthier physical body? I want to say right away that even if you quit smoking, you can expectthat you will get rid of your illnesses is not worth it. But, in any case, recovery will come. It will be to varying degrees, in any case, you will feel better. You need to weigh everything first. That is, ask yourself: “Do I seriously want to do this? Do I want this myself?” If the answer is yes, then it is very advisable to talk with your Higher Self, find out why I did this for so many years, what it gave me, what I can replace it with, when I want to smoke, what I can replace this action with so that it goes well in favor of my body, for my psyche, for my energy, and there will definitely be an answer.

Maxim: Perhaps quit smoking. The main thing is to tune yourself and your inner spirit and have an inner desire to really get rid of this bad habit, which is an addiction.

Maxim: What is an allergy and how to treat it?

Irina : In short, even more can be said about allergies than about smoking in reality. Therefore, to put it very briefly, an allergy is an intolerance to any substances; it happens for completely different reasons. Esler scientists and Interstellar Union scientists who studied this phenomenon believe that there are three main causes of allergies, but they can be intertwined. This is either poor slow functioning of the body’s excretory system in filters - liver, kidneys, skin, and so on. Or these are various infectious and parasitic diseases that cause the body to be severely allergenic to foreign proteins. Or this is what you call psychosomatic reasons - that is, these are various energy blocks, various emotions, thoughts, and so on, which begin to destroy the structures of the physical body. This is very short, I emphasize.

Maxim: Each case must be considered separately. An allergic reaction is just a reaction on the skin.

Maxim: What civilizations created and oversee Islam?

Irina : We ask you to answer the same very briefly. Islam as Islam, as a religion, was created mainly by the Tumesout civilization. These are one of the creators of your bodies, very close partners of the Burkhadians. The purpose of creating this religion was to unite disparate Arab tribes and create a single religious and national egregor. The Tumesoutians believe that, basically, they achieved this, although not everything went as they planned, but, in any case, given your nature, given your level of consciousness, they came up with the plan that they conceived specifically for unification under a single egregor to strengthen the vitality of these peoples and those souls that incarnate there.

Maxim: Irina, what civilizations created us?

Irina: Our bodies created 3 civilizations. Our earthly bodies, in which we now find ourselves, were created through genetic experiments of interbreeding with earthly primates. 3 civilizations - the Burkhad civilization Cygnus Constellation, the Tumesout civilization Orion Constellation, the Selbet civilization Canes Venatici Constellation.

Maxim: What is ball lightning?

Irina : This is the visible form of one of the types of plasmoids, or several types of plasmoids, or spirits of air, or spirits of fire. They take on a visible form, becoming saturated, saturated with the electricity that is in the atmosphere. I remind you that plasmoids, due to the special structure of their subtle-material body, feed only on energies, that is, they cannot feed on different foods like a person or like another humanoid in the dense-material world. They feed only on energies, including energies that are scattered in the atmosphere.

31:12

Maxim: Mead, I think, as a biologist, you will answer the question about the dangers and benefits of cannabis, about its effect on the body.

Irina : It affects everything at once: the body, psyche, energy. Very briefly, in terms of substance content, for example, compared to tobacco, dry/dried hemp herb compared to dried tobacco herb, it does not contain much nicotine, there are traces of nicotine, but not much. First, hemp is in a different family. While tobacco is a member of the nightshade family, hemp is in the hemp family. But in any case, the smoke that is released contains carcinogenic substances, the same carbon monoxide, that is, various substances that, with a weakened immune system, under stress, and so on, the same can cause lung cancer, accelerate the development of lung cancer, also like tobacco. You will probably ask: “Why then can you breathe smoke from a fire, it doesn’t cause cancer, there are also a lot of different substances there?” But the whole point is that smoke from a fire is in the atmosphere or smoke from a smoking stick. It is in the atmosphere, and a person inhales a small amount of it. And when a person smokes herbs specifically for the purpose of getting an effect for his psyche, he does not just burn this herb and inhale its smoke, he wraps it in special devices and inhales it with a purposeful deep breath. In any case, this concentration is higher than in a regular fire or in incense smoke, and so on. In any case, the concentration is much higher, tens of times. Since the concentration of smoke is higher, then the dose of those very toxic substances that I spoke about is correspondingly higher. What happens to a person on a physical level? Firstly, the respiratory tract through which cannabis smoke passes is irritating. It contains substances that irritate the mucous membrane, the outer shell is damaged, and everything depends on the strength of the immune system, the speed of tissue regeneration, which is very genetically variable, due to genetic differences between people. And this concerns the impact on the physical body. All these toxins, there are more than 5,000 different substances in cannabis smoke, in order to metabolize them, remove them and convert them into harmless substances, your body filters - that is, the liver and kidneys - need to work very hard. If they are already weakened by something else, it will be very difficult for them, which can cause various diseases of these organs. As for the impact on the psyche and energy? What is hemp, its vibration? The vibration of this plant, entering the human body, causes an increase in the vibration of the 6th energy center (that is, the 3rd eye, as you call it), an increase in thinking, but with a simultaneous suppression of self-control and even to some extent, fixation amnesia. That is, in any case, this is forgetting the memory of current events. This concerns the psyche, psychology. As for energy, a large or small dose of a substance consumed changes the connection of the astral body with the physical. The astral body is no longer so tightly connected to the physical. In any case, like alcohol, it has a similar effect on the astral body. It's just a different effect on the psyche,and the effect on the astral body is very similar to alcohol. But if there is a large dose of cannabis, then the astral body will also leave the physical, as with a large dose of alcohol. This concerns the effect on energy. All this combined physical, mental and energetic action gives the overall effect that a person's mood improves, he can enhance the vision of his images, he can even begin to communicate with the plasmoid world, and so on. What plasmoids will come to him, and who will come to contact, depends on the state of his vibrations, the state of his soul that was before use. And if a person uses it for a long time, then he accustoms his body, including his energy, his third eye, that it can only work in the presence of this substance. And due to the adaptation of the body's receptors, the previous dose no longer causes absolutely any sensations, and it will have to be increased, because the body's receptors adapt to this substance. They seem to fight it and the receptors of the nerve cells themselves are rebuilt. Therefore, in any case, I consider it pointless to use such substances, since they give only a short-term effect, but wean the body, wean a person from developing his own vision, his third eye, and so on.

Maxim: Did Christ raise the dead?

Irina: It's not that he resurrected them, he saw when it was possible to return the body, yes, this was a resurrection to life. But he saw when the life thread still connected the spirit that came out and the body. It's just that, due to some kind of illness, as you say, it was in a state of deep coma, for example. In ancient times, these conditions were not distinguished and could be buried. According to estimates even by your scientists, about 19-20% of burials, even in the Middle Ages, when medicine, cardiographs, and so on were not developed, were buried by people who were still alive, because even the weak were not yet recorded. What happened to them then? Most often, lying buried there and not receiving oxygen and necessary medical care, they died to the end, never regaining consciousness. In any case, this is what happened most often. A very striking incident occurred when a girl died. She did not die, but fell into a state of lethargic sleep, not from illness, but as a psychological state. It was as if her spirit had gone out into the astral plane and because it had not returned for a long time, her body began not to breathe - there was a function of breathing and heartbeat, but it was very weak. And they thought, we need to bury her, they called Christ. This girl was 12 years old. When Christ was called, he came to this house and said: “Don’t be upset, she is not dead, but seems to be sleeping.” That is, he already saw that the astral body is not connected to the physical, he saw this thread. They didn't believe it and even laughed at him. He touched her, brought her back from the astral plane, he could do this, he saw where she was. He returned her, she came to her senses. The same thing happened with my son, who was being carried by men to be buried, and his mother cried a lot for him. Christ met them on the road and saw that, again, they were burying a living person who could not come to his senses due to the pathology of the physical body. And he also came up, although before that he had met funerals many times, which he did not stop. He already saw that the spirit had already left there, but not here. He came over and also returned it to his body.

Maxim: What can Mead say briefly about Area 51?

Irina: He says that this is a military research station, where they studied various contactees, examined those things that they managed to obtain through contactees from their curators. Mostly the Tashigan people have contact there, you need to talk to them, but I just know that artifacts from this area 51 actually ended up there, especially until about the 80s of the 20th century. These were cases when, as I said earlier, the American military came into conflict with aliens from Tashig on Earth, and also shot down saucers in Central Asia. The knocked down plates were taken there. There were several more hidden bases that no one knew anything about. Some of the instruments and instruments were taken there for research. But Tashig did not reveal the details to the Interstellar Union, taking advantage of the right that they themselves would deal with this situation.

Maxim: Are there marriages and divorces on other planets?

Irina : There are marriages. When our young Eslerian man meets for the first time a young girl who is from our planet, and they communicate, they do not immediately have such a desire to create a marriage, because this is a very serious matter. At first they don't just look closely at each other, they seem to feel at the level of vibrations. It happens and they immediately feel that they are already integral parts of each other, like one family. And sometimes they communicate for a long time, just meet, but they meet just as friends, there is no relationship between them. And then they begin to understand that they, as I already said, love not only each other's body, but also the Spirit, they seem to have one spirit. We believe that unity in spirit is unity of thoughts, aspirations, interests, and so on and so forth. If it matches completely, they have the feeling that they belong to each other forever, forever. And most often this is what happens when they connect with the body, as I already said, due to the characteristics of our hormonal system, connection without this feeling of love and spiritual unity is impossible for either men or women. That is, in any case, no physical attraction will occur.

Maxim: Do any marriages exist?

Irina: As for your traditions, we don't have them. With us, they simply come to an agreement, discuss that they will live together, then they always ask their inner light, as you say to the Higher Self, how suitable this Eslerite is for me. Then they each communicate with each other's inner light; they can go, for example, to the astral plane and there communicate with their mentors together. And this can be considered some kind of ritual, but it is carried out without witnesses. The two of them simply sit physically because their guides from the spiritual world are always with them. In this case, they provide them with advice. As for divorces, there are, of course, such incidents. As for documentation, we don't have documents in the usual sense of the word, because at birth each Eslerite is introduced, in your opinion, it will be like a microdevice, they are very small, nanochips, one might say. You can't see them with the naked eye, they can be several microns in size, and according to the rules they are introduced into the child's body after birth in the amount of 560. They are distributed throughout the body and at the same time perform a medical function; information about DNA is recorded on them, about where lives. All information is transferred to the reader through hands, not through fingerprints, but through their proteins like DNA. And when they decide to live together, they simply report this via a special means of communication and there is already a mark in the Esler database, this is, in your opinion, an electronic database, that they live together.

Maxim: Is working with a pendulum the work of a person with the Higher Self or something else?

Irina: It can be different. There may be work with the Higher Self, or there may be work with that curator, with that spiritual being, with a plasmoid, a humanoid, with a disembodied spirit that stands nearby. If you simply take a pendulum and, without turning to anyone, ask it questions, most often your Higher Self will give the answer through your body with micro movements of your hands. If you are tuned in vibrations to some creature, and it is standing nearby, then, despite the fact that you did not ask it, it can understand that you are asking it and also begin to influence the area of the brain that is responsible for micromovements, and through these swings it will answer your questions: yes or no.

Maxim: That is, working with a pendulum can also be work with the Higher Self, any subtle-material civilization, and, in principle, you can tune in to work with any spiritual entity?

Irina: Yes.

51:47

Maxim: Is the moon a ship or a planet, is it hollow inside?

Irina: It's not hollow inside, it just has bases there. There are also abandoned bases that were there even before the war. There are active bases, and there are quite large bases on the far side of the Moon. This is a former planet that orbited between Mars and Earth. That is, she was between them when the Earth was a little closer to the Sun before the war.

Maxim: Mid, please tell us what nature is like on your planet? What is there on the planet?

Irina: We have forests, mountains and seas just like you. But we have continents, only they are smaller, like your islands: 17 larger and 1 also significant, many small islands in the ocean. We don't have deserts like yours and we don't have such high mountains. The maximum height of a mountain, a mountain range - the highest peak is 2 km, if you count it as 460 m, that is, approximately 2.5 km. The rest are much lower, they are like hills, sometimes a kilometer long. And we have no poles. There are poles, but we don't have ice caps there. We have a more uniform climate. In place of the poles, we have an ocean from both the north and south. In any case, it does not freeze. And we don't have deserts, we have forests, we have a continent in which there are no large cities, but only small ones, and they are like in a forest. Our forests are based on chlorophyll. Our plants are based on nutrition through solar energy, also on chlorophyll, and are also green. There are different forms that resemble your forms, and others that do not. There are also herbs and animals. Shows me some squirrels. We are lacto-vegetarians in nutrition, because our ancestors came from those species of animals on Esler (we had natural evolution) that could only eat plants and which could feed on their mother's milk. Our ancestors didn't have this omnivorous gene that can digest, as I said, the animal proteins that you have. Yes, there are pets, but not like cats, but like squirrels. The tails are like those of squirrels, only their ears are sharper. Since we are lacto-vegetarians, we by nature can only consume bird eggs from animal food, but in small quantities, that is, we have this protein. And we can drink milk. We have dairy animals. It's like our yak, covered with hair, a low, long animal, no horns, brown fur underneath. They extract milk from them. As for the proteins that are found in the meat of these animals, it is simply not absorbed by our body, because there will be toxic substances there. The same ammonia compound, we cannot remove it, our excretory system cannot remove it like yours, it accumulates in our blood because there is no such gene.

Maxim: Irina, please tell us about the runes. What are runes and is it possible to work with them?

Irina: Scandinavian runes - a simplified alphabet of the Burkhadians. Not the runes themselves, but before the creation of the runes. Firstly, runes are the ancient writing of many peoples. Some had hieroglyphs, some had sticks with different notches, which are called cuneiform, some were in the form of runes, including the Scandinavian peoples, Slavic and Eastern peoples, and so on. These runes were originally icons that the Burkhadians showed your ancestors 10,000 years ago, but over time they changed, new ones were added or old ones were stolen, and the so-called runic alphabet was obtained. I want to immediately emphasize that under the influence of the plasmoid civilizations with which they came into contact, including the ancestors and the Scandinavians themselves, and the Slavs, each rune denoted a specific syllable. Many plasmoids spoke with their contactees, with priests, in such a syllabic language. And in any case, we have already talked about giving the meaning of each syllable and so on, but the whole point is that this language also differs among plasmoids. Different plasmoids working with different peoples have different meanings of syllables. There are basic syllables, but there are a lot of differences. Now we are looking for a compromise so that we can give a single something for decoding. Because each plasmoid put its own meaning into these syllables. That is, people in ancient times did not speak the same language as they do now, they had a secret language, one might say priestly, which was used by shamans and priests. It consisted of syllables, and it was written in runes. And then the runes became sacred signs, denoting the different energies of the plasmoids that came to them.

1:00:16

Maxim: Did the American squadron have contact with an extraterrestrial civilization in Antarctica?

Irina: Yes, in Antarctica there are bases of aliens of several civilizations, and three times there were clashes with the peoples of the Earth. Once - with the German people, the second time - with the Russian people, the third - with the American people. Russians and Germans encountered the same civilization - Tashig, and the Americans faced the Disnitites, and there were more serious consequences there.

1:01:14

Maxim: Mid, is hydrogen peroxide effective when taken orally?

Irina: What is it effective for? Hydrogen peroxide is a water molecule that has attached 1 hydrogen atom to itself. Upon contact with mucous membranes, that is, with the proteins of the mucous membrane, the hydrogen peroxide molecule loses its hydrogen atom and turns into water. That is, the general form of the reaction looks like H2O2, decomposes and produces H2+H2O. And the hydrogen gas itself, which is released (naturally, water enters the stomach), is considered an inert gas; it does not enter into significant reactions with surrounding proteins. The only thing is that it can enter into some reactions with water and oxygen, and there a type of ozone is released, which is already produced from oxygen, there it is also released, and it can act as an antiseptic, disinfectant, and so on. This is used mainly in the external application of this substance. And when used internally, well, if it is stomach diseases. I generally don't do anything that is specifically useful for everyone, because when I make a diagnosis, I always prescribe according to a person's vibrations. That is, peroxide may or may not be suitable. So this is a very general question.

1:03:15

Maxim: Can a person's soul incarnate on other planets, for example on the planet Esler?

Irina : Yes, of course it can. Just like the soul of an Eslerite can incarnate on Earth. All Galaxies, all plasmoid worlds are filled with intelligent spirits from one source - the spiritual world. The spiritual world is our eternal home, where we come for a while to move to another floor of the house.

1:03:48

Maxim: Irina, can you tell us about Human Design? Can you explain what this is?

Irina: This is a very specific terminology, that is, a person must get used to it, but it describes reality, as far as I understand, exactly in the field of application in which it is applied. The same can be said about any test system there, for example. That is, in any case, this is a description of the reality in which a person acts. If this is a synthesis of different cultures, science, psychology, physiology and psychophysiology, esotericism, I can welcome it, because your planet Earth just lacks the synthesis of science and esotericism, intermediate knowledge, which is so developed in the Interstellar Union.

1:05:12

Maxim: How do the aliens on Shimora develop their physical bodies?

Irina (LiShioni): Unlike the Eslerites, who really develop more of their Higher Self and so on, Shimor tries to pay equal attention to both the development of the physical body and the development of the spiritual side. Because we believe that the physical body is an extension of the spirit. That is, its dense and material part is like a hand is part of the body, so we believe that the body is part of the spirit. Therefore, in order to make it more convenient, firstly, to act in the physical world in the interests of the spirit, so that the physical body receives more energy flow and can realize it in the physical world, we believe that it is also very important to build muscles and shape the physical body. We have sports, special exercises, we even have competitions and wrestling, but Esler doesn't have that, they have a different path, they have a different physiology, they don't need it. They developed on a completely different planet. The conditions on each planet are very individual for the types of bodies that live there. This is about physiology. And when it comes to worldview, Shimorians fundamentally believe that caring for the body is no less important than caring for the spirit, and no more important than caring for the spirit. To put it simply, if a person devotes some time to developing meditation and so on, then he owes, if not so much time to the development of the body, then about the same amount of energy. That is, the energy that is given to the spiritual world for development and that comes from the physical world through food and oxygen must be uniform. Shimor biologists and biophysiologists believe that the muscles of the body must be developed, the blood flow in them and biochemical reactions must be developed and proceed quickly, including in order to more fully absorb the energy that is given with food. They believe that if you develop only the Spirit and do not develop the body, then the spirit will stop in its development. Just like if you develop the body, but do not develop the spirit, then the body becomes undeveloped. They have it all together.

1:09:00

Maxim: Irina, who are the snow people - Yeti?

Irina (Mid): Yeti is an earthly tribe that, unlike the main peoples, did not follow the technocratic path. That is, they continue to live since the war, after the war 12,000 years ago. They continue to live in fusion with nature, in contact with plasmoids, and moreover, thanks to this fusion with nature, they have not developed in themselves those feelings that are practically undeveloped in an ordinary person who lives in a technocratic civilization. For example, their sense of perception of the spiritual world and energy is very highly developed. And they have a different way of thinking, thanks to this they better control the physical body. In this regard, they are better at teleportation and levitation. Due to the fact that they can, with their thoughts, due to their absolute faith, as I already said, they can influence their physical body in such a way that, at first glance, it seems to violate the laws of nature. But in fact, it does not violate the laws of nature, it's just that not all laws, including energy, have been discovered by you.

1:11:08

Maxim: Is it possible to materialize objects with a thought?

Irina : If in the astral plane, then yes. If on the physical level, in any case, time must pass between the creation of the thought form of this object and its materialization. Denser matter slowly gathers into a dense material structure. And not only time, we need specific actions for embodiment, for materialization, that is, what is necessary in your physical world. Since you live in the physical world, then in order to materialize this object, you must act according to the laws of the physical world. Let me give you a simple example: let's take an airplane. Your ordinary earthly plane. At first it naturally appears in people's minds, that is, at the mental level - engineers and designers think about it. It does not yet exist on the physical plane, but it quite realistically exists on the mental and astral plane, they want to receive it and dream about it, and construct every detail in their thoughts, and it already exists on the astral and mental level. Can it materialize or cannot it materialize into a dense form? It can materialize if these thoughts, these thought forms that are created, are supported by real actions, that is, the extraction of iron, metal, and so on, this is the work of creation. But if, for example, the designer thought about this all his life, he created a very dense thought form, but he did not have enough strength, or there were no people nearby who would embody it in material form, then it will remain in the mental, astral space. It won't come true. There is no material to implement.

Maxim: Mid, does meat lower a person's vibration, and can a person eat meat and in what quantity?

Irina: We need to define the terms - what do you mean by reducing vibrations? For example, by this I mean only a decrease in spiritual vibrations, causing negative emotions.

Maxim: Let us understand by a decrease in vibrations that a person becomes physically ill. What do you think, as a biologist, is meat harmful to the body?

Irina: Unlike us, and from the same Burkhadians, who are also lacto-vegetarians, your organisms contain special genes that encode the production of pancreatic enzymes and bile acids, including pectin in gastric juice, etc. the type that, taken together, these enzymes can break down any animal proteins. What does this mean? This suggests that when meat enters the body, like the muscles of animals, birds, and fish, they are broken down into individual amino acids, proteins, and fats, which contain lipoproteins, and are broken down into individual fatty acids and glycerol. Where do they go next? They go to your liver and go to build your own proteins. The same trace elements that are contained there, for example, iron in hemoglobin, because in any case trace elements are contained in meat, as well as in the muscles of any living beings. All this is absorbed with the help of microelements and transferred into your body. Therefore, with moderate consumption of these products, there is no harm to physical health, if there are no health contraindications, poor kidney function, for example, which removes ammonia-nitrogen substances, molecular ones, but there it is also possible, but there within certain limits. I'm talking only about the physical body now; we'll move on to energy later. According to the research of our scientists who studied human bodies, the most optimal ratio of animal and plant products is 30/70. That is, 30% animal products (not meat, all animal products, including milk, eggs, fish, etc.), 70% plant products (I include grains - bread, flour, various cereals made from cereals, fruits , vegetables, herbs, nuts, etc.), mushrooms are between animal and plant foods, but we still classify them more as plant foods. Everything that relates to animal food is 30%, of which at least half 15% should preferably be taken up with dairy products such as fermented milk (which has already been processed by bacteria) and regular dairy, 5% each for meat, fish, eggs.

Irina: Wish of the Light. MidgasKaus and LiShioni, our entire Cassiopeia team wants to wish you light, love, growth, development in the awareness of accepting the world as it is without any resistance, struggle, and so on. Because struggle takes away strength, and healthy acceptance of what is gives time and energy for reflection and real change in reality without any negative emotions. MidgasKaus and LiShioni also send you the light of their love, just like we earthlings.

Participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

Maxim Rusan - head of the International Center for Spiritual Development "Cassiopeia"; MidgasKaus is a representative of the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations.

LiShioni is a representative of the planet Shimor, a specialist in the astral world and its interaction with the material world.

Zebuniso: Is life on Earth a template for life in the Universe when compared to the standard model of the constants or equations of life? What are the general principles?

Irina : Yes, indeed, the basic laws of life of dense material bodies are universal, one might say, for the entire universe. That is, for that part of the universe that is the dense material universe. As you know, this is only a small part of the entire volume of the universe.

What are the features of the existence of dense material bodies? This is density, a certain volume, shape, etc.

What are the features of the existence of embodied spirits in these bodies? Well, firstly, it is always an adaptation to the type of body that developed as a result of natural evolution or as a result of artificial hybridization, i.e. brought by other civilizations.

There are many creatures in the galaxy, dense material humanoids that appeared naturally through the evolution of the animal world; by natural evolution I do not mean a blind law of nature here, because according to the teachings of the Interstellar Union, any law, even the law of evolution, has its own legislator. This means, to put it very briefly, the characteristics of the embodied spirit in a dense material body are always there. The first is adaptation to this body, the second is the control of its instinctive nature, that is, it has instincts of every organ, every cell. Each cell is also its own separate living organism, which also lives its own life, included in the life, one might say, of a certain group mind of individual organs. And all this together makes up the instinct of the body, and the spirit has its own instinctive energy, which, when combined with this program in the genes of this body, makes up some kind of unity, which is called the instinctive program.

If you have seen our interpretations together with Archangel Raphael on the book of revelation that we are now giving, we are not talking about a real person in this particular verse, we are talking, rather, about some spiritual phenomenon.

That is, this is approximately in the 12th chapter, where it was written that the wife stands clothed with the sun, and the moon is under her feet, and then Michael and his angel begin to fight the dragon, who is called Satan, and they cast him down to Earth ... By the word “Woman clothed with the sun,” the soul is understood there. And this soul, why is it clothed with the sun - the sun is always a symbol of light, a symbol of Christ, that is, that Higher Self that exists. The God that is in you. When you connect with your Higher Self, you will feel that there is nothing there but light. That is why it is written that your soul is clothed in light, that is, in the sun.

Everything was given at the level of consciousness of the contactee John the Theologian, who perceived this information directly from the astral body of Christ. Despite the fact that Christ is now on Burkhad in a physical body, his spirit still seems to continue to be next to the Father, i.e. in this merger. Therefore, what he said: “I and the Father are one,” is that he continues to be spiritually in this state. And his astral body can also come to Earth, that is, he flies. He also makes astral travel, like the rest of us. On Burkhad he leaves the physical, as I did now, only I came from Esler, etc. And he can come into contact with his followers, in this case with John the Theologian, who was his apostle on Earth, he knew perfectly well that he was his disciple in incarnation, in his life on Earth, so he revealed to him the revelation that There is.

And under this dragon... I can talk on this topic endlessly, he told him very deep things, that is, Jesus to John. He said very deep things about our nature, about human nature. And he said this in an accessible form at the level of consciousness of this contactee, that is, at the level of consciousness of a person of the first century. That is, who has not studied modern psychology, genetics, astronomy, etc. And he had his own pictures of the world, and Jesus fit into it so organically and said it so that there was not a single incomprehensible word, and he said everything in the language of symbols, that these symbols can have multiple meanings, and each interpretation contains one of the facets truth.

Well, I took the direct meaning of these interpretations from those archangels who directly communicate with Christ. For example, here he helps me in deciphering, and I communicate with my contactee - Archangel Raphael. He is not incarnate now, and he is now in the spiritual world, like Archangel Michael. They also communicate with Irina and, among other things, help decipher this symbolic language.

Well, this dragon that is indicated there, its seven heads, ten horns, etc. - this represents the instinctive strength of your body and your spirit. Some kind of unity of instincts. What you call animal nature. This is in no way a bad energy, it is not from the devil, it is from God, and it is important for it that the spirit does not degrade, but for it to develop, it is important to manage it correctly. If you are riding a horse, and if you do not control it, it can carry you into the abyss. But this does not mean that the horse is bad, the horse is good, because on it you will reach your goal faster than on foot. Well, in this case, the rider on the horse is you, your spirit. That is, your spirit is you. And therefore, here there is a unity of the living in that living dense material structures in which the intelligent spirit is embodied on any planet.

The pattern here is that each spirit adapts to the body that it exists, that is, in which it is incarnated. Firstly, to its receptors - in the first months of fetal development (pregnancy is for mammals), there are also oviparous forms of living organisms, including intelligent ones. There are those who switched to development in the Paras, the same Daraals, for example. In any case, their fruit also develops in the apparatus, and the spirit moves there. There are no obstacles for the spirit; it makes no difference to it what it passes through - metal or body tissue. In any case, it will come true. And during the development of the fetus, adaptation occurs to the body’s receptors, to its nervous system. And this is not an easy process, it takes some time. After birth, the body's receptors adapt to the existing environment.

I will now speak using the example of a person, but you apply this to any humanoid civilization. As soon as a child is born, he is bombarded with a world of smells, sounds, images flashing before his eyes, which cannot yet see far. And all this is intensively processed and stored in the temporary memory of the brain, that is, the one from which the spirit is then taken at the level of the chemical connections of the brain. But this, naturally, is not the whole memory of the spirit. For this purpose, they block the spirit's memory of past incarnations so that it does not interfere with its adaptation.

Let me give you this example: if in a past life a spirit was embodied in a reptilian, and he will remember this life, then later, when he is born as a human, but he will have a memory of life on the planet of reptilians in the appropriate environment, then when his father and mother If they take him in their arms, he will simply be frightened by the sight of them. Because they should be like reptilians for him. This will not help, but will greatly interfere with adaptation. That is why mentors block memory before each incarnation.

I say this because... For Christianity, one of the main objections to reincarnation is the lack of memory. But it is absent for a reason, but for the purposes and fulfillment of tasks of the spirit.

The second is adaptation to instincts, when a child begins to grow, he adapts to the environment and his body. A person learns to walk, talk, look, pick up something, and control his body. Learns to understand what pain, pleasure, etc. are in different forms. And at the same time he learns social connections - what mom and dad are, what is possible and not possible, and begins to form his own habits and concepts. This is a very useful function of the body so that when it grows up, it can continue to grow and develop. This is the most useful stage of childhood, when the most basic concepts are laid down, up to the age of seven, before school age. The most intensive development of the entire nervous system takes place and the storing of these concepts in the memory of the spirit - what is good, what is bad, taking someone else's is not good, punishment may follow for this, if you did something bad, they will hurt you. The most primary concepts are at the "hot-cold" level. And all this will then influence subsequent experience. Even the attitude of mom and dad towards the child will influence, when he grows up, his understanding of God, for example. Because those who had cold-minded parents, unemotional, were strict, demanded a lot from their children, gave them little love for some reason, because they themselves were not taught to do this, then when they grow up, it will be difficult for them to believe into a loving God. They will believe that God requires them to be good, otherwise he will punish them, etc.

Zebuniso: How different are the fundamental laws of physics from quantum mechanics to thermodynamics and gravity in the components of the universe?

Irina: If we take into account the dense material world, then in any case the law of gravity in it is the same. Every two material particles are attracted to each other by a force directly proportional to the product of their masses and inversely proportional to the square of the distance between them. This comes from the fact that in matter, which has such a law, the gravitational energy is distributed in atoms, and it has its own properties. In this case, we are talking about the fact that distance reduces the impact of gravitational waves of energy, and we take into account mass as the number of gravitons in a given amount of matter. Of course, mass depends on volume, density, etc., but in any atom the fundamental nature of the law of nature of the dense material world provides analogies for the structure of atoms in any part of the dense material universe.

We do not have a planetary model of the atom, on which your theory of thermodynamics and electricity is based. We have a different model, there is an energy model of the atom. We believe that an atom is a dense material particle that consists of energies of three levels. The source of this energy, this must be taken into account, is located in the spiritual world, the flow of energy gradually lowers its vibrations, first making up the subtle worlds, and then, as a small part of the universe, dense material ones. Why small? Because there are 59 levels of density in the universe, and the first three make up the dense material universe. Another 56 are fine-material worlds. And the laws of physics do not apply in dense material worlds; other laws apply there - gravity is different, density is different, etc. What constitutes the dense house of a subtle-material being (plasmoid), a person can pass through and not feel. And there is less gravity there. There is also attraction there, but it is small, plasmoids can fly without wings, with the power of thought.

Zebuniso: Is the Earth a unique planet in terms of the composition of ingredients, the laws of nature, including the seasons, and does the Earth have an absolute or approximate copy of these characteristics?

Irina: I will say it as a space researcher. I studied a little about other planets and galaxies; during our courses we studied something like a reference book. My deep conviction is that every planet, even if not inhabited by someone, is unique. Of course, there are no complete copies of the Earth anywhere, just like there are no complete copies of Esler, Burkhad or the same Mars. Mars is also a unique planet, like Jupiter and those that are not inhabited. Each planet has an individual diameter, density, atmospheric composition, soil composition, distance from the star, angle of inclination of the ecliptic, etc. What is the planet's tilt axis? This is a conventional line passing through two poles, perpendicular to the sphere.

Zebuniso: How many galaxies beyond our own were born or engulfed in the big bang, and do these galaxies evolve with intelligent life like ours?

Irina: You already know hundreds of thousands of galaxies, right? Well, in terrestrial science, as far as I understand the latest data, there are already, in my opinion, a million known galaxies. What you call a big bang is like the beginning of a new cycle. This, one might say, is the condensation of subtle-material energies into a dense-material form. Naturally, the first thing that appears is energy, that is, light, for example. Visible light. Whether this happens in the form of an explosion, I cannot say so, because light is like energy that can be visible, that is, by your receptors of the physical body, the earthly one.

In any case, I can’t say that it’s just like some kind of clap, like an explosion or noise, because you associate the word explosion with something from a point, expansion and such a sound, well, in any case, what something is expanding, etc.

I cannot say that there was an expansion there from a point, because the subtle-material universe and the spiritual world, from which the dense-material universe arose, all the galaxies, it has always been in this space, which is still empty for your receptors.

And when matter was compacted to the state of the first atoms, it was as if from light, that is, light first arose, and then it began to form atoms. That is, what you call neutrons, protons, primordial hydrogen, stars, etc., all began to form from the energy that was formed there, which you call light. And this cycle repeats. This light did not arise from one point, it appeared over the entire surface of space, imagine space as such a sphere. In any case, it’s not an explosion, it’s the formation of dense matter, as I understand it.

He showed me now - like a glass jar, and there was some kind of liquid in there. And it seemed to freeze and became denser, like ice. For them, condensation occurs, for them it is not an explosion, not an expansion, not from a point, but immediately throughout space. And he says that space is a certain sphere. Well, the universe. That's how they understand her.

Zebuniso: Is life itself living matter? Is it capable of reproducing and evolving?

Irina: What is time? This is the process of counting changes in matter. If there is no change in the spiritual world, then there is no time there in the understanding that some kind of process is underway. There is just a feeling of time, in any case, it is eternity. That is, you will feel there that time does not pass there, that you are in the eternal now, in one moment.

Zebuniso: Is the biology in the cellular engineering universe similar to carbon-based biology on Earth? How many planets are there in the universe on which carbon is the optimal element for the origin of life, and water is the solvent for its movement?

Irina: There is not only a carbon form of life, there are organic compounds of bodies that make up ancient organic bodies that can withstand high temperatures. For example, in Gihor. Planet Gihor. There are compounds where there are ordinary proteins that are based on carbon, but there, for example, instead of an iron compound, copper atoms play a role in transporting oxygen. There is, for example, fluorine instead of sodium.

In any case, these are the shapes of bodies, and there are 20 basic amino acids that make up our proteins, but as you know, the number of amino acids is not limited to this space. That is, even you on Earth have amino acids that are not part of your proteins, but they are there. And naturally, in the universe there is an even greater variety of different amino acids, including those that are unknown on Earth. And proteins can also consist of them. Naturally, the proteins then turn out different. And the set of amino acids is different there. That is, there may be 20 amino acids, somewhere there may be 30, somewhere there may be 300. That is, the set may be more diverse. It depends on nutrition, or rather on the environment, on the composition of water, the atmosphere, even solar radiation, there are many factors.

That is why we believe that, in any case, it follows from this, because The forms of life on the planets are different, namely in chemical composition, in biochemical composition, then the forms of life are generally diverse. And from this follows two important conclusions specifically for the practice of a contactee.

The first conclusion is that we can safely contact an terrestrial organism, for example, physically transport it to another planet, and it can visit our planet safely for itself, from a microbiological point of view. Why is it safe? Because microbes on every planet go through an evolutionary development path that allows them to develop enzymes for dissolving certain protein structures, in this case. And if microbes enter the body with a different composition, they will not be able to produce enzymes. And therefore they are safe. But for them to become dangerous, a long period of adaptation must go through.

Specifically to terrestrial organisms. This is the first conclusion.

This means, from a microbiological point of view, visiting planets is safe. As you are ours, so we are your planet.

And the second important conclusion is that your physical contactees who physically visit our worlds, our ships or our planets, they encounter an amino acid composition that is alien to them, which is simply sprayed in the air. Well, like with proteins, with pollen, etc., and even with particles from our bodies, because where we walk, particles are still released. What do we touch, etc. And from here follows the second important conclusion - those people who have a tendency to allergic reactions are absolutely not suitable for physical contacting, it is unsafe for them. That is, if your body reacts inadequately to the arrival of a completely normal terrestrial protein structure for you, an antigen is released that destroys the entire body, then naturally no one can predict how such an allergic attitude towards the body will behave in the conditions of another planet.

Zebuniso: Is there a scientific council in the Interstellar Union?

Irina : Not even one. That is, he now tells me that there are different areas of science, and there are scientists in the Interstellar Union who, as individual individuals, can be members of various unions, associations of scientists and who are not only from the planets of the Interstellar Union.

Zebuniso: Is patenting of inventions practiced in the Interstellar Union?

Irina : Not in the same shape as you. There is encouragement for inventors, so, again, the rules of the Interstellar Union, but they are no longer aimed at the material sphere. That is, this scientist is immediately given students so that he can put this into practice, like others. They can give him a whole direction to develop. And there is no patent protection like yours or anything like that, because there are no such critics there.

Our consciousness (most civilizations of the Interstellar Union) did not follow the branch of reason that we called criticality. For us, no information is superfluous or junk. In any case, even if the scientist made a mistake and put forward some postulates that will not lead to practical results, no one will criticize him for this in such a way that he should stop this research.

The only thing they can do is explain why this happened and guide his research, but be sure to say that his research is still valuable because it led other scientists away from researching this issue. And tell him that yes, your work is valuable, but if you yourself see that it did not lead to a positive result, and therefore you better direct your efforts to a more promising direction, but they do not instruct him, but rather suggest him.

But if he wants, he can try to show it again, and this will even be encouraged, because if you want to fully understand, then it's even your right, because it's like your will is manifested, that you stand on your own, despite the circumstances. That is, in any case, every scientist, it's like in our upbringing, our children, we always say that a being is intelligent, it should not look at the opinions of others, it should live as its inner light suggests .

Zebuniso: Everything is clear. That is, I made one conclusion for myself: any invention you make becomes public knowledge.

Irina: Well, if the scientist decided to go out into the public with him, then yes. If he does something somewhere in secret, for himself, in any case, we are not raised that way, because then what is the point and what is the value of his work for others? If he did this simply for his own pleasure, then, in any case, he will understand that he will receive even more pleasure when others use it, because we have such an understanding that the happiness that the spirit experiences, it cannot to be complete unless it is shared with others and with as many people as possible. And moreover, even regardless of how people react to this idea, if they react negatively, then the level of happiness of the one who gave this light does not decrease, because he continues to be in this light.

Zebuniso: What alloys do you use for ships and uniforms?

Irina : For ships we have a different alloy, there is titanium, molybdenum, tungsten and thiur. There we have a different alloy.

Zebuniso: What about the uniform?

Irina : Uniforms, do you mean protective suits? It's the same there. There is a third degree of protection, which allows you to go to planets with high radiation and surface temperatures of somewhere up to three thousand Celsius, then yes, it’s a special alloy, it contains tungsten, silicon and something organic, but the metals there are alkaline.

Zebuniso: Is there underground water on the Moon, and are there photosynthetic organisms and aquatic fauna?

Irina : Well, it’s like there is water, he says, but deeply. It doesn't freeze, but it's deep below the surface. Because a long time ago, even before the war 12,000 years ago, there was water on the surface of the Moon. It was frozen, but there was a small atmosphere there, it was all there. But, in any case, it is deep and photosynthetic plants... well, no such plants were found on the surface, there is no atmosphere, etc. and so on. But he says that it is very inconvenient to extract this water, it is located in the depths of the Moon, and most civilizations bring it. Well, at least in ships.

Zebuniso : That is, there is no fauna.

Zebuniso: What flora and fauna were brought to Earth, and what mechanisms were used to adapt them to earthly conditions?

Irina : By the time your planet was discovered by the Interstellar Union, representatives of Tumesout, it was like a ship, he now shows me a crew of 120 humanoids... such a big ship. And they discovered your planet 5 million years ago. There were already plants, animals, fish, insects, birds, and there were primates. Like our monkeys.

They informed the Interstellar Union about their discovery, other civilizations flew in to explore, there was a history of Earth exploration. And they investigated whether there are intelligent beings on this planet? Those who have not yet built cities and still live in nature. They paid attention to monkeys, dolphins, to see if an intelligent spirit was embodied there. It was found out that nothing of intelligent spirits incarnates on Earth; these were all animal souls, which, as I remind you, create plasmoids.

First, we observed the population of primates, creating conditions for their natural evolution, for their development. They tried to teach them something, to breed offspring with a more developed nervous system, but after several million years there was no evolution.

3 million years ago it was decided to begin hybridization. This is 2 million years after the discovery. Representatives of Burkhad, Tumesout and Selbet began hybridization. Our Esler did not participate there; he was later included in the Interstellar Union.

There is a fairly strong movement of contactees with the Tashigans, with subtle-material civilizations, etc. They show it on TV and talk about it. The contactee movement is much older than in Russia.

In Europe, things are not very good with contactees, they do not go out into space... There, with external freedom, people are very closed internally, throughout Europe. In Russia, on the contrary, they say that there are fewer freedoms, but there is more internal freedom. A person’s life in Russia is not so regulated.

The education that Europeans give to their children is strictly according to the rules, without putting their soul into it. It is taught to a child from a young age that every word and statement must have material evidence. Such a system, capitalist, is based on the fact that God communicates with people through law, legal interpretation. But the Orthodox have a more organic interpretation - God does not act according to laws, but according to grace. That is why there is a different attitude towards the spiritual world in general. Europeans have an attitude towards the spiritual world, I would not say that it is materialistic, there are also non-materialists there, but they believe that there is God and a spiritual world, angels, spirits of some kind, civilizations, but they either do not have contact with humanity, or this do with high-ranking people. Why do they think so? Because it is embedded in their norms, laid down from childhood. It is difficult for them to imagine that an alien would waste his time on a person who cannot change anything in this world. Even if a person imagines that there is an alien, it will be difficult for him to understand that this someone will fly hundreds of light years away to communicate with a girl from the village.

Europeans have a strictly built hierarchy of who is higher and who is lower in society. That is, they have a very strict social egregor. This is transmitted with mother's milk, in the family it is strict - mom, dad are higher in rank, treat them with respect, etc.

Let's say there is an alien. Why would he fly to them? Even if they arrived, they need to provide proof of existence. To the question: “Why provide evidence?” – they will look in bewilderment and think: “Why did you come then?” Well, they wouldn’t show up... They (Europeans) have this kind of thinking. Straightforward legal. Since you said it, you must have paper.

Russian and Eastern peoples have a different mentality, which is regulated by the egregors of Orthodoxy (in this case). This is also a branch of Christianity, but it recognized more a spiritual path than an externally social one. It is easier for Russians to believe that aliens or spirits came to a simple girl. Because Orthodoxy recognizes that a person must be assessed not by status, but by his inner content. In Europe there is this, but very little; it is mainly among Russians.

One of your (European) economists said that those who have highly spiritual content have high status in society. This is combined with you - that God gives a spiritual person the understanding of how to advance and become higher. You have these things connected. For Russians, on the contrary, it is difficult for true spirituality to advance in society, because these are different things. From this root comes the difference between your mentalities and egregorial construction. You, Zebuniso, as an eyewitness to these phenomena, can confirm or refute my words.

Zebuniso : I fully confirm that this is true.

05:35 Irina : Today we decided to choose the topic of people's health, as well as its strengthening and recovery from various diseases, because we are looking at the dynamics in the group, the questions on the channel and what questions are most common.

Recommendations for specific diagnoses can only be given during a personal consultation, because the causes may be different. Recommendations on medications - only at a personal meeting, since Mead did not look at you and cannot prescribe that way.

We can only talk about the general causes of diseases. Representatives of alien civilizations see the causes of diseases differently than our medical scientists, and therefore there may be some discrepancy. As much as I communicate with Mead, this is most often the case.

08:16 Maxim: Do I need to take vitamins?

Irina : Yes, it is necessary if you have a deficiency of certain substances in your body, which often happens with poor nutrition, or frequent periods of hunger or strict diets. There may be a deficiency of microelements and vitamins. Also, with a monotonous diet, it may be rich in calories, but it lacks many nutrients.

In this case, you need to take vitamin supplements, because they restore metabolism, homeostasis of the body, promote the proper flow of all chemical and biochemical processes in your cells, the transmission of nerve signals, and the functioning of the immune system.

If you take vitamins just like that, without experiencing a deficiency in them, then this may even cause harm, because. you may get intoxicated.

I prescribe vitamins only after diagnosis and certain multivitamin preparations that match the vibrations. If you do not have the opportunity to undergo such a diagnosis, you can ask your higher consciousness, by getting in touch with it, whether this or that drug is right for you.

10:24 Maxim: A person constantly gains and loses weight. What could it be?

Irina: A very individual question, within what range of fluctuations, what do they depend on? How much does this bother the person himself? If it decreases, this may indicate a nutritional deficiency, the person may be affected by parasites or severe stress, or diabetes, which burns fat. In type 1 diabetes, the metabolism is such that fats do not accumulate, and even glycogen does not accumulate in the liver. The same can happen with infectious processes.

You may gain weight due to physical inactivity or low metabolism, which occurs with hypothyroidism - a lack of thyroid hormones. Even if you eat little and move a lot, weight will increase due to this metabolism. The body will resist, not receiving the proportion of thyroxine that it should, and therefore increase body weight.

12:16 Maxim: What could be the cause of diabetes?

Irina: The global reason is the mood of the spirit, which you call character. It can be formed in past lives, or formed in childhood or adulthood, which is less common.

This is the state of mind when a person is not satisfied with his life on earth. He does not get pleasure from simple things - neither from food, nor from relationships with a loved one. He experiences dissatisfaction either in all areas of his life or in many.

This is reflected in the energies of the spirit in such a way that the energy of the spirit, through the etheric body, begins to influence the level of insulin in the pancreas and reduces its concentration in the blood. And the spirit, with its energy, reduces sensitivity to insulin in all cells of the body: in nervous tissue, in myocytes, in muscle tissue so that the level of glucose in the blood increases, and other damage to blood vessels and nerves is secondary. The spirit believes that there is little pleasure in life and therefore the blood sugar level should be high.

Of course, this cannot bring him pleasure, it brings suffering, but sugar is a symbol of the sweet life.

There are accompanying reasons - increased body weight, lack of movement. But increased body weight is possible, but there is enjoyment of this very body, then there will be no diabetes.

And if you are chronically dissatisfied with it and fight it in every possible way, then you can drive yourself to diabetes.

14:54 Maxim: Is it possible to restore the spinal cord and spinal nerves?

Irina: Recover from what? A very general question.

If we are talking about spinal cord injuries, in which signals from the central nervous system to the medulla oblongata, which is located under the brain, are interrupted, then in the initial stages, after the injury, functions can be restored. Special medications are prescribed according to indications (and if they are suitable for vibrations), which restore neural connections. If a person is psychologically tuned to this restoration and does not despair that the movements are not working out, and tries to do them, then restoration is possible.

If a lot of time has passed after the injury, the person does not move, and we are talking about paralysis, paresis, paralysis, and the person has become psychologically accustomed to the idea that it cannot be otherwise, then it is difficult for him to begin to believe in it and send his energy to the etheric body to the corresponding part of the body.

And if a person convinces himself, then it is possible to restore energy and neurons in this area, and such cases are known.

17:26 Maxim: I'll risk asking a question, but I don't know what it is. How does Ekadashi affect human health?

Irina: This is a term from Hindu cosmology: these are certain days.

Any astrological characteristics, as I already said, both Western and Eastern astrology are materially determined energies. The description of planets and actions on people are symbols, a description of his spiritual world. This has nothing to do with the real planets in the sky as described.

For example, Jupiter is a symbol of power, etc.

If you believe that this has some effect on your health, then by faith you will adjust your body. If you do not know about this, then they will not have any effect on you, just like lunar cycles.

You had a study done when solar storms were announced, and those people who read the forecast were more susceptible to these storms. And those hypertensive patients who did not read had half as many cases of exacerbation.

19:42 Maxim: How to treat a spot with milk? Can Mead respond? A spot was found on the child.

Irina : Where is it located, what connection does it have with milk, write in more detail. Anything can happen. If this is a manifestation of an allergic reaction, then it's one thing; if it's chickenpox, then it's another.

20:22 Maxim: My 3-year-old grandson twists around at night, screams and cries, health-wise, not everything is bad. What to do with the child? What kind of grandmother should I look for?

Irina: There is no need to look for a grandmother. At this age, the spirit is still adapting to the physical body and it has very vivid, memorable astral travels during this period. For a child, when he exists during the day, in the human body, he adapts to the world and any action of his parents, friends, or an image seen in a cartoon is stored in his memory, and he accepts everything as truth. He has not yet learned to separate the images inside him from the images outside. You just have to learn this, at the age of 6-7.

At this age, children are impressionable, this helps them in learning, but this has the following side effect: when they go to bed, burdened with vivid impressions of the day, they attract those entities that match their vibrations. You need to understand that a word or deed that does not mean anything to you will turn out to be a tragedy for a child - torn clothes, a broken toy, a word spoken by you. He can experience this all day long and you won't know about it. He will lower his vibrations and certain entities will come to him in the astral plane to frighten him, taking on different images.

Magical specialists will not help here; you need to change your attitude towards the child, give more love, fill him with its light.

When a child screams and twists in his sleep, do not show excitement, be close, there is no need to wake him up, otherwise there may be even more stress. If he goes back into the body, he will wake up on his own. If not, he will continue to sleep. You need to sit next to him and not let him get injured, hold him if necessary, and if he wakes up, calm him down without asking questions. If he tells you, then listen to him, don’t laugh at the images he saw.

Say that everything is okay, we are here, we love you, and the entities won’t do anything to you. Over time, this will pass on its own, either when he adapts to this world, or when the psychological situation in the family stabilizes. The fact that you love your child is undeniable, but your words and actions are perceived much more sharply than you imagine, because he has such a psyche.

Even images from films can remain in his mind for a long time.

24:28 Maxim: Mid, here Oleg Chelebiev wants to pump himself up with energy. How to do it?

Irina: If you are talking about etheric energy, then do the practices that were given by the Eslerites for each chakra. They are in the “Cassiopeia” group and they were given specifically by energy practitioners for earthlings. There are corresponding mantras and mental images, and they help increase the percentage of etheric energy in each energy center.

If you are talking about physical energy, then you can increase it in three ways, combining them with each other.

Method 1 – physical movement. By moving, you will increase the percentage of energy in the body by increasing metabolism: oxygen metabolism, blood flow to the muscles, and therefore the flow of glycogen.

The 2nd method is a complete, proper varied diet, drinking regime of at least 2 liters of liquid per day. If less, you will feel a lack of energy and will feel weak from lack of fluid in the body. All processes with movement and correct thoughts will go wrong.

Getting rid of chronic foci of parasitic infections - they take away minerals, vitamins and vitality.

Full sleep.

3rd method – lack of stress, positive attitude, spiritual development.

27:08 Maxim: does the soul have a name?

Irina: If you are talking about the name of the Higher Self, it may have a name by which it calls itself in the spiritual world. It may be your proper name in this life, this happens often. It may be from a past incarnation and not necessarily from the previous one, but from the one that is most important to her. Or it may have a name for the spirit world.

The soul is a spirit that is incarnate. The soul has many names in different incarnations, but the only one that exists is that of the Higher Self. It may or may not coincide with the person’s name and even be of a different gender.

28:23 Maxim: How to treat psoriasis?

Irina: That's how many diagnostics I did for people whom earthly doctors gave such a diagnosis, I found pathologies of liver metabolism and parasitosis of varying degrees of severity. There were also secondary dermatoses caused by the saprophytic flora of the skin itself. All this is associated flora, as you understand.

How to treat psoriasis: the most general advice is to get rid of multicellular parasites - helminths, you can take a broad-spectrum anthelmintic.

And secondly, cleanse the liver, I recommend doing this with sodium thiosulfate.

30:40 Maxim: How to remove fungi from the body?

Irina: It is impossible to completely remove them, since many of them are saprophytic and live in symbiosis with your other microflora in the intestines, skin, ear canals, nasopharynx, etc.

They cannot be completely removed, but they can be kept under control so that they do not cause inflammatory processes in the body and do not release mycotoxins - these are toxins of microscopic fungi. If there is severe damage by fungal flora and the immune system cannot cope, then an antifungal drug can be recommended. I prescribe it depending on the vibrations.

If there is candidiasis, then nystatin cannot always cope. I look at the vibrations: Candida Albicans is not Candida Cruzei at all. During diagnostics, I cannot do a culture, I just look at which drug is suitable for this person and in what dosages. If I need to clarify, I fly to my base and look at the dosages.

If it is the fungus Aspergillus or Dermatophytes, that is, unusual for the skin, then this is a problem of the immune system. Here, sometimes it is not advisable to prescribe antifungal agents, but it is advisable to increase immunity with special immunostimulants and a change in attitude towards life by dissolving those astral blocks that caused disorders, for example, the thymus gland.

When I diagnose, I see not only the consequences, but also the causes.

38:30 Maxim: Mead, have you heard about Crohn's disease?

Irina : Yes, I heard about her, I had to look at a person with a diagnosis established by doctors. The energetics showed that the damage was caused by the association of the simplest parasitic forms plus the allergic response of the body itself. This is a lesion of the intestinal wall with constant bleeding. This man had anemia and a severe lack of potassium, iodine and other substances in the blood, as well as vibration of amoebas, intestinal Trichomonas, and gram-negative anaerobic flora.

On the astral-mental level, this man had hidden anger directed at the young man, who turned out to be his own son. An emotional block at the level of the 3rd chakra caused a disruption in the flow of energy, and then a secondary infection.

35:47 Maxim: how harmful is alcohol to health?

Irina: I will say it as a biologist and as a psychologist. Alcohol abuse causes harm to the body and social environment of a person. Its use in certain doses does not cause harm, but this dose is individual for everyone. How to determine it? Every reasonable adult who has encountered alcohol understands perfectly what this substance is.

On a subconscious level, on the level of the Higher Self, he understands when enough is enough. In order for the body to suffer harm from one-time consumption of alcohol (poisoning, intoxication), you need to drink a certain amount in a short time. For each person, this will be a different dose depending on his gender, weight, age, the state of his internal organs and even his mood at the time of use. Mood, like vibrations of the spirit, also contributes to either accelerating metabolism, including alcohol metabolism, or slowing it down.

A very individual moment and how to determine it? You determine it with your Higher Self. If you receive clear information that this drink is enough, then further quantity will be harmful. It is impossible to say a single dose.

As for the systematic use of alcohol, it is not the dosage that plays a role, but how often the use occurs and what emotions are accompanied. Safe intervals also vary from person to person. The main thing is how you feel emotionally about this substance.

If for you this is one of the types of food that brings pleasure, pleasure and pleasant physical sensations, but you do not build an ideal out of it that will solve all your problems emotionally or in relationships with other people, then it will be safe.

Systematic alcohol consumption is dangerous especially when the battery charge is low. Addiction is dangerous if you have psychological problems.

40:18 Maxim: Mid, how to cure allergies to flowers?

Irina: How many people I looked at with allergies, the cause of their illness was either improper functioning of liver enzymes, which happens from an imbalance in the electrolyte balance of hepatocytes, or from different types of parasites, microbes and fungi in the body with low immune function.

Immunity, instead of being directed against aliens, is directed at the tissues of the body itself and at foreign antigens-proteins that are completely harmless to it.

Or is it a psychological reason, like diabetes. The reason is a constant irritating factor in life, either some person or a situation that a person cannot remove, but he has chronic hidden irritation. He cannot express anything, it is difficult and uncomfortable for him, he does not correspond to the social image, etc.

In this case, all the energy aimed at remaking this person or situation (we call this anger and irritation) is directed towards the cells of one's own body in the form of non-acceptance of this or that substance.

42:31 Maxim: What is schizophrenia?

Irina : Watch our video on the YouTube channel “Contact or schizophrenia,” where they talked about this in detail.

What psychiatrists call schizophrenia is a disturbed astral field of the person himself. In short, this is a disharmonized form of contact with some plasmoid, or with a low-vibration spirit that is not embodied. There may be contact with a humanoid if the contactee himself reacts inadequately to him.

43:40 Maxim: What could be the cause of a malfunction of the thyroid gland?

Irina: There are dozens of them. Hyperthyroidism, hypothyroidism – what do you mean?

If, in general, then this is a hormonal imbalance in the body, which occurs against the background of pathology of the adrenal glands, pituitary gland, sex hormones, from a lack of iodine, from an excess of iodine, from an excess of fluoride, etc.

44:21 Maxim: Is self-medication possible with the help of a person’s thoughts?

Irina : In general, thoughts and words (self-tuning) are the main stage of any treatment. Positive thoughts, with faith in getting rid of the disease and the absence of negative thoughts towards the disease itself, contribute to the faster action of chemicals, surgeries, etc.

A positive attitude and raising your spiritual vibrations, when you think about good things and do not judge anyone - this already contributes to healing.

Is it possible to heal with thoughts alone? As I already said, absolute faith can do a miracle in your material understanding of the word, but the main thing is that you have the resources of the organism itself.

If this is an organic pathology, such as a stroke or heart attack, intoxication, infection, then a strong immune system can, if not completely rid you of them, then significantly alleviate the condition.

To strengthen immunity, you need faith and the absence of any blocks, then faith will manifest itself on the physical level.

I'm talking about blocks of negative emotions. If you believe that you will get rid of bronchitis, but you have a block on the 4th or 5th chakra that prevents you from breathing, then the block will prevent faith from activating your immune system. We need to clean it up first.

46:48 Maxim: is it possible to cure oncology purely with herbs?

Irina: If with a positive attitude and with the rules that I just said about blocks, then yes, it’s possible. Oncology is the overcrowding of the astral body with low vibrations of fear, anger, and resentment. These are often destructive attachments and the presence of entities, that is, low-vibration non-embodied spirits in the human body.

47:34 Maxim: Does the soul of a person with dementia remember his life?

Irina : Of course, the soul itself does not forget anything, it’s just that with dementia there is a violation of the reproduction of the memory of the spirit through the brain.

47:56 Maxim: Is bioresonance therapy effective?

Irina : Like any physiotherapy, bioresonance therapy is a treatment with physical energies, they are simply aimed at suppressing the frequency of a particular microbe, at activating a particular organ. But, if the causes of the disease are not removed, then these frequencies will again become unbalanced.

48:26 Maxim: What is the reason for early graying of hair and is it possible to return the color to hair if it has turned grey?

Irina: Why, you can paint it?! Early gray hair can be due to three main reasons:

The first is genetic characteristics: an early start to the cessation of melanin synthesis in hair may be embedded in a person's DNA. Due to micromutations in DNA, this passes from generation to generation.

The second reason may be a manifestation of small cholesterol deposits in the vessels of the brain and is accompanied by the deposition of cholesterol on the inner eyelids of the eyes, where yellowish plaques can be seen. This indicates a violation of cholesterol and fat metabolism and may require correction to avoid plaques and the development of acute transient ischemic attacks and pre-stroke conditions.

Small cholesterol plaques can disrupt the blood supply to the hair follicles and reduce the supply there of those proteins that are necessary for the construction of melanin.

There may also be severe stress (either immediate or chronic), which causes spasm of small capillaries in the venous and arterial network of the head and disruption of melanin production.

51:38 Maxim: How to grow new teeth?

Irina: This is not provided for by your genetic program. After the loss of permanent teeth, the osteocyte cells in the gum are unable to divide.

52:20 Maxim: What is epilepsy?

Irina : What is called epilepsy has a completely different etiology. What we outwardly see as epilepsy may be a manifestation of hereditary changes in brain proteins, which provoke the appearance of foci of neuroimpulses in the brain, causing muscle contraction, loss of consciousness and everything else.

But this may even be a manifestation of contacts of some images with some form of mind. In any case, a person needs to look at what gave birth to this in him. May be a manifestation of intoxication, because seizures occur for many reasons. This may be an infection with a parasite, the same echinococcus. An hydatid cyst in the brain can cause seizures.

I realized a long time ago that what you call in one word - schizophrenia, epilepsy, diabetes - is not called in one word in our country. The same disease can have different origins and different ways to eliminate it.

54:40 Maxim: How to never get sick? A person has reached a conscious age and does not want to get sick.

Irina: By “never” I mean from birth to death.

Prevention of diseases is much more important than the treatment of existing diseases, because it does not allow the body to enter a state of imbalance, which will then need to be restored and waste the resources of the same body.

I can name three foundations on which the health of every person rests - movement, nutrition, protection from infections (hygiene): competent handling of products that may be contaminated or contain poisons, that is, life safety. For example, caution in consuming home-canned mushrooms or fish, which are not known to be infected with botulism or not, alcohol and other harmful substances, protection from infections when communicating with people, transmission of infections through different ways (including sexually), etc.

Ordinary biological safety - we tell children about this.

Nutrition, movement, positive attitude, faith in yourself, faith in God, fulfilling your destiny on Earth and in the Universe, that is, spiritual development, correct goal setting. The main goal is spiritual development, and the material one is an application to it. If it's the other way around, you'll get sick. Your spirit will not understand why it incarnated here and will want to quickly leave the incarnation. The Higher Self will understand that that part of it on Earth is not fulfilling its purpose, and mentors can take you out of incarnation ahead of time, and illnesses and injuries, quarrels, conflicts, etc. may appear. These will all be signs to you that you are not fulfilling the program .

The most important thing for you is spiritual development, which consists of developing the light of love in yourself, and nutrition and movement are only means for realizing your main goal.

59:44 Maxim: What is better - vegetarianism or meat-eating?

Irina: Variety!

There was a video about nutrition, and in it Mead explained in detail, as a biologist, what the ratio of plant and animal food is optimal for an earthly person. And what is included in the concept of animal food, what is the relationship between them, etc. This is not a guide to action, but recommendations, since everyone decides for themselves how to eat - this is your health, your responsibility, your life and the fulfillment of the goals of the Higher Self .

The most useful ratio for humans at the present time and in our environment is 70% plant food and 30% animal food.

Of the 30%, it would be good to allocate at least 15% to dairy products, and the remaining 15% to distribute 5% each to fish, eggs and meat products.

If you eat more meat and less plant foods, you will fill up on meat and not want to eat as much plant food as you need and not get the nutrients contained in it.

#87 I have children on another planet (story of a physical contactee). How to get rid of entities?

00:40

Irina: Hello. My name is Irina Podzorova. I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations.

Are you also a contactee? Tell us what contacts you had? With whom? When? Tell me everything you can remember.

00:46

Guest: I don't even know if I'm a contactee or not. Now I am 39 years old. It all started many years ago, when I was 14-15 years old, in 94-95. It was a situation that was accompanied by humor and jokes. My friend and I were returning from school and saw a flying saucer in the sky, hovering in the sky above us. We started waving our hands at her and shouting various frivolous words: “Hello, it’s us, pick us up!”

I had a friend at that moment. My friend's boyfriend is a little strange. We were friends with him, like friends and often walked together. One day, in winter, during one of my walks, I shared with him my desire to be like a snowflake and be able to fly. After that, he called me and said: “Aliens heard our conversation, they became interested in me.” I didn't believe him.

Maxim: Did he have contacts with aliens?

Guest: Yes, he said that he communicated with them. But as far as I know about this guy's history, he now has mental health problems. I didn’t believe him, for me it was a joke, and he told me that they told you to come to the specified clearing at a certain time. As a result of this conversation, I concluded that it was a joke, and, naturally, I did not go to the planned meeting. For me it was some kind of game, nonsense. It all started from this.

Since I lived at that time in the Kemerovo region, surrounded by taiga, no one had ever heard of aliens and UFOs. But after this conversation with him, I began to have dreams. At that moment I thought that these were dreams. In these dreams I saw gray men with big eyes, very thin build, with large black eyes, whose height was 1.20 - 1.30. Also, during similar dreams, I observed a room in the middle of which a woman was lying on a table and giving birth to a child. The birth process does not occur in the traditional way. These gray creatures simply take the child out of her belly, holding him by the leg. They said, “We need women to reproduce a hybrid humanoid species.” I had these dreams several times, and each time in the dream I ran away from aliens. Then I started having bouts of sleepwalking. My father periodically stopped me when I was already standing on the threshold of the house, at night, as I walked and opened the door and went outside. Gradually I began to lose the connection between dreams and reality. The sensations in my body were very real, I felt cold and hot. I remember that I went out onto the porch, sat down and saw a flying saucer. It was enormous in size, because of which I could not see the sky. I could see all the buttons and spotlights. I heard some noise, a hum, coming from her. All these events continued regularly for some time, but not every night. I was walking somewhere in the garden and saw headlights, like big floodlights in stadiums, and they shine into your eyes, and there is no way to see anything. You wake up already in your bed. I still thought it was just a dream. But after these dreams, I discovered marks on my wrists similar in shape to a cross, which disappeared within an hour. Then, one day, I lay down to sleep, but I heard a rumble outside the window and saw a blinding light. After that, I discovered a small hole on my leg, which indicated the absence of a small bone. Then, a week later, the same notch, slightly smaller in size, appeared on the second leg. I showed all these marks on my body to my mother, wondering: “What’s going on?”

One night, half asleep, I went out onto the porch, climbed down and walked along the grass along the river. Saucers appeared in the sky again, and I realized that they were aliens. Knowing that they posed a danger to me, I ran and hid in the bathhouse. When I was in the bathhouse, through a small window I saw this blinding light and heard voices. The voice said: “We have found her and cannot let her go.” I was a valuable find for them. I started screaming: “Get away from me, leave me alone!” Suddenly I wake up in my bed. It was 1995.

I left the Kemerovo region and now live in the city of Barnaul, Altai Territory. In the interval between these events and my move to Barnaul, I studied at the university, and throughout this four-year period, visits from gray aliens continued. They voiced their demands, which were that they needed women to bear children. I did not give my consent to conduct such experiments, to take biomaterial, I also did not agree to give birth to children for them. But these creatures constantly require my approval to conduct such experiments. I understand that without my consent they have no right to do this.

Subsequently, I began to see the subtle plane of reality, humanoids, aliens. I tried not to pay attention to it. I didn’t want to communicate with them and mentally terminated all contacts. About a year ago, alien visits began again. Three creatures came who had flattened faces, dressed in white suits, there was a clear resemblance to cetacean creatures, beluga whales. They called me, motioned me to go outside. I started screaming and calling my mom. Then I saw a dog on a subtle plane. She had a keychain on her collar with an image of an unusual sign on it. When I looked at the information on the Internet, I realized that this sign means Sirius, the Constellation Canis Major. Then, one evening, my mother and I were sitting near the TV, and I saw, on a subtle level, how two creatures with white hair and blue eyes, in blue suits, entered the room. On their costumes there were images of a triangle with a meaning that was unclear to me. They mentally tell me: “We are your star, real family.” I asked them: “Why do they allow me to be treated this way, to carry out various experiments on my body?” Their answer was that these are my embodiment tasks and they cannot influence this process.

In addition to my communication in the subtle world, various manifestations of these forces also occurred in the physical world. These were the sounds that my seven-year-old daughter and I heard, knocking on windows and doors. After another knock on the door, in the afternoon, I went out into the yard and saw in a subtle plan a man in black clothes. Mentally she asked him: “Who is he?” And he replied that he had come to give me a message. He also tried to give me a pink crystal, a cross and a scroll, on which I saw an unfamiliar language, possibly Old Church Slavonic. I had to insert the crystal into my chest. Then I asked him: “Why did he come like that?” And he said that due to the negative energy on Earth, he cannot appear in his real form. Since I know that any entity can take on any form, I did not believe him. Subsequently, I went to church, and it was said that I was fine, but I feel that this is not so, that there are some connections or implants.

Irina: Very interesting story, thank you for the detailed story.

Maxim: Who came through the channel from her now? Who was that? I'm sure these are Tashigans.

Irina: There are not only Tashigan people there... Many people say that we should not touch her. (a quiet conversation takes place between Irina and Maxim)

Guest : Let me add that during all these events I began to have thoughts of suicide.

18:23

Maxim: Something strange is happening here. Let's do it this way. Natalya, do you give permission to Irina and LiShioni from the planet Shimor to visit you in the astral world?

Guest : Of course, I agree.

Irina: They are already here, but we need to go there, since it makes sense to look at the plasmoids.

19:18

Irina: (addressing a representative of another civilization) What is your name? Is Natalya your contact person? How long have you been talking to her?

(the humanoid answers) My name is Rahabey. I have been in contact with her for over twenty years.

19:50

Maxim: Did she consent to contact?

Irina : Yes, she gave consent in the astral plane, in childhood, even before our first physical contact. When she was little, she wanted to fly with us.

20:12

Maxim: How do you contact her? She says she is bearing children for you. This is true?

Irina : In connection with our experiment, she provides us with genetic material. I am from the planet Tashig. I am a biologist by profession.

21:06

Maxim: Why is contact with her not harmonized? Why doesn't the contactee accept this contact?

Irina : We send her a guide at night, and she herself comes to us.

21:23

Maxim: Does she come to you at night consciously?

Irina : When she goes into the astral plane from the body, we send her a guide to return her back to the body and show her the way.

Maxim : The contactor asked us for help. These contacts make her anxious.

Irina: This happens due to the presence of low-vibration, subtle-material entities, which, taking our form, pump out energy, cause pain and instill a feeling of fear.

22:24

Maxim: Why don’t you provide support to your contactee?

Irina : These creatures have freedom and make their own decisions.

Maxim : Is she herself the initiator of communication with them?

Irina: She herself attracts them, according to her vibrations. We have no right to interfere if their vibrations are suitable. We can only explain the situation.

Maxim : Why don’t you explain?

Irina: We explain, but over 20 years we have not had many physical contacts - 15.

23:25

Maxim: Tell me, who else from other civilizations comes to Natalia?

Irina: Our colony exists in the constellation Virgo. Luke or Lux... This is a small colony, a hybrid.

Maxim : Does she contact this hybrid civilization in the astral plane or physically? Why does the contactee say that he feels them on a physical level and sees them?

Irina : This information needs to be clarified in the schedule of physical contacts. I am responsible for her 15 physical contacts in which I was present. Her memory was blocked due to her request. Because she was afraid that she would tell her relatives about it. As I said, we had rare contacts.

25:35

Maxim: During each contact she asked to erase her memory?

Irina : Yes, this was the situation initially.

Maxim: Subsequently, did you clarify the fact of her consent to such experiments?

Irina : If she changed her decision, she would have informed us about it.

26:24

Maxim: Are you ready for conscious contact if she agrees?

Irina : She is now ready for conscious contact, but the last time I took her on a plate was more than two of your earthly years.

27:00

Maxim: If she agrees to conscious contact with you, will she have other contacts without her consent?

Irina: If she doesn't want to make contact, she can refuse contacts, from humanoid ones for sure. In order to disconnect from subtle ones, it is necessary to stop emitting the energy that they consume.

Maxim : Now Irina and LiShioni will go to you in their astral bodies in order to assess the situation, to see which plasmoids are near you and causing harm to your energy. At this moment I will tell you my understanding of this situation happening to you.

27:46

Guest: Tell me, who participated in the experiment to take bone tissue from me? They claim that I gave consent, but this is not true.

Maxim : The fact is that you have contact not only with these representatives, but also with creatures from other colonies.

Guest: Are these creatures "gray"?

Maxim: They are gray, but they are hybrids. They conduct experiments on crossing with earthlings, with reptilians, with Shimorians and with Eslerites. They have a large number of hybrids. The beluga-like creature you mentioned may also be a hybrid. When did you get this mark on your leg?

Guest: In 1995. At that time I was 15 years old.

Maxim : The fact is that it was in your childhood when you expressed a desire to fly. Thus, they took it as your consent to contact. At the moment, it is difficult to figure out whether you gave your consent to contact, to experiments or not. Because you were at a young age and you really wanted to meet them at that time.

Irina : When you were present on our ship, we showed you the base, you had a different opinion about the experiment.

Guest: Perhaps, but I don't remember.

Irina : They can unlock the memory, but only with the permission of her Higher Self.

Maxim : Unlocking the memory is indeed possible. To do this, Irina must take you to your Higher Self for a conversation.

Irina: Rakhavey shows indignation: “I am an honest scientist, I took you on a ship myself!”

31:01

Guest: This honest scientist provokes me to suicide with his actions.

Maxim : This is done by plasmoid entities that feed on your fears and give you mental images that project even more fears. All the entities you talked about could very well be plasmoids.

Irina : Rahabey claims that he spoke to you in the astral plane about this, repeatedly.

32:01

Guest: What does he look like?

Irina : He has gray skin, a large head, about one and a half meters tall and large teardrop-shaped eyes.

Guest : Before, neither in the astral plane nor in the physical world have I seen such a creature.

Irina : Particles of your bone tissue were taken in order to study how your growing body would react to flights in a spacecraft and to the experiments that were carried out. This was done in such a way as not to harm your body. If you remember, they took not only bone tissue from you, since it is almost impossible to produce hybrids from it. Your other cells were also taken from you.

Maxim : They took genetic material from you to reproduce hybrids.

Guest: I previously had gynecological problems. I couldn't get pregnant. Until then, I am at risk for cancer. I'm interested in what material they confiscated from me.

Irina: A woman's ovaries contain eggs, both ripe and unripe. The number of immature eggs is much greater. They only take unripe eggs that have not been released into the follicle. Eggs that are immature make up only a few percent of the total. They don't even go into the fallopian tubes. A certain number of eggs remain unclaimed until the end of a woman's life. When a woman leaves this body, the eggs also undergo a process of decomposition. They took exactly those that were not in demand and were located farthest from the exit of the fallopian tubes. Those that, even theoretically, could not be useful to you for your reproduction.

Maxim : There are many reasons for the risk of cervical cancer. Maybe it's your hatred of men.

Guest : I was raped when I was 21. They took him into the forest and almost killed him. Such events were repeated several times. I believe that this is a consequence of experiments that were carried out by aliens.

Maxim: Do not draw a parallel between these tragic events and alien experiments. They carried out all the experiments quite carefully.

Irina : We took eggs from you not through the internal organs, but through the abdominal wall.

36:59

Guest: I'm wondering why I see signs of Sirius everywhere?

Irina : At the last contact, you were interested in what hybrids were obtained after using your genetic material. I showed them to you on the screen of my spaceship when we flew to the Moon base.

Guest: I don't remember that.

Irina : The contactee may initially agree so that his memory is not blocked, and then change his mind. Therefore, we install a chip that, by sending a beam (this is an automatic program), deletes a certain part of the lived time in the neurons of the brain.

38:27

Maxim: Besides your chip, does she have other chips?

Irina : She has two of our Tashigan chips. One chip is for observation, the second is for a more stable state in the astral plane and for protection in the astral plane. The hatches use our chips.

39:38

Maxim: You are constantly under their surveillance. Do you know that you are also under the surveillance of the Spiritual World?

Guest : Oh, no, I don't know.

Maxim : Do you know that you have Spiritual mentors?

Guest: No.

Maxim : Do you know that you are never alone with yourself?

Guest : There are constantly and regularly various noises and sounds around me.

Maxim : I mean not only the physical plane, but also the spiritual level.

Guest: I always fly in my dreams.

Maxim: This is one of the levels - the astral. There are also the etheric body, the mental body, the causal body, the buddhic body, and the atmas. At each level there are certain entities or civilizations. That's why you can never be alone. You are not only under the supervision of these entities, but also under the supervision of your spiritual mentors who accompanied you into this incarnation. Also, there is always a Guardian Angel next to you, who always keeps in touch with you. It doesn't matter whether you believe in him or not. Faith allows you to communicate with him in the right way.

Irina : Astral flights with representatives of Tashiga continue, and you retain the memory of them in the first two hours after that. This happens thanks to the presence of our chip.

Maxim : I recommend that, after such trips, you write down all the events that happened, because later all this is forgotten. Many people have a similar situation. In your case, your memory is preserved thanks to chips in your body.

42:25

Guest: Tell me, please, what does the concept of a fallen angel mean?

Irina : Did you watch the video with the demon?

Guest : Yes. I'm asking because it scared me. Two people, within a period of six months, told me that I was a fallen angel. I believe that a person cannot be a fallen angel.

Maxim : We will now calculate your level. Level 1 to 6 means you are a fallen angel.

Irina: You have level 15 of spiritual development.

Maxim: Level 15 is the level of the inventor. You are not a fallen angel. Perhaps this is what some people who sense energies call you, and they sense destructive plasmoid civilizations near you, which can be equated to demonic structures. At the moment, Irina and LiShioni are coming to you in the astral plane, and we will talk.

In order for you to accept all these contacts, you need to see who else is next to you. Why do you have such a projection? Now I will give you feedback regarding the projection of diseases. All the diseases that you have are your projection. This is called psychosomatics, and psychology proves it. But this is what I call the mental level of formation of low-vibration energies that are reflected on those organs in the body responsible for these mental images. You need to change your perception of life, reality, you need to engage in physical sports, engage in your spiritual development. First of all, it means accepting yourself as you are. Try to understand that in addition to your physical body, there is your soul and the spiritual world. All the energies that exist here, at all levels that exist here, come from the Spiritual World. You are Spirit incarnate. You are the Soul. You are never alone in this world. There is always someone next to you. You can turn to your Guardian Angel, to the one in whom you believe. For example, in Jesus Christ, Krishna, Buddha, Allah - it doesn't matter. What matters is that you sincerely believe in Higher Powers, higher vibrations, higher Spiritual teachers. They will help you understand and help you understand your life problems at higher levels and find ways to solve them. We exist to raise the level of human awareness. Not to scare a person, to save him from something. We do not have a task - to save people from non-existent and unnecessary problems. The problem always lies with the person himself. By saving a person from an alleged problem, I put myself above God, who is the person himself. The magic pill is an indulgence. For example, when a person comes for a consultation with regressologists, tarot readers, shamans, and they promise that everything will be fine with him. The cost of such a solution to the issue is not high, and the person will supposedly be healthier and happier. There is a conditional level of magic, a conditional level of energies that are invested by a person who performs any magical actions. But this is a temporary effect.

Without a person's conscious perception of his internal changes, without understanding the world order, without understanding the structure of all reality and without understanding your personal influence on this reality, no changes are possible. Temporary changes are possible, based on the faith of another person, but then there is a immersion in the problem with even greater force, followed by disappointment and the question: "Why has it become even worse?" It's my personal opinion. I'm not saying that this is exactly the case. I see that your big problem is the fear of rejection. I understand you, because you don't know what this phenomenon is. Is it constructive or destructive? For example, they will come to you and cut off your legs or eat you. Unfortunately, there is a lot of different information on the Internet about aliens that provoke fear and negative emotions in people. For example, reptilians will fly thousands of light years away to eat human flesh. There are many different types of deception. There is also a lot of correct information on the Internet. But all this information is transformed by personal perception and in 80 percent of cases by the negative perception of the contactee himself, who conveys all this. This is the biggest problem. Another problem is that each contactee is not ready to harmonize with other contactees, carry out dialogue, and work together. This happens due to the fact that such a contactee protects his financial interests.

Guest : I'm ready, if I were a contactee, I would communicate with other contactees.

Maxim : The fact is that each person protects his ego and his exclusivity. For example, some contactees think they are communicating with God, but we explain to them that this is not God, a high vibrational entity that may look and feel like God to us. Because this entity is at a higher vibrational level. He is in a more conscious state, closer to the projection of the Spiritual world, closer to understanding how the world works in energetic terms. After such cases, our project is called a sect. Some people say we are liars. In this way they protect their interests. They don't want to accept a new form of awareness. There is competition among contactees. We are against competition - we are for harmonization. It is quite difficult to find harmony with our team, since we are in the donation structure. If a person considers it necessary to thank our structure, he does it for our development. If he does not consider it necessary to do this or does not have such an opportunity, no one forces him to do this. We do not exist to build a financial pyramid. We exist to give people an understanding of the existence of all this, but not in the form in which this information is presented. The more a person comes up with problems, fears, and hears about reptilians who torture people, the faster he is ready to pay for any services in order to get rid of this. But the most important thing is that no one will save you from them. This is a conditional belief - a perception, a placebo. The duration of this is temporary. It operates when there are no chips, when there are no portals in the house, especially when these are thin-material civilizations of the plasmoid type.

Guest : Does this mean that there are portals in my house?

Maxim : Definitely, they exist. Aliens regularly communicate with you. In order not to waste a large amount of energy to move in space, in order to immediately contact you, they need portals. Portals can be in an apartment, a front garden, or near a mountain nearby.

51:23

Guest: What do plasmoids look like?

Maxim : There are hundreds of times more plasmoid civilizations than humanoid ones. Plasmoids can take on any appearance for you in the astral plane in order to evoke an association in you. In particular, the image of a dog that came to you, with the Sirius icon, thereby causing you an association with the Sirius civilization.

52:11

Your problem is that you have no understanding and awareness.

Guest : Of course, that's exactly how it is. I am 40 years old, and over the years I have not met a single person like me.

Maxim : I understand you, I met a person who answered all my questions; I did not find answers to these questions in religion, esotericism, magic and other areas. Each time, not receiving answers to my questions, I retreated into materialism, denying everything else. Thanks to Irina, I met astral teachers. These teachers explained a lot to me and taught me to distinguish my thoughts from fantasies. They taught me to separate my fantasies from reality. They also taught us to correctly perceive this reality. These little things add up to greater awareness. Awareness of who you are, why you are here, how you can give feedback, and who the other person on the other side of the screen is to you. I am feeling many things at the moment.

I know that you are also an incarnate Spirit, and I want to help you in receiving the information that I have already received. I have a sincere desire to help you. I built my life in such a way that there was joy, happiness, love in it.

Guest: Now I understand that my main problem is a lack of awareness. Lots of questions and no answers. We are looking for the truth, turning to psychics, grandmothers, clairvoyants... Many around explained to me that all my problems are connected with the presence of magicians and sorcerers in my family. Sometimes I heard about the presence of negative entities. On my father's side there are gypsies in my family... Hearing these words, I begin to believe in it. After all, when 5 people tell me that there is an essence in me, do they somehow see it, read it? But she might not be in me, but nearby? And I don't drink or smoke.

Maxim : Yes, they can see the energy of the chip that way. They scan it, and the image of a gray Tashigan, for example, comes up. With big eyes. What is this for them?

Guest: One regressologist girl told me that she saw in me an entity that was small, then became big, she had big eyes, and she looked like a cat. And the second one said that it was a werewolf, like a wolf. With big eyes, as tall as me. I ran to church then. She told my father that I had some kind of demons. He baptized me and sent me home.

Maxim : It all depends on the awareness of the one who is watching you.

57:14

Irina: I can say, after visiting you in the astral plane, that you have a plasmoid binding, which is located between the 1st and 2nd chakras. Usually the bindings are white, but yours is light gray, comes out from the tailbone area and runs along the entire spine to the back of the head, and goes up. These plasmoids are of the fourth density level, the Betelgeuse civilization. This is the level that immediately follows ours. Betelgeuse is a red supergiant, it provides a lot of energy, including the 4th level of density.

Maxim : It turns out that these are like our earthly plasmoids, spirits of nature?

Irina: Yes. They can knock and rattle.

Guest: What does this mean?

Maxim : We have 59 density levels. We humans are on the 3rd level. The 4th level is next to us.

Guest: What do they look like? Just like clots of energy?

Irina: We visited Betelgeuse and Luke. Shanny from civilization Luke said he had 3000 contacts with you. The last of these contacts took place in the fall of 2019. He also said that they did not install new chips, they used Tashigan chips. Shannie is the teacher-curator of a group of children - hybrids who were born using genetic material taken from earthly women. He clarified that the genetic material was taken from you 27 times. This material was only used on seven humanoid specimens. The first experiment was carried out in 2004-2005, in connection with this, your eldest child, a hybrid, is about 15 years old in earthly terms.

Guest : After hearing the information, I feel bad, I feel sick. Unfortunately, I don't remember anything. One day I had a dream. A little boy came up to me, hugged me and said, “Mom, I love you so much.” I understand that I don't have a son. At the moment I have one daughter.

Maxim : This dream is an unconscious astral journey. If you learn to travel in the astral world consciously, you will be able to see all your children.

Irina : Also, 19-20 samples of genetic material are awaiting experimentation. They are stored under certain conditions.

Your children look like the Tashigans, but their eyes are not teardrop-shaped, but more slanted. The oldest is 15-16 years old. But this is not yet an adult humanoid. The rest are even smaller.

01:03:53

Guest: Where are these children?

Irina : This is the constellation Virgo, about 400 light years from Earth.

01:04:17

Natalia has a problem. She experiences irritation and anger towards close people, which attracted plasmoid entities similar in vibration to her, who know that she is in contact with humanoids and take on their appearance in order to scare them even more.

LiScioni noted that this binding exists for no more than 5 years. They may have come earlier, but they became attached 5 years ago.

Guest: 5 years ago I had an accident that resulted in loss of consciousness. Perhaps it happened at that moment.

Maxim : The point is different. The reason for this situation is that you have negative thoughts and emotions. You need to accept and forgive everyone, and do careful work on yourself.

01:05:58

Irina: LiSioni commented on your situation regarding rape. Every situation that occurs in a person's life is not random. Your meeting with such aggressive people is also not accidental. Perhaps you have had aggression towards boys and men since childhood. But in a depressed way. And this situation showed what is. This is a lesson for you. You must figure out why your Spiritual guides allowed such a situation. They allowed this to happen so that you understood that what you do mentally can be reflected in actions in life, so that you become aware of yourself and understand your internal problems.

Maxim: Please read various philosophical and religious books. Begin the process of enlightenment. Read the book by contactee with Gikhor (humanoid civilization) Sinelnikov “Love your illness”, a good book. Read Lazarev. He is a contactor with the subtle world. These books explain what thoughts, images are, and what they lead to in life. Read Ramacharak, he has wonderful 4-5 books. Learn to perceive and project reality differently. This will even make it possible to heal all your illnesses.

Irina : It is also necessary to talk to the Higher Self.

01:09:21

Guest: Irina, what can you say about chips?

Irina: The chips have long been installed to monitor you and protect you in the astral plane.

Shenny purposefully made contact to say that he is the curator of a group of children, including yours. If there is an agreement with the Higher Self to unlock the memory, the Tashigans will be happy to do this. You must accept these contacts as an opportunity to understand the universe, and not as an act of violence.

Maxim : Accept now everything that you have and deal with your inner world. The more light and love you have, the easier it will be to unblock your memory.

01:10:45

Guest: How do plasmoids affect suicidal thoughts?

Maxim : Yes, they can influence, but when such thoughts appear, you must imagine that these are not your thoughts. And send light into them with all your love, like that boy from your dream, try to hug and love this plasmoid. Then he will have no other option but to leave. Show love, self-confidence, get rid of fears. Except for yourself, no one can make you worse in this life.

Guest: Are stories about fallen angels talking about plasmoids?

Maxim : This is all the vision of those people who have their own conscious idea of what it could be.

01:11:51

Guest: Can plasmoids appear in the form of Veles, Lada, or nature spirits?

Maxim: Yours definitely can. Hug them, fill them with light, talk to them, don't be afraid of them. Your biggest problem is you, and the most divine being is also you.

01:12:30

Guest: What should I do with the civilizations that have guided me since childhood? Terminate contracts with them? Are they harmful?

Maxim : They do no harm. The negative is given by plasmoids that take on their image. It’s easier for them to take energy.

In our group we have a Burkhadian attitude and an Eslerian attitude. In the morning, with a lit candle, read these moods. Through a candle flame. And don’t just read, but feel inside your heart what it’s about.

#88 Energy flows. Aunika and Irina Podzorova. Sound healing. How to start meditating?

00:28 Transpersonal recovery.

Irina, Aunika and Natalya communicate before a transpersonal recovery session.

Irina scans the streams.

Aunika: They [curators] are tall. Everything is already. I feel like I'm getting short of breath.

Irina , addressing Aunika: You are like a rainbow.

Irina Natalie: Do you feel them [the curators]?

Natalya: Here?

Irina: Yes. How do you like him?

Natalya: So cool.

Irina: He's so cool, yes.

Aunika: Cold energies. Cold.

Irina: Strange. He himself is such a white color (points to Aunika's white robe), the figure itself. And multi-colored energy comes from his hands. She [the curator] says: "Modeled by our thoughts."

The session with Aunika begins. The patient is in a horizontal position on the couch.

Irina: They are still coming.

Aunika: A lot. It happens until eleven.

Natalya: I'm getting goosebumps.

Irina: One of the Pleiadians, tall, in white, formed a tube from the astral matter contained in his hands and directed it to the top of her [the patient's] head.

Aunika sets up the patient: ...You breathe the energy of God...

Irina: And the second one stood [at his feet]. And so they simultaneously direct two multi-colored streams, which meet somewhere in the solar plexus, a little higher. This is how [energy] even comes out. (Points upward, above the meeting point of the streams).

Aunique to the patient: Inhale this energy and exhale from top to bottom. Imagine, direct it, as if you were inhaling and exhaling inside your body...

Irina: Those three who stand opposite her in their astral bodies are like a mist. She begins to envelop her.

Aunika stands at the patient's feet with her eyes closed. The palms of the hands are open upward.

Irina: Some kind of funnel opens as if upward, above her [Aunika].

Aunika places her palms on the patient's feet.

Irina: Energy comes from your hands. This color is so soft. She went into the stream, entered the channels on her legs. Two channels end in the feet. She lets in the energy that was given to her through this funnel and directs it upward.

02:48 Interview with Aunika.

Natalya: Have you been doing this all your life?

Aunika: No, I've been doing this for the last ten years. A man appeared who told me that I should heal with my hands. I was on strike very hard. She said that I don't even know where the organs are. I can't heal because I don't have a medical education and I don't know where to put my hands. It seemed to me that this was pure fantasy, and they confused me with someone.

In order not to spoil the relationship with this person, I found the winner of the "Battle of Psychics" Vladimir Muranov. I went to his first seminar. After a battle it is always very difficult to get to psychics, but this, apparently, was some kind of fateful meeting, because I got to him from a huge number of people. I was waiting for him in the dressing room after a big seminar that took place in Zvenigorod. I say: "Volodya, I have this request, I'm not sick with anything. I just need to talk, a very important question. I want to maintain a relationship with that person, I need him. What is your opinion?” He says that I should heal with my hands. And he, looking into my eyes, said: “You were not deceived. The fact is that I will teach you this again.” This is something I didn't expect at all. That is, I stood in complete confusion. Vladimir added: “This is our first meeting with you, but not the last. We will see each other many times, and I will teach you. Years will pass, we will be friends for a very long time.”

I left Zvenigorod very impressed. But within a month I received practice from him.

04:48 Practice with a person.

Same session. Aunika placed her right palm closer to the patient's right shoulder.

Aunika: If a very strong feeling is given, it means there will be very strong elaborations and knowledge of oneself, one’s qualities. This is associated with a very strong emotional state. You must understand that a teacher has come to you who will create these qualities. You get to know yourself through teachers, through the Spirits who come to you. If you know these simple things, you will never have any disruptions or imbalances in the energy sector. Because everything will happen according to the Divine plan, in love, acceptance of the experience that happens to you, whatever it may be.

Aunika touches the patient's pelvic area with two palms.

Aunika: There are no enemies among your spirits. They help you get to what is very deeply hidden. It must be worked out through these tools.

Irina: You understand - this is a clear contact. Now you have handed over something that is not yours, I see it.

Aunika: Yes.

Irina: He says: “We are cosmic doctors who work with human energy. You conduct vibrations well, you are already accustomed to them. Although it was difficult for you before, the more you turn off your analysis during work and trust our energies and hands, the easier the vibrations will pass through you.”

Irina: When you merge with her, she will not encounter any resistance or oncoming flow from you in your etheric body at all. It will pass freely.

Someone in an astral body approached Irina.

Irina: What is your name? Siatir? I’m listening, Siatir... No, I won’t go to your astral plane now, wait... (laughs)

Aunika placed both palms on the patient’s shoulders.

07:12 Aunika: How many creatures come to one session?

Irina: Sometimes it’s even twenty-eight. And now how many entities, besides PiosNior, are there? Nineteen.

Interview.

07:31 Natalya: A whole group of comrades from the Pleiades just came to see you. Did you know that they are the ones who come to you? Or how did you interact with them before Irina told you now?

Aunika: I didn't know exactly where, but I always knew it was something big. I always call them guides because I feel them. I don’t see them, but I can read the density and height of this object with some kind of sensor. And I understand that even before a person arrives or is traveling, this field is already being assembled and work begins. And there is already a connection with this person, even before they brought him to me. We don't know each other yet, but at this moment a field is being formed, informational at first, from where he will hear that there is such a transpersonal restoration. About the fact that someone will give him a phone number. That is, they are leading us, and I don't see that it won't be on time. There was a question that maybe you can't help or something else, you can do harm. If a person comes to you, you understand that you are not a healer, you are only an instrument in the hands of a force that is capable of conducting such vibrations through you. When you don't work from your ego, because my strength and energy would not be enough. What happens, even sometimes I can't stand these flows. They are very strong and dense. There was such a thing in practice that I lay down next to the table and could not stand (laughs). I realized that even if I don't lay on hands now, everything is already happening. I couldn't stand this vibration, it was hard for me to breathe, my heart was beating differently. And I myself was in an altered state. And I thought that I had no other chance, option, solution. I just need to lie down next to the table, on the carpet, and indulge in this work that is going on. When a certain session of my work takes place, about half an hour, then the conductors work for the rest of the hour.

10:16 Natalya: So you can never predict what will happen, but you understand that a force is working through you that knows better and is wiser than you?

Aunika: Yes, I have full confidence that this person will come again, what will happen to him, we are all in touch. In ten years there has not been such a thing that there was no result. One way or another, he is being led.

Session. Aunika's palms are on the patient's temples and forehead.

Irina scans the field behind Aunika with her hand.

Irina: He stood behind, Siatir is here. His hands are here with you [shoulders]. He sends [energy] through you. And here there is still one standing (points in front of Aunika). And they release different energies through the center of your palms. Syatir releases a white stream. It connects at the center of the head, where the pineal gland is. And the one standing in front is younger, he sends energy to you through this channel (passes it along your left hand). It goes through your fingers, and the energy is already different, multi-colored. It enhances the white flow and makes it spin. (Addresses the doctors) “Explain what you are doing?” They say: “We activate the hormonal system.”

Aunika: Because the pituitary gland responds exactly.

Irina to doctors: How do you activate it, what does it mean? Doctors: “This means that we are restoring the energy structure of the endocrine glands of the human body, the etheric network, on the basis of which cellular structures are then built.”

Irina Aunike: He says that you have an altered state of consciousness. The movements you make are spontaneous and are not under your control. You feel that your astral body is also unstable.

Aunika shows smooth movements back and forth along the patient's body.

Aunika: Just like that. It's like I'm ironing.

Irina: He’s showing now. If you are not talking, at this moment you enter into such a state, especially when the music is playing, as if you are dancing with them.

Aunika: And I fly.

Aunika: Of course, I don’t solve issues of diseases, I don’t heal. As a human being, I don't have the strength to heal anyone. But, most likely, in the process of this work, everyone is shown their own miracle. For some - some moments of life, someone sees all the work as energy, someone sees me as energy. Someone is transported to moments in life that need to be worked through, and there the person solves [the problem] in an altered state of consciousness, because this work relates to transcendental states of consciousness. That flow, the vibration that goes, that channel that is established in this sacrament (there is no other way to call it), it changes not only my state through these flows, and who I am at the moment, but you connect with the soul of this person . That is, you begin to feel it closely and subtly when you lay hands on it.

Sometimes I have my own processes in parallel to perceive the information that he should hear after the session. Plus, the work that takes place in an altered state of consciousness. Because I want to say again, at the moment of work the soul is disconnected. That is, all the structures, as I see them, are dispersed. We have a physical body and six more subtle bodies. This structure seems to diverge. In ordinary life it is not possible to be in this state for a long time. We are only in transition: from wakefulness to sleep - seconds, and from sleep to wakefulness. We fly past this transcendental state that we are going through and enter other phases of sleep. And this work of up to an hour and a half allows you to prolong linear time and allows you to be in it.

Natalya: It just occurred to me that transcendental meditation, which is advertised by David Lynch. He suggests half an hour in the morning, half an hour in the evening to surrender to this state.

12:51 Aunika: Yes, this is a flow state. Moreover, every person can feel it. This is a very simple technique, practice.

If someone cannot relax, they focus on meditation, but they need to completely unwind, feel this moment “here and now” and constantly remain in it. After some time, you will forget not only who you are and what your name is, but you will not even feel your body. You will be in the consciousness that everyone calls "I AM". And it’s very easy for beginners who don’t know how to meditate, how to enter this state. So what should they do? It’s enough to just get up, put on some pleasant music and feel that flow, your channel, the current of this energy. Why do we live? As soon as this current is cut off, our body will simply begin to rot. And while this current flows, we are connected with that world, the subtle plane, by what makes us alive.

You place your feet shoulder-width apart and enter the moment “here and now.” It’s as if there is no you, no past, no future, no children, no husband, no one. Feel yourself, nothing else matters. Feel your breath, who you are, what breathes in you. Feel the density of this breath. Breathing can be calm, it does not need to be specially raised, inflated, or compressed back to intensify. No, just be this breath, feel it. Relax your body, let each exhalation pass through it. It's as if you are breathing God himself. Imagine that this density that enters your lungs is a kind of myrrh. You feel that something is inflating your lungs, something is entering you, inside your body and completely filling the diaphragm. And you direct this flow inside your body, from top to bottom. It’s as if you are standing and breathing like a sponge, driving the currents up and down. There are a lot of practices that are focused and aimed at breathing. Moreover, breathing is life. And you begin to relax: with each exhalation, you exhale into the body and relax the place where you have tension. It could be the shoulders, the hip joint, the calves, it doesn’t matter what. And you breathe. Just stand and breathe, completely naturally, calmly. And at some point you begin to feel how you dissolve in this flow and, like a seaweed in water, you begin to [sway]. When you completely relax your body, stop all processes, you begin to dissolve in this vibration, which is your personal. This is your vibration, your Shakti dance. You are in your channel, you are dancing your dance, and you can literally feel how the dance is leading you and working through certain blocks in you. That is, it is enough to simply dance in this channel, allow your body to make those movements, as the channel itself, your personal vibration, leads.

15:15 What is transpersonal recovery?

This is your personal state of altered state of consciousness, i.e. trance state. When you separate yourself a little from this world, you begin to feel yourself. When you take this as a practice every day, you will begin to feel the world around you. You will feel all your energy flows. You will never have aggression, there will be complete acceptance. Because when this flow flows through you, it processes absolutely everything. It pumps up all your nadis and meridians. And, naturally, the attitude towards everything and the vision [changes]. And here the most interesting thing opens up - you begin to feel the space and other people.

#91 Conference of contactee Irina Podzorova with engineer from Finland Zebuniso Heikkinen (part 2)

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/konferenciya-s-inzhenerom-iz-finlyandii-2-chast https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=XqVu-LHDR18

0:25 Introduction of participants.

Z: I am Zebuniso Heikkinen from Finland, an industrial thermal energy engineer, and today I am very glad that I came to the conference for the second time.

I: Hello dear subscribers of the YouTube channel and VKontakte group “Cassiopeia”. My name is Irina Podzorova, and I am a contactee with extraterrestrial civilizations, and today my curator MidgasCaus from the planet Esler, a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien life forms, answers Zebuniso’s questions. He greets you too.

1:05 Does social evolution affect human intelligence or does intelligence affect social evolution?

I: Does social evolution influence or vice versa? Do you want to say whether existence determines consciousness?

Z: Yes.

I: He says, rather, on the contrary, consciousness determines being in this case.

Z: Thank you.

I: In fact, indeed, the environment shapes a person, and it shapes the personality. The same environment affects different individuals differently depending on their reaction to this environment and on their personal internal, mental attitudes, the spiritual level at which they are, and especially on the level of awareness, discovery and love that they manifest in response to this environment.

2:10 How is the disposal, purification and disposal of human and industrial waste organized in the Interstellar Union?

I: In the Interstellar Union, we try to reuse them to the maximum, to use already unnecessary production waste as secondary raw materials, that is, to recycle them a second time, a third, such an endless production cycle. This, firstly, saves the resources of the planet on which we are located and reduces the negative anthropogenic impact by tens of times; I now mean by the anthropogenic impact of humanoids - the anthropogenic impact on the environment, that is, on nature. This can also be included in your production, you already have such schemes, you already have such factories, such production devices. Only, in order to seriously engage in this, you need to transfer your production, to put it in layman's terms, on a different track. And this is the case in some countries where they use recycling, but it is still secondary processing, still in smaller volumes than, of course, we would like, but this is a very promising path of development.

What concrete things can be offered here? You earthlings have already begun to recycle not only non-ferrous metals, but, for example, non-ferrous metals, iron, that is, iron alloys, cast iron, and so on. That is, what was previously valued, is now also accepted for recycling, and those iron parts that were previously thrown away and lay underground, people who want to do this can, accordingly speaking, get them from there, can bring them , rent for money, that is, this is a promising direction. Previously, only non-ferrous metals were accepted for processing, now they also accept a variety of iron alloys.

Secondly, it would be good for you to use recycled paper more widely: newspapers, books, documents that you no longer need. Paper and cardboard, which are thrown away in thousands, can in any case be recycled. There are already well-established schemes for how to make the same cardboard or blank paper out of them, on which you can print and produce again. This will reduce the cutting down of forests and trees for these needs.

And accordingly speaking, as for plastic, it can also be used more widely, that is, by recycling through sublimation by chemical and thermal methods, converting it into gases, and manufacturing new plastic products.

Z: I can boast, Finland can be proud of this, it has been put on stream, and in particular in my house, ecological wool made from used paper is used as insulation.

I: Well, it's also a good use for insulation, which means they won't waste other materials that could be spent on something else.

Z: And then, it's environmentally friendly, it's not glass wool.

I: Any environmental friendliness, any common sense, it is always rational, and vice versa, any rationality is environmentally friendly.

7:04 What can you say about the difference in the environmental components of your spacecraft and ours?

I: What ships do you have in mind now?

Z: Space.

I: Otherwise, now he will list the submarines.

In the vast majority of cases, three types of engines are used: atmospheric engine, planetary engine, magnetic field gravitational engine. There is already [information] about this, how they are used, what is needed for this and what is obtained in the end. Fuel, well, relatively speaking, is not fuel, and materials for the reaction are needed only for gravitational ones, the other two work on those gravitational and magnetic fields that already exist in nature.

You have fuel that now uses various chemical mixtures (previously there were hydrogen and oxygen), kerosene and so on, but now chemical reagents are used along with oxygen, and there are nuclear engines (partially nuclear). They are still more harmful to the environment, because I would not advise you, and even more so they are not effective, because the greater the speed of this rocket that flies is needed, the more fuel needs to be spent to disperse this mass. The fuel itself also has mass, and all this is ineffective, very expensive and inaccessible; affordable high speeds are needed, and even more so for interplanetary travel. If you [want] to effectively explore space, then you still need to pay attention to the study of magnetic fields.

Now you have already begun to use experiments with solar batteries, which have a certain operating principle, those same photon engines. That is, at least partially use the energy of the sun itself, particles and types of energy, which are called photons, so that they can be at least partially converted into motion in these batteries. Here he shows it to me in the form of a sail, but it’s not just pushed by the solar wind, it also transforms energy into movement.

9:55. The intelligent being of the Earth is called man. What are the intelligent representatives of the civilizations of the Interstellar Union called?

I: If these are dense material creatures, if they are not subtle material creatures, then they are simply called humanoids. People come in there. People are representatives of the anthropomorphic race, that is, anthropomorphic humanoids, similar to people, but this is already in your language. There are anthropomorphic races, there are reptilian, insectoid and some other types of races, now they are showing me some, like birds or something, like ornithids. Yes, and they are all humanoid races. That is, you have a widespread opinion that humanoids are only anthropomorphic, that reptilians and so on, that they are not humanoids, but we call humanoids any dense material form of intelligent life, when the intelligent Spirit has embodied in a dense body, no matter what shape, what size was missing.

11:25 Can humanity become your partner in scientific, technological and environmental programs?

And: Partnership - to share technologies for manufacturing one or another of our technological ships, our medicine, some research robots, for example, this is only after joining the Interstellar Union, for the sake of your and our safety and the safety of those worlds that exist in the galaxy, and this is the first goal. And the second - according to the agreement between civilizations, the Interstellar Union should not interfere in the development of young worlds, so that they themselves follow their own path of development. Because we can intervene, but only to a limited extent: simply give ideas, direct the search for a person, for some Spirit embodied on Earth, in one direction or another, but people should be engaged in the promotion of this idea and the development of this idea.

At this stage of development, when you have not yet entered the Interstellar Union, therefore I, as a scientist, and my colleagues who also come to Irina (her supervisors from other planets), all scientists specially prepared and studied specifically for contact with earthlings. And we are ready to share what we know in a form in which it will be understandable to you, but you just need to ask specific questions, and we will talk about how this can be.

Z: So this is possible to some extent?

And that.

13:20 Do you need our help? If yes, how can we help you?

I: What an interesting question. I would not use the word “need” here; we are, as it were, a self-sufficient [civilization], that is, in any case, the bases that we have on Earth, all the ships that we have, we provide them with resources ourselves. Here, most likely, we are not talking about our need, which we cannot do without (necessity), here we are talking about our desire for you to help us in our mission to cleanse the Earth’s noosphere of all low-vibration states. Because this will be a condition for your rapid moral and spiritual, including scientific and technological development.

According to the universal cosmic or Divine law, the Divine higher mind reveals things, the laws of nature, which can influence it in order to transform it in full, only when it is safe for those civilizations. But sometimes there are exceptions, that is, he reveals these things to people with a low moral and spiritual level so that they can build something, but he does this in order to show everyone else what this can lead to. This happened, for example, in the creation of the same atomic bomb. In any case, these discoveries were made, they are now being used for your benefit, but God showed by this how it can be used by those people who are not ready.

The same thing happened with Selbet, they used some laws of nature to start a war with Burkhad, with the Earth, to change the orbits of the planets, and your Earth became what it is now, to destroy the planet that you call Phaethon. The same laws of nature and the laws of God that he developed were applied, but they were applied for destruction, and all this was allowed by God so that we rational Spirits clearly understood that the priority in our development should be the spiritual side, the material should to be a means for this spiritual development.

16:48 When was it written and who provided the information for writing the ancient Indian manuscript about the Vaimanika Shastra (Vimanika Shastra).

I: According to our scientists, this was written in the first centuries of the new era. That is, it was written down on paper (around the 5th century), in the form of a manuscript, but before that, he says, it was passed on from teacher to student, and this was passed on for quite a long time. There was knowledge about ancient ships, not only about ancient ships, in general about the structure of ships that existed earlier during the period of contacts with aliens, when the planet Shimor was in contact, I'll say now, that means 5000 - 7000 years ago. There were also records about this then (partially lost), as a result they managed to write it down in the form in which you see it now - this is approximately the 5th century. There were records about ships and how they fought with each other, collided, and simply flew towards each other. All this is presented in the form of a scientific treatise, in a mythological form that the gods on chariots had a certain device. This is only an approximate description of this process, as it was understood by those contactees who initially recorded it, and as it was remembered by their students who then recorded it. This needs to be analyzed in detail, I know that there is an approximate description - just to give humanity an understanding of what happened.

19:15 Is the information about decoding the human matrix according to Julian Poe's numerology system valid?

And: In the spiritual world, each number is a certain vibration, that is, it is not that each number is a certain vibration, but each vibration can be symbolized by a certain number, that is, a certain state of the Spiritual world of a person and the environment in general can be encrypted by symbols. Imagine, for example, the sky, just the boundless sky - it's just a certain object, but it can be encrypted in letters, and you write "sky", it's not like you write "sky", it's not at all what it's like the real sky, these letters simply symbolize it.

In the same way, if you, for example, imagine the feeling of love. Love is a spiritual concept of feeling, and you can encrypt it in different ways, you can encrypt it simply with letters, in Russian with several letters, that is, write the word "love" with lines on paper, and under these lines there will be no feeling itself. Everyone who reads it will understand what we are talking about. You can also encrypt this feeling, for example, with a heart symbol by drawing it. Why this particular symbol - I have already talked about this, this is the science of imagery, which every child in our school studies, what kind of image, what can stand behind it. The feeling of love and harmony of the world, acceptance of everything that is, can be encrypted with a certain number, in this case the number 6 is responsible for this.

Or you can attach a symbol, for example, in astrology and say that a certain planet is responsible for this feeling, but again the real planet is just a symbol, has no relation to the real planet, but is related to the symbol. More specifically, the planet Venus is responsible for your feeling of love for various historical, mythological and other reasons, even for the reasons that Venus was the goddess of love, the same Aphrodite in Greece. Why exactly was this tied to the planet Venus? For several reasons, one of which is visible - the morning and evening star was a symbol of this goddess. And why she was a symbol of this particular goddess - there are deeper reasons, including those related to the very civilization that existed on this planet before the war 12,000 years ago. That is, the civilization of the Earthlings closest to you lived there, which has now moved to Disara, and a lot of attention was paid to this side of life, love in relationships and so on, from here came the myths, retold to each other, that this is the goddess of love. I just told you about one number, and there are nine main ones, and each has its own vibration, and each has its own meaning of reflection in the Spiritual world. For this, we can hold a separate, I think, mini-conference.

22:55 What is the opinion of alien biologists about terrestrial practices of skin rejuvenation and are there any supporting methods of skin and body rejuvenation on your planets?

I: We don't have any specific rejuvenation practices or recipes for two main reasons. First, since we live on a different planet, we have different food, different energy and, most importantly, different internal content of our emotional life. In our country, this process itself not only happens more slowly, but our people remain young longer and generally live longer due to our biological characteristics and due to the upbringing that they receive in every family and school. That is, indeed, as I already said, life expectancy depends on the attitude towards them. That is, even if you have a certain period of incarnation, which you have already lived and you need to return to the Spiritual world, if you show your Mentors in the Spiritual world that you are developing very rapidly spiritually here, then this period can be postponed.

The duration of youth always depends on life expectancy, but often, with regard to external attractiveness, we do not focus on this, because we know very well the role of the biological attractiveness of the body at a young age. Now, he says, at a young age, God made a man and a woman look beautiful from the opposite sex so that they could create a couple and reproduce a body for another incarnate Spirit. Then, when they have already raised this child, whom they will reproduce and lead to an independent life, this task already disappears from them, it fades into the background, into the third or fourth. And their main task becomes spiritual development and preparation for the transition to the Spiritual world. That is why God made it so difficult for you on Earth to do this for various reasons: social, psychological, energetic, and so on. Therefore, God made sure that on your planet the loss of attractiveness for the opposite sex occurs earlier, so that these feelings, relationships and your excessive passion for some romantic things do not distract you from spiritual development in a more mature age.

26:25 Why is the human brain only 5% used so far? Is this our defect, mistake or the intention of our creators?

I: 5% is the average; not the whole brain is used, but the part that is responsible for consciousness. What is Consciousness? This is the energy of the Spirit, aimed at perceiving the world around us and realizing oneself in it. There is also consciousness and self-awareness - the structure of the Spirit. And there are also all the other parts of the energy and functions of the Spirit, they manifest themselves either in the Spiritual world, or through parts that are not used by consciousness, that is, those 95% that you said about. But for the physical body, 100% of the brain is used, because there are those zones that are responsible for the hormonal adjustment of the body, there are those zones that are used to adjust movement, the sensitivity of various organs, there are those that are responsible for immunity, there are those that are responsible for temperature, breathing and swallowing, certain reflexes of the body. And if you look at the physical body of a person as a whole, as if you look at a person as a whole personality, as a combination of Spirit and body, then it can be used 100%. Its different zones are responsible for different functions in the body and for different functions of the connection between the Spirit and the body.

28:24 Why is human life so short compared to the life span of our creators?

And: The first reason is that some kind of life expectancy is already programmed in your genetic apparatus, it was decided by those, I won’t even say that your creators, because the creators of your bodies, they were also guided by the highest laws of life that exist in the Spiritual world . They would not be able to make changes in the genetic apparatus that their Mentors in the Spiritual World would not allow them to do. It just wouldn't work out. Therefore, there was a certain goal, the first goal was that it was spirituality, spiritual Angels, I can’t find a term, these are Angels, only they are responsible not for specific planets, but for a sector of the Galaxy. They are in the Spiritual World and control the spiritual development of a sector of the Galaxy.

As I already said, each planet has its own plasmoid patron, which is in the subtle world, has its own spiritual patron - an Angel in the Spiritual world of non-incarnated Spirits, for example, in the world of non-incarnated Spirits, the patron of your planet Earth is Archangel Michael. If we take Christ, for example, then he is the patron saint in general, not even just of the Galaxy, but of a group of several Galaxies. He is simply embodied now and connected with his body forever, this is of his own free will, as I already said. And if we take, for example, Krishna - he is the patron of the Galaxy and so on. They are from some sector of the Galaxy, and in the same way any of the non-incarnated Spirits, who are on the twenty-fourth level for all of us, because beyond that they are no longer distinguishable. And those (who are on the twenty-third, twenty-fourth level) Angels in the Spiritual World are responsible, while they live in the Spiritual World, for the development of egregors and individual Spirits on planets or generally in sectors of the Galaxy. It was the twenty-third, twenty-fourth level that the Angels developed this program for the planets, so to speak, life expectancy, they proceeded from the living conditions on this planet: climatic, energetic, social, spiritual. They believed that on Earth, after the catastrophe that happened, and in the process of the formation of those peoples that began to form, that is, the process of the formation of modern peoples and languages, countries, nationalities, religions, it went quite violently, that is, through wars, through struggle with nature and so on in one form or another, and therefore the Mentors at these levels of the Spiritual World considered that in such conditions it would be enough to live so many earthly years. If you live longer, it will no longer meet the task of incarnation.

Before the catastrophe, the Earth was in different conditions, and people lived six, seven, ten times longer, that is, not 60-70 years, but about 600-700 years, because then the Earth was in different conditions, there was no, for example, you had some local conflicts, you didn’t have such wars, you didn’t have any coups at all. There was different food on Earth, different energy, even a different climate, and the incarnation on this planet should have led you to the result of this incarnation, [which] should have taken 10 times longer. And now, after this, the conditions on Earth have changed, and it is enough for the Spirit to go through these lessons for a short time and then go to the Spiritual world, either to incarnate on another planet or here again. And if there is a longer time, it will already be uselessly lost for the Spirit; it will no longer be able to accumulate anything new here.

Regarding life expectancy - this decision of the spiritual Mentors, which was agreed with God naturally, and was already determined by all the decisions of the Burkhadians, Tumesoutians and so on, which changed genetics, if you speak from a global point of view. In the future, when your Earth, as a civilizational community, has learned its lessons and joined the Interstellar Union on its own rights, and the Council of the Interstellar Union will share such technologies to return you again to the level before the war. This issue has already been agreed upon in the Spiritual World. And you will live even at first at the level before the war, and then perhaps we will also change your genetics, so that you can get at least 30-40% closer to the life expectancy of the same Burkhadians, if conditions on the planet change so much that it will be possible here live, for example, a period of 5000-6000 years, without harming your Spirit, but developing it.

35:00 How many elements are in your periodic table? Which element and its serial number comes last?

I: They don't have such tables, they just have a list of elements, and they only take into account those that are in nature (natural), they don't take into account those obtained artificially, which come after Uranus. He says because those obtained artificially are the same natural elements, but atoms that you have simply filled with different energies. Therefore, temporarily they seemed to become different, but in fact they did not become different, they simply changed energetically until these energies come out of them. It's not for nothing that you have those elements that you call new types, obtained artificially, but they exist there for seconds and minutes and then they disintegrate. This is because they were not created by God, by the Divine Mind, by atoms, by vibrations. You artificially took a natural element, introduced energies into it, accelerating these particles, and these atoms admitted alien energies into themselves temporarily, until the properties of the element changed, until the energy was released. Then they will regain their original form or move into other [states] if these energies change in the atoms.

37:14 Did fungal spores fly to us on Earth from space? Are there civilizations in our galaxy that use mushrooms in their diet?

I: Do you call the kingdom between plants and animals mushrooms?

Z: Yes.

I: In fact, this kingdom is even more diverse than the world of insects. There are microscopic mushrooms, there are visible ones, and large macroscopic mushrooms. Yes, and those you named flew to Earth from space. Microscopic ones may well travel in meteorites and so on and be preserved in the depths, just as microbes are preserved in the depths of meteorites when passing through the atmosphere, for example, or when the Earth passes through a layer of meteorite dust in space, such particles can settle on it.

But as for the spores of macroscopic fungi, everything is more complicated; they are less adapted to conditions in space, because the smaller the organism, the more adapted it is, it is less influenced by environmental conditions, it is too small. For example, it requires less nutrients, it is easier for it to surround itself with a capsule and hide from some harmful elements, which is why, for example, bacterial spores are more viable than even insects. If, for example, you take a spore of the bacteria of the same botulism, or some other anaerobic flora, then you can boil it for 2 hours, this spore will be alive. And if you also boil the same cockchafer or cockroaches, you will see that no longer [not alive], not to mention more complex organisms such as animals, they will not be able to surround themselves with such a capsule, their organs are differentiated from each other .

Personally, we don't [in the diet], but there are civilizations that use similar elements, and he says, your mushrooms are not suitable for us, we don't have those. But we examined your organisms, which you call fungi, we do not have an enzyme for splitting, people can and some animals that have these enzymes. These enzymes for digesting mushrooms are specific, they differ from the enzymes necessary for animal food and from the enzymes necessary for plant food, they are specific, and not even every animal on Earth can consume them. Man is, as it were, adapted, but I have already said that man is omnivorous. There are, of course, poisons and toxins that he cannot digest, but still there are few of them; basically, you can consume all types of food.

41:25. Did Irina treat the aliens to Russian traditional dishes?

I: When they took me to Shimor, to the homeland of Krishna's father, they eat our fruits there, which are called kiwi, and I brought them such types, bought them for Shimor. Yes, and besides beer, I tried to treat Kirchiton to candy. Yes, I'll tell you now. I had a simple caramel with me, I gave it to him, unwrapped it, supported him and said: “Can I take it for some kind of chemical analysis?” And I say: “Yes.” He then took it away, and at the next contact, but it was about a year or two ago, I don’t remember, and at the next contact he told me that some kind of robot, an analyzer-robot, had carried out the analysis. He said that my body should not eat this, because it contains dyes that have a harmful effect on it in these quantities.

And I say: “What can you do?” If you would just give us some sugar, we can consume it, sugar is broken down in us. We even sell sticks, he showed me, gave me, treated me. Such long sticks, you know, how children used to count, they gave out counting sticks. Only the counting sticks are flat, but these are so round, of this size, they are like pencils, only small. They are all white, hard, and consist not of sugar, not of sucrose, which has a different formula, but of glucose. He said that their factory makes such glucose sticks, and there these molecules are arranged in a circle as if in a crystal lattice. That is, you can eat them, they are so fragile, you can bite it off and it will dissolve. Glucose is less sweet; if you take, for example, glucose tablets in a pharmacy, it is less sweet than sugar. Only with us it’s in the form of tablets, but with them it’s food.

Naturally, Kirchiton tried to treat me with his everyday food, which they call Woptenderi, have you heard? These are living worms. When Kirchiton took me to Disara for the last time, a month ago, to visit Saint-Germain, he treated me there to some kind of herbal tea, and I treated him to an apple and took it with me. But they are Earthlings, in fact, by gene pool, naturally they all eat the same as us. He says we studied your plants, apples, bananas, and pumpkins. He says that your pumpkin is suitable for us, it is similar to our dish, if you make pumpkin with milk like porridge, it is similar in color and properties, only with us it is most likely a fruit of a different color, but with similar properties.

45:22 Can we, the united communities of contactees and their like-minded people and supporters (workers, engineers, representatives of the intelligentsia and science, etc.) contact you in a format accessible to us, signed by all members of our communities, with a request for entry into your union and help us solve at least the environmental problems of the planet?

I: You can do this in the form of contacting, you - as a community of contactees and those who want to learn this contact. Specifically in ecology, we have a specialist from the planet Ticht. They have certain schemes on how to solve certain environmental problems, but you need to talk about this specifically with the specialists who are involved in your ecology, and how ready they are to implement it.

#93 Personal interview with MidgasCaus | How aliens love their wives. Life on other planets

00:24 Introduction of participants.

Irina: I am a contactee for extraterrestrial civilizations. Now MidgasCaus from the planet Esler is present next to me. He is here in the astral body, so he is not visible with ordinary physical vision, I feel him. He is next to me now and is ready to answer questions from my American friend Vladimir Goldstein.

Vladimir: Hello! I am now in the suburbs of Chicago. The time difference with Voronezh is 9 hours: it's morning here, evening there. It is with great pleasure and great expectations that I am conducting a personal interview with MidgasCaus for the first time. I conduct such interviews with Russian-speaking people in Chicago. And now I want to ask similar personal questions, not on general topics, to MidgasCaus. Greetings Mead.

01:18 MidgasKaus's explanation of the origin of its name.

Vladimir: How to write the name MidgasKaus correctly? Is there a need for a space between Mead and Gascous? Is this your first and last name or something else?

Irina: We have the concept of a first and last name, but we don't have one like you. That is, we can call tribal communities. Midgas is my personal name, and Kaus is the community to which I belong.

Vladimir: So it's better to write with a hyphen or to write together, without a space, but "G" with a capital letter, which is better?

Irina: You can use a hyphen, or whatever is more convenient. We do not separate with a hyphen, we do not have such signs.

02:17 About the location of the planet Esler in outer space.

Vladimir: Mead, please remind us where the planet Esler is located, in what exact place and at what distance from the Sun, from the Solar System?

Irina: My planet is located at a distance of 36 light years from the Sun, in the system of the star Eta Bootes. It is close to the star Arcturus, which is Alpha Bootes.

02:42 About life expectancy, conception and pregnancy on Esler, as well as the reasons for the existing differences with earthly periods.

Vladimir : I see, thank you. Now is your age. How long, on average, do your citizens live on Esler?

Irina: We live about 430-470 of your earthly years. I was born when the year on Earth was 1932.

Vladimir: Is the process of conception and pregnancy in you approximately the same as on Earth?

Irina : Yes, about the same, only pregnancy lasts about 5 earthly months.

Vladimir: How to explain that the life expectancy of earthlings is much shorter than yours, and the gestation period, on the contrary, is longer?

Irina: It depends on the state of the physical body, the ecology of the planet, social upheavals, and stress. Life expectancy depends on many things. From medicine: you have a high percentage of mortality from cardiovascular diseases caused by stress, incorrect approaches to your body, etc. We don't have that.

Your fetus takes longer to develop, ours develops faster. It depends on individual biological rhythms.

04:35 About the parents of MidgasCaus and how the Eslerites have a premonition of death.

Vladimir: I wanted to know about your parents: what are their names, where are they now and how is their health?

Irina: They are not on Esler. They are also research scientists and are on the other side of the galaxy. Explore one of the newly discovered star systems. My father is engaged in something between geology and geography, exploring the structure of the planet itself. And my mother is a doctor, a biologist, only she studies smaller microbes.

Vladimir : How old are they on Earth now?

Irina: My father is 307 years old, and my mother is 290.

Vladimir : Can you tell me what their names are?

Irina: My father is PianShin, and my mother is TruarSiki.

Vladimir: Dad is already old, by your standards. Does he have any health problems now and how is he coping with them?

Irina: I recently talked to him. They don't have such concepts as cardiovascular diseases or anything else. In our country, the death of the physical body occurs as a result of the failure of vital systems, and there are no long-term illnesses.

Vladimir: Can we assume in advance that life systems will soon fail? Is this visible on diagnostics?

Irina: Our intuitive sensitivity and connection with the Higher Self are so developed that we anticipate our death.

07:42 MidgasKaus about his childhood, his first flight into space and school lessons.

Vladimir : Please tell me, what are the most vivid memories from your childhood that you remember first?

Irina: First flight into space.

Vladimir : Where was this flight?

Irina: To the planet next to Esler.

Vladimir: What age was that?

Irina: In your opinion, I was about eight years old.

Vladimir: What was the most vivid feeling from this flight?

Irina : How we reached the surface of another planet, and I realized that although I was standing on a solid surface, this was not Esler. And Esler is somewhere.

Vladimir: Did you go out in protective suits, spacesuits, or was there a suitable atmosphere there?

Irina : No, there is an atmosphere. I just looked up at the sky and thought that when I was standing on Esler, I was looking up at this planet, I knew it was in the sky (laughs). And when I came out on this planet, I realized that first one thing was above, and then the other. I realized that I was walking across part of the sky with my feet.

Vladimir: Have you had any unpleasant sensations since childhood? Was there something you didn't like? Was there something you didn’t like to do?

Irina: Not everyone liked to do homework (laughs).

Vladimir : Which ones didn’t you like?

Irina: I didn’t like to draw. Because when I drew, I always drew differently than I imagined.

Vladimir : Do you have such a concept as we do: copying from your friends so that the teacher gives a good grade?

Irina: We don’t sit so close to each other when we write.

Vladimir : Okay, then I'll ask the question differently: did you have to deceive your educators, teachers or parents as a child?

Irina : Not consciously, because everyone here understands that deception is protection. And we simply have nothing to defend ourselves from, because we understand that the teacher and parent are always on our side, not against us, and love us. We felt the love of moms, dads, teachers. And, if you feel sincere love for yourself, then you will even tell about something bad that bothers you. Because no one will judge you, but they will help you.

11:15 About MidgasCaus's dream and his progress towards it.

Vladimir: In our childhood, children love to dream about what they will become. Did you dream about something: what kind of adult you would be, about some kind of profession?

Irina : Yes, I dreamed of flying into space. Already at school I dreamed of visiting other planets. I studied in depth the history of the Interstellar Union in the exploration of other planets that are not included in the MC. When I got a little older, I learned and read about the Earth. I was interested in the fact that this planet is located in the most favorable habitat zone, there are many forms of life there, there are intelligent beings. I wanted to find out exactly how they live there. I thought that on such a planet rich in diversity of life, which the Creator gave to these creatures, there is a very harmonious life. Everyone is happy, enjoying this diversity, using it for good. We talk about God; not a single subject can do without it.

And I began to study the history of this planet. And when I studied it, I realized that it is not part of the Interstellar Union. I began to find out why. I asked my parents to tell me, but they knew little about Earth and provided information from the Interstellar Union. A little later, I was taken to Burkhad on an excursion, when teenagers can be taken to the planet of the Interstellar Union. This was not my first visit to space. On Burkhad, I learned that there are specialists there who are in contact with the Earth, that it is a colony, that they are hybrids. I heard about this, but I only learned in such detail there, and I had a desire to contact the inhabitants of this planet, because I wanted to explain to them, to show them what a wonderful place they are in, how many opportunities they have for their development. Therefore, I began to study as a biologist, as a psychologist, as a specialist in the Earth.

We pass special exams, otherwise we will not be allowed to make contacts. I studied the countries and decided to contact the country with the largest territory. I thought it would be easier to find contactees there, so it was Russia. I studied her language, this happens quickly with us. We do not teach using dictionaries, but using a computer program. Naturally, I studied the biology, physiology, and psychology of these creatures. At the same time, I studied astral travel. At school we all went through the beginning of these journeys, but we must study them much better than other residents of Esler, because we come to contactees in the astral plane. We were immediately told that physical contact was very limited as evidence could not be given. Our contact specialists who taught this subject told us about this several times. Therefore, I learned not just astral travel, but to hold my consciousness for a long time when leaving, to express my thoughts, to perceive correctly. At the same time, I became interested in diagnostics in astral travel. We have such a special training program, and I also studied it, as a biologist and as an astral traveler.

16:12 MidgasCaus about his mission, experience and what he is proud of.

Vladimir: Are you able to carry out this mission?

Irina : Yes, I had a unique opportunity to contact not only the contactee, but also all of you through her. Thanks to the fact that those circumstances have arisen about which there was an agreement in the spiritual world, so that we would all incarnate at this time, in this place and give information to a wide circle of earthlings.

Vladimir: What, in your opinion, is the best thing that you have succeeded in your life today and, conversely, what do you regret? What would you like to change?

Irina : A little unusual question. I believe that whatever experience there is, it is useful for one’s development, because we do not have a division into better or worse in your sense. We perceive this not as denying or accepting, but as a lesson that exists regardless of our attitude.

Vladimir: Can you highlight the best? What are you proud of in front of yourself? What's the best thing you've done so far?

Irina : If so, then I am proud that I made the right choice of my profession, which makes me happy and allows me to fulfill my purpose in this incarnation. Also, I made the right choice for my wife, with whom we found each other by vibrations.

And what causes me regret is that I think it would be better if I didn't have this? I don't remember any cases that I could refuse. Even when something upset me and unbalanced me, in any case, it was a useful experience to understand what was bothering me.

Vladimir: So you don't regret anything?

Irina : No. I simply do not have such experience that I can deny anything in my life, because any events are not accidental.

20:44 MidgasKaus about meeting his wife and the age of majority on Esler.

Vladimir : Thank you. You mentioned the choice associated with the coincidence of the wife's vibrations. How did you meet?

Irina : At school.

Vladimir: How old were you?

Irina : 12-13 years old, in your opinion.

Vladimir: That is, if you live for 400 years, then 12 years - for us it would be 5 years, probably even less **.

Irina : I’m already speaking in terms of your age, approximately.

Vladimir : By earthly standards, 12 years, but you live for 400 years, by earthly standards... I’m trying to understand how, if we transfer this to ours... if we reduce life expectancy and correlate it with ours. Then it’s not 12 years, but also less.

Irina : Life expectancy and development in school happens quickly. Our child, at two years old, can walk and speak quite intelligently, approximately like your five-year-old.

Vladimir: At what age do you come of age, that is, when a child can be considered independent and can get married?

Irina : In earth years, about 35 years. My wife and I met as children.

Vladimir: Did the wife have some kind of first love, but now, probably, this question disappears. Or is it still not?

Irina : Here we are entering the slippery ground of discussions about what love is.

Vladimir: By earthly standards, let's call it love - this is the feeling that you would like to spend your whole life with this person, and then it turned out that you were wrong.

Irina : When we saw each other, we didn’t know each other before. KriassRuar is from another part of the city, she studied at a school located nearby. They came to our school in a detachment to exchange experiences between students. Each school, although it follows some educational standards, can be called by some name, for example, of this city. She may have her own motto. Schoolchildren constantly go on excursions to visit each other. She came specifically to us, we talked, I saw her for the first time, and she saw me for the first time. And when you see that soul with whom you were still familiar in the spiritual world, you understand within yourself that this meeting was agreed upon in advance, even in the spiritual world. And both understand this. This will be called “a spark flew” between your hearts. The well-known image of an arrow that pierced the heart is an arrow of understanding the thought of the mind that this is my person. And it’s the same with her.

25:17 About divorces and choosing a partner on Esler through your Higher Self .

Vladimir: Is there a situation in your society when those who entered into a relationship later changed their minds and changed partners? What we call divorce.

Irina : We have embodied spirits who do not know how to feel contact with what you call the Higher Self. They are taught at school, taught by their parents, but due to their internal vibrations they are not able to make contact. Or they are simply not interested, that is, there are different reasons. They sit in class, they are taught this, but they don’t apply themselves so actively; they may not be interested in it. When meeting a person whom he liked with his intellect, worldview, feelings, he can ask his Higher Self a question: “To what extent do we coincide and how much is her Higher Self connected to mine, how much did she like me?” We will definitely find out this too. If I, a man, liked a woman, and I hear a response from the Higher that I do not match her vibrations, then I will not approach her in order to confess my love to her. Because her response that I am not suitable is already clear. Of course, I can come up and check, but this is how it will be. If any Esler guy (or girl) says “no” after the girl (guy) confesses his feelings, then no one will insist in any way. Because it's vibrations.

27:58 Crimes and punishments on Esler.

Vladimir: If you have those who do not listen to their intuition, conditionally “losers” - those people who can later become criminals? How do you punish the most terrible crimes? What is the worst crime that Esler could have committed according to the latest statistics?

Irina : The worst thing for us is the taking of the life of a sentient being. Sometimes, from time to time, they happen. This happens rarely, maybe once every few years.

Vladimir: What is the punishment for this?

Irina : Sending criminals to the planet. We are calling our government representatives. First, they establish the cause of what happened to him, then they call representatives of the Interstellar Union to check all the circumstances. According to the contract, we must call them if this happens to us. He is sent for a certain period of time, depending on the reason. Due to the deprivation of the life of a sentient being, criminals are sent to the planet. The closest one is in the constellation Aries.

Vladimir: Is there a chance for this representative to return, be completely forgiven and continue leading a normal life?

Irina : Yes, he has such a chance. The specialists of the Interstellar Union, in your opinion, judges, can give a certain term for a crime. There are psychologists on this planet who can see the spiritual world and know the reason. Again, it depends on what the reason is, for example, the influence of an extraneous spiritual, alien entity. And even when this period passes, he will remain on this planet until complete purification occurs with changes in the vibrations of the being itself. We know this well. Psychologists can see his aura, mood, vibrations, that is, to what extent the correction took place in him for the sake of which he was placed on the planet of criminals.

This is not just a planet of criminals to punish and take revenge on him. Not for this, because revenge is useless. In this case, conditions have been created there so that he can change his vibrations. No matter what crime he commits, he continues to be considered a member of the galactic community. It’s just that he already believes that he is not with us. Since he violated our law, he already believes that he has placed himself outside our society. But we continue to help him return. Our task is not just to restrict him in some rights and movements, but to make his further degradation impossible. Because if you leave him free, he may return to [the same]. Our task, like any law-abiding members of the galactic community, is to create such conditions to protect it from degradation at the event level and at the level of spirit. Law enforcement agencies and psychologists - specialists in the spiritual world - will definitely talk to him. These cannot, of course, be called priests, in your understanding. These are criminal psychologists, but something like priests (laughs). They are trying to talk to this criminal, bring him into conversation with the Higher Self, and connect him with the Angels. Take him to the astral plane to talk with the spirit of the one whom he took life in order to cause certain changes in him.

34:08 Opportunity for the criminal to communicate with the victim's relatives.

Vladimir: Do the relatives and friends of the victim usually forgive this criminal on a physical level?

Irina : It depends, firstly, on specific individuals. And, secondly, from the reason. In any case, they will be interested in the reason. It is quite possible that they themselves will just want to talk to him, ask him uncomfortable questions. The victim's relatives and his friends are not prohibited from meeting him to talk, and not to harm him. They have the right to meet with the killer and ask the necessary questions. And he can't say that I won't date them. Of course, he can say so, but then they will tell him: "How is this so? At least explain your actions. You brought a humanoid out of incarnation ahead of time." Not forcibly, of course, but psychologists will set him up to talk.

35:45 Conditions of isolation and detention of criminals.

Vladimir: He is physically isolated until he is sent to the planet of criminals, is he isolated?

Irina : He is in isolation on Esler. They fly there to isolate him in special places. We can say that this is a prison, only there is temporary detention or they are sent to the Interstellar Union, where there are also special [places]. It also depends on what kind of criminal, what kind of crime. There are interesting cases for these same scientists. They begin to explore his psychology, what led him to the crime, why did he do it?

Vladimir: Based on this analysis, are recommendations then developed for the entire society? It turns out that it also allowed such a desire to arise in him.

Irina : Scientific works are written on this basis, and they can also begin to understand his spiritual world, look at his incarnations, it may be different. All the same, if this happened in our society, where children are taught in the opposite sense, then this always worries the whole society - what was done wrong? They can check both parents and teachers. There will be a whole process.

Vladimir: Do those who are exiled to the planet of criminals experience physical deprivation or suffering?

Irina : They work there physically, creating something. This planet is either undeveloped, or conditions have been specially created there to do something with your hands, and not just press buttons. They are not paid money for this, they are simply fed. They cannot physically leave the planet.

Vladimir: Are there any restrictions in terms of food?

Irina : It depends on what kind of criminal he is. It is familiar to their species, but it is simple and not harmful to them.

38:18 Cases of correction after serious crimes.

Vladimir: Are there happy examples when, after the most serious crimes, representatives of Esler returned from there, became full-fledged members of society and never returned to anything similar?

Irina : I did not specifically study what happened to the criminals. We need to look at our data. In my city where I live, for example, I have not heard any talk about this.

Vladimir: So, you don’t know about this at all or you don’t know of a case when they were completely corrected?

Irina : I don’t know what happened to them afterwards.

Vladimir: Interesting. This would probably be useful information for society. To know whether the control system works, whether it is possible to return them? Maybe something should be changed for them if these people do not improve?

Irina : There were stories passed on to each other, stories that are described in literature that there was a situation on some planet in which one killed the other. Or about pirates attacking ships, but not for the sake of robbery, because this is pointless: if you sell something, then there are marks on other people’s things, and this will be immediately clear. This is either for the sake of some kind of personal revenge, or for various [other] reasons, including research. In some races, which have a strong sexual desire, it may be for similar reasons.

Vladimir: That is, what we call sexual violence.

Irina : Yes, that might be the case.

Vladimir: Rape, essentially, on a cosmic level. So, were there any happy cases of correction on other planets?

Irina : Yes, we have books with stories that representatives of certain races were sent away for a long time, but they, sincerely realizing what they had done, became different creatures. On this planet there is a special institution where people apply for a revision of the term if they believe that they can already live in society. Before being sent to the planet, the rules are explained to them. If he believes that he has realized everything and will pass the test with psychologists who see the spiritual world, and if he is sure that he has really improved, regrets and would never do this again, does not justify himself, then he goes and submits an application that I ready to talk with psychologists ahead of schedule. Not immediately, but after some time, they determine a time for the meeting. This doesn't happen for long. Maybe within a month or two. They talk to him and determine whether he is truly safe for society and will not repeat this again. Because if he is released and he repeats it, then they will be removed from their positions altogether. They can prove collusion and they will be sent there.

Vladimir: The situation is clear, let’s not go deeper here, we’ll finish the block of questions on the topic of criminals. I didn’t come here by chance, I’ll explain why. In a personal interview, it is very important to understand the cultural and civilizational environment in which a representative of another civilization lives. Then the personal becomes much clearer. And, here is the situation with criminals, the way society interacts with them - this is just one of the litmus tests of what civilization is like in general. That's why we've spent so much time touching on this.

43:14 MidgasKaus about his wife as an integral divine person.

Vladimir: Mid, what do you value and love your wife most?

Irina : (Mead laughed). Why do I love her? How can you love for something?

Vladimir: This is a convention, that’s why I tried to say some different words. Let's do this: what do you like most about her?

Irina : I don’t divide her into separate traits, for me she is whole, as a person. The incarnate spirit has a body and a spirit. I don’t separate what I like and don’t like about her, because for me she is the way God created her, and I perceive her as a gift.

44:25 About the head of MidgasCaus and conveying greetings to him from earthlings.

Vladimir: Mid, are they watching our recordings? Do you send any reports there? Does anyone watch our programs on Esler?

Irina : Yes, some fragments with translation. But mainly in Burkhad. Only my boss looks at Esler. Not all of it, of course, just some fragments that I show him. There is a device with which you can mentally imagine, and it will be recorded on a medium.

Vladimir: Is your boss watching Esler?

Irina : Naturally, I show some things to my relatives. I am sending it to my father via communication.

Vladimir: What is the name of your boss?

Irina : Odus.

Vladimir: Okay, we say hello to him if he hears this fragment (laughs).

Irina : (laughs) I'll tell him.

Vladimir: We want to congratulate him on the fact that he has such an excellent specialist working on Earth (laughs). Also, express gratitude and ask for a salary increase. On behalf of his wards, we believe that this is shock work; he spares no effort for the benefit of the Interstellar Union. And I say this seriously.

Irina : I thank you. For this alone, I would take you to Esler myself.

46:28 About ideals, hobbies and words to God.

Vladimir: Do you have any ideal in the Universe of embodied or non-embodied beings that you focus on?

Irina : He says God.

Vladimir: God, so to speak, in his highest manifestation. Or, let's say, Jesus?

Irina : Yes. A life that was without any manifestation, not so much of pride, but of selfhood.

Vladimir: Do you have what we call on Earth a hobby? What's your favorite way to relax?

Irina : Astral travel. In fact, in the spiritual world, after parting with the body, when we go to the memory room, we meet God, each on our own level.

Vladimir: Your first words to Him?

Irina: Words of gratitude for the embodiment provided. For giving me the opportunity to live here and go to him.

Vladimir: Will there be some kind of request?

Irina : There will be a request to merge with Him into one whole: “Accept me in love, as you see my love.” Like that.

48:16 About the emotional reactions of humanity as the most interesting experience to study.

Vladimir: Thank you. Is there something better and more useful from earthlings that you would like to take for yourself and for your civilization?

Irina : Yes. You have very interesting emotional reactions to what is happening. If we have a calm, more even mood for everything, then you have a more varied one. It might be interesting to study this. An interesting experience for us because we keep a diary of emotions and teach our children this from childhood. When you start from childhood to analyze in detail what caused an emotion and write it down, the reason why the emotion arose emerges. When a child grows up, he gets used to doing this without paper.

49:33 MidgasCaus wishes to earthlings.

Vladimir: What would you like to say now from yourself to all those who will watch this video? Or read the written text?

Irina : Dear earthlings to my heart, at this second I am so happy to address all of you with the words that you are not alone in the Universe. And what is even more important is that you are not alone in the Spiritual world. You are our brothers not only in flesh and blood, but you are our brothers in the spiritual world. Many of you are wondering why the Interstellar Union makes contact with you without receiving anything in return. We don't need anything material in return, because what is important to us is the very knowledge that we are bringing our brothers closer to joining the Interstellar Union.

Vladimir: Thank you very much, Mead, for the personal interview. For frank answers to my not always simple questions.

Irina : Very interesting questions, which were really not easy for me to answer. Simply even because we have different concepts about many things.

Vladimir: Thanks to interviews like this, we are moving to a common understanding, to a merger, to a common platform that helps us understand each other better. That was the purpose of this interview.

51:29 O immortality of the body of Jesus.

Vladimir: Do I understand correctly that Jesus is eternal in the physical body only in this kalpa? Or will somehow this physical immortality of his pass through pralaya and in the next manifested cycle of the Universe there will also be physical immortality?

Irina : Here we enter the realm of what we call guesswork. The laws of existence of the Spiritual world are known to us only in this kalpa. In any case, from the experience of other kalpas, we know from the Spiritual world that all matter, without exception, first passes into a subtle form, and then generally dissipates and passes back to the Spiritual world.

Vladimir: The spiritual world does not disappear in pralaya?

Irina : No, the Spiritual world does not disappear, it remains. Only the material disappears. Even if the physical body of Christ (rather, his atoms) also moves according to general laws, then in the new kalpa it will gather the same. This is our guess, because his spirit will still collect the body.

53:03 About the non-accidental programming of harm and negativity.

Vladimir: The answer is clear. Thank you. And then humanity attracted a war with Selbet. At the same time, the war with Selbet objectively marked the beginning of Kali Yuga. If Selbet had not existed, there would have been some other instrument. How does this all relate? Because we call out such things with our capes, and they come. At the same time, this somehow objectively reflects the change of Yuga that is about to come. How can all this be related to each other? Do you understand what I mean?

Irina : You are absolutely right in thinking that even a negative situation that is associated with harm, evil, murder, it cannot in any way be accidental. It is caused by negative energy that the spirit has accumulated either in this incarnation or in the past. Or they have accumulated it, if it is a child, by relatives who are responsible for him, directing negative thoughts at him, etc. It's called programming.

Each atom, as the density of the material Universe, is a manifestation of God, Love. The fact that a crime is caused by the negativity of the victim of the crime itself does not mean that it should be ignored and these people should not be isolated just because these are the people who were attracted to these victims. They also have negativity, and any negativity is not so much the fault of this creature, it is its illness, distortion . The victim of a crime, if we are talking about crimes, received his negative. She received this bitter medicine for a reason, but for treatment, for change. The one who made this negative should also receive his medicine for correction. So, yes, no crime here is random, and there are indeed many cases where the criminal simply could not complete it. Due to some circumstances that suddenly arose, as if random for him. Because this was not part of the life lesson for the man who fell into his hands.

56:16 About the agricultural crops of the Earth.

Vladimir: Were alien agricultural plants, such as wheat, corn, tomatoes and others, really brought to Earth from outside? Or are they still earthly?

Irina : Rather, they were not imported, but changed to suit the new climate. You already had a variety of all kinds of plants.

Vladimir: So their DNA was changed after the war, and they became what they are now?

Irina : Yes. Because they were in a climate where there was no winter, for example.

Vladimir: There are no unearthly plants among agricultural plants that were brought from another planet, as crops?

Irina : No. At least, I have not studied such information in our biology data.

57:06 Lucifer and the prerequisites for his incarnation on Earth.

Vladimir : Who else was Lucifer physically incarnated after the life in which he tempted Adam and Eve? Where else were his incarnations?

Irina : I haven't studied this issue either. Lucifer is not a person who would interest me. Moreover, he has not yet incarnated on Earth.

Vladimir: Does this mean that there is a potential for it to come true?

Irina : Some Apostles spoke about this, calling him, however, the Antichrist.

Vladimir: Yes, that’s what I’m talking about. Are there any prerequisites for this?

Irina : If he incarnates here, then what goal can he pursue here, given his level of consciousness? With a completely conscious struggle and renunciation of Love, he can only take power over the planet, including by military means.

Vladimir: Yes, this is what the Bible says. So, there is such a degree of probability, and a high one at that?

Irina : Of course, there is a degree of probability. Because those people who wrote the Bible took information, of course, from the Burkhadians. But these were not just Burkhadians, these were the bodies of Burkhadians, but they were incarnated by Angels from the Spiritual World. And they, naturally, could know about Lucifer's plans. But they can change for him.

58:52 Coronavirus forecast.

Vladimir: There is now a panic in the world associated with the coronavirus. What is your forecast for the situation regarding coronavirus in the near future?

Irina : I believe that this will all calm down within six months, maximum. In the end, people will understand that from the common flu, from a stroke, etc. many more people die every day.

59:21 The reasons for Jesus' solitude.

Vladimir: Do I understand correctly that Jesus is on a remote island, because even Burkhad cannot withstand the intensity of his Divine light?

Irina : It’s not that it can’t withstand the intensity of the Divine Light. It is difficult for him to be among people; he feels vibrations very much, even among Burkhadians. He processes the vibrations of different people who combine with him at the Eucharist. It's up to you to see whether it happened in your church or not. And this happens around the clock, all over the Earth at once.

Vladimir: I see. That is, it is he who cannot withstand the low level.

Irina : When he processes them, he artificially increases his vibration level. It is difficult for him to feel someone nearby. And, of course, it will be difficult for everyone to be around high vibrations. But no one will die from this, it will just be hard for him to not be alone at this moment, to have someone nearby other than his heavenly Father, with whom he is united.

1:00:50 The mechanism for receiving help through prayer.

Vladimir: I see. Last question, in continuation. What is the mechanism for receiving help through prayer in any religion? Where does prayer fall, at what levels of the spiritual Hierarchies? How does the reaction and feedback occur?

Irina : Any prayer enters the Spiritual world through the Higher Self. No matter who it is directed to, it goes to the Spiritual world through the spirit, through the Higher Self. It reaches the one to whom it is directed, whose image was presented in this prayer.

Vladimir: That is, if you imagine the Almighty, God the Father, then you will get to him directly?

Irina : God the Father, who is everywhere, in every atom of his energy, knows about everything. He knows any prayer, no matter to whom it is addressed.

#97 Live broadcast with Irina Podzorova. How to change fate, polygamy, unconditional love

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/kak-izmenit-sudbu-mnogozhenstvo-bezuslovnaya-lyubo https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ml0BuzPNApY

1:02 Upcoming trip. Shapsug is an anomalous zone.

Irina: We are actually leaving for Shapsug tomorrow. This is an anomalous zone where UFOs are often seen. There are many dolmens where our ancestors worshiped the ancient gods. This place is located in the Krasnodar region, Abinsky district. We have all the information in our VKontakte group, links under the video.

01:55 Will there be an alien invasion in September?

Irina: No.

02:00 Vibrations of the Shapsug wasteland. After visiting Shapsug, I was sick from the energies of this place. Why?

Irina: This is really a place whose energy is different from usual. You are probably a very sensitive person, so you may have found it difficult to adjust to these vibrations.

02:17 What are dolmens?

Irina: These are ancient buildings that were built by our ancestors, sometimes with the participation of aliens, sometimes on their own. They were built for ritual purposes, where they communicated with the gods, treated people, buried the dead so that they would move to the Higher, Spiritual world. Such were the beliefs then.

02:53 Mount Kailash.

Irina: Kailash is a mountain in Tibet. There is an alien base in the area of this mountain. Above this mountain there are many portals to plasmoid worlds.

03:10 Is it possible to open the third eye on your own?

Irina: Of course, if you develop your sensitivity, you can engage in spiritual practices, the main one of which is the daily practice of unconditional love. God opens the third eye when a person is ready, when it is safe for the person and others.

03:33 Will there be contact with Ashtar Shiran?

Irina: Yes, we will invite him to Crimea. I will convey the invitation to him through MidgasCaus, through LiSioni. He is a participant in the war that took place 12 thousand years ago. Therefore, questions can be both about the war and personal.

04:13 Are there bases in Kyrgyzstan?

Irina: Yes, there is. There are alien bases in Central Asia.

04:30 Which civilization is the most developed?

Irina: The criteria for the development of civilizations are different. If in a technocratic sense, then the most developed are the civilizations of the Interstellar Union. If it is spiritual, it depends on the number of beings in civilization who follow the spiritual path of development.

04:52 Why is a person called “Servant of God”?

Irina: This expression is understandable for our ancestors who lived under a slave system. It showed that a person is completely devoted to God and recognizes that his life and death are in the hands of God.

05:13 What is love?

Irina: This is the highest divine energy, the highest power and feeling at the same time, which supports life, truth and light in this world. And it also supports us all in existence. And it makes us godlike, because this is the highest, pure energy of God.

05:54 Why is war needed?

Irina: War is needed by those people and creatures who do not need to live in peace, but need to seize other people’s territories or someone for further exploitation by their force.

06:18 What is unconditional love?

Irina: This is love when they do good unselfishly, without expecting anything in return. It is like the light of the Sun that shines on plants and gives them life.

Question: Where is the program with evidence of the existence of aliens?

Irina: Evidence is prohibited in the Interstellar Union.

Question: When will you be in St. Petersburg?

Irina: When God leads us there. Nothing happens by chance in this life.

07:21 What are “goosebumps” during prayer?

Irina: This is a sign of an increase in vibrations on the physical level from an increase in vibrations on the spiritual level. And this also indicates your high sensitivity.

Question: In a dream I was told that I have no love. What to do?

Irina: I don’t know who told you this in a dream, but you yourself are a piece of divine love, which you must develop if you want to develop in the Light, and not in its absence.

09:12 Are you opening your third eye?

Irina: I increase a person’s sensitivity, but if he himself does not work on it, work on his spiritual development, then the increase in sensitivity will not occur to the extent that it can threaten him or those around him.

10:20 Who is Ashtar Shiran?

Irina: This is a representative of an extraterrestrial civilization that lived on a planet orbiting the star Sirius B, but as a result of a war with reptilians 12 thousand years ago, this planet was destroyed. And now Ashtar Shiran, together with his fellow tribesmen, lives in space on a huge base.

11:04 Teaching Shimora.

Irina: This is basically that there is no need to mindlessly engage in abstract philosophy when you do not embody this philosophy in every day of your practical life. In Shimora it is believed that it is through the body that the spirit develops, and that is why it came there.

Therefore, neglecting the body is considered wrong in Shimora. They realize any positive feeling, any thought about goodness, about Light in action. LiShioni also says that they do not understand when a spiritual teacher teaches one thing, but he himself does not live like that. In their opinion, a teacher should only show by example how to live. This is practical implementation in action.

12:09 How to cure a schizophrenic?

Irina: Mead has already talked about how they have a different idea about this disease at Esler. Schizophrenia is an unbalanced, unharmonized contact with someone invisible to other people. Since this person himself does not understand what is happening to him, he behaves inappropriately, which, in turn, entails a restriction of his rights so that he is not dangerous to others. The psychology of earthlings is such that the unknown scares them. That's why such people are isolated. Medicines will not help a schizophrenic. This will not disconnect the contact. You need to talk to him and find out who he is in contact with, that they need to harmonize these contacts, first of all, increasing the person’s vibrations. You don’t need to think that this is always evil, you don’t need to refuse such contacts, you need to come to an agreement, conduct a dialogue.

13:42 How to cure a drug addict?

Irina: Mead said that the cause of any addiction, including drug addiction, is in the human soul. If it is not eliminated, then giving up drugs or isolating a person will lead to nothing. A person can become addicted to something else. Addiction occurs because a person does not love and accept himself for who he is. He does not experience happiness in this world. And so he replaces it with drugs - for temporary pleasure. And if he uses them for a long time, then the body is rebuilt and no longer secretes its own hormones of pleasure, receiving them from the outside. An integrated approach is needed:

cleansing the body of intoxication with these substances and spiritual work with this person. We must help him realize his Higher Self, connect with his light and accept and love himself for who he is. And forgive everyone around you for everything.

15:11 Was Judas Iscariot a traitor?

Irina: Judging by what the Burkhadians said about Jesus Christ, yes. Judas, indeed, betrayed him, but Christ knew this in advance, even when he chose him as an apostle. All options for the future were open to him.

15:36 Are there underground inhabitants of the Earth?

Irina: If you mean the civilization of gnomes - the spirits of the plasmoid civilization that exists underground, then yes. But “underground” is a concept for us living in a three-dimensional world. Now you are in a certain space, but this does not mean that only you are in this space. In another level of density (or as you like to say now - in another dimension) in the same space there are other civilizations. In place of your room there may be space in another world, another city, etc. Just like underground: where we have soil, they have entire worlds. But for us this is a dense environment, we cannot exist there, but they can, for them it is a different density.

16:40 What do they do on Centauri?

Irina: Centaurus is a whole constellation. And those humanoids who are embodied there do the same thing as all other embodied entities; intelligent spirits develop in love, only in different conditions.

17:04 Which civilizations supervise Armenia?

Irina: There are Burkhadian bases in the Caucasus.

17:13 Tell us about the constellation Leo and Saturn?

Irina: The constellation Leo is very large. There are many who live there, for example, on the star Regulus there live many plasmoid civilizations.

Saturn is a giant planet on which protein life in the form that exists on Earth is impossible. But it has a powerful atmosphere, which allows thin-material civilizations to live there - plasmoids of Saturn, which feed on the energy of powerful thunderstorms that occur on this planet.

17:45 Is it possible to change fate?

Irina: Fate is the results of your choice. This is the flow of your life, you could say. And the opportunity to change it exists - this is a change in your attitude towards the events taking place. To put it simply: sow an action, you will reap a character, sow a character, you will reap a destiny. That is, fate depends on character.

18:24 Is Trump interfering with the plans of the reptilians?

Irina: I don’t know how much he interferes with them, and what plans they have. It is impossible to cause any harm to the Earth - they will be immediately expelled from the Interstellar Union.

19:03 Is it possible to get to know Raom Tiyan better?

Irina: Yes, you can, in conscious astral travel. For astral contacts, permission from the Interstellar Union is not required (unlike physical contacts).

19:24 Are there alien bases in the Urals?

Irina: In the Northern Urals there is a base of the planet Shimor. Constellation Andromeda.

19:49 How to cure endometriosis?

Irina: This disease can be caused by various reasons: microbes, hormonal disorders, stress. There may be psychosomatic reasons - blocks on the etheric level. Or maybe all of them combined. Before treatment, the cause must be identified.

20:26 Can you visit Brahmaloka?

Irina: If in your concept this is the Spiritual world, then of course I can visit it. And you can visit it, moreover, you are there now with 70 percent of your spirit. Only 30 percent is in the material world.

20:46 Is it possible to communicate with civilizations without chips and contracts?

Irina: Of course you can, if you have sufficient sensitivity. Then you will be able to hear MidgasKaus or LiShioni and other aliens who come in the astral plane, without chips. Priests have been trained in this for years. But if you are highly sensitive to their mental radiation, a chip is not needed. Contracts are not written, they are oral agreements, at least with the Interstellar Union.

21:56 How to find out your mission in life?

Irina: Please ask your Higher Self. To get in touch with it, watch the video broadcast on the topic of VYa. When you make contact, ask about your task and whether you are doing it now.

22:15 Are there gays on Esler?

Irina: Spirits incarnate on Earth who partially remember their previous incarnations in a female body, who cannot come to terms with the fact that they have a body of the opposite sex. This is the cause of homosexuality. In such cases, a woman considers men to be her brothers, for example, she cannot have sex with them. This is possible on Earth, because you do not raise children the same way as on Esler or Shimora. We explain to every child that since he was born in this body, this is his mission. And to go against it is to go against the plans of God, which you yourself agreed with when you were incarnated. It makes no sense for us.

23:35 Is it possible to heal with sound?

Irina: The main tool of treatment is the word. A word is also a sound. You can also treat simply with sound. There is such a sound therapy, when a person is played music that increases his own vibrations. But this is all very individual. Classical music will have a beneficial effect on someone if he loves it, while on others it will irritate and have the opposite effect. It all depends on perception.

24:38 Did giants live on Earth?

Irina: Yes, we lived. We ourselves were giants. We were twice as tall as we are now. This was before the war 12 thousand years ago, thanks to a different climate, different atmospheric composition, different magnetic fields and a different location of the planet relative to the Sun.

25:20 Is there polygamy on other planets?

Irina: I met polygamy on the planet Disaru. Saint Germain, for example, has 15 wives. There is no such thing on Esler. Shimora doesn't either, their relationship is similar to that on earth. Selbet people have families where there may be 2 men, 3 women, and so on. They create temporary alliances.

Our energy can be negatively affected by such experiences because we are not accustomed to this family model. A woman brought up in a European value system will experience jealousy, for example, which will affect her energy. On the planet Disaru, this family model has long been present, and it no longer affects the energy of the inhabitants. And this is an optional model there. You can live there with one wife. Residents of Disaru engage in energy practices that help them keep themselves in such energy that it allows such families to live safely for their energy structure.

27:36 Is it possible to see an aura?

Irina: The first layer is easy to see. It is called the etheric body.

27:45 Are there alien bases at the poles?

Irina: There are bases in Antarctica of Tashig, Desnita and other civilizations.

27:55 From what civilization is Shiva?

Irina: This is a representative of the plasmoid civilization.

27:58 Why are there alien bases on Earth?

Irina: In order to be able to control the situation on the planet, so that we do not destroy ourselves. This is very short.

Participants:

Irina Podzorova - contactor with extraterrestrial civilizations;

The curator of MidgasCaus from the planet Esler is a biologist, psychologist and specialist in alien civilizations;

#100 Consequences of using black magic. Subsistence of an entity - how to get rid of it?

https://blog.cassiopeia.center/posledstviya-primeneniya-chyornoj-magii https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rEaHTu68GYQ

The beginning of Oksana's story: her visions and sensations of changes in her body.

Irina : How did it all start?

Oksana : It started last year, after my birthday. Literally a day later, the following things began to happen to me: I saw that, you know, like a haze or something, or a dark fog was creeping towards the sofa. I began to feel horror, fear and the feeling that some things would happen to me.

Then it all started with a flash outside the window. She appeared for the first time, and I began to feel these vibrations. That is, I was either hot or cold. They began to manifest themselves first once a week, then more often, twice a week. This is how it happened step by step.

I experienced this from October until the spring of this year. In the spring the visits became more serious.

When there was a flash outside the window, my ceilings and walls were cracking, and it didn't seem to me, but I even saw everything around shaking and moving.

When this started to happen, it felt as if water was constantly dripping from a tap. The feeling that someone was standing next to me and whispering something, you know, like a spell, in such a whisper-hissing voice.

Then it all disappeared, I began to burn and at the same time I felt paralyzed. It felt as if I was in a transformer booth or as if I was this transformer booth myself. Then my spine protruded: I felt it.

Irina and Erwin's plasmoid enter the Astral Field.

Maxim: Is it possible now that Irina, while you are telling us, together with Erwin from the 37th level of subtle-material civilization, will come to you in the astral plane and try to communicate with those who are now supervising you?

Oksana : Yes, of course you can.

Irina : Let LiShioni stay.

Maxim: Irina is now entering the astral plane, and we continue the conversation.

04:08

Oksana's unconscious interaction with entities from the Astral World.

Oksana : Lately, every night such things were happening to me more and more: heavy energy descended on me, I had no strength to get out of bed, and I was like a squeezed lemon. It happened on the third day after Easter last year: I felt like I left my body and saw myself in the form of a lizard. I even had my hands like this (shows). And when I returned, I found myself on the bed in the same position.

I clearly saw the guy and the girl in the image. They clearly told me that my time on Earth was over, and I would return to where I came from, and that they had appointed me as a “womb.”

And at that moment, it was as if a funnel appeared, and they said to me: “The baby is running.” And I myself felt how I chased after this child, that is, a reaction arose, like a mother to a baby, although it was unconscious. And they say: “The reaction is normal, everything works.”

And then I left the astral plane.

Every three days they began to appear: firstly, first there is an outbreak, and I see how little worms are falling on me, my stomach swells, and I walk like I'm pregnant, because my stomach is really big. Then, once every three days and three nights they appeared again. My body was stiff again, and it felt like someone was poking around in my stomach like a laser, and my stomach was swelling. That's how it all happened.

And then it all starts all over again: everything falls out, and again they get it out.

Maxim : What did they tell you at the moment when they came to you?

Oksana : Nothing. After the information that put me in the "uterus", nothing more. I only saw an almond-shaped gray alien above me. His head comes out and he just looks at me. From their eyes came a stream and also ultraviolet light. It was as if there was quartz in my throat, and the whole room was filled with ultraviolet light.

Maxim : Ionized the air?

Oksana : Yes, I'm probably talking about sensations.

I turned to a woman that summer to help me deal with this and clean everything up. Now they come out through the mouth.

Maxim : How did they come out before?

Oksana : We didn't go out before, there was a feeling that there were stones inside, as if the stomach was being opened.

Maxim : And now there are sensations that come through the mouth?

Oksana : Yes, it is. It happens that everything comes out in one piece if I delay the exit or a lot of things accumulate. And it happens that pebbles fly off as if from your teeth.

08:19

Turning to a female fortune teller and performing a rebirth ritual.

Maxim : What were the negative events before the moment when they began to come and appear?

Oksana : There was a moment in my life when I felt like I had lost myself: no matter where I got a job, they kicked me out. Either they shout at me that I am a witch, or something else. That is, wherever I appear, the store where I work closes - in general, everything collapses, and I am fired everywhere.

Maxim : Remember what happened before this? Until these problems began to fall on you?

Oksana : I turned to the woman, and she told me that I was a witch, that I was from a dark structure, and that she would make some kind of dedication to me. In general, she said that she gave me a rebirth: the earth was taken from my mother's grave, but then it was taken there, and certain actions were also taken on her part.

Maxim : How did you get to this woman, what led you to her?

Oksana : In Moscow, I started doing fortune telling for people, making castings on wax. Then, through a friend, I met this woman, and after that, literally on the second day, I started developing a fever, and I lay there for three weeks. I was burning, and not a single antibiotic helped me. Then I realized that I had to return home. I arrived home, and literally a day later, the temperature subsided, no signs of illness. Then something again led me to this lady.

10:28

Oksana's involvement in magical practices and her attitude towards them.

Maxim : When you were cleaning and casting people, what structures did you cast?

Oksana : What forces did I turn to?

When I cast the wax, I simply read a prayer. I had an appeal from a lady whose husband was taken away by her mistress. I took on the task of eliminating this mistress, and I didn't take it on alone, because I still didn't understand what to do. I knew, for example, 2 rituals for cleansing through an egg and through wax.

Maxim : What does it mean: eliminating mistresses?

Oksana : This means that she, the mistress, refuses him. This woman told me that I needed to bury the figurine in the cemetery. So I went to the cemetery, and after that it all began.

Maxim : Did you understand perfectly well what you were doing when you buried a figurine in the cemetery?

Tell me honestly, frankly, from the heart, so that there is no self-deception.

Oksana : Yes, I understood, but it seemed to me that it wouldn't work. I do not know why. I did it and realized that it wasn't for me anyway. You know how you're looking for yourself, and from all sides: "You're like this, you're just dark... You need to do this, do that," and you stand, not knowing where to move, when all the doors are closed. I trusted that that's what I heard. That's how it went.

About Oksana's faith in God.

Maxim : Do you believe in God?

Oksana : In God? I believe in the Creator.

Maxim: You can call it whatever you like: Creator, God, Absolute, Universe, space. Do you believe that there is one force?

Oksana : Yes.

Maxim : For you, what color is this power: dark or light?

Oksana : Light.

13:23

A ritual performed by a female fortune teller and her explanations regarding the replacement of the ritual.

Maxim: When you got to this woman, what did this woman say to you, and what did you do, what rituals did you go through?

Oksana , She told me that she would make a dedication.

Maxim : What does this mean?

Oksana : Opens access to these forces, or rather, to these magical practices.

Maxim : That is, it connects to dark destructive structures?

Oksana : No, there was no conversation about the dark ones.

Perhaps, he says, access will open, then we'll see who's behind you. When she performed this ceremony, I asked her: "I have the feeling that you didn't do a dedication?"

To which she replied: "Yes, I didn't make a dedication to you, I made you a rebirth."

Her explanation was this: "I saw that this year, literally soon, it would seem that you would be gone, that dark forces would take you away and drag you somewhere, take you away. And I gave you a rebirth without your agreement, because I understood that you either would not agree or would not understand what the point was."

Maxim : This ritual was done without your consent, the ritual after which your life fell apart, do I understand correctly?

Oksana : Without my consent for this particular ritual, yes. That is, she told me that she would do a dedication, but in fact she did a rebirth.

Maxim : After that, what events happened?

Oksana : After that it all started: at first I began to see outbreaks, this all happened gradually, gradually, that is, from the month of October. She performed this ritual on me in June, and in October, after my birthday, literally the next day, this all began to manifest itself very seriously.

15:40

Appeal to the entities of Oksana

Maxim : Now Irina will come out of the astral plane. Personally, the picture at this point in time is approximately clear to me. Can you tell me your name? (addresses Oksana's essence)

Entity through Oksana : AYAYAYAYA (voice changed and trembled)

Maxim : Relax completely, don’t worry, don’t worry. We will communicate with him now. Give him a chance to tell you what your name is? Please tell me your name and how to address you?

Essence through Oksana : Gaia.

Maxim : Gaia?

Essence through Oksana : Gaia.

Maxim : How long have you been with Oksana?

Essence through Oksana : As it should, and for a long time.

Maxim : You don’t want to talk to me? Are you ready to talk to us, because Irina has already come and talked to you anyway?

Irina : Yes, you are ready!

Maxim : Relax. Are you ready to chat with us?

Please leave the host's body. We want to talk to her, and then we’ll talk to you.

17:35

About Oksana’s connections from the plasmoid worlds and the world of disembodied Spirits of the 3rd and 4th density levels.

Maxim : Irina, please give me feedback.

Irina : Here, in principle, you have two groups of essence. Erwin communicated with them. One group consists of plasmoids, such as air and earth, and the second group is disembodied Spirits. But, basically, there is the 3rd level of density - Demons. There are five of them there. And there are even more plasmoids: I see 15 around her. And a group of five Demons is in the field, walking around the house.

Maxim : A group of five Demons is in her field?

Irina : Yes, there is a 3rd and one 4th level of density. There is one leader named Stis. But her own handler came at her call. His name is Triar. These Stis and Triar compete with each other.

I talked to Stys, he is from the 4th density level. He said that her soul vibrationally belonged to them. I asked: “By what vibrations”? He said that she wished evil on people or something else. Then he showed me that for some reason she has a very strong connection with necrotics. The energies leave her through the first chakra. Not like a cord, but like a stick, which is stuck into the ground into her tailbone, of large diameter, such a dark color.

This is necrotic. These are not Demons. These are the disembodied spirits to which she is attached. And they showed me two girls and a guy. For some reason they show me that they are now in the world of disembodied spirits, and we went through this connection a little there. We went and talked, the guy walks around with a bottle and drinks. He was a drinker.

Maxim: And now he’s dead?

Irina : Yes, he died, he was 32 years old. And the two girls, they also seem to be young, and they come to her and talk to her mentally.

21:01

Explanation of entities about the reasons for their appearance.

Maxim : But you didn’t ask: why do they come to her, what is their connection to her?

Irina : Naturally, I asked. They say that she called me, she wanted to communicate, she wants advice from us. Their answers are standard. And Triar said that when he came to her, Stis was already nearby. Triar came later. This is a plasmoid incarnated with a low vibrational spirit. But Triar himself is from the 8th level. I spoke with Triar, and he looks like a spirit, but not of nature, but like a spirit, but not of a house, but of some place - a non-residential premises.

And he looks like such a dark figure of a man, like rings made of sticks on his head.

Maxim : And what can you do with them?

How to work with them?

Irina : Stis is the fourth level of density. There, in general, three demons recognize themselves as girls. And Gaia is one of them. And they say we couldn't. I ask the question: what right could you influence her? They said that in any case we can do this with the help of energies when she allows herself to be kept at low vibrations, and that is why we have access to her, to her body, and she feels us at all.

Erwin, now how to make them leave?

Maxim : Is this possible? There, the whole group is holding everything together by the demonic structure of the plasmoid civilization.

And there is one portal at the bottom, and another on the side.

24:22

Erwin's recommendations for getting rid of low vibrational entities.

Irina : Erwin suggests, firstly, that here you need to realize that she really attracted them herself. Now I will talk to her.

Maxim : Yes, go ahead.

Irina : Oksana, Erwin says that the first way, the first stage of this path is to admit.

I ask you to leave Oksana alone now, you have no right to influence her while we are talking. In any case, there is a free will to listen to us, and you should not interfere with it in receiving information according to the law of God. According to the law of the Cosmos, you do not have the right to interfere with the contactee in receiving information.

So, the first thing you need to do to get rid of them is to admit that you attracted them yourself. It wasn't someone who sent them to you, it's not someone else's fault, or even they themselves are to blame. To make it easier for you to admit this, look: there are many people living around you, and they don't feel them, they don't see them, they can't influence them, because they live on different vibrations.

So the reason is you. This means that the first thing is that you must admit that you attracted them yourself, and the first stage of purification, when you have recognized this, is to understand the necrotic connection, because they are draining energy from you, and you simply do not have enough strength for further actions.

On your 4th, 5th and 1st chakras there are energy blocks created by your own negative emotions, and they are, firstly, food for low-vibration plasmoids and an opportunity for disembodied low-vibration spirits to speak through you and generally act with your body.

They do this through you because they have no vitality. They do this through energy blocks, because blocks are like their support. In our understanding, spirits do not have arms and legs, since they are just spirits. For them, one might say, interaction occurs through thought forms clothed in some such ether. It is into this ether that you send thought forms so that they can act on your body through the blocks you created.

For them, they are like a bridge over an abyss that they can cross, because the blocks themselves are quite dense for them.

Maxim : Do I understand correctly that, in principle, she is very sensitive, which is why there are a lot of plasmoids next to her?

Irina : Yes, she feels them and is very reminiscent of a medium, because she felt them before as a child.

28:12

Oksana's spiritual level, her past life and the tasks of this incarnation.

Maxim : Calculate the level of embodiment.

Irina : Level 12, the Spirit is called the builder. You have a sensitivity, and Erwin suggests that you have it not at the level of a medium, but at the level of knowledge of a past incarnation. Because in your previous incarnation you were either a contactee, or engaged in some kind of mysticism or magical practice, and you still have traces of this attraction.

It shows me that you have developed this. He says there's no point in talking to Stys. It shows that you were already sensitive, that you developed your sensitivity either from some books or from training videos. But your task - I just looked at your date of birth - your task is to develop courage, confidence and develop your physical body, it may be weakened.

This is what your embodiment tasks are about.

Stages of getting rid of the influence of low vibrational entities.

Erwin: Getting rid of the influence of entities is impossible without increasing energy vibrations. Increasing energy vibrations, in turn, is impossible without getting rid of the necrotic attachments that you have. You are tied, at first one goes, and then, closer to the floor, it splits into two, so you have little energy.

When you eat, you give some of it there. These spirits are not embodied. But you are not helping them in any way, because they should already exist on the energies of the divine source, and the vital energies of the living do not help them to exist there in any way. She's just bothering you.

And the second is getting rid of energy blocks. And only then is it possible to increase your vibrations by creating positive mental images in yourself, be it through culture, through art, through science, through a religion that is close to you.

In any case, through forgiving everyone who offended you, allowing them to be who they are. Cultivating in oneself faith, hope, love, that is, high vibrational states and necessarily the energy of gratitude.

I want to emphasize that this is already the third stage.

So, the first thing - we will start small - is ridding ourselves of necrotic connections.

I, of course, can, from my side, from which they approach us, break it all down. In any case, your work there will also be necessary: to invest energy, since you were engaged in the practice of magical rituals. MidgasCaus gave Irina practices specifically to get rid of necrotic connections. And since you, I don’t feel that you personally knew those to whom you were attached, all the more so this ritual should be somewhat modified. You can give it. Of course, I can cut it off.

A method of purification through turning to your Higher Self and realizing the protection of God.

Maxim : Oksana, do you hear us well, do you perceive everything we say?

Oksana : Yes.

Irina: And only then you need to get rid of energy blocks. There are many different methods. But the one I recommend is through a connection. Any person who can connect with his Higher Self, who is ready, and in this divine light can already see where these blocks are and dissolve them.

But, don't turn to some stranger, but do it yourself. The only one you can turn to is a true guide.

This will not help using magical methods; it must be done through the mental plane. Not through the astral or etheric, but through the mental plane. And through the upper light, which is called Atman.

You can turn to a person to ask your Higher Self for interaction, and only then, see for yourself where your blocks are and dissolve them. This is the work of your consciousness. But the main thing is the reluctance to communicate with this. This should not be your aggression, you just should not be interested in continuing to produce negative emotions: fear, hatred, anger and resentment.

That is, when they come, they try to create fear. If you are afraid, you will strengthen these blocks and increase the impact on you. In any case, understand that they really cannot threaten your life and physical health, since you are under the protection of God.

That is, you temporarily left him in low vibrations, but in any case, he supports you, and when you are under his protection, you have nothing to fear. When these images appear, these sensations that you described appear, you need to treat them as calmly and evenly as possible and at this moment raise your vibrations, read the mood.

Maxim : Oksana, you have a lot of work to do on yourself. Firstly, work on the fact that God is, and no matter what you call him, no matter how you move away from the concept of God, he still exists. And what is next to you now is also created by God.

Just like you were created by this God. Transferring yourself from low vibration to high vibration is a recognition that there is that Light of true love, which we call God. It must be mandatory for you.

35 : 19

Oksana's attempts to get rid of the effects of ritual through energy practices and yoga.

Oksana : Can I tell you now?

Irina , Maxim : Yes, of course, you can talk.

Oksana : I admit my guilt in what is happening to me. And it’s not that I blame that woman, it’s just that you asked me what events happened, and I explained to you. But I understand that it was still my wrong decision, or my rash actions. I don’t pass on responsibility, I am fully responsible for my actions, but from November 9 and, literally, until the end of February, I went through practices: I worked on every chakra, all energy and on myself in almost all blocks.

That is, while I was going through the learning process (I studied with one girl), it was a little easier for me. The work was on all energies - forgiving myself, my Self, that is, I wrote down every day, I returned to every day of my childhood, where I had grievances, and I went through all this. But as soon as we finished the course, things got worse. I have no fear, and I am no longer afraid of anything. No forces. Even the body is not mine and I weigh only 49 kg. My legs are so swollen and swollen. I started doing yoga, but it became difficult for me: I couldn’t move.

Comments from presenters on the current situation.

Maxim : In order for you to harmonize your natural energies, you will need, in any case, to remove those necrotic attachments that you have and which do not allow you to project your true energies. You nourished yourself completely, all your chakras, and at the same time poured everything into necrotic bindings. You poured all this energy into them. They thanked you very much for how great you are for feeding us to the fullest. You began to increase energy through these practices. After you finished these practices, they climbed because they realized that you were feeding.
